(By The Canadian Press)

The United States Ryder Cup team for the matches to be resumed this year contains only two members of the last squad, which met Britain's best pro golfers in 1937 at Southport, England and defeated them 8 to 4. The holdovers are Byron Nelson and Sam Snead. Remainder of the 10-man group are: Ben Hogan; Jimmy Demaret; Lloyd Mangrum; Lew Worsham; Ed Oliver; Herman Keiser; Herman Barron and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison. The matches begin at Portland, Ore., Nov. 1.

Boston Red Sox player strength has been increased with the arrival from Toronto Maple Leafs of one newcomer and two out on option. The first-timer was Ellis (Cot) Deal, 24, right-handed pitcher, and the two optioneers were right-handed pitcher Tommy Fine and catcher Matt Batts.

Frank Hewitt, 240-pound New York heavyweight was awarded the main bout at an outdoor wrestling show at Toronto last night when Sandor Kovacs, 224 pounds, of St. Catharines, Ont. defaulted after being thrown against a ringpost. The first fall went to Hewitt in 12 minutes and the second to Kovacs in 3:30.

Norm Himes, coach last year of the Galt Junior A hockey team, has resigned the post because of pressure of private business which requires his full time. He will take an executive position in the club. News of his resignation has been sent to the parent Philadelphia Rockets club and a new coach will be appointed within a few days.

More stringent regulation of bird hunting and a plan for the preservation of the breeding grounds of game birds were some of the recommendations of the North American Ornithologists Union at their annual meeting in Toronto. The report said a 57-per-cent reduction had been noted in a three-year period of observation on the waterfowl population.

Officials Stunned By O.B.A. Ruling

Oshawa, Sept. 10 —(CP) — Players and officials of the Oshawa B'Nai B'Rith junior baseball club was reported here today as "bewildered and dumbfounded" by an Ontario Baseball Association decision to suspend their club from further participation in provincial playoffs.

News of the decision by an O.B.A. committee was received in a telegram here yesterday. Suspension was due to the club's failure to deliver signed forms to the O.B.A. by the required date, and followed a protest by Peterborough Travellers, who lost the first game of a playoff round to Oshawa here Saturday.

The required player certificates were sent in several weeks ago, club officials said, adding that withdrawal of the Oshawa Baseball Association and the Lakeshore League from the O.B.A. is under consideration.

Alderman Claims He Acted as Agent For Mayor Kohl

Barrie, Sept. 10 (CP) —Alderman Stanley H. Wallace of Collingwood, Ont., said in court yesterday that he acted as agent for Collingwood's Mayor Graydon Kohl in demanding a one-per cent fee from a contractor on a $115,000 improvement project at Collingwood harbor last April.

Ald. Wallace testified at the opening of trial of Mayor Kohl on a municipal corruption charge. The Mayor is accused of having agreed to accept a $1,500 bribe for withdrawing his opposition to a dock-building contract. He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

"Mayor Kohl asked me how long I had known Mr. Birmingham (the contractor) and I told him about 20 years," said Ald. Wallace. "He said, 'you contact Birmingham and tell him I want one per cent of the contract price or else I'll oppose any work on the east side of the harbor."

Ald. Wallace said that after his conversation with the Mayor he talked to Mr. Birmingham and who told him:

"O.K., it's a deal."

That day the town council endorsed the East Harbor project without a protest, the Alderman said.

Sees "Terrific Drive" On Congress to Restore Control Over Prices

Washington, Sept. 10 — (AP)—Senator Harley Kilgore (Dem.-W. Va.) said yesterday there will be "a terrific drive" on Congress to restore price controls unless industry limits profits to reduce prices. Kilgore told a press conference that "unless business protests the capitalistic system with normal profits on operations, you are going to find the people demanding that the government step in."

20 PER CENT INCREASE

Gananoque, Sept. 10 — (CP)—During the four months from May 1 through August, 182,000 automobiles have crossed the Thousand Islands International Bridge at Ivy Lea, 10 miles east of here, and tolls totalled $213,207.75. The figures represent a 20 per cent increase over the same period of 1946.

The Death of a Doll

By Hilda Lawrence

CHAPTER 9.

"I believe, let me see, several weeks ago, before Thanksgiving. We were not informed directly, I mean there was no family involved. But we have other employes residing at the same address, and they told us. They wanted permission to open her locker and remove such possessions as were left, the shoes for wearing behind the counter, the extra umbrella, and the like. We valued Miss Miller highly and were sorry to—to lose her." Mr. Benz hoped Mrs. Sutton would let him stop with that.

"Before Thanksgiving? Then I must have talked to her just before she died. She wasn't sick then, she looked even better than usual. What happened?"

Mr. Benz knew there was no help for it.

"She killed herself, Mrs. Sutton."

Roberta said nothing when she herded Bessy and Beulah out to the car, and they asked nothing. They knew it wasn't necessary. Mark would take one look at Roberta's white face, and she'd tell him everything.

Mark sat at his own table at the Lafayette and his own waiter hovered. The waiter knew Mark as a species of cop whose work permitted him to eat, dress, and kill time like a gentleman. At the moment, the gentleman was smiling at his own thoughts, which undoubtedly had something to do with one of the three ladies who were joining him for lunch.

Mark was wondering what a pernod would do to Bessy if he told her it was only licorice water. But when they finally arrived and he saw Roberta, he decided to postpone the pernod. Roberta looked as if she couldn't cope. He embraced them all in Gallic fashion and compromised on vermouth cassis.

After the first drink, he said: "What are you concealing so imperfectly, Roberta?"

"Nothing," she answered. "Can't you forget your work for an hmour?"

"Not when you look like this. What happened between the time you talked to me this morning and now?"

"The girl at the soap counter isn't there," Bessy said.

"Her name is Miller, and there's something nasty about it," Beulah added.

"Miller." Mark closed his eyes for an instant. "Miller. Wait.... Is that the girl who jumped from a window?"

There was silence before Roberta said, "I don't know....Is that what she did?"

Mark said, "If her first name was Ruth, it is."

Then she told him all she knew, ignoring the food he had ordered until Beulah put a fork in her hand and Bessy buttered pieces of bread. Ruth Miller wasn't anybody, she told them; just a pale, quiet girl with a gentle sort of way. She'd been happy about moving to a girls' club, or something like that, because there was plenty of hot water and what she called privileges. The privilege of doing your own laundry was one and food that you didn't cook yourself was another. That was all . . . "Mark, did you say—window?"

"I can be wrong," he said. "I dimly remember reading something or other. I always read those things, you never can tell, you know, but this one looked straight enough. Poor health, maybe insomnia, and there was another contributing factor, let me think. Oh sure, they were having a party and some of the people there said she seemed depressed."

"Depressed? I don't believe it. It was probably the first party she'd had in years. All right about the poor health and insomnia, but I won't go the rest of the way. I won't believe the rest of it. My Miss Miller was preparing to live, not die."

Bessy returned a half-eaten macaroon to the tray of sweets. "Shop girls," she explained. "Turpitude. When I was young it was nurses." She selected a meringue.

"I hope that explodes in your face," Beulah said. "See? Serves you right."

"Listen Mark" It was Roberta again. "Couldn't she have fallen? You know, overheated, opened the window— You hear about those things all the time."

"Are you going to mope about this?"

"Certainly not! I simply like things straight, that's all. And I don't feel as if—I don't believe this one is!"

"Neither do I," Beulah said. "On general principles."

"Listen, you," Mark said to Beulah. "This is a big city. It has a police force. When somebody dies violently they take the place apart. And if they say suicide, that's what it is. This isn't Craftwood, this is New York."

"New York," Beulah repeated. "Isn't that the place where they sent a man to Sin Sing because he looked like somebody else?"

There was no answer to that. His neck had been out and Beulah's aim was legendary.

"Here you are," the library attendant said. "Just turned in."

Mark carried the newspapers back to one of the long tables and found what he wanted.

Late last night the body of a young woman in fancy dress was discovered in the courtyard adjoining the premises of 415 West — Street. The pedestrian who made the discovery notified the police. The deceased was later identified as Ruth Miller, resident of a club adjacent to the courtyard. According to the police, she jumped from a window on the seventh floor. She was known to have been in poor health.

It told him exactly nothing. He opened a second paper.

Ruth Miller, age 29, was instantly killed last night when she fell from a seventh-floor window in a midtown hotel. Police list the death as suicide.

Mark suppressed a snort. No doctor? No background? No native of such-and-such, daughter of so-and-so? He opened a third paper. Nothing. A fourth. It looked better.

The body of Ruth Miller, a resident of Hope House, was discovered in the hotel courtyard shortly after midnight last night by a woman walking her dog. The position and condition of the body indicated that Miss Miller had jumped to her death earlier in the evening when there was still considerable rain. According to Dr. M. L. Kloppel, of 310 West — Street, and Dr. Paul Myess, Medical Examiner, Miss Miller had been dead approximately three hours. She had been in ill health for some time and had attended a social function in the hotel against the advice of her friends. When found, Miss Miller was still wearing the rag-doll costume in which she had danced a few hours before. The verdict was suicide.

Mark copied names and addresses, returned the papers and left the building.

Dr. Kloppel had washed only half the leaves of his rubber plant and wanted to finish the job. He clung to his white enamel basin and petulantly soaked and squeezed his sponge.

"If you want to know the kind of doctor I am," he said, "stop any man, woman or child on this street."

"I'm afraid you misunderstand" Mark said. "I'm perfectly confident—"

"I'm an old man and I have all the money I need. I don't need Hope House. I got there once a week because those women neglect themselves and I believe in charity. I charge 50 cents a call and sometimes give the medicine away. I live alone except for a housekeeper who's gone around the corner to find me a chop for lunch. Now if you still question my integrity or diagnosis—"

"But I don't," Mark insisted. "I'm simply trying to trace the girl's origin. I thought you could help me."

The Island Queen is shown as, in happier days, she proudly sailed down the Ohio River near Cincinnati. The night before the explosion 3,000 people were aboard her on a moonlight cruise. The steamer was 286 feet long, 51 feet wide, with a crew of 92. She could carry up to 4,000 passengers.

With Canada's Naturalists

(By The Canadian Press)

No land is richer than Canada in allotment of vast areas of lakelands, valleys and mountain slopes amid impressive scenery for protection and preservation of native wildlife as well as tourist enjoyment.

How and when did the idea for these sanctuaries originate?

Switzerland earned that distinction. As early as 1883 a small band of flower lovers there was alarmed by the serious loss of Alpine flowers and plants through the wholesale pilfering by tourists and dealers in rock-garden plants. Henry Correvon authority on orchids, with some sympathizers began to finance protected areas amid the Alps, from which no pinats could be taken. This idea bore fruit and saved the plants and flowers to a noticeable degree. From Switzerland the idea spread to other parts of Europe and America and governments of many countries planned national conservation parks with enthusiasm.

Among the famous reservations within the Commonwealth, the Kruger National Park of South Africa is outstanding. Nine thousand square miles in extent this park not only protects the native flora and fauna from wanton destruction, but has succeeded in making it possible for tourists to travel roads in their cars through lion territory without fear.

"Slow down when lions appear," read the roadside signs. That warning is for the benefit of the lions, not the tourists, for a panicky motorist might "step on the gas" and run them down. It has been found that the lions will mind their own business if the motorists will mind theirs.

One of the rarer birds which thrilled students on a hike at Camp Billie Bear Summer Nature School in the Ontario Lakeland this season, was a white-winged crossbill. Besides the crossbill this bird can be identified b ythe rose-red plumage of the male, his black wings and tail, and two broad, white wing-bars; the female and young are bedizened less colorfully, but sport the same white bars. In its long range from Nova Scotia to southern British Columbia it has been known to breed as early as January and as late as mid-September.

Male crossbills feed their mates on their nests, the disposal of every morsel being marked by musical whistlings almost ecstatic in character.

Said to be the last herd extant in a wild state, six Plains buffalo were shot on the Red Deer River, Alta., in 1886. By the turn of the 20th centupry, it is doubtful if a single "wild" buffalo existed on the Western plains of Canada and there was but one protected herd on the continent. Part of this herd was transferred to Elk Island Park, near Edmonton, years ago, and within the sanctuary today is a large and healthy herd.

It is along the Alberta-Northwest Territories border, however, within the 17,300 square-mile Wood Buffalo National Park, that the most spectacular experiment in buffalo preservation was carried out. Between 1925 and 1928, approximately 6,600 Plains buffalo were carried by rail and river barge to this park. It was hoped that these would interbreed with the wood bison, then nearing extinction. They did—and from the two species has come a new and rugged one, now approaching 10,000 head, which have developed qualities admirably suited to life in northern latitudes.

Say Man Confesses Story of Robbery Was Not True

Montreal, Sept. 10. (CP)—Police said today that a man giving the name of Rudolph Russell of Guelph, Ont., had confessed as false a story that he had been robbed of $7,500 by two men late yesterday.

Detective Sergeants Leopold Guerin and Adrien Poulin said Russell, who came to Montreal, with his life late Saturday, had been released after signing a statement saying there was no truth to his complaint that hold-up men had robbed him of $7,500 he had obtained from the sale of a truck and motor car. The detectives said Russell had not been detained after the inquiry.

Bees Talk in Waltz Time

(From Magazine Digest)

Are bees able to talk to each other? Science has long sought an answer to this question, for there seemed no doubt that these highly-organized insects had some means of exchanging necessary information. But until Professor K. V. Frisch, of Graz, Autsria, got busy on the problem, there was no definite proof thatbees talk.

Now Dr. Frisch has discovered that a "bee language" exists. The bees, he found, talk to each other through signs and gestures.

A worker bee, returning to the hive from a newly discovered patch of flowers, uses this language to report to her co-workers the news of her find, and its distance and direction from the hive. The other bees watch her, and then go directly to within a few feet of the spot, states Professor Frisch in the Austrian Zoological Magazine, Vienna.

The bees' use of their distinctive language explains several phenomena never before understood.

Research workers had often placed a box of nectar-laden flowers in the centre of a field otherwise devoid of flowers. An hour or more might pass before a bee from a hive, perhaps a quarter-mile or more away, would discover the flowers during a scouting flight. But immediately she returned to her hive, other bees would come by the score, flying without hesitation straight to the flowers.

Some bee experts had suggested that the first bee led the others back. Dr. Frisch disproved this theory by dabbing some paint on the first bee. She failed to return; the others came just the same.

It was impossible to discover anything by watching the hive from the outside. Returning with the honey crop, the industrious bees would alight and go inside with as little delay as possible. So, reasoned Dr. Frisch, some sort of conference must be going on inside; there must be a board of inquiry to which the bees report.

He solved the riddle by building a hive with a glass wall, where he could watch events inside. "I discovered that these wonderful animals can tell each other exactly where they have found food," he says. "It's hard for humans to realize how exact this information is."

On her arrival home with honey, the bee starts to dance, while the other bees stand around and watch her. "I found two distinct kinds of dances, one very similar to the waltz, and the other one like the gavotte, or square-dance," the professor continues.

"In the waltz, the bee runs around in circles, alternating to the right and left. Sometimes she performs one or two full circles but, again, will change direction after a half or three-quarters of a circle.

"In the other dance the bee runs around in a half-circle, then runs back to her starting point, wagging her hind-quarter as in a rhumba. Then she runs in the other direction, continuing to wag her hind-quarter.

"These two dances, comprising different steps and variations, make up the language of the bees."

Don't think that bees want to talk to each other just to make conversation. These are gestures of emotion, and are responded to by the other bees. The gestures are a means of exchanging information essential to the survival and well-being of the hive.

Through the round-dance and rhumba, the bees point out the distance of food resources. If the distance is only about 50 yards, the bee shows it in a waltz. If it is farther away, the bee indicates that fact in a combination of the square and tail-dance. With the waltz she wants to show her fellow workers how easy it is: 'Just fly around here. The honey is closer to the hive.' The other dance indicates remote distance— and by certain actions the bee can designate the distance.

She does this by wags of her tail. The rhumba-like beats of her hind-quarter, therefore, are measurements of the flying distance to the food, in bee-time. Professor Frisch, by checking this tail-movement carefully with a stop-watch, has found that each tailwag means a standard unit of time, which never varies. The dance gives the distance correctly.

But how do bees know in which direction to fly? The professor's experiments show that the bees use the sun as a compass; the dance shows the position of the sun. Sometimes the bee interrupts her dance and runs straight forwards. This shows direction, in relation to the sun's position.

Bees also communicate with one another through their sense of smell. Professor Frisch proved this by using artificial flowers filled with peppermint-flavored sugar syrup. As soon as one bee found the syrup and returned to the hive, Dr. Frisch removed the artificial flowers, and replaced them with some containing sugar water without the peppermint, and others which had been dabbed with peppermint, but contained no syrup.

Then what happened? The next flight of bees flew directly to the the flowers dabbed with peppermint and were puzzled when these had no syrup. The flowers with syrup but without the peppermint flavor were ignored—at least at the first approach.

The work of the Austrian scientist is one of the most fascinating animal studies of recent years. He insists that the dance-language is not the conscious brain-work of the insects. They do it by instinct and no intellectual work is involved. It is just an achievement of nature.

Millions of bees died and starved before this knowledge was acquired and these habits were achieved. Scientists have now deciphered one of the oldest of all languages; one that is entirely bees' business.

CAIRO MOB TRIES TO FIRE BRITISH CONSULATE

HAULING SURVIVORS FROM MONONGAHELA AFTER RIVER BOAT BLAST

Toronto Man Shot When He Refused to Give Up Wallet

Toronto, Sept 11 (CP)—Morris Singer, 47-year-old operator of a tobacco and news stand who was shot in the abdomen early today by a thug who accosted him on the verandah of his west-central house, was still semi-conscious 10 hours later.

Police were unable to question the man to obtain details of the shooting.

But from two persons who witnessed the attack, they learned that the robber climbed over the railing on the verandah and told Singer: "Okay, drop your wallet."

"I won't," Singer replied. Then the thug fired.

Police were told that as Singer gasped, "you've shot me!" The robber replied: "I know I have—and you'll get another if you don't give it (the wallet) up."

The thug fled along the dark street and disappeared. Police said there was no trace of the wallet.

It is believed to have contained about $100.

Chief Constable John Chisholm announced a $500 reward for information leading to conviction of the bandit.

Police said they believed the wanted man is the same thug who waylaid and robbed two other Toronto merchants recently on their way home late at night.

Jas. Lyons Noted Political Figure Dies at the Soo

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Sept. 11 —(CP)—James Lyons, a former Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests and for years a noted figure in Ontario, politics, died yesterday, age 69.

Eldest son of a family of 13 children, he rose through unremitting labor and native shrewdness from his first Sault job as a paper mill laborer to head a fuel, hardware and building supply firm known across Northern Ontario. He represented Sault Ste. Marie riding in the Ontario Legislature from 1923 to 1934. He held cabinet rank in the first cabinet of the late Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, but later resigned. Always a staunch Progressive Conservative, he was at times a vigorous critic of his own party's policies and in the last session of the Ontario Legislature before the 1934 election he created a sensation with a denunciation of the Conservative Government led by George Henry.

Born in a little farming settlement on Lake Simcoe, Aug. 26, 1878, he attended school in Virginia, Ont. He came to Sault Ste. Marie at the age of 22.

His work as a laborer kept him busy 12 hours a day, but despite that he built a house, working in his off hours. He kept building and selling with the capital, got into the butcher business. Then he operated a grocery store and in 1910 entered the construction business.

Aging Burglar, Past "Best Years Of Crime", Gets Play in Newspapers

London, Sept. 11 —(CP)— The case of an aging burglar, who defending counsel said was "past his best years of crime" because he was getting deaf and couldn't hear how much noise he made on a "job," was featured in the crowded London newspapers today.

A kindly word was devoted to the plight of 71-year-old "Gentleman Fred" Harding who would like to go straight but who pleaded guilty at Old Bailey yesterday to a charge of breaking into a Kensington apartment and stealing £250 ($1,000) worth of jewelry.

Police are chummy with their old pal Fred — he admitted a record of 14 previous convictions dating back to the First World War — and he in turn does the right thing by his blueclad buddies.

Harding told the judge he pleaded guilty because "I don't want to make any trouble for my friends the police." There were several character witnesses to back up the high regard the police had for Fred when he was not stealing.

Police also have a high professional respect for Fred. The constable who arrested him told this tale to the court:

On searching him at a police station they found 123 keys in Harding's pockets and admired the workmanship.

"Nice, aren't they?" said Fred. "I make 'em myself. Get me into or out of anywhere, they would."

"All right, see if they can get you out of here," said the detective on duty, locking the massive station door.

Fred selected one of the bunch and within a few seconds the door swung open again.

"One of my hobbies is making keys," Harding confided to the magistrate.

Defence counsel told the bench: "He assures me he's through with crime and after going straight the last 2½ years he wouldn't have done the Kensington job except that he lost all his money at a dog track."

"Quite sound," said the judge. "But I am worried about these skeleton keys — two years."

Weatherman Aids In Combating Smoke Nuisance

Toronto, Sept. 11 (CP)—How the weatherman can co-operate with large industries to combat a public enemy that causes millions of dollars damage annually was described here yesterday by Dr. E. W. Hewson, chief of the meteorological research in Canada, now attending the Toronto conference of the International meteorological organization.

Addressing the Smoke Prevention Association of America, Dr. Hewson said that smoke, which damages crops and forests, buildings and human health, is dispersed rapidly and harmlessly if released when the weatherman says, "go!"

"With certain kinds of weather the effects are not too serious, for the gases and tiny solid particles soon mix with the surrounding clearer air. With other weather conditions, the waste products do not mix, but remain as a heavy pall."

The answer, he suggested, is to cut down the output of smoke when the weather is not favorable for dispersal, and release it in large quantity when the atmosphere will dissipate it quickly.

Wilgress or McNaughton May be Representative

Ottawa, Sept. 11 — (CP) — Canada's representative on the Security Council of the United Nations, if the Dominion is elected, may be Dana Wilgress, one of the most experienced and competent members of the diplomatic service, or General A. G. L. McNaughton, according to present indications.

It is expected — although it is not certain yet — that early in the second session of the U. N. General Assembly opening in New York Tuesday Canada will be chosen a non-permanent member of the 11-member security council for a two-year term.

She would replace Australia, whose term expires at the end of this year when Canada would then take over.

FOUND DEAD WITH BULLET WOUND IN HEAD

St. Catharines, Sept. 11—(CP)—Sidney J. Skinner, 50, of Toronto, died in hospital today of rifle-bullet wound in his head. Police said the wound could have been self-inflicted.

Skinner was found yesterday lying near a railroad right-of-way on the northern outskirts of St. Catharines. A rifle was discovered nearby.

BRIDE SHOT AND KILLED

Denver, Sept. 11 — (AP) — A 17-year-old bride of three weeks was shot and killed last night by her husband, police said, while her younger sister looked on. Officers added the husband, Charles E. Geiser, university student, would be charged with the murder of his wife, Gertrude. Geiser's statement said the two were planning divorce proceedings when he noted she was wearing the dress she was married in, became angered, and fired.

BEVIN SAYS U.S. SHOULD REVIVE ALL LEND-LEASE

Foreign Secretary In Speech Gives Latest Proposal to Solve Europe's Economic Ills

London, Sept. 11 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin's latest proposal for solving Europe's economic ills is that the United States revive wartime lend-lease.

In a short talk here last night, he recalled his Sept. 3 suggestion that the United States redistribute the gold buried a Fort Knox, Ky., where it has stored some $12,500,000,000 of its $21,765,907,000 gold supply.

"I do not mind whether it is lease-lend or that, but all I say is this—that you can't get settlement in the world unless we get these economic conditions right."

His lend-lease idea, which he did not amplify, was given in an address to Paul H. Griffith, Past National Commander of the American Legion, and 135 other Legionnaires bound for European war cemeteries. The visitors were dinner guests of the British Legion.

"The United States have decided," Bevin said, "that we are the junior partner, that we are a third-rate power."

This was an evident reference to recent London newspaper stories that the United States State Department, in a report to Congressmen now in Europe, has classified Britain as no longer an "equal" in the Big Three.

"Let me say to you my dear Americans," the Foreign Secretary declared, "we may be short of dollars . . . but we are not short of will . . . we will win through. We won't let you down."

Strive To End Strike

As Bevin spoke, the government strove to end the disastrous coal strike in the Yorkshire pits and prepared final details of a new export program in the desperate battle to restore economic equilibrium.

And interest was centred on the parliamentary by-election today in the Liverpool constituency of Edge Hill. Result of the by-election could be regarded as an indication of public confidence in the government's capacity to handle the crisis.

Washington officials commented that lend-lease could not be resumed without authority from Congress, which is not scheduled for a regular session till January, although talk of a special session now is circulating.

They added, however, that State Secretary Marshall's plan for aid to Europe, now being elaborated, might turn out to have resemblance to lend lease.

In a BBC address delivered before Bevin spoke, John M. McCloy, American President of the World Bank, said his countrymen were beginning to question whether dollar loans would solve Europe's problems.

McCloy was in London for the annual directors meeting of his international bank for reconstruction and development and the international monetary fund. He emphasized to reporters that the bank was intended to make loans for productive purposes, and not for "stopgap" buying of consumer goods.

Italian Farmers Use Tommy Guns To Defend Farms

Milan, Sept 11 (Reuters) — Farmers in northern Italy, where 1,000,000 farm workers are on strike, used Tommy guns to defend their properties when a number of farmsteads in the Po Valley were attacked by unknown persons.

Farms in a village near Cremona were set ablaze by men who used gasoline and phosphorus "Molotov cocktails." Damage is estimated at 12,000,000 lire (about $34,800).

As the strike of farm laborers entered its third day, "flying squads" of the strikers were reported enforcing the strike wherever agitation was half-hearted.

It is intended that the Health Organizaton work in close co-operation with the Plan for Hospital Care, which also was started on a group insurance plan and has enrolled about 800,000 members.

A general manager has yet to be appointed for the project.

"Costs will be as low as we can make them," an official said tonight. "Our ultimate object is to give complete medical and surgical care at the lowest minimum cost."

The Ontario Medical Association at its May meeting endorsed by more than 40 to one in a standing vote a proposal that it sponsor a plan of prepared medical care.

Workmen's Compensation Board records showed there were [illegible] accidents, including the 42 fatalities. Awards for compensation and medical aid totalled $1,032,668.42. In August, 1946 there were 11,136 accidents, including 31 fatalities.

YORKSHIRE MINE WORKERS BACK ON JOBS ON MONDAY

Yorkshire Strike Costs Britain Some 500,000 Tons of Coal

London, Sept. 11 (Reuters) — Workers at the Grimethorpe mine, whose South Yorkshire coal strike has cost Britain some 500,000 tons of coal, decided today to resume work Monday.

More than 45,000 miners elsewhere in the rich Yorkshire coal fields had come out in sympathy with the Grimethorpe workers, cutting Britain's coal production in the midst of an economic crisis in which the fuel was badly needed.

Labor circles expressed belief that all the strikers would return to work with the end of the Grimethorpe walkout.

The strike developed after the National Union of Mine Workers and the National Coal Board which operates the nationalized mines asked Grimethorpe workers to work a larger "stint" — two feet more of coal face — to boost production. The men said they were already producing to the limit of their capacity.

The men will go back to their previous daily quota of 21 square feet of coal face and a three-man fact-finding committee offered by fuel minister Shinwell will inspect the face after the men have returned.

ATTEMPT MADE TO ASSASSINATE CZECH MINISTERS

Credit Legionnaire With Snipping Suspicious Bit of String Attached To Bomb

Prague, Sept. 11 (AP) —The Interior Ministry announced today that an attempt to assassinate three Czech cabinet ministers with explosive packets disguished as perfume had been foiled yesterday.

Newspapers called the assassination attempt a political plot, but fixed no specific blame.

The three targets for the packets were vice-premier Peter Zenkl, general secretary of the National Socialist Party, Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk, and Prokop Drtina, Justice Minister, who also is a National Socialist.

Security Police, searching for a man known to have mailed the three packets, credit Vaclav Spilka, 60, Czech legionnaire and veteran of Russian revolution with averting the death of the three men by his quick thinking.

Only one of the bombs arrived at its destination, the office of Zenkl. His personal secretary, Frantisek Ambroz, escaped death because Spilka had snipped a suspicious bit of string, which proved to have been the key to the explosive.

The bomb, which police said had enough strength to destroy the whole room, did not explode and similar packages addressed to Masaryk and Drtina were intercepted before delivery.

Police said the packages were of stolen Italian and German materials and expertly fabricated. They said a man with chestnut hair, about 40 to 45 years old, posted the boxes Tuesday in Prague. They said he cautioned the post office to handle them with care, since they contained perfume.

Motive for the assassination attempts was not immediately clear.

The National Socialist Ministers have been the target for the last 10 days of attacks in Communist organs because they voted against a Communist tax-the-wealthy program to pay farm subsidies.

Motorcycle He Was Riding Collides With Transport Mile East of City

Douglas Cook, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cook, 168 Ann Street, was instantly killed around two o'clock this morning when the motorcycle he was riding crashed into a heavy transport one mile east of the city on Highway No. 2.

Crowd Incensed By British Delay In Leaving Egypt

U.N. Security Council Fails to Take Any Action

Cairo, Sept. 11 — (CP)—Large crowds of demonstrators today tried to set fire to the British Consulate in Port Said, stoned the American Consulate there, and destroyed the statue of Ferdinand De Lesseps, the French engineer who built the Suez Canal, following failure by the United Nations Security Council to order British troops out of Egypt.

The demonstrations occurred at Port Said, in the British occupied canal zone, and at the coastal city of Alexandria. Cairo, for the most part was quiet.

The demonstrators began marching through Port Said soon after news of the Security Council's failure to reach a decision in the British - Egyptian case became known, shouting "down with the Security Council; down with Britain; long live Egypt and the Sudan; long live Russia, Poland and Syria."

Egyptian police prevented the Port Said crowd from firing the British Consulate there, after which the demonstrators proceeded to a British camp but Egyptian police surrounded the area and prevented a possible clash there.

The statue of De Lesseps was destroyed by demonstrators shouting: "down with imperialistic France."

After a brief lull the Port Said demonstration began anew with shouts against Foreign Secretary Bevin and Sir Alexander Cagogan, British representative on the U. N. Security Council. Reinforced police again clashed with the crowd.

At Alexandria, a number of policemen and demonstrators were taken to hospitals following a police attempt to disperse 4,000 workers of the Failaturi Nationale Cotton Goods Factory, who went on strike in protest against the Security Council's failure to act in the Egyptian case.

Parade Through Streets

The Alexandria strikers paraded through the streets shouting "down with the Security Council; down with England." They threw stones at police who tried to disperse them and police then fired over their heads.

In Cairo, the first editorial comment on the Security Council's inability to find a solution for the dispute saw it as a "partial success" for Egypt.

The newspaper Alassas, which supports the present government, declared:

"Egypt scored a partial success as the council rejected British demands that the council confirm the validity of the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty (by which British troops were permitted on Egypt's soil) and take the dispute off the agenda."

Hafez Ramadan Pasha, Nationalist party leader, writing in Alahram Independent, said the Security Council had made no decision in favor of Britain and added: "Solution of the Egyptian case still is in the hands of the Egyptian people and government."

Low Suggests Commonwealth Talks on U.K. Aid

Ottawa, Sept. 11 (CP) —Solon Low, leader of the Social Credit party, today released the text of a letter to Prime Minister Mackenzie King urging the Canadian Government to call a Commonwealth conference for the purpose of discussing ways of helping Britain in her crisis.

Mr. Low said "it would be very difficult for the British government to take the initiative in calling such a conference... at the present time for obvious reasons."

Outlining the need for a conference, Mr. Low said:

"There are two aspects of the British economic crisis which must be considered. In the first place, the acute hardships and the privations which are being inflicted upon the people of the British Isles are the direct result of the heroic sacrifices which these people made during those critical months of the war when Great Britain stood alone as an island fortress between the forces of totalitarianism on the one hand and the democratic countries of the world on the other...

"I am convinced that it would be a shameful betrayal of all that we owe to the people of Great Britain if we failed to go to their assistance in the crisis which they are facing as a result of their sacrifices in the war...

"The only hope for the future of a chaotic world rushing headlong to disaster, is a strong and firmly-knit British Commonwealth of Nations working in close collaboration with the United States of America..."

Weather Synopsis

Toronto, Sept. 11 (CP)—Synopsis: Cloudiness has increased overnight throughout Southern Ontario and a few showers are occurring at the present time. Temperatures remain unseasonably high. Cooler weather with some rain is occurring over the extreme northern section of Ontario. Little change in temperature and scattered showers or thunderstorms are expected for the southern section of Ontario late today and again on Friday. Cooler weather over Northwestern Ontario and the great plains states is moving only slowly eastward and is not expected to advance further than the northern sections of the Georgian Bay region during Friday.

Refugees in Exodus 1947 Prove Obstinate, Try to Snag Up Screening

Luebeck, Germany, Sept. 11 — (AP) — British officials screening Jews from the Exodus 1947 said today that the refugees are "being obstinate and giving us plenty of trouble by trying to snap up the processes."

They made this comment at Poppendorf, larger of two camps near here in which the 4,311 Jews were placed after their forcible disembarkation Monday and Tuesday from a British transport convoy. The refugees were brought to Germany after failing to enter Palestine as unauthorized immigrants.

In Am Stau, the second camp, one Jewish leader told reporters, "We are going to stay in these camps and make the British recognize us as Palestinians . . . we insist on going to Palestine."

A refugee from the Runnymede Park, one of the three British transports, declared "We are going to continue the sitdown strike we began on the ship."

Officials said that at both camps most of the refugees, refusing to tell their true national origins, gave Palestine as their place of origin and Hebrew or Yiddish as their only language. This slowed the questioning. German doctors and nurses were treating sick Jews at Poppendorf, where eight men and 10 women were in hospital, some with injuries inflicted by British soldiers who evacuated two of the ships.

Mordecai Rosman, self-styled leader of the Runnymede Park, held in a military police barracks, told reporters last night the struggle between the passengers and troops was a mistake.

Winter Coming Closer to Victims Of the Tornado

Donations to the Belleville Merchants - Ontario Intelligencer Tornado Fund continue to come in to the offices of the Intelligencer but there are many more generous-hearted persons in the city and district who have not yet sent their contribution.

It has been eleven days since the people of Coe Hill were struck by a rampaging tornado that took but ninety seconds to wipe out their homes and farms and destroy every earthly possession but the clothes on their backs. It was a calamity which was brought about through no fault of the people of that area. They were helpless to prevent it, and there was nothing they could do to stop it once it was on its way.

Each day brings winter that much closer to an area where winter strikes with all its fury. The unfortunate victims of this catastrophe desperately need all the assistance that can be gathered to help them. They must rebuild their homes before the dreaded cold weather begins. Money is most essential in the task of reconstruction.

If you have not yet made a contribution to this fund do so today. Send or bring your donation to the offices of this newspaper, help your neighbors to the north. A receipt will be given for all monies received.

New Street Banner To Warn Motorists Of School Zone

Through the kind generosity of Art Keegan, local sign painter and termed the unofficial mayor of Foster Ward, Queen Alexandra public school will shortly have a new street banner bringing attention of motorists to the fact that this particular district is a school area and asking drivers to proceed with care.

In the words of Mr. Keegan, signs painted on the street are unsatisfactory due to the fact that in heavy traffic they cannot be read and in any event the wear of traffic wheels quickly makes them unreadable.

The new banner provided by Mr. Keegan is of canvas and will be hung across Dundas Street near the west side of the school grounds so as to be readable by motorists out of the city. In large blue lettering the sign will read "We Love Our Children" and then in red letters beneath "Drive Slowly — School Zone."

On the reverse of the sign are the words: "Welcome to Belleville, the Friendliest City in Canada."

The banner already has been turned over to Alderman William Harvey, chairman of the public works department, and arrangements for placing the banner in position are now underway.

Arthur Rogers Has Splendid Collection of Match Covers

Mr. Arthur Rogers, 45 1-2 West Bridge Street, collects book matches as a hobby. What is so unusual about Mr. Rogers is the fact that he has between 8,000 and 9,000 covers. They fill two large scrap books to overflowing, and the remainder, as yet unpasted, fill four cigar boxes full, and two large paper bags. In all this astounding number there are only five to six hundred repeaters that Mr. Rogers keeps for trading purposes.

Mr. Rogers, who is at home due to a heart condition, receives several covers from correspondents in the United States. He is forever on the lookout for covers that he has not yet in his collection. If he sees one it takes him only thirty seconds to tell if he already has it. He is anxious to receive covers from any person, and will trade covers with all comers.

Browsing through his collection is an education in itself. The match folders are divided into various classifications, military, hotels, restaurants golf clubs, cigar stores, bowling alleys, billiard halls, railways, tourist camps, and so on.

Covers From Army

In the military display are covers from, army, navy, and airforce. Covers come from such sources as a sailors' club in Halifax and the late F.D.R. It seems when F.D.R. came to the Quebec Conference on his flagship the U.S.S. Tuscaloosa he gave every sailor on board a carton of cigarettes and a special book of matches with a picture of the vessel on one face. A sailor who received one of the covers gave it to an officer in a club in Halifax, the officer gave it to a friend of Mr. Rogers who in turn handed it over to the collector.

Many covers have wartime messages on them. One shows Churchill and Roosevelt together. Others are splashed with large V's. Military ranks are explained on others. Even the wartime covers with the large 30 on them are present. General MacArthur's picture is on some.

Restaurants and hotels, are the most widely represented in the collection. The Cardy hotels in Canada, the C.P.R. hotels, the Statler chain, as well as several independent hotels, are recorded.

Restaurants from New York to San Francisco are represented in Mr. Arthur Rogers' album. The bistros of Jack Dempsey, Barney Ross, and Maxie Rosenbloom, are represented alongside several cafes in San Francisco China Town. The cover from Jack Dempsey's restaurant is autographed by Mr. Dempsey himself. Swedish, Greek, Russian, and Italian restaurants are included as well.

Night clubs such as the Stork, in New York, The Rainbow, in San Francisco, and the Ace of Clubs in Bermuda, are all there.

Yacht clubs, golf clubs, industrial firms, aircraft companies, fruit growers, and soft drink manufacturers all use book matches to advertise their products and in the course of collection a goodly number of their sample covers have found their way to Mr. Rogers. All shapes and sizes of covers are present ranging from several inches in width to about the width of your little finger. Others are shaped peculiarly with one put out by the Oakland fruit growers resembling an apple.

There in Abundance

Sport greats are there in abundance. Baseball, football, and hockey stars of the past and present are included. Among others there are covers with pictures of Louis Trudel, Bun Cook, Lorne Chabot, and Curt Davis on one side with a short sketch of their prowess on the reverse side. There is even a cover which the Boston Bruins hockey team put out.

Insurance companies, drug stores, beauty parlors, barbershops, coal dealers and gas stations all use and issue book matches whose covers are now found in Mr. Rogers' collection. The manufacturers of book matches advertise their industry by issuing book matches with their names on the covers.

Famous people, from motion picture stars such as Douglas Fairbanks and Jack Oakie, to former presidents of the United States, find their way to the covers on book matches. Mr. Rogers has a special collection of eight covers that bear the pictures of former presidents. The Kenwood Blanket Co. of Canada has a cover with the Governor General's picture inscribed

There are many novelty covers. The Filippo Berio Olive Oil Company has a series of nine covers that form a picture when pasted side to side. One firm issued seventeen different colored covers with the same message inscribed on each one.

Ironically enough there are some book matches that advertise undertaking establishments.

Covers to Trade

There are covers from the World's Fair, the Bell Telephone Company, Republic Pictures, radio stations, and commercial photographers. Some covers have photos on them such as on a post card with a small text on the reverse side. Personal book match covers are available also with the monogramed variety leading this field by a wide margin. Some have personal photographs on them. Others carry nicknames. Mr. Rogers has some personal covers of his own which he trades with other collectors.

there is a large animal collection with dogs and chickens leading the field in that order.

Another large group of covers deals with the "paste down girls", those refugees from Varga who find their way, in various stages of "undress to the covers of a match. There are advertisements for alcoholic beverages and one that even condemns the drinking of water as an unhealthy practice.

To counteract this soul shattering trend there is one cover which is put out by the Trinity Episcopal Church of Columbus Georgia.

Mr. Rogers has covers from England, Belgium, Germany, Ireland, every state in the Union, and every province in the Dominion with the exception of Prince Edward Island. He reserves the distinction of the cover coming the farthest distance to an average sized one from Honolulu. He hopes that in due time he will have at least one cover from every country where they are used.

Taxi Driver Runs Bluff, Averts Attempted Hold-Up

Presence of mind of a local taxi driver in running a bluff by calling to his wife for the gun, averted an attempted hold-up near the Point Anne lane at an early hour this morning.

John B. Grotto, local taxi man, had been engaged 15 minutes earlier to take a male passenger east out of the city. At the Point Anne lane Mr. Grotto asked his passenger in the rear seat where his destination was with the result that the passenger replied "Never mind, this is a hold-up."

Grotto pulled his car up and called to his wife who was riding with him to "Hand me the gun." This scared the would-be hold-up and he quickly opened the door and disappeared down a lane into the darkness.

Provincial Police are investigating the matter and obtained a good description of the man from Mr. Grotto.

SCHOOL SYSTEM URGED TO REDEEM YOUNG OFFENDERS

Need of Social Service Institutions in Churches Stressed by Anglicans

By DOUGLAS GREEN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Saskatoon, Sept. 11 (CP) —An appeal for good chaplains in institutions, a school or borstal system of rehabilitating young offenders and "any amount of post-prison care" today is before the council for social service of the Churnh of England.

In discussions of prison reform and the rehabilitation of prisoners, H. C. Farthing, Chancellor of Calgary Diocese, termed "perfectly shocking" the difference in the appearance of persons now in prisoners' docks as compared with the look of those appearing before the courts as recently as three or four years ago.

"You see clean-cut youths of 17 to 21, up on charges of burglary house breaking or theft, swagger into the dock and toss their heads," he told a joint session of the General Synod's executive Council and Social Service Council last night.

"If some one arranges ball, they swagger out again.

"It is the fashion in some quarters to ascribe sin and evil to economic conditions. This is unfair to the very poor.

"These people could earn wages. That's not economic distress: that's plain sin."

Strength of R.C. Church

Bishop W. F. Barfoot of Edmon said it seemed to be a "peculiar weakness" of Protestant churches that they possessed so few social service institutions, and offered the opinion that the strength of the Roman Catholic Church rose not so much from the solidarity of its adherents as from the "impressive nature" of its institutions —"innumerable" hospitals, orphanages and homes.

Sufficient importance was not being attached to the work of chaplains in penitentiaries and reformatories, said Canon W. E. Kidd Anglican chaplain of Portsmouth Penitentiary, Kingston, Ont.

He commended Saskatchewan for recommending the appointment of Protestant and Roman Catholic directors of chaplain services.

"In Ontario we have been unable to prevail on the government to engage permanent chaplains in reformatories, he said.

"When we have so many thousands of people confined in institutions, it is the responsibility of the church to see that they receive spiritual ministrations. Chaplains must be trained for the work through the machinery of hospitals, jails and reformatories."

He recommended that the church urge upon the government the appointment of permanent chaplains.

It was "unfair," the meeting was told, that penitentiary chaplains were unable to attend meeting of synods, conventions or assemblies of their churches without taking time from their own holidays to do so.

The council for social service reported that in the matter of prison reform and rehabilitation generally there had been "more hopeful signs during the year than for a decade past."

These included the appointment of Maj. Gen. Gibson as commissioner of penitentiaries, the activity of the Canadian Penal Association and forward steps taken by Ontario and Saskatchewan, Ontario throught creation of the office of a director of reform institutions and Saskatchewan through the report of a commission of inquiry into the penal system of the province.

A report on religious education in public schools, presented earlier, said intelligent leadership by clergy and laity was necessary to extend "already meager existing regulations."

Placer Gold Find Reported in Yukon

Edmonton, Sept. 11 — (CP) — The Edmonton Journal in a news-page story today said an Edmonton business executive who has just returned from Aklavik, N. W. T., reported a small rush is in progress to the Firth River area where placer gold is said to have been found.

The Journal said the man who did not want his name used reported that at least 50 and perhaps as many as 75 claims have been staked along the river which plunges into the Arctic Ocean near the Canadian-Alaskan border. Stakers were going into the area from both Aklavik and the Yukon.

Earlier this month, Ernest M. Maxwell, a Yellowknife, N. W. T., mining engineer, had reported in Fort St. John that he had washed gold on the Firth River this summer and that claims were being staked. He placed the discoveries within the Yukon territory and about 35 miles from the Alaska boundary.

Gunmen May Have Escaped Dragnet Of Montreal Police

Hull, Que., Sept. 11 —(CP)— Search for the bandits who robbed the Banque Provinciale du Canada branch of more than $3,500 in a daring noon-hour holdup yesterday was intensified here today amid reports that the two gunmen, aided by a driver, may have slipped the dragnet and whisked to the Toronto area.

Following the incident in which Romulus Beauparlant, chairman of the Hull police commission, was slugged with revolver butts while entering the bank to do business, J. Adrien Robert, director of Hull's police department, held a press conference late last night.

He disclosed that it had been learned an automobile, its licence plate concealed by simply raising the lid of the trunk of the blue Plymouth sedan, had parked near the robbery scene a half hour before the crime.

M. Robert also disclosed he had received a telephone call from a Pickering, Ont., gas station operator, indicating the trio might have passed that way and sped along in the direction of Toronto, some 25 miles to the west.

The tip from the operator was that a blue sedan, carrying three men, had stopped for gas, and that one of the men had nervously dropped four $10 bills while hurriedly paying the bill. The man jumped in the car, which sped towards Toronto.

One of the bills was said to have a peculiar mark on it — a circled X — and bank officials today will attempt to identify them as among those stolen from the teller's cage after the bank manager and a teller refused to open the vault in the robbery yesterday.

The manager, Gerard Caron, the teller, Ernest Lanque, and customer, J. E. Seguin, were the only persons in the bank at the time of the holdup. Mr. Seguin gave descriptions to the police.

Foiled in their attempt to reach the vault, the bandits scooped up all the available money in the teller's cage, pulled out telephone lines, and left, slugging M. Beauparlant on the way out.

Deloro Safety Council Meets

The September meeting of the Deloro Safety Committee was held in the Electric Shop on Tuesday afternoon with C. H. Buskard presiding. Preceding the roll call, an address on "Burns and their treatment" was given by the plant doctor, Dr. W. J. Donevan.

No awards were made for suggestions. The Star was awarded the General Division. C. Watson followed with the report of the Inspection Committee. H. I. Dalton will be floating member for the current month.

Activities of the Publicity Committee were described by M. J. Corrigan and J. A. Rice touched upon those of the Health and Investigation Committee. The monthly statement of the Benevolent Relief Funds was presented by the chairman. The concluding report, that of the Bulletin, was given by M. J. Corrigan. Under general business, C. S. Gibson, Mines Accident Prevention Association Safety Director, who was present, gave a short interesting address in which he described the nature of his duties, and the endeavors made at the mines in Northern Ontario to eliminate accidents, besides speaking in favorable terms of Deloro's record since the inception of its Safety First movement.

Atomic Energy Commission Adopts 2nd Report

Lake Success, NY., Sept. 11— (AP) — The United Nations Atomic Energy Commission today adopted its second report to the Security Council by a vote of 10 to 1 with Russia opposed and Poland abstaining. The ballot came after the United States and the Soviet Union bitterly accused each other of impeding the work of the commission.

The vote on the first report last year, embodying the principles of the Baruch plan, had been 10 to 0 with both Russia and Poland abstaining.

There is no veto in the atomic commission but the Soviet Union will be able to kill it with a veto if desired in the council.

Shortly before the vote, Frederick H. Osborn, United States delegate, charged that Russia has consistently attempted to impede construction work in the commission.

Answering the slashing attack on the United States by Russia yesterday, Osborn told the commission that Russia must realize the only atomic control treaty acceptable to peoples of the world "will be one which does away with national rivalries" and provides "real security."

Miss Canada Welcomed Home By Large Throng

Toronto, Sept. 11 (CP)—A band played "Oh, You Beautiful Doll," ticker tape fluttered from windows of tall buildings in Toronto's financial district and thousands of admirers cheered yesterday as Miss Canada returned to her hometown.

Margaret Marshall, 18-year-old blonde who placed third in the Miss America contest in Atlantic City, N.J., last Saturday after winning the competition's bathing suit event, stood up in an open maroon convertible and waved back to the crowds along the route she followed to a civic reception at the City Hall.

She wore a grey flannel suit, steel grey stockings and high-heeled black slippers and topped the outfit with a cocky black hat from which fluttered a long red chiffon scarf.

Miss Marshall flew here by special plane from Hamilton where she was given a civic reception. She won her Miss Canada laurels in a beauty contest in that city recently and was awarded a $1,000 scholarship. She has ambitions of a singing and dramatics career.

It was a predominantly male crowd which jammed Bay Street and the city hall front, naturally. But the many women were just as intrigued with Miss Marshall's outfit, especially the narrow-brimmed jaunty black hat.

After accepting gifts of roses and two travelling cases presented by the city, Miss Marshall told the crowd: "Hello everybody! It's grand to be back. You have all been so wonderful and this is such a nice reception. It's a grand surprise. It's wonderful."

Then the band played "A Pretty Girl is like a Melody" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" as she drove off to model new uniforms at the Canadian Red Cross headquarters.

FUGITIVE STEER LEADS CHASE

Baltimore, Sept. 11 — (AP) — A 1,200-pound fugitive steer led eight packing company employees and two policemen on a chase through southwest Baltimore yesterday, and after withstanding three charges from a riot gun finally was killed by two more shots from a revolver. The steer escaped while being unloaded from a truck.

Corn Crop 27 P.C. Lower Than Last Year's Production

Washington, Sept. 11 —(AP)— The last hope that a revived corn crop might ease or remove the threat of less and costlier meat in the United States next year all but faded yesterday.

With harvest time approaching, the government's latest forecast of the crop that will largely determine the size of the 1948 meat supply shaved more than 33,000,000 bushels off a yield already rated as the smallest since the disastrous 1936 drought.

The agriculture department put the figure at 2,403,913,000 bushels as of Sept. 1, a 27-year-cent drop from last year's record output and the second consecutive decline since July 15.

The immediate effect of the dropping yield and skyrocketing feed prices may be a flood of livestock to market.

If this happens, agriculture department officials, said the increase in current supplies may bring prices down somewhat—but they decline to guess how much.

Next spring, however, farmers will have fewer cattle to sell for slaughter, and the animals they do market will be lighter weight because of the shortage of corn.

Translated into retail prices, this indicates that if present demands for meat hold steady prices probably will hit new peaks.

In addition to the impact at home, the short corn crop outlook confronts the administration with the necessity of taking immediate stock of its efforts to avert hunger abroad.

Export specialists told a reporter there "is no doubt" that shipments to Europe and Asia must "be materially reduced."

Offsetting somewhat the gloomy corn outlook, yesterday's crop report said the wheat crop would hit a record 1,408,602,000 bushels. But this figure was a 19,000,000 bushel drop from the Aug. 1 estimate.

REPENTANT OVER THEFT OF LEAD PENCIL

Keokuk, Ia., Sept. 11 (AP) — A Keokuk store received a letter yesterday from a former resident who now lives in Oklahoma.

It said:

"Fourteen years ago I stole a pencil. Since getting religion I wish to atone. Enclosed find 25 cents to pay for same."

Food Prices Soar In New York

New York, Sept. 11 — (AP) — Butter sold at $1.05 today in some New York stores, and at 90 to 96 cents in others, but everywhere clerks told worried housewives:

"It'll be higher tomorrow."

Wholesale prices jumped 2½ cents a pound. A leading grocery chain, which held its price at 90 cents today, said "That means we will have to raise it tomorrow."

Top grade eggs, keeping pace with butter in their recent breakneck sprint, went to 91 to 98 cents a dozen at retail stores.

Retail meat prices in New York "in some cases are higher than last October when prices skyrocketed after decontrol," said the city's markets commissioner, Eugene G. Schulz.

Lamb chops, now 95 cents a pound, were 90 cents at last October's peak, he said, while shoulder of lamb, now 79 cents, was 65 then, and veal chops at 81 cents compared with 75 cents last year.

Pork on the hoof hit new record highs again in Chicago, casting a long shadow over the already mounting retail meat bill.

BUTTER PRODUCTION UP

THE SILHOUETTE CHANGES

EMPIRE

The Empire gown of the Napoleonic era had long flowing lines, reflecting Greek influence. Sleeves were short and puffed .... and the waistline was just about as high as it could go. Fabrics were sheer, and little was worn underneath! Some of the more daring shocked the court by not wearing anything underneath at all! Strictly off the record, this may have been due to the fact that they didn't have the dainty, luxurious selection of lingerie that we have at Wiseman's.

The Human Factor

Traffic toll in Ontario claimed the lives of 79 persons in August, thereby upsetting the trend downward which was indicated in July. At that time the Minister of Highways stated that there was no ground for complacency or for letting up on the safety efforts. August figures prove how true that statement was.

In August a wear ago the toll was 62 deaths. The four year period 1937-41 averaged 84.4 deaths for August while August 1941 recorded the deaths of 98 in traffic accidents.

One of the tragic aspects of the August 1947 report is the rise in the number of deaths of children within the age group 5 to 14 years from five in July to 18 in August.

All these facts point to the need that is uppermost, every driver must be careful of his car's course for his own sake and that of every other user of the highways and roads.

Accidents happen in a fragment of time but that fragment of time is long enough to write tragedy if eternal vigilance is not the aim of all drivers.

None of the victims of the August accidents started on the journey with any thought that it was to be the last. In the driving world incidents and events take place when no one is expecting them.

The modern automobile is one of the most dependable of machines with which man is acquainted. But it is so built that any deviation to the slightest from sane and careful driving so much urged by the Department of Highways and its officials may bring grief. In the last analysis it is the human factor that counts.

Fairs

The spirit of the fair is abroad in the land. It comes to place the mark of approval and honor upon the progress of the growing season and on the year's developments in agriculture, industry and other fields of effort. That time of year is at hand when this fine institution occupies the attention of everyone and the people gather in great numbers in these local and community festivals to crown the work of the year.

Fairs have their roots deep in history, centuries of developments being behind them. In many communities they date back into the earliest days of the country. They tell a story of growth and progress and link the honored past with the inspiring future for they inspire with their forward look. Achievement adds to achievement.

Fairs grow in importance as the country expands. They are not an inspiration of one day only to disappear, rather they are vital things, very real interests in their district and in the whole country.

They bring in a happy season. They are native to the soil. They make the season one of color for no scenes of human interest can surpass the glamor and color of a fair.

At this time there is a very real sense of satisfaction in what the year's growth has achieved. He who has labored long and faithfully sees the proof of what he has done for the community and country. He sees the reward of his honest and tireless effort.

At the fair there is generous rivalry which works for the good of agriculture generally.

So the crowning season of the year comes with its myriad of early autumn festivals. No institution is a more worthy one than their public approval of the honors which come to those who have labored faithfully to make the earth bring forth her best and fullest production.

Despite time and change the fair moves on. It came through the war years. In those momentous times it was an institution which held up the morale of the people and in time of peace it also inspires the husbandman and his brothers in this and other lands.

Lieut. Mountbatten

Richard Dimbleby, a BBC correspondent, was in Scotland when the Royal Family visited that country recently. He said that Lieutenant Mountbatten, who is to be the husband of Princess Elizabeth, has been attracting a good deal of public attention and gave listeners to "Radio News Reel" this picture of the man who may be designated Prince Consort. "I've seen a good deal of Lieutenant Mountbatten in the past week and if you want a candid and a first hand opinion of him I would say that he is a typical young naval officer. His bearing and his way of talking, his whole manner are those of a first lieutenant. I think that he's not yet quite accustomed himself to the routine and the formality of Royal occasions and he likes to go off on his own on a tangent.

At Brodick pier on the island of Arran a few days ago he was still discussing good conduct badges with a tiny blushing Brownie . . . when the rest of the party were far ahead. And at Brodick Castle while the Duke of Montrose was watching the King plant a tree, Lieutenant Mountbatten and four other young naval officers were leaning up on a fence discussing half a dozen fine red polled cattle with the two dairymaids in charge of them. And later when the tour of the island began he took the wheel of the second car himself, put Princess Elizabeth by his side and a pretty surprised detective and chauffeur in the back seat. Now this informality and this ease of manner have always been characteristics of the Mountbattens of course and I think that I can sum up my first hand impression of the future Consort by saying that he lives up to his name. He's a typical lieutenant and a typical Mountbatten."

September

The beaches no longer have to put up with the yells of Aunt Sophie going into the water up to her knees. The canoes with their record players have gone, and the lagoons are resting. The fields, after their year's energetic, silent bustle of growing food for the world, stand soberly in the harvest now like cows at milking. Canada's all outdoors is coming to the end of its year.

In the towns and cities, however, September is a time of new beginnings. School's in! This particular new beginning pleases few except parents and the neighbors of parents, but urban September is not a month that sets out to please with beguiling ways. It is a month for facing up to life.

Big executives come back and try to cover up their Summer's loaf by pressing buzzers. Small boys form into gangs and run and throw things. Football is playing (as Houxeman would say) and crowds push briskly from the games in the cool Saturday dusk. Serious-minded organizations resume their meetings, and all over Canada thousands of speakers (most of them called "guest speakers") speak millions of words. Storm windows and storm doors are dragged out. The social season begins again, with the liverish marks of bathing suit straps showing on the coffee-shade backs of dancing maidens. There is a run on bingo cards and playing cards. The very last vacant space disappears from parking lots and restaurants.

September is a fine month for the townsman, especially if he can get away to the country. — The Printed Word.

High Altitude Research

British European Airways are to tackle the most serious problem of high altitude flying — the sudden patches of violently turbulent air encountered at over 25,000 feet. Two Mosquito aircraft will be used for this research work which will begin early in the Autumn. The Mosquitos are now being equipped with the necessary radio and radar installations and test instruments, in particular an accelerometer to measure the response of the aircraft to the "gusts." The first flights will take place over the United Kingdom but the aircraft will later fly to various capitals of the Continent along regular B. E. A. routes.

Wild animals do not exert themselves in the heat unless forced to do so, says the Chicago zoo director. And they don't have to listen to other animals talking about the temperature, says Cleveland Plain Dealer.

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

Why are Kansans called Jayhawkers?

Kansans acquired their nickname during the guerrilla warfare between free-soil and pro-slavery factions in the Territory after the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska Act in 1854. Previously "jayhawker" seems to have been used in the sense of a bandit, free booter or irregular soldier. In Kansas the term was at first applied alike to the pro-slavery and the anti-slavery factions, but gradually it became fixed on the latter.

In 1858 A.D. Richardson wrote in "Beyond the Mississippi": "Found all the settlers justifying the Jayhawkers, a name universally applied to Montgomery's men, from the celerity of their movements and their habit of suddenly pouncing upon an enemy." James Montgomery was one of the anti-slavery leaders. On December 26, 1860, the Ashtabula (Ohio) Sentinel, in a report from Mound City, Kansas, said: "By the term jayhawker is here understood to be active, fighting abolitionists." In September, 1861, Charles R. Jennison was commissioned lieutenant colonel of the Seventh Kansas Cavalry, a regiment that soon became famous as "Jennison's Jayhawkers." Gradually the term was extended to embrace all Kansans.

Just how "jayhawker" acquired its earlier meaning — one who plunders — is not known. The New York World discussed the origin of the term as early as 1862. That paper, quoting the Leavenworth Conservative, said the term was first applied to Colonel Jennison himself. He was from New York and was called the "Gay Yorker" because of his festive habits. His men were called Gay Yorkers and as the word travelled it underwent many changes until it finally crystalized as Jayhawker. This theory seems to be disposed of by the fact that the term was previously applied to Montgomery's men.

In its issue of March 13, 1865, The Cherokee Tomahawk, published at Fort Gibson in the Cerokee Nation, defined the term as "a corruption of the ancient Saxon robber." M. Schele de Vere in 1871 thought "jayhawker" had been coined by convicts in Australia and imported by way of California. The Kansas Historical Society says the term is supposed to have been used by Houston's troops during the war of Texas independence in 1836. Alexander Majors in "Seventy Years on the Frontier" says "Jayhawkers" was adopted playfully by a party of young adventurers who left Galesburg, Illinois, in the spring of 1849 for the California gold fields. Some authorities say that for a time all forty-niners were known in the West as Jayhawkers.

A curious Kansas story is that Pat Devlin, of Fort Scott, was first called Jayhawker because he returned with his horse laden with booty which he said he had jayhawked like the jayhawk, a fierce bird of prey in Ireland. Devlin later joined Montgomery's men and they all became known as Jayhawkers. But no such bird as a jayhawk is known in Ireland.

Still many people have a strong feeling that the word was suggested by the habits of some predatory bird. Richard's assertion suggests such a derivation. Cartoonists generally assume that the name was suggested by a bird, either imaginary or real, and have invented a grotesque representation to supply the public demand. "Jayhawker" may have been derived from a combination of the names of the blue jay and the hawk, both of which are plunderers.

B COMPLEX AND THE WEAK HEART

That vitamin B complex, and especially B1 (thiamine) and B2 (riboflavin), plays a physiological role in the normal metabolism or utilization of carbohydrate food (starch or sugar in the healthy person is well known and numerous investigators have found that an optimal daily intake (3 or 4 times the minimum daily requirement) of B complex so improves metabolism in diabetes that some patients may keep sugar-free with less insulin than they require if they do not supplement their restricted diet with B Complex. In a few cases, as reported here recently, patients remain sugar free without taking any insulin, after they have had an optimal daily intake of B complex for several weeks.

In the booklet Training for Diabetes (copy for ten cents and stamped self addressed envelope) you will find more about the importance of an adequate intake of vitamins.

From time to time I have extolled vitamin B complex as a real heart tonic, to be taken with digitalis, if your physician prescribes (I mean now) digitalis, and/or for a long while after digitalis is discontinued. In any case there can be no objection to taking an optimal daily ration of B complex every day in the year, for it is food, not medicine; it is food that is essential for the normal functioning of the heart.

In his monograph Studies in Deficiency Disease published in London in '21 and reproduced by Lee Foundation for Nutritional Research Milwaukee, '45, Sir Robert McCarrison remarked:

The observation recorded in this chapter" (on atrophy and weakness of heart, decrease in size, over-filling or engorgement of veins and the condition known as effort syndrome — during the war this condition, characterized by breathlessness, giddiness, a sense of fatigue, palpitation or vague pain in the heart region, was often called neuro-circulatory asthenia "hace a distinct interest for cardiologists" (physicians who study and give special attention to heart diseases). "The former condition" (effort syndrome) "is not infrequently associated with faulty feeding, especially in schoolboys, under-graduates and young soldiers who indulge in much violent exercise ... The circumstances under which these cardiac" (heart) "disorders arise suggest that malnutrition, and especially vitamin-deficiency, may play a determining part in their production."

In this classical book McCarrison emphasized the inadequate supply of vitamin A and vitamin B—but vitamin A had not been distinguished from vitamin D at the time the book was published (McCollum and his associates in Baltimore cleared up that confusion a year or so later) and what McCarrison called vitamin B was probably a group of the several vitamins now known as the B complex, of which the most important are B1 (thiamine), B2 (riboflavin), niacinamide. But the significant point is that the British medical officer who discovered and told the world about the unparalled health, physical development, vigor longevity of the people of the Hunza valley in the Himalayas in the extreme northern state of Kashmir, India, recognized more than quarter of a century ago that vitamin deficiency may "play a determining part" in the production of common heart troubles.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Eggs

Feed my two youngsters 8 and 5 years old four or five eggs daily. They eat lots of vegetables fruit, meat and milk. They are robust, healthy specimens, play outdoors in all kinds of weather and never catch anything —even when they have played with children coming down with measles etc. Do you think I give them too much egg? (Mrs. D. G.)

Answer — No. Egg is excellent food for any one, in almost quantity one likes and cooked as one prefers. Don't let obsessions about it keep you or the children from eating eggs.

Hair On Legs

Is shaving or a depilatory better for removing hair from the legs? (B.W.)

Answer — It is a matter of personal preference— shave the legs with safety razor or use one of the chemical paste depilatories as often as necessary.

Gas

You are adroit in recommending belly breathing to relieve discomfort from gas in stomach. I learned that from an osteopathic physician (woman) 20 years ago. The trouble is due to "nerves"—another thing you have evidently not experienced...

(C.F.D.)

Answer — We all agree about belly breathing, anyway.

NOISE IN KITCHEN

Moundsville, W. Va., Sept. 11 (AP) —Edward Ryan, hearing a commotion in the kitchen, picked up a shotgun and tiptoed downstairs to investigate.

He threw open the door, but just as promptly banged it shut.

Siting contentedly on the kitchen floor munching food from the family larder was a 300-pound black bear.

Ryan summoned police and after a slight tussle they led the bear away.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Blanche Wagar, Everett Street, left on Tuesday evening, for the West Coast, where she plans making her home with her son, in New Westminster, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. James Clarke have sailed on the Queen Elizabeth for Canada. Mrs. Clarke was the former Jean Corr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, 212 1-2 Coleman Street. Her husband was an instructor with the R.C.A.F. at Kingston during the war, and the couple have been living in England for the past two years. They will arrive in New York on September 15, and will come on to Belleville, where they plan to make their home.

WEDDINGS

TOMASO—DE GENOVA

St. Michael's Catholic Church, bright with candlelight and salmon pink gladioli, was the setting for the marriage of Cecilia De Genova, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James De Genova, 27 Brassey St., and Patrick Tomaso, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tomaso. Rt. Rev. Monsignor Nicholson officiated. Sister Bibianna played the wedding music and Miss Sharon Lucy was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a gown of white Duchess satin with sweetheart neckline, long sleeves coming to points over the hands and featuring a full skirt with front panel of baby net frills, finished with satin scalloped edging. Her full length embroidered veil of tulle illusion fell from a headdress of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of mixed roses and stephanotis. Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls.

Miss Kathleen De Genova attended her sister, as maid of honor, gowned in periwinkle blue sheer with French lace panels, long sleeves and sweetheart neckline. Her halo headdress was of small blue American roses catching a double shoulder length veil of embroidered English net. She carried a cascade of pink roses. Her only ornament was a gold cross and chain.

The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Tomaso, cousin of the groom, wore a floor length gown of blush pink moire taffeta with matching hat and frilled mittens. She carried a cascade of red roses and her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Mr. Bertrum Burgess, brother-in-law of the bride, was groomsman. Mr. Gena Tomaso, cousin of the groom and Mr. Michael De Genova, brother of the bride, acted as ushers.

A reception for fifty guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, 27 Brassey Street. The bride's mother received the guests wearing a street length dress of amber beige with matching accessories and corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Grace Tomaso, aunt of the groom, assisted wearing a street length dress of navy and white with matching accessories and corsage of red roses.

For their honeymoon trip by car, the bride changed to a lovely suit of Saxe blue gabardine, with black accessories and corsage of red roses. Upon their return, Mr. and Mr. Tomaso will reside in Belleville.

The bride's gifts to her attendants were hand-painted enamel compacts. The groom's gifts to the best man and ushers were gold tie pins and clips.

Out-of-town guests were from Montreal, Straiton, British Columbia, Peterborough, Mimico, Lindsay, Timmins, and Point Anne.

Prior to her marriage Mrs. Tomaso was the guest of honor at a kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. Grace Tomaso, Bettes St., and a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. C. Young, Bettes Street; she also received many beautiful and useful wedding gifts.

HARRIS—O'CALLAGHAN

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the rectory of the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, on September 8, when Right Reverend Monsignor Nicholson united in matrimony Geraldine, daughter of Mrs. M. J. O'Callaghan and the late Doctor O'Callaghan, with Thomas Jeffery Harris, son of Mrs. W. Chilcott of Toronto, and the late Mr. T. J. Harris.

The bride looked charming in an afternoon frock of powder blue, large black hat, black lace mitts, and wore a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Miss Kay O'Callaghan, Montreal, was her sister's only attendant, wearing a moss green crepe gown, beige hat, and corsage of Talisman roses. The groom was ably assisted by Mr. Robert L. Cook, brother-in-law of the bride.

After the ceremony a few friends gathered at the home of the bride where they were received by her mother, gowned in blue with a hat of French feathers and a corsage of roses.

Mrs. S. Sellers of Toronto, sister of the groom, assisted wearing a tomato red suit, black hat and a corsage of roses.

The bride and groom left on a motor trip to Los Angeles and Mexico, Mrs. Harris looking very smart in a light wool suit of brown and green check, brown blouse and hat, and corsage of Talisman roses. On their return at the end of September, they will reside in Toronto.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. S. Sellers, Miss Shirley Brooks, Mr. Keith Harris, brother of the groom, all of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davison, of Tamworth.

Prior to her marriage to Thomas Jeffery Harris on September 8, Miss Geraldine O'Callaghan was honored at several social functions. Mrs. A. A. Belaire and Miss Bentley were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower in her honor at Mrs. Belaire's home, Ann Street; Mrs. Arden Matthews was hostess at a miscellaneous shower held by the girls of the Sally Shop at her home on Charlotte Street; Mrs. Orr was hostess at a dinner party and Mrs. E. B. Lally, John Street entertained at a dinner party in her honor.

CLARKE—PARR

On the afternoon of Saturday, September 6, Stephen's United Church, Hoard's, adorned with gladioli, ferns and other Summer flowers was the setting for the double ring marriage ceremony of Helen Mae, youngest daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parr, of Hoard's, to William Carl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clarke, of Halloway.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. J. Lambert. Miss Elsie Rannie presided at the piano, playing the wedding music and accompanying the soloist, Mrs. Frank Towns, who sang "At Dawning" before the ceremony and "Because" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor length gown of white brocaded satin, with fitted bodice, bustle back and full skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a halo of pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Delbert Rowe, of Halloway, was her sister's matron of honor, wearing a floor length gown of orchid brocaded marquisette with a floral headdress and a shoulder length veil and carried a sheaf of yellow roses.

Mr. Vinal Clarke, Halloway, attended his brother and the ushers were Messrs. Raymond Parr, Hoard's and Jack Clarke, Halloway.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, with Mrs. Parr receiving the guests in a gown of midnight blue crepe with a corsage of pink roses, assisted by the groom's mother wearing black crepe with lace and a corsage of red roses.

Assisting with the luncheon were Misses Margaret Oddie, Muriel Peters, Evelyn Curle and Mrs. Jack Naylor.

For a plane trip to New York and Philadelphia, the bride chose a grey gabardine suit with black and fuchsia accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The groom's gift to the bride, was a silver tea service, to the groomsman, a lighter; to the ushers, gold watch chains. The bride's gift to the matron of honor, was a double strand of pearls; to the soloist, pianist and serviteurs, bone china cups and saucers.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Clarke will reside in Peterborough.

Short Supply of School Textbooks In Some Ontario Cities, Towns

A scarcity of book paper and a shortage of experienced printing house workers have combined to bring about a short supply of school textbooks in some Ontario cities and towns, a Canadian Press survey showed today. The situation is expected to improve shortly.

Publishers laid the blame for unavailability in some cities of a Grade Eight Reader, "Life and Literature Book II", directly on the paper shortage. Pupils in Ottawa, Windsor, Stratford, Owen Sound, Sudbury and St. Catharines have been unable to obtain these readers.

Demand also exceeds the supply of the prescribed Latin Grammar for fifth-year High School classes. The publishers say this text was compiled only this Summer and the printing operation was not completed by opening day of the Fall School term. Ottawa, Windsor, Peterborough and St. Catharines are among cities short of the Latin book.

The most severe shortage in Niagara Falls is of High School History texts for first-year students. Dealers predict the end of the scarcity within two weeks.

"General Mathematics Book II", used by Grades 10 and 11, is scarce in Sudbury, St. Catharines, Stratford, Peterborough, St. Thomas, and Ottawa. Pupils in Ottawa, Kingston Peterborough and St. Catharines find it difficult to obtain their first year High School French Grammar, "Parlez-vous Francais?"

Other texts in short supply in some areas include the Public School texts "Book One Speller", "Canadian Health Book", "Junior History of England", "Public School Geography," "Golden Windows" reader for Grade Three and "Treasury Reader" for Grade Six.

Scarce High School texts also include the supplementary reading books "Pygmalion" and "Great Expectations", Grade 10 Latin Texts, a High School Atlas, the Grade Nine History "Britain and the Empire", the Grade 10 Bookkeeping course, the "Expressing Yourself" composition book for Grade 13, "Chemistry for Upper School" and some ancient and mediaeval history books.

Some cities report that despite increased enrolments in their schools the supply of textbooks in their areas is adequate. Cities in this position include Toronto, Brantford, Sault Ste. Marie, and Galt, while Kitchener reports its supply position "considerably brighter than in recent years."

The Bible reading was given by Mrs. E. Stratton and Mrs. F. Doxtator read "Thoughts on the Lesson" and also offered prayer. The treasurer's report shows $174 on hand. The president reported the sale of two aprons and a supply of cotton bought to make pillow slips. Minutes of the last meeting were given by the Secretary, Mrs. C. Mastin and adopted as read. Roll Call was answered by giving the title of a favorite hymn. The president thanked the hostess for opening her home for the meeting which was closed by singing "God Save The King".

Kierl, a member who has been absent a few months due to illness and thanked Mrs. McFarlane for the use of her home. Mrs. Saul MacFarlane, group leader had charge of the program taken from the Missionary Monthly, the theme being "The Bible for all the World". Responsive reading was taken from Psalm 119 and appropriate hymns were used. The Group Leader gave an interesting reading by Professor John Foster and asked questions, the answers given by different members were very instructive. Mrs. Everett Stratton gave a reading entitled "Great is the Company", showing how such men at Wycliffe and Tyndale labored so strenuously, suffering imprisonment and martyrdom in order to give the Bible to all people in their native tongue. Members should value the Scriptures more when their devotion and sacrifice is realized. The collection was received and dedicated by the president. In discussing the church booth at the Fair, it was decided to carry on the same as last year, all ladies of the congregation being asked to donate three pies, scalloped potatoes, sandwiches, salads, pickles and salad dressing.

Ladies were invited to the dining room where delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. McFarlane and her assistants and a social time was enjoyed.

In the absence of Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Moorman took charge of the program and gave the introduction to the new Study Book "The Bible for All the World". Readings were given by several members and Mrs. Earl Dafoe favored with a solo "Just for Today".

At the close of the meeting Mrs Porter and Mrs. Geen served delicous refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Cunningham with prayer by Mrs. McCullough.

Mrs. Fleming gave a short report of the Presbyterial rally held recently in Stirling, and also read a report of a nurse's duties in India, showing the splendid work done by these Christian Missionary women.

Mrs. McCullough read a very interesting story of life in India, taken from the book "Here is India" by Jean Kennedy.

It was decided to order church calendars and Christmas cards, proceeds to augment the Expense Fund.

Miss Kathleen McCullough played a very fine piano solo, which was much appreciated.

THRIFT INDEED

McPherson, Kas., Sept. 11 (AP) —District court clerk Donald Clark admitted today that McPherson County is using official forms printed 60 years ago.

A sheriff received Tuesday a bench warrant from the McPherson district court that was yellowed with age.

And after telling friends it looked like "something from the 19th century," he discovered at the bottom of the warrant the figures "188—" neatly crossed out and 1947 written underneath

"It's true said Cla[illegible] "we're just thrifty.

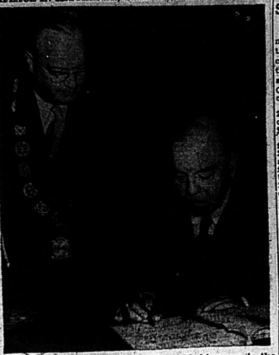
As CANADA'S PRIME MINISTER MACKENZIE KING REVISITS BIRTHPLACE IN KITCHENER, ONT.

Thousands of young people and old turned out to welcome Prime Minister Mackenzie King back to Kitchener, Ont. — the place of his birth and where he first ran for parliament in 1908. Especially was it a big day for 3,000 Kitchener school children, who not only got a glimpse of Canada's prime minister, but a half-holiday as well. Here Mr. King is shown receiving hearty handshakes from some of the younger folk.



Prime Minister Mackenzie King adds his name to the record book during his visit to Kitchener, Ont. The book already contains the signatures of the King and Queen and Viscount and Lady Alexander. Looking on is Mayor John G. Brown.

Britain Expected to Continue Imports Of Our Beef, Pork, Cheese, Wheat

By R. K. CARNEGIE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Sept. 11. (CP)—Action taken by Britain to restrict imports and thus conserve her dollar reserves are certain to reduce Canadian exports to the Old Country but it still is too early to determine the full effect.

Trade officials said today they were not prepared to estimate the full extent of the expected reduction of exports until more definite advice has been received from London as to how widespread the restrictions will be.

They did say, however, that reduction in the purchase of newsprint by Britain and other Sterling Commonwealth countries will have no serious effect at present on Canadian newsprint sales because of the world-wide demand for this commodity.

Sales of newsprint could be considerably increased in the United States and South America as well as in Canada. Even soft money countries are so anxious for Canadian paper they would do without other things to use their scanty supplies of United States dollars to pay for it.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner will be holding conferences with the British Food Ministry when final understanding will likely be reached on the amount of foodstuffs Britain will continue to require from Canada.

Food Estimates

In the meantime officials here estimate British food imports from Canada for the next 12 months as follows:

Wheat—The 160,000,000 bushels provided for now by contract.

Dry Peas and Beans—None.

Bacon and Pork Products—As much of the current 350,000,000-pound contract as Canada can supply.

Cheese—As much of the 120,000,000 pounds contracted for as Canada can supply.

Eggs, Fresh, Frozen and in Powder—Annual importation of 90,000,000 dozen to be continued.

Beef—As much of the 120,000,000 pounds in the current contract as Canada can supply.

Apples—None, but the United States will take the place of Britain as a market for Canadian apples.

Poultry Meat—None, but United States markets for the present can absorb the surplus at comparative net prices.

Canned Salmon — None but United States and other countries will absorb the surplus.

Canned Fruits and Vegetables —Exports have been small and may disappear.

Word from the Agriculture Department is that Canada will not be able to entirely fill her contracts for bacon, cheese and beef.

Lumber Uncertain

The lumber situation is indefinite. The United Kingdom normally takes almost half of all Canadian exports and a spokesman for the industry in Ottawa said British buying would continue at the present rates until the end of the year and would continue to be substantial after that.

Official announcement from London that the imports of lumber would be cut by $40,000,000, or roughly one-third, may or may not result in a cut of one-third from Canada.

Trade officials say Britain likely will continue full-scale purchases of pit props and lumber required for export purposes, such as packing boxes. They are hopeful the reduction will be greater from other countries than from Canada. The Canadian domestic market is expected to have all the lumber it needs from now on.

A reduction is expected in British imports of iron manufactured goods. For the first six months this year Britain imported from Canada $12,042,957 worth of iron products, about 33 per cent more than in the corresponding period last year. A considerable part of the total was in the form of ferro chrome, billets and ingots but there was a substantial business in automobiles, farm implements and vehicle parts.

The United Kingdom has been a heavy importer of aluminum, copper lead, nickel and other base metals in their unmanufactured state and officials here are inclined to think this demand will continue to enable Britain to expand her exports. There may be a falling off in goods manufactured here out of these metals.

Want Token Shipments

It is the manufactured goods that officials here express the greatest uncertainty. Before the war Canada supplied the British market with a long list of manufactured articles ranging all the way from electrical appliances, and rubber footwear to fountain pens and sporting equipment.

Early last year Britain began refusing import permits on a broad list of such miscellaneous manufactured goods but the Canadian trade department was successful in persuading London to relent and allow in token shipments so Canadian firms could keep their names in the United Kingdom market. These firms were allowed to ship in only 20 per cent of what they did before the war.

The value of these token shipments totals not more than $3,000,000 a year is spread among more than 150 Canadian manufacturing plants, but these firms regard it as important and every effort will be made to persuade the British government to allow the shipments to continue.

Denies Talks Of Union Outstrip Terms

Ottawa, Sept. 11 (CP) — The Newfoundland delegation, still conferring with Canadian government officials on the possibility of union with Canada, gave spirited denial yesterday to a telegram from St. John's charging that the talks here had outstripped their terms of reference.

The telegram was said to have protested the duration of the talks, which have been going on here for some weeks, and said the Newfoundland delegation was "openly negotiating with the Canadian government."

F. Gordon Bradley, chairman of the delegation, replied to the charge in a telegram to St. John's last night, but content of the wire was not disclosed pending assurance of its receipt.

It was believed in some quarters the Canadian government would regard the matter as a domestic dispute that could be settled only by the rival factions in the 45-man Newfoundland convention which was elected last year to recommend a future form of government for the commission-controlled island.

The telegram was signed by 21 of the convention's members, and said, "we wholly dissociate ourselves from all negotiations conducted by you in excess of the strict legal limitation."

Discussions here opened June 25 on an "exploratory" basis. Following a series of talks, a subcommittee was appointed to draft possible union terms, and this report is due to be submitted to a full meeting of the two delegations as soon as it is ready.

Dude Dog Ranch on Prairies

Every summer, a group of well-known dog handlers trek as far as 2,000 miles from the United States to a unique dog camp in Southern Saskatchewan. Here they train picturesque pointers and setters valued up to $7,000 a piece, spending some $250,000 yearly in the Province. The art of training field dogs takes hours of patient, hard work, and is known to only a few sportsmen. Canada's prairie expanse has proven ideal for the purpose, because dogs can 'run big and range wild'. 'Pointing' record so far is two hours and forty minutes, a stout tribute to such training. Dog fanciers will find a completely fascinating account of Saskatchewan's famous dog camp in the rotogravure section of this week's issue of The Standard, now on sale at any newsdealer's. Live, Work in Strange Worlds, New Problems in Atomic Age

Detroit, Sept. 11 — (AP) — Man's entrance into the atomic age poses new challenges to psychologists to help men cope with the possibilities of supersonic flight and other unusual conditions, the American Psychological Association was told today.

Declaring that wartime psychologists conceived the new field of "human engineering" — that is the adaption of machines to suit human capabilities instead of fitting men to machines — Dr. Jack W. Dunlap, president of the Association's division of consulting psychology, said:

"We may be about to experience the greatest change in style of life since the industrial revolution ... man will work and live in strange worlds, thus new and unusual problems will confront the psychologist.

"For example, consider a simple problem of vision in thrust craft operating at a speed of 2,000 miles per hour, or about 3,000 feet per second.

"Visual stimuli initiate nerve impulses which reach (the brain) in about .05 seconds. It an observer in such a craft were to look at an object directly abeam, he would have flown 150 feet beyond it before his brain registered the stimulus. Seriously, the design of control devices by means of which an operator can govern such craft offers a real challenge to psychologists ..."

CONSIDER ANNEXATION

Sarnia, Sept. 11 — (CP)—Possibility of annexing certain of the industrial areas adjacent to the city as one means of assisting the city to carry the increasingly heavy burden of financing the cost of housing and services which the industries entailed, was brought before city council by Mayor W. C. Nelson. The mayor suggested the matter be given serious thought by the city aldermen.

Moira River Conservation Authority Meeting Will Be Held in City Next Tuesday

The Ontario Department of Public Works has called a public meeting to be held in the city hall here on September 16 at 2 p.m. for the purpose of establishing what is known as the Moira River Conservation Authority.

The meeting will be held under the chairmanship of Mr. A. H. Richardson, conservation engineer of the Department of Planning and Development, Toronto.

Representatives of the various townships and villages affected by the Moira watershed will vote on the question of establishment of the authority. Following are entitled to vote; City of Belleville (2) Sidney, Thurlow, Tyendinaga, Huntingdon, Hungerford, Marmora, Madoc, Elzevir and Tudor townships, one vote each. The villages of Tweed and Madoc are also entitled to one vote each, as have three townships in the county of Lennox and Addington.

The above municipalities comprise the 1,090 square miles affected by the Moira River and its tributaries.

The above municipalities have been requested by the Department of Public Works to send accredited representatives to the meeting to which the general public has been cordially invited.

CBC Top Officials To Hold Meeting On Resignations

Ottawa, Sept 11 (CP)—Top officials of the CBC were scheduled to meet here to discuss "internal administration," possibly touching on matters which led to the resignations of three high ranking employees.

An authoritative source said the meeting would be held, but A. D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC Board of Governors, declined to comment.

D. C. McArthur, who resigned recently as chief news service editor, was scheduled to attend the meeting along with Mr. Dunton, Dr. Augustin Frigon, CBC general manager, Andrew Allen, drama director, and Ernest Bushnell, program director.

It was believed that Jean Marie Beaudet, who resigned some time ago as western regional director, and Ben D'Arcy Sullivan, who resigned Friday as supervisor of the United Kingdom and Commonwealth section of the International Service of the CBC, had not been invited to the meeting.

FIRST CANADIAN NURSE ON SCHOLARSHIP EXCHANGE

London, Ont., Sept. 11 (CP)—Senior nurse in the London Cancer Clinic, Victoria Hospital, Miss Elaine M. Marshall, left London for New York enroute for Manchester, England, where she will be the first Canadian nurse on the scholarship exchange for cancer hospitals.

Arranged by the Canadian Cancer Society, the scholarship is to facilitate exchange of information and research practice.

Miss Frances Londley, senior technician of Manchester clinic will come to Victoria Hospital for a four month period to be followed by other technicians from that centre.

Clues to Causes Ulcers May Bring New Treatments

New York, Sept. 11 (AP)—New clues to the cause of stomach ulcers and also to the serious abdominal trouble known as ulcerative colitis were reported to the American College of Surgeons, pointing to possible new treatments for both digestive diseases.

The reports, made by four Columbia University - Presbyterian medical centre doctors, Karl Meyer, John F. Prudden, William L. Lehman and Alfred Gellhorn, said both diseases seemed due to lysozyme, an enzyme present throughout living tissues but especially plentiful in tears.

One lysozyme activity is ability to dissolve mucus—the protective coating of digestive organs. Loss of this protective coating in the stomach is considered the cause of ulcers, because wherever the coating is lost, digestive juices attack the stomach walls.

Lysozyme was found to be concentrated in the areas containing ulcers. It was also found to increase with emotional stress. All these clues pointed to the need of a chemical to reduce the amount of lysozyme in the stomach. Several have been found.

INDIGNANT TOO MILD A WORD

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. (AP)—Indignant is a mild word to describe the feelings of Miss Mildred P. Sherman, assistant Dean of Women of Radclife College, when she surprised a house breaker crawling out the window of her home last night.

Police reported that when she asked him what he was doing, the man replied: "Oh, I have just helped an intoxicated friend home."

"There are no men living in my house, I'll have you know," police quoted Miss Sherman as shouting as the would-be burglar dropped to the street and fled.

U.S. Occupying New Leadership In West Germany

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Sept. 11 — (AP)—The United States appears to be moving into a new position of power and leadership in Western Germany as a result of Britain's inability to pay her own way there.

This developing situation reflects the general growth of American influence throughout the European area due to the need for American dollars to buy the necessities of life and to pay for eventual reconstruction.

Fresh information on the way things are going in the Anglo-American zones of Western Germany came to light in connection with the official announcement last night of plans to boost coal production in the Ruhr mines of Germany. Much greater output from these mines is regarded in both London and Washington as essential to economic recovery in Europe.

On at least four points, the coal production program shows that the United States is gaining a greater power of decision in the British zone of Germany. These are:

1. The new program provides for organization of a joint British-American board to supervise operation of the Ruhr mines, thus placing the United States in a position of 50-50 responsibility with Britain, who now has full say.

2. The agreement, as released here and in London, omitted any statement as to who would head the new board, but information from authoritative informants is that it will be headed by an American.

3. As part of the mine reorganization the actual management of the pits and policies controlling them will be turned over to a German coal agency. The idea of giving the Germans greater responsibility in mine operation and that seeing that they produce was initiated by the United States.

4. Plans of Britain's Labor government to socialize the Ruhr mines by converting them into some sort of German government ownership are reported authoritatively to have been delayed in the face of strong American opposition.

There was no immediate official reaction here to Foreign Secretary Bevin's suggestion in London yesterday that the United States revive its wartime lend-lease program as an alternative to his earlier proposal that this country "redistribute" its Fort Knox gold hoard.

Privately, however, officials noted that some aspects of the Marshall self-help program might parallel the mutual aid device.

Push-Button Warfare Still Far Away View of Air Marshall Saunders, R.A.F.

By ROSS MUNRO
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Sept. 11 — (CP)—Air Marshall Sir Hugh Saunders, New South African-born Commander-in-Chief of the Royal Air Force Bomber Command, said in an interview here today that "push-button warfare is a long way away."

"I think we have developed the button but very little else," he said.

The R. A. F. has not carried out any experimental work in carrying atomic bombs but "the high war-time quality of our air arm is being maintained."

Strength of bomber command, however, has been reduced to 25 per cent of its war-time high, said the Air Marshall, who has been in Ottawa for two days and left Wednesday afternoon for Trenton, Ont., and Toronto. He said that in Toronto he plans to visit an aircraft factory where "a new fighter" is being produced for the R.A.F.

Most modern aircraft in bomber command is the Lincoln, a faster plane than the Lancaster and with a longer range and heavier defensive armament. In a short time all the squadrons of his command will be equipped with Lincolns.

"We have no jet bombers in the command yet" he continued, "but I would certainly like to see all bomber command equipped with jets eventually."

Asked about threatened sharp reductions in British armed forces, due to the country's economic crisis, the Air Marshall indicated that to the contrary there might be some increase in the strength of the command, considering that an aerial striking force is an essential in any modern military calculations.

Bracken Claims Govt Has No Way To Meet Crisis

Ottawa, Sept. 11. (CP)—John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader charged last night that the government has no policy to meet the crisis arising out of the shortage of American dollars and warned that unless headed off the crisis would bring with it business stagnation and unemployment.

In a speech prepared for delivery over the National network of the CBC on free time provided for political broadcasting, Mr. Bracken said Canada's reserves of American dollars rapidly were being depleted.

"Our supply of American dollars will soon be exhausted, and, if in the meantime nothing is done to alter the situation, there will be a crisis in this country," he said. "In our case it will not be a crisis of bread, it will be a crisis of steel, and coal, and oil—a crisis that if not headed off, will bring a business stagnation and unemployment in its trail.

"We are dependent on the United States for approximately 60 per cent of our coal supplies, if this worsening situation is allowed to develop, one immediate hardship we will face is that of vital coal supplies.

"As to steel, we are apt to forget when we look at our Canadian Steel Industries, that in many cases they are dependent for essential materials on imports from the United States. The simple fact is many of them could not carry on without United States imports.

"It is, therefore, clear that this problem of American dollars, is at the present moment, our number one Canadian problem."

SWATS FIRE SIGNAL

Grants, N.M., Sept. 11 (AP)—Joan Restenwald, new telephone operator in the Grants exchange, brought out the city's volunteer fire department 100 per cent, but there was no fire.

She was swatting flies last night and aimed at one at rest on a new automatic fire signal switch. The switch is designed to blow the fire siren 12 times before stopping.

She missed the fly.

ATTRACTS CROWDS

Morrisburg, Sept. 11 —(CP)—The Scandinavian steamship Ragneborg of Vesterbik attracted admiring crowds recently when she passed through the locks into the Rapide Plat Canal. On a previous trip she by-passed the canal and ascended the rapids in the St. Lawrence River.

Nurse Murder Hearing Delayed

Toronto, Sept. 11. (CP)—The Attorney-General's Department announced yesterday it would be unable to proceed in Cochrane Friday with the preliminary hearing into murder charges arising from the northwoods slaying of Valair Vandebelt, pretty Toronto nurse, last June.

Crown Counsel C. P. Hope said start of the murder hearings against Rocco Sisco and Roger Gauthier of Cochrane, would have to be adjourned on a "week-to-week" basis until Prof. W. L. Robinson, Toronto pathologist and important Crown witness recovers from an illness.

Sisco and Gauthier were arrested and charged with murder Aug. 1 after a five-man coroner's jury had found the pretty Toronto nurse had been murdered by a person or persons unknown.

It was announced here that J. J. Robinette, K.C., of Toronto, will defend Gauthier. The barrister gained newspaper headlines by his successful handling of the defence last Spring of Evelyn Dick at her second trial in Hamilton for the torso murder of her husband. She was acquitted after appealing a previous guilty verdict at which time she was sentenced to hang.

Steel Shortages May Become Far More Serious

New York, Sept. 11 (AP)—Current steel shortages, aggravated by strike-caused shutdowns at a time of record demand for flat-rolled products, "may become far more serious before real relief is effected," the Iron Age, national metalworker paper, said.

The rail strike in the Pittsburgh district had caused a loss by midweek of more than 115,000 tons of ignots and more than 82,000 tons of pig iron, the publication estimated.

Reporting that automobile producers are making "insistent demand that they obtain 17.3 per cent of total steel output, which they got in 1929, rather than the 15 per cent which they are now getting," the Iron Age added:

"There is no indication that any steel company can find extra tonnage to ship to motor firms regardless of pressure from the major consuming quarter."

The steel ignot operating rate this week was placed at 85 per cent of capacity against a revised 92.5 per cent last week, the entire decline being attributed to the Pittsburgh district's difficulties.

DIES OF INJURIES

Toronto, Sept. 11 (CP)—John Mitchell, 46, of suburban Alderwood, died in hospital of throat and internal injuries suffered when struck by the weights of an elevator he was repairing at a rubber company plant in New Toronto.

STILL LIKES WATER

Toronto, Sept. 11 — (CP) — Rose Mary Byron of Victoria, travelling alone on a motorcycle from Montreal to her home city, said in an interview that she has shot sharks.

That was while she served as a wartime radio operator aboard three Norwegian tankers and a passenger-cargo ship.

"I may break the trip with a boat ride from the Sault to the lakehead," she said. "I still like the water."

STRANGER WAS GRATEFUL

Detroit, Sept. 11 (CP)—Estrella Cassels, 22, became a little careless while handing out money to loan applicants at a Detroit finance company. She mistook a stranger for an applicant and handed him $253 without realizing the mistake until too late. The recipient simply said "thank you" and walked out.

"Don't Know What I Would Have Done Without Syntona"

Gratefully Tells of Relief from Gas, Indigestion, Headaches, Dizzy Feelings and Nervous, Rundown Condition. "Wouldn't Be Without It," She Says.

Almost every day you can read in the papers of local men and women who have obtained gratifying results simply by taking a short treatment of Syntona Herbal Compound. These people tell of prompt, effective relief from common disorders of the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels including such symptoms as gas, indigestion, dizzy feelings, backache, rheumatic pain or nervous, rundown condition of the system.

For example, here is the fine experience of Mrs. Caroline Rockel, 135 Weaver Street, Waterloo, Ontario, as related in a recent report:

"Being well up in years I was rundown and suffered almost constantly with poor indigestion. I had so much trouble after eating my meals with gas, indigestion, heartburn and sour acid risings. The gas would press up in my chest giving me a full, heavy feeling and shortness of breath. I was subject to dizzy spells and frequent headaches. At night I couldn't sleep well and I felt very tired and wornout.

MRS. CAROLINE ROCKEL

"Syntona has been wonderful for me. I don't know what I would have done without it. It relieved the gas, indigestion and all that sourness and burning distress in my stomach. The dizzy spells and headaches are cleared up and my nerves are more settled so that I am able to get more sound sleep at night. As a result I feel much better throughout the day and I wouldn't be without this grand medicine. I highly recommend it to everyone."

Syntona is sold and recommended in Belleville at DOLAN THE DRUGGIST. Find out how it can help you, too.

Rubber-Tired Bread Wagon Can Be Source of Irritation to its Driver

It is rarely that one is present at a major mishap. Tuesday afternoon several residents of an East Hill avenue witnessed one of life's most trying moments.

A bread deliveryman, intent on completing his daily round, was scourging his faithful beast with verbal lashes intended to hurry the slowing steps. The animal plodded on not paying much attention to the tirade directed at him. The weather was hot and why should he rush home to a hot barn to satisfy the whim of some poor two-legged creature that failed to enjoy the bounty of fresh air.

Loud Bang.

The invective was flying faster and faster and was suddenly climaxed by a loud bang and a gentle hiss. The gentle horse leaped a yard or two straight up and came down with his feet flying in four directions. Getting nowhere, it tried to turn in the traces and huddle into the wagon away from it all. No soap, it was securely fastened between the shafts and that was where it would stay.

The irritated driver stepped from the wagon and surveyed the scene with a mixture of ire and despair. One of the rear tires was as flat as a pocketbook on the 15th of March. A telephone call was placed for a repair man from one of the local tire agencies, and in due time the gentleman arrived, surveyed the scene, and went off to get his tools.

Gets Impatient.

The distraught driver, thinking a plumber had been called in place of a tire repair man, paced up and down like an expectant father awaiting his return. Several cigarets descended to the roadway in the course of the waiting and the frustration of the stranded salesman was monumental to behold.

At last the repair man returned with the necessary equipment and proceeded to change the tire with profuse comment and perspiration. The salesman, torn to tatters by the seeming slowness of the repair expert, quieted the horse and urged it to conserve its strength for the thundering charge to the barns.

When the job was over the harried driver leaped to the reins and like a charioteer of ancient Rome careened off up the street cursing the machine age and all its works.

Health Minister Bevan Not Kind Who Seeks Friends Among Great

By JAMES McCOOK
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Sept. 11 — (CP)—Opposition members say that Prime Minister Attlee has some fine qualities, Lord President Herbert Morrison is a bonny fighter and Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, went to the right schools.

But Health Minister Aneurin Bevan makes them shudder.

Bevan is not the kind who seeks friends among the great. He learned his political strategy in the Welsh coalfields where the victor in wordy combats was the man with the quickest tongue — and he had a hesitation in speech to overcome.

Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, was with Bevan when the Labor party in 1939 expelled these two adherents whose views then were considered too far left. Sir Stafford is back on the front bench with a polished chip on his shoulder and sledge-hammer treatment for even the mits of the Conservative back benches.

When Winston Churchill was revered as the historic figure guiding Britain through war, Bevan nagged at his policies and earned the spirited and oft-repeated denunciation of that veteran. Now that peace has reigned for two years Churchill is ready to repeat the dose on any given occasion and Bevan is willing to reply.

When the Labor government took office Bevan was given the innocent office of health minister, with the concealed adder of responsibility for housing. The construction program has gone more slowly than the government or public hoped and Bevan has suffered. But those who criticized him suffered too. Labor men have winced like Conservatives when Bevan has turned his tongue on them.

His associates say Bevan is essentially a rebel against power. When Labor members fall out over party policies, Bevan often is mentioned as the most likely leader of those who would cast moderates like Attlee from high office. But publicly he never has shown anything but loyalty to his cabinet colleagues and has carried through ticklish national health legislation with vigor and skill, even if the cool hand on the fevered brows of troubled doctors, dentists, hospitals and committees has not been much in evidence.

At 50, he is younger than most cabinet ministers. Whatever his future, Labor supporters say he will continue to influence people even if he does not make friends.

Vishinsky Comments On Defence Parleys

London, Sept. 11 — (AP)—Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, said "it would be interesting to know' against whom the North and South American nations were preparing to defend themselves.

"Very often it happens that, when one speaks of defending one's self, one is preparing to attack," Vishinsky told a news conference soon after his arrival here en route to New York for the United Nations General Assembly meeting in New York.

Vishinsky made these statements in response to a request for comment on the recent inter-American defence conference at Quitandinha, Brazil.

Little Benny's Note Book

I got home partly out of breth on account of running the last 2 blocks on account of not wanting to be late for supper again on account of having been late so often lately, and I peeked in before I went in, and pop and ma were back there eating already.

Proving I was late again, and I thawt, Heck, gosh shang the luck, darn it, I wish I had a good excuse.

And I went back in the dining room and sat down at my place trying to look naturel, and pop looked at me serprised, saying to ma, Well, my dear, why didn't you tell me you had invited a guest this evening?

Why, that's strange, it's nobody I know, ma said, I thawt he was somebody you had invited yourself, she said, and pop said, By gollies that's a rich one. He must of wandered in the wrong house by mistake. Well, he's not a bad looking boy, do you think we ought to invite him to stay and eat with us, now that he's here? he said.

Well, I dont mind if you dont, but still, his parents' may be worrying, you know how parents are, ma said. So perhaps we better not, she said, and I said, Aw G, pop, jimminy crickits, ma, it wasn't my fault, I couldn't help it.

Why, it's our Benny of all people, ma said, and pop said, By gollies so it is. Now I understand why his face seemed vaguely familiar, he said.

No wonder we didn't reckonize him, coming in unannounced after sutch a long abrence, ma said, and I said, Well G roozlem, ma, gosh, pop, wait till I tell you.

Say no more, son, we're glad to have, you with us, pop said, and ma said, Yes indeed, we had almost given you up

Making me feel lucky on account of not being sure how I was going to finish my excuse anyways, and pop told ma to welcome the prodigal son by filing my plate exter full.

Which she did.

OFF THE
HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

A shaggy mule pranced into a studio and cut himself into a hot bridge game. "What system do you play," he was asked. "G'wan," replied the beast, "who ever heard of a mule with a system."

If no mules play bridge, some partners are dead ringers. All they need is some tiny excuse to act as they please. And some of them do not even wait for that much.

It is well known that an opening of two in a suit is a forcing-to-game signal. Every good system asks partner to co-operate to the end that the bidding will continue to a game contract.

This being so, an opening two bid should not be used with a hand too weak. Why? Because it destroys confidence in the signal for use in all future deals.

In a game I was kibitzing, north held this hand:

♠J 6 5 2
♥9 3
♦K 7 4 2
♣K 9 6

The bidding went like this:

South	West	North	East
2 H	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 H	Pass	3 NT	Pass
Pass	Dbl	Redbl	All Pass

The redoubled contract of three no-trump went down four tricks for a big loss. The only reason was that south did not have enough stuff for an opening bid of two in a suit.

What surprised me more was that south bawled the heck out of his north partner for redoubling. "My hand was so poor," he beefed, "I stuck in the two bid to scare the opponents."

Experienced players often do a little manoeuvring. But put those who know how and when are prepared with a recovery. Or with some signal that will warn partner in time.

If this player ever starts with a two bid again, what should his partner do? Call a taxi?

Gananogue Beats Wellington in 10th

Napanee, Sept. 11 (Special)—A pitching duel was broken up in 10th inning here last night when Gananoque defeated Wellington, 2-1, in a sudden death OBA junior B playoff. The game was scoreless at the end of regulation time with neither Jerry Miller or Bill Brown giving any quarter out on the mound.

With one away in the tenth Mastein drew a walk for Gananoque. After O'Connor lined out to right but Wellington missed the forced play at second. With two on and two out three players watched Atkins' hoist drop safely in short centre and two runs come in.

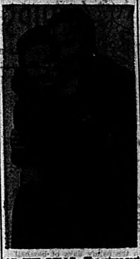
STANLEY PARK WINS

Toronto, Sept. 11 — (CP) — A third-inning, eight-run outburst started Toronto Stanley Park on a streak that gave them a 26-9 decision over Peterborough "Y's" men in the first game of the Ontario bantam playoffs here yesterday. They blasted out another eight in the fifth that made it positive.

Little Henry Clarke started Toronto's ball rolling when he sneaked home after pitcher Doug Ray's toss to second was missed by Don Anderson. From then on the Stanley Park boys couldn't be stopped.



AT THE BELLE—The strangest and most hilarious circumstances combine to throw Maureen O'Hara and John Payne into the path of pixilated romance in 'Miracle on 34th. Street," scheduled to open today at the Belle Theatre.

The Movie Column

By ARMAND ARCHERD

Hollywood, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Brothers Warner are taking no chances of losing Bette Davis' new leading man, James Davis. He has been signed to a long-term contract.

Jim will play the male lead in "Winter Meeting" and Bette's opinion of him encouraged Jack Warner to offer the seven-year deal. Needless to say, Jim accepted.

In appreciation, he asked Miss Davis if she'd like him to change his name.

"Heck no," Bette said. "If it's good enough ofr me, it should be good enough for you."

(Think of the space Warners will save in announcing simply: "The Davises in——.")

Taking Over

Diana Lynn is now reported taking over for Betty Hutton in "The Sainted Sisters". Betty, awaiting her second child, goes into temporary screen retirement. As you might imagine, the scrip will undergo considerable rewriting. Diana could hardly play the role a la Hutton. . . . Dick Haymes' Production Company will put their first effort before the cameras next April. The boss, however, does not plan to be in the initial film if he can help it. "If it's a stinker," Dick said, "I won't be blamed".

Greer Garson, whose activities in Hollywood have been limited lately to the divorce courts, will start acting again late this month in "Speak to me of Love". You will recognize the story as "The Nutmeg Tree". . . . Lauritz Melchoir will donate his Metropolitan Opera salary to the Met to help them buy and build new sets.

No Break for Jane

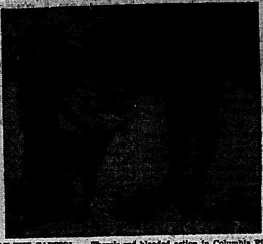
Jane Wyman gets no break in the wardrobe department. In "The Yearling", she wore but one dress and in "Johnny Belinda", in which she portrays a deaf mute, she has but one gown. That's one way to save production costs, Boys. . . .Bob Hope returns to the air waves Tuesday and says he doesn't care "if the show in good or bad. One thing is certain—it will be different."

No comment.

FIRST POLIO VICTIM IN WINDSOR

Windsor, Sept. 11 (CP)—Thirteenth poliomyelitis case of the year in Windsor, Mrs. Olive Garrod, 17, became the first victim of the disease when she died in hospital shortly after midnight.

Mrs. Garrod was admited to hospital Tuesday. She failed to rally from increasing paralysis although placed in a respirator.



AT THE CAPITOL — There's red-blooded action in Columbia Pictures' "Adventures of Rusty," now at the Capitol Theatre, as Ted Donaldson and Ace, the Wonder Dog, track down a Nazi saboteur (Eddie Parker). Fire in Factory Causes no Damage To Production End

Peterborough, Sept. 11 (CP)—Fire in the bailer house of the Peterborough Canoe Co., was confined to the shavings storage section of the plant and caused no damage to the production end of the factory.

Believed to have been caused by a spark from a piece of metal going through the shavings blowers the fire started in the shavings bins and in a few minutes spread to the roof of the boiler house which was destroyed.

The factory complete in April of this year at a cost of $300,000 is of cement block construction. Sixty five men are employed and while production will be slowed up for two weeks the president of the company W. A. Richardson said it would not be stopped.

The plant situated in North Monaghan just outside the limits of Peterborough and manufactures canoes, boats, skis and sleds.

Fire department fought the blaze. Mr. Richardson was unable to estimate damage.

Playoff Series Between Cards And Dodgers Opens Tonight With St. Louis Needing Three Teams Won Their Starts on Wednesday Against Chicago and Philadelphia

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

This is it. The payoff series between pace-setting Brooklyn and fast-closing St. Louis opens tonight at Sportsman's Park with the Dodgers holding a shrinking 4 1-2 -game lead in the National League pennant chase.

For all practical purposes the Cardinals must do or die in the three-game set although the season does not end until Sept. 28. Winning two or three is almost a must for Eddie Dyer's Red Birds who count on a clean sweep to pull the Brooks back within reach.

The Dodgers have nominated their top winning ace, Ralph Branca to face Harry Brecheen in the opener. Branca a 21-year-old righthander, has won 19 and lost 11 but he has lost three of his last five. Brecheen won his 15th game in his last outing, a 13- inning thriller over Cincinnati.

Manager Burt Shotton used Jackie Robinson in the cleanup spot yesterday at Chicago, indicating that he probably will do the same tonight. Robinson, who has batted second most of the year, rapped Cub pitching for two hits in the Brooks' 5-1 success.

Kiner Closing In

The Cards banged out 14 hits off Dutch Leonard and Charley Schanz, scoring once each in the second, fourth, fifth and sixth innings after the Phils got to Al Brazle for an early run in the second for their only score in the 4-1 Cardinal triumph.

Ralph Kiner, closing in on New York's Johnny Mize in the home race, hit his 42nd and 43rd as his Pittsburgh Pirates lost to the Giants 3-2. Kiner now is only three behind Mize. The game was won in the eighth on Willard Marshall's single scoring Buddy Kerr.

It was Larry Jansen's 18th triumph of the season.

Ewell Blackwell was bumped hard and retired in the seventh with a pulled muscle and his eighth loss as Clyde Shoun an old Cincy Mate now hurling for Boston Braves, shut out the Reds 8-0 with five hits.

Need Six Wins

New York Yankees, stung by insinuations that they are backing into the American League flag, dumped Cleveland 7-4 while Boston bowed to Detroit 5-0. Any combination of six New York wins or Boston defeats would clinch the pennant.

Joe Page made his 51st appearance to hang up his 14th victory at the expense of Reliefer Byran Stephens.

Freddie Hutchinson scattered eight hits, bearing down in the tough spots, to hurl Detroit to a 5-0 edge over the Red Sox' Earl Johnson who yielded seven of the Tigers' nine hits in less than three innings.

St. Louis got tight pitching from Fred Sanford and five runs in the seventh inning to trample Philadelphia Athletics 8-2.

Walt Masterson stopped Chicago White Sox with four hits to pick up his 14th victory for Washington 3-1, in a duel with Orval Grove whose five-hit effort was betrayed by shoddy fielding.

New York, Sept. 11 (AP) — Brooklyn's baseball Dodgers and Green Bay's football packers now have one thing in common—they wish Cliff Aberson had stood in football. . . Cliff, the rookie whose ninth-inning grand slam homer for the Cubs Tuesday put a slight dent in the Dodger pen-athlete and the Green Day view-athlete and the Green aBy viewpoint is that his best prospects are in football. But he also has served as a golf pro in Chicago and can bust 70 occasionally. . . As a pro football rookie without college experience last year, Aberson was tabbed by coach Curly Lambeau as a star in 1948. . . . Curly, in fact, figures Cliff might become one of the great all-time football passers—and a passer is something the packers have needed ever since Cecil Isbell departed. . . P.S. —The Packers thought they had a gentleman's agreement with the Cubs to let Cliff make his own choice between the two sports but one Green Bay gent writes: "Jim Gallagher offered to reimburse the kid for what he would lose if he gave up football this year. If that isn't influence, what is it?" Appropriate, Eh?— . . . .

The club car on the train which took the Dodgers west for their "Crooshal'" trip was named "Hope Falls".

Shorts and Shells

Al Rosen, the rookie clouter just brought up by Cleveland from its Oklahoma city farm, was most valuable player in the Class C Canadian-American League a year ago and took the same honor in the Double-A Texas League during the past season. . . . According to thoroughbred Racing Association estimates, Warren Wright's Calumet Farm might have shown a slight profit on its $564,095 race winnings last year. This year Calumet already has won more than $1,000,000.

Buck (Trotting Horse) O'Neil's description of Johnny Mize chasing a foul fly: "He was giving it all he had, and running uphill all the way. He did the first 10 yards in 18 seconds flat—"Then he slowed down."

BATTING AND PITCHING STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Batting—Ralph Kiner, Pirates — Hit his 42nd and 43rd homers in losing game against Giants, to trail Johnny Mize by only three in National League home run derby.

Pitching, Al Brazle, Cardinals— Limited Phillies to four hits, walked none and struck out seven, to lift St. Louis within 4½ games of Dodgers with 4-1 victory.

ATHLETIC BEATEN

St. Catharines, Sept. 11—(CP) — In the first game of their Ontario Lacrosse Association senior final series, Mimico Mounties last night beat St. Catharines Athletics 13-5. Ray Mortimore was outstanding in the Mounties' goal.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor.

A baseball Rip Van Winkle, had he awakened last night from a twenty years siesta, rubbed his eyes and gazed at the cheering crowd of 2,000 fans that packed the Exhibition Grounds grandstand, bleachers and the bordering fence, would have yawned, decided that he had snoozed for twenty minutes, turned over and resumed the nasal twirping.

• • •

For without a doubt the cheering throng that witnessed one of the outstanding diamond exhibitions of the season between the Batawa Shoemen and their arch-rivals the Trenton Flyers, was reminiscent of the mobs that packed the stands in the balmy days of baseball two decades ago.

• • •

And the paying customers and a large number who forgot to kick in with the dinero, got their money's worth. The roaring Shoemen from the banks of the Trent Canal, behind the fine hurling of ace Gordy Muffitt, ousted the gallant Flyers from the Intermediate OBA "A" playdowns in a diamond battle that had more thrills than a first ride in a roller-coaster.

• • •

It was a battle to the baseball death, so to speak. Flyers took an 8-5 defeat in their first joust, came back to explode with a tremendous batting surge in the twelfth innings of the second game to win 8-4, and last night was the payoff playoff.

• • •

And it was just that. Two determined squads with the playdown issue at stake, placed everything on the baseball table. There was some superb hurling, some timely clouting and a couple of costly errors, all the ingredients that go to make a tasty baseball dish.

• • •

From the time Art Genereaux, Flyers' centre fielder, and first man to bat in the initial innings, lashed out a screaming double to left field on the first ball pitched, until elongated Ken Peacock, Batawa centre pasture patrolman, raced fifty feet to snatch the ball from his shoetops in the most sensational fielding play of the game, there was not a dull moment.

• • •

Al. Wade, tall righthander of the Flyers, and Gordy Muffitt, sterling hurler of the Shoemen hooked up in another fine flinging duel. Wade allowed eight clouts five of them coming in the fifth when the Bata batting guns exploded in a barrage of clouts that were responsible for all their runs. Muffitt scattered seven blows over the nine-inning route. Wade blanked the Shoemen for eight heats, and had his mates not committed a couple of costly bobbles in the fifth the score might have been different.

• • •

But that constitutes the breaks of the game. Opportunists that they are, the Shoemen lashed ont savagely at the Wadian shoots in that disastrous fifth and took full advantage of the temporary lapse of the Flyer hurler and his mates afield.

• • •

Meanwhile the Shoemen played a fine defensive game behind Muffitt. He allowed one run in the firth, shut out the Flyers for the next five innings yielded another run in the seventh and another in the 8th following Dicky Fitzpatrick's mighty triple to left centre.

• • •

The Shoemen are worthy Intermediate "A" representatives of this district. They have played consistently good baseball all season and if they maintain their present form should go some distance down that rough trail to a baseball title. Their batting power is evenly distributed, their hurling staff is good and their fielding stands out at times in a manner that denotes ability and determination.

• • •

Perhaps the most tickled lad of the lot last night was "Black Mike" Aquino, husky receiver of the Shoemen. He poled out a double and two singles for four, that topped the batting deeds of both teams. Ken Peacock was another standout for the Shoemen with his sensational spearing of hard hit ball in the centre field region while sturdy Gord Muffitt, flung a cool heady game that was sweetened with victory.

• • •

And Al Wade deserved a better fate. The fifth-inning lapse was the turning point of the ball game, when he weakened and the alert Batawans aided and abetted by two Flyer errors, scored the five runs that spelled victory.

• • •

But there are no post mortems. Flyers conceded the victory to their opponents and like good sportsmen they are crowded around their conquerors with best wishes for future success. Batawa, meets the winner of the Toronto-Peterborough series in the second round of the "A" playdowns.

• • •

A tip to wrestling fans. The mat rationing goes off next week and Marse Frank Tunney, Toronto grunt and groan impressario, has announced that the big boys will stage a card in Memorial Arena on Friday, Sept. 19. The ring will be placed on the ice and the fans will be confined to the seats in the hockey gods. More later.

• • •

"We may as well make ice while the sun shines, both ways, that is," quoth Walter Gerow, Sr., impressario of the Memorial Arena this morning as he gazed with something akin to pride at row on row of glistening pipes that washboarded the ice surface of the igloo and which were slowly but surely disappearing beneath the final touch of a coating of sand.

• • •

"Meaning which?" re-quothed we, the reportorial schnozzle stuck out a foot as the story scent tingled the nostrils.

"Meaning this", came back the sprightly Walt, "that the refrigerator is nearly ready for action, so let's get some hockey food ready to park on the glace when the time comes."

• • •

Now that was an exceptionally long speech for the tall former baseball mentor whose ebulliency is conspicuous by its absence. "In other words," he went on. "Let's get a district hockey league started, something along the lines of the Van Horne series of Kingston only better, much better."

• • •

We prodded the gent with a verbal patabacks and he warmed up to the subject. "What I mean is pre - season hockey. It could and will be called the Belleville District Hockey League which will comprise teams from the surrounding district. Such places as Trenton, Picton, Batawa, Bloomfield, Wellington, Tweed, Madoc, Marmora, in fact any outside point as well as one squad from the city."

• • •

And that was the groundwork of a pre-season loop which will be a reality, it is hoped within the next two weeks or so. Discussion this morning on the subject brought out the suggestion that either OHA players be barred from the loop or teams be limited to three or less players of that type.

• • •

That is a question, however, which can be threshed out at an organization meeting which will be held as soon as entries to the League are received. In the meantime, hockey officials from each of the centres mentioned, or any other place which we may have omitted are urged to get busy, formulate plans and send their entries to Walter Gerow, Memorial Arena.

• • •

The sooner the loop is organized, the sooner hockey will get under way. The schedule must be finished by at least December 15, so that means immediate action. Furthur suggestions that the double headers could be played twice a week.

• • •

And the incentive? Not only hockey for the lads who are not quite good enough for intermediate ranks, but the handsome Ontario Intelligencer Trophy which will be emblematic of the league championship and which will be competed for annually. Interviewed this morning the publisher of this newspaper generously offered the fine trophy for the newly-formed District League.

• • •

So the rest is up to the different teams. We have the ice, we have the trophy, and we have the players. Let's get the ball rolling and get under way as soon as possible. Again we remind outside hockey officials to get organized and forward their entry to Walter Gerow. A meeting will be called in the near future to iron out any wrinkles. Do it now, eh?

Vancouver, Sept. 11 (CP) — Fans' outraged cries of inconsistency on the part of lacrosse referees are a legitimate beef, the arbiters themselves agree. But whistle-tooting lads place the blame on an antiquated rule book.

Questioned by Pat (Vancouver Sun) Slattery on the problem, Sid Greenwood and Bill Dickinson, were unanimous in agreeing that loose rules put too much responsibility on the hard pressed refs in a game in which body contact and hot tempers are the rule rather than the exception.

One rule contradicts another, the two referees of the Inter-city Lacrosse League which operates in Vancouver and New Westminster, complained.

"They should let the referees and coaches revise the rules of lacrosse," Dickinson said. "Too many old men go to these annual Canadian Lacrosse Association meetings. Most of them have only seen about 10 games all season and they're supposed to be qualified rule makers.

"Fans must realize we're trying to give them a game out there. If we really wanted to get tough, we'd have everybody off the floor. Fans don't pay their money to see two-man lacrosse."

Improvement, if not enlargement, is in store for the Hastings Park race track here, Ken (Vancouver Province) McConnell writes in his column Before and After.

"It seems obvious that we must have a larger track, with sweeping wider turns. The ideal track would be six and a half furlongs."

Sam Randall, operator of the track says he doesn't know what he'll do. "There is the question of labor and materials. But I'll certainly resurface the present track. I plan to have work started as soon as possible. We will either have a larger track or we'll go down at least 18 inches on the present track."

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

The Last Frontier Vanishes ...

TODAY mining and industry push forward to the Arctic Circle, as Canadian initiative develops the vast resources—the minerals, waterpower and oil—of the one-time wilderness.

New war-time transportation facilities ended the isolation of millions of square miles of the Northwest. The airplane brought the farthest corners of our country—inaccessible for centuries—within a day or two of the cities of the continent.

That northward expansion is typical of modern developments which are stimulating all Canadian activities today, creating new and greater opportunities in every field of endeavour.

Until the present century the story of Canada's North was an epic of exploration—from the days of Elizabethan seamen seeking the Northwest Passage and the old fur traders pushing into the wilderness, down to the Arctic journeys of Stefansson and Bernier and the Mountie patrols of our own time.

Greatest single factor in Northland development was the airplane. It made possible the most significant mining discovery in the North—when, at Great Bear Lake in 1930, pitchblende was found—the continent's only source of uranium, vital ingredient of the atom bomb.

The war brought new activity to the North, and the creation of great new lines of transportation and communication—the Alaska Highway and the famous Air Staging Routes—with landing fields and radio and meteorological stations established throughout the territory.

LARRY MACPHAIL MAY BE CALLED 'ON-THE-CARPET'

Believed Boss of Yankees Broke "Silence" Order Imposed by Chandler

By ROBERT F. BURNS

Cincinnati, Sept. 11 — (AP) — Another "on-the-carpet" session between Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler and Larry MacPhail, loquacious New York Yankees president, was anticipated today as representatives of the top teams of both major leagues met here at the Commissioner's call to discuss plans for the 1947 World Series.

The Commissioner, it was learned yesterday, is investigating an interview attributed to MacPhail in violation of Chandler's 'silence' order in connection with suspension for the season of Leo Durocher as manager of Brooklyn Dodgers.

Asked about a report that a probe of MacPhail was under way," Chandler said: "I'm not going to say anything about anything."

At Kansas City, MacPhail said he would be in Cincinnati today for a meeting 'pertaining to World Series matters' but not to confer only with the commissioner.

"Anytime Chandler or anyone else labors under the impression I cannot express my opinions on baseball he is entirely wrong."

Al Buck, a baseball writer for the New York Post, said Chandler had asked him to fly to Cincinnati for questioning in connection with the interview with MacPhail last Thursday. But Buck advised the commissioner other duties prevented a conference.

Baseball writers of other New York evening newspapers said an assistant of Chandler's had asked them for copies of their stories on the interview in Washington.

Last Friday editions of four New York evening newspapers carried accounts of the interview in which MacPhail was quoted as saying it was a 100-to-1 shot that Leo Durocher would not be back in baseball next season. MacPhail then was quoted as asking:

"Do you think that Durocher would have been suspended if Rickey (Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Club) hadn't wanted him suspended?"

Chandler suspended Durocher April 9 for incidents "detrimental to baseball" after a verbal exchange involving MacPhail and Rickey. The Yankee and Dodger clubs were fined $2,000 each.

Johnny Mize, Giants—Grounded out three times and filed out in four at bat against Pittsburgh Pirates.

Stan Musial, Cardinals — Collected two singles in St. Louis' 14-hit attack against Phillies. One was a bunt to third base.

Lou Boudreau, Indians — Held hitless by Yankee pitching, grounding out, flying out twice and fouling to George McQuinn in eighth.

Joe DiMaggio, Yankees—Walked, filed out, doubled and scored on Bill Johnson's triple in sixth and grounded out in seventh.

SYRACUSE CHIEFS, BUFFALO BISONS NOW FAVORED

Both Teams Win in Governors' Cup Playoff and Have Two-Game Lead

(By The Associated Press)

Syracuse Chiefs and Buffalo Bisons appear as overwhelming favorites to clash in the final round of the International League's Governor's Cup playoffs.

Both the Chiefs and Bisons enjoy a 2-0 advantage over Montreal and Jersey City respectively today in their best-of-seven semifinal round series. In addition, the next two games of both series will be staged at Syracuse and Buffalo.

The Chiefs made it two in a row over Montreal which finished second to Jersey City in the regular season last night as Lefty Jim Prendergast blanked the Royals 2-0. The Bisons eked out a 6-5 victory over the Giants.

Prendergast, the circuit's lone 20-game winner during the regular season, yielded five hits and didn't walk a man in outpitching young Erv Palica of the Royals.

The Chiefs broke a scoreless tie in the eighth on a single, sacrifice and another one-bagger by Dick West. They added another in the ninth on a walk and Dutch Mele's fly ball which Montreal outfielders Butch Woyt and Earl Naylor lost in the fog for a double.

CHAPTER 10.

"I can't. I never saw her before that night. I never saw her alive. She was dead on arrival."

"So I understand. Was there a post-mortem?"

"There was a broken neck. It seemed sufficient." Dr. Kloppel put his basin on the mantel and sighed. "Who told you to come here?"

"Nobody. I read about the case in the papers and got the idea she might be the friend of a friend of mine."

Dr. Kloppel raised one bushy white eyebrow. "I haven't got the time or inclination to argue that, but you needn't think I believe it. If you still want to play, go to the rooming house next door and ask for Mrs. Cashman. She found the body, or her dog did. But keep away from Hope House. I want to play poker tonight."

Mark found himself on the sidewalk, grinning at the doctor's neat brass plate. Martin Luther Kloppel, M.D. Roberta would like the doctor.

He looked at the house next door. A card in the clean, fern-filled window said "Vacancies." While he stood there, trying to make up his mind, a small, neat woman with a white poodle came down the street and started up the steps.

"Mrs. Cashman?"

She nodded, and her round eyes glistened.

"I've just come from Dr. Kloppel's. He thinks you and I might have a little talk." He wondered why Mrs. Cashman braced herself before she spoke, but he didn't wonder long. No one, not even Mrs. Cashman herself, could hear her voice without an involuntary cringe.

"Sure we'll talk," Mrs. Cashman said. "If Kloppel says so, we will. I own my house and he owns his and all his friends are mine. What do you want to know?"

He told her in a whisper, hoping to coax her voice to the level of his, but the poor woman had been born that way

"This is the very dog." Mrs. Cashman caterwauled, inching the animal forward with a tiny, immaculate shoe. "It was raining pitchforks but Brother and I take our walk regardless. We wanted a bottle of ale before the delicatessen closed. Well, around the corner by Hope House, Brother got away and I thought he was after garbage. Big garbage at Hope House on account of so many eating, and he sometimes finds a bone. Well, sir—say, you never told me your name and that's not fair."

"Mark East. And I only want to know if the Miss Miller who died is the same Miss Miller a friend of mine used to know."

Mrs. Cashman was not confused. "For your friends's sake I hope not," she said. "I didn't see her face because she had that mask on but I'm told it was pulp. Mr. East, I like to died. There was this bundle of rags I thought it was, lying in a puddle, and there was Brother acting up. I might have known he didn't have no bone. So I got down to look. You should have heard me scream."

"You're a very brave woman, Mrs. Cashman," Mark whispered.

"Why, thanks!" Mrs. Cashman howled. "You'd ee too, there's really nothing to it. Do you think it was your friend's friend?"

"I don't know. I haven't much to go on, but when I heard that a girl named—"

"Ruth Miller. She wasn't very popular; you'll have to excuse that, but truth's truth. While I was waiting for the police—I had to wait, I know the law—I was talking to one of the Hope House girls. She was the first to reach the scene after me. And we kept each other company. Well, she didn't know who it was on account of the mask, and she kept saying to herself 'It's nobody I know, it's nobody I know,' like that. Then everybody else came and they had a terrible time deciding who it was. Awful, huh? And Koppel cut the mask off and still they didn't know. But they found out somehow when the police got there, they've got ways of telling, and that's when I heard the talk. No, she wasn't popular. She was mental, poor soul, and didn't care to live. I'm sorry for you and your friend."

"I wonder if you could tell me the name of the girl you talked to?" Mark asked.

"Jewel. Jewel Schwab. She works there. I'd take you around myself but Brother won't go near the place. We have to go two blocks out of our way to get the ale now. Tell Jewel I said it was all right to talk to you. Any friend of Kloppel's—"

A few doors from Hope House Mark slowed down and watched two women descend the steps and get into a waiting cab. Not the hostel type, he decided. Board members, with fancy New York names, looking for dust and waste in the kitchen. They were fairly young, smartly dressed, and something had happened to make them laugh. He didn't go in until the cab drove off.

A pale girl came from behind the switchboard and asked his business.

"Miss Schwab?"

"She's out. Do you want to leave a message?"

"No, thank you, it isn't that important. I've been talking to Mrs. Cashman and she mentioned—" He stopped because he recognized the look she gave him. The good natured curiosity slipped from her face and emptiness took its place. She was remembering to forget.

"Do you know Mrs. Cashman?" he asked.

"She lives somewhere around here, that's all I know." Her eyes flicked over his shoulder, and he turned to see who was behind him. There was no one. An empty elevator stood open, that was all.

"You'll have to excuse me," she went on. "I'm busy. But if you want to leave your name, I'll see that Jewel gets it."

"No name, I'll call again. That will be all right, won't it?"

"Employes are not permitted to receive callers except at stated hours," she said formally.

"And what are the stated hours?"

"Regular times off. Miss Brady has to make rules about employes or nothing would ever get done. And Miss Brady likes to see the people who call, too. She has to make a rule about that in case of—well, trouble. I mean people come in here and talk, I mean Mrs. Cashman has no business to—

He saw her dismay when she spoke Mrs. Cashman's name.

"Never mind," he said easily. "I know how you feel."

When he went down the steps to the street he told himself that at least one cliche had a firm foundation in fact. Eyes were boring holes in his back.

"You'll find the personnel department on the 12th floor," Mr. Benz of Blackman's told Mark. "Miss Libby. And may I be kept informed, or is that too much to ask?"

Mark assured him that nothing was too much, shook hands, and rode up.

Five Barns Razed In Arson Outbreak

Nelson, B. C., Sept. 11 — (CP) — Weary-eyed farmers cast anxious glances at the sky over the West Kootenay district today searching for the tell-tale glow of new fires following a fresh outbreak of arson among defiant Sons of Freedom Doukhobors.

Yesterday five barns were razed by fire in the Gilpin area near Grand Forks, B. C., about 60 miles southwest of here causing damage estimated at more than $10,000 and raising to some $60,000 the total damage since Aug. 15 from known or suspected arson attacks.

A total of 12 barns situated at Krestova, B. C., headquarters of the Sons of Freedom group about 25 miles northwest of Nelson, Salmo, B. C., and Gilpin have gone up in flames in the last four days. Eleven fires occurred on Sons' farms. Salmo is 20 miles south of here.

The "sacrifice" fires marked a new trend in the religious strife between Orthodox Doukhobors and the Sons. The Sons, who claim a membership of more than 2,000 persons, charge that the rival group is "too worldly" and that it does not adhere to true Doukhobor religion and beliefs.

Provincial Police investigating the Gilpin fires said members of the Sons of Freedom group there readily admitted setting the fires in that area.

Reinforced police patrols were thrown into the Gilpin area today following threats by Sons' spokesmen there that the radical group would burn all their homes in sacrifice fires. About 125 buildings remain on Sons farms in the area. Eight of 14 barns have been burned.

RACING WRITER DIES

Farmington, Me., Sept. 11 — (AP) — G. Milton Hatch, authority and writer on light harness racing, died yesterday at his home here at the age of 87. He had contributed to Turf, the American Horse Breeder, the Horse Review and the Portland (Me.) Evening Express, for which he formerly wrote a column "Heard Along the Rail."

NATURALIST DIES

Nyack, N. Y., Sept. 11—(AP)—Raymond B. Potter, 73, self-taught naturalist and one of the United States' leading taxidermists, died yesterday. He was responsible for collection and mounting of thousands of specimens at the American Museum of Natural History.

VOLUNTEERS ERECT HALL

Toronto, Sept. 11 —(CP)— Shortage of building trades workers didn't stop parishioners of St. Paul's Anglican Church from erecting a parish hall. They called for volunteers from the congregation and now 15 or 20 members work on the hall every evening under the direction of a building expert.

Bata Shoemen Shove Flyers Into Discard of OBA Playdowns By Winning Third Game 5-3

Winners Score All Their Runs in Fifth on Combination of Hits and Errors

Their bats suddenly exploding in a sudden surge of hitting power, aided and abetted by two Flyer errors in the fifth innings, the Batawa Shoemen defeated the Trenton RCAF Flyers 5-3 in the third game of the first round Intermediate "A" series at the Exhibition Grounds last night. The winners meet the victors of the Toronto-Peterboro series in the next round.

Played before a record crowd of 2,000 cheering fans, the game was one of the best seen here this season, with both hurlers turning in fine efforts with the exception of the fifth inning Flyer lapse when the Shoemen pushed over all their runs.

Both teams turned in some sensational fielding despite the fact that Flyers were tabbed for four errors and the Shoemen two. The losers' bobbles, at least two of them, proved costly in the fifth when two unearned runs were pushed over the plate by the eventual winners.

Stirring Hurling Duel

The game was another of those stirring hurling duels between Gordy Muffitt, Bata righthander and tall Al. Wade veteran flinger of the Flyers. Wade blanked the Shoemen for eight innings but his temporary fifth innings lapse when the Shoemen got to his slants for five of the eight hits they garnered off his delivery. As was said before two errors in this heat helped decide the issue, for the ball game was won there and then.

Muffitt hurled steady baseball. He was touched for seven scattered hits, only two of which were clustered in the seventh when Bridgeman smashed out a double and raced home on Wade's sharp single to left field. Muffitt fanned six and issued five free tickets to first while Wade sent down three via the strikeout route and gave up three walks.

RCAF opened the scoring in the first innings when Art Genereaux, centrefielder lashed the first ball pitched for a rousing double to left field.

Flyers Score in First

Cook, Batawa first baseman essayed a throw to third to nip the runner on a steal and Genereaux galloped home with the first run of the game.

From then until the fifth the squads settled down behind the fine hurling of both pitchers and the crowd settled down to wait for the break. It came in the fifth with a barrage of clouts that would have sent any pitcher to the showers but Wade stuck it out and battled grimly over the rest of the route in an effort to pull the pastime out of the fire.

Gordy Mufitt started the rally with a smashing single to right field. He stole second and raced home, when Bridgeman threw the ball wide over first base. Spencer and Cook singled in succession and romped home when Aquino's double went to deep left field. Watson singled for the fifth hit of the game and went to second on the next putout with Aquino holding third. The usually reliable Art Genereau dropped Solmes' fly to centre field allowing Aquino to cross the plate and Watson scored the fifth run of the innings on Burtt's infield out. That ended the scoring and the Batawa supporters rang the welkin with their cheers.

Flyers Come Back

But Flyers came back grimly, and but for some sensational fielding on the part of the Bata squad might have made the score look different. They scored their second run in the seventh off hits by Wade and Bridgeman and came within striking distance in the eighth when Dicky Fitzpatrick lashed out a towering triple to deep left field, later scoring on a putout. Muffitt walked two men in a row and it looked like a Flyer rally. But Muffitt settled down and the side was retired.

Highlight of a game that sparkled with some outstanding fielding was the catch made by Ken Peacock, Batawa centrefielder in the ninth innings. Holdershaw, Flyer's first baseman smashed a hard hit ball over the second baseman's head. Peacock raced in from deep centre and from the stands it looked like a sure hit. But the tall fellow suddenly doubled over, made a sweeping stab at the ball inches off the ground and came up with it as the crowd stood on its feet.

Muffitt's stab of Dunning's line drive that would have been good for a triple at least cut off another Flyer rally while a smart double killing Solmes to Rankin in the fifth stopped another Flyer bid for runs.

Aquino Batting Hero

Aquino, husky receiver of the Shoemen was the batting hero of the game from all points of view. He lashed out a double and two singles out of four and drove in two of his teams runs. Spencer, Cook, Solmes, Muffitt and Watson donated singles to the winning cause.

Fitzpatrick's triple earned him the hitting honors for the Flyers, with Genereaux and Bridgeman connecting for doubles. Other Flyers to hit safely were Holdershaw, Marietta, Robertson and Wade.

Frawley and Reason, both of Kingston and Townsend of Belleville handled the game in a highly creditable manner with Frawley's work behind the plate coming in for praiseworthy comment from players and spectators alike.

JUNIORS WORKOUT

Toronto, Sept. 11 — (CP) — About 50 young hockey players, mostly from St. Catharines, Ont., where Boston Bruins are sponsoring an Ontario Hockey Association Junior A club, held an initial workout on Ravina Rink here yesterday under the eye of Art Ross, Bruins' general manager. The workout is to continue for a week.

Oshawa Requests O.B.A. Hearing On Suspension

Oshawa, Sept. 11 — (CP) — Still seething with resentment over a surprise suspension, Oshawa baseball men, and the B'Nai B'Rith Junior ball club officials in particular, awaited today as word from the OBA, concerning their request for a hearing in the alleged protest ruling handed down by a sub-committee meeting on Monday evening.

The Lakeshore Junior Baseball League has officially taken up the matter with the OBA on behalf of their member club, the Oshawa B'Nai B'Rith and it is understood that Dr. R. B. Rundle of Bowmanville team has been left alone in junior "B" OBA playoffs, although like the B'Nai B'Rith, they too had not turned in their playing forms to the OBA as yet.

The forms are in the hands of the Lakeshore League secretary, Albert Walker, who is also OBA convener for this territory. Walker admits that perhaps he may be at fault but insists that the B'Nai B'Rith team has done nothing to warrant suspension.

Meanwhile, the series with the Peterboro Travellers has been suspended until final word is received from the OBA on the incident.

BOY ESCAPEES CAPTURED

Port Credit, Ont., Sept. 11 (CP) —Two 15-year-old boys who escaped Monday from Simcoe county jail at Barrie, Ont., were arrested here at gunpoint after a short chase by Constable Edward Boehnert.

The boys were in a stolen automobile when arrested, police said. In it were several 9-mm. shells but no gun.

MEAT to help your baby build for a better future!

Mother! Swift's Meats for Babies meet these basic requirements of baby-feeding!

1. Good food for better growth

A small amount of meat in a mixture of foods does not meet baby's big protein needs. Your baby needs three to four times more protein, proportionately, than an adult! Swift's Meats for Babies provide complete, high-quality proteins, plus B vitamins and iron, for good red blood. Be sure your baby gets plentiful amounts of these vital nutrients . . . feed Swift's Meats for Babies—they're all meat!

2. Compact foods—for more nourishment, less bulk

Every bit of food baby eats must count—because he's building his body for life! Yet, baby can eat only a small amount of food. Swift's Meats for Babies offer a compact source of nourishment baby needs every day. Swift's Meats for Babies provide body-building nourishment—less bulk—don't waste precious space in baby's tiny stomach.

3. Careful control—for individual needs

Because your baby is different from every other baby, his food requirements are different, too. The best way to be sure your baby gets his food in the right amounts for him, is to control each food and balance baby's diet yourself. When you feed Swift's Meats for Babies you know exactly how much meat your baby is getting.

4. Variety—for good eating habits

Baby needs a variety of natural foods—meats, vegetables, fruits, milk and cereals. Right now your baby is forming eating habits for life. It's best to feed his foods separately—not all mixed together—to acquaint baby with different flavours and textures. Swift's Meats for Babies help your baby develop a taste for six wholesome, nutritious meats he will be eating all his life!

Serve Swift's Meats for Babies —All 100% body-building meat!

U.S. Note Demands Yugoslavia Free Military Personnel

Nine American, British Men Seized Near Trieste

Washington, Sept. 12 —(AP)— The United States has demanded the "immediate release" by Yugoslavia of nine British and American military personnel seized by the Yugoslavs in the vicinity of Trieste.

The State Department said today the demand was made in a "vigorous protest" to the Yugoslav government against the "unwarranted detention and maltreatment" of 14 British and American military personnel, five of whom already have been released.

The American note was presented to the Yugoslav foreign office Thursday night.

Among those reported still held by the Yugoslavs are seven Britons and two Americans.

All were seized near Trieste where Yugoslav, American and British soldiers are occupying this former Italian territory, soon to be internationalized under the United Nations.

Head of U.S. Steel Denies 'Public Be Damned' Charge

Washington, Sept. 12 — (AP)— Senator Edward Martin (Rep. Pa.) told top steel executives of the United States today that a "public be damned" attitude on their part may lead to government policing — perhaps even nationalization.

He drew an immediate retort from Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the United States Steel Corporation, who said the industry is doing its level best to meet an "extraordinary" demand for its product.

Fairless declared United States steel is spending half a billion dollars to improve its capacity and far from any "public be damned" viewpoint "our attitude is, and will always continue to be, just the reverse."

The exchange was touched off by a public statement by Martin, chairman of the Senate's Special Steel Committee, saying:

Tough Business

"I realize that steel is a tough business. But in the steel business, or in any other business, management has no more right to adopt a 'public be damned' attitude than labor or government.

"In the face of growing pressure for nationalization of such big industries as steel, coal and the railroads, it would be downright stupid for your business to take that position.

"Bear this in mind — such nationalization has been suggested even on the floor of the United States Senate."

Martin prepared his sharply-worded statement for the opening of a committee session at which more than a dozen steel company officials were asked to testify. Fairless, first on the witness list, was ready with a statement in reply.

"So far as it has been within our power," he said, "we have tried to distribute our steel production equitably among many thousands of users of steel in a way designed to serve the best interests of the country as a whole."

Union Membership Increased in 1946

Ottawa, Sept 12 (CP) —Canadian workers, emphasizing the trend towards stronger security and representation, set a record in trade union membership in 1946 with a total of 831,697, labor Minister Mitchell announced today. This compared with 724,188 in 1944, the previous record, and 711,117, in 1945.

In a summary of the 36th annual report on Labor organizations in Canada Mr. Mitchell said the metal industries commanded the largest single industrial union group. Membership totalled 164,630, or 19.8 per cent of the grand total.

Largest percentage increase was recorded in the wood and wood products group — 52.2 per cent. Food unions jumped 46.7 per cent while textile membership increased 18.2 per cent.

Of the total membership, 778,244 were banded in four national and international organizations. The trades and labor congress of Canada reported a total of 356,121 members; the Canadian Congress of Labor 314,025; The Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor 70,367; the Independent International Railway Brotherhoods 37,731.

Reports submitted by 3,846 of 4,635 known branches, showed Ontario leading with 237,729 members.

New Nerve Operation Offers Some Relief To Palsy Victims

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

New York, Sept. 12 (AP)— People with shaking hands and limbs so weak they are nearly paralyzed from palsy, and those who cannot move arms and legs without a series of jerks are getting some relief from a new neck operation described to the American College of Surgeons here today.

Strangely enough this operation really affects not the neck but the brain. It was reported by Dr. Averill Stowell of Cleveland.

All these conditions are caused by atrophy in some part of the brain. Surgery has been tried with some success in the brain to relieve palsy, but most of the conditions are incurable.

Dr. Stowell's operation severs a number of neck nerves whose job is to control the tension of arteries carrying blood to the brain. All this tension stops when the neck nerves are severed. The arteries enlarge and the brain receives more blood.

Military Research Aim is to Prevent Another War Says Sir Henry Tizard

By ROSS MUNRO
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Sept. 12 (CP)—The real object of military scientific research is really to prevent another war, Sir Henry Tizard, Chairman of the Defence Research Policy Committee of Britain's Defence Ministry, said in an interview here today in which he pointed out the contributions this type of research is making to civilian life.

"For example, research into bacteriological warfare is going to result in great benefits to humanity and for this reason alone it should not be neglected," said Sir Henry, who is beginning a tour of Canada with three other top British defence scientists. During the tour they will visit the Canadian atomic energy development at Chalk River, Ont.

He said that the right place to carry out experimental work in bacteriological warfare was here in Canada with all its space.

Speaking of V-2 rockets, Sir Henry said that a good deal of thought has been given to establishing a range for testing V2s in Canada but yet nothing has been done about it.

"The public is inclined to attach too much importance to this V-2 weapon," said Sir Henry. "It cost the Germans five times as much to drop a ton of explosives on London with V-2s as it did cost us to drop one ton of explosives on Berlin with our aircraft."

MAN IS SHOT IN FIGHT DURING DRINKING PARTY

Cecil J. Hemmings Of Welland Ont. Dies In Toronto Hospital From Bullet Wound

Toronto, Sept. 12 —(CP)— A man identified as Cecil J. Hemmings of Welland, Ont., died in hospital today of a bullet wound and police said the result of an autopsy showed it was murder.

Hemmings was brought to hospital from Maple, 10 miles north of here after what police said was a fight during a drinking party in a shack there. No arrests have been made.

Chief Coroner Dr. Smirle Lawson said apparently two men and two women met in a downtown hotel and went to the cottage. Early today an argument broke out and the fatal shot was fired.

Police said a shotgun was found in the shack at a gravel pit where the party was held.

They quoted a Mrs. William Clare, who they said was a member of the party, as saying she had heard Hemmings cry out: "I've been shot. Don't let him get my wallet."

Brought to Toronto with a gunshot wound in the chest, Hemmings died 15 minutes after arrival.

Police said the 42-year-old man had recently been hired as a watchman at the gravel pit and the party took place in his living quarters.

They were questioning a man and a woman, Mrs. Clare and Byron Sheppard of nearby Richmond Hill, but refused to disclose any results of the discussions. However, Sgt. Sydney Barraclough of York County police did say that Sheppard telephoned a Maple doctor at three o'clock this morning to report the shooting.

Four other persons at the party were understood to have left before the wounding occurred.

Labor Candidate Wins By-Election

Liverpool, Sept. 12. (CP)— Labor candidate Maj. A. J. Irvine, 38-year-old lawyer, was elected to parliament from the Edge Hill Divison of Liverpool yesterday, maintaining the Labor Party's unique record of losing no parliamentary seats in 28 consecutive by-elections since it took over the government in the 1945 general election.

Irvine polled 10,827 votes in the working class constituency to 8,874 for J. R. Bevins, Conservative nominee.

Although five candidates contested by by-election there was never any doubt that the issue was a straight one between the Labor and Conservative parties.

Liberal Sir Hubert Young, former governor of Trinidad, polled 910 votes Independent Labor candidate, David Gibson, a Glasgow railroad worker, 154; and Cyril Foster, an independent, 48.

Yesterday's by-election, caused by the death of Dr. Richard Clithorow, Labor, in May, was looked upon by many Labor leaders as a test of the sentiment of British voters during the current economic crisis.

Plan Hearing In Rail Wreck At Dugald, Man.

Ottawa, Sept. 12 (CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners announced today that it has decided to hold a public hearing at Winnipeg to inquire into the cause of the recent railway accident at Dugald, Man., which took 35 lives.

The date of the hearing will be announced later

The Board said that Sept. 2, the day following the head-on collision of the two Canadian National Railways passenger trains, three of the Board's inspectors from Winnipeg made an investigation.

Preliminary detailed reports by the inspectors have been made to the Board.

"After giving the matter careful consideration the Board has decided to hold a public hearing at Winnipeg to inquire into the causes of the accident," said the announcement.

SLEEPY DRIVERS DANGEROUS

Toronto, Sept. 12 —(CP)— A person who goes to sleep at the wheel of his car is more dangerous than one who is intoxicated Magistrate K. M. Langdon said yesterday at Oakville near here as he fined Harry Harrison of Toronto $20 and costs for careless driving. An officer testified Harrison "seemed asleep on his feet" following an accident and accused said he had driven 300 miles.

I.G. FARBEN CHIEFS FROWNED ON MOVE BY RUSSIA IN '38

Document at Trial Reveals Negotiations Which Led to Nothing

By THOMAS A. REEDY

Nuernberg, Sept. 12 (AP) — The I. G. Farben Trust blocked a move by Russia to improve its chemical industry with German help on the strength of the non-aggression pact signed with Hitler in 1939, it was disclosed today at the Farben war crimes trial.

How the Farben chiefs frowned on the proposal during the period when Hitler and Stalin were negotiating with each other was revealed in a document from the Farben files by American prosecutors conducting the trial of 23 directors by the huge trust.

According to the document, a delegation from Moscow in November, 1939, sought expert help to build a Russian chemical industry. Negotiations were undertaken but they never amounted to anything after barriers were set up against giving the Soviet Union any information.

The document which revealed the situation was signed by two of the defendants at the present trial — Fritz Ter Meer, Farben chemical expert, and Otto Ambros, head of Farben's Buna (synthetic rubber) works at (Oswiecim).

The two directors stated bluntly that Farben would be unable to help the Russians develop artificial rubber for at least two years and added:

"We trust that a long stay of Russian experts in our plants will be avoided. In several cases the inspection of installations in our works is extremely risky.

"There are cases where installations are so complicated that insight into the operations reactions is not possible and an inspection is harmless. On the other hand there are cases where an expert could gain so much information on our working methods while being shown around that he could carry out the process. Buna (synthetic rubber) is quoted as an example."

The two directors pointed out that Russia already had become a large-scale producer of butadiene — a base for synthetic rubber— and commented that it was "of satisfactory quality."

Farben also recommended that if any help were given to the Russians by Hitler, it should be stipulated that the products so yielded be used by the Russians only within their domestic economy with a ban on shipment aboard.

Crew Complaints Cause Removal R.C.N. Officer

Ottawa, Sept 12 (CP)—Because of "grievances" of the crew, there has been a change of executive officers on the Canadian cruiser HMCS Ontario, now on the west coast following postcommissioning trials naval service headquarters announced last night.

Headquarters did not detail the "exchange in executive officer," but it was learned that Cmdr. J. V. Brock of Winnipeg has been replaced by Acting Cmdr. P. D. Budge, DSC.

There was no elaboration beyond a 150-word statement on a "report of crew dissatisfaction on board the cruiser," which headquarters declined to amplify.

Text of the statement follows: "On Aug. 22, auhorized seamen's representatives on board HMCS Ontario presented certain internal organization grievances to the commanding officer, Capt. J. C. Hibbard, DSC, RCN. These were investigated immediately by the commanding officer, Pacific Coast.

"Necessary adjustments were made and as a result it was considered advisable to advance an exchange in executive officers, which would normally have taken place toward the end of the war.

"The ship's commanding officer has specially reported that the morale of the ship's company is most satisfactory.

"It should be made clear that the complaints and investigation followed the regular channels provided within the Royal Canadian Navy organization."

EIGHTEEN DEAD AS LINER BLOWS UP ON TRIAL RUN

British Ship Badly Damaged and Inquiry Opened on Possibility of Sabotage

Belfast, Sept. 12 — (AP) — Eighteen dead or dying men and more than 50 injured were brought ashore from the British liner Reina Del Pacifico, which docked here badly damaged by an explosion at sea.

While hundreds crowded the dock area, the 17,702-ton motorship was towed in and police began an inquiry, studying among other things what they described as the possibility of sabotage.

The wartime troop transport, on a trial run after being refitted for resumption of peacetime service, was torn by an engine-room blast yesterday about 12 miles north of Copeland Island, which lies just off the coast near the mouth of Belfast Bay.

An S O S brought five tugs and a lifeboat carrying doctors and nurses. One of the doctors reported 34 of the injured "terribly burned" and said some probably would die.

Fifteen men were killed outright and three died this morning in hospitals.

The injured, taken off at sea in lifeboats, were put in hospitals in Bangor, Donaghardee and Newtonnards.

Belfast newspapers said only crew members, technicians and a "few officials" of the line — the Pacific Steam Navigation Company — were aboard at the time of the explosion.

Reporters, kept away from the vessel, were told by James Campbell, 23-year-old carpenter for the company:

"You would not know the ship. She is badly mashed up. The bulkheads are twisted and the decks are up."

Crowds gathered at the hospitals but were barred from the dock.

The 17-year-old Reina Del Pacifico — the name is Spanish for "Queen of the Pacific" — voyaged 500,000 miles on war service without sustaining damage.

Reconditioned, she was due in Liverpool next Thursday upon completion of trials. She was to have sailed with 750 passengers on her first post-war civilian voyage Nov. 9, bound for the west coast of the United States and for Chile via Bermuda and the Panama Canal.

Brockville Teacher Treated for Polio

Brockville, Sept. 12 (CP)— Shirley Cross, a public school teacher, is the fifth Brockville person to be treated at Kingston, Ont., isolation hospital for Detective-Sergeant Jock Borland today.

Health authorities said there was no need to close the school at which Miss Cross teaches.

BID TO SETTLE PACKERS' STRIKE APPEARS DOOMED

Approximately 10,500 Workers Expected To Be Idle Across The Dominion

(By The Canadian Press)

Almost 11,000 packinghouse workers were expected to be idle across Canada today and, with settlement attempts making no apparent headway, it appeared certain the strike would continue to spread.

An Ontario Government bid seemed doomed to failure by insistance of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) upon conciliation or arbitration on a Dominion-wide basis.

Cyprien Miron, chief conciliator of the Quebec Labor Department, said in an interview in Montreal that "the Quebec Government will be able to handle any labor dispute which may arise, including the meat-packing strike, without assistance from federal authorities." He called a conference of union officials today.

Nation-wide conciliation would entail waiving by the provinces of their jurisdiction over labor matters temporarily and there was little indication that this waiver would be forthcoming.

Nor did union officials look with favor on the condition in the Ontario settlement plan that workers now on strike return to work while matters in dispute were placed before an arbitrator or conciliator.

The plan, worked out by the Ontario Department of Lands and accepted by Canada Packers and Burns and Companies — two of the companies involved in the strike — was discussed by union officers at Toronto last night, but a union official said the proposed formula was unacceptable.

All those on strike or about to strike are members of the U. P. W. A. Their demand for a basic minimum wage of 92 cents an hour, or an average increase of 17 cents an hour, has been countered by offers from Canada Packers and Burns of a five-cent boost and from Swift of a three-cent increase.

Five new strikes scheduled for today, which will boost the total of strikers to roughly 11,000, are: 1,900 Canada Packers employees at Toronto; 300 at a Canada Packers plant at Hull, Que.; 1,200 Canada Packers employees in the Winnipeg area; 500 Burns workers in Calgary and 400 Burns employees at Kitchener, Ont.

Four new strikes scheduled for today will boost the total of strikers to roughly 10,500. Expected to strike are: 1,900 Canada Packers employees in Toronto; 300 at a Canada Packers plant at Hull, Que.; 1,200 Canada Packers employees in the Winnipeg area, and 500 Burns workers in Calgary.

At Winnipeg, union officials claimed that an estimated 1,000 attended the strike-vote meeting

BID TO SETTLE—Page 5

Food, Fuel, Manpower Bottlenecks In Reconstruction of Europe

London, Sept. 12 —(AP)—John J. McCloy, president of the world bank, said today major bottlenecks remaining in the reconstruction of Europe are "food, fuel, and manpower."

In the second annual report presented to the bank's board of governors, McCloy stated:

"Europe itself must make the major contribution to the solution of all of these problems . . . outside assistance is vital, but it represents a small percentage of the total effort."

Financial reform might be achieved through the following steps:

1. Establishment of an international panel of skilled and impartial technicians to investigate and make recommendations. Such a panel might grow out of present deliberations regarding that Marshall Plan or discussions within the framework of the Economic Commission for Europe.

2. Integration of European reconstruction and production programs on a regional basis. "Europe too impoverished to afford the uneconomic luxury of productive programs which overlap, for reasons of autarchy or otherwise."

3. Gradual removal or lowering of the trade barriers which now hinder the free international flow of goods. "Success in the establishment of an effective International Trade Organization would be a step forward in this direction."

4. Prompt utilization of the productive facilities of Germany for the benefit of the over-all European economy. "The nations of Europe and of the world need the potential exportable output of Germany. Particularly of the Ruhr and its coal mines."

"If European coal production could be increased to pre-war levels, a large part of Europe's production problem would be on its way to solution, and an unnecessary drain upon its dollar resources would be removed."

Reporting on operations, McCloy said the bank thus far had made four loans: France $250,000,000, The Netherlands $195,000,000, Denmark $40,000,000, Luxembourg $12,000,000.

Applications for loans are pending from: Chile $40,000,000, Czechoslovakia $350,000,000, Iran $250,000,000, Mexico $209,000,000, Poland $600,000,000.

Blood on Heads May Indicate Blows, Say Police

Probe Possible Double Murder or Suicide Pact

Toronto, Sept. 12 (CP) — A man and woman found crammed in the luggage compartment of the man's automobile were "murdered," chief coroner Dr. Smirle Lawson said today.

Toronto, Sept. 12. (CP) — Blood at the nostrils and ears of two bodies found crammed in an automobile luggage compartment indicated the possibility of blows on the head, police said today as the preliminary autopsy ended into the lovers-lane deaths of a married man and a young woman.

Both George Vigus, 39, and Iris Scott, 21, had been dead 24 hours when found early today jammed in the compartment of his car, the autopsy showed. Both faces were blackened; which police said could have resulted from suffocation.

Vigus was known to have a wallet with a sum of money in his possession when he left home Wednesday night but when his body was found police could only discover 58 cents and personal papers on him. Police, probing possibilities ranging from a double murder with a robbery motive, to a suicide pact, said the missing wallet indicated the motive if the case turned out to be murder.

The full autopsy will be completed late this afternoon. A spokesman for the Vigus family said they believed it was a case of double murder.

The car containing the fully-clothed bodies was found early today in a parking area overlooking Grenadier Pond in west-end High Park. There were no visible marks of violence on either body, police said and while the clothing was disarranged, it could possibly be from the effects of poisoning as they writhed in the compartment.

Empty Bottle Found

A small empty, bottle covered with brown stains and found on the seat of the coupe is being examined to ascertain whether it contained poison. Earlier, Sergeant of Detectives N. Tinsley, said it "looks like poisoning of some kind."

Earlier speculation that the deaths might have resulted from carbon-monoxide poisoning seemed dispelled by the statement of Detective-Sergeant Jack Borland that there was no evidence to indicate that such fumes had seeped into the compartment.

"I think it would be a very difficult thing to happen," he said.

Earlier speculation that the deaths might have resulted from carbon - monoxide poisoning seemed dispelled by the statement of Detective-Sergeant Jock Borland that there was no evidence to indicate that such fumes had seeped into the compartment.

"I think it would be a very difficult thing to happen," he said.

The parking lot, just off a busy through-road in the west-central section of the huge park, is used frequently by couples in cars and last night several parked there, unaware of the grisly contents of the nearby automobile.

Bodies Fully Clothed

Both bodies were fully clothed when found. As the autopsy opened at noon, Detective Sergeant Jock Borland told reporters he believed it would be possible for the two to have crawled into the compartment and to have snapped the lid shut behind them.

"This might have caused suffocation," he said.

Yesterday as the car stood on the long parking lot, picnic parties went on in the area around it with no one noticing the parked vehicle.

Mrs. Alfred Scott, mother of the dead girl, did not learn the news of her daughter's death until 10 a.m. today.

"This would never have happened if we had a place big enough for my daughter to live at home," she sobbed. "We didn't have a room for her here, so she just had to get a room somewhere else."

The girl's brother, Joseph, was certain the death was not suicide.

"Not her, not her," he said. "We were going to the races tomorrow."

The girl was a competent landscape painter, the family said.

Detective Tinsley said Miss Scott roomed in a house on Erskine Avenue., in Toronto and the car had been identified as one owned by Vigus, a paper box factory foreman who lived on Glenforest Road in North Toronto.

The bodies were discovered after police were called by a park attendant who had been told that the car had been standing in the park all day.

Under Doctor's Care

At the Vigus home reporters were told Mrs. Vigus was under doctor's care and could not be questioned.

Police towed the coupe to the city morgue to enable City Coroner C. N. Mooney and police officials to make a thorough examination of the car trunk under strong lights and to view the bodies as they were removed.

Investigators took the car, the trunk tightly closed, to the back of the building where they screened it from view of newspapermen with police patrol cars. Then, after shooing reporters and photographers back to the street light and closing the door of the morgue, they trained strong lights on the car trunk and started their examination. Police photographers recorded the proceedings.

And so behind the gloomy brick building on dimly-lit Lombard Street in Central Toronto detectives began to find their first definite clues to what at first promised to be Toronto's most bizarre mystery in many months.

Several hours elapsed between the time the location of the car in High Park was reported to police and the discovery of the bodies.

Police recorded the missing Vigus car "recovered" at 8:37 p.m. Thursday night and notified the family. A relative of Vigus went to the scene but returned home for the car keys.

Constable Hatch To Broadcast For Relief Fund

A first hand eye-witness account of the destruction wrought upon an unsuspecting countryside by one of Nature's cruellest weapons, the tornado, will be aired over Radio Station CJBQ between 6.00 and 6.15 p.m. tonight. The broadcast is being aired in aid of the Belleville Merchants - Ontario Intelligencer Tornado Relief Fund.

Chief narrator will be Provincial Police Constable Jack Hatch of Madoc, one of the first officials to arrive upon the scene after the death and destruction-dealing ninety-second wind fury had levelled a swath some 500 yards wide across two counties.

Constable Hatch will tell listeners of his experiences during those first few awful hours after the countryside within the path of the tornado had been laid waste.

He will give a vivid description of the terrible havoc wrought by the fury of the storm, of homes and buildings smashed to atoms and scattered to the four winds, of the pitiful cries of the injured and of the gallant work of rescuers.

Human Interest Stories.

He will relate in terse detail the many human interest stories that followed in the wake of the storm, how the freakish fury entirely destroyed buildings on one side of the road while others a few yards away were untouched.

The miraculous escapes from possible death or serious injury will be described to the listening audience.

This verbal picture of one of the worst storms to visit Hastings County in its history will include many deeds of heroic rescue work and how the people of the county and district are rallying to the assistance of the storm-stricken victims.

Tune in CJBQ at six o'clock tonight and hear this description of the tornado and the dire need for financial assistance its damage has caused.

Mr. Bill Brown, of the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce, will also be associated with the broadcast.

Albert College Holds Initiation For "Freshmen"

It was a hot night last night and several city residents were up late to catch what little breeze there might be when suddenly a cloud of barefoot, pyjama-clad boys hurtled past bound for points east. The amazed Bellevillians were beginning to doubt the strength of their lemonade when the cohort reappeared from the east scurrying like mad for the western environs of the city. This was a bit disconcerting to say the least.

The reason for such shennanigans was made clear this morning when officials at Albert College announced that the annual initiation was in full swing. Last night was the inaugural "party" for the freshmen. The freshmen were called from their beds at the delightful hour of 1.30 a.m. and told that as a special concession on the part of the seniors they would be allowed to run a specified course about the west end of the city as an initial exercise in deep breathing.

With mingled emotions the new students began their "little" workout by trotting from the College to the four corners, up Front Street to the upper bridge, down West Moira, and back to their downy nests in the dormitory. It was an invigorating jaunt designed as a supplement to the conditioning exercises which the football teams started yesterday afternoon.

Continues For Two Days

The initiation will continue for the next two days to be halted temporarily, by a social evening Saturday. The festivities will recommence Wednesday evening when the student court will take over and "punish" those poor unfortunates who have been unlucky enough to disobey the seniors or annoy them in any way. The new partisan jury will be made up of seniors. The prosecuting lawyer, the defending lawyer, as well as the judge, will be freedom-loving seniors. Everything will be done to see that the defendants are given a "fair" trial.

Around the College the boys are seen nattily attired in rolled up pant legs—one up that is, and shirts on backwards. The girls are wearing their hairdo in pigtails; one running shoe and one oxford give their feet that "runabout" look. All students are wearing name plates with their home centre featured alongside the tag.

Everything is being done in a spirit of fun to make the new students feel at home—(nothing like this ever happened at home). If you happened to see similar sights as those on exhibition last night you can go back to your lemonade reassured that the optics are still functioning on several cylinders and that the lemonade is made with lemons.

Body of Section Foreman Found Near Bonarlaw

Missing since Wednesday noon, the body of 50-year-old John MacLaren, C.P.R. section foreman at Bonarlaw, was discovered along the banks of the Crowe River this morning by members of the Blairton section crew. The body was found three miles north of Bonarlaw, and near a bridge on the railroad.

Following the report on Wednesday of Mr. MacLaren being missing he was the object of an extensive search by residents of the district and by O.P.P. Officer Jack Hatch of Madoc, who assisted in the search. The body was brought to Belleville today noon where it was reported a postmortem would be conducted to determine if there was possible foul play.

Mr. MacLaren was married and lived at Bonarlaw.

Hermon Hodgens, 78, Threshed For 55 Years, Same Separator Used for Past Forty Years

A 40-year-old wooden threshing separator which has threshed in the neighborhood of two million bushels of grain and owned by a man who has been in the threshing business for 55 years, is still doing good work in the Plainfield area, 12 miles north of Belleville.

The old separator is a familiar sight to farmers in the North Thurlow district and this year completed the season's threshing in a manner which according to its owner "was as good, if not better, than that capable of the new machines." Its owner is Mr. Hermon Hodgens, 78, of Plainfield, who was on the road as a thresher for 55 years. For the past three years the outfit has been operated by a son, Eevertt Hodgens.

Steam was just displacing horses as motor power for threshing when Mr. Hodgens purchased his first thresher back in 1889. He recalls that his was one of the first portable steam engines in the district, and that a boiler explosion in the area had made farmers unwilling to have a steam outfit on their farms.

Operated by Tractor

Although the Hodgens outfit is now operated by a gasoline tractor, Mr. Hodgens still claims that steam is the ideal power for threshing. Shortage of labor to assist in operation of the steam thresher, caused the Hodgens to to turn to gasoline during the war years. Three men are required to operate a steam thresher while two or even one man can successfully operate one driven by gasoline.

Stook threshing now popular among farmers has resulted in a poorer quality of grain according to the veteran thresher. "Grain hardens better in the straw than it does in the bin," he stated. "But it is all stook threshing now."

Mr. Hodgens also felt that the combine would never displace the thresher in the Hastings area. Combines work better in wheat than in oats which are largely grown in Hastings, and were also meant for large fields.

Grew More Grain

Farmers in the olden days grew more grain than at present, it was stated. With larger dairy herds being kept the need for greater quantities of hay had resulted in less grain and more hay being grown. Also with the exception of last year, recent seasons had been poor grain years.

In all Mr. Hodgens' 55 years as a thresher he has owned only three separators, the first two being of the hand feeder and straw carrier type. His present 40-year-old machine was bought when self feeders and straw blowers were first introduced.

But he has strengthened many weak parts of this present old machine and a grain weigher and bagger has been installed.

"But the old machine can still thresh its 1,500 bushels of grain per day, and it will do a better pob and do it a lot more quietly than many of the new ones," he said.

Ridicules Idea Attlee or Bevin Will Resign

Toronto, Sept. 12 —(CP) — Commonwealth Labor leaders, terming the British Labor Government one of the major revolutions of history, called at a gathering here last night for an end to interference so that it may have a chance to work.

Morgan Phillips, General Secretary of the British Labor party and principal speaker at the rally, ridiculed the idea that either Prime Minister Attlee or Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin would resign.

"I find that idea popular in the press here, and I would say to the American statesmen who would like to interfere in the internal affairs of Great Britain to leave their hands off."

The meeting, sponsored by the C.C.F. marked the close of the second Commonwealth Conference of Labor parties.

Mr. Phillips told the cheering audience that yesterday's Labor victory in the Liverpool by-election proved that the public wanted the party.

Only 4 P.C. Spent on Luxuries

Blaming rising prices in the United States for the early exhaustion of the American loan, he deplored "a terrible impression that the loan was spent on luxuries," Only four per cent had been spent on American films, the only luxury on the list of purchases.

M. J. Coldwell, National C.C.F. leader referred to the recent visit of Prime Minister Mackenzie King 'to the place from which he came — looking backward as Liberals and Tories always do, while we met in Toronto looking ahead."

Terming the Commonwealth Socialist parties "the most important political trend not only in the Commonwealth but in the world," Mr. Coldwell said he knew "of no country more hidden by monopolistic capital than Canada. We have to supplant it with the peoples' organizations to build the foundation of the greatest society of our time."

Patrick J. Kennelly, federal secretary of the Australian Labor Party and Public Works Minister in the Victoria State Government, warned workers against getting their legislation enacted by parties not backed by labor, which would give power into the hand of those parties.

Miss Alice Bacon, British Labor member of parliament for Leeds, said critics of the Labor government ignored the fact the government had taken over after "the disruption of the worst war the world has ever seen" and that "we also had to clean up the muddle and mismanagement of 20 years before the war ...."

Hurricane Sweeps Atlantic With 143 M.P.H. Winds

Miami, Fla., Sept. 12 —(AP)— The Atlantic storm became a full-fledged hurricane with roaring 143-mile-an-hour winds today, the United States weather bureau reported at 12:45 p.m. It was classified as "very dangerous."

Barometric pressure at the centre had dropped to 28.85 inches.

A Navy hurricane hunter prepared to fly into the disturbance later today to determine temperatures and vertical air blasts as a part of the research into a plan to "bust" hurricanes with dry ice and other chemicals.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Sept. 12 —(CP)— Action slowed down in the third hour on the stock exchange today but prices continued within narrow range as stocks traded listlessly on fractions for the industrials and a few points for the mining issues. Eldona, still in the front, turned over about 130,000 shares on a loss of 6 cents.

The exchange's noon index listed industrials down .14 to 165.51, golds .28 to 111.33, base metals up .09 to 80.36 and western oils .42 to 26.24. Volume for the first three hours was 773,000 shares.

Heavier traders in the mining lists were Ashley down 2, Eldona 6, Homer up 3 while better issues were Anglo Rouyn, Consolidated Beattie, Croinor, Dexter, East Sullivan, Louvicourt, Waite Amulet, Sherritt.

Papers eased off for the industrials on fractional losses for most issues trading while the utilities saw Bell down 2 at $178, C.P.R. 3-8 at 13 5-8; oils were off for Imperial 1-8 and International 1-8, while Walkers was off 1-4 at 23.

HOGS

Toronto, Sept. 12 —(CP) — Grade A dressed bacon hogs were unchanged at Stratford to farmers $23.25, to truckers $23.40 delivered, in market reporting today.

Children Will Be Welcomed At Belleville Fair

It won't be the fault of outlying municipalities and school boards if children of Hastings County do not visit the Belleville Exhibition which gets under way here on Sept. 22 through to Sept. 24.

Already, Fair Boards officials report, the municipality of Deseronto has charted two Belleville buses to bring school children of that village to the "fair."

Certain municipalities of the northern part of the county have also signified their intention of bringing the school kiddies to the Exhibition en masse. Children's Day will be Tuesday or Wednesday of Fair Week and special entertainment is being arranged for their benefit.

The fame of the fair is apparently far-reaching for the General Manager of the Eastern Division of the Canadian Pacific Railway has contacted secretary Erle Denyes with the query as to which will be the best day to attend.

Officials of the Exhibition today stated that all school children will be cordially welcomed at the Fair and they urge those in charge of schools or municipalities to arrange that these children be afforded the opportunity to see one of the best exhibitions of its kind in Eastern Ontario.

SEPT. 12th

TO THE CITIZENS OF BELLEVILLE—

ONE OF THE MOST WORTHY of all appeals presented to the citizens of Belleville is the Salvation Army Red Shield appeal. Your donation makes possible the continuation of the many services which mean so much to this city. As Chief Magistrate, I am in a position to fully appreciate these services which include Visitations and Services in jails; and in homes for the aged; work among needy families, free meals for the destitute, hospital visits, rehabilitation of ex-prisoners, work in police court, and many others.

The objective of the drive is $5,000 and this sum is urgently needed to maintain this ever expanding work.

THE CAMPAIGN OPENS MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 15th., and I strongly urged that you make every effort to have a generous donation ready for the volunteer canvasser who calls on you, and I know that any donation, large or small, will be sincerely appreciated.

Industrial Growth of City

Belleville industrial development in the past few years is not only a matter of local knowledge. The news has travelled and is well known in the industrial world. Last week at a meeting of industrialists of the city and district the statement was made that a Belleville committee visiting in Ottawa was told that Belleville per capita had the greatest industrial expansion of any city in Canada.

On all sides are the marks of progress, the great increase of business, the construction of houses and the insistent demand for more and more housing accommodation, the coming to Belleville of two great organizations and the building of a great modern plant by a company which has been long a part of the industrial life of Belleville, the crowds on the streets and in the shops, and the great flow of people back and forth between factory and home and between home and the store.

These developments are of the kind which become generally known in the business world. They are apparent also to the resident who has long been here, even more so than to the newcomer.

The marks of industrial growth are upon this city. They are the clear signs which herald a bigger and greater future for the community.

Belleville occupies an important place in Eastern Ontario where developments in the future will likely fill a large space. This community has had in the past a substantial development on which a part of this bigger future can be built.

Recognition in other places of the progress of Belleville is most encouraging to those who have always had confidence in the city's destiny of ultimately being a very important centre in this part of Ontario.

No Pleasure Driving in U.K.

Britons will walk more and more. The Government has decided that there shall be no more pleasure driving. Such a step is necessary in the view of Parliament to bring relief from the economic crisis which has struck the British people a heavy blow.

But though the blow is heavy, Britons, the Government knows, will meet it as they have met every crisis and will come out on top.

The Briton has always been accustomed to walking and even in the day of heavy motor traffic never gave up the use of his feet and legs in locomotion. Every reader of the English novels knows how much the Britons were accustomed to walking on the lanes and rural roads.

Christian Science Monitor has a word to say about "feet to the fore" and points out that Americans may see in this "the ultimate possible horror" used as Americans are to streamlined locomotion. But the blow won't knock the Briton off his British feet. Britons have stoutly trodden their way "through dappled sunlight and pearly mist through the coppice and over the moor, up the hill, down the dale to Banbury Cross and Robin Hood's barn." The Monitor ends its comment with these words "So now it's out of the Daimler and on to 'Shank's Mare' for the whole nation. British pleasures may be measured in simple foot-pounds, but they're still there for the tramping."

There is boundless admiration for this race whose influence has done so much to widen the bounds of freedom across the world, to open up continents and the water routes and in fact to bring in the modern world. So now when it is found necessary to walk instead of riding for pleasure — to save — there the Briton is with his will and ability to walk and like it.

Smash the Hurricane!

One of the great tests of modern ages will be the attempt to smash the hurricane which has caused so much havoc, wreckage and loss of life.

The hurricane is elemental, it has been basic in nature as the outcome of the vast physical forces on the rampage.

Man has smashed the atom and that is one of the achievements of all time. Breaking the hurricane forces up is now before the Army and Navy of the United States and the General Electric Company. Every reader knows what is going on in the world of science for newspapers find a profound interest by their readers in man's attempts to control the raw and wild forces of nature.

It was announced the other day that an attempt is about to be made to crack the titanic vortex known as a hurricane. The way is by making the hurricane drop all the vast tonaage of moisture or rain it carries.

The step to be taken will be the now well-known one of dropping small pellets of carbon dioxide or other chemicals to precipitate snow drops which will finally turn to raindrops. Numerous experiments have been tried out successfully to make rain out of the moisture in the cloud. Now science plans to take the water out of the hurricane and to wipe out the tempest.

Man has come to a profound knowledge of the making of rain. On this fact the New York Times remarks that "Some years ago it was discovered that unless there is a nucleus, something around which the moisture can wrap itself, there can be neither snowflake nor droplets. The rest now seems simple. Little 'seeds' of carbon dioxide snow are scattered from a plane as such nuclei. In Australia considerable quantities of rain were thus precipitated earlier in the year during a drought. Will the same procedure work with a hurricane and will the hurricane simply disappear? If so science will have scored a dramatic, large-scale success in controlling one type of weather and the West Indies, Florida and other southeastern states will no longer have reason to dread visitations of wind and rain that annually blot out lives and property worth hundreds of millions."

The march of science is one of the most majestic aspects of this age. Man's knowledge is getting into the very construction of things and as knowledge grows, his authority over nature will increase.

The human being is still in the hands of nature for he being a product of nature must depend upon nature. But man has extended his sway over the elemental things as the triumphs of medicine and chemistry disclose.

Man has been taking nature apart in a sense but he is yet fearful of atomic energy and very careful of it. Yet the miracles he has achieved in modern science point to further and further unfolding of nature's secrets.

Snit and Spiv

Among the new words getting into common circulation, Snit and Spiv are running well up. To get in a snit means to get in a tizzy, and a Spiv is of course a person who wangles things, a finagler.

People's interests can be gauged by the number of words they have for various things. Thus the French, who are reputed to go in for love, have many words for it. A Spiv is a natural concomitant to controls and regulations. Success tends to depend today less on achievement in the old-fashioned sense than on the artifice of being able to put pressure on the brother-in-law of the gent who has ten pounds of nails, or an apartment, or the say-so about some permit.

Snit is also a natural development of the times. Even allowing for the oddity that most generations have felt they were especially put upon, the fission forties can hardly be classed as remarkably cheerful. The world is in a snit, with possibly the mooching Spiv alone affecting a smirk. — The Printed Word.

Take a "Zigzag" Trip

Too many people go on motoring trips in which they have a definite goal and they plunge towards it.

The really enjoyable motor trip is the "zigzag" drive, which you start on without any definite objective, no particular time set to get anywhere. The recipe for such a trip is to take a road map, pick out a route that goes here and there, back from the beaten paths, where you know dust will not cloud the landscape.

A definite objective is one kind of motoring, the other and far more enjoyable is the one in which things turn up unexpectedly.—Moose Jaw Times-Herald.

UNLUCKY FISHERMAN

Fished the livelong day.
 Never got a bite.
Rowed around the bay.
 Bait was never right.
Changed from worms to flies
 Seeking what they'd like.
Not a bass would rise;
 Never got a strike.

Tried the morning sun,
 Then the afternoon.
Thought I'd have some fun
 With a shining spoon.
Minnow on the hook.
 Pickerel or pike
Wouldn't even look;
 Never got a strike.

How to say it now,
 Bothers, I admit.
Men and fish somehow
 Differ quite a bit.
Here's a certain way
 They are not alike:
Many and many a day
 Fish refuse to strike.

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

What archbishop is primate of England?

The title of the Archbishop of York is "Primate of England" and that of the Archbishop of Canterbury is "Primate of All England." The annual salary of the Primate of England, who is the second highest clerical officer in the Church of England, is 9,000 pounds, while that of the Primate of All England is 15,000 pounds.

In several instances the Primate of England has become the Primate of All England. A similar situation exists in the Anglican church in Ireland. The Archbishop of Dublin is "Primate of Ireland" and the Archbishop of Armagh is "Primate of All Ireland."

The King of England is by law the head of the Church of England and has the right, with the counsel and assent of the Assembly of the Church, to appoint all archbishops and bishops. One of the functions of the Primate of All England is to administer the oath at the coronation of English sovereigns. He ranks next to members of the Royal Family and takes precedence over all other peers.

In 597 A.D., when Aethelbert was King of Kent, St. Augustine arrived at Canterbury, established a monastery, founded a diocese and began a cathedral. The Kentish King and most of his subjects were pagans, but his wife, Bertha, was a Christian. Aethelbert soon embraced Christianity and 10,000 of his people were baptized on Christmas day. Since that time Canterbury has been the ecclesiastical metropolis of England. St. Augustine received episcopal consecration from the Archbishop of Arles in Gaul and is regarded as the first Archbishop of Canterbury. The exact number of his successors is not known for certain. Geoffrey Francis Fisher who became Archbishop of Canterbury in 1943 is generally considered the 97th, although some authorities regard him as the 97th and others the 99th.

Only two have resigned — Randall Thomas Davidson in 1928 and Cosmo Gordon Lang in 1942 —both because of advanced age. Frederick Temple (1896-1903) and William Temple (1942-1944) have been the only father and son to be Primates of All England.

During a famous controversy with the Crown Archbishop Thomas A. Becket was murdered at Canterbury and four years later King Henry II went to the scene of his murder to do penance. The fame of Canterbury was great increased after Becket was canonized and a shrine to him was established. For centuries Canterbury was the destination of thousands of pilgrims every year. Geoffrey Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales" consist of stories imagined by the poet to have been told by a group of pilgrims on the way to Canterbury. The easy, ambling gait adopted by mounted pilgrims to St. Thomas a Becket's shrine came to be known as the Canterbury pace or gallop and the term survives in "canter."

These religious pilgrimages were stopped in 1538 by Henry VIII and about the same time the Archbishops of Canterbury ceased to be Catholics and became Protestants. A round chapel in the Canterbury Cathedral known as "Becket's Crown" contains the marble "chair of St. Augustine" in which the Archbishops are still enthroned.

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

Atlanta, Sept. 12. (AP)—Fire gutted the warehouse occupied by the Peaslee-Gaulbert Corporation and a subsidiary last night, causing damage estimated at more than $1,000,000.

The block-long, five-storey brick-and-concrete warehouse owned by H. G. Hastings was written off by the owner as a total loss.

Ten firemen were overcome by smoke.

Prime Minister Has No Thoughts Of Retirement

By GEORGE KITCHEN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Sept. 11 —(CP)— Prime Minister Mackenzie King indicated today he has no immediate thoughts of retirement and said "I am just going to keep right on working."

Returning to the capital from a two-day visit to his old home in the Kitchener, Ont., area, Mr. King was asked by The Canadian Press whether there were any developments in his plans for retirement, indicated in the 1945 election campaign.

"Oh, I have nothing to say about that," said the Prime Minister. "I am just going to keep right on working."

At the same time, he also discounted speculation about the possibility of a fall session of parliament.

"I haven't seen those reports," he said, adding: "and I haven't any thought of a fall session."

Wearing a grey suit with a red rose in his buttonhole, Mr. King looked to be in the best of health as he stepped down from his private car at the rear of the forenoon Montreal-Ottawa train. He had spent a day on private business in Montreal, after leaving Kitchener.

He chatted briskly and enthusiastically about his home town visit and said it was the "most pleasant visit of my life."

"I don't know when I've enjoyed a holiday so much," he said. "I saw all the old places and met lots of old friends. It's surprising to see the changes. Kitchener was just a town when I left it and now it's a city."

He paused on the platform to wave his cane and shout "Thank you for the ride" to the locomotive engineer.

"Yes," he continued, "it was a source of wonderful inspiration to see the kindly feelings of the people there after all these years."

His last visit to Kitchener was when the King and Queen were there in 1939 but it was all of 20 years since he had had a chance to meet the people.

All in all, he felt "much better" physically for the holiday. It was a "most delightful" trip. He had visited his "beautiful" old home and it was "remarkable" what had been done to recondition the place. It was like a "real park" with flowers and neatly-tended grounds. He also had visited his mother's home.

"I never realized before what a foundation a home is to one in after years," said Mr. King. "You only begin to realize it late in life."

He said he had not yet been able to make a start on his memoirs. He would like to, but had been "too busy."

Address Dr. William Brady, care of this newspaper.)

I CALL IT TWADDLE

A reader quotes from a book she had just finished reading, the following paragraph which the reader thinks, upholds the pet theories of Doc Brady — with which the reader and her family agree:

"Nearly everyone has a cold. J. and I tremble for our health record and wish we'd never come. I'd almost forgotten that such things as colds existed. In the wilderness we have never once caught cold from being wet or chilled. The Indians, too, inadequately dressed and nourished and exposed constantly to terrific weather conditions, apparently never have colds or contagious diseases unless they get 'outside' to some settlement and pick up a germ."

Thank you, yes, that observation of Mrs. Stanwell-Fletcher, from whose book Driftwood Valley this quotation and others in this column a year ago, were selected upholds the truth—doesn't the testimony of every one who has experienced exposure to cold and wet do so?

You have to creep to the fireside to get from the old geezers dozing there any contrary notions about exposure to dampness, chill, sudden change etc.

Or if you like the sound of "medical authority," "eminent specialist," "leading physician" you can find some germs of purest paste in medical textbooks.

Another correspondent said she asked her pediatrician whether there is any connection between wet feet chilling, insufficient clothes, sudden change and the respiratory infections. The child specialist agreed that "all that is a lot of hooey, but he can't tell mothers so, for they would drop him and take their children to another pediatrician who believes drafts and the like cause respiratory disease, pneumonia . . . ."

That's what Snobs get for their easy money when they take their little ones to a "specialist" because the poor ignorant customers imagine a doctor who puts up a fancy front and calls himself specialist knows more than an "ordinary" doctor does. And these gullible customers squawk more loudly than anyone else about the high cost of medical care.

Even the "eminent medical authorities" who still entertain propositions have grown more cautious how they word the "statements" they give the manufacturer to use in his sales promotion. Nowadays it is embarrassing to be caught with your neck exposed.

In almost any case where the diagnosis is obscure a quack can cover his ignorance of the nature of the trouble by some vague allusion to changeable weather, dampness, exposure, insufficient clothing—if the customer is dumb enough to take such twaddle in lieu of a diagnosis or a frank admission that the doctor does not know as yet what illness it is.

I hope readers of this column will not let these trick "specialists" bunco them as easily as that.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Muscle Bound

For over a year I have been working with dumbbells, barbells, high bar etc., and have reduced my weight forty pounds I was pretty fat. Have increased my chest measurement 5 inches. Now our mutual friend M. Todd has me worried about getting muscle-bound ... please give your opinion and explain what "muscle-bound" means ... It seems to me I am more flexible now than I ever was when I carried so much fat ... (S.C.)

Answer —Overtraining, excessive exercise concentrating on such mere stunts as you mention may make muscles tense and inelastic, heavy and slow to react, and so a handicap to the victim in a contest with a real athlete. The plight of the big-muscle freak is commonly called "muscle-bound." Muscle weighs more, but bulks less than fat — a muscle-bound man can't float in sea water and has to work too hard to remain afloat in fresh water. He is likely to have a short life. I don't savvy your increased chest measurement — with actual reduction of weight. In fact I don't believe the figures are accurate.

Harridan

Your opinion of a grandmother who permits child 2 1-2 years old to guzzle beer with her instead of fruit juice drinks.

(Mrs. W.E.)

Answer — Such a person is unfit to have guardianship of a child.

Starch and Protein

...main advice in his book is not to mix high starches with high proteins in the same meal. Please indicate your opinion to settle a discussion... (E.J.A.)

Answer — Wheat, the staff of life, contains starch and protein I know of no physiological reason why one should not eat a sandwich when hungry — that would be bread (high starch) with meat (high protein). I have not seen the book you mention, but the "wrong combination" idea is generally the part of the charlatan's sales talk that knocks over the Great American Wiseacre.

Council Asks Planning Engineers To Submit Plan for all Property That Should be Annexed to City

The firm of Meadows and Critoph, town planning engineers under contract with the city will be asked by members of council to submit a plan at Monday evening's council meeting showing all property adjoining the city which should be annexed.

This was decided by council members during committee meeting Thurrday evening when the above recommendation was passed. the motion also asking that the contract between the city and Meadows and Critoph be tabled at Monday's meeting. No further remuneration will be paid to the firm until explanations are received.

During 1946 Meadows and Critoph were retained by the city to prepare a master plan of Belleville and later were engaged to include the surrounding area into the plan. Thus far no detailed report has been received from the firm.

Council will also ask an accounting from Old Home Week Committee, according to a recommendation passed in committee the recommendation asked the committee to submit to council forthwith a complete statement of all receipts and expenditures in connection with the Old Home Week celebration. The question had been raised at the last council meeting, but there was no discussion on the matter

Will Repair Patches

Due to the inability of contractors to secure the necessary cement to lay new sidewalk in the Front Street area, it is possible that the city public works will repair patches of sidewalk thus preventing surface water getting into basements of stores and damaging merchandise. If an yof the sidewalk is thus replaced the work will have to be paid for by the owners of the property affected and at the completion of the work.

The city solicitor, with Alderman Armstrong and City Engineer Charles Mott, were appointed a special committee to investigate the condition of a retaining wall on Lingham Street, and report as to the city's responsibility regarding the settling of the foundation of Mr. Young's property. The Public Works Department was authorized to proceed with the laying of tile in an open ditch on 150 Dufferin with the owner, Mr. John Bonn to pay for materials and labor used.

The Stewart-Warner-Alemite was granted permission to install gasoline pumps on their property for the servicing of their own vehicles. Members passed a recommendation asking that the by-law prohibiting the blowing of train whistles within the municipality and which has been given two readings in council be forwarded to the Transport Board as instructed.

Want Agreement Tabled.

The city solicitor was asked to advise council regarding the contents of the agreement made between the city and the late J. B. Boyce regarding the filling in of the water raceway between the Boyce garage property and the island in the Moira River. The treasurer was given authority to purchase Canada Savings Bonds for city employees who may desire to purchase bonds and pay for them out of wages.

Approval was given to the application of Ray Bush to erect a service station at the corner of Wilkins and Sidney Streets, while a street light was ordered placed opposite 23 Stone Street midway between Baldwin and Moira Street, East.

As suggested by the city auditor council passed a recommendation asking that arrangements be made with the bank to receive deposits after regular banking hours. Also immediate action will be taken to collect outstanding accounts receivable for private work. In the future a deposit will be required before such work is commenced.

To Erect Signs.

Approval was given to application for the erection of Neon signs tion Street, the installation to tion Street, the instillation to meet with the approval of the city engineer. Owing to the impossibility of obtaining vitrified tile for sanitary sewer, contracting firms of McCrory and Diamond Construction were given permission to use concrete tile in the construction of certain sanitary sewers.

According to the city engineer, concrete sanitary sewer tile have proven satisfactory in other municipalities.

Financial Aid Only Required By Storm Victims

Perhaps the busiest men in Coe Hill village today are those comprising the Special Relief Committee for tornado victims headed by Reeve Clarke Rollins.

This committee have worked tirelessly since a few hours after the tornado struck and have not lessened their efforts since to try and bring some semblance of relief to those people rendered homeless by the storm.

The Coe Hill Fund today amounts to $4,900 according to Andy Perry secretary of the fund at Coe Hill and donations are coming in in a steady stream. Present requirement of the fund is for financial assistance only, he said.

Reeve Rollins has entered into negotiations for the purchases of four farms with buildings, and if these negotiations succeed, it is expected that four of the homeless families will be housed by the middle of next week. The cost of such properties, however, runs into thousands of dollars, and right now money is the vital requirement.

Coe Hill villagers are solidly behind the Fund and are doing a splendid job. Thousands of visitors thronged the area last Sunday viewing the destruction wrought by the tornado. Upwards of $700 were left with the Fund by these spectators.

Belleville thus far has contributed over $1,200 to the Belleville Merchants — Ontario Intelligencer Tornado Relief Fund. Residents here are falling in line with the appeal, in a splendid manner but much more money is needed. Every little helps.

39th Wedding Anniversary Celebrated

Ivanhoe — A very pleasant surprise was tendered Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw on Tuesday evening by their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shaw, it being the occasion of the former's 39th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Shaw (nee Mabel Hollinger) was born at Moira and has spent all her life within five miles of her birthplace. Mr. Shaw was born at Picton, Prince Edward County, but moved to Huntingdon when he was two years of age. They were married at the bride's home at Moira on September 8th, 1908, by the late Rev. George I. Ross, Methodist minister at West Huntingdon. They have one son, Milton, at home on the farm with his father and one grandson, Wayne.

Made Without Knowledge.

The surprise tendered Mr. and Mrs. Shaw was complete in that all the arrangements for the occasion were made without their knowledge. On the anniversary day they were taken for a motor trip to Coe Hill by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Prest, who on Saturday, September 6th., celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary. Accompanying them was Mr. Gardiner Mitz of Holloway, Mrs. Prest's father who is within three weeks of his 91st birthday.

The party viewed the devastation wrought by the tornado that swept that part of North Hastings County ten days ago and took supper ataBass Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Prest kept their guests entertained until almost 10.00 p.m. when they escorted them to their own home which they found beautifully decorated with blue and white streamers and inhabited by some 65 guests who had come to join them in the happy occasion of their anniversary.

Friends were present from Frankford, Stirling, Marsh Hill, Zion Hill, Holloway, Mount Pleasant, Moira and Ivanhoe. Among them were the best man of 39 years ago Mr. Robert Shaw, brother of the groom and Mrs. Warren Arbuckle, one of the flower girls. The dining room table looked cheery with its silver and streamers and a three-storey wedding cake adorned with 39 candles.

Reeve Extends Congratulations.

Mr. Fred Campbell of Foxboro, brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and reeve of Sidney township, after extending congratulations capably presided over the following program, community singing with Mrs. Joseph Williams of Frankford at the piano; a reading, "The Farmer's Wife," by Miss Mariel Prest; piano music by Mrs. Joseph Williams, and a reading, "A Married Love-Letter" by Mrs. Clifford Mitz.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw received a large number of costly and useful gifts indicating the high esteem in which they are held by their many friends.

Speeches of congratulation were given by Mrs. Harper Rollins, Stirling; Mr. Gardiner Mitz, Holloway; Mr. John Gay, Ivanhoe; Mr. Blake Ketcheson, Frankford; Mr. George Foster, Moira, and Mr. Milton Shaw, Ivanhoe. The happiness of the occasion was materially increased by the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Blake Ketcheson also celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Saturday September 6th, and that Mr. and Mrs. Berson Mitz were to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary on the following day, September 10th.

Toasts Proposed.

After the toast to the King, Mrs. Charles A. Mitz proposed a toast to the bride and Mr. Harper Rollins a toast to the groom, to which Mr. and Mrs. Shaw gave individual replies. Refreshments were served about midnight when the guests returned to their homes after wishing Mr. and Mrs. Shaw many more years of happy married life.

BID TO SETTLE

last night, with 98 per cent of the assembly voting for strike action. And signs were that the strike would spread still more in the mid-western city, with 700 Winnipeg employees of Burns and Company slated to take a strike vote today.

A W.P.W.A. spokesman said the Toronto vote was 1,053 in favor of a walkout at 6 p.m. today. The remainder in the Toronto plant did not vote. At Hull, workers voted last night for a walkout on the same deadline which will affect 300 employees, of which 181 are union members.

Meanwhile, predictions of meat shortages and other repercussions poured in from many points. At Ottawa, some government meat authorities forecast a blanket disappearance of meat within two weeks, if the Dominion-wide walkout continued. In Edmonton, Vancouver and Galgary a Stampede of housewives yesterday depleted retail stocks, forcing many butchers to close by noon.

Shipments of meat to hungry Britain will "automatically dry up," said one Ottawa official, while a run on such protein dishes such as eggs, macaroni and fish were predicted.

Women Gab too Much

QUESTION:— "I'm a furniture salesman. I deal with women most of the time. Here's my trouble — women just don't know their own minds. They come to buy without knowing what price they can afford to pay. They look for months sometimes before they buy. Can't anything be done to train women to shop and not gab?" — "S.T." Winnipeg, Man.

ANSWER:— "Quite true, but most money is hard earned. Before spending it, most of us want to be certain that we are getting full value for it. That's why we look so often before leaping. You'll just have to put up with the little women and their shrewdness. They're your meal ticket — why not try to understand them?

McNABB'S

To the hemline controversy, we say

GO YOUR OWN SWEET WAY

This is our viewpoint on a fashion season so debatable that even the men are talking about it! At McNabb's we believe what we have been saying right along is truer than ever: Sheep are out of fashion, and the day of fashion herding is done. The new clothes are so varied, abundant and intriguing that you have the opportunity of a lifetime to dress to suit your own looks, likes and life.

Take the much discussed hemline, for instance. We don't think for a second that well-dressed women will be hobbled on the streets of Belleville by suit skirts a mere foot from the ground. Actually (though skirts are generally longer) the hemline question isn't just one of more inches, at all. Skirt lengths will differ according to the occasion, fabric, silhouette and—most of all—you. And believe us the shoulder pad question is a personal thing, too.

The silhouette is not one but many as we indicate by this sampling from Montreal arrivals. The hand-span waist is important but wrap-around coats and suits deny it. The voluminous skirt looks new but so does the straight and narrow or the figure revealing sheath. And a fabulous variety in line and length to wear after 5 P.M.; make it possible to achieve precisely the degree of formality you want.

It's all part of a new era in fashion, an emancipation from fashion dictatorship. In a season of such leeway, it's a good idea to choose your clothes at a fashion store of authority and a high standard of taste. We advise you to go you own sweet way when you select from our collections, which are more than ever dedicated to you, the individual. Because at McNabb's Belleville,

YOU ARE THE FASHION

The names of the attendants, headed by Princess Margaret, who will wait on Princess Elizabeth at the ceremony in Westminster Abbey were announced last night from Buckingham Palace.

Cannifton-Corbyville H. & S. Assoc. Honors Graduating Class at Banquet

Cannifton - Corbyville Home and School Association were hosts to one of the largest gatherings ever to take place in the school on Monday night when 125 guests sat down to a banquet in honor of the graduates of the 1946-1947 class. The six girl graduates were a pretty picture in their long white dresses and orange corsages and were seated with Mr. G. Locklin, principal of the school, at a special table in the centre of the large new classroom.

The long tables with their white cloths and gleaming silver were a perfect setting for the centrepieces of orange marigolds and green candles. Much credit for the lovely arrangements goes to Mrs. Earle Gilbert, convener, Mrs. A. Boyd, Mrs. A. Eves, Mrs. N. Curlette.

Fine Supper.

The program started with a bountiful supper prepared under the supervision of Mrs. J. Latchford, convener, with a committee of Mrs. F. Furmidge, Mrs. D. Brenton, Mrs. A. McFarlane and Mrs. S. Douglas. Assisting with the serving were the pupils of Grade 8: Grace Furmidge, Betty Lyons, Patsy Gilbert, Audrey Archibald, Ellis Hinze, Jimmy Fox, Sam Morgan, Bert Latchford, also four girls from Grade 7: Gladys Clapp, Barbara Williams, Arlene Bradshaw and Ruby McPherson. All the girls wore orange aprons trimmed with green. The school colors are orange, black and green and this color scheme was carried out in the supper itself as much as possible.

During the supper a sing song was enjoyed under the leadership of the chairman, Mrs. R. Plumpton, president of the association, with Mr. Alec Gordon of Belleville at the piano.

Radio System Installed.

The main project this year of the H. and S. A. was the financing of a radio system and this with the aid of a special program from CJBQ was presented by the president on behalf of the H. and S. Association to Mr. Clarence Bird, Chairman of Trustees and Mr. Gordon Locklin, Principal of the school. This radio system with a public address system combined has an inter-class hook-up in which each class can be tuned in individually or all classes collectively.

Another project of the H. and S. A. was the awarding of prizes to the two pupils in each room making the best general progress last year and these were presented on behalf of the H. and S. A. by Mr. Geo. McDonald. Winners were:

Junior grades — Joan McDonald, Donald Forsythe.

Intermediate grades — Margaret McLeod, Jimmie Palmer.

Senior grade — Audrey Lidster, Clare Reid.

Diplomas Presented

Mr. Gordon Locklin then presented the entrance diplomas to the graduates, and on behalf of the H. & S.A., Mrs. Plumpton presented them each with a beautiful compact saying that this was the first public acknowledgment that they were "growing up." Mr. Locklin offered a toast to his girl graduates and this was responded to by Miss Audrey Lidster, class valedictorian. All speakers during the evening paid tribute to the graduates who are: Miss Rose Marie Latchford, scholarship winner; Miss Audrey Lidster, Miss Arlie McPherson, Miss Peggy Plumpton, Miss Betty Kellar, Miss Betty McFarlane.

A toast to the H. & S.A. was proposed by Mr. Don Milton and was responded to by Mrs. Harry Croll, past president of the Queen Mary H. & S A. of Belleville who stressed the importance of H. & S work and urged everyone to take as active a part as possible and keep H. & S. a growing organization.

A toast to the School proposed by Mr. Alden Boyd brought many hilarious reminders of school in by-gone days. This was responded to by Mr. Clarence Bird on behalf of the Trustee Board.

In a toast to "Thurlow" by Mr. Roscoe Robson M.P.P. for East Hastings, the progress of education in Thurlow township was explained and further details on this matter were brought to light by Reeve Harry Harrison in his response.

Inspector Guest Speaker

Guest speaker of the evening was Mr. Roy Macklem, Inspector of Public Schools for South Hastings. In a very entertaining and interesting address, Mr. Macklem stressed the points of importance for the children of today and tomorrow. He stated that fine teachers and good buildings with adequate heating, lighting and water systems were necessary in modern schools. He pointed out the fact that man is capable of crossing the ocean in six hours and yet with such an accomplishment achieved there are some rural schools where a pupil can scarcely get a clean and decent drink of water.

He also mentioned that a board of trustees, one which knew their business as a whole could help greatly in making better rural schools. Among other points he advocated a change in school curriculum, and also praised the work of H. & S A. in rural schools.

Music Enjoyed

Miss Norma Arkles, of Queen Alexandra School, Belleville, sang two solos, "Into the Night" and "Come to the Fair," accompanied by Mr. Alec Gordon who played a very fine piano solo "The Dance of the Elves," which was very much appreciated by all present.

On behalf of the H. & S.A., Mr. Norman Curlette thanked the guests for their contribution to the evening, and the fellow members of the association for their help in making this first annual banquet such a success.

The singing of "O Canada" brought the meeting to a close.

Women's Activities

CANNIFTON W.M.S.

The ladies of Cannifton W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. C. Mills for their September meeting.

The worship service was conducted by the President, Mrs. J. Williams. The theme "The Bible for My Life". Thy Word is a Lamp unto my feet and a Light unto my path. The Lord gave The Word; great was the company of those that published it.

Psalm 119 was read responsively with Mrs. R. Pound as leader. Mrs. Mills and the president offered prayers of thanksgiving for the Bible and an appeal that members dedicate themselves to a more earnest personal study of the Bible.

A very lovely solo, "Room For Jesus", was sung by Mrs. F. Furmidge.

"The Bible for all the World" is the theme for 1947-48. This is based on the book "Great is the Company" written by Violet Wood. This should be an exceptionally interesting study showing the tremendous physical and mental effort involved in rendering the Scriptures into over 1,100 languages.

A short temperance period followed with Mrs. Trumppour showing the stand all should make as mothers and Christian workers, that drink is a habit that often has control before it is realized. A number of members assisted by stating facts concerning the liquor problem. A helpful discussion followed. The hymn 'Fight the Good Fight' was sung and the meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Trumpour.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and daughter, Mrs. Ethier.

ELDORADO UNION W.M.S.

Eldorado.—The Eldorado and Union W.M.S. held their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Robinson with a fair attendance. The meeting opened with a hymn and The Lord's Prayer in unison. Secretary and Treasurer reports were given and business was discussed after which Mr. and Mrs. Crabbe took charge of the Worship and program service. It was based on "The Bible for My Life". Psalm 736 was read in unison. Rev. Mr. Crabbe then gave the story of "What is the Bible", which was very interesting. Mrs. Albert Empey gave some of the highlights of the convention at Whitby and the meeting closed.

The hostess and assistants served refreshments and a social half hour was much enjoyed.

W. Huntingdon Church Reopened After Redecoration

West Huntingdon—A service of outstanding interest was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, West Huntingdon, on Sunday afternoon, September 7th, and marked the re-opening of the church after both the auditorium and Sunday School rooms had been re-decorated.

The special speaker for the occasion was Rev. Peter R. Reid, B.A., of Picton, who was introduced by Rev. W. H. V. Walker, of Stirling, pastor of the church. Mr. Reid gave a very inspiring and thoughtful address based on St. Matthew, 5 14-16. "Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your father which is in heaven."

Mr. Walker also extended a welcome to the large congregation present and thanked all those who had kindly assisted in helping to make the service such a fine success.

Mr. Stanley Hawthorne, organist and choir leader in St. Peter's Presbyterian Church in Madoc, presided at the piano adding much to the service of praise.

During the service Mrs. Benson Kilpatrick, of Belleville rendered two solos, "Bless This House" and "The Lord's Prayer," in very fine voice.

Many former members of the congregation were present for the service as well as friends and neighbors from Belleville, Campbellford, Stirling, Zion Hill, Holloway, Mount Pleasant, Crookston and Ivanhoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mullett motored to Peterborough on Monday with their daughter, Thelma, who remained in the city where she is now attending the Normal School.

Miss Woodhouse, of Tweed, is the new public school teacher at Fuller having succeeded Mrs. Wheeler of Tweed who taught at Fuller for three years.

We Eat More Butter, Pay More, Increased Use Exceeds Output Rise

Ottawa, Sept. 12 (CP) — Let him question the high price of butter and the Canadian consumer is confronted with the old story of "supply and demand"—he's eating more than before, therefore he has to pay more for it.

Housewives in Canada can't see why they must shell out from 60 to 64 cents for one pound when production in Canada now is higher than a year ago. In fact the Bureau of Statistics reports that for the first eight months of this year 5,114,000 pounds more butter were produced than during the corresponding period in 1946.

Nevertheless, dairy experts all have the same answer— "the more you eat, the more you pay."

In August alone Canadians consumed approximately 4,000,000 more pounds than they did in August, 1946, and it was the same story in July. In June after butter was removed from the ration list, they managed also to jump their consumption by a considerable amount.

"This increase exceeds the rise in production and that's why you have your price rise," said a government source close to the dairy industry. "It always happens when pressure is put on by the consumers for supplies...and they want to eat more and yet get it for less money."

Nor have prices advanced quickly enough to encourage extra production efficient to meet the increase in consumption.

"You can't very well increase butter production in one season ... and the only way an increase is possible is at the expense of other products."

And that's just what has been happening with butter, the increased production of which has forced a drop in the manufacture of cheddar cheese which has declined from 104,789,000 pounds produced during the eight-month period in 1946 to 86,185,000 so far this year.

Asked whether a drop in butter consumption in Canada would result in an eventual fall in prices, the official said he didn't think so"... but it might prevent a further rise."

Gore

Gore.—Mrs. Julia Fox returned home on Sunday evening having spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Roy Anderson of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brickman, Carl and Margaret, of Toronto, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Green and family, the noon hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Brickman and Audra and the supper hour with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fox and Leo.

Mrs. Harry Sager spent a couple of weeks visiting her nephew, Mr. Leonard Bryant, Mrs. Bryant and family and her brother, Mr. Carl Bryant and Mrs. Bryant, of Wellington.

Exodus 47 Head Says 'Nothing Can Stop Us'

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

Luebeck, Germany, Sept. 12—(CP)—The reputed leader of the futile voyage of the Exodus 1947 says the 4,311 Jewish refugee passengers, now held in camps near here, still intend to go to Palestine and "nothing can stop us."

If Britain refuses to take them he declared yesterday in an interview held in a "Cloak and Dagger" atmosphere, "we have plans for violence."

Hidden behind a bedsheet, he talked with three American correspondents yesterday in his barracks, guarded by husky young Jews, in a refugee camp surrounded by British soldiers.

He spoke Hebrew. He said he was 25, Palestine-born and an agent of Hagana, Jewish Resistance army, which promotes unauthorized Jewish immigration into Palestine. Later, through his interpreter, he issued a statement signed by his underground name —"Gad-Ami-Tzur" (defender of my people).

The order for violence would come from Hagana but "I can not say now when that will be or whether it will be with weapons."

Meanwhile, his refugee followers would stick together in Poppendorf and Am Stau camps and balk at British attempts to parcel the group out among displaced persons camps after screening.

The Jews were placed in the camps near here after their forcible disembarkation Monday and Tuesday from a British transport convoy at Hamburg. Three transport had brought them from Palestine after the interception in mid-July of the ship The Exodus 1947, in which they yere attempting to reach the Holy Land as authorized immigrants.

(A French Foreign Ministry spokesman said last night in Paris is that the French government told Britain Tuesday France would grant visas to any of the Jews wanting to enter that country.)

Nationhood Is Offered Br. West Indies

Monetgo Bay, Jamaica, Sept. 12 (CP) —Nationhood within the Commonwealth was offered to the British West Indies today, but the overture was received with limp enthusiasm by some of the delegates attending the conference here on closer co-operation among British Caribbean colonies.

Opening the conference, attended by 22 delegates from British West Indies Islands and the two mainland colonies of British Guiana and British Honduras, colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones said "the time is ripe for a new step to be taken in the political life of the West Indies."

He added: "We must not fail for if we do we hurl a blow against the West Indies of greatest consequence during the next few decades.

In his view of colonial relationships he stressed the need for some concept of confederation being realized at present in the Caribbean area, and that no one should prostitute federation for narrow political reasons.

Jamaica's D. J. Judah agreed that it was time to start hammering out a plan for union but claimed that progressive responsibility of individual colonies should precede the final move.

Self-government for Jamaica above all other things was the demand of the Island's Labor leader and strong man in her government, W. A. Bustamante.

Amid thunderous applause from spectators, Trinidad's militant Albert Gomes declared himself for a self-governing federated Dominion within the Commonwealth and added: "If we do not seize the opportunity now history will condemn us."

Tobacco Crop In West Ontario Will be Heavy

Brantford, Sept. 2 (CP)—Despite incessant spring rains which delayed planting and a long hot spell in August, southern Ontario tobacco farmers, now half way through their harvest, are looking for a bumper crop—if the weather holds right.

Cool but frostless nights to ripen the leaves will enable farmers to top the 105,000,000 bushels predicted earlier in the season, according to many estimates. The 1947 yield may even reach the 10 per cent over the 1946 crop predicted by Dr. Norman McRae, chief of the tobacco division of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa. About 113,000,000 pounds were produced last year.

Farmers are harvesting excellent heavy tobacco with oversize leaves. George Pennington of Brant county reports he has taken in leaves 32 inches long, and anticipates a ton of tobacco per acre from his eight-acre field. Not all farmers are so optimistic—that's twice the estimate average yield for the year—but many agree that the harvest may better the official forecast.

Although school has started, many youngsters still are working in the fields. And their parents generally agree that a few weeks away from classes won't do the youngsters any harm—they're making $7 to $10 a day.

About 3,000 farms grow tobacco in Ontario, compared with approximately 1,000 in 1936. Acreage planted this year is 105,000, compared with 90,000 in 1946, and an army of 40,000 men, women and children—including some 1,500 primers and curers from the United States—are taking part in harvesting operations. And when harvest days are over, it will have cost the growers about $300,000 in wages, equipment and other expenditures to bring their yield to market.

Red's Uncompromising Stand Against Western Democracies May be Blessing in Disguise

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Sept. 12—(CP) — Russia's uncompromising stand against the western democracies on so many vital issues may prove a blessing in disguise.

It is having the effect of slowing, and perhaps preventing, the American people's return to a feeling of complacency and the more or less natural isolationism which contributed so much to early successes of aggressors in two world wars.

One of the most significant results of Russian belligerency in world councils is the awareness in high business and industrial circles of the world situation.

Now powerful national organizations, such as the Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers, have their committees on international affairs and are making continuous recommendations to Congress.

Realization has at last come home to big business that almost every event in foreign lands has its effect on American business and that the country's foreign policy is a matter of intimate interest to every citizen.

No country has been more effective in driving this fact home to American business than Russia and it may be safely assumed that this result is the exact opposite of what Communism desires.

Would be Well Along Way

But for the well-planned and unyielding policy of the Soviet countries to make the most of the world unrest which followed the war, the United States undoubtedly would now be well along the way to forgetfulness of the responsibilities fate has thrown upon it as a world power.

The chief pre-occupation of official Washington has been and will continue to be the steps that must be taken by this country to assist the democratic nations in the preservation of their principles against the inroads of Communism.

Because of this new awareness among the powerful and new figures who control the mighty industrial and business organizations of the United States, the Marshall plan for helping war-torn countries to help themselves, has been generally accepted.

It will mean pouring billions of dollars worth of American goods and of cash into the hands of foreign governments and the plan still has to receive the approval of Congress.

But thanks to the atmosphere of uncertainty created by the Russian attitude this proposal, which a few years ago would have damned any administration that advanced it, is likely to go through with only token opposition.

So the formulation and administration of American foreign policy has now become a matter of lively and constant interest to big business, and this fact may result in a sudden and welcome change of attitude on the part of Russia in the near future.

CBC News Editor Will Continue In That Position

Ottawa, Sept. 12 (CP)—Dr. Augustin Frigon, general manager of the CBC, announced yesterday that D. C. McArthur, who resigned recently as chief news editor, has requested that his resignation be reconsidered and will continue in that position.

In a 200-word statement referring to three recent resignations from the CBC, Dr Frigon said of Mr. McArthur:

"Realizing that his somewhat precipitate action was based on a misconception, he has expressed his regret and requested his resignation be reconsidered. It has been agreed that he will continue in his present position as chief news editor."

(In Toronto, Mr. McArthur said: "My only comment on the general manager's statement is that my misconception was in not realizing, as the CBC program staff did not realize that the administration would be so eager to make adjustments to meet criticism of certain aspects of internal organization, if investigation proved them valid. In the light of this, it was agreed that my resignation should be reconsidered.")

Dr. Frigon said another employee who resigned, Jean Beaudet, western regional director, "has left to devote his time to music, a decision he had been considering for a long time."

A third, Ben D'Arcy Sullivan, supervisor of the United Kingdom section of the International Service of the CBC, was "on trial appointment and resigned following a number of incidents which demonstrated to us that we could not confirm his permanent appointment."

Text of the statement:

"A few weeks ago, the general manager of the CBC reported to the parliamentary committee that during the previous 12 months 19 employees of the corporation in the medium and upper salaries bracket had accepted more remunerative positions outside. They have been replaced, to advantage in many cases.

"The press has reported that three employees have left the corporation recently.

"One, Mr. Jean Beaudet, has left to devote his time to music, a decision he had been considering for a long time.

"Mr. Ben D'Arcy Sullivan was on trial appointment and resigned following a number of incidents which demonstrated to us that we could not confirm his permanent appointment; if he wishes to return to England where he came from, we may have to pay his return passage according to the terms of his agreement.

"The third is Mr. D. C. McArthur, our chief news editor who recently offered his resignation. Realizing that his somewhat precipitate action was based on a misconception, he has expressed his regret and requested that his resignation be reconsidered. It has been agreed that he will continue in his present position of chief news editor."

HOW TO BE GRACEFUL
BY ANNE KENNEDY

Every minute of the day you're shaping your figure — by the way you sit, stand and walk. Try these simple exercises for a more beautiful appearance. For graceful posture, practise walking upstairs with a book balanced on your head. Keep your shoulders flexible and soft and your neck straight. Ten times up and down stairs each night will do the trick. Are your hips and thighs too large? Then walk off the ugly fat with exercise. Lie flat on the floor with your legs straight up a side wall. Walk up the wall, lifting hips off the floor as you go. That's a sample of the helpful advice on good grooming by Anne Kennedy in The Standard this week — and every week. Union Votes 2 to 1 For Suspension Labor Daily Paper

Glace Bay, N.S., Sept. 12 (CP) —Executive of district 26, United Mine Workers, today read final results of a referendum in which union members voted 2 to 1 to suspend publication of the Glace Bay Gazette, the only daily newspaper owned by organized labor in Canada, and to pass up a district convention this year.

An affirmative vote on either issue would have meant additional assessments on the coal men's pay cheques.

The executive pondered in silence the future of the newspaper and whether elimination of a convention would preclude strike action in the union's demand for a $1.10 a day pay boost.

Though union ranks number 13,000, circulation of the Gazette had been about 4,000 since the Maritime coal strike ended in June. Of the 15 locals—representing half the number in the district—which reported totals last night, three in Glace Bay area had voted for continuation of the Gazette.

Of 5,022 votes tallied, 3,362 answered "no" to the question of continued subsidization of the daily. Balloting results on the second issue were nearly identical.

Editor Floyd Gates of the Gazette, though making no positive reply on the eight-page daily's future, said "I feel certain that outsiders of anti-labor mind who have shown considerable interest in its purchase may be disappointed."

A report that the Gazette would continue publication until the U.M.W. had arranged a favorable sale could not be confirmed. The union purchased the publication in 1942 for $20,000. It operated at an average annual deficit of $13,000.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
of The Kibitzer

To find peace at any bridge table, think not you must play like a whiz. Just wait till the players, when able, have left for the day. There it is.

There is nothing mysterious about the showing of different suit lengths to partner. Nothing is left to guesswork. The lengths show up by the order in which the suits are bid and rebid.

How do you show two suits of the same length? Bid first the higher rank; then the lower rank. How do you show suits of different lengths? First bid the longer; then bid the shorter.

How do you show a five card rebiddable and a biddable four card suit? First show the longer; then the shorter; then rebid the longer. Thus, hearts, spades, hearts shows five hearts and four spades.

When do you rebid a suit before mentioning a shorter suit? Only when the rebiddable is at least two cards longer than the other. Thus, hearts, hearts, spades shows six hearts and four spades.

How do you show two five card rebiddables? First bid the higher rank..; then the lower rank; then the lower rank again. Thus, bid spades, hearts, hearts and you show five spades and five hearts.

South opened with a bid of one heart with this hand:

♠A J 9 5
♥A K Q 7 4
♣8

North responded with a no-trump. South then bid two spades and north passed. It turned out that more tricks could have been taken with hearts as trumps. Such things happen.

So, north tried to pin the blame on south. And he did. Pointing to the strong hearts, north complained: "You should have rebid this suit instead of showing your measly spade holding."

North got away with this. Why-Only because south was unsure of himself. He did not know rules well enough to defend his act.

A noncompoop sounds wise to a lesscompoop.

The Movie Column

Hollywood, Sept. 12. (AP)—Even in this era of $3,000,000 movies, Hollywood has half a hundred independent producers who can whip together a full-length feature for $200,000.

Trouble is, these usually look like $100,000 pictures. The real trick, says Frank Wisbar, is to make them look like million-dollar productions.

Wisbar, a slim, ascetic man with an imaginative gleam in his dark eyes and a phenomenal capacity for hard work, demonstrated in Germany and again in Hollywood after 1939 that ingenuity is the best weapon against pyramiding production costs.

He showed me the rushes of his forthcoming production, a quickie only in the sense that it was filmed in 14 days on a rented sound stage. Their cash outlay was $165,000. Contingent expenses may run the total up to $200,000. Scenarist Arthur St. Claire estimated that, under conventional studio methods, the same picture would have cost at least $500,000.

The original story, James Fenimore Cooper's "The Prairie," came from the public domain. This means screen rights were free. Hollywood is full of competent but unknown actors, and the cast cost was low except for two "name" players, Alan Baxter and Lenore Aubert.

"The Prairie" concerns the struggle of a band of American pioneers against the forces of nature and human instincts in their trek across the Nebraska Flatlands 120 years ago. Wholly an outdoor picture, much of its appeal depends upon vast vistas and cloud effects. Yet every scene was shot inside a sound stage, where the longest distance was only 250 feet between diagonal corners.

"Of course," said Wisbar, "we don't know yet what the public will think, but if we have succeeded in producing a film that can stand on its own both artistically and financially, perhaps we will have helped point "the way out of Hollywood's present economic dilemma."

Rotary Juveniles Defeat Kinsmen By 4-2 Score

Behind the fine hurling of youthful Coon, the Rotary juveniles defeated the Kinsmen Juveniles 4-2 in a closely fought game.

Coon, spotted the Kinsmen kids two runs in the first innings by virtue of errors but from then on until the end of the abbreviated five-inning tussle he was unbeatable. He struck out seven and in the last innings with the bases loaded and one out, he bore down like a veteran and struck out the next two batters.

Bill Novan was the batting hero of the Rotarians, with the bases loaded in the third with his team one run down, the young third baseman smashed out a triple to score three runs.

Donovan was on the mound for the Kinsmen and turned in a fine effort although his mates could connect safely with the Coon slants when counts meant runs.

Rotarians Stu. Riley and "Pink" Pinkston, although a bit stiff in the joints acted as first base and third base coaches for Manager Dr. Jack Marshall.

The Teams

Rotary: Carey, c; Coulter, lf; Lupinette, ss; Novan, 2b; Coon p; Thompson, 2b; Hull, cf; Vandevoort, 1b; Riley, rf; Donovan, rf.

Kinsmen: Scrymgeour, lf; Doran, ss; Faulkner, 2b; Ormond, 3b; McBride, 1b; Muirhead, cf; Taylor, c; F. Donovan, rf; E. Donovan, p;

Ojibway Indian Charged With Brother's Murder

Cochrane, Sept. 12 — (CP) — David Rock, 40-year-old Ojibway Indian from Burnt Bush, 80 miles northeast of here, was to appear in Magistrate's Court today on a charge of murdering his brother. It was expected he would be remanded.

Meantime, Ontario Provincial Police officers searched dense bushland along the Burnt Bush River near the Quebec border for the grave of Rock's 52-year-old brother, Jim.

The investigation arose from strange tales of a Cain-and-Abel slaying, fearful whisperings passed from man to man among lonely Indian trappers and hunters scattered through this wild land in which all big rivers flow toward Hudson Bay.

The story circulated in the soft Ojibway tongue along the traplines and the long canoe traverses had it that Jim Rock had been shot in the spring of 1946 and that a shallow grave hidden in the forest reaches held his body.

As if Jim Rock's restless spirit brooded over the Burnt Bush River area, the whispers swelled to anxious murmurs which in time came to the ears of Provincial Police in Cochrane.

Officers investigated but apparently found little in their preliminary check to substantiate the rumors. Then, last month, new evidence concerning Jim Rock's fate came to light. Three weeks ago Constable H. M. Purdy of the Cochrane detachment of the Provincial Police re-opened the investigation.

David Rock was arrested at Amos, Que., immediately after he was released from jail where he had been serving a term for selling stolen moose meat. He was brought back to Cochrane Wednesday night.

Police said last night they now have "an idea where to look" for Jim Rock's body. They said they were hopeful their investigations would lead to solution of the 18-month-old mystery.

Cargo Plane Crashes, 3 Killed

Denver, Colo., Sept. 11—(AP) — An army C-47 twin-engined cargo plane with a crew of three aboard crashed 30 miles south of Denver early today, public relations officers at Lowry Field reported.

They said the three were killed when the transport crashed into Spruce Mountain near the town of Castle Rock.

Wreckage of the aircraft was found by Sheriff John Hammond who said the plane struck a sheer rock bluff.

Dodgers Defeat St. Louis Cards To Go 5½ Games Up And Need Only 6 of 15 to Win Pennant

Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh Ties Johnny Mize for Home Run Honors

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Brooklyn's dashing Dodgers never were in a better position to win the National League pennant than they were last night following their victory in the biggest game of the year for them.

That was the game the Dodgers had to win to put quietus on the Cards. They did it handsomely with a 4-3 licking in St. Louis which put the Dodgers 5 1-2 games up on the Cardinals.

Eddie Dyer's Redbirds, fighting with their backs against the wall, needed a sweep of the three-game series to get back into serious contention. Or at the worst, two victories of three.

Every Cardinal player sensed it. And they led with their ace, Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, the gritty little lefthander who pitched the Cards to the world championship last fall.

But the best was not enough. The crushing blow was a pinch bases-loaded single by Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto which scored Carl Furillo with the run that broke up a 3-3 tie.

The Cards now face a herculean task in their attempt to overhaul the fast-flying Dodgers. They have only 18 more games, two with the Brooks. Eleven of the 18 are at home. The Dodgers, on the other hand, have only 15 games left to play, four at home.

Even should the Redbirds win 12 of their remaining 18 games, the Dodgers can sew it up by winning only six of 15.

Kiner Ties Mize in Homers

The Dodger-Card tussle thrust into the shadows the slugging feat of Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh power hitter, who slammed out four home runs, three in the second game of the Pirates' doubleheader with Boston Braves to tie Johnny Mize of New York Giants for the home-run leadership of the majors at 47 apiece.

Kiner drove in seven runs to help the Bucs take both games from the Braves 4-3 in 13 innings and 10-8. The double victory enabled the Bucs to move a half game past Philadelphia Phillies into seventh place.

New York Yankees split a doubleheader with Detroit, winning the second game 11-5 after Hal Newhouser tamed them with six hits in pitching the Tigers to a 7-2 victory in the opener. Since the second place Boston Red Sox also were held to a split by Cleveland Indians, any combination of four Yankee victories and Red Sox defeats would clinch the flag for New York.

Teams Split

The Indians took the first in a free hitting affair, 10-8, but the Red Sox came back to win the second game 8-3, in 5 1-2 innings.

Ken Raffensberger, Cincinnati lefthander, snapped a five-game winning streak of the Giants by pitching the Reds to a 3-2 victory. Johnny Mize accounted for one of the Giants' runs with his 47 home run of the season.

Sam Zoldak and Bob Muncrief collaborated in limiting Washington to six hits as St. Louis Browns shut out the Senators in Washington, 2-0.

Rudy York his his 20th home run of the year with two on base in the first inning to lead Chicago White Sox to a 7-3 triumph over the Athletics in Philadelphia.

The Phillies-Cub game was postponed by rain.

LIQUOR STRENGTH UNCHANGED

Halifax, Sept. 12 — (CP) — Because an increase in the alcoholic content of liquor would mean a price increase, Canada's liquor commissioners, in closed session here for the last three days, have voted to hold liquor at its present strength. Brig. J. G. S. Spragg of Toronto, spokesman for the commissioners, said Wednesday night liquor was taxed on its alcoholic strength and that the commissioners felt that with today's rising cost of living it would be inopportune to do anything that would advance liquor costs.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

New York, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Bucky Harris contends that Joe Pagé, the Yankees reliable relief pitcher, should get credit for twice as many victories as the 14 already in the records. . . . Bucky's theory is that Joe, who had made 51 appearances up to yesterday, had saved an additional 14 games without being listed as winning pitcher . . . This discussion brings out one important baseball fact—that few, if any clubs in recent years have been able to win a title without having an able game-saver.

The first Yankee pennant winners in 1921 and 1923 had no real standouts, though Jack Quinn and Sam Jones must have saved a lot of games to judge by their records. . . .Then in 1926 Garland Braxton finished 23 games and the next year Wilcy Moore came along to become the first of the celebrated Yankee relievers. . . Wilcy, who Ed Barrow picked right out of the record book, appeared in 50 games that year, won 19 and lost seven and there's no telling how many other games he saved. In the middle 1930's Johnny Murphy took over the "fireman" role and the Yanks won three pennants in a row. Johnny stuck around for the 1941 world series and Milkman Jim Turner took the job in 1942. Now it's Page, and all relief-flinging records seem about to fall.

One-Minute Sports Page

In spite of assorted denials, mostly by Larry MacPhail, Wall Street keeps hearing reports that some Yankee stock will be offered for sale to the public . . . And while we're in the rumor market, one of the latest is that Leo Durocher will manage the Giants next year.

WINNIPEG MAN CANADA'S TOP BASEBALL FAN

Jack McConnell All Set to Make 27th Consecutive Visit to World Series

Winnipeg (CP) —Canada's No. 1 World Series fan is Jack McConnell of Winnipeg whose trip this year to see the baseball battle will be his 27th consecutive trek.

Up until this spring, Mr. McConnell ran second for the honor, with Joe Page of Montreal holding the edge, having attended every series since 1897. But the death of the latter left an open field for Mr. McConnell.

Naturally enough, attendance at the various games has gained for him an impressive array of baseball souvenirs with which he wouldn't part for a spot on the all-star line-up. Among these relics are 21 baseballs autographed by notables as prominent as Babe Ruth and Lefty Gomez as well as pennants that are his pride and joy.

Mr. McConnell tells of the day he met Joe E Brown at a game and asked the celebrity for his autograph. Joe had a drink in one hand and a hot dog in the other but he signed the autograph without hindrance by stuffing the whole dog in his mouth and tossing off the drink at a gulp as well.

Sports writing isn't exactly in Mr. McConnell's line, but he has covered the big games for a Winnipeg paper more than once. That has enabled him to meet many famous people. Among them are Eddie Cantor, Gail Patrick, the late Will Rogers, Al Jolson and Helen Hayes.

He's busy at the moment planning his trip for this year.

"I'm rooting for the Cardinals" says McConnell. I still think they will come through."

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor.

A well-built athletic-appearing young man walked into the news rooms of this family journal yesterday afternoon. Hovering in the back ground was the smiling face of one, N.A. "Pete" Beach, athletic director of Albert College.

• • •

The very personable young man, who looked the picture of health, but who probably feels more at home in football togs than the smart sports ensemble he was wearing, was none other than Don Huyck, a London, Ontario boy, and star right-half for the past four years of the Intercollegiate football champions, the Mustangs of the University of Western Ontario.

• • •

Don has joined the faculty of Albert College and this fall and winter term will impart knowledge of Canadian history general science and other subjects to budding education-hungry young students. He arrived in the city a few days ago and at present is getting acclimatized to what he anticipates will be a pleasant sojourn.

• • •

But apart from his academic duties, Don will take the senior football squad of the school under his coaching wing, and if the husky young mentor can impart knowledge of the game as well as he plays it, the Albert kids should romp home with a title or two.

• • •

And just to keep his hand in sport, he will coach the junior basketball squad of the school while Johnny Hayman is looking after the court education of the senior flock.

• • •

Don's first sport love was football, and it still is, especially where anything with a Western (Mus) tang is concerned. Star right half of the Western intercollegiate squad for four years, he was named the 1946 winner of the George McCullagh Trophy, annually awarded the most valuable man to his team in the loop. His only regret is that the Western team did not play the vaunted Toronto Argonauts, Dominion champions in a post season game last year. "I think we would have beaten them," he said.

• • •

He threw away his teething ring for a football up there in his London, Ontario home. When but a toddler of five, he went around with a football crowd of youngsters. One day the boys were short a snap back. That was young Huck's chance. He went into the game with his rompers on — and made such a hit that he was "signed" on the spot.

• • •

From that time on the thud of leather on leather caused his spine to tingle and his eyes to lighten up. He went to public school and starred on football teams there. For four years he attended a London Collegiate Institute, and again the youngster stood out with his daring running and passing prowess.

• • •

Then he went to the University of Western Ontario. Four years ago there was no such thing as the Intercollegiate Union, but young Huyck made the Varsity squad in his first year. From that time on his name has been linked with other greats of Johnny Metras' now-famous Western Mustangs, who have swept aside all Intercollegiate opposition for the past two years, and threaten to repeat this year.

• • •

Mustang Coach Johnny Metras, who was in town the other day spoke highly of the prowess of young Mr. Huyck. "He was one of the finest players I ever had," quoth John, "and I hated to see him go."

Like his former coach, Huyck openly predicts that the Mustangs will take the Intercollegiate title again this year. "Why shouldn't they," he smiled. "They had the best team last year, and I know that the team is much better this year. It stands to reason."

• • •

He is a quiet, mildest sort of a chap, weighs but 140 pounds, and is greased lightening on his cleats when toting that ball for an end run or through a broken field. He is in perfect physical condition, and is looking forward to a pleasant winter in Belleville.

• • •

Don never played hockey, except perhaps the shinny type when he was a boy. He likes basketball and track, but as we said before, the frosty air of a geen Autumn day, the roar of the crowd, the shrilling of a referee's whistle, the thud of contact as a runner is dropped for gain or loss, and the feel of the pigskin under his arm, is his idea of tops in everything that is called sport.

• • •

And as the stalwart young teacher-coach left the news room he smiled another prediction. "Western," he said, and he wasn't, what is known as kidding, "will take not only the football title this year, but basketball and track as well. Wait and see."

• • •

Tonight the Point Anne Leafs safari to Oshawa where they take on the Legionnaires Intermediate "A" softball squad of that city in the second of their two-of three games series. The Leafs shellacked the Oshawans 18-6 in a one-sided affair at Ox Point the other night, but tonight's game might be different. Oshawa was apparently away off their playing beam and back in their home bailiwick they will likely make things interesting for the Sedore crew.

• • •

The Batawa Shoemen now await the winners of the Toronto Hodgsons-Peterborough Intermediate "A" baseball playdown series, who tangle in their third game of their series in Peterborough on Saturday afternoon. According to Manager Bill Easton, of the Shoemen, all efforts will be made to have the Batawans home games played here under the lights. The game between Batawa and the winners of the Toronto-Petes tilt would be a tremendous drawing card, if the recent game between Trenton and the Shoemen can be judged a criterion.

• • •

Night baseball has taken a firm grip on the public fancy here. Ordinary league games saw between 500-600 fans turn out and on Wednesday night the faithful were packed in all available seats and standing room so tight that stretching room was at a premium. Over 2,000 saw the game, a record for nearly 20 years.

• • •

The reason, in part, is that night baseball, starting at 8:30 gives the working man a chance to see his favorite sport, if he is a baseball fan, and there are plenty in this village. He quits work at five or six, eats his supper the little woman has prepared for him, plays with the kids reads the newspaper, puts on the glad rags and has plenty of time to take in the game. He's home by eleven, after enjoying a fine evening of entertainment.

• • •

The World Series will begin Tuesday Sept. 30 in Yankee Stadium if the New York American League Club and the Brooklyn team of the National League win the pennants in their respective leagues.

CHIEFS, BISONS NEED ONE GAME TO ENTER FINALS

Syracuse Wins From Jersey City 7-2 and Buffalo Takes Montreal 6-5

(By The Associated Press)

Syracuse Chiefs and Buffalo Bisons are virtually assured of meeting in the final round of the International League's Governor's Cup playoffs.

Both the Chiefs and Bisons enjoy a 3-0 lead over Montreal Royals and Jersey City Giants respectively in the best-of-seven semi final round and need only one more victory apiece to move into the finals.

Millard (Dixie) Howell (13-15) will probably pitch for the Chiefs against Montreal's Al Gerheauser (15-12) and Hub Andrews (13-6) will probably oppose Buffalo Hank Perry (12-10) for the Giants in the fourth game of the series tonight.

Young Herm Wehmeier pitched the Chiefs to a 7-2 victory over the Royals last night while the Bisons stopped the Giants 6-5. Wehmeier scattered eight hits while the Chiefs slammed Jack Banta and Joe Smolko for 12 including a homer by Hank Sauer, his second of the series and his 52nd of the season.

Claude Corbitt, stellar shortstop of the Chiefs, pounded out a triple and two singles and drove home four runs to pace the Chiefs' attack. The Chiefs snapped a 2-2 tie by scoring once in the fourth and sewed up the game with a three-run rally in the seventh.

At Buffalo, the Bisons scored twice in the ninth to tie the score at 5-5 and then won out in the next frame.

POLICE SEEK INDIAN

Cochrane, Sept. 12 — (CP) — Ontario Provincial Police were reported to be seeking an unidentified Indian man for questioning in connection with the mysterious death of two men near Lowbush, 20 miles east of here.

It was learned that the body of one of the men was believed fed to dogs. The deaths occurred a month ago.

Dodgers Anything But Cocky After Thursday's Win

By TOM YARBROUGH

St. Louis, Sept. 12 — (AP) — Brooklyn's victory over St. Louis Cardinals last night was not enough to give the Dodgers anything resembling a cocky spirit for today's second game of this red-hot series. They've had the Cardinals in a corner before, and couldn't make the kill.

Someone in the dressing room suggested to manager Burt Shotton that he had a pretty good start on the series, and he countered "Series! Don't say series yet. I'm worrying about tomorrow."

Shotton usually is on the silent side — certainly when compared with Leo Durocher —but the man without a word last night was manager Eddie Dyer. The defeat cut him deep, and he showed it when he barred reporters from the St. Louis dressing room.

"Get the hell out of here right now," he snapped, "and I mean it." The Cardinals who had trooped in up to that point had uttered not a syllable.

The Brooklyn boys were toasting Cookie Lavagetto for his game-winning single to left in the 8th inning. He wasn't sure what kind of a ball he had hit. "I don't know. A fast ball — or a screw ball that didn't screw."

No Dodger appeared more elated than Jackie Robinson, fleet Negro infielder who tied the score and put the Brooks back in the game with a home run into the left field bleachers with Eddie Stanky scoring ahead of him in the fifth inning.

"We got the crucial ball game," he said. "But you never can tell with a hot club like the Cardinals."

KINGSTON WINS SERIES

Kingston, Oct., Sept. 12 (CP)—Ottawa South Victories were eliminated from the Ontario Baseball Association Junior A playoffs here last night when they dropped a 5-4 decision to Kingston Athletics, Kingston took the three-game series 2-1.

HAMILTON TIGERS IN HOLE IF THEY USE FILCHOCK

I.R.F.U. Rules Game Will be Awarded to Opposition if Import Plays

Ottawa, Sept. 12 (CP) — Even before the teams have met on the field of Hamilton's Civic Stadium, next Saturday's Big Four game between Hamilton's Tigers and Ottawa Rough Riders has taken on the aspects of the biggest football battle in Canadian gridiron history.

The game itself is merely serving as a focal point for a a major verbal tussle between the Interprovincial Rugby Union and officials of the Hamilton football club over the question of what happens if Tigers carry out their threat to play Frankie Filchock, banned by Canadian football authorities.

In this over-all contest, the I.R.F.U. did its most effective paper-blocking previous. Assisted by the Canadian Rugby Union, it expressed the opinion that Filchock, former New York Giants professional barred for failure to report a bribe offer, should not be allowed to play in Canada. The C.R.U. refuses to certify Filchock's playing certificate.

Last night, however, the Big Four moved into the offensive and started to close in on Hamilton. D. Wes Brown, I.R.F.U. secretary, announced that a vote of the executive committee had decreed that any game in which the Czech star played for Tigers would automatically be recorded as a win for the opposing team—no matter what the score.

Hamilton's representation on the committee alone opposed the move, which will mean that every time Tigers use Filchock, they lose a game before they start. If they use him throughout the session they are automatically ruled at the bottom of the rung of the Big Four ladder.

This also meant that Toronto Argonauts, Montreal Alouettes and Ottawa Rough Riders had lined up together against Tigers' use of their star American import.

Jack Langs, president of the Hamilton football club, said last night the Tigers will defy the I.R.F.U. executive and play their import because they don't believe the bar is "constitutional."

CANADIAN SPORT SNAPSHOTS

By JACK GRAY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, Sept. 12 — (CP)—Going out strongly on a controversial limb, Dan (Kitchener Record) Odette says that "if a vote were taken in Ontario today to abolish the Lord's Day Act, even the strongest supporters of the Act would be staggered at the overwhelming number of votes that would be cast in favor of the law being repealed."

The occasion for Dan's remarks was a statement by Mr. Justice G. A. Gale of the Ontario Court of Appeal in ordering a new hearing in the case of Toronto's Icelandic skating rink. A charge against the rink of allowing hockey teams to practice on the Sabbath was dismissed last March but under the Lord's Day Act Mr. Justice Gale could no nothing but order a new hearing.

"Advocates of Sunday sports in Ontario now have a course to follow, thanks to Mr. Justice Gale," wrote Dan. " . . . He said that a campaign to convince parliament that recreational facilities should be made available to curtail potential delinquency would undoubtedly receive widespread support.

"His Lordship's statement will find favor with thousands of Ontario citizens who today find themselves bound by a law in which they do not believe and one in which they had no say . . . there is no reason why a law wanted by a minority should be saddled on a majority."

Sports Writers Ignorant

Anent a football announcement at Queen's University, Mike (Kingston Whig-Standard) Rodden says: " . . . All sports writers should now step gingerly aside and let the show go on, leaving all comment and alleged constructive criticism to the 'Football Reviewer' of the Queen's Review.

"But so that readers should know what goes on, it might be advisable to learn that the said 'Reviewer' writes in part relative to a football book recently assembled by Johnny Edwards of Queen's: 'Even sports writers are limited in their appraisal because they are often quite ignorant of the intricacies involved. For the average fan it (Edward's book) will mean for the first time that anyone who knew what he was talking about tried to explain the game in simple terms.'

(Edwards was a former star for Queen's and Toronto Argonauts.)

To which Mike retorts: In the Globe and Mail Jim Coleman takes up the cudgels in behalf of sports writers and does not agree that they are quite as 'ignorant' as painted.

"He points out that Teddy (Toronto Evening Telegram) Reeve, former successful tricolor coach, is a sports scribe and he mentions other authorities including Annis (Toronto Star) Stukus and Dink (Montreal Gazette) Carroll, writers who as players ran with the stars.

"To this list Jim might have added the names of Bax (Montreal Star) O'Meara, Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson, Tommy (Hamilton Spectator) Moore, Ivan (Hamilton Spectator) Miller, Bobby (Toronto Tely) Hewitson and the Walker Brothers, Hal (Toronto Globe and Mail) and Gordon (Toronto Star)."

But Mike was altogether too modest. He could have added another paragraph from Coleman's column. It read:

"If the Queen's Review critic was looking for a bit more expert advice he could have sauntered down the street to the offices of the Whig-Standard, where he would have found Don Miguel. Michael happened to coach a couple of Hamilton teams to the Canadian senior championship and he won four or five Big Four titles. We believe that his teams won a total of something like 25 championships."

Stratford, Sept. 11 —(CP)— A flax plant on Louis Lechner's farm at nearby Seaforth has been playing seven-up. From one root the plant sent up seven well-developed stems carrying a total of 245 seed pods. Flax usually grows with a single stem and rarely bears more than a dozen seed pods.

2 BALL PLAYERS HURT TRAVELLING TO PLAY GAME

Members of Ottawa Victorias Taken to Kingston General Hospital

Kingston, Sept. 12 (CP) — Two Ottawa youths were injured, one severely, when an automobile in which they and two members of the Ottawa South Victorias ball team were travelling to a game here overturned at nearby Elgin after a tire blew out. The players were cut and bruised.

Injured were Howard Seward, 18, who suffered a partial skull fracture and was in "critical" condition in hospital late last night, and Floyd McRae, 20, who was cut about the head but was released from hospital after attendants used several stitches to close his wounds.

The ballplayers were shaken up and suffered cuts and bruises but played in the game, which Kingston won 5-4 to take the three-game Ontario Baseball Association junior A playoff series 2-1. They were Goldie Wilson, who filled his regular centre field spot, and Sonny May who went into the game as a pinch-hitter in the ninth inning.

ONE KILLED IN ROAD COLLISION

St. Thomas, Sept. 12 (CP) — One man was killed and another injured when an automobile collided with a truck last night near Sparta, about five miles from here. The victim was tentatively identified as Walter Tickle, 63, of Lawrence Station, Ont.

William Jones, 23, of St. Thomas, driver of the car, is in hospital with a fractured leg and abrasions. Driver of the truck was Nelson Scott, 21, of Stratford, who escaped injury.

At least one record is sure to be broken at the 1948 Olympics in London—the number of competitors. Entries received to date indicate that 4,000 athletes will participate. The highest number recorded at present is the 3,959 at Berlin in 1936.

The United States Amateur Softball Association's 15th annual tournament opens today in Cleveland with the two Toronto teams competing. Toronto's people's men's team will meet Stratford, Conn., while the Toronto People's girls' nine will tangle with Springdale, Saturday.

Ronnie Clayton of Blackpool won the European and British Empire featherweight boxing titles last night at Liverpool by out-pointing the holder, Al (Tiger) Philips, of London, in a 15-round bout. Philips weighed 124 1-4 pounds, Clayton 122 14 ozs.

Joe Louis lost a title match at Chicago Thursday—but he wasn't too worried. Joe was defeated by Judson Grant of Los Angeles 2 and 1 in the first annual Chicago golf tournament.

The Death of a Doll

By Hilda Lawrence

CHAPTER 11.

Miss Libby's office was designed to put the fear of God in salespeople who had Monday morning hangovers and cash registers that didn't tally. It was filled with a cold north light, a highly polished desk, and two chairs. One of the latter was occupied by Miss Libby.

"Sit down, Mr. East," she said promptly. "I've got all the time in the world, but I'm afraid you're wasting yours. Benz had be on the phone and told me what you wanted. What are you trying to do, grab yourself a fee and give us the kind of publicity we don't need? That Miller case is closed. There's nothing for you in it."

"You've said it all," he agreed. "Maybe I'd better see Blackman."

"Don't be childish, he won't know what you're talking about. He doesn't know Ruth Miller existed."

"Do you?"

"Look." Miss Libby flipped the pages of a folder. "I have the dope right here. I don't know what you're looking for, but if it's trouble you won't find it. Here's the story, plain facts and no color. She was a good saleswoman, no more than that. Not executive material, not even hard enough for head of stock, which isn't as big a job as it sounds. She bought almost nothing in the store, shoes and stockings, that's all. She had no store pals, was never late or absent, and came to the dispensary only once."

"Why did she come then?"

Miss Libby read silently. "Darn," she said under her breath. "But that happens all the time."

"Did you say something, Miss Libby?" He liked the way she blushed when she was caught.

"She came because she was hysterical. A customer accused her of giving wrong change and took the place. That time the customer was wrong, and we proved it on the spot, but the girl went to pieces. You can't make anything out of that, it happens all the time."

"I see .... Where did Miss Miller come from?"

"Come from?" Miss Libby's eyes traveled down a page and she colored again.

"Sure," Mark pressed. "The job before this one, references—you know what I mean."

"Now Mr. East, you needn't—"

"Come, come, Miss Libby. Where did she work before she came here? Even a dish-washer has references."

Miss Libby ground her nice white teeth. "No record," she moaned. "You've got me. But I can explain! You know what last year was like. Normally sane workers going crazy, acting like customers themselves. We took what we could get. Miller was self-effacing and looked as if she needed a job. We took her on. It says here 'never before employed.' I remember now that I didn't believe it after her week's record came up. She knew how to sell, and she didn't make mistakes. So—"

"So?"

"So maybe you've got something after all," Miss Libby said grudgingly.

"Don't look like that. I'm not going to sue." Mark leaned across Miss Libby's immaculate desk. "So she lied about never having worked before, she didn't make friends, and she went to pieces when an irate customer accused her of short changing .... Girls like you major in psychology or something, don't you?"

"Yes," Miss Libby admitted. "And I'm supposed to be good."

"Well, be good now. What do you make of all this?"

"Trouble in the past. Maybe a brush with the law. On the verge of being found out and couldn't face it. Heck, Mr. East—sorry, excuse it, but I feel awful. But what can we do? It's too late."

"Maybe it isn't. Have you got the Smith girls handy?"

"They're outside now, trying not to look terrified. Come in," she called.

Moke and Poke filed in and lined themselves against the wall.

"You're not going to be shot," Miss Libby said kindly. "This is Mr. East. Did Benz tell you what he's here for?"

"Yes'm," Moke said.

"Then answer his questions, that's all." She tossed the next move to Mark with open relief and relaxed on the end of her spine.

"This is going to be easy," Mark said. "I hope you don't mind if I call you Moke and Poke. Now, did you girls know Ruth Miller very well?"

They answered simultaneously, affirmatively and negatively, and burst into tears.

"I know how you feel," he said. "That's the way Mrs. Sutton feels too. She's afraid Ruth was in some sort of trouble, and it upset her to think she wasn't here to help. So even though Ruth is dead, she wants to straighten things out if she can. You might call it a sort of memorial, see?"

"That's lovely," Moke said.

"Sure. And between us, we're going to help. All you have to do is answer my questions. Now Hope House is full of girls. I wonder if there's any one girl you don't like?"

"We don't like nobody," Moke said. "It don't pay."

"I see. Who is Jewel Schwab?"

"She runs the elevator."

"Nice girl?"

"Kind of grumpy, wouldn't you say, Poke?"

"Inhibited. She can't ever get a fellow."

"That's fine, that's the stuff. Now, I want to see Jewel tonight, but I understand a Miss Brady looks over all callers. Right?"

"She tries to. So does Miss Small. Who told you that?"

"A tall girl with spots on her face."

"Kitty Brice. She's the telephone operator and helps at the desk." The corners of Moke's mouth said she didn't care for Kitty.

"And who's Miss Small?"

"Miss Brady's assistant. Brady's the Head, Small's the second Head. They're educated, you could talk to them, Mr. East. The rest of us got orders nobody was to talk, but they'd talk to you. You tell them about Mrs. Sutton they'll understand. You see, it's like this. There's a lot of swells behind Hope House, and Miss Brady and Miss Small have got to keep scandal out or it's bad for their reputation as Heads."

Mark nodded. "They're right. Scandal would be very bad. But suicide doesn't necessarily mean disgrace. It could mean something sad, like heartbreak. Do you suppose that was Ruth's trouble?"

"No, sir!" Moke was positive. "Maybe we didn't know her so very well, but we know it wasn't anything like that. You notice a thing like that. It shows....But I've been thinking about something. When she moved to the House she sort of changed. She moved on the Saturday and on Monday she died. But I don't know—"

"Sure you know, Moke. Go on."

"Well, I don't think she ate all the meals, and that's funny because the meals are good. She said it was because she was sick, but she looked like she was in a trance or something. That was on the Sunday."

"Never looked like that in the store?"

"No, sir .. I wish we'd paid her more attention now." Moke's eyes filled again, but Mark went on as if he didn't see.

"Tell me about the Sunday. You, the other one, Poke. It's your turn now."

"We saw her on Sunday morning," Poke said. "We didn't see her on Saturday because we had a date. We had her to our table for breakfast, but she wouldn't eat. And Sunday was the tea day.

(d) For a 48 minute period 4 small one cent Dominion of Canada coins.

(e) For a 60 minute period a large 5 cent Dominion of Canada coin or 5 small one cent Dominion of Canada coins.

3. Section 2 hereof shall be applicable to all parking in the parking meter zone from 9 o'clock in the forenoon to 6 o'clock in the afternoon on all days throughout the year—saving and excepting Sundays, Legal Holidays and all days proclaimed holidays by the Mayor of the City of Belleville.

7. No person shall deface, injure, tamper with, open or wilfully break, destroy, or impair the usefulness of any parking meter installed under the terms of this By-law.

May Investigate Transactions In Eldona Shares

Toronto, Sept. 12 — (CP)—Col. T. P. O'Connor, senior solicitor for the Ontario Securities Commission, said last night that the commission had applied to the Attorney-General's Department for authorization to investigate transactions in shares of Eldona gold mines.

"We've recommended to the Attorney-General that the investigation be made," Col. O'Connor told The Canadian Press. "It can get under way immediately we receive the Attorney-General's approval of our application."

The inquiry would seek to establish whether there had been any illegal dealing in Eldona shares. Wide fluctuations had marked trading in Eldona on the stock exchange during the last three weeks.

In that period, between 900,000 and 1,000,000 shares of Eldona have been traded on the Toronto Stock Exchange, records show. From a low of 30 cents, Eldona surged to $2.70 within a week. Pressure sent the stock down to the $1 mark yesterday and the issue closed today at $1.15.

The investigation is expected to show whether pools have been operating to manipulate the stock.

President Arthur P. Earle of Eldona in a paid advertisement addressed to small shareholders of mining company stock said today Eldona still was "a highly speculative security."

He added:

"In the interest of small shareholders who have invariably been shaken out of the shares of companies which later made great mines by wide and rapid market fluctuations, I would like to point out that never in the history of mining in any portion of the world has a sulphide ore body of the character of Eldona been proven as to size or location without inevitably encountering sections of barren or low-grade rock."

Third Death Follows Car Crash

London, Ont., Sept. 12. (CP)—Jacques Fontaine, 26, of London, died in hospital early today, bringing to three the death toll of an accident late Wednesday night in which an automobile carrying five persons crashed into the rear of a transport truck halted by a street light at the outskirts of London.

Fontaine's 70-year-old mother, Mrs. Maria Fontaine, of Rosemount, Que., and his father-in-law, Clement Girard, 58, of Montreal, both died shortly after the crash. Condition of the two surviving passengers, Fontaine's wife, Yvette, and Bert Hurd, 19, also of London, was reported by hospital authorities last night as "fair".

Two Sentenced For Carrying Letter-Bombs

Monk, Belgium, Sept. 12—(Reuters) — A Jewish man and woman Thursday were sentenced to a total of 20 months imprisonment for carrying letter-bombs addressed to Britons in the Palestine administration.

The bombs were of the same type as those mailed last June to Foreign Secretary Bevin, Anthony Eden, former foreign secretary and Winston Churchill, wartime prime minister.

Elizabeth Lazards, 21-year-old French-Jewish girl, and Jacob Elias, described as a stateless Jew of Russian origin, were charged with "transporting explosives with intent to commit a felony." Miss Lazarus was sentenced to one year and Elias to 8 months.

The court president, Andre De Tender, revealed that Miss Lazarus was found to have concealed on her 14 packages of gelignite, in letters addressed to important members of the Palestine administration, when arrested.

She also had electric detonators concealed about her person and in the false bottom of her suitcase.

Jacob was carrying a briefcase containing nine batteries. Miss Lazarus, the president said, told authorities she was a member of the Stern Gang terrorist organization.

Elias, also said he was a member of the Stern Gang, but declared he did not know Miss Lazarus. His journey to Belgium was in connection with the spread of Jewish terrorist propaganda, he said.

Both Miss Lazarus and Elias are to appeal.

The couple were arrested by Belgian police on the Franco-Belgian frontier at the border railway station at Query last June, shortly after letter-bombs addressed to cabinet ministers had been detected in London before exploding.

Alleged Driver Of Army Truck Goes on Trial

Barrie, Ont., Sept. 12 (CP) — Charged with motor manslaughter, J. Kenneth Jowett, 29, of Toronto went on trial yesterday before Mr. Justice W.F. Schroeder and an Ontario Supreme Court jury. He pleaded not guilty.

Jowett is charged in connection with the death of Robin Fraser of Toronto in a highway accident last June 30.

Jowett is alleged to have been the driver of a converted army truck which went out of control on Highway No. 11 and turned over twice. Fraser and several other youths were passengers in the truck.

Morgan D. Parmenter, principal of the Vocational Guidance Centre in Toronto, said he had been driving in his own automobile from Toronto to Huntsville, Ont. the day of the accident.

"Suddenly I heard a screeching of brakes and a converted army truck came by me at high speed, careening wildly, plunged into the ditch, turned back to the road and turned over twice," Parmenter said.

Supporters of Argentine Govt. Warned by President Peron They Are Not Doing Enough

By LAURENCE F. STUNTZ

Buenos Aires, Sept. 12—(AP)—President Peron has warned supporters of his Labor government that they are not doing their full share to make it a success.

At the same time he told labor that if it continues to let production fall off, he may find it necessary to decrease some salaries in proportion.

The president's warning came in the course of a series of four speeches on his policy, his opponents and his difficulties.

Peron told his Labor supporters that their cash salaries had been increased 73 per cent since 1943 and their total benefits more than doubled. At the same time, the cost of living had increased only 56 per cent.

In addition to the 73-per-cent increase in cash payments to workers, other benefits represented another 56-per-cent increase.

Peron said the average production for each worker had fallen from 100 points in 1943 to 82 points this year.

"The principal factor, although there are other political ones in this reduction, are the larger salaries which let the worker cut down on his production without feeling it is his living expenses.

"Argentina needs not only to maintain production but to increase it when possible. This will reduce the cost of living and let the classes which earn less buy more. But, to be just, I must say that not all or even the principal blame for reduced production falls on the workers. Management's responsibility is not inconsiderable.

"If this situation continues, the government will have to consider the necessity of adjusting salaries to the cost of living, not to raise salaries to the cost of living but to freeze those which are excessively above it."

Peron said that if this system is established, each factory would be required to report monthly on production or absenteeism. If production falls off, workers and management will be called on to explain why. Once the blame is fixed, either management could be fined or the pay of workers reduced.

Forswear Long Skirts To Support Britain

Melbourne, Sept. 12 (Reuters)—Some 200 members of the Victorian National Council of Women decided to forswear long skirts—to aid Britain.

A resolution urged "all women in affiliated societies who sincerely wish to give aid to Britain greater help to discourage extravagance, especially in dress, at the dictate of fashion."

The resolution added: "The less we spend on luxuries, the more we may contribute to Britain's need."

Mrs. Herbert Brookes, 64, daughter of former Australian Premier and President of Melbourne' International Club, moved the resolution. She said:

"You can't tell me we shall help Britain by buying these frocks Britain cannot make them. I personally do not want to go back to the cumbersome skirts fashionable when I was a girl."

May Vote Down Soviet-Iran Oil Agreement

Tehran, Iran, Sept. 11 (AP) — Some unqualified observers predicted today that the new Iranian parliament might vote down both the Soviet-Iran oil agreement and a proposed $25,000,000 American military credit as an expression of impartiality toward the great powers.

Close associates of Premier Ahmed Quavam said Soviet ambassador Sadvhikov had informed Qavam that Russia would consider Iran a "bitter blood enemy" if the oil agreement is not approved by parliament and one Tehran deputy, a member of the majority democratic party, said, he was "not so certain as a week ago" that the oil concession would be disapproved.

(In London, authoritative government sources said Sir John Le Rougetel, British ambassador at Tehran, was hurrying home for top-level talks on Soviet-Iranian relations.)

Informants said Qavam was expected to submit his new cabinet and his legislative program to parliament study. Both the oil agreement and the military credit were expected to be on the list.

Communist Denials Of Moscow-Tie-Up Bunk Says Minister

Hamilton, Sept. 12 (CP) —"If the Canadian Communist party tried to tell you that it has no ties with Moscow, give it the lie directly. All evidence points to such a tie-up," said Dr. Watson Kirkconnell in an address to the third session of the Conference of Baptist Ministers at McMaster University yesterday.

As evidence, the speaker by the use of slides showed documents including greeting of the Canadian Communist party to the central Communist party at Moscow hailing Stalin as "our trusted leader and dearest comrade," and stating that capitalism could be suppressed "only by the stern violence of the proletariat."

As further evidence of the Canadian Communist party's revolutionary intentions, the speaker submitted a document by Tim Buck in which was the statement that "the workers of Canada will go from victory to victory to crush the capitalistic state and establish a Soviet state.

Shoves Twins to Safety, Mother Killed by Car

Detroit, Sept. 12 — (CP) — Thinking only of her children, Mrs. Virginia Bermel, 27, shoved her 11-month-old twins to safety last night just a split second before she was struck and killed by an automobile.

The babies were hurt, although not seriously. They suffered scratches and bruises.

Driver of the car who was released after questioning, Edward A. Robbins, said he did not see Mrs. Bermel until he was too close.

DOZENS QUESTIONED IN LOVERS' LANE SLAYING

Strangling Victims — George Vigus, 39, company executive, and Iris Scott, 21, art student and bookkeeper, whose bodies were found in trunk of car in High Park.

Weekend Arrests Hinted by Sources Close to Inquiry

Police Hope to Determine Scene and Establish Motive

Toronto, Sept. 13. (CP)—Detectives today continued questioning "dozens of men" as they pressed their hunt for the slayer of George Vigus, 39, and Iris Scott, 21, whose bodies, jammed into the luggage compartment of a small automobile, were found early Friday in a High Park lover's lane in the city's west end.

In their efforts to run down the killer who strangled the couple, investigators hoped to determine the scene of the slayings and to establish a motive. Sources close to the inquiry hinted at the possibility of week-end arrests.

A notebook and a bundle of letters were taken from the girl's room in a boarding house to be examined for possible clues.

The mystery surrounding the fate of the paper box plant manager and the blonde secretary of a North Toronto motorcar company extended to the time their assailant struck.

They were last seen alive in a north-end restaurant Wednesday evening. Investigators said the married man and the girl had been dead 24 hours when their bodies were discovered.

Jealousy, revenge, robbery—all were considered as motives as veteran investigators sought to solve the bizarre crime.

Son Found Car

Police continued to insist that the young business man and the girl with whom he had kept company for more than a year were slain some distance from the spot where their bodies were discovered. They said the slayer apparently jammed the corpses into the luggage compartment slammed down the lid and locked it, then drove the little black car to the quiet wooded park where it stood 24 hours on a heavily-travelled roadway.

Vigus' 19-year-old son, tipped by a friend who had called to poke fun at him about the couple being stalled in the park, went to the park and called on police for help in forcing open the locked luggage compartment.

Vigus, whose widow lives with the son and a daughter on Glenforest Road in North Toronto, will be buried Monday afternoon.

Miss Scott, a spare time amateur artist who always wore brightly colored clothing, will be in black for her funeral. Last week she made a down payment on a high-necked black crepe and net dress and yesterday her fellow workers at the motorcar company paid the balance and took the dress to her mother's home.

"I've never seen her in black but I think it will suit her fine," the mother said.

Customs Union Plan for Europe Being Considered

London, Sept. 13 (AP) —Thirteen countries in the Paris economic conference will consider the idea of setting up a customs union as a selfhelp move under the Marshall Plan for United States aid to Europe.

These countries, including Britain, France and Italy, will invite the Soviet Union, two Soviet Republics and 12 other countries, most of them in Eastern Europe to join the project.

The British and Belgian foreign offices made simultaneous announcements of the plan last night in the name of all the states that have agreed to take part. These include all those at the Paris Conference except Norway, Sweden and Switzerland.

The announcement said the participating countries had "decided to create a study group for the purpose of examining the problems involved and the steps to be taken in the formation of a customs union or customs unions between any and all of these governments and ... other governments invited to participate."

Free Trade, Objective

The objective of a customs union is free trade, unhampered by tariff barriers, among member states and a common tariff policy towards non-member countries. Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands, which already have instituted their own customs union, were listed as sponsoring powers, to issue invitations and "convene a first meeting of the study group as soon as sufficient opportunity has been given for other states to signify their desire to adhere to the study group."

The announcement said any customs union would be formed "in accordance with the principles of the draft charter for the proposed International Trade Organization" and with the idea of "promoting a stable and healthy economy in Europe within the framework of expanding world trade."

Besides Britain, France, Italy and the three sponsors, those that have agreed to the customs-union study are Australia, Denmark, Eire, Greece, Iceland, Portugal and Turkey. Invited to join in the project are the Soviet Union White Russia, The Ukraine, Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Finland Hungary, Norway Poland, Romania, Sweden, Switzerland Yugoslavia and through the United Nations, the Trieste Free State.

14,000 Meat Packers Idle, Meat Famine Threatened

(By The Canadian Press)

Every plant operated by Canada's "Big Three" of the packinghouse industry may be shut down by tonight, making 14,000 workers idle, cutting off much of the domestic supply of meat and threatening to cripple overseas meat shipments.

That was the prospect unless an 11th hour settlement bid headed off spread of the strike for higher wages called by the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) to all the plants of Canada Packers, Burns and Company and Swift Canadian.

Some 3,500 employees of the latter company have been on strike for more than two weeks but up to late last night some plants of the other two firms still were operating.

Upwards of 11,000 workers were on strike last night.

The union seeks a wage boost of approximately 17 cents an hour to bring the basic hourly rate to 93 cents and has suggested federal conciliation — a step which would involve temporary waiving by the provinces of their jurisdiction over labor matters.

Rejection Expected.

A conciliation overture by the Ontario labor department appeared doomed to rejection by the union because its formula called for strikers to return to work while a conciliator or arbitrator discussed differences.

In Montreal it was reported on good authority that the union had refused to consider conciliation efforts by the Quebec government. Strikers in the west had before them a statement by Acting Premier C. M. Fines of Saskatchewan that the Saskatchewan government might take control of strike-bound plants in that province. Agriculture Minister I. C. Nollet said he considered the union demands just and reasonable but regretted halting cattle shipments.

Meanwhile reports from many parts of the country indicated that the strike would have other disruptive effects than causing a meat famine and depriving farmers of a market at a time when livestock was ready for the slaughterhouse.

Toronto's ice shortage threatened to become more acute if the union called out its members from two ice plants operated by the packing companies. And from Vancouver came a prediction that bakeries might be forced to close when their present supply of shortening runs out.

Mead, Drink by Knights of Round Table, to be Made Commercially

Penzance, Cornwall, England, Sept. 13 (CP) —Mead, medieval drink of kings and countryfolk—Knights of King Arthur's Round Table tossed off many a flagon of the soul-warming brew in these parts, so local legend runs —will be made commercially in Britain for the first time in 400 years.

Nearby in the ancient sheltered village of Gulval, Robert Gayre is superintending the first cultures of yeast prepared through a "secret process" from a recipe dating back to the Middle Ages. It will form the basis of the first shipments of the fermented honey beverage his company plans to produce.

Gayre told reporters he and four friends, who after 12 years study of the science of making Mead, have rented a derelict seven storey flour mill for the project, already have an order from New York for 250,000 gallons of "Old English Mead."

Mead, in flavor and bouquet, will range between hock and imperial tokay, according to the amount of honey used. It is planned to sell in Britain at around three dollars a bottle.

Gayre has been making non-commercial Mead for years at his home in Battle, Sussex, using honey from local apiaries and recipes handed down through district families.

"Now," he said, "we are established in a business which will soon produce 3,000 gallons a month. This is an enormous amount when every vat has a personal history sheet filled every day, detailing growth and development."

The liquor will start as plain honey on the top floor of the mill where the first vat will be charged Sept. 16. It is steam-heated to begin the fermentation process and drawn through the factory's oak-beamed floors until, after seven weeks, it reaches the mystical seventh stage at ground level.

All the way down it will be treated with "medieval herbs" in formulae which might come from the back door of the sorcerer Merlin — and when ready to be bottled packs a kick like Sir Lancelot's favorite stallion.

TOY PISTOL USED TO ROB TORONTO MAN OF $2,100

Cigar Store Owner Puts Up Struggle and Fires One Shot at Fleeing Bandits

Toronto, Sept. 13. (CP)—Joseph Pancer, downtown cigar store proprietor, told police he was held up by two young thugs early today and robbed of $2,100. This is the fourth case within a month where a merchant has been robbed as he returned home in the early morning hours.

As he turned his automobile into the driveway of his midtown house, the youths jumped into the car, pointed a toy pistol at him, and demanded his wallet. Pancer put up a struggle. He said one of the two struck him, took the money from his pocket and ran off.

Recovering from the blow, Pancer pulled a revolver, fired at one of the men, missed, and was starting after the other man when his revolver jammed, he said.

ANGLICAN BISHOPS AND CLERGY URGED TO RETIRE AT 70

Bishop Lyons Says Greatest Progress Toward Union Made With U. C.

By DOUGLAS GREEN

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Saskatoon, Sept. 13 —(CP)— A resolution urging that bishops and clergy of the Church of England retire at 70 is before the House of Bishops for consideration.

In speaking to what he termed a "private member's bill" to this effect, Dean D. S. Catchpole of Kootenay Diocese said "personal ambition and reluctance to give up authority" figured too often in the minds of men. There were some clergy who were carrying on when they should not be doing so.

The interest of the church was paramount, he said in discussing the report of the pension committee yesterday before the executive council of the General Synod. Dean Catchpole suggested that clergy who because of age or illness were unfit to continue their ministry be permitted to retire on pension before reaching the age of 70.

Dean C. E. Reilly of Toronto said that in his diocese an ecclesiastical canon required bishops to offer their resignations upon reaching 70, yet to demand such resignations was contrary to all precedent.

In the closing session of the executive council's eight-day meeting here, Dean R. H. Waterman of Niagara Diocese said he felt the departmentalization of the church interfered with the granting of funds for specific purposes apart from those raised by assessment upon dioceses.

The question was referred to the finance committee for consideration and a report.

Progress Towards Reunion.

Earlier, Bishop John Lyons of the Diocese of Ontario said that in conversations looking toward reunion, the Church of England had made greater progress with the United Church than with any other denomination. The committee looked to the "reunion of Christendom" rather than to reunion with any particular church or denomination.

In converations with the Presbyterian and Baptist communions "little or no" progress had been made.

Archbishop G. F. Kingston said in closing the sessions that Saskatoon's Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist in which he was elected to and installed in the office of primate "will mean so much to me all the days of my life."

All had been conscious of the absence of the late primate, Archbishop Derwyn T. Owen of Toronto.

The meetings of the executive council with the various departments of the General Synod had accomplished much, Archbishop Kingston said, and given him a "good initiation" into the difficulties of his offfice.

Rain Smothers Forest Fires In N. Brunswick

(By The Canadian Press)

Long-awaited rain cascaded out of leaden skies early today to smother half a dozen dangerous forest fires in eastern New Brunswick, but there was no relief in sight for firefighters struggling with a serious blaze near Antigonish in the northeastern corner of Nova Scotia.

Though rain fell last night at New Glasgow, only 30 miles west of Antigonish, and over Prince Edward Island, it by-passed the fire area, just north of the university town of 3,000. More than 300 men battled it as it crept toward another fire which has been burning for more than a month.

Some estimates said the long-lived fire had consumed as much as 8,000 acres of slash, second growth and spruce.

Because of the danger to their homes and their duties as firefighters, farmers have not been able to harvest their grain.

It was the fourth bad fire in Antigonish county this summer.

Antigonish itself was in danger Thursday night and a wind shift, Forest Rangers warned, could again bring it sweeping down on the town.

FASCISTS USING NAZI TECHNIQUES AT MEETINGS

Communist Party Members and Fascists Trade Blows In London's East End

London, Sept. 13 — (CP)—Police today girded for what looms as a fifth consecutive Sunday night disturbance in London's densely-populated east end, where avowed Fascists and members of the Communist party have traded blows following political meetings in the Bethnal Green area.

The growth of fascism, strongly marked by anti-Semitism, is plainly visible in London and a redcrudescence of the views of the defunct pre-war union of British Fascists formerly led by Sir Oswald Mosley appeared in speeches delivered by the leaders' league of British ex-servicemen and women during the last four Sunday nights.

"I am a Fascist and I am proud of it," shouted one haranguer recently as members of the league cheered. He went on to defend the Nazi philosophy of society and attacked Jews in a manner reminiscent of the back streets of Berlin.

Knuckle Dusters Used

"We want Mosley," cry members of the league, while counter-cries rise from various groups, principally anti Nazi, and generally on the outskirts of the crowd fists begin to fly. Knuckle dusters and clubs have been used frequently.

The constant cry of the anti-Nazis has been that the "wrong people are being arrested" and the Daily Worker, official Communist party organ, makes much of the fact that the majority of those appearing in police courts bear Jewish names.

Anti-Nazis who take offence at league speakers come from several overlapping groups. The part of London where the league demonstrations occur is predominantly Jewish in population and the Jews naturally take an active dislike to hearing themselves reviled.

Attack Jewish Race

The area also is the stronghold of the Communist party, which has sworn to fight Fascism to the death.

Then there are groups of "Liberals" who are neither Jewish nor Communist but who are militantly against anyone who raises racial bogies. They come from other parts of London to take part in the regular Sunday night shindig. They can't, however, be labelled with any party tag; they're just anti-Fascist.

The post-war growth of fascism is not confined to London.

Recent manifestations of anti-Jewish feeling in Liverpool and Manchester following the alleged Stern gang anti-British atrocities, included smashing of stone fronts of merchants known to be Jews and looting of the Broken premises.

POLICE BELIEVE SHOOTING WAS ACCIDENTAL

Hemmings Told Guests Not to Handle Loaded Gun Kept in Cottage Near Gravel Pit

Toronto, Sept. 13 (CP)—Continuing their investigation into the fatal shooting of Cecil James Hemmings at nearby Maple, police today said they believed the 42-year-old gravel-pit watchman from Welland, Ont., was killed by an accidental blast from a shotgun during a drinking party and not by a would be robber as had been thought at first.

Chief Constable George Stuart of York County said that Hemmings, who died in hospital at 9 a.m. yesterday, had warned guests at the party Friday night not to handle the loaded gun he kept in his cottage near the gravel pit. But in some manner the gun, which had been put away after the warning, was brought out again and the shooting followed.

Brian Sheppard of Richmond Hill and Mrs. William Clare of Concord, said by police to have been present at the time of the shooting, have given voluntary statements. Still to be questioned was another woman present at the party whose identity was known but whom police had not been able to contact last night.

The shooting occurred in the back room of the small building which had been used by Hemmings as a residence since he was hired by a local gravel company at the beginning of the week. Several beer bottles and an empty wine bottle were found by police in a waste paper receptacle. Shotgun pellets were embelled in one of the walls and the floor was covered with bloodstains.

"Hemmings' wallet was under the mattress of the cot in the room and its contents were intact," said Chief Stuart in discounting the robbery motive.

The guns, a .410 gauge, and Hemmings clothing are being examined by a provincial analyst, and several other persons have yet to be questioned before a report can be completed for the Crown Attorney, the chief added.

Tropical Storm Expected to Pass Near Puerto Rico

Miami, Sept. 13 —(AP)— A tropical hurricane with winds above 140 miles an hour was expected to pass within 250 miles of San Juan, Puerto Rico, early today as it churned along its west northwest course.

The San Juan weather bureau said last night that the storm, which had winds of above hurricane force over an area 80 miles in diameter and gale winds 100 to 150 miles from the centre, had passed within 170 miles of St. Martins, in the West Indies.

It was expected that the storm would remain on its course for the next 24 hours and that the area of "dangerous winds" would increase. All vessels in its path were warned to exercise "extreme caution."

The storm has swept north past the Lesser Antilles and the British West Indies without coming sufficiently close to land to be felt, and storm warnings were ordered lowered from the Antilles to Puerto Rico yesterday afternoon.

Caracas, Venezuela, Sept. 13—(AP)— The government clamped control today of scattered seats of rebellion in eastern and western Venezuela.

The defence ministry said last night government forces had recaptured the western mountain town of La Fria and its airport in a brief fight with armed civilian rebels.

An earlier government communique reported that troops had put down a civilian uprising in the eastern oil port of La Cruz, capturing several insurgents with machine guns.

Early yesterday, buses were used to block streets leading to the Miraflores Palace in Caracas, home and office of Provisional President Romulo Betancourt.

Some reports said the buses had been parked by persons in the capital involved in a plot for sumultaneous revolt here and in other cities.

Rocket Crash in Mid-Air

Scheduled as an alternative number in a program of thrills, spills and action, "Lucky" Lott has conceived the rocket crash. With an old jallopy placed on the race track and a dare devil in another automobile, the desired effect is that the dare devil strikes the top of the opposite machine causing his automobile to loop the loop in mid-air. The "Lucky" Lott Hell Drivers are scheduled to appear at the Belleville Fair.

Many More Donations Needed to Give Substantial Help to Storm Victims

The people of Belleville and district are responding to the drive for funds for the Tornado victims at Coe Hill with characteristic generosity. Many organizations and individuals have already contributed to this fund, but there are many more persons in the district who have not done so.

If you have not yet sent or brought your contribution to the offices of the Ontario Intelligencer do so without delay. The seasons will not wait for tardy contributors. Winter is on the way to the northern regions of this county and without the assistance to rebuild from the wreckage of the tornado, the people who lost possessions will be without adequate shelter to face the rigors of a Canadian winter. Look around the house this afternoon and in place of the comfortable surroundings picture a pile of rubble and ruin. Then ask yourself how much you can afford to help these our neighbors to the north. Then while you are thinking about it send your contribution to the offices of the Ontario Intelligencer, Front Street. All contributors will receive a receipt for monies received.

Dutch Occupy Djankarlor

Batavia, Sept. 13 (A.P.) — The Netherlands army announced today it had occupied the north Java coastal town of Djankarlor "to ensure permanent security."

It was the fourth time in five days that Dutch communiques had disclosed the garrisoning of new towns despite a theoretical cease-fire between Dutch and Indonesian Republican forces.

The communique said Dutch forces had liberated 750 Chinese from the Republicans near Boemiajoe, Central Java. Thursday's report had alleged that a large-scale massacre of Chinese occurred there August 1.

The communique said two Netherlanders were killed and fourteen wounded in thirteen clashes yesterday.

HERO OF DIEPPE IS ATTACHE

Ottawa, Sept. 13 — (CP)—Col. Dollard Menard, 34, D.S.O., of Quebec, one of the heroes of Dieppe, has been appointed military attache at the Canadian Embassy in Paris, defence headquarters announced yesterday. In the Dieppe raid in August, 1942, Col. Menard was seriously wounded as he led Les Fusiliers Mont Royal ashore and he later was awarded the Distinguished Service Order.

Court Finds Man Not Guilty By Reason of Insanity

Haileybury, Sept. 13 (CP) — Hilton MacDonnell of Charlton, Ont., yesterday was found not guilty "by reason of insanity" of murdering his brother, Ronald, with an axe two years ago.

Mr. Justice G. A. Gale, presiding at the Ontario Supreme Court trial, told the jury it could bring in a verdict of guilty, not guilty or not guilty by reason of insanity. It reached its decision in 30 minutes.

Mr. Justice Gale then ordered MacDonnell, who is 42, recommitted to a mental hospital.

Cpl. Lee Walker of the Ontario Provincial Police quoted MacDonnell as saying he killed his brother because he himself had contacted a veneral disease, had infected his younger brother and "wanted to put the brother out of his misery." A doctor told the court MacDonnell had not been suffering from venereal disease.

The doctor added that MacDonnell suffered from delusions. Some time before the slaying the doctor certified MacDonnell as insane and tried to arrange for his admission to a mental hospital.

Cpl. Walker said MacDonnell gave him a detailed statement concerning the slaying at the little general store the MacDonnell brothers operated.

"I struck him on the head with the axe," Cpl. Walker quoted MacDonnell. "He was still breathing so I struck again and again. I carried him to the woodshed and, as he was still breathing, I cut his throat with the axe. Then I held his feet in the air until the blood had all left his body."

MacDonnell's case first came up for trial at assizes here in 1945, when an issue was tried as to whether MacDonnell was unfit to stand trial by reason of insanity. The jury returned a verdict of unfit to stand trial.

He was transferred to the Ontario Mental Hospital in London, Ont., on the Lieutenant-Governor's warrant. The superintendent of the institution recently notified the Ontario Supreme Court that MacDonnell now was fit to stand trial.

Salvation Army Campaign Opens On Monday

Which is the most important, the citizen of tomorrow, or the citizen of yesterday? "Both are equally important to The Salvation Army," declares Commissioner Chas. Baugh, Territorial Commander for Canada "because both are human elements which need understanding and guidance and often require institutional care."

Economically, perhaps, citizens of tomorrow are most deserving of attention. Among them will be more than 1,600 children of unmarried mothers cared for last year by The Salvation Army. They deserve all the rights and privileges implied by the term 'a born Canadian,' says the Commissioner. In its 31 maternity and receiving homes The Army seeks to provide safe surrounding to ensure a good start in life, free from stigma.

But citizens of yesterday make equal claim upon The Army's "human touch and understanding heart," the Commissioner states. He said that aged men and women having made their contributions to the social and economic life of the nation, also deserve consideration. Increase of old-age pensions is a step in the right direction, the Commissioner feels, but often the need goes farther. Protection and congenial accommodation are necessary and in 16 Sunset Lodges and Eventide Homes operated by The Army over 800 aged people find haven.

To care for Canada's citizens of tomorrow and yesterday, as well as the host of today's citizens who need help, The Salvation Army's national Red Shield appeal for $1,000,000 will begin across Canada on Monday, September 15.

"The Salvation Army feels certain that the public life of Canada and the hundreds of willing workers who every year give liberally of their time, will assure the success of the Appeal," Commissioner Baugh declared. The Belleville Campaign for $5,000 opens here on Monday.

Taft Runs Into Virulent Labor Opposition

Santa Cruz, Calif., Sept. 13 — (AP)—Organized labor and Senator Robert Taft (Rep. Ohio) exchanged bristling challenges last night in open political warfare marked by the boos of a picket line Taft skirted.

The Ohio Senator, plumbing western sentiment on his possible candidacy for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination, ran head on into virulent labor opposition stemming from his espousal of the Taft-Bartley bill.

He met a formidable threat to the new law's operation with an assertion before the California State Bar convention that any labor leader who fails to sign an affidavit that he is not a Communist "is simply cutting off his nose to spite his face."

Taft repeated this declaration when told of an announcement in Chicago by President Wm. Green that the American Federation of Labor executive council is unable to comply with the law's provisions for the signing of such affidavits.

Taft told the bar convention that the portion of the bill in question is designed to rid unions of a "Communist infiltration" which he called "a real threat to the United States."

Outside, pickets carried signs describing the Taft-Hartley Act as "a union busting slave bill."

Paul Burnett, local A.F.L. business agent, ordered the picket line shortened so that Senator Murray, (Dem. Mont.), an opponent to the measure who also was on the program, could enter a side door.

Pardon Offered To Guerrillas

Athens, Sept. 13 (AP) — The Greek parliament early today passed a bill to offer pardon to guerrillas in rebellion against the government, provided they surrender within a month.

Themistokles Sophoulis, Liberal premier of the new Liberal-Populist (Royalist) coalition government, had urged passage of the amnesty bill as a move to bring peace to the country.

The action followed heated debate. Parliament first accepted and then, upon reconsideration, rejected a motion to reduce the time for surrender to 15 days.

Military aircraft will fly over guerrilla-held areas and drop thousands of proclamations containing the text of the amnesty law and urging guerrillas to give up.

Y Fall Program Has Been Enlarged

The Fall and Winter program of the local Y.M.C.A. gets under way on Monday. A new and larger program has been arranged for members. A feature of the changes made from previous years will be the introduction of a mixed swimming class which gets under way Monday night and will continue every Monday and Saturday night, from 8 o'clock to 10.00 o'clock thereafter. Visitors to this new group will be cordially welcomed.

The gymnasium has been repainted and is waiting in its sparkling new attire to welcome the return of all the athletically inclined. All physical classes will be under the direction of Physical Director Burrell Morris, formerly of the Y.M.C.A. in London. Any person interested in any phase of physical education is asked to drop around to the Y and arrange a program.

F.B.I. FEARS U.S. HEADING FOR GANG WAR

"Roaring '20s" May Return if Underworld Crime Pattern Follows Through

Washington (CP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation says that criminal activity in the United States reached a 16-year peak in 1946. It reports that a total of 1,685,203 major crimes were recorded in the United States. This figures out at an average of one major crime every 18.7 seconds.

Is the United States heading towards a crime era like the "roaring '20s?"

The F.B.I. reports there are definite indications that it is, that widespread gang activity is the next logical step in the crime pattern of the underworld. There is, however, another "logical step," which the F.B.I. says might just as easily occur.

That is the successful battle of efficient law enforcement agencies against organized crime.

The crime wave which reached a 16-year peak in 1946 started in 1944 and 1945. It broke out at the height of rationing of short-supply materials and found expression in black market operations, robberies and high-jacking. But probably its most serious implications lay in the youth of the criminals.

The average age of the most persistent offenders was 17!

In early 1946 the first phase gave way to the second phase. Youthful, even childish, lawbreakers grew older and graduated into more serious crimes. As 1946 came and went the average of the most consistent offenders reached 21.

The F.B.I. says that this is the same cycle which occurred in the '20s after the First World War. In the '20s, though the Prohibition Act led to bootleggers, beer-barons and rum-runners and widespread breakdown in law and order.

Now that the first two phases of the present crime period have been passed, and the third is about to be launched, crime-killers are keeping eagle-eyes peeled for its first symptoms.

Law enforcement agencies all over the country, however maintain that gang warfare has not so far shown any appearance.

St. Louis officials say there has been no evidence of widespread gang activity since the early 20s.

New Orleans authorities say that crime of the "smaller variety" has definitely been on the increase during the last three years.

Murder is more widespread in Philadelphia than it was in 1920, reports the public safety director of the city of brotherly love. There were 152 murder complaints last year as against 105 in 1920.

Unquestionably, advises the F.B.I., the main gangster tool, the fire-arm, is more in evidence today than it was before the war. Many guns of all kinds were brought into the country as "souvenirs" by members of the armed forces.

Police departments have been swamped with illegally-owned weapons since the war. New York City dumps garbage scows full of these weapons into the East River.

'Fill His Boots' Japanese Slogan

Vancouver, (CP)—Capt. E. H. Bergman, master of the United States freighter St. John's Victory, says the Japanese are so friendly that it is a bit overwhelming at times.

In their enthusiasm the Japanese give parties to apparently try to get their guests in an "under-the-table" stage.

"They figure the party is a washout unless someone passes out and has to be packed away," said Bergman.

The St. John's Victory has been carrying relief cargoes to Japan and flower-bearing civic delegations visit the vessel at call ports to express gratitude for the goods sent them.

"Permission to get the necessary sake (Japanese national drink) usually has to be obtained from the governor of the area. But that's not difficult—the governor usually wants to come to the party himself," said Bergman.

Claim Air Element May Cause Disease

By GUY BETTANY

Munich. (Reuters)—A revolutionary discovery concerning the composition of air and its effects on human illnesses is claimed by a group of scientists of whom the most prominent is Dr. Manfred Curry, a German-American who has a laboratory at Riederau on Lake Ammer in Mavaria.

Dr. Curry believes that one of the elements to be found in air, which he has named "Aran", will be more important for medicine than pencillin.

"Aran", it is claimed, is an element found in minute particles in the air and is the main cause of headaches, rheumatic pains and other diseases which are known to be greatly influenced by climatic conditions.

Dr. Curry says that "Aran" plays a part in large number of illnesses and the course of these diseases can be stopped by the administration of "Aran" by means of especially constructed air chambers.

After living for 10 years in Germany where he was regarded as a stateless person, Dr. Curry has now returned to the United States.

Measurement of the amount of "Aran" found in the atmosphere is done by an apparatus invented by Dr. Karl Diernazel, a German scientist.

The presence of "Aran" in the air has been known to scientists for the last 15 years. The work of Dr. Saur, a German scientist made it possible for Dr. Curry to carry out practical research.

Air Must Be Pure

For years, Dr. Curry has been compiling records showing the effect of "Aran" on the human body and his researches now can be linked with those of other scientists who have been investigating the atmosphere, notably the German scientist, Dr. Rudder and the United States Professor Petersen.

"Aran" can only be used for treating patients in a pure atmosphere. Ordinary hospital wards are therefore unsuitable and air chambers must be used.

Already controversy has arisen over "Aran" which Dr. Gauer believes to be merely an indicator of some other elements in the atmosphere which has an effect upon human bodies. To support his contention he quotes the experiments of Dr. Kestner of Hamburg on the great biological effects of small particles of strickoxydul in the atmosphere.

Many further experiments are needed before "Aran" can become a remedy accessible to the multitude. Though Dr. Curry believes that "Aran" may be used for the treatment of disease ranging from infantile diarrhoea to cancer.

In his view, undue quantities of "Aran" in the atmosphere can also promote the start of these diseases.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

BY WINIFRED E. WILSON

FAITHFUL COUPLES

"What a shame it is that so many happy Birdland families should break up in autumn!" Alice sighed. "A few months ago parents and children all seemed so fond of one another. But most of the adult perchers soon neglected their own offspring allowing them to start on the southern trek without guidance!"

"Mother ducks are more thoughtful," Edith said. "They take the ducklings with them. But their husbands don't assist. Imagine Mr. Mallard didn't even give Mrs. Mallard any help in rearing the family — he just went to the club and enjoyed himself."

"That's like Mr. Hummingbird who left his poor wife to incubate the two eggs and never showed up to feed his children. Most bird fathers share the responsibility; and the male Phalarope does all the work. He sits on the eggs for three weeks while the female goes off on a spree!" Laughed Alice.

The lower animals vary in showing affection and in faithfulness just as much as human beings. Perhaps you have watched one of the jewel-like Warblers fly home with the favorite green worm — not for a nestling but for the mother bird who sits tight to keep the babies warm rather than forage for herself. The male Blue Jay and some Woodpeckers feed their wives thus. One of the cutest sights is a pair of Cedar Waxwings perching side by side on a branch passing each other choke cherries.

Mr. Wren is a noted bigamist. Before the children of his early summer wife are old enough to fend for themselves he starts a new home with a second spouse. The number of wives he manages to attract in his lifetime must be pretty large. On the other hand the Red-shouldered Hawk certainly keeps one wife for a year and probably forever. Some species, as Ospreys, are known to occupy the identical site year, after year; and we can guess that the pair often return together.

In birdland Screech Owls and Canada Geese are the best examples of constancy. This can be proved at a banding station, and the Jack Miner Bird Sanctuary offers this opportunity. Pairs arrive together each spring or fall, and there are many instances of the utter dejection shown by the remaining bird when its mate has been killed. Mr. Cleveland Grant, photographer and lecturer, tells of one couple that had been wed for at least 25 years.

LONG CABINET SESSION

PLUSH RESIDENCE FOR MILL WORKERS

Ocean Falls, B.C., (CP) — A 250-room "residence" with plush carpeted floors and luxuries of a first class city hotel for employees of a pulp and paper firm in this small coastal town is the first step in a plan to promote harmonious management — labor relations.

Pacific Mills Co. recently opened the doors of this revolutionary "bunk house" to help make a home in the lumber town, thus cutting down labor turnover.

Government and union officials attended the opening of the "residence" which is flanked by a new bowling alley, swimming pool and cinema, giving a summer resort atmosphere to this town of 2,500.

Education

The number of pupils and scholars winning scholarships is one of the facts of modern education. In the wisdom of the Department of Education a good many of these are offered every year and are carried off by the young pupils and students.

This is an encouraging sign to school supporters and to parents especially who realize that the costs of education are bringing the reward in the training and preparation of the young for their future lives.

That this leads to a higher standard of education is evident. The pupil and student have a goal before them and study attached to an objective is one of the paths to true education.

The honor of winning awards cannot but inspire a student to higher achievement.

Education is directed to the full development of the pupils. It is not just a case of training for education's sake but of preparation for the lives of the citizens of the future. Therefore those who win awards, such as scholarships, today are not only winners of awards but also well-trained pupils and students, true representatives of the best training of the time.

The interest which schooling arouses in all the pupils of today is something of an indication that education is being directed more and more so that it may prove of lasting benefit to the pupils in fully developed lives.

Tulipomania

The Englishman's love of gardens and gardening is recognized everywhere as one of his most marked characteristics. Wilfred Blunt spoke in a recent BBC broadcast about the tulip, a flower to be found in nearly every English garden, although it is of alien origin. The tulip is not a Dutch flower, as most people believe. It comes from the Middle East and reached us by way of Turkey, where it was first seen in the year 1554 by a diplomat named Busbecq. When he asked its name he understood his guide to reply "tulipam," but no doubt the guide was really comparing the flower to the Turkish "tulipam" or turban, much the same in shape. Busbecq brought the tulip to Vienna, and shortly afterwards the famous Fugger family was growing it at Augsburg. It soon reached Holland and by 1578 had arrived in England.

"Everywhere it went the tulip created a sensation," said Mr. Blunt, " . . . Clusius, Professor of Botany at Leyden, charged such extortionate prices for his bulbs that thieves invaded his garden by night and carried off the finest . . . The Germans, practical as ever, began experimenting with the possibility of the tulip bulb as a vegetable. The tulip was late reaching France—there's no record of one flowering there until 1611 . . . Within a few years bulbs were changing hands for fantastic sums . . . an enthusiast exchanged a flourishing brewery, valued at thirty thousand francs, for a bulb named "Tulipe Brasserie" in commemoration of the event . . . The craze spread northward through Flanders . . . the stage for the most astonishing drama in the whole history of horticulture . . . Tulipomania."

Wants Interpreter of Science

There is need for an interpreter for scientists, is the view of the Ottawa Journal. That is what this country needs, says the newspaper, which arrived at this conclusion after reading that the United States has lifted its ban on the export of radio-isotopes. The Journal admits it was puzzled and "the whole business was as clear as the proverbial black cat on a moonless night in a coal yard."

After discovering in the Oxford Dictionary that an isotope is "a chemical element possessing the same character as another element occupying the same place in the periodic table, but distinguished from it in other ways, as by radio-activity in the different mass of its atoms," this writer read something more in a newspaper which spoke of isotopes as having been termed 'atoms with a tail-light' he gives up and asks that someone who really knows tell what an isotope really is, what it consists of and what good it is, so that "our dull mind can comprehend."

The Journal writer then goes on to call for a description not in such jargon. He says:

"For generations on end economists have confused and worse confounded us, not to speak of their bedevilling things generally, with a jargon of their own, a gibberish which, we suspect, they invented to make themselves seem wise. We say that before it is too late we should protect ourselves from the same fate at the hands of the scientists. The atomic age is upon us. Whether it is going to make or break us, a question troubling philosophers and politicians, we don't know. How could we, seeing that whatever it is that makes the thing tick is being spoken of in language about as intelligible as Gertrude Stein or Joyce's 'Finnegan's Wake'?"

Best Way to Blow Auto Horn

Although many motorists make it their practice to use their horns as little as possible, there is still quite a lot of unnecessary honking. It can be heard almost invariably when a string of cars forms anywhere. Some of those behind, probably quite unaware of the situation ahead, are prompt to begin honking in an effort to hurry things up. With some the urge to depress the horn button and keep it depressed seems irresistible. Sometimes there is a chain of reaction and, in a matter of seconds there is a chorus of horn blowing that would make one think it was a celebration or a wedding procession.

As a general rule the ardent horn blowers unaware of what is happening up front. They seem to think someone is deliberately holding up the procession. They have no idea, apparently, that the drivers ahead are as anxious to get along as they are and, perhaps, have even more important business.

The noise, however, would be unimportant if it were not for results that sometimes follow. The result most frequently is to create confusion among other drivers and pedestrians and, sometimes, in these situations accidents result.

Ostensibly the extensive blowing of an automobile horn is the effort of one driver to indicate to someone else that he is engaged in bad driving. More correctly it might be assumed that it indicates the impatient driver and might be regarded as prima facie evidence that he is himself temperamentally unfitted to operate a motor vehicle.

On one occasion that could be cited a Port Arthur dealer was delivering a new car to a customer. Examining the various gadgets and their location the customer asked about the horn. The dealer pointed it out but added "The best way to blow your horn is to step on the brake pedal." — Port Arthur News-Chronicle.

Level Crossings That Are Unlevel

In our travels by motor car over the highways of Ontario we are frequently reminded that many of the so-called railway crossings are far from level.

Because some crossings are so level that they are hardly noticeable as one drives over them, we assume that others can be made level too.

The shaking that thousands of cars receive each day on crossings that are not level must contribute to mechanical wear and tear. Dispositions are spoiled by the annoyance suffered by all the people who are jolted in those cars. Surely crossings of this sort are not consistent with the standards of levelness which motorists now have the right to expect.

Even if the responsibility for the existing unevenness does not rest with the highway authorities, we believe the initiative should come from them or from the Ontario Good Roads Association, or the Ontario Motor League, to see that the railroads or whoever is responsible for these objectionable crossings will take steps forthwith to make them in fact as well as in word, "level" crossings.—Municipal World.

THE WAY OF LIFE

How much do we mean to each other?
Well, nobody knows to the end.
But whenever we meet with another
We may be acquiring a friend.

The stream of life constantly flowing
Winds in and out all through the years,
And the fate towards which we are going
With certainty seldom appears.

No clue to life's mystery given.
No sight of tomorrow, today.
However we've struggled and striven,
What's yonder nobody can say.

Each life to the end touches many.
We are fashioned by friends and by foes.
Let two people meet, and not any
Can say what the years will disclose.

Secretary-General Of Arab Labor Federation Slain

Jerusalem, Sept. 13 — (AP) — Sami Effendi Taha, 33, secretary-general of the Arab Labor Federation, was reported slain last night by gunmen who cut him down with machine-gun fire from a moving automobile as he was walking near his Haifa home.

Taha has been a supporter of Musa El Alami, director-general of the Arab propaganda offices, now in London, in opposition to Haj Amin El Husseini, exiled Mufti of Jerusalem and Jamal Effendi Husseini, deputy chairman of the Palestine Arab Committee.

Informants said Taha and another Labor leader issued a manifesto two weeks ago in support of Alami as a result of which they were reported to have received threatening anonymous letters.

Taha refused to retract his statements and repeated them in a speech made at a Haifa labor meeting just before he was slain.

In his address Taha scored Jamal Effendi Husseini's newspaper, Al Wahda, for its attacks on supporters of Alami and assailed the contention of Husseini's group that all Jews who arrived in Palestine after 1918 were in the country illegally. He favored letting Jews remain in an independent, unpartitioned Palestine.

Cincinnati, Sept. 13 —(AP)— Four-year-old David Smith and his sister, Cindy, 3, yesterday carried their 14-month-old brother, Milford, from their burning home shortly before firemen arrived to extinguish the blaze. The mother, Mrs. Cecil Smith, was out shopping at the time.

Marriage Case Declared Mistrial

Winchester, Tenn., Sept. 13 — (AP) — The "divine marriage" case of a 61-year-old man, charged with seducing a 14-year-old schoolgirl on a bed of cedar brush before their wedding, was declared a mistrial when a jury failed to agree and the case reset for January 7.

R. S. Holt, former part-time preacher accused of violating the age of consent in his relations with Alene Holman, testified he thought his marriage to the child was "God's will — it wasn't puppy love." The marriage was Holt's second and came May 4, three days after his divorce from his wife of 40 years.

Alene told the court she was pregnant and that her sexual relations with Holt began last October. The couple lived together only three days before the girl's father, Joe Holman, obtained warrants for Holt's arrest. The marriage was annulled June 12.

The prosecution charged that Holt married the child to escape punishment for his intimacies. Holt denied the accusation.

The unexplained explosion occurred Thursday as the 17,702 ton motorship, refitted after troop transport service, was on a trial cruise in the Irish Sea prior to resuming passenger voyages.

Division Does Nothing But Cater To Hobbiests

By GEORGE KITCHEN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Sept. 13 — (CP)—This is a story of the humble Canadian postage stamp — and its admirers.

Tucked away in the corner of a big mid-town Ottawa building is a government division which does nothing but cater to hobbiests — stamp collectors of Canada and abroad — and turns in a substantial profit to the treasury from its operations.

This little-known branch of government is the philatelic division of the post office department which operates under A. Stanley Deaville and his 13 eagle-eyed assistants who spend their time combing new issues for varieties of interest to the hobbiests.

At one time, stamp collectors were considered to be a departmental nuisance because of their persistent demands for information about new issues and their desire to purchase stamps of freshly-printed perfection. But not now. Men like Stanley Deaville saw that here was a class deserving recognition so the department of philately was born.

The division's job is to cull from batches of newly-issued stamps those sheets which are most perfectly centred and to retain them for the demands of collectors. The division ensures that collectors receive only the finest specimens — the cream of the philatelic crop.

The branch now pays its way—and more — through its sales of Canadian stamps to the thousands of collectors at home and abroad who write in to purchase various issues.

Proceeds of these sales, running into many thousands of dollars yearly, go into the revenues of the post office department and ultimately serve to bolster the Dominion's treasury.

Wedding of the Week

Veterans Minister Mackenzie promised to wear the kilts of his native Scotland for his marriage to Helen Mary MacRae of Winnipeg but at the last moment settled for a blue suit with a sprig of white heather in the buttonhole.

For a man who has held many a public meeting and the House of Commons spellbound with his eloquence, the new bridegroom pulled a typical bridegroom boner when he replied to the toast.

"I have proposed," he began, "many times . . ."

A gay chorus of laughter from the wedding guests cut him short.

"No, no," he protested. "not what you think.

"I mean I've proposed many such toasts myself but this is the first time I've had to reply to one."

Car Insurance Companies Liable Judge LeBel Rules

Toronto, Sept. 13 (CP) —Automobile insurance companies are liable for claims filed by an injured passenger against a private motorist in Ontario, even though their policies say the companies are not liable, Mr. Justice A. M. Lebel ruled yesterday in a written judgment.

For 12 years Ontario private motorists have been unable to buy insurance to protect them against claims by passengers injured in this province.

Mr. Justice Lebel ordered the Ocean Accident and Guarantee Corporation to pay Theresa Harrison, Toronto nurse $5,000 damages plus interest at five per cent from Dec. 19, 1944, for injuries she suffered while a passenger in a car owned by the late Albert E. Krug.

Krug was killed at the time Miss Harrison, his nurse, was injured. She obtained judgment of $7,500 against his estate but the money was not paid, the court was told.

Costs of all litigation in the case were levied against the insurance company, which gave Mr. Krug an ordinary automobile policy with maximum liability of $5,000 for bodily injury to one person.

Mr. Justice Lebel said Mr. Krug never was issued an endorsement for passenger hazard for his policy.

"It is true that there is no evidence that he sought such an endorsement, but we must assume that had he done so, none would have been forthcoming."

He added:

"In my opinion it was never contemplated by the legislature that an insurance company might by withholding an endorsement of a motor vehicle liability policy — except in the usual exercise of its rights to reject a person as an unsuitable risk — thereby escape liability under its contract to indemnify its insured against liability imposed by law where loss or damage is sustained by a person carried in an automobile."

CORNS, WARTS AND CALLUSES

Whether it takes the traditional "seven years" for complete regeneration of seven weeks, I don't know, but the skin is constantly renewed by multiplication of cells in its deepest layer and the shedding of old cells on the surface—the new cells push the old cells off.

Exert steady slight pressure upon a given spot for 12 hours or more every days and you prevent the old dried out cells from getting out of the way of the new young cells pushing up from the deeper layer, so the old cells become compressed into a compact mass. Some of the old cells pile up and spread out under the point of pressure, producing a miniature epithelial volcano upside down. That is a corn.

If a pressure is made by shoe or other hard object it is a hard corn. If the pressure is made by the adjoining toe or other soft object it is a soft corn. The main difference is that the soft corn is kept moist.

If the pressure is not constant and upon a broader surface as on the soles in walking, a callus is formed.

The only reason I mention warts with corns and calluses is that the best all-around corn or callus remedy I know does remove warts as well, in many instances. However, a wart is probably due to virus infection and not to pressure, and in every instance, whether one wart or several, the first remedy I would try is painting wart or warts and skin one-half inch around with what for twenty-odd years has been known as Mild Tincture of Iodine, U.S.P. but now, just to keep everybody confused, is designated Iodine Tincture, U.S.P. XIII (2%). Paint the affected area of skin just once or one coat a week for at least three weeks.

If that doesn't cause wart or warts to disappear, then paint the wart (not surrounding skin) with the familiar corn collodion—thirty grains of salicylic acid dissolved in one-half fluidounce of flexible collodion. Take cork or stopper out of the corn collodion vial without stirring the liquid up, so it will not get on inside of neck of vial. Carefully take on the end of a toothpick a drop of the liquid and apply it to wart or corn, where it soon dries and leaves a film. Repeat this daily for a week to ten days. By that time the corn or wart may be wiped away.

This same corn collodion may be used in the same way to soften and remove a callus on the sole of foot.

Corn or callus will not form again if the pressure or friction that caused it is not resumed. One with corns gets rid of the corns when confined to bed for several weeks—I don't mean as a treatment for corns but, say, with inflammatory rheumatic complicated with jumping toothache this is about the only thing I can think of at the moment which would warrant several weeks confinement to bed nowadays.) Come to think of it, there is a simpler way to give your feet a break, and more feasible too than remaining in bed for corns or calluses: Go barefoot, or anyway wear only soft mocassins or open sandals or haurachos if you must dress for a formal occasion.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Uriah Help Hands

If it were only in hot weather I wouldn't mind so much, but even more in cool weather my hands perspire so much it is embarrassing when I dance. . . (D. L.)

Answer— Send stamped self addressed envelope and ask (do not use clipping) for pamphlet on Sweating.

Mucous What?

Had your correspondent been noticed that the Japanese do not wear masks to prevent spreading more observing he would have CRI—they cover nose and mouth when well to prevent catching such infections. In fact children with CRI, mucous streaming from their noses, are a constant eyesore in almost every part of Japan . . . . (B. M. C.)

Answer—Thank you. Mucous membranes normally secrete mucus, the clear, mucilage-like substance which keeps the membrane soft, moist and lubricated so that it is protected against injury and against penetration by disease germs. Wearing masks in time of epidemic is primarily for self-protection in America too.

Dramatic and Romantic Too

Instructor in dramatic class spoke of some kind of eye drops which keep the pupils of the eyes wide under strong light, but I did not get the name of the stuff. (Missi Pritti Wong).

Answer—Use of such drops would be highly dangerous.

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

Who are one's kith and kin?

"Kith and kin" is now regarded merely as a pleonastic phrase meaning "relatives and kinfolk."

The first element in the phrase is an old English word that survives only in this connection. It is derived from Anglo-Saxon "cunnan," to know. The past participle of "cunnan" was written variously cyth, cuth, cith and kith, and the underlying thought of "kith" is "known" or "familiar."

In old English it came to signify known country, familiar territory, fatherland or native land. Later it was extended to one's countrymen, the people known to him, his friends, acquaintances, associates and neighbors. "Kin" means "relative" or "related." Thus "kith and kin" came to signify one's acquaintances and relations.

"Kin" occurs many times in Shakespeare and the King James Version of the Bible, but "kith" not once.

"Uncouth" and "kith" are related in origin. "Cuth," like "kith," literally means "known," and "uncouth" meant "unknown" or "strange." In Shakespeare we find "uncouth forest," "uncouth fear" and "uncouth ill event."

What is a bambino?

"Bambino" (pronounced "bahm-BEE-no") is an Italian word meaning "infant" or "baby."

In art and religion the term is applied specificially to an image or representation of the newborn Jesus lying in the crib in swaddling clothes. The most famous bambino, known as Il Santo Bambino or Bambino Santissimo, "the Holy Infant," is a wooden, jeweled figure of the Saviour as an infant in the church of Ara Coeli in Rome. A legend says it was brought to Italy from Palestine about 1647.

Wax bambini (that is the Italian plural), reputed to possess miraculous powers, are exhibited in Roman Catholic Churches from Christmas to Epiphany (the twelfth day after Christmas) and are carried in procession on both of those days. The custom is believed to have originated in the 13th century with St. Francis of Assisi.

Men of Vision Unite To Save Northern Game

By ALAN BAKER
(Sudbury Star)

Conversation has become the theme of government department and public-spirited bodies of sportsmen who are uniting in the first organized campaign preserve for perpetuity the fish, game and wild life which have made northern Ontario the famous sport centre for hunters, fishermen and lovers of the outdoors. Through the combined efforts of thousands of members of fish and game protective associations, the Ontario Department of lands and forests is hopeful of achieving this objective and assuring a continued flow of tourist dollars which play such a large role in the economic life of Northern Ontario.

The fish and wild life of Northern Ontario were long considered limitless. Few restrictions were imposed and even those were more or less winked at for years. Poaching of big game was the rule rather than the exception, while huge catches of fish were held out as lure to attract sportsmen to Northern Lakes and streams.

But this picture started to change with a suddenness which caused alarm and deep concern for various bodies of men who were interested in continued fishing and hunting for themselves and their children. Men vision across Northern Ontario became imbued with the idea that something must be done, and done quickly if the North's great natural resources were to be preserved.

Federation Formed

This resulted in the recent organization of all Northern Ontario conservation groups into the Northern Ontario Fish and Game Protective Federation with north and south zones, with each local association represented on the Federation board of directors. This group has pledged support of all government measures pointed toward greater conservation of fish, game and wild life, and only recently talks were held at North Bay which will probably see the organization of one all-embracing fish and game protective association for the province.

Since the talking over of fish and game administration by the department of lands and forests there has been greater co-ordination of effort in wild life preservation. Wild life experts have been engaged and gone are the days of the game warden being nothing but a policeman. Each overseer is given specific training in conservation work and today is prepared to give help and advice on wild life problems This consists of assisting in the re-stocking of lakes and streams securing expert biological data on the best types of fish to plant in any water; conducting studies of suitable plant food and giving directions on the best means of planting.

In addition to having their aliveness on the part of the department of wild life problems, there has been an increasing awareness of the need for conservation on the part of the powerful Northern Ontario Outfitters' Association and its members which constitute the majority of the large tourist camp operators in the north.

Confident of Comeback

For many years it was charged that the camp operators were prone to exploit the North's wild life, but today they have come to realize that their continued prosperity depends on wise preservation of fish, game and the natural beauties. This association has thrown its weight behind the recently organized Federation and has pledged its support to all conservation policies.

With these groups all working toward one end, it is confidently believed that the North's wild life resources will quickly stage a comeback. Plans call for more fish hatcheries to serve the north intensified re-stocking programs of both fish and game; scientific programs of natural rehabilitation through introduction of more small game preserves, and closing of certain lakes and streams to permit an ordered return of the fish population.

The fish and game of Northern Ontario have not vanished and plenty of both are still to be found in the thousands of acres of lakes, streams and forests. But lovers of outdoors are determined that it will not vanish and have set themselves the objective of assuring even more bountiful reserves for the future.

Marauding Natives Wage Eerie Battle

By LESLIE BRODIE
(Canadian Press Correspondent)

Darwin, North Australia, (CP) —One of the most eerie unrecorded wars of nerves in history has been waged for years within the Commonwealth, untroubled by the United Nations or its predecessor, the League of Nations.

A mysterious tribe of Myall natives from the unexplored portions of Arnhem Land, North Australia, have been trying for years to push the white invader off their tribal hunting grounds.

The Myalls, who are practically unknown to the white men of the area, appear frightened to be seen. They seldom attack a white man in person, but creep in at night and kill his cattle, horses, dogs and fowl. At other times they dam rivers and creeks flowing through the ranches and then scatter herds.

Experienced officers of the Native Affairs Branch at Darwin, who are as renowned for their ability to "get their man" as the R.C.M.P., have found it impossible to catch up with the offenders.

Patrol-officer Edward Evans recently returned from an extensive search for the Myalls tells of days and nights relentless hunting over treacherous country where he and his party failed to make a single contact with the natives.

The Myalls kept just ahead of the party, and led them through mosquito-infested swamps, over swollen mountain streams, and into the rocky gorge country of their forefathers, until the chase was dropped.

The night the white men returned to their ranches the natives resumed their hit-and-run tactics.

British Racing Dogs May Tour Canada and U.S.

(By The Canadian Press)

The British government has eased the six-months quarantine on animals leaving or entering Britain to allow trainers and breeders of racing dogs to tour Canada and the U.S., in an effort to raise dollars for Britain's economy. Fred Trelevallion, one of Great Britain's leading greyhound breeders, will soon leave for New York, and if arrangements can be made on this side, the best dogs will follow by air this fall or early next spring. Among the dogs coming to the United States is Trev's Perfection, triple dog derby winner considered by many experts as the fastest racing greyhound in the world.

Irish Billy Graham of New York, 47, knocked out Billy Seep, 143, of Port Colborne, Ont., last night at Worcester, Mass., in one minute of the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout.

Migoli, from the Aga Khan's stable and ridden by world champion jockey Gordon Richards, is the favorite for today's running of the St. Leger, one of the three top races in England. Pearl Diver, owned by Baron Geoffrey De Waldner, is the second favorite. Pearl Diver won the derby last year.

Cyanide Gun Helps Rout Coyote Pest

By ENID NEMY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Edmonton (CP) —You can't convince natives of the Prairie provinces that only deer and antelope roam the range — they'd like to believe it but they know better.

To the uninitiated, a strange howl emanating from a bush means a timber wolf but experience has taught ranchers and farmers that the wail is coming from a deadly foe — a coyote.

The coyote, usually a greyish color with a tinge of red, looks something like a slinky mongrel dog and is about the size of a thin collie. But unlike a dog, it is not universally beloved.

Coyotes live mainly in Prairie and bush country, rather than in timbered areas and forests and their favorite dish is rabbit. When rabbits become scarce they take second choice and head for civilization to forage in farmyards. When this happens, sheep, turkeys, chickens and other fowl are the victims and loss runs into thousands of dollars.

There are three known methods to combat the animal. The 1st is by paying a bounty for their skins. The Alberta government now is offering $5 for each skin up to Sept. 30 and from then on $3 a skin. Game officials believe that payment of a bounty is not a solution to the problem but simply a temporary help.

Poison Gadget

In the United States, hunters are employed and the same system is under consideration here. Hunters could either shoot the coyotes or use the third method —a little gadget called a "coyote getter." The getter has a gun mechanism for firing a shell but instead of using an actual bullet a shell loaded with sodium cyanide, a poison, is employed. A piece of flannel or a rabbits kin is placed on the trap to attract the coyote and a high-powered scent is used as a come on.

Sheep ranchers estimate that their loss alone runs into thousands of dollars when coyotes descend on their stock due to a scarcity of rabbits and the farmer who keeps only fowl also suffers.

Last year more than 7,000 coyote skins were brought in throughout Alberta and the provincial government paid out $39,000 in bounties. To date this year about 2,000 have been caught and officials expect that the total will surpass that of 1946.

There were 24 rinks entered and the competition was exceptionally keen. Four rinks were entered from Belleville and as usual brought home the majority of the prizes awarded.

A rink composed of Jerry Hyde, Mrs. George Watkin and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyde were the first winners of the Trenton trophy with a score of 44 plus 5. The second high was a rink of W. E. Conn and members from Brighton with a count of 39 plus 1, while third high was E. A. Hircock of Cobourg with a score of 39. The rink of Ray Zufelt with Mrs. Charles Mott and Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Ford won the two game high with a count of 39 plus 1.

The one game high total was won by Sam Netley and his rink from Brighton. Other rinks to compete from Belleville were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Price with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Legault.

Vancouver, Sept. 13. (CP)—One of Canada's grand old women, Mrs. Mary Glen, will celebrate her 100th birthday here Monday surrounded by relatives from as far distant as Glasgow, Scotland.

Mother of Resources Minister J. A. Glen, the frail, white-haired widow for 50 years attributes her longevity to "plenty of porridge" in her younger years and a nearly meatless diet now.

Mrs. Glen was born in Renton, Dumbartonshire, Scotland, just a bagpipe wail from the shores of Loch Lomond.

Not as active as she was on her last birthday, she can still move about the house and avidly reads the Christian Herald, which she has been reading since it began publication in London 70 years ago. She was a close friend of the late Senator G. G. McGeer.

'Take' From Canada's Biggest Business,' the Tourist Trade, Will be Over 225 Million Mark

(By The Canadian Press)

Friendship and courtesy paid off with a record-shattering tourist boom for the Dominions this year, pouring millions of dollars into busy Canadian cash registers.

Although no figures are available, a Canadian Press survey showed today that if the present influx of visitors continues last year's all time high of 20,000,000 tourists will be beaten by some 25 per cent.

With the free-spending tourists staying longer and higher prices prevailing, the "take" from Canada's "biggest business" will be well over the $255,000,000 mark of last year.

Increased tourist facilities following relaxation of government controls and the re-opening of the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto after a war-enforced shutdown were two reasons for the unprecedented increase.

Apparently Canada looked the "best bet" to the holiday-happy people, mostly Americans, still trying to catch-up on vacations missed during the war.

All reports are that the visitors had a swell time. Remarks were numerous about the streamlined Queen Elizabeth Highway in Ontario the quaint 'Old World' atmosphere of Quebec, and the awe-inspiring Rockies.

They also liked the fishing, boating, scenery, information centres and above all the prices. 763,000 cars in two months

While the peak has been passed, the warm September weather is expected to bring a record influx of visitors. The Canadian Travel Bureau reported a record 763,000 cars crossed the International border during July and August.

The tourist migration also was swelled by thousands of Canadians visiting other provinces. Especially in the Maritimes where 25 per cent of the "foreigners" were from "Upper Canada."

Quebec reported 86,183 'foreign' cars entered the province in the first eight months compared with 61,165 for the same period last year.

The majority of Quebec visitors spent their time on shopping tours, a whirl at night clubs and quaint restaurants, and then took in the sights at Montmorency Falls, St. Anne De Beaupre and the Laurentians.

Ontario's thousands of lake resorts at reasonable prices attracted many United States tourists. Few complaints were received and the 11 reception centres set up by the provincial government did a record business.

Good in Manitoba

Despite bad weather Manitoba enjoyed a remarkably good tourist season. Riding Mountain National Park recorded the second highest entry of any Canadian National Park and the Whiteshell, provincial park did capacity business all season. Alberta's road information sheet telling tourists the conditions of roads — where there were detours, gravel and other minor inconveniences — received many compliments. California tourists were reported the biggest spenders in British Columbia where a conservative estimate of $35 each will be spent by the estimated 1,000,000 tourists coming here.

The Experts Say . . .

By KAY REX
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa. (CP)—It's a wise mother who keeps the cookie-jar filled when small children come looking for "something to eat" between meals. And she'll find that it takes but a few minutes to whip up a batch of plain cookies if she has a simple recipes on hand.

Rolled Oat Cookies

Ingredients: one cup sifted all-purpose flour; one-half teaspoon baking soda; one-half teaspoon cinnamon; one-quarter teaspoon salt; one-half cup brown sugar; 1 1-2 cup rolled oats one-half cup mild flavored fat one egg; one-quarter teaspoon vanilla.

Sift flour, baking soda, cinnamon and salt. Add sugar and rolled oats, blending well. Cut in fat with pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles fine bread-crumbs. Add beaten egg and vanilla and mix to a dough. Roll out to one-eighth inch thickness and cut with two-inch cookies cutter. Place on ungreased cookies-sheet and bake in a moderate oven for about 15 minutes. Yield: 3 1-2 dozen cookies.

This dough may be used as an ice-box cookie. . . formed into rolls wrapped in waxed paper and chilled thoroughly, before slicing and baking.

Cocoa Squares

Ingredients: one-half cup mild flavored fat; three-quarters cup sugar; two eggs; one teaspoon vanilla; one cup cooked farina; one cup sifted all-purpose flour one-half cup cocoa; one teaspoon baking-powder; one-half teaspoon salt.

Cream fat, add sugar and cream well together. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Add farina, and sifted dry ingredients. Spread thinly in shallow, greased 10-inch by 12-inch pan. Bake in a slow oven for about 30 minutes. While still hot, cut into 1 1-2-inch squares.

Cooking Hints

To prevent milk from sticking during heating, rinse pan with cold water, or lightly grease the bottom of the pan.

When making cheese sauce, add cheese at the last and cook only until melted. Any uncooked mixture of cheese, eggs and milk to be cooked in oven, should be oven-poached, that is, placed in a pan of hot water, in a moderate oven.

When cooking fruit less sugar will be required, the fruit will be more tender and the flavor better if the sugar is added after the fruit is cooked. Dried fruits should be washed thoroughly before cooking. Soak dried fruit in water to cover before stewing, or cook, unsoaked, in a slow oven, in water, closely covered.

In cooking eggs use low temperature since excessive heat makes them tough and leathery. To avoid having shells of eggs crack while cooking, start them in cold water.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Your slightest wish is the command of a simple, understandable bridge system. Therein is a signal for revealing each type of holding you may desire to show your partner.

A jump says you have discovered tricks enough to help make a game. Each type of jump has a little meaning all its own. Also, the meaning of each type of jump may change if used after the first round.

If what I have just told you seems too roundabout, walk away from it. Approach the subject directly. Grasp the general rules. In the next breath will be told the definite meanings.

Any jump shows tricks enough for game; an immediate one-jump also shows two sure tricks; an immediate higher jump denies two sure; any later round jump makes no reference to sure tricks.

South opens with a spade in this pair:

SOUTH
♠ A K Q 7 3
♥ 10 4
♦ 7 3 2
♣ A 6 2

NORTH
♠ J 9 8 4 2
♥ 8 5 3 2
♦ A Q
♣ Q 7

An opening one bidder shows, among other things, at least five tricks. Partner has a right to depend on these five tricks. On this basis does partner decide when he has enough for a jump.

Bids follow the order of choice in T-A-N; takeout first, assist next, no-trump last. With no takeout biddable suit, north looks to see if he has an assist. He has with his spade support.

It takes ten tricks to make a game in spades. When he assists spades, north knows this can be the trump. With five tricks, he is able to see enough for a spade game in the pair.

Thus, he can jump at once. Does he one-jump to three spades? No. Why? Only because his hand lacks two sure tricks. So, what kind of a jump will he employ? A double-jump to four spades.

Will this double-jump encourage south to do unusual stunts? Not if he knows jumps. If he jackrabbits the pair into slam, he should have his ears pinned back. Or de-waxed.

In Manhattan

By PAT USSHER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, Sept. 13. (CP)—Amid the current gloom over world troubles and rising prices, spare a tear for the infant theatre season on Broadway, which limped into life with a comedy flop called "The Magic Touch".

The critics jumped on this initial September offering to a man. Two other productions fell by the way before reaching Broadway. They are "We Love a Lassie" and "The Stars Weep", both of which took critical lashings in out-of-town tryouts.

But the atmosphere isn't all pessimistic, even though predictions are that fewer musicals will bow in this fall because of mounting production costs. On the face of it, some good plays are on the way.—"Medea" a la Gielgud—

It's official that John Gielgud, who delighted Canadian and American audiences earlier this year with "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "Love for Love", will co-star opposite Judith Anderson in "Medea", opening in New York October 20 .Gielgud, who also is staging the production, is expected to remain in the cast for six weeks and then appear in Rodney Ackland's dramatization of "Crime and Punishment".

The actors Lab, composed of film players still interested in the legitimate theatre, will bring Ben Jonson's classic, 'Volpone", to Broadway during the week of Nov. 3. J. Edward Bromberg will fill the title role in the play. Silver Lining

There may be gloom over the outlook for the present season but at least one experienced showman, Louis Lotito, doesn't share it. Says he: "This season I believe there'll be a lot of 'sleepers' and I'm willing to bet you'll see more real hits than a year ago". Any takers?

"Sweethearts," the Victor Herbert operetta which was revamped into a riotous vehicle for Comedian Bobby Clark, is due to quit Broadway on September 27 and go on the road.

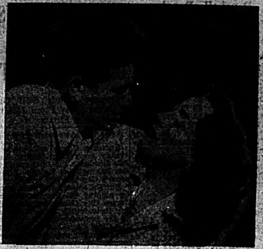
Movie Actor John Garfield will not, after all, appear in the planned Manhattan production of the Tennessee Williams' play, "A Streetcar Called Desire". Merlon Brando, who supported Katherine Cornell in her production of Shaw's "Candida" more than a year ago, has been signed to play the Garfield role.

Footlight Footnotes

Mitzi Green is being sought for "Break it Up", a musical with a New Orleans background slated to go into rehearsal in November and to open here in January.

DEFIES SALT WATER

Abaca fibre is the most valuable of all "hard" rope fibres for marine cordage because of its resistance to salt water.



NEXT AT THE BELLE — Two great stars appearing together for the first time are Joan Crawford and John Garfield, as they are seen in one of the breath-taking love scenes of Warners' new drama "Humoresque," due Monday at the Belle.

AT THE McCARTHY — Lovely Ann Blyth and rugged Burt Lancaster are romantically teamed in Mark Hellinger's thrilling screen story of prison life, "Brute Force." The hard-hitting film is a Universal-International release, starting at the McCarthy Theatre on Monday.

AT THE CAPITOL — When the zero hour strikes, Johnny O'Clock goes into action. One of the most fascinating characters ever created for the screen, Johnny O'Clock, is portrayed by Dick Powell, opening Monday at the Capitol Theatre. On the same program in Technicolor, the musical "Bring on the Curls," starring Eddie Bracken, Sonny Tufts, Veronica Lake and Marjorie Reynolds.

The Movie Column

By ARMAND ARCHERD

Hollywood, Sept. 13. (AP)—Today is bargain day. Not one, but two stars announce their face-making days are over. They are Martha Vickers and George Raft. (Each announcement comes independent of the other.)

Martha is quitting next month when she completes "Prelude to Night". The general comment from close friends and her bosses at Warners is: "Whatsa matter? Ya crazy or something?"

My thoughts were similar. After all, in what other business could a 22-year-old make this kind of money?

She admits the money is a great temptation but the desire to fulfill her first ambition outweighs the Mazuma. (Her agent must be tearing his hair.) Martha has always wanted to be a fashion designer and editor.

"People can't believe me," she said, "but I've got to find out for myself if I'm any good." She will try to convince eastern magazine editors of her abilities in hopes of becoming a fashion editor.

Raft's retirement, as you might imagine, is for other reasons. He will ease out of the acting game into the production side of movie making.

No Barrymore

His reasons for leaving are simple: he is 52, and admits "I'm no Barrymore".

In spite of George's modesty, he has been a money-maker in Hollywood for 18 years. His present chore, "Race Street", will be one of his last films for a major studio. His activities in the next couple of years will be devoted to making films for his own company. He will, however, appear in these films because he knows the Raft name still brings money to the box office. After he establishes his name as a producer, he hopes to get a production berth at a major studio.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor.

Max Kaminsky, former Niagara Falls amateur and later professional hockey star, and newly appointed business manager of the Philadelphia Rockets of the American Hockey League, arrived in town yesterday and established headquarters at the New Queen's Hotel. With him was genial cigar-smoking "Lefty" Jordan, just up from the Fort Worth, Texas, team who will make his debut as trainer for the Rockets this season.

* * *

Wally Kilrea, also an ex-National Hockey Leaguer and member of the famous Ottawa Kilrea family, arrived late yesterday afternoon to take up his duties as coach of the squad. Forty rookies from all parts of the country will arrive in town over the weekend and get ready for the tough preparatory grind. The regulars of the squad will make their appearance later in the week.

* * *

Manager Kaminsky has the tough job of making the cellar-dwelling team of last year into a first division club. Rockets in 1946 won only six games and this year, under new ownership and management, nothing will be spared to bring the City of Brotherly Love at least a squad which will finish in a playoff berth.

* * *

That is a tough assignment in anyman's hockey loop, and Kaminsky will bring all his hockey experience into play this year in an effort to produce what the front office wants. Several topflight American League stars have been acquired by the Rockets through purchase or deals, and will form the nucleus, along with Rocket luminaries of last year, of the 1947-48 edition of the squad.

* * *

Jim Moore, of the Portland, Oregon, squad, another farm team of the Rockets, is expected in the city at the first of the week and will look over the crop of rookies. "I can't tell at the moment exactly how many boys will report here," Kaminsky said this morning. "My scouts are all over the country and are sending the boys in at intermittent periods. The weeding-out process won't take too much time and the boys will be going and coming all the time."

* * *

The Rocket coach would not comment on whether the Rockets would leave players in Belleville or not. "I have been told different stories regarding the number of imports your city is allowed so until something concrete is arranged I am not in position to make a definite statement on the matter."

There will definitely be a continued tie-up with Belleville, he said. The farm system is rapidly growing in popularity and now no professional hockey team can afford to be without farm reserves. "It would be practically hockey suicide to operate a team alone," is his opinion.

* * *

The Rockets, he said, would make contacts here and maintain them. This year, being the first of the farm system here would not develop very much along the proposed lines, but Kaminsky said he would be satisfied if he secured only one or two good prospects. Next year and the following years, things would be different. In the meantime he is looking forward to a pleasant if brief stay in this city, where he hopes to make many friends and contacts.

* * *

Stan Stewart, formerly of Kingston, and now on the pattern-making staff of Stephens-Adamson Company here will be given a tryout with the Rockets when they get under way about Wednesday next. Stewart, a husky defenceman, just turned 21, played with the Dumferline team of the Scottish Ice Hockey Association last winter and this year was optioned to the Montreal Canadiens. Stewart had an interview with Manager Kaminsky yesterday noon and was given the green light to try out with the squad.

* * *

A well-known Kingston goalkeeper has also been given an invitation to appear for training with the team.

* * *

Training will get under way as soon as the ice is ready. Kaminsky was slightly perturbed yesterday over the fact that the surface will not be ready for three or four days yet, as the training season lasts less than a month. The Rockets are scheduled to open against the Washington Lions in Washington on Tuesday, October 11th.

Four well-known Kingston players are seeking a hockey berth here for the coming season, it was reliably reported today. At a meeting the other night, practically all the veterans of last year's Intermediate squad, Herbie Hayes, Walt Gerow, the Goyers, Timmy Williams, Porky Yorke, and others, were on hand to get first hand information. Also expressing the intention to turn out with the team were Don Barrett, who played with Stratford Junior "A's" for part of the 1946 season, and Don Bowen, who starred with the 1946 wares here. Ken McNaught, former Oshawa General and Barrie team, and who formerly displayed his hockey Montreal Canadien, is living in the city but thus far has made no hockey move here.

Keglers of the Major "A" Bowling League, which recorded a highly successful season last year at the Bowl-O-Drome, get under way next Thursday night, with the same teams entered but with practically all showing more strength. Last year the Belleville Golf team won major honors after being chased to the wire in close competition from the other teams.

* * *

Bill Fraser, appointed president for the coming season, will guide the destinies of the loop. Joe Legault, veteran bowler of the league, is the vice-prexy, while John Kirkwood will be the keeper of the purse. The various team captains will form the executive. A few changes have been made in the rules, but these will tend towards better bowling. There appears to be plenty of enthusiasm among the maple-topplers in the Major "A" and all indications point to a banner season during the coming fall and winter.

CANADIAN SPORT SNAPSHOTS

By WILF GRUSON

Toronto, Sept. 13 — (CP) —The all-Canadian label attached to Toronto Argonauts as they marched to two straight Dominion football titles appears to be in the process of removal.

Understandably the Argos, especially their executive under Tommy Allison and Dr. M. D. Kinsella, took great pride in winning the Grey Cup the last two seasons without an American import in their lineup.

"We did it again, we did it again, and without any Americans," Dr. Kinsella shouted to newspapermen after the Scullers whipped Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the Grey Cup final at Toronto's Varsity Stadium last November.

Naturally, since it was a significant point it was duly noted as well as the Argo executives' insistence they didn't need imports to come up with a winning team in the future.

At the start of this season the Argos were again bent on fielding a team of only Canadian players.

However, that was before Argos took a 23-6 licking from Ottawa Rough Riders and there's not much doubt now, even taking into consideration they're slow starters, that the Scullers' executive are not so keen on the no-import rule.

It already has been reported that coach Teddy Morris intends to use Bates Ford, husky American Negro lineman, in today's game against Montreal Allouettes.

If the Argos hadn't looked so bad in the Riders game it is not going too far to say that Ford might have had to wait a little longer to deny their no-import rule.

Even before it was reported they were grooming Ford for today's game Rex (Guelph Mercury) MacLead didn't think they would stick long to their import ban.

Said Red: "If the drubbing in Ottawa on Saturday is a forecast of things to come, look for a quick revision of their no-import rule . . . Argos could afford to sneer at importing football players as long as they were in the top bracket, but once they start to slip they will grasp at the nearest straw, the same as any other club."

'Dark of Moon' Best Time to Fish

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT

(Noted sportsman, author and creator of Solunar Tables)

This is by way of being a reminder. The government astronomers, who know about such things, tell us that the September new moon or "dark of the moon" occurs on Sunday, September fourteenth, at nineteen hours and twenty-eight minutes. That's another way of saying 7:28 p.m., Standard Time. I want to remind the fishermen who read these lines that the dark of the moon is for them an important time of the month.

In the good old days, when there was such a thing as legal market hunting in this country, the gentry who earned their livelihood in that fashion kept careful check on the times of the monthly phases of the moon. Without doubt, these men knew a great deal about the habits of game and fish. The very nature of their occupation make them keen observers.

* * *

Lore of the woods, fields and waters was accumulated as the years passed and handed down from father to son, generation after generation. One of the commonest bits of knowledge was this—game is more active and easier to find, and fish are more readily caught during the dark of the moon than at any other time of the month. Naturally, they planned their big hunts and fishing excursions for this period of peak activity.

The market hunter, however, was not one to hand out secrets and tricks of his trade promiscuously. No doubt he reasoned that the more he knew and the less the other fellow knew, the better were his chances for continued success. Probably it is for this reason that the salutary effect that a new moon has on fish and game is not common knowledge among the sportsmen today.

But the fact remains that the three days, beginning with the arrival of new moon and immediately following it, are, or should be, the monthly high spots in the life of any sportsman. With any sort of favorable break in weather conditions, these three days will give you the absolute tops in sport.

* * *

Legend and folk lore should not be regarded too lightly. These old-time rules and beliefs generally are not recorded in literature. You can't just go to your public library and look them up as you would a rule of mathematics or a law of physics. Instead, they are passed along by word of mouth. This means that they have stood the test of time. Those that are not true or practical are soon forgotten, but the sound, working rules and formulae of folk lore that have stood the acid test of time had best not be ignored. The market hunters' firm belief that fixes the dark of the moon as the best time for fishing or shooting is one of the time-tested natural laws that has persisted through several centuries.

A glance at the Solunar Tables will show you that during the dark of the moon the major periods occur at noon and at midnight and the minor periods in the early morning and late evening. A great many men believe that fish and game do not feed and move about freely under the warm sun of mid-day. From the majority of the days of each month, that may be entirely true, but believe me when I tell you that it is not true at the time of new moon. That isn't merely a casual statement, based only on general observations. It can and has been proven.

* * *

Some years ago, wishing to learn something of the effects of the dark of the moon on fishing, I made it a point to gather all incidental data surrounding each record catch that was reported in the newspapers or the outdoor magazines. Often this was not easy to do and to get some of the necessary information required considerable correspondence and a good deal of nosing around and asking questions.

Gradually, over a period of three or four years, I managed to accumulate full information on perhaps two hundred record catches. These were of all sorts and varied from single large fish to phenomenal catches of smaller fish—such things as seventeen muskies in the space of two hours or one hundred and fifty brook trout from a Maine lake in mid-July. Then, the data collected, I set about tabulating it. This is the result—

Almost ninety-five per cent of these record catches were taken in the three-day, dark-of-the-moon time of the month during the mid-day major Solunar Periods.

There you have it. Figures don't lie. So when you are making your plans for September 14, 15 or 16, make them with the help of your Solunar Tables, being sure to take full advantage of the mid-day major Solunar Periods. If you go bass fishing, you will find the big fish in the shallows, ready and willing to take surface lures. Be on the job in good bass water during those Solunar Periods, otherwise you will miss the best fishing of the day and, probably, of the entire month. (Released by The Register and Tribune Syndicate, 1947.)

BUFFALO BISONS DEFEAT GIANTS IN FOUR STRAIGHT

Syracuse Chiefs Still One Game Away From Joining Bisons in Finals

(By The Associated Press)

Syracuse Chiefs still are one victory away from joining Buffalo Bisons in the final round of the International League Governor's Cup playoffs today.

Buffalo entered the final round by nipping the pennant-winning Jersey City Giants 7-6 last night for their fourth straight victory in the best-of-seven series while the Chief's scheduled game with the defending champion Montreal Royals was postponed because of rain. The Chiefs lead the Royals 3-0 in their set and hope to apply the clincher tonight.

The Bisons, who finished fourth during the regular season, jumped on southpaw ace Jake Wade of the Giants for four runs in the first inning with Cosker Triplett highlighting the uprising with a three-run homer.

Ed Yount, Anse Moore and Jimmy Wasdell also hit for the circuit to account for the Bisons' remaining runs.

PITCHING AND BATTING STARS

Cardinal Obituaries Shoved Aside as St. Louis Shaves Dodgers' Margin to 4½ Games

Red Birds Have Only 17 Games Left to Play and Brooklyn 14

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Cardinal obituaries were once again shoved aside last night as the still-breathing St. Louis club showed the baseball world that they do not intend to relinquish their crown without a last-ditch struggle.

Even the stainchest of Brooklyn rooters, who would "rather stop eating than see their beloved bums bite the dust before the hated Cardinals, were forced to concede one point following the Redbirds' nerve-tingling 8-7 "saver" victory over the Dodgers last night that rescued them from practical elimination.

"Them St. Louis guys are the stubbornest bunch in the world," they marvelled. "Don't they know when they're licked?"

So once again the Cards are 4½ games behind Brooklyn, but this time they have only 17 games left to play while the Dodgers have 14.

Last night's pulse-pounder was the piece de resistance of the Cards' many courageous achievements. Not many of the 31,957 wild-eyed onlookers that packed Sportsman's Park in St. Louis would have given a plugged nickel for the Cards' chances as they trudged in from the field for their turn at bat in the last of the ninth.

Not so much because the Cards were trailing 7-6, but because they had seen a seemingly safe three-run bulge evaporate into thin air as the dashing Dodgers landed upon three bewildered St. Louis hurlers for four runs in the top of the ninth to apparently snatch victory from defeat.

Drive Behrman from Mound

The Cards went to work on Hank Behrman, fifth Dodger hurler, driving him off the mound and gave the coup de grace to Ralph Branca, a two-run double by Enos Slaughter.

The victory squared the vital three-game series at one apiece and put the issue directly up to little Vic Lombardi, Dodger lefthander and Murry Dickson, St. Louis righthander, who oppose each other in this afternoon's rubber game. Just as last night's was a "must" game for the Cards, so is today's. A victory would put them 3½ games behind, only two in the important lost column. A defeat, and the boys can start brushing off those obituaries again.

New York Yankees, apparently just playing out their string, were beaten again for their eighth loss in the last 13 starts when they bowed to Detroit Tigers 7-2 at Yankee Stadium. Despite their poor record, any combination of three Yank victories or three Detroit defeats will clinch the American League flag for the Bombers. Boston Red Sox were beaten by the Cleveland Indians 11-. *666

Kiner Belts Two

Ralph Kiner set one record and tied three when he belted two homers to lead the Pirates to a 4-3 victory over Boston Braves in Pittsburgh. The round trippers were his 48th and 49th to give him undisputed possession of the home-run leadership in the majors. Johnny Mize of New York Giants, who was idle, has 47.

Kiner's two pokes gave him five in two consecutive games, six in three and eight in four. The first two tied marks and the latter established a record, breaking the old standard of seven homers in four consecutive games by Tony Lazzeri of the 1936 New York Yankees. Kiner is still six games behind Babe Ruth's pace of 1927 when he slammed his record 60 homers.

Cubs Win Two

Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia Phils 4-3 and 7-5 to mire the Phils deeper into the National League cellar. Ralph Hammer gained his first National League victory in the opener.

Jack Kramer held Washington Senators to nine hits as St. Louis Browns combed three Nat hurlers for 15 to win 9-3.

Catcher Mike Guerra's wild throw in the 10th inning hit pinch hitter Ralph Hodgin in the back and enabled Luke Appling to score from third with the run that gave Chicago White Sox a 5-4 victory over the Athletics in Philadelphia.

The scheduled game between the Giants and Reds in Cincinnati was postponed by rain.

Sheridan's Billiards Down League-Leading Quinte Dry Beverages

Scoring a sharp upset the Sheridan's Billiards team downed the league leading Quinte Dry Beverage nine in the first game of their two-out-of-three semi-final series for the championship of the Commercial Softball League 10-9 in a game at the Alemite Field Thursday.

Sheridans started slowly, with the first three men up in the first inning put down in order. In the second, Carson, leadoff man connected for a home run and that was all for that frame. In the fourth, two hits and a base on balls combined to give the Billiard crew two runs. They were held scoreless in the fifth but the boys came to life in the sixth. Two bases on balls were issued and then the sacks were cleared by Woods' double to left field. A dropped ball gave Murray a life and a single by Barnum brought in two more counters. A hit and a walk started off the seventh inning and Reid was retired in favor of Young who came in with none away. Dropped balls on the part of the catcher allowed two runs and the third came in on a single by Carson.

Four in First

It looked like the ball game in the first inning for the Beverage bunch as they poured four runs across on four hits. Two bases on balls confused the issue as well. S. Bellis was the hero in this frame as his hefty double to left field accounted for two runs. He was tagged for the second out as he tried to get home on a fielder's choice.

The Quinte Dry added another run in the second inning when I. Bellis got on via a walk. A passed ball and subsequent fielders' plays saw him home free. Two hits in the fourth gave the Beverages another run. No hits in the fifth were good for two runs as two walks and fielders' plays permitted the scores. S. Bellis' home run in the seventh wasn't enough to win the game because the Sheridan crew came through with 3 counters in their end of the inning.

Best at the plate for the Beverage team was S. Bellis with a homer, a double, and a single, in three trips to make it a perfect evening. Carson and Woods had two for four for the Sheridan gang.

The line-ups:

Sheridan's Billiards: Young cf. c; Shortt ss; Semark 2b; Carson lf; Woods 3b; Murray 1b; Tebworth c; Mattis cf; Barnum rf; Harris p.

Quinte Dry Beverages: I. Bellis 3b; Church 2b; Reid p, rf; Day ss; Carson 1b; S. Bellis c; Young rf, p; A. Bellis lf; K. Bellis cf.

The score by innings:

Sheridans...	010	204	3—10	7	3
Quinte Dry..	410	120	1— 9	9	3

FRANK FILCHOCK LIKELY TO PLAY FOR HAMILTON

Consensus Tigers Will Start U. S. Import Despite Ruling of I.R.F.U.

Hamilton, Sept. 13 —(CP) — Frankie Filchock, the husky Czech who was bounced out of United States professional football ranks today held the spotlight in one of those "will they, or won't they" mysteries that turned the eyes of Canadian gridiron fans on Hamilton.

Before Hamilton Tigers lined up for their opening interprovincial rugby football union game against Ottawa Rough Riders, you could start an argument on almost any corner simply by asking: "Will Tigers risk a showdown by playing Filchock this afternoon?"

The consensus was they would. Weak sisters of the Big Four last season, the Tigers were in a position of having little to lose. Without the 200-pound quarterback, they could hardly hope to stack up against the Riders, who Saturday by whipping the Dominion champion Toronto Argonauts 23-6.

But, with all officialdom turning thumbs down on the former New York Giants Ace, barred from the National Professional League for alleged failure to report a bribe offer, the arguments raged over what would happen after he stepped on the field.

Before leaving Ottawa yesterday, the Riders indicated they might refuse to take the field against Filchock. Few observers felt they would go through with the threat, which would presumably mean refunding admissions to a crowd of 10,000 and more.

Play Under Protest

It was more logical that the Riders would play the game under protest, taking advantage of a sure victory, on paper anyway, under the league ruling that any game in which Filchock played would be automatically declared a Hamilton defeat.

The Riders brought their full board of strategy along to take care of any last minute decisions. Included in the entourage were team president E. K. Emmerson, manager James P. McCaffrey and Wes Brown, Big Four secretary who announced Thursday night three of the league's four teams had voted in favor of the "automatic defeat" ruling with Tigers the only dissenter.

Besides this vote, the Ottawans had the Canadian Rugby Union's refusal of a player's certificate for Filchock to back their stand.

Stacked up against them in the sidelines battle was president Jack Lang of the Tigers, who declared yesterday the majority decision was "without justification or authority under the (league) constitution."

For support, he had the statement of league president J. Doug Chilman, a Hamilton resident, agreeing that Hamilton would "in no way" violate "any part of the constitution or regulations" by using Filchock.

With all the decisions so far made by telegraphic votes Chilman called for a Big Four meeting to "thoroughly thrash out the situation."

The silent man in all the controversy was Filchock himself, who's been letting his performance in exhibition games speak for itself since early training interview in which he said he was "dealt off the bottom" in getting his U.S. suspension.

They were:: Ernest Latour of Simcoe, Russell White of Prince Edward Island and Harry Love of Hamilton.

Police said the car belonged to George Gardham of R. R. 2, Brantford.

WILD PITCH WITH BASES LOADED BEATS POINTERS

Oshawa Legionnaires Win Second Game of Series 4-3, Third Game in Cobourg

Oshawa, Sept. 13, (CP)—A wild pitch with the bases loaded and none out in the 10th inning enabled the winning run to be scored and Oshawa to register a 4-3 victory over Point Anne Cementmen in the second game of their O.A.S.A. Eastern Ontario Intermediate "A" zone championship here last night.

The win tied up the series at a game apiece. By mutual arrangement it was decided to play the third and deciding game in Cobourg Monday evening, with Peterborough umpires.

Both pitches, Marty Halloran for Point Anne and Jack McConkey of Oshawa both were hit hard. Only one batter of each team was struck out and the rival outfielders bore the brunt of the work.

Nicky Sero's homer in the fourth inning put the visitors out in front after Oshawa had scored one in the second. Point Anne made it 3-1 in the seventh and Oshawa came right back on Sero's muff of a fly ball, a hit and an outfield drive to make it 3-2.

In the ninth inning, with one out Turner lined a hit to centre. Art Genereux came in to try for a shoestring catch instead of playing it safe and when he booted the ball, Turner sprinted to third. Stan Seneco, batting for Romaniski, poled a liner to left which Greene nabbed with a fine catch but he couldn't prevent Turner from scoring the tying run.

In the 10th, Tyson opened with a single and was safe on a close play at second when Bathe bunted for the sacrifice attempt. McMullen grounded to Sero, who held the ball, to fill the bases then came Halloran's low pitch which Mallory couldn't grab and Tyson sprinted home with the winning run.

Tyson, with three hits, paced the Oshawa team at the plate while Bennett with two singles and Sero, with a homer and a triple were the two best at the plate for the visitors.

Lumber Shortage End is Forecast

Vancouver, Sept. 13 — (CP) — An early end of lumber shortages was forecast here yesterday with reports that many mills, now getting all the logs they need, are adding extra work shifts.

In some cases the extra shifts will mean nearly double mill production.

Possibly within a few weeks there will be a sharp upswing in the amount of all grades of lumber available for housing and general purposes, a spokesman for lumber interests said here today.

It was also reported that Ottawa timber control officials have hinted an early end to lumber price ceilings, but there was no official confirmation.

RATION SET UP

Oshawa, Sept. 13 —(CP)— A 25-pound ration has been set for today's ice deliveries here. Hot weather and demands from skating rink have reduced the supply available.

The Death of a Doll

By Hilda Lawrence

CHAPTER 12.

The big tea, with bought refreshments, and sewing for the party."

Poke covered the tea from start to finish; Mrs. Marshall-Gill, the costumes and the masks that made everybody look the same, the mole, and the simulated pearls, pink. And Ruth in a corner by herself.

Moke concurred soberly, bobbing her head. "Yeah, yeah, that's right. That's the way it was. And then she spilled tea on her new suit she'd saved up for." A sudden look of surprise crossed her face. "That's funny."

"Funny?" Mark turned from Moke to Poke to Miss Libby. They were frowning at each other with complete understanding. "Funny?" he repeated.

"Yeah," Moke said. "When you save up for a new suit and get it, you don't jump out of a window."

He addressed himself to Miss Libby. "That is the kind of reasoning that drives a man crazy and cracks a case."

When Mark reached Hope House, the lobby was filled with girls and women of all ages, streaming in and out of the dining room and lining up at the elevator. He went up to the desk and spoke to the woman in charge. She was one of the two he had seen getting into the cab and laughing.

"Miss Brady?" she repeated. She was plainly surprised. "Why, yes, I believe she's in. May I have your name?"

"Mark East. Tell her, please, that I'm investigating Ruth Miller's death."

"Investigating?"

"Yes. At the request of one of Miss Miller's friends. It's a formality, that's all, and quite usual. People always want to reassure themselves when a thing like this happens."

"But I didn't know—" She was perplexed and annoyed. "I'm Angeline Small, Miss Brady's assistant. Won't I do as well? I don't want to trouble Miss Brady unless it's absolutely necessary. She hasn't fully recovered from the shock."

She was recovered yesterday, he told himself, if she is your dark-haired friend. Not only recovered, but laughing out loud.

"I understand your solicitude, Miss Small, but for the record I'd better see Miss Brady. I won't detain her."

Miss Small hesitated again. "You say you represent a friend of Ruth's? She gave us the impression that she had no friends, had no one at all. That's why Miss Brady was eager to take her in."

"Her friend," Mark said easily, "is Mrs. Nicholas Sutton. I suppose Miss Miller thought that claiming Mrs. Sutton, or talking about her, might sound like putting on the dog."

Miss Small left the desk and crossed to the lounge, asking him to follow. "Will you wait in here, please? Miss Brady will see you."

The lounge was empty and likely to remain so, for Miss Small firmly closed the door when she left him. He examined the good, simple furniture; the careful, correct prints; the bright, inexpensive rug. Very nice, he decided; a little too neat and institutional but probably heaven to the boarders.

The door opened and Miss Brady entered alone. She was the dark one, all right, and there was nothing institutional about her clothes and poise. And not in Small's class, although Small was good enough. This one was from another world entirely.

"Let's get to the point," Miss Brady said at once. She looked as if she hadn't laughed for years. "Are you a detective, and if you are, exaxctly what do you think you're looking for? And where does Mrs. Sutton come into this?"

It took five minutes of persuasive talk to win her over, and even then he wasn't confident. "I only want one fact," he said, "one statement from you that I can use. I don't care what it is, I don't even know what it ought to be. But I've got to reassure Mrs. Sutton. It isn't all business with me, she's a very dear friend. She insists that Ruth Miller wouldn't kill herself. I can't argue that. But I have wondered why the verdict was suicide instead of accidental death. Of course, I can go to the police, but you don't want that any more than I do. So you tell me. Why was it? Why didn't somebody say, she fell? Wasn't that possible?"

Miss Brady was slightly mollified. "I suppose it was possible. But there were other things—her attitude, for instance—"

"That's it, that's what I want. Her attitude."

"On the afternoon of the day she died," Miss Brady said, "I met Ruth Miller on the street. She should have been at work, and that in itself was odd enough to make me wonder. But there was something else I liked even less. She was carrying a suitcase. When I asked her what she was doing she told me a vague story about a doctor's appointment. I didn't like the way she looked, and, frankly, I didn't believe her. So I said I'd go along. At that point she was either unwilling or unable to tell me the doctor's name. There was only one thing for me to do then and I did it. I brought her back here. I didn't believe the doctor story and I still don't, and I was interested in the suitcase. We've had the suitcase business before. Full of linen, silver, other girls' clothes and jewelry. I tried to watch her during the evening, but you know about the costume party. They all looked alike. And I planned to have a talk with her later that night. I never had a chance. I've talked to several girls who think they talked to her, and they all say the same thing—that her behavior was decidedly peculiar. That's all."

"What happened to the suitcase?"

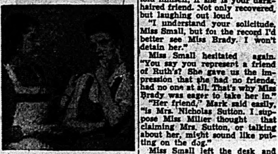
"I opened it, naturally. Nothing but clothing, her own. She was evidently planning to run away. Why, where to, or what have you, I don't know. I can only guess that she was in a jam of some sort, saw something closing in, and tried to skip."

"Maybe," he said. "It actually did close in."

"Here? In this place? Impossible."

"Miss Brady," he asked finally, "are you and Miss Small satisfied to let things stand as they are?"

(To Be Continued)



"I Know Just How You Feel"

"I know because I have been that way myself. I have been so chronically tired that I thought I would never feel well again. However, I found that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food soon gave me new pep and energy and put me on my feet."

Tired feelings, indigestion and loss of sleep are quickly relieved by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

DOSCO to Embark On $4,000,000 Expansion Project

Sydney, N. S., Sept. 13—(CP)—Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, employer of 4,000 steelers and 10,000 coal miners in industrial Cape Breton, will embark next spring on a $4,000,000 expansion project that will take 18 months to complete.

Announcing the new expansion for the steel mills here, now grinding out 50,000 tons of steel a month, general manager C. M. Anson said last night a battery of 53 coke ovens would replace "part of the present set-up which has outlived its usefulness."

Observers immediately recalled a speech here last weekend before the Maritime Labor Institute by Joseph Scanlan of Pittsburgh, United States Labor authority and member of the staff of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

He said introduction of iron ore from Labrador into the North American steel industry may revolutionize the Canadian and United States steel industry by causing industries located inland to establish plants along the North Atlantic coast.

He added that Sydney, with a steel plant at tide water, would be in an enviable position when Labrador began producing.

The new battery of 53 ovens will produce as much coke as 75 or 80 ovens of the present design, Mr. Anson said. The construction job would employ an average of 150 men a day.

Since the steel strike a year ago, production in the three blast furnaces has moved upward steadily and several production records in the open heart have been shattered.

The demand for steel now is almost unlimited.

What, if any, bearing Mr. Anson's announcement would have on wage talks due to open this month between the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) and Dosco was not known. There was no immediate comment from Edward Corbett, president of the Sydney local of the U.S.W.A. of the 4,000 steelers in the mills, nearly all are members of the union.

TO HOLD REUNION

Toronto, Sept. 13 — (CP) — The Echelon Club, embracing former members of headquarters formations of the Canadian Army overseas during the Second World War, will hold a reunion here Oct. 11, it was announced today.

Clubs Used To Scatter Crowd

Cairo, Sept. 12 (AP)—Police used clubs today in an effort to disperse hundreds of Moslems who emerged from prayers at the ancient Al Azhar Mosque shouting "Revolt!" and "Down with the Security Council!"

The demonstration was the latest in a series protesting the handling of the British-Egyptian dispute by the United Nations Security Council. The Egyptians demand removal of British troops from the Nile Valley and union of the Sudan with Egypt.

Yesterday demonstrators attacked the British and American embassies and damaged several statues.

By-law No. 690 was passed appointing the date for Court of Revision on the 1948 assessment roll being set for Monday, October 6th., 1947, at 11 o'clock.

DOMINION'S COST OF LIVING UP ANOTHER NOTCH

75 P.C. Wipe-Off Of Remaining Price And Other Controls

Predicted Bread Will Rise Four to Five Cents Loaf

Ottawa, Sept. 15. (CP)—Canadians awoke today to the news that the Dominion's cost of living was due to go up another good notch or two and to the fact that the government's program of gradual decontrol from a wartime economy was just about complete.

Headline news of the day was government announcement of a 75-per-cent wipe-off of remaining price and other controls, effective today. Affected was everything from foods to clothing and building materials. All that remained under the price line were such essentials as rents, meats, fats and oils, most grains and sugar, the latter still under rationing.

In conjunction with the major decontrol list including everything from nails to brassieres, the Prices Board said subsidies were being dropped on all decontrolled items.

That includes the domestic subsidy of flour used in bread-making a $3,000,000-a-month government expenditure various consumers organizations have been campaigning to have maintained to hold down the price of bread. Predictions now are that the Canadian loaf will soon advance from four to five cents a loaf.

Other subsidies coming off include import subsidies paid on cotton, hides and skins, corn and soya beans, factors that will mean millions monthly in the government budget.

Acting Finance Minister St. Laurent ,in making the announcement, emphasized that rental ceilings and eviction controls remain unchanged and that sugar rationing continues. He did say, however, that commodities still under price control will be decontrolled "later at appropriate times—the general test being when supply conditions and prospects justify the expectation that no excessive or disorderly price increases will occur."

Maintain Careful Watch

Mr. St. Laurent emphasized further that the Prices Board has been instructed to "maintain a careful watch on the prices of decontrolled items and called particular attention to section eight of the Prices and Trade Board regulations which provides that no person shall sell or offer for sale or supply any goods or services at a price which is higher than is reasonable and just."

The Acting Minister's statement also called attention to the fact that the Board "has power to reimpose ceiling prices where it is satisfied that unreasonable and

Up to five cents more for a loaf of bread, higher prices for lumber and probably a little more for other building materials —that is the prospect foreseen as the result of the latest lifting of price controls, a Canadian Press survey today showed.

It was generally agreed that the bread price rise — loaves have been selling for an average of 10 or 11 cents— would hit the most people the hardest. Even the most optimistic bakery industry executives saw a rise of at least two or three cents, probably within a week.

Bread baked at home would cost more. Millers talked of the probability of the price of flour being doubled with the dropping of the domestic subsidy on flour.

Mrs. Elizabeth Newman, vice-president of the Ottawa consumers Association, termed the bread price rise "dangerous" and said it tended to lower the standard of living.

Bread was expected to go up three to four cents in Wolfville, N.S., four to five cents in Toronto, three to four cents in Calgary, Three cents in Regina, and possibly four cents in Vancouver, a check showed.

Sliced Bread to Return

Sliced bread would probably return, bakers said. So would pork and beans, if the pork and the tins could be obtained.

V. S. Milburn, Secretary of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, predicted that farm machinery prices would climb to a high level and remain there until the current shortage is relieved.

Contractors saw in the Decontrol Act a hope that building supplies would become more plentiful — but at higher prices—and that black market dealings in lumber, nails and electrical equipment would end. Shortage of labor still was the main bottleneck in the building trade, contractors said.

Labor spokesmen in Toronto criticized the decontrol step on the grounds it will mean increased living costs. They claimed it would lengthen the gap between wages and living costs.

Possibility appeared that the order would have little effect on prices of clothing. An increase was allowed recently and a Toronto manufacturer said last night his firm, for one, planned no further increases at the moment.

Even the western task of exterminating gophers is going to come higher. The ceiling has been removed from gopher poison.

Soaring U.S. Food Prices Offer Choice Tightening Belts, Curtailing Imports

New York, Sept. 15 (AP)—The soaring cost of goods sailed today into varied what-to-do-about-it proposals offering Americans a choice of tightening their belts or curtailing exports, or both.

Asserting that the size of American exports is much too great, Senator Robert Taft (Rep.-Ohio) suggested, however, that high food prices could be remedied if people would "eat less extravagantly." Exports could not go on at the "rate of 15 billion dollars a year without having an effect on prices."

Representative Adolph Sabath (Dem.-Ill) countered that only the poor, who are unable to pay high food prices, must restrict their eating—not Taft "and his wealthy friends." Instead, Sabath proposed government anti-trust investigations be broadened to include five major groups which he charged are "responsible for the ever-increasing high cost of living."

In a letter to Attorney-General Clark, the 82-year-old Sabath listed the five as meat packing, dairy, produce exchanges, "fertilizer trust," and "the few men who manipulate the Board of Trade."

He added that it also would be "well to give some attention to the textile and wearing apparel manufacturing industries."

As Sabath made public his letter in Wahsnigton, a joint congressional sub-committee was preparing to open an investigation of food prices in the first of a series of public hearings at Providence R.I.

C. S. Woolman, a member of the executive board of the Grain and Feed Dealers National Association, said in St. Louis that the "present squeeze between the cost of production and the selling price of animals and poultry to furnish meat, milk and eggs is fast reaching a crisis."

From mid-August to mid-September The Associated Press weighted wholesale commodity price index of 35 basic commodities rose from 187.48 to a record of 194.99. The food, livestock and agricultural components of the index all were at the year's high on Sept. 11.

MURDER WEAPON IN CAR-TRUNK SLAYING FOUND

30-inch Length of Sash Cord and Purse Of Miss Scott Found Near Where Car Parked

Toronto, Sept. 15 (CP)—Keys believed to be those for George Vigus' automobile were found at least half a mile from where the car, with the bodies of the 39-year-old Vigus and pretty blonde Iris Scott crammed in the trunk compartment, was found last Friday, it was learned today.

A second piece of sash-cord was found in the park today near where the first piece was found last night, and police said this was an indication that two persons were involved in the double murder. Police said the sash-cord was used to garrot Vigus, Toronto Paper Box Company executive.

Police were also in possession of Miss Scott's purse carried when she was strangled with bare hands, before the bodies were placed in the narrow luggage compartment of Vigus' parked car on a quiet lovers' lane in west-end High Park.

Law officers said their discovery last night lent credence to the belief the married man and the girl he took to dinner at a restaurant last Wednesday night were slain close to the spot where the car stood in the park. Earlier it had been thought the slaying took place elsewhere in the city.

Two boys, aged eight and nine years, found Miss Scott's black plastic purse about 100 yards from the parking place of Vigus' little black coupe. Shortly afterwards some men offered the boys a dime for the purse, the children said. They refused to hand it over, took it home and their parents called police.

U.S. Seaboard Put on Alert For Hurricane

Miami, Fla., Sept. 15. (AP)—The Weather Bureau's storm warning service at noon issued a preliminary hurricane alert today for the United States Atlantic seaboard between Vero Beach, Fla., and Cape Hattras, N.C., "as a measure of precaution."

Chief forecaster Grady Norton said the alert is intended to inform persons in the area that they should keep themselves advised of upcoming advisories and begin to plan for the possibility of a hurricane.

Actual warnings have not gone up.

Norton said the storm is approximately 200 miles northeast of Nassau, or less than 500 miles from Miami, still travelling a course between west-northwest and a northwestward at 12 to 14 miles an hour.

Ship reports that a second tropical storm was developing in the South Atlantic today sent a United States army "Hurricane Hunter" aircraft into the "area of suspicion" to make a visual survey.

Winds of 125 and 143 miles an hour whirled near the centre of the storm with hurricane-force winds reaching out over an area more than 70 miles from the core. Gale winds extend outward 200 miles to the north and east.

Weather Synopsis

..Toronto, Sept. 15 — (CP) — Synopsis: The weather is clear and warm over Southern Ontario this morning while over Northern Ontario it is quite cool. Light rain is falling in isolated sections throughout Northern Ontario. An intense disturbance centred in Hudson Bay is moving northeastward. This centre is causing much cooler air to flow over Ontario. Clear, cool weather may be expected over Ontario for the next two days. Storm warnings have been lowered over the upper great lakes.

80 Ringleaders Held, Nip Plot to Overthrow President Benes' Govt.

Prague, Sept. 15 —(AP)— The State of Slovakia announced today it had nipped a plot to overthrow President Eduard Benes' government and assassinate him. It said 80 ringleaders had been arrested.

The plot was discovered after the arrest Sept. 10 of a former member of a Gen. Vlassov's Quisling "Russian Liberation Army.

News of the plot was fresh when it was announced here that the Czechoslovak Social Democratic Party had signed an agreement to establish a "unity front" with the Communists. This was widely interpreted as an agreement of complete fusion.

In searches throughout Slovakia, authorities found a secret radio station, caches of arms and equipment and large stocks of subversive pamphlets and illegal literature.

Among the plotters, the Czechoslovak news agency said, were former members of Vlassov's "Russian Liberation Army" in Germany, and many Slovakian civil servants.

Authorities believed their main objects were to form armed "commandos" for an armed rebellion against the republic, to work closely with bandit gangs in Slovakia and to circulate hostile propaganda aimed at creating unrest and public disorder.

Other aims were to organize sabotage and terrorist activities and to kill Benes and other political "enemies."

An official statement said: "So far as has been ascertained, the Slovak members of the secret organization are for the greater part former members of the Hlinka Guard, people known for their Fascist activities in the days of the so-called Slovak State. These men did not shrink from associating their criminal activities with foreign members of these formations and with the Vlassov and Benderovic (bandit) gangs."

TRAIL OF THREE ESCAPED CONVICTS HAS GROWN COLD

Police Predict Trio Will be Cornered Probably With Guns Blazing

Toronto, Sept. 15 — (CP) — The trail of Donald (Mickey) McDonald and his convict pals, Nick Minille and Ulysses Lauson, who escaped from Kingston penitentiary nearly a month ago appeared today to have grown cold.

But police officers remained on the alert for instant action and predicted that one of these days the trio will be cornered, probably with guns blazing.

"Mickey has always loved Toronto and sooner or later he'll turn up here," some policemen say. "And when he does, we'll get him."

Other law officers hold that the crafty and elusive Mickey will avoid his old haunts in central Toronto — "there are at least 500 persons along Jarvis Street who would be only too willing to turn him in at the first opportunity."

Veteran officers are agreed on one thing: that Mickey will shoot it out rather than return to Kingston to face a life term.

From senior police officials to the greenest rookie, they're all looking for dapper Mickey, 40-year-old, five feet 9 1/4 inches tall, medium bald, with dark brown hair, blue eyes, medium complexion and good teeth.

One widely-held theory has it that the trio has "holed up" somewhere and is living off the $40,000 McDonald and Lauzon are alleged to have stolen from a Windsor, Ont., bank shortly after their jailbreak.

WAR BRIDES HOMESICK

Sydney, Australia, Sept. 15 — (AP) — Immigration Minister Arthur A. Calwell said today, following his recent visit to the United States, that at least 80 per cent of the 10,000 Australian war brides in the United States wanted to return to their homeland with their husbands and families.

Reiterating that he would be glad to see 1,000,000 Americans settle in Australia, Calwell said "they speak our language and their way of life is nearer to ours than any other way of life."

BULL FIGHTER DIES

Lisbon, Sept. 15 — (AP)—Carnicerito, widely-known Mexican bull fighter whose pseudonym means "Little Butcher," died today in hospital after being gored by a bull in the ring yesterday.

Spectators said Carnicerito's accident was similar to that suffered by Manolette, famous Spanish bull fighter, who died Aug. 29 of injuries suffered the day before in the bull ring at Cordoba, Spain. Doctors said Carnicerito received a wound 10 inches long and five inches deep.

TWENTY PERSONS DEAD, MISSING WHEN BOAT SINKS

Excursion Boat Founders in Heavy Seas in Firth of Clyde

Glasgow, Sept. 15 —(AP)— Twenty persons, mostly women or children, were dead or missing and feared lost in the sinking of the excursion boat "Ocean," which foundered last night in heavy seas in the Firth of Clyde.

Only three of 23 aboard the 50-foot motor cutter were known to have survived. Five members of one family were among the missing.

Search for the missing, abandoned at midnight, was resumed this morning in the two-mile wide stretch of the firth where the craft went down after being buffeted by a southerly gale.

Loss of the cutter was reported by the crew of a motor boat after discovery of a body in the water.

Five passengers were picked up by naval motor vessels, but two of them died before they reached shore. Four bodies were found later. Among the missing was John Travis of Port Glasgow, owner of the cutter.

Travis' wife and daughter were among the original holiday party of 25 but left the boat before the trip started because Travis lost his hat in a high wind and his wife regarded that as a bad omen.

Sentences Total 9 Years in Prison

Ottawa, Sept. 15. (CP)—Sentences totalling nine years in Kingston Penitentiary were passed today by Magistrate Joachim Suave, on Roland Fournel, 23, of Montreal and Michael Boychuck, 22, no fixed address, who held up an Ottawa taxi driver Sept. 9.

Classing hold-ups with a revolver as "next to murder" the Magistrate described the pair as a menace to the public and their crime as despicable. He said he hoped "the sentences would serve as a deterrent to others who contemplate similar crimes."

Fournel was sentenced to four years while Boychuck drew a five-year term.

HAMILTON HOTEL CASH REGISTER ROBBED

Hamilton, Sept. 15 — (CP)—In Hamilton's second robbery within 24 hours, four men of whom three were armed held up the clerk of the Waldorf Hotel in downtown Hamilton late last night and robbed the cash register of $85.

Two men early yesterday robbed taxi driver James Bennett of $37, his gold wrist watch and his taxicab. The car was recovered later.

CANADA HEADING FOR GREATEST MEAT SHORTAGE

21 Major Plants Closed And No Sign That Dominion-Wide Strike Will be Settled

(By The Canadian Press)

Canada today headed into what appeared would be the worst meat shortage in its history, with every one of its 21 major packinghouses closed and no sign of settlement of the strike for higher wages by the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO) in sight.

The union, demanding wage increases averaging 17 cents an hour to bring the basic hourly minimum to 92 cents an hour, has struck against Swift Canadian, Canada Packers and Burns and Company and insists on Dominion-wide conciliation of its demands. It has called out more than 12,000 workers.

Swift, which has six strike-bound plants, offered the strikers a three-cents-an-hour wage boost. Canada Packers, with eight plants, Burns, with seven, each offered five-cent increases. The latter two firms accepted an Ontario government proposal for conciliation conditional upon the strikers going back to work.

One Swift-owned plant, known as the Union Packing Company still operated, in Calgary. Its employees are not members of the U. P. W. A.

Supply Picture Darker

Weekend developments darkened the already-gloomy meat supply picture.

C.I.O.-affiliated Quebec slaughterers voted to go on a sympathy strike but did not announce a deadline. The city was down to an eight-day stock of meat.

Four Drowned As Car Plunges Into River

Kapuskasing, Sept. 15 — (CP) — Four men were drowned and two escaped through an automobile window early today when the car in which they were passengers crashed through a checkerboard detour sign and plunged 20 feet into the Oposatika River, 20 miles west of here.

The victims: Antoine Charbonneau, 22; Willy Cote, 37; Andre Voyer, 19, and Emileen Isabel, 27.

The survivors: Marcel Landry and Jean Roland.

The party of six, all employees of the Long Lac Pulp and Paper Company at Bic, Que., were on holidays and returning to Long Las when the tragedy occurred.

Police said the car missed the detour bridge, which replaced one which had been condemned last year and later demolished. The checkerboard sign blocked the approach to the site of the old bridge.

Chrysler Raises Prices on Cars

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 15. (CP) —An 8.2 per cent increase in the prices of Canadian-built Chrysler, Plymouth, Dodge and Desoto passenger cars, and a 10.2 per cent boost on Dodge and Fargo trucks was announced today by C. W. Churchill, president of Chrysler Corporation of Canada.

The increase, ineffective immediately, brings prices of Plymouth special deluxe from $1,558,-37 to $1,666 and the Chrysler Windsor from $2,134 to $2,325. The Dodge Special Deluxe is up to $1,685 from $1,672 and Desoto up to $2,224 from $2,079. All prices are Windsor factory retail.

Mr. Churchill said the increase would enable the corporation to cope with higher material and labor costs.

Loses Her African Empire, Pays Huge Reparation Charge

Treaties Also Handed Other German Satellites

By LOUIS NEVIN

Paris, Sept. 15 (AP) —Britain, France, Russia and the United States deposited instruments of ratification for the Italian Peace Treaty with the French government today and fixed midnight (8 p.m. EDT) as the official hour of the beginning of peace for Italy.

Peace treaties written by the victorious Allies for Finland, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria were to be activated in similar fashion during the day by deposit of ratification instruments in Moscow.

As the Russian and American ambassadors and the British minister handed him their red-bound copies of the Italian treaty ratification instruments, Foreign Minister George Bidault of France commented: "This is the result of our long painful effort. I hope it will permit us to enter a long period of peace."

All the Big Four representatives then signed a protocol stating that they had deposited the instruments and declaring the treaty in force as of midnight. The entire ceremony lasted exactly five minutes.

Reparation Assessment

The treaties assess $1,330,000,-000 in reparations against the five; reduce the territories of Italy, Romania, Hungary and Finland; severely limit the size of the armed force of all five; contain guarantees against racial and religious discrimination and bars a rebirth of Fascism.

The United States and Britain must withdraw occupation troops from Italy within 90 days. Russia must pull her troops out of Bulgaria in a like period but is granted the right to keep soldiers in Hungary and Romania so long as necessary to maintain communications with occupied Austria.

Peace treaties for Austria, Germany and Japan remain to be written.

In Trieste, new free territory created in the Italian treaty, Allied forces withdraw Tuesday from the Morgan line to the new frontier, adding a big slice of the Istrian peninsula to Yugoslav territory.

As the hour for United States and British withdrawal neared disturbances continued in Venezia Giulia.

Two boatloads of Italian refugees arrived in Trieste from the coastal city of Pola, which becomes a Yugoslav city under the Italian treaty. The vessels carried about 1,000 persons, the last of thousands who quit Pola, leaving it a ghost city.

For Italy, today's ratification of the peace treaty marked the end of a national adventure with Fascism which started 25 years ago. The experiment cost her:

Approximately 3,000 square miles of her homeland, all her African empire, the Dodecanese Islands, $360,000,000 in reparation and her place as a world power. The territory she loses to Yugoslavia in the Istrian Peninsula will cost her more than 1,000,000 tons of coal annually.

The African territories — Eritrea ,Libya and Somaliland — remain under British sovereignty for a year, during which Britain France and the United States consider final disposition.

Cut to 185,000.

The Italian army was cut to 185,000 men, plus 65,000 carabinierie and 200 tanks. She was left but two battleships, four cruisers, four destroyers, 16 torpedo boats, 20 corvettes and 25,000 men. The air force was permitted 25,000 men, with 200 combat and 150 transport planes.

The other treaties, in brief, provide:

Bulgaria — No loss of territory; $70,000,000 in reparations, $25,-000,000 to Yugoslavia and $45,-000,000 to Greece; armed forces limited to 65,000 men, 7,250 tons of warships, 90 planes.

Finland — Loses port and province of Petsamo to Russia and gives Russia a 50-year lease on Perkkala-Udd for naval base; $300,000,000 in reparations, all to Russia; armed forces limited to 41,500 men, 19,000 tons of warships, 60 planes.

Hungary — Loses Transylvania to Romania; $300,000,000 in reparations, $200,000,000 to Russia, $50,000,000 to Yugoslavia and $50,000,000 to Czechoslovakia; armed forces limited to 70,000 men, 90 planes.

Romania — Loses Bessarabia to Russia; $300,000,000 in reparations, all to Russia; armed forces limited to 138,000 men, 15,000 tons of warships and 90 planes.

CYCLIST COMPLETES TRIP

Vancouver, Sept. 15 — (CP)— Romeo Morin, 39-year-old marathon bicyclist from Montreal, arrived here late Saturday to complete a 5,750-mile trip from Halifax, which he said was the first trans-Canada bicycle trip ever made over an all-Canadian route. He left Halifax July 1.

Allied Air Raids in June, 1944, Spelled End to German Oil Output

London, Sept. 15 (AP) — Allied air blows during June 1944—the European invasion month—hammered Hitler's aviation synthetic fuel output down to 11 per cent of normal, the Air Ministry revealed today.

The ministry made public a personal report to Hitler by Production Minister Albert Speer in which Speer pointed to the "catastrophic loss of June 22" and pleaded for protection for the vital plants.

"Otherwise," Speer's report said, "it will be absolutely impossible to cover the most urgent or the necessary supplies for the Wehrmacht by September; in other words, from that time onward there will be an unbridgeable gap, which must lead to tragic results."

Speer's report listed the day-by-day aviation synthetic fuel output for May and June, 1944, which showed the May 1 figure of 5,645 tons sagging to 632 tons under the weight of Allied bombs.

Speer's figures showed that the giant Leuna synthetic plant was knocked out May 12, struggled back to 20 per cent production by May 25, and was wholly knocked out again three days later.

Speer told Hitler the Air Ministry's documents show, that "the fighter protection for the plants must be considerably increased, for the Luftwaffe must clearly understand that, should the attacks continue successfully, they

CHILD SLIGHTLY INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY PASSING CAR

Alleged to have darted suddenly out from behind a parked truck, five-year-old Robt. O'Hara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Quinten O'Hara, R. R. 6, Belleville, was slightly injured Saturday afternoon when a short distance outside the city limits on the Cannifton Road, he was struck by a passing taxi.

The little boy was taken to hospital where, following examination by Dr. F. R. Ross, he was stated to have suffered injuries to his head and arm. He was later permitted to return to his home.

Driver of the taxi, John Finkle, told police he had been driving north when the child darted out from behind a truck parked on the west side of the highway.

CAR COMPLETELY WRECKED IN CRASH

To drive from Montreal to Vancouver and back to Belleville without accident and then completely wreck his new auto by striking a parked transport has been the experience of Francis Raspa, of Montreal.

A tractor trailer owned by the Duncan Transport was parked partially on the highway east of Belleville and facing east when the Raspa auto struck the rear left corner of the trailer, almost completely wrecking the vehicle. Raspa was driving alone and miraculously escaped without injury.

In a second accident reported in the Shannonville district, a westbound car driven by Charles Barr, R.C.A.F., Trenton, was sideswiped by an eastbound car driven by John Meagher, R. R. 1, Deseronto. There were no injuries but both vehicles were extensively damaged.

PARTIES AMICABLY SETTLE DAMAGES

A pet dog of undetermined ownership which darted suddenly across the street, was the cause of a rear-end collision between two cars on Bridge Street West on Saturday evening.

Kenneth McFarlane, R. R. 1, Brighton, was driving west when at the intersection of Bridge and Everett a small black dog suddenly ran across the street in front of his vehicle. McFarlane suddenly applied the brakes to avoid striking the dog, when a following car crashed into the rear. The second car was driven by Martial DeRoches of Detroit, and was damaged to the extent of approximately $100 about the grill, while the McFarlane car had its trunk damaged. Damages were amicably settled between the two parties.

A small child approximately three years of age left alone in a motor vehicle parked on Front Street drew the attention of police patrolmen on Saturday night.

Police noticed the child alone in the car but questioning failed to reveal the identity of the parents. More than an hour later the child was still alone in the car. Licence of the vehicle was noted and the owner will be asked to report to the police station.

BUILDING STRUCK DURING STORM

At least one residence in the city was struck by lightning during the brief electrical storm and downpour of rain which passed over the city early Saturday evening. No damage was reported.

The house reported struck by lightning was that occupied by the Arlie Scott news stand on Bridge Street, West. During the height of the storm a neighbor stated he saw the bolt strike the building and some smoke or dust blow away. The building failed to catch fire, however.

Mr. Scott stated later that he had not realized the building had been struck, although he knew it had been close. Lights in the shop went out momentarily at the time of the flash.

"NEIGHBORLY NEWS" WILL BE BROADCAST FROM THIS CITY

Andy Clarke, who broadcasts the program "Neighborly News" over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation station CBL every Sunday morning will do his next Sunday air show from this city Secretary Erle Denyes of Belleville Fair Board announced today.

On Monday evening next at 8 o'clock, Mr. Clarke will formally open the 1947 edition of the Belleville Exhibition.

The broadcaster will arrive in the city on Saturday night and will be greeted by Mayor Frank Follwell, President Elmer Sanderock, and other Fair Board officials.

DR. GEO. FAULKNER HEADS FIELD IN QUALIFYING ROUND

Dr. George Faulkner headed the field in the first eighteen-hole qualifying round for the Tip Top Tailor Trophy held at the Bay of Quinte Golf and Country Club yesterday with a low net score of 68. Tied with a net score of 71 were Jack McNabb, Ian Morch, L. A. Draper, and Ted Doyle.

Dr. Faulkner came away with the sweepstake prize with a low gross score of 76. Second low gross honors went to Murray McIntosh who carded an 81, while Ken Reid with an 85 walked off with a third low gross. Golf balls were given to the winners as prizes.

Club pro. Charlie Pidutti announced that the first handicap match play must be played by September 18.

Ice Supply Here Not too Good

The ice situation in the city is not as critical as it is in several neighboring municipalities where already ice consumers are faced with a serious shortage. There is still a little ice in the city.

Harry Smith's ice supply will be exhausted at the end of this week if present warm weather continues, officials at the ice house report. The possibilities of ice being shipped here from Toronto are remote, as the Queen City is faced with a shortage too. Ice dealers in Toronto state that they will be able to release some of their stock at the end of this month or the middle of October if the weather turns cooler.

There is a more encouraging note from the offices of the Callaghan Ice Company where the supply is expected to last three more weeks under present weather conditions. If the thermometer drops, however, the supply will go further than that. Essential ice deliveries, such as deliveries to the hospital, restaurants, and hotels, will continue regularly. Door-to-door service may be curtailed to three trips weekly to conserve the present supply.

Tornado Homeless Facing Prospects Of Grim Winter

The Belleville Merchants - Ontario Intelligencer Tornado Relief Fund is still asking for financial contributions to aid the homeless and destitute victims of the tornado which swept through the northern regions of this county only two short weeks ago.

The force of the storm was brought out more clearly than ever by the report that letters which had been in the homes of residents of Coe Hill were found 80 miles east in Ramsay township. The pictures of the twisted and smashed homes left in the wake of the storm are grim reminders of the awful savagery which nature is capable of summoning.

Those who were left homeless by this storm are facing the prospect of a grim winter unless the task of reconstruction can be rushed to completion before the cold weather. These people were visited by a catastrophe which they could not avoid or prevent. They have elected to remain and rebuild. Surely we can do something to make their task a trifle easier.

If you have not yet sent your contribution to this fund do so while you are still reminded of it. Send, or bring your contribution to the offices of this newspaper and help your neighbors in the north. Receipts will be given for all money received.

28 JAPANESE PROSECUTORS TIRED OF SCANTY PAY

Tokyo, Sept. 15 — (AP)—Tired of scanty pay, 28 of Japan's 650 public prosecutors have left their jobs this year. In typical Japanese fashion, all claimed "ill health," but privately they say "We just can't make a go of it on 1600 yen ($32) a month." Authorities said they feared more would quit, adding to the difficulty of enforcing criminal law.

Shannonville 'World's Fair' Attracts Thousands, Exhibits, Attractions Being Best Seen

Excellent Horse Racing; Large Entry for Baby Show and School Children's Parade Some of Features

Despite threatening skies which ultimately as the afternoon program was completed gave out with a sudden downpour of rain, the Shannonville "World's Fair" held Saturday afternoon again proved a top drawing card for thousands in the Belleville district as they attended what was termed by officials as one of the most successful fairs in recent years.

Cloudy skies with an apparent constant threat of rain proved no deterrent from a turnout standpoint and until late afternoon gate officials were busy admitting persons to the already crowded grounds. At six o'clock a sudden downpour sent patrons scurrying for cover, but the rain was soon over and served only to refresh the air for the evening performance.

Good Horse Racing

With no other fairs scheduled for the immediate district during the latter part of the week, some of the best racing horses in the province were on hand for the trials of speed. Two classes of harness racing, and one running race, with Mr. George Tice acting as starter, provided a full afternoon's entertainment for horse lovers, while on the track in front of the starter's stand the show horses were paraded between heats.

Well groomed entries in the agricultural and draught classes, as well as drivers, were paraded before the judges and before a jam-packed audience made up of district farmers and horse lovers from the nearby urban centres.

School Children Parade

Starting the afternoon's proceedings away was the parade from the village to the fair ground in which district school children marched to the pipes and drums played by the Belleville Pipe Band led by Jamie Clarke. Also in the parade were farm machinery dealers' displaying the latest in farm machines, with Truck and Farm Supply, Bateman Motors and Vivian's Garage being represented.

School children were all decked out for the parade their costuming indicating considerable efforts on their own part as well as the various teachers. Pupils of Milltown public school, with Miss Verna Fox as teacher, took first prize with their rather novelty turnout of the school being represented with pupils locked in old fashioned stocks on the public square. Appropriate costuming added a realistic touch to the float.

Mountain school children with their red paper caps came in for second place, while Shannonville with their white wedge caps rated third place. Teacher at Mountain school is Mrs. Ross Shetlor, and at Shannonville, Mrs. Holden and Miss Hanley.

Good Calf Club Display

It was a big day also for the Tyendinaga Junior Farmers' Calf Club with thirteen of its members showing purebred Holstein calves at the fair. The fine young Holstein heifer owned by Terry Walsh, age 20, president of the calf club, was adjudged top ranking animal in the show. Conducting the show were Agricultural Representative A. O. Dalrymple of Stirling and his assistant Harry Burns. It was Mr. Burns last official duty as assistant agricultural representative in Hastings as over the weekend he left for Guelph where he has enrolled to study as a veterinary.

Entries in the livestock show, other than in the junior section, were not numerous although E. Wood of Ivanhoe was there with his herd of Ayrshires, while J. Garbutt and Don Heath showed sheep. There was a small poultry exhibit, while Holsteins and Shorthorns were also shown.

Riot of Color

The agricultural building was a riot of color with every bit of entry space being taken by the fine exhibit of grain, vegetables, flowers, and the innumerable entries of fine ladies' work, of domestic science, and the hobby section. The delightful aroma arising from the home made bread and tasty pies baked by the district women permeated the building.

Of special interest in the agricultural building was the fine exhibit of cheese with three makers showing. Cheesemaker Clarence Mastin, Shannonville, took first place in the regular class and also won first in the county cheese association special. Second place winner in the two classes was Alva McAllister, while Carman Brant came in for third place.

As is always the case at Shannonville there was a very definite interest in the baby show, there being two age classes, with prizes given to the best boy and best girl baby in each class. Judging the classes separately possibly took up additional time but the proud mothers indicated their approval. Judge for the baby show was Dr. D. C. McVicker, of Deseronto.

Baby Show Winners

Best baby in the 6-12 months class for boys was Bobby McLaren, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. McLaren, while in the girls' section it was winsome Ardel Sunderland, daughter of Police Constable and Mrs. Frank Sunderland, of Belleville. In the boys' section 1-6 months Wayne Mowbray took first honors, while in the girls' class it was Brenda Brant.

Other prize winners in the various classes were boys 1-6 Colin Vesterfelt, and Bryan Sager; Girls — Sharon Bush, and Beverly McFarlane; boys 6-12 months, Denis Whalen and Dale Kimmett, and girls Cheryl LaChance and Judith Cook. All other babies contesting received consolation prizes.

Winners in the nail driving novelty contest were Mrs. J. Greatrix, R.R. 4, Mrs. McKenzie, Shannonville and Hazel Greatrix.

Pipe Band in Attendance

Members of the Belleville Pipe Band put on a real show for the fair patrons and several times paraded the grounds while special numbers were staged on a special platform. Winsome Marie Nash, Belleville, drew plaudits from the crowd for her execution of Scottish Dances with Pipe Major Jamie Clarke providing the music.

For the baseball minded there were two well contested ball games with old arch rivals, Shannonville and Read hooking up in a baseball game which went extra innings before the home town boys won out by a 6-5 score. In the softball game between American Optical and Dulmage's Garage, both Belleville teams, the garage boys won out by a 16-9 count.

In the opinion of many a fair without a midway would lack much in attraction and this goes double for a Shannonville Fair crowd. For the first time in the history of the fair there was a full fledged midway with merry-go-round and ferris wheel, both of which did a land office business all afternoon. In addition there were countless concessions as well as refreshment booths.

The Department of Lands and Forests with Zone Forester, W. E. Edwards of Napanee in attendance, had an instructive and interesting exhibit of the grounds.

In the evening the Rhythm Ranch Riders of Belleville staged a show on the grounds with variety of talent assisting in the entertainment.

Jews Celebrate Rosh Hashanah

As the sun sank below the western horizon last night, millions of Jews the world over ushered in the year 5,708. Rosh Hashanah, the beginning of a new year was observed here by Belleville Jewry. All shops and places of business operated by Jews will remain closed until Wednesday.

The services and rituals are being conducted here by Rabbi Abraham Babb.

The traditional Jewish service which commemorates Rosh Hashanah, the blowing of the Shofar (ram's horn trumpet), and the reading of the Torah, constitutes the official opening of the most sacred of Judaist holidays. Continuing for a period of ten days it is known as the High Holiday of Ten Bays of Penance and is climaxed by the Day of Atonement or Yom Kippur.

Computed according to the ancient Jewish lunar calendar which is based on revolutions of the moon around the earth, Rosh Hashanah has undergone only one slight variance in observance. In olden days Jews in rural Palestine relied solely on messages from Jerusalem to tell them of the advent of the holiday. Since the length of the day of worship was determined by the coming of the new moon, proclamations from Jerusalem had to be sent into rural localities advising the inhabitants that the moon had come and the day was officially over.

Sometimes it took many hours for such proclamations to react the people and more often than not the holiday continued through two days. While orthodox Jews still retain the old custom of a two-day observance of Rosh Hashanah, liberal Jews have shortened the period to twenty-four hours.

The blowing of the ram's horn or Shofar in ancient days heralded a call to battle or a forthcoming proclamation. To a modern Jewish it is a challange to "self-examination". . . a command to repent his sins and atune himself with the world and his Maker.

On the eve of Yom Kippur, a day of fast begins. Services are started which last through the following day and the final purging from sin is complete.

No Thought of Converting Coffin to Their Own Use

Sounderton Pa., Sept. 15 (AP)—Coffin, coffin—who's got the coffin?

Souderton planned a parade to celebrate its victory over nearby Harleysville in the eastern Penn League baseball playoffs. And there was going to be a funeral cortege with a real $300 coffin—to bury the losers, naturally.

But Harleysville residents "raided" parade headquarters with a barrage of eggs and rotten vegetables and took the coffin.

Souderton called it larceny. A justice of the peace disagreed.

"Larcey means converting to your own use. I don't think these men are thinking of doing that with the coffin," he said.

HIS WALLET WAS MISSING

Philadelphia, Sept. 15 —(AP)—Arthur Hudson missed his train and went to sleep in the Pennsylvania Railroad's Broad Street Station.

A poke in the ribs awakened him.

"I'm an officer," a man said. "Have you any identification?"

Hudson pulled out his wallet. The man looked at it — then began sneezing.

"Excuse me," he said. "It's my hay fever."

The man left. When Hudson woke up — really woke up — he found $254 missing from his wallet.

USING METAL WASHERS FOR NICKELS

Franklin, Pa., Sept. 15 (AP) — Police are making a check of local industrial plants, asking employers to help boost the city's receipts by keeping tab on metal washers used in the plants.

It seems the weekly collections from parking meters are reaping more washers than nickels.

FOOD POISONING HITS WEDDING GUESTS

Montreal, Sept. 15 — (CP)—Of the 35 guests admitted to hospitals as the result of food poisoning suffered at the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Normand Chenier Saturday morning, 17 were reported as still under treatment last night. It is expected that some of these will be discharged today. Police attributed the poisonings to ham sandwiches which the guests ate.

23 S.S., Gestapo Officers Deny War Crimes

Nuernberg, Sept. 15. (AP)—Twenty-three S.S. and Gestapo officers charged with more than 1,000,000 killings pleaded innocent of war crimes upon arraignment before an American Court today.

The men are Einsatz Gommandos, known as Heinrich Himmler's murder squad. The group included Maj.-Gen. Otto Ohlendorf and Brig.-Gen. Erich Naumann, captured only recently on the Austrain border.

Judge Michael A. Musmanno fixed Sept. 29 for the United States to present evidence to back up charges that the defendants killed Jews, Gypsies, Russians, and others considered racially inferior to "Nordic" Nazis.

Two of the defendants lifted the arraignment out of the routine today. Otto Rasch, an S.S. Brigadier-General, shook with an attack of Parkinson's disease, akin to palsy, and had to leave the court temporarily. Eduard Strauch, an S.S. colonel, was stricken by epilepsy and fell when he arose to enter his plea.

The prosecution charges that the Einsatz Commandos followed in the wake of German Army drives, especially on the Russian front. There was some theorizing during the international military tribunal hearings for top Nazis that the Commandos were responsible for the slaying of 12,000 Polish officers in the Katin Forest.

FATHER KILLS 3 CHILDREN

Omak, Wash., Sept. 15—(AP)—Three children were shot and clubbed to death yesterday and police said their frenzied father, William Cary, 31, was captured after a terrific struggle in a bloodtattered farmhouse north of Omak. A playmate of the Cary children, Isolo Ward, four, was shot in the leg and beaten with a rifle barrel as she pleaded for mercy.

Report Attlee Will Reshuffle Cabinet Soon

London, Sept 15 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee will reshuffle his cabinet soon, an authoritative source said today, with the aim of gaining strength to deal with economic troubles.

This source said there was no likelihood of charges involving the cabinet's "big four"—Foreign Secretary Bevin, Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council; Sir Stafford Cripps, President of the Board of Trade, and Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer. There was speculation the shakeup might involve A. V. Alexander, Defence Minister; of Supply; Aneurin Bevan, Health Minister; Arthur Greenwood, Minister without portfolio; and Viscount Addison, Secretary of Commonwealth Relations.

Mrs. Wm. Clare Charged With Manslaughter

Toronto, Sept. 15 —(CP)—Mrs. William Clare, 30-year-old Toronto woman, today was remanded until Sept. 22 and released on $5,000 bail in York County police court after being charged with manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting of Cecil James Hemmings, 44, at Maple, Ont., last Friday.

Mrs. Clare was reported by police to have given a signed statement concerning her part in the targedy.

Hemmings, who left Welland, Ont., about a week ago to take the job as timekeeper, died six hours after he was wounded by a blast from a shotgun during a drinking party at the cottage he occupied near the gravel pit.

The charge against Mrs. Clare followed her second voluntary appearance at county police headquarters here Sunday when she was accompanied by her husband. It was preferred by Detective Allan Wallace, of the York County police and one of the chief investigators in the case, after consultation with Assistant Crown Attorney Harold Saunders.

Statements made to police Friday by three people who attended the party indicated that Hemmings had warned his guests against handling the shotgun because it was loaded. The weapon was put away after the warning but was brought out again and the shooting followed.

The shotgun, a .410 gauge owned by the company, was said to have been used primarily for hunting foxes which abound in the district.

Britain Draws On Gold Reserve To Bolster Credit

London, Sept. 15 (AP) —The Bank of England has sold gold valued at $80,000,000 to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, the treasury announced today.

A treasury spokesman said the sales of £20,000,000 from the remaining $400,000,000 of the $3,750,000,000 American loan was frozen Aug. 20.

Britain at that time suspended the right to convert sterling into dollars.

"Since we can't get dollars from the American loan we must draw on our gold reserves," the treasury man observed.

Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in announcing the end of sterling convertibility Aug. 20, said Britain had £600,000,000 ($2,400,000,000) worth of gold and other basic reserves in addition to the loan resources.

Teach Surgery by Television

Television was used at the recent meeting of the American College of Surgeons who officially endorsed the teaching of surgery by television after witnessing an experimental program in which seven major operations were performed on the tenth floor of the New York Hospital and were projected on television screens on the fourth floor of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where the congress is being held.

How important the operations were is indicated by the descriptions given of them, one on the sympathetic nervous system to relieve high blood pressure, stomach resection for ulcer, removal of tumor over the heart, removal of the thyroid gland, repair of a ligament of the knee by a living tendon, removal of gall bladder, excision of the palmar fascia for contraction of the hand.

The television operations with explanations by operating surgeons and a narrator made available to the visiting surgeons at the congress a view comparable to that from beside the operating table. This was the first occasion on which television had projected operations from one location to another.

The doctors attending the congress see the advantage of television in teaching which surpasses in the words of the president of the college anything we have had in the past . . . I never imagined that television could be so effective until I saw it demonstrated here.

The projection of pictures and scenes across space by television is another step forward in science and will make possible more effective study of surgery. How much modern development depends upon the scientific aids is one of the outstanding facts of this time in history. The advance has been amazing and of the end of this progress there does not appear to be any possibility of limit.

If television can be used for teaching surgery, in what other fields can it not be utilized?

Britain's Ban on Foreign Travel

Rigorous economy in Britain has put a ban on foreign travel. More than three centuries ago Englishmen were known in many parts of the Continent of Europe. That was the time when British adventurers sailed the seas and laid the foundations of the development of the New World countries and started the expansion of world trade to which the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus had given the greatest impetus. Englishmen visited in all parts of Europe in those days.

Under the present regulations holidays abroad are affected by an immediate reduction in the foreign exchange allowance from £75 ($300) to £35 ($140) on all journeys made before October 1st. After that date all facilities for foreign currency for pleasure travel will be suspended. Business men going on the Continent are to be allowed to spend £8 ($32) a day instead of the present allowance of £10 ($40).

This affects the people in Britain. As for visitors from overseas they will not be affected by the reduction in the period during which guests may stay in hotels without a ration book. As from September 14th this is cut from four nights to two but tourists from abroad may still benefit from the fact that they can stay in hotels in Britain for twenty-eight days before an application for rationing documents becomes necessary.

Slates

Slates which were known to older citizens in the days of long ago in the schools of Ontario are to be brought back into a number of schools in the Old Country, according to the Manchester Guardian, which points out that this will be welcome news to schoolboys for the reason that "once ideas have been put on paper with pen and ink they are not easily altered, but the records on a slate can be removed by the rub of a finger." The Guardian points to other aspects of the coming change: "and what is better than a class of squeaking slate-pencils — like the unfortunate juryman's in "Alice" — for wearing down the teacher's nerves. Moreover, slate pencils may replace the vanished cigarette cards, or even foreign stamps, and regain the pride of place in schoolboy currency they held in Dickens' time."

Those who used slates in schools hereabout a generation and a half or two generations ago naturally will be rather surprised at the change for when the change came from slate to writing book it would seem to have been a change from which there would be no returning.

Plague of Revolvers

The seeming ease with which any young thug can get a revolver, and abundant ammunition for it, is startling. The frequency with which such weapons are used in the actual commission of crime would appear to indicate that the daring criminals of this day have little fear of the law and little regard for human life.

A criminal armed with a loaded revolver is truly a potential murderer because it has to be assumed he will kill if murder facilitates his escape. If he is caught little short of life imprisonment is adequate.

For many years The Journal has held the opinion, and expressed it freely, that private individuals should be forbidden to possess revolvers. They serve absolutely no useful purpose, and they are a constant menace through the fact that they exist—a revolver stolen from a bureau drawer may turn a sneak-thief into a murderer because it gives him the means of dealing out sudden death.

The law requires that revolvers in private hands be registered with the police — but nobody knows how many are not listed. Vast numbers of these deadly weapons were brought home from Europe as "souvenirs" of the war, and inevitably some of them by devious means find their way into the hands of criminals.

If nobody except the police legally could have a revolver the mere possession of one would become an offence in any circumstances and the police problem in this respect would be simplified. They all should be collected and dumped into our deepest lakes.—Ottawa Journal.

Courtesy

Courtesy is something that must be achieved. It is by no means innate and for that reason only carelessness and lack of personal pride prevent anyone from having the quality. Politeness means a great deal to the person with whom you are dealing and it also is an important and desirable trait to the individual using it.

In the business world those who are courteous are more highly regarded by their associates and are more pleasing to work with. We all wish to be liked by those around us and politeness will go a long way to gaining this wish.

Courtesy like many other things must begin in the home and should be practised there. Ordinarily if a child is brought up accustomed to saying "please" and "thank you" when he grows up this habit will be a part of him and it will show up in all his dealings with his fellowmen.—Owen Sound Sun Times.

Nature's Quiet Sounds

The world is full of noises, the honking of horns, the whistle of trains, the clatter of people and, running like an undertone through it all, the familiar sounds of nature.

Wind whispers about leaves and grasses, sighs through tree tops, whimpers around house corners. Rain taps on the window, patters on the roof and beats out a rhythm on the earth.

Waves thunder and crash. Brooks ripple and laugh. Rivers sing contentedly. Trees murmur and whisper together. Grasses rustle. Wings flutter. Crickets chirp and birds carol joyously.

These sounds of nature are not obtrusive sounds. They are not heard above the hum of traffic or the tumult of thought. But they have a way of filtering into consciousness, broadening and diffusing, leaving ever widening streams of quiet.—Montreal Gazette.

The secret pleasure of a generous act is the great mind's bribe.—Dryden.

WEATHER GRUMBLER

I remember—and could it have been last spring?—
When it rained day after day,
And it seemed that the sun was on its northward swing
Had forgotten the month was May.

I remember that often I grumbled then
And wished for the skies to clear,
And I frequently said to my fellow men:
"We are having a dismal year."

Well, the sun is ablaze in the skies today
And scorching the fields of grain,
And I'm grumbling still, in the same old way,
And wishing for wind and rain.

The heat that's fretting me now will go
And autumn will bring the rain,
But whatever the weather may be, I know
To my neighbors I'll still complain.

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

How did New Hampshire gets its name?

In 1622 Sir Ferdinando Gorges and Captain John Mason received a patent for a vast tract of land on the New England coast roughly corresponding to the present State of Maine and New Hampshore. Seven years later the Council for New England divided the territory and granted to Mason individually the territory lying between the Merrimack and Piscataqua rivers.

Mason, sometimes referred to as "the founder of New Hampshore," named his grant "New Hampshire" after his home county of Hampshire in England. Hampshire ("Hants") is divided into two administrative districts the Isle of Wight and Southampton on the English mainland. Although Mason was born in Norfolkshire, he spent most of his life in Hampshire and gave that as his home when he registered at Oxford University.

But "New Hampshire" did not immediately attach itself to Mason's grant. An English sailor named Martin Pring had looked over the New Hampshire coast in 1603, but it was not until 1623 that English fishermen, traders and farmers began to settle there.

A charter granted to Mason in 1629 changed the name to "Laconia," but that name was not used much. It was not until about 1665 that the settlers on the Piscataqua (the upper course of which is now known as the Salmon Falls River) revived the name given to the territory by Mason and began to refer to it as New Hampshire.

Massachusetts claimed the territory, but in 1679 Charles II proclaimed the towns of Portsmouth, Hampton, Dover and Exeter "the Province of New Hampshire." Although Massachusetts and New Hampshire were separate Colonies, the same man often acted as royal governor of both at the same time.

New Hampshire expelled Governor John Wentworth in 1775 and was the first Colony to set up a State government independent of Great Britain. It was the only one of the original 13 States not invaded by the British during the Revolution.

Mount Washington in the White Mountains — 6,293 feet high — is the highest peak in New England.

Because its mountains are composed largely of granite, New Hampshire is nicknamed the Granite State. A surprisingly large number of people outside New England are under the erroneous impression that "Granite State" is the nickname of Vermont.

CANADA HEADING

In Montreal U.P.W.A. speakers criticized Ontario and Quebec governments for what the union termed "blocking tactics" in undertaking their own settlement negotiations instead of waiving their jurisdiction to permit federal conciliation. Earlier, British Columbia, Manitoba, and Saskatchewan had agreed to appointment of a federal conciliator.

Bare Weekend

Most housewives still could buy meat today but from across the country came predictions from butchers that perhaps by midweek, almost certainly by Saturday, their counters would be bare. Some dealers stocked up with extra supplies of canned meat and fish and those lines found ready sale.

Citizens prepared to face other shortages of lard, shortening, soap flakes and ice, all products of the packinghouses. Bakeries made ready to discontinue making pastries and cakes after their supply of shortening ran out. Lumber camp operators whose men eat large quantities of meat regularly talked of the possibility of shutting down woods operations.

Meat supplies intended for the sick and the dying in hospitals in Vancouver and New Westminster, B. C., were cut off by the striking union.

"Henceforth hospitals will have to get their meat from independent packers," a union spokesman said.

The Montreal U. P. W. A. meeting suggested stiffer demands on the packing companies. Union speakers called for a general wage increase of 20 cents an hour and for a country-wide 40 hour week in the industry.

The union said workers now have a 40-hour week in Ontario but work 48 hours in Quebec. The average minimum wage is 72 cents an hour for unskilled men, 54 cents for women.

unjust price increases have occurred."

In the food field the decontrol order means that price ceilings are being lifted from flour, bread, prepared cereals, all canned goods, corn and corn products and beans, including pork and beans, a scarce commodity during wartime through special packing and canning restrictions.

Ceilings are being removed on all clothing, textiles, lumber and building products, nails, wire fencing, agricultural implements, household heating equipment, hides and leather, wood pulp and all cotton jute, sisal and synthetic fibres.

Meat, left under the ceiling, appeared nevertheless as a major and controversial item. With a packers strike in progress and a consequent short supply of meat, it was learned that Cabinet deliberations on the meat decontrol question were long and at variance.

The final decision was to leave meat under price control for the time being to stave off a major price increase. But it was conceded here that when the strike ends and meat again becomes plentiful, controls on that product may be expected to end.

MURDER WEAPON

The finding of the purse led to a fresh search for clues in High Park. Officers combed the area thoroughly until they found the rope, which appeared new.

The purse was empty. The girl's mother, Mrs. Alfred Scott, identified it. She told police Irish probably was carrying not more than $2 or $3 in it at the time of the slaying.

As preparations went forward for the funerals today of Vigus and of Miss Scott, police checked through the girl's three private diaries and bundles of love letters in search of clues. They described the diaries as "extremely frank and intimate" but said they yielded no important leads in the investigation.

In the diaries Miss Scott said Vigus had been "very kind" to her but a younger man, a university student, came first in her affections. A police officer who studied the diaries said the girl wrote of Vigus "more as a friend with whom she went out often and who took her to the golf course on Sundays."

Police questioned the student yesterday and he told them he had not seen the girl for some time. They spent several hours questioning the girl's brother, Joseph Scott, and Vigus 19-year-old son, George Vigus, Jr.

The $1,000 reward offered by the city police commission for information leading to the arrest of the killer still stood.

TRAIL OF THREE

Police Chief Claude Renaud of Windsor has insisted McDonald and Lauzon still are in the border area where the 25-year-old medium-tall dark-complexioned Lauzon has many friends. Lauzon originally came from Windsor and long was regarded as one of the most desperate criminals ever to operate along the border.

Police say there has been no evidence to support rumors that Nick Minille of Ottawa was killed by McDonald and Lauzon following the escape. Neither have officers been given an inkling concerning the activities of the short, swarthy Minille since the morning the trio went "over the wall."

All through Central Canada the forces of the law are ready to break in the case. If necessary, when it comes the men in blue will shoot first and ask questions afterwards.

DON'T TAKE ANTISEPTICS TOO SERIOUSLY

Too many persons are as easily impressed by color and odor in an antiseptic, a germicide or a disinfectant as veritable morons are by pink lemonade or artificially colored pop.

I am sounding off about this now in the belief that carbolic acid, iodoform and other favorites of Sairey Gamp, do not overpower patients who visit physicians' offices, dispensaries, hospitals or even quackish "clinics" nowadays.

From years of research in the popular magazines Wiseacres have learned, among many other things that are not so, that the efficiency or strength of an antiseptic depends on its color. If the odor is "powerful" the stuff probably kills germs by the millions.

There's no point in denying that if you isolate or surround ten or a hundred million disease germs of any type and squirt almost any known antiseptic, disinfectant or germacide on them, you'll kill them all in a second or so.

But what of it?

That method might be all right for disinfecting a clinical thermometer, or the point of a needle for taking a sliver out of the skin or even starch or cut in the skin. So far as prevention or treatment of any disease due to infection is concerned the use of antiseptics in nose or throat is a pastime and that's all.

The most efficient antiseptic that can be used as mouthwash, gargle, spray or irrigation can have no beneficial influence upon either acute or chronic nose throat, tonsil or sinus infections.

The only beneficial influence antiseptic mouthwash, gargle, spray or irrigation can have in such instances is perhaps to render the patient a little less likely to infect other persons in the usual way that respiratory infections spread, via sneeze, cough or conversation spray.

It is possible but not probable that immediate application of an antiseptic mouth wash, gargle, spray or irrigation after one has been exposed to Cri might prevent the illness from developing.

Too many of us do not seem to understand that the germs responsible for acute respiratory infections or chronic nose, throat or sinus trouble of any kind, are in the tissues, not on the surface, and of course no antiseptic can reach the germs that are causing the trouble.

Nuts who use gargles, sprays, washes, douches, irrigations, "internal baths" and the like as a regular habit do not seem to understand that mucus (noun) is the normal protective coating of every mucous membrane . . and that mucous membrane lives every cavity or passage or canal or tube or duct in the body that communicates directly or indirectly with the outside the outer world.

Mucus is far better protective for the mucous membrane than any artificial substitute one can apply. When you wash away the mucus you predispose the mucous membrane to infection—disease germs can more deadily penetrate it when there is no protective coat of mucus to stop them.

My advice to persons with chronic sinus, throat, nasal or tonsil trouble is to use no sprays or irrigations unless your physician instructs you to do so—and then only for the limited period the physician specifies.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Shall I Tell Her?

What do you recommend for keeping sanitary the mouth, nasal passages and eyes? Also what will keep dentures, teeth and toothbrush absolutely sanitary. How often should one living in a smoky city wash the nasal passages, and what is the best method? (Mrs. L. McL.)

Answer — Leave 'em alone. Better ask your dentist about dentures.

Cruelty

Thankful for your disapproval of punishing and ridiculing or shaming children for bed-wetting. Please remind readers of the cruelty of that, from time to time. So many people do treat children badly. (R.K.L.)

14-Year-Old Boy Held in Slaying Of Companions

Newark, N.J., Sept. 15 (AP)—A 14-year-old boy was held today for the slaying of an 11-year-old companion, John Preston, whom the Federal Bureau of Investigation said he admitted garroting with a leather belt in an abandoned warehouse because he wanted to prove himself "no sissy."

The F.B.I. said the boy, Fred Walter Smigelski, signed a statement telling how he had planned to kill someone to assert his superiority in the face of his mother's continual demands that he wash dishes, dust furniture and do assorted household chores. Smigelski was held without charge.

The body of the younger boy was found yesterday in the old warehouse in nearby Harrison, a leather belt tightened about his neck and several gashes on his chest and wrist. The statement quoted Smigelski as saying he selected the Preston boy as his victim because he was certain he was weaker than himself and could be subdued easily.

The F.B.I. said the boy admitted the slaying after he had been brought to headquarters here by his father, Walter Smigelski, whose suspicions had been aroused by a copy of a kidnap ransom note found by Mr. Smigelski yesterday morning in the pocket in one of the boy's trousers.

A similar note, crudely scrawled and asking $1,000 ransom, had been received by the victim's parents, Mr and Mrs. John Preston, in the mail Saturday morning some 12 hours after the boy was reported missing.

The father of the Smigelski boy said he waited for his son as he came out of church yesterday morning and confronted him with the note. The boy told conflicting stories, police said the father told them.

The boy had first insisted he met a masked man who asked that he help in the kidnapping of the Preston boy.

Police said the boy's statement told of a long battle between the two boys in the warehouse, the two grappling and punching and threatening each other with pieces of broken glass before Smigelski subdued his younger antagonist.

Big Tree Treaty Assured Freedom From Want

Genesee, N.Y. Sept. 15. (AP)—The treaty of Big Tree, signed 150 years ago by the Seneca Indians in selling Western New York State to the white man, is described by a historian as the "first guaranteed freedom from want." Anniversary of the signing of the treaty was observed on Saturday.

The area extending from the Genesee River west to Lake Erie, with the exception of 337 square miles retained by the Senecas as reservations, was sold for $100,000. The payment, invested in bonds of the Bank of the United States, guarantee the Indians a perpetual income.

Dr. Arthur C. Parker, former president of the New York State Historical Association, said it was the "first instance of guaranteed freedom from want."

Freeman Johnson, a Seneca Chief, said however that last year share to each adult amounted to about $1.90.

COURT ORDER MAY BE REQUIRED

Winnipeg, Sept. 15 — (CP) — A court-order to supplement the resumption of death of the 23 unidentified victims of the Canadian National Railways' Labor Day wreck at Dugald, Man., may be required before the vital statistics branch can issue death certificates, legal authorities said here yesterday.

Ten $10 Bills Fall Into Boots

Newark, N.J., Sept. 15. (AP)—Albert Kizes dropped into police headquarters to tell the cops they could call off the search for his missing $100—the 10 $10 bills were in his shoes.

Kizes reported that the money which he had pasted to his clothes closet wall for safe-keeping was missing.

It was all caused by the humidity. The heat had softened the adhesive tape he used and the money fell down into a pair of parked shoes.

ALLIED AIR RAIDS

will anyhow only be able to operate with a part of their fighters by September, owing to lack of fuel."

The Air Ministry release followed up an admiralty document published Saturday which said the power of Winston Churchill's words, the tides of the English Channel and the do-or-die British air fights proved insurmountable obstacles to Hitler's intended invasion of Britain.

The admiralty report was based on captured German naval papers.

The documents, known as the "Fuehrer conferences," are minutes of staff meetings between Hitler and the various commanders of the German forces and mainly concern operation "Sea Lion"—the invasion of Britain, which had been set for August and September, 1940.

The documents also revealed that Hitler personally intervened to veto German submarine operations in Halifax waters early in 1940.

Grand Admiral Erich Raeder suggested that two submarines with mines and torpedoes be sent to Halifax, that the mines be laid within territorial waters, and that the torpedoes be used outside.

Hitler ruled out the suggestion though the foreign office had no objections, saying he did so "in view of the psychological effect on the United States."

On June 18, of 1940, after the French request for an armistice, Churchill had dampened Hitler's hopes of a speedy British capitulation by these words in the House of Commons;

"I expect that the Battle of Britain is about to begin. Upon this battle depends the survival of Christian civilization... Hitler knows he will have to break us in this island or lose the war.

"Let us therefore, brace ourselves to our duty, and so bear ourselves that if the British Commonwealth and Empire lasts for a thousand years, men will still say, 'This was their finest hour.'"

The question of what to do about Britain was brought up by Raeder, former commander-in-chief of the German navy, now under life sentence as a war criminal. Hitler, jubilant over his victory in France, paid little attention at first. He thought air attacks and possible naval blockade would bring Britain to her knees.

Invasion discussed

In the last days of June, 1940, Raeder's suggestion for invasion was taken up by the German Supreme Command. Hitler agreed that a landing in Britain would be possible, "any time after Aug. 15," provided air superiority could be attained and certain other conditions fulfilled.

There followed conference after conference, with uncertainty leading the way in numerous inter-service arguments.

Dissension broke out among the army, navy and air force leaders as to their allotted tasks. Demands on the army brought a series of "acrimonious disputes with the navy on the question of landing on a broad or narrow front."

Raeder said the transport routes "lie in a sea (the channel) area in which weather, fog, currents, tides and the state of the sea present the greatest difficulties."

Raeder conferred with Hitler July 31 and announced that the earliest date for the operation was Sept. 15, a month later than first planned. Then the date was fixed for Sept. 20-21.

A heavy air raid was made on London Sept. 6, and an entry in the war diary said the high command intended to bring about the destruction of London's docks, industries and supplies by means of continuous air attacks "and so hasten the decision."

British Defence Strong

But the next day, when 300 German aircraft raided London, the report says "violent actions with the RAF ensued and revealed the renewed strength of British fighter defence."

Hitler postponed his decision on the invasion until Sept. 14. When he called his commanders together Raeder began the meeting:

"The present air situation does not provide conditions for carrying out the operation, as the risk is too great. If the 'sea lion' operation fails, this will mean great gain in prestige for the British, the powerful effect of our attack will thus be annulled."

Three days later the German war diary stated:

"The enemy air force still is by no means defeated; on the contrary, it shows increasing activity. The weather situation as a whole does not permit us to expect a period of calm. . . . the Fuehrer thereby decides to postpone 'sea lion' indefinitely."

A supreme command document, labelled "top secret", said Oct. 12:

"The Fuehrer has decided that from now on until the Spring, preparations for 'sea lion' shall be continued solely for the purpose of maintaining political and military pressure on England."

By the Spring of 1941, the report on the intended invasion concludes, Hitler and his staff were "deeply involved" in the preparations for invading Russia, and operation "sea lion" was shelved.

BRETHOUR—JOHNSON

White standards and baskets of multi-colored gladioli, with ferns, decorated the interior of Massassaga United Church on the afternoon of Sept. 6, for the marriage at three o'clock of Audrey Myrtle Johnson, daughter of Mr. Sidney Johnson of R.R. 7, Belleville, and the late Mrs. Lily Johnson, to Carl Vincent Brethour, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brethour, Belleville, Ont., Rev. Sharp Increases in Food Prices Hit American Metropolitan Centres

New York, Sept. 15 (AP) — Hard-pressed consumers in Dallas, San Francisco, Denver and Kansas City, fared better than those in Eastern United States cities as they watched their food bills take off for the stratosphere between mid-August and mid-September.

A survey of the retail price of eight foods in ordinary use in 13 key cities reveals that while the rising cost of food pinched everywhere during the month, New York, Philadelphia and Boston felt it more than the cities to the west.

Eggs and butter were the chief offenders during the month, advancing everywhere, partly for seasonal production reasons.

Meat prices continued the rise noted a month earlier.

Bread and milk bills were changed only slightly, but in several cities consumers were on notice of price increases to come.

Canned tomatoes declined in most places as the new pack poured into the market.

Item by item the survey showed in the 13 cities:

Bacon: Prices today ranged from 93 cents a pound in Seattle and St. Louis to 73 cents in Columbus and Dallas. Minneapolis had the greatest increase over mid-August, 17 cents; Seattle prices jumped 13 cents, and New York 12. The average price of bacon in the 13 cities a month ago was 80 cents; today it is 84. In 1939 it was around 30 cents.

Pork chops: St. Louis pays the most today—from 90 to 93 cents a pound, compared with 75 cents a month ago. Dallas and San Francisco pay the lowest, 69 cents, in each instance a drop of six cents a pound in the month. A month ago the average for the 13 cities was 77 cents, today it is 80 cents and in 1939 it was 31 cents.

Round steak: Philadelphia pays the most for round steak, 99 cents a pound, closely followed by St. Louis, where prices range from 89 to 98 cents. The average for the 13 cities in August was 83 and today 86 cents. In 1939 it was 36 cents a pound.

Bread: Prices were unchanged for the 13 cities as a whole. Averaging 14 cents both today and a month ago, for a pound loaf that brought around 8 cents in 1939.

Butter: Sharp advances were reported in most of the cities in the month, the steepest at Minneapolis, which paid 95 cents for a pound that brought 72 cents a month ago. St. Louis, however, paid the highest price, $1 a pound a gain of 20 cents. A month ago the average price was 78, today 90 and in 1939 a pound brought 31 cents.

Eggs: Prices rose everywhere in the month, but today range from 69 cents a dozen in Kansas City and Dallas to 95 cents in New York and Philadelphia. These two eastern cities had the most startling increases in the month, 34 cents in New York and 30 in Philadelphia. A month ago the average price in the 13 cities was 68 cents, today it is 80 cents, and in 1939 it was 32.

Milk: Prices advanced 2 cents a quart in Philadelphia, and 1 cent in New York, Boston, Chicago, Columbus, Kansas City and Seattle. Today's price range is from 17 cents in Denver, Minneapolis and Columbus to 22 cents in Atlanta. The average for the 13 cities; 20 today, 19 a month ago. 11 prewar.

Tomatoes, No. 2 can: The only commodity in the survey to show any average decline in price in the 13 cities in the month, canned tomatoes dropped from an average of 18 cents a month ago to 16 cents today. In 1939 the average was about 8½ cents.

B. OF R. T. OPPOSES ORGANIZATION OF THIRD PARTY IN U.S.

Syracuse, N.Y., Sept. 15 (AP)— A. F. Whitney, President of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said Saturday his organization will oppose organization of a third party in the United States. Whitney declared that formation of a third party "would be playing into the hands of the reactionary Republicans."

IT'S PICKLING TIME!

By KATE AITKEN

People like old-fashioned pickles best. Always among the favourites is the popular Chili Sauce, and here's a recipe to try. Scald and skin 24 ripe red tomatoes; chop, then drain off the surplus liquid. Cut 4 green tomatoes in thin slices without peeling. Peel and slice 6 medium sized onions. Combine the vegetables, including 6 sweet red and 6 sweet green peppers, in a large preserving kettle. Add all the remaining ingredients — 1 teaspoon ground cloves, 1½ teaspoons ginger, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 3 teaspoons ground cinnamon, 2 cups brown sugar firmly packed, 2½ cups cider vinegar, 2 tablespoons salt. Simmer gently until thick — about 2 hours. Seal in sterile jars wax dipped to prevent spoilage. Yield is about 9 pints or 18 eight-ounce jars. You'll find several more pickle recipes in The Standard this week. On sale now at any newsdealer's for 10 cents.

Women's Activities

BETHANY W.A.-W.M.S.

The September meeting of Bethany W.A.-W.M.S. was held jointly at the home of Mrs. P. Osland, Belleville. The Worship service was conducted by the President, Mrs. G. Sills.

During the business period a letter was read from the Dominion Board appealing to all W.M.S. members to devote much time during the coming year to an earnest study of the Bible.

The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. S. Cooley.

Mrs. P. Osland had charge of the program and opened with a hymn.

Mrs. W. Clarke gave the study book in a very interesting manner assisted by several members.

A piano solo by Joy Osland was much enjoyed by everyone.

Mrs. E. Farnsworth was the guest speaker for the afternoon and gave a very interesting talk on Temperance. In her closing remarks Mrs. Farnsworth asked that each of W.M.S. member do her best at all times to help stamp out this evil. A very hearty vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Farnsworth for coming to speak.

Mrs. M. Davidson sang a solo "Bless This House", accompanied by Mrs. C. Eggleton.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

HOLLOWAY STREET W.M.S.

The W.M.S. of Holloway Street Church held their Sept. meeting in the Church parlors on Tuesday afternoon with a fair attendance.

Mrs. C. Perkins gave the Call to Worship, with Mrs. E. Hubbs playing soft music and an interesting program was most efficiently planned and carried out by the members of Mrs. O. Wager's group.

Mrs. Perkins introduced the new Study Book on "The Bible", while Mrs. Anderson outlined the value and significance of the open Bible as we enjoy it today, as compared to restrictions down through the centuries.

Mrs. O. Wager, dressed as a pagan mother, seeking for light on the Word of God, gave a clear and interesting paper on St. Jerome and his struggle to present the first Bible to the people of his age.

His first production on scrolls was called "The Vulgate" and was written in Latin in the 4th Century.

Mrs. P. C. Demp and Mrs. Doxsee gave the life and history of Wycliffe, who was called the star of reformation. His work was closely followed by Chaucer, Tyndale and Martin Luther, until in the 16th Century we had our first Bible translated in English. The present privileges of having an "Open Bible" for all to read meant martyrdom down through the centuries.

A piano solo by Mrs. Hubbs was enjoyed after which Mrs. Kilbank, the president, took the chair. Minutes were read by Mrs. Ross Bell, Mrs. Scott read letters of thanks for cards sent. Mrs. McMurray reported on the C.G.I.T. Summer camp paying tribute to Mrs. Hitchon as camp cook.

Mrs. Johns reported on Temperance and Mrs. Denton on "Community Friendship".

During the meeting the hymn chosen suited the theme, "The Bible for all the World".

Closing with the Mizpah, delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. O. Wager and her group.

Bustamante Seen Possible Premier If Indies Unite

Montego Bay Jamaica, Sept. 13 (CP)— W. A. Bustamante, the colorful, contentious figure who rules the Jamaican Labor Unions he founded, was mentioned today as possible Prime Minister of the Federated British West Indies— if federation ever comes about.

The possibility was a long one, however, for Bustamante himself has opposed federation, saying that Jamaica and the other Caribbean colonies must first attain self-government before that step can be taken.

Britain's offer of nationhood in the Comonwealth, made through Arthur Creech Jones, secretary of State for colonies, got a cool reception from many of the delegates attending the closer co-operation conference here.

The dark, bushy-haired Labor leader is a member of the executive counsil and though he holds only the communications portfolio he is virtual Prime Minister of Jamaica, largest British Caribbean colony and home of 1,500,000 British subjects.

Member for Kingston West in the House of Representatives, he heads the Labor Party, now "in power." The opposition Nation People's party is headed by his cousin, Norman Washington Manley. The real authority is wielded by the Privy Council and governor-general.

Totes a Gun as a Rule

Bustamante totes a gun as a rule. A few months ago he tamed an angry crowd that was bearing down on him by firing his revolver into the ground. A few weeks ago a stone was thrown through the windshield of his car as he drove home from work. He stopped selected the thrower from a small crowd and struck the man over the head with the butt of his revolver.

Last fall Bustamante singlehandedly quelled a riot at May Pen, an agricultural estate near Kingston, where one man was killed and 15 injured in a pitched battle between police and unemployed.

The members of his Bustamante industrial trades union are generally loyal but he has been bitterly attacked by other labor leaders notably Albert Gomes of Trinidad. Gomes, champion of federation, has accused Bustamante industrial trades union are lems ahead of those of the West Indies and of seeking personal power.

Polish President Does Not Believe U.S. a Bad and Greedy Imperialist

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Warsaw, Sept. 13 (AP) —President Boleszaw Beirut of Poland is one Communist who does not continually talk like a Pravda editorial.

In the course of an hour's interview he indicated he did not believe the United States was a bad and greedy imperialist. Instead he volunteered this statement:

"We wish that every American citizen could be informed of the reality of developments here and of the sympathy that the Polish people feel for the American people. In the past, there have always been very good relations between our nations. There is no reason now for discord between us."

The president is a dreamer, but his dreams have had a knack of coming true.

In a shabby hotel room of wartime Moscow, Beirut helped in 1944 shape the politco-economic foundations of the Poland about to be liberated from the Germans.

Before they happened, he blue-printed the Oder-Neisse frontier that would be gained in the west, the Coalition goverment that would initiate measures of state socialism, and Poland's eager bid to become a strong industrial and maritime power.

Three years later, within the while elegance of Belvedere Palace beside the Vistula, he smiles over the progress to date and remarks: "The people did it, not I."

Few Have Picture

The 54-year-old president is the most unobtrusive chief of state in Europe. Most shops and homes in Warsaw have a red-and-white engraving of an eagle —the national symbol—hanging on the wall, but few have a picture of Bierut.

He looks like a real-life image of Mr. Average Man or John Q. Public. He is short, mild in manner, wears dark-grey suits and no jewelry, and is a widower with three children whom he has encouraged to study the English language.

"Our agricultural system has very great prospects," he said. "We have actually increased the importance of private ownership in this field by dividing big estates among the peasants. There are many more private owners than before.

"The efforts of the government will be toward raising the technical proficiency of all these small farmers, seeing that industry assists them with tools and fertilizers spreading a knowledge of agronomic science among them, and helping them to expand their animal husbandry.

"Within the nearest years ahead, Poland should have surpluses from which to supply other countries with our Agricultural products. Even now we are organizing an export of eggs and poultry to England."

I asked Bierut what was Poland's attitude toward defeated Germany. He said:

"I think it would be unjust and illogical to decide that other countries should engage in the reconstruction of Germany before they reconstruct themselves."

300 CHICKENS LOST IN FIRE

Dundalk, Sept. 15 — (CP) — The meat shortage was further aggravated as more than 300 four-months-old chickens were roasted alive when fire of undetermined origin destroyed the barn of Neil McLean, Southampton. Spontaneous combustion in the hay-filled barn was blamed.

SHOT AFTER PARTY

Cecil James Hemmings, 44, of Welland, Ont., who was fatally wounded after a drinking party at Maple, Ont. His body was found slumped on the floor in kitchen of the cottage. Police are inclined to believe shooting was accidental.

$30,000 FIRE

St. Sauveur, Que., Sept. 13 (CP) —Fire yesterday destroyed the Simmonds Products Factory here causing damage estimated at $50,000. No one was listed in the blaze which gutted the entire premises including the dwelling of the proprietor, A. Filion, who lived in an apartment on the second storey. Of undertermined origin, the fire gained a swift foothold and urged by a strong wind swept the building before firemen arrived at the scene.

Dominion's Future in World Trade Will Crystalize by Nov.

By The Ottawa Bureau of The Canadian Press

Ottawa, Sept 15 (CP)—By mid-November the Canadian government is expected to have a good picture of the Dominion's future in the world of trade.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner now is overseas discussing food contracts with the United Kingdom and his report to the government will form one part of the picture.

Finance Minister Abbott is in London attending sessions of the International Bank and the International Monetary Fund. While there he is expected to confer with British officials on their future plans and likely will bring back to the cabinet another part of the picture.

Trade Minister MacKinnon is leaving this week on a trade mission tour that will bring him to South Africa, parts of Europe and the United Kingdom. He also is due to confer with British trade officials and likely will have a report to make to the cabinet.

Coupled with these reports will be the report of the Canadian delegation to the International Trade Organization Conference in Geneva. The delegation is expected to return next month and report on the efforts made since last April to bring about a lowering of world trade barriers.

From the other side of the world, the cabinet will receive the report of Defence Minister Claxton who represented Canada at the recent Commonwealth conference on Japanese peace terms.

While Mr. Claxton was mainly concerned with the peace conference and with military matters, it was believed here that he would not overlook important trade matters.

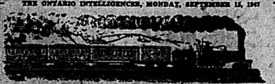
What Mr. Claxton reports may be discussed in conjunction with a report Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, former Canadian army commander, now is preparing on the views of a recent trade mission to Japan.

It is possible the report may recommend the extension of credits, by government or by private industry, to Japan during her reconstruction period.

While all the reports likely will be available before Prime Minister King leaves for Princess Elizabeth's wedding Nov 20, they may not be acted upon until his return.

There have been rumors that a conference of Empire prime ministers might be held in London at the time of the wedding, but Canadian officials have said that they have so far received no indications of such a conference.

However, observers in close touch with political affairs believe that when all government travellers abroad are heard from the cabinet will have possibly a better picture than ever of the country's future in world trade, and be in a position to act accordingly.



MONTREAL'S FIRST TRAIN, operated by the Montreal and Lachine Rail Road in 1847, is pictured in this engraving by a contemporary artist. Special ceremonies at Montreal and Lachine on September 18 will mark the 100th anniversary of the event. It is a far cry from the ornate little passenger carriages of a century ago to the smooth-riding air-conditioned cars of present-day railroading, from the primitive woodburners to the giant locomotives, from the eight-mile railroad to the 24,000 miles of the Canadian National system into which it grew.

PREPARE FOR CONFERENCE.

Tokyo, Sept. 13 (AP)—Premier Tetsu Katayama told a foreign press conference today Japan is making "every preparation" for the peace conference. He expressed hope all of the Allied powers would attend.

Katayama explained later that preparations meant intensive efforts to "speed democratization" of the country which he said is facing an improved food situation for the next few months due to Allied headquarters' releases of imports.

Game Wardens Report Advance Guard of Caribou

The Pas, Man., Sept. 13 (CP)—Game guardians in Northern Manitoba reported today that the advance guard of the Barren Lands caribou herd is moving south toward the Winter feeding grounds.

They said the animals, sleek and fat from what apparently was good summer pastures, are trekking across the Hudson Bay Railway toward the Oxford House area, 240 miles east and slightly north of here.

Indians were reported jubilant over the excellent condition of the caribou, their chief meat source.

Woman Pushes Swamped Boat in Rough Water, Saves Five WINS DOW AWARD

Mrs. HAROLD WOHLBERG OF KEATLEY, SASK.
collapses after heroic rescue

In addition to Mrs. Wohlberg, there were five in the boat. Two women and three children. Only Mrs. Wohlberg could swim. A sudden squall on the lake, which is southeast of North Battleford, churned up the water and made rowing difficult.

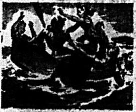
BOAT CAPSIZES

The waves were too much for the frail craft . . . and in a few seconds the boat had heaved over, filling with water and leaving its occupants floundering. Mrs. Wohlberg ordered the two women to hold onto the boat . . . and then pulled the children aboard. But once again the boat was swamped, and Mrs. Wohlberg desperately tried to repeat the procedure.

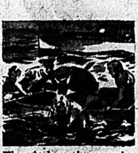
TAKES TO THE WATER

Realizing that the situation was not improving, the gallant woman placed one child on her back, lowered herself into the water and began to push the boat, with its frantic occupants, towards shore. When rescue craft finally appeared and took the others aboard, Mrs. Wohlberg collapsed and had to be carried into one of the boats.

For her almost unbelievable courage and determination, we are proud to pay tribute to Mrs. Harold Wohlberg of Keatley, Sask., through the presentation of The Dow Award.



As the flimsy craft capsized, Mrs. Wohlberg braced herself for an ordeal. She knew that, of the six, she was the only one who could swim. Quickly, she took charge.



When other boats at last appeared on the scene, Mrs. Wohlberg, who had been pushing the almost submerged boat, collapsed . . . and had to be carried to safety.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation for outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. Winners are selected by the Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian daily newspapers.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Avoid a finesse with great prudence unless no better play offers a chance for success. With two such to choose from, a wise man selects the one that may save him from taking the next.

South was declarer at four spades in this deal:

NORTH
♠J 9 8 4 2
♥8 5 3 2
♦A Q
♣Q 7

WEST
♠10 5
♥K Q J 9
♦9 6 5
♣K 9 5 4

EAST
♠6
♥A 7 6
♦K J 10 8 4
♣J 10 8 3

SOUTH
♠A K Q 7 3
♥10 4
♦7 3 2
♣A 6 2

The opening lead from west was the heart king. After opponents took two heart tricks, south ruffed the third lead of that suit. Now he must decide how the contract can be made.

He must not lose more than one more trick. There is one sure loser in clubs and a possible loser in diamonds. Is there any good chance of saving one? Study the two minor suits.

A finesse may be tried in diamonds. But if it fails, there goes the old ball game. Because the second round of clubs must be lost in any play the opponents correctly defend.

So, what does the club suit offer? Take a look. A dummy small club or the queen may be led toward south. Or a small club may come from south toward the dummy queen. Does either hold any promise?

Suppose queen is led from dummy. If west has the king, it is sure to be a goner. If east has the king, he will cover. The south ace will win it. But opponents will have the good jack and ten.

What happens if a small south club is led toward dummy queen? If east has the king, the queen is lost. The diamond finesse must then be tried as a last resort. But see how it works out here.

West has the king of clubs. If he plays small, no club loser is there. If he goes with the king, lose nothing more. Trump in south his return of a heart. Or win with dummy ace his return of a diamond.

Trick now with dummy club queen. Enter south to lead club ace. On this stuff dummy diamond queen and save need of a losing finesse.

AT THE BELLE — In a reflective mood during a masterful interlude at the piano, Oscar Levant briefly abandons his cynical and witty manner for a scene in Fannie Hurst's celebrated story, 'Humoresque,' the Joan Crawford, John Garfield starring film, arriving today at the Belle Theatre.

The Movie Column

By ARMAND ARCHERD

Hollywood, Sept. 15 (AP) — Unlike Messrs. Jolson and Cantor Jimmy Durante has turned down an offer to have his life recorded on film. Strangely the offer came from RKO, and not Jimmy's bosses at MGM.

"Maybe, I'd like to do it in five years," Durante said, "but if they did it now, I'd be finished." He neglected to say who could play the leading role if the film were made.

Miscellany

Esther Williams joins a group of San Francisco fashion experts on a trip to Paris next month. Although Esther is well-liked in France, the Frenchmen may not be so happy about this visit. The little troupe will model clothes in direct opposition to the long-skirt, tight-waist-movement ... Clark Gable fans who have been yelling for more action films for him, will have their wish. After "Angel's Flight" he will do "Command Decision," a story of the 8th Air Force. There is also plenty of action in his present film, "Home-Coming." I watched a scene which depicted an evacuation hospital at Anzio Beach. The studio reproduction of those terrible days, Jan. 21-22, 1944, will be action enough for anyone —too much, I fear for some.

Long Distance Romance

Lana Turner receives postcards from Tyrone Power regularly. Her travelling boy friend now is in Capetown, South Africa. And Lana kids: "He'd better bring back a 30-carat diamond." ... Keenan Wynn is trying to un-sell Frank Sinatra on flying. "Unsafe," says Keenan, "Why don't you take up motorcycles?"...

Tom Drake's role in "Hills of Home" will remind many of "The Green Years." In addition to speak with a Scottish accent ... Garry Moore is confident men will fight a shorter-length trouser movement with more vehemence than the gals are battling the long skirts. "What man," Garry asks, "wants to brush and comb his shins before he goes out in the morning?"

Junior Farmers Present Tray To Harry Burns

At a joint dance of the Sidney Junior Farmers and the Sidney Softball League on Thursday evening, September 11th, two events of interest took place. The first was the presentation of the cup by Mr. Burns to the Wallbridge team who were the winners of the Sidney Softball League. The second, which was possibly of more interest to all juniors in Hastings County, was the presentation of a silver tray by Mr. Dave Fargey, President of the Hastings County Junior Farmers' Association, on behalf of all the Hastings Juniors to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burns. Mr. Fargey expressed the sentiments of all the Juniors when he stated that they regretted having Mr. Burns leave the county but at the same time wished both Mr. and Mrs. Burns every success and happiness in their new work.

The remainder of the evening was enjoyed by all in modern and old-time dancing.

Little Benny's Note Book

There was a new tablecloth on the breakfist table this morning having big red and green flowers all over it and looking like a perfect tablecloth to hide stains if you were lucky enough to match the stains with the flowers, and ma said to pop, I hope you like the new breakfist cloth, William. I got 3 of them and I certainly went through thick and thin to get them, she said.

Do you mean you got cawt in a bargain rush? pop said, and ma said, It was werse than a rush, it was a merciless riot. They're factory closeouts and Hookbinders had a special sale of them. I dont know how I ever got to the counter alive, but I think it was werth the effort, dont you, William, she said.

It may seem werth it to a woman, but to a man nothing would be werth the shoving, scroughing and jabbing of a bargain counter, pop said. Men have a certain gift of filosophical reasoning to ballance their sense of values, he said, and ma said, Do you remember the ferst time you ever saw me?

Well, that's rather a romantic change of subject but I remember very well, pop said. You were wearing a pink organdie with fluted inserts he said, and ma said, I was wearing nothing of the sort and I doubt there even is sutch a thing. But you were wearing a loose tooth and a bandaged knee. In other werds you had been delibritly engaging in that gassly exhibition of mob rule known as football, without even a useless silver cup to reward you, mutch less a bewtiful flowered breakfist cloth, so now what have you got to say? she said.

Meerly that I was one of the greatest halfbacks in college history, pop said, and ma said, You were lucky you came out of it with half a back to tell the tail.

And she laffed at her own joke, being the only one that did except me.

SAYAJIRAO WINS ST. LEGER FOR THE MAHARAJAH

Defeats Heavily - Backed Arbar in St. Leger Handicap

By MICHAEL O'HARA
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Doncaster, Yorks, England, Sept. 15 (CP) — Sayajirao, three-year-old colt for which Maharajah Geekwar of Baroda paid 28,000 guineas as a yearling, paid for his oats Saturday with a head victory over France's heavily backed Arbar in one of the most thrilling runnings in the 170-year history of the St. Leger.

The horse, which experts said just wasn't worth all that money even the fabulously wealthy Indian potentate, finally fulfilled the promise it had shown in running third in the Epsom Derby when it outfooted three other top-flight colts in an epic stretch battle and then outstayed the fast-finishing Arbar.

The crowd's four choices — the favorite Migoli, derby victor, Pearl Diver, Sayajirao and Arbar — were dead in line abreast four furlongs from home after the seven other starters had been outclassed during the first 1 1-4 miles. Roar on roar rose from the crowd, estimated at more than 100,000, as first one then another poked its nose in front.

Pearl Diver was the first to quit. Three furlongs from home he just suddenly seemed to start moving backwards.

Another furlong along, Migoli —who had edged Sayajirao out of second place in the Derby — also had had enough and drifted back from the two leaders.

Arbar and Sayajirao now were out alone with the latter a shade in front and both jockeys plying the whip furiously. Twice the Frenchman managed to get the tip of his straining head in front and twice the Indian owned beauty regained the lead — then just under the wire the Indian horse opened up a narrow, but decisive margin Migoli was third Pearl Diver fourth and the rest nowhere.

Auction Sale Fever Attacks Newspapermen

When two well-known newspapermen like Greg Clark and Jim Frise get bitten by the auction bug, it's time for Mr. Average Man to hang on to his purse. Not long ago, Jim, after a great deal of difficulty, sold Greg on the idea of attending an important sale just for the fun of it. Greg was having none of it. In the first place, he opined, auction sales were a racket, and auctioneers were super-salesmen who could wheedle wampum out of a cigar store Indian. In the second place, he'd sooner go to a movie. After much persuasion, Greg grudgingly consented to go along. The events that lead up to the point where they find themselves frantically bidding against each other makes hilarious reading in The Standard this week. Read this latest Greg-Jim episode in The Standard — on sale at any newsdealer's for 10 cents.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.

New York, Sept. 15—You'll be hearing more than ever about the "T" formation in United States football this season and there's a strong suspicion that some American coaches will be springing fancy variations now that they all know the standard procedure . . . In fact there's been a persistent rumor that George Halas, whose Chicago Bears are largely responsible for its popularity, plans to pull a few switches, and Marquette's Frank Murray is reliably reported to have spent the time while he was in the hospital last spring cooking up variations of the standard "T" plays... If the boys get mixed up and run backwards some time, Frank likely will call it his 103 degrees delerium special.

Syracuse Chiefs, Buffalo Bisons Meet in Finals

Syracuse, N.Y., Sept. 15 (AP) — The final round of the International League's Governor's Cup playoffs opens here tonight and the best-of-seven series between Buffalo Bisons and Syracuse Chiefs shapes up as one of the best in recent years.

Both the Chiefs and Bisons, who finished third and fourth in that order during the regular season, knocked off the runner-up Montreal Royals and the pennant-winning Jersey City Giants in four straight games respectively.

Manager Jewels Ens was nominated southpaw ace Jim Prendergast, the circuit's one 20-game winner, to hurl the opener for the Chiefs while mentor Paul Richards has selected right-hander Hank Perry (13-10) to to pitch for the Bisons.

The second game of the series will be played here tomorrow night with the teams then shifting to Buffalo for the next three games. The final two will be held at Syracuse if necessary.

Crosthwaite, Frank Bathgate and Laurie Thompson.

CANADIAN SPORT SNAPSHOTS

By SYD THOMAS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Montreal, Sept. 15 — (CP) — Death, to one of Canada's old-time sprinters last week, when Jimmy Humphrey was found dead in his parked car in suburban Outremont. And Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson stops to pay kindly tribute to the man from Moncton, N. B., whom he terms "one of the potentially great sprinters of all time in this Dominion."

Slumped over the wheel of his car, Humphrey left his life at the age of 71 and still, as Fergie says, a model athlete who never drank nor smoked.

"Perhaps it was because Jimmy Humphrey was our greatest boyhood idol," says Fergie, "that we rate him so highly. Or perhaps it's because Jimmy Humphrey was better than 10-second sprinter, on sheer natural ability, for he never enjoyed any of the training advantages which come the way of athletes today."

" . . . Certainly no one ever taught him the intricacies of style of shoulder swing, hip movement, all the other fine points of great modern sprinters. Coaches hadn't been heard of — not in Moncton.

"In his last race he beat Saint John's colored flyer, Elbridge Eastman, running 100 yards in the then unbelievable time of 9 3/5 seconds . . . Eastman a few days before had beaten the mighty Tom Keane, rated the greatest of all professional sprinters in that era. And from there, Eastman went to Scotland to win the famous Powderhall Handicap. So Humphrey, off that time and comparison, and under those conditions, must have been one of the greatest natural runners Canada ever knew."

That was Jimmy Humphrey, who was born and raised in the railway hub of the Maritimes but who had lived the past quarter century in Montreal, virtually unremembered by all except the oldest of the sport fans who had seen him in action in the heyday of a career set in the staging of an era when athletes of the cinder tracks hadn't the encouragement and recognition they since have achieved.

Bobby Locke of South Africa repeated his earlier defeat of Vancouver professional Stan Leonard at Victoria Sunday when he edged the Marine Drive pro by one stroke in an exhibition match at Victoria. Locke shot a three under par 67 while Leonard marked up 68. The South African beat Leonard last week at Vancouver.

Brooklyn Dodgers have announced the purchase of two leading pitchers from their farm system — Jack Banta of Montreal in the International League and Willard Ramsdell from Fort Worth in the Texas League. A Dodger official said it was likely the pitchers would be called for immediate service in the National League team if their clubs are eliminated in playoffs.

Two former players with Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League are candidates for coach with the Houston, Tex., Club of the United States Hockey League. They are Leo Lamoureux, star defenceman, and Mike McMahon, a defence player.

Simcoe Veterans have been eliminated from intermediate B play in the Ontario Amateur Softball Association by Port Colborne Monarchs. Ports took their zone title from the Vets by an 11-9 score Saturday at Simcoe in the third and deciding game of the round.

A new United States amateur golf champion was crowned at Pebble Beach, Calif., Saturday, when Robert Riegel of Monterey Park defeated fellow-Californian Johnny Dawson 2 and 1 in the 36-hole finals.

Visiting Teams Win All But One Game in Six Weekend Football Matches

Argos Go Down to Second Loss When Whipped by Alouettes 15-7

By JACK MITCHELL
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

It was "visitors' day" in Eastern Canada football circles Saturday, with the traditional homesters' advantage holding up only in the west when Calgary Stampeders turned in their initial 1947 victory.

One of five home teams in the east to fall before the invaders, the Dominion Champion Toronto Argonauts went down to their second loss in as many starts when Montreal Alouettes whipped them 15-7.

In other Interprovincial Union game at Hamilton, the expected fiasco over Frankie Filchock fizzled out. There was nary a hint of protest from Ottawa Rough Riders as the Tigers played the big backfielder, under suspension in United States professional ranks for alleged failure to report a bribe offer.

But maybe it would have been different if Ottawa hadn't beaten the Tigers, Filchock and all, 8-2, for their second straight victory to maintain the league leadership, two points ahead of Alouettes, who have played only one game.

Toronto Indians kept on top of the venerable Ontario Union with two victories and a tie when they edged the Trojans at Ottawa 12-11.

The League's two unbeaten and untied teams— Toronto Balmy Beach and Hamilton Wildcats— racked up their second straight victories, the Beach whipping the Rockets 20-11, at Windsor and Wildcats overwhelming the Imperials 24-9, at Sarnia. Each has played a game less than Indians.

Calgary Wins at Home

In the Western Canada League, the Stampeders became the only Club to please their home fans by fighting off Saskatchwan Rough Riders, 16-11, at Calgary. Idle meanwhile, Winnipeg Blue Bombers kept the league leadership with their two victories, with Stampders holding second on their one-and-one record and Roughriders trailing with two losses.

In Toronto, a shirt-sleeved crowd of some 13,000 watched Argos pile up a 7-0 lead over Alouettes, then repeat their fade-out of the previous Saturday when they bowed 23-6, to Ottawa. The Aloutties burst out with 15 points in a third-quarter spree and held the champions scoreless in the final quarter.

Tommy Cates, a lean halfback from the University of Minnesota, pitched touchdown passes to Virgil Wagner and Joey Richman to pace the Alouettes. Burly Ches McCance kicked a placement and a convert and Dave Greenberg booted a convert. For Argos, Doug Pyzer scored the touchdown and Joe Krol converted and kicked a single.

Filchock played a good all-around game—nothing sensational—for the Tigers but his passing from the quarterback slot wasn't enough to upset the powerful Rough Riders.

Big Four President Doug Chillman indicated the League might call a meeting early this week to settle the status of Filchock, whose presence in the lineup meant Hamilton would automatically forfeit every game, the league executive ruled previously.

"Lefty" Jordan, newly appointed trainer of the Rockets, who did a similar job for the Fort Worth team last year. "Lefty" is a gentleman who knows his training "onions" and right now he is busy getting ready for his flock of rookies and regulars who will go into training this week as soon as ice is available.

BOSTON BRAVES PROTEST SALE OF TWO HURLERS

Syracuse Chiefs Buy Pair From Watertown Club of Border League

Boston Sept 15 (AP) —Boston Braves of the National League tonight protested the sale of two pitchers to Syracuse Chiefs by the Border League's Watertown Club.

Harry Jenkins, director of the Braves' farm-system, said that he protested the sale to George Trautman, President of the National Association of minor league baseball clubs, and that Trautman said he would investigate.

But the Braves and the International League Club, Chiefs, Saturday anounced the purchase of left-handed pitchers Frank Fanovich and Richard Libby from Watertown.

A checkup revealed that Leo T. Miller, president of the Chiefs had completed the deal with James F. Doyle, president of Watertown Athletics, late Saturday afternoon and that papers were signed.

Jenkins who had an option on the two pitchers until Monday said last night that first word of the Watertown-to-Syracuse deal came to him through a scout.

The Braves farm chief said that he agreed on terms for the purchase with Doyle Saturday afternoon by telephone, that he had sent a confirming wire to Doyle, but that he had receive no reply.

DODGERS' TWIN WIN VIRTUALLY CLINCHES FLAG

Brooklyn Now Has Seven-Game Lead After Weekend Tussels

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

It's all over but the shouting. If Brooklyn blows the National League pennant now, every member of the Dodgers, including manager Burt Shotton, ought to undergo a saliva test.

The crushing blow to the Cardinals' fast-fading flag hopes was delivered by remote control yesterday when the rampaging Brooks routed the Reds twice in a Cincinnati doubleheader 13-2 and 6-3 while the Cards were trampled 9-1 by New York Giants.

As a result, the Dodgers increased their margin over the Cards 1 1-2 games and now lead by seven full games.

Already "in" were New York Yankees in the American League. Following their 6-4 victory over St. Louis Browns, the worst the Bronx bombers can get now is a tie. One more win or Boston defeat would end all mathematical chance for Boston.

Yesterday's Boston-Chicago twin bill was rained out after seven innings of the first game with the score tied at 1-1.

Senators Walloped Twice

Detroit Tigers walloped the Senators twice in Washington 16-6 and 8-4 to move past the Red Sox into second place. The fifth-place Athletics moved within 2 1-2 games of fourth-place Cleveland by defeating the Indians 11-9 in the first game of a doubleheader. The second game which ended in a 4-4 tie, was halted after nine innings by the Pennsylvania Sunday curfew law.

The third-place Boston Braves in the National League split a doubleheader with Chicago Cubs. Lefty Warren Spahn pitched a 1-0 triumph for the Braves in the opener, but Johnny Schmitz chucked a 6-1 eight-hit victory for the Cubs in the second game.

Philadelphia Phils vacated the cellar to make room for Pittsburgh as they dumped the Pirates 7-3 and 9-7.

Joe Hatten was credited with both Dodger wins over the Reds. They were No. 15 and 16 for the southpaw. Hatten went all the way to space seven hits in the opener as the Brooks pounded three Red flingers for 16 bingles. In the nightcap he came to the mound in the fourth inning, snuffed out a rally and pitched one-hit ball the rest of the way.

MIMICO THREE GAMES UP

St. Catharines, Sept. 15 (CP)—Mimico Mountaineers won their third straight game in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior series with St. Catharines 10-7, here Saturday night before more than 3,500 fans.

To stay in the running for the Cann Cup honors they captured last year the Athletics face the task of winning the last four games of the best-of-seven series..

It was a battle of goal tenders with Ray Mortimer for the winners and Bill Whitaker for St. Kitts, making several spectacular saves. Checking cost the Athletics two penalties, which resulted in the opposition scoring twice when players were benched.

Gaelic Football Seen As No Threat to U.S.

By SID FEDER

New York, Sept. 15 (AP) — The Irish World Series, the all-Ireland Gaelic Football championship, was played in the United States yesterday for the first time in history, and it is reasonably certain to state that both American football and baseball are safe from extinction.

This is not taking a thing away from Gaelic football, nor from the way Cavan got up off the floor after being behind 10-2 in the early minutes, to dethrone County Kerry and take the title 17-13.

But for Americans who like baseball or football, there's not enough of either in the Gaelic game to have much fun.

In this scramble you bat the ball with your hand, and while it has enough body-contact to raise lumps on most of the booters before it's over, there's nothing like the bone-crushing line charge of United States football teams who, when they smack into the other guys, leave no room for doubt about what mayhem is on their minds.

It's a lot like soccer, this Gaelic gambol, with a touch of ice hockey in the way it goes up and down the field for minutes on end with nothing happening except a lot of guys wearing out a lot of shoe-leather.

And there's a touch, too, of wrestling in it. Not that pro wrestlers would go for this Gaelic game. It is an all-out play-for-keeps-only brawl. But whenever a player gets clouted and falls down, he makes with the grimaces and the writhing and all the antics that put the grapplers among the dramatic, rather than the sports, set.

The Irish call the field the "pitch," and when the players parade out behind the skirling pipes of an Irish band at the start of the game, they said they were "marching around the pitch." The New York Giant manager, Mel Ott, will no doubt want to investigate this inasmuch as it was practically the first honest-to-gosh pitch the Polo Grounds have seen all year.

Incidentally, there were some 35,000 customers sitting in on the show yesterday. No gate receipts were anounced, but the guesses were that the take ran better than $50,000. This will buy quite a pile of potatoes, back in Ireland.

OIL MORE VALUABLE

Persia, famous in earlier days for its fine carpets and artistic products, relies today for considerable revenue on oil reserves.

Jack Kramer Beats Parker In Five Sets

New York, Sept, 15 — (AP)— Having escaped the lightning twice within two days, young Jack Kramer of Los Angeles has nothing more to worry about except which to choose of several rival tennis promoters who have been bidding for his professional services.

He finished cleaning up his amateur business yesterday when he survived two poor opening sets and came on to beat Frankie Parker in the final of the National championship at Forest Hills by 4-6, 2-6, 6-1, 6-0, 6-3.

He will play as an amateur in the Pacific Southwest tournament at Los Angeles starting Sept. 25, but that one really doesn't count.

After finishing off Parker, Kramer said last night he was torn between several offers for his services on a world tour. Someone connected with Bing Crosby is reported to have "guaranteed" Kramer $100,000 earnings within a year. Jack Harris of Chicago is believed to have the inside track, though, and it is about an even bet that Kramer and professional champion Bobby Riggs will start beating the bushes under his auspices around Jan. 1.

Sitting on top of the amateur pile with Kramer was husky Louise Brought of Beverly Hills, Cal. She captured the women's crown by defeating Margaret Osborne of San Francisco 8-6, 4-6, 6-1, in their final. Later she teamed with John Bromwich of Australia to win the mixed doubles, beating Pancho Segur of Ecuador and Gertrude Moran of Santa Monica, Calif., 6-3, 6-1.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor.

The Philadelphia Rockets of the American Hockey League chafed on their figurative bits here today as Memorial Arena officials rushed ice-making operations in the new ice plant.

* * *

Operatives are working 24 hours daily in an effort to produce a surface and their work is being delayed by unseasonable warm weather. The temperature here over the weekend hovered between 74 and 80 degrees.

* * *

Business Manager Max Kaminski, Coach Wally Kilrea and Trainer "Lefty" Jordan arrived here on Friday and established head quarters in the New Queen's Hotel. At least thirty young budding aspirants who will fight for a place on the squad arrived over the weekend together with a large number of the regulars of last year., and other American League puckists acquired through purchase or deals. Some of the veterans of the squad are not expected to report until the end of this week.

* * *

Regulars of the squad who reported over the weekend are Jack Portland, former Montreal Canadien with Buffalo last year; Kenny Kilrea up from Fort Worth; Al Shewchuk; Billy Walsh; Fred Ferrens; Sid Lovelace, with San Francisco last year; Joe Delmonte, from Los Angeles. George DeFelice also from San Francisco and Bill Natchuk.

* * *

The rookies, according to Coach Kilrea, look like a promising lot of youngsters, who hail from all parts of Ontario from as far west as Fort William. A young Toronto goal keeper will vie for the net position with veterans of a year ago. According to Scout Fred Cox, the youngster has exceptional promise.

* * *

Jack Portland, Kenny Kilrea and two other Rockets availed themselves of the Bay of Quinte Country Club golf links on Sunday and shot 36 holes as part of the pre-season training grind as well as personal enjoyment of the game. Several others availed themselves of the Y.M.C.A. facilities, while others "did the town" on sight-seeing tours.

* * *

Coach Kilrea is not fooling. A special training table has been set up in the Queen's Hotel where the boys do their digesting, and a rigid training schedule will be adhered to. There'll be a curfew established later on, and this edict, too, will be rigidly enforced.

* * *

Walt Gerow Jr. and other local hockey stars will be given the opportunity to try out with the team, as will any other prospects in the districts. "We believe in giving the boys a fair chance to prove their ability, before letting them go," Coach Kilrea said last night. "We'll give them a chance to find their legs and get over any nervousness before a final decision is made."

* * *

Baseball hereabouts next week is exclusively centred on Wednesday evening and night. In the evening the Napanee nine takes on the Port Hope squad in the second game of their Intermediate "B" series at Gibbardville, and in a desperate effort will try to even the series. The Port Hopers defeated them 1-0 in a heart-breaking game the other day and the Killoran gang think they can take the measure of the Hopers. Game starts around 4.30 p.m.

* * *

The Peterborough Intermediate "A's" took the Toronto Hodgsons into camp in Peterborough on Saturday afternoon defeating them by a 5-1 score. That means that the Petes team will open the second round of the playdowns against Batawa and according to Art Duncan, Batawa sports impresario, the first game will be played under the lights here on Wednesday night with the curtain rising at 8.30. The Petes boast a strong aggregation and should afford some tough opposition for Bill Easton's crew.

* * *

The proposed Belleville District Hockey League is rapidly gaining popularity. Walt Gerow Sr., has received applications from Cobourg and Oshawa, and recent advices state that Peterborough would welcome a chance to enter. The matter will be taken up in the immediate future. In the meantime Lorne Cook, secretary of the Kingston Senior Hockey League, has forwarded an invitation to a Belleville squad to enter that loop. The letter arrived at this desk and will be forwarded to those in charge of the intermediate squad.

* * *

While we do not mean to throw cold water on the scheme, it is extremely doubtful if this village enters a squad in the Limestone Loop. We have, or expect to have, artificial ice of our own and with the prospect for a District Hockey League hereabouts looming brighter every day, it is hardly expected that the master-minds here will consider an entry in the Kingston set-up. However, stranger things have happened.

* * *

Tonight the Point Anne Leafs trek to Cobourg where they clash with the Oshawa Legion in the third game of their Intermediate O.A.S.A. "A" series. Both teams have copped a win and tonight tells the story. Boyle will likely face McConkey again, after Halloran lost a toughie in Oshawa the other night.

* * *

Eyewitnesses swear this story is true. "S'welp me," they cry, "we saw it — and it's the truth."

* * *

It seems that a gentleman from South of the Border, who dabs a bit in medicine between fishing trips to Canada, arrived in town with a decided yen to lure the piscatorial beauties from their nautical lairs.

* * *

So, armed with his trusty fishing rod, a bevy of minnows, a few nips of tonsil water, he hied himself after procuring a boat from the Tisdale Canoe and Launch Emporium, which caters to the fishing fraternity who have no craft of their own, and betook himself, a lone Isaak Walton, to the bay. He heaved anchor off the former site of the local leaning Tower of Pisa, lighthouse to youse guys and gals, and settled down to a lazy afternoon's sport.

* * *

But he wasn't there long. Striking his bait like a bolt of greased lightning, something nearly tore the pole from his hands.

* * *

He played the fish for an hour or so. At that time the struggle was even. Came the second round and both contestants came out fighting. The evening shadows fell athwart the boat. The sun slowly sank over the Bay Bridge, but still the stern battle to the death went on.

* * *

Later, the fish gave up the figurative ghost. Slowly it was hauled to the boat where the fisherman, with a mighty heave, tossed it in the craft.

* * *

He rowed to the shore and showed his catch to surprised spectators. It was a large-mouth bass and tipped the scales at 9 pounds one ounce.

* * *

That is the story as told us. "S'welp me, it's true," onlookers swear.

COBB TRAVELS FASTEST PACE EVER ATTAINED

Sends Racer Over Mile Course at 370.75 M.P.H., but Unable to Make Return Run

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, Sept. 15 (AP)—John Cobb sent his 7,700 pound racing automobile across the measured mile on this speedway yesterday at a faster pace than ever attained on land before, but bad luck continued to dog him and prevented the return run required for recognition of a world record.

He later announced he will make a new attempt Tuesday.

The Londoner sent his 24-cylinder Behemoth over the mile at 370.75 miles an hour compared with his own 1939 record of 368.9 and over the kilometre course at 375.32, fastest speed ever attained by man except in the air. A kilometre is about five eights of a mile.

After the cloud of salt driven up by the 28-foot snub-nosed vehicle settled following the north-to-south run, Cobb returned to the timers' stand in the middle of the measured mile and reported that a "gaping hole" had been torn in the body and the south-to-north run would not be made.

Vibration from numerous tests apparently weakened the aluminum body, and the tremendous speed across the billiard—table surface of this old lake bed caused the metal to tear, he told a reporter. It was "useless to attempt a return run with the car damaged," he announced by public address system to the several thousand spectators

Later, inspection by mechanics showed that the hole had been torn in the metal sheet beneath the removable body, loosening some of the fastenings which hold the curved body to the frame. The tank holding the ice by which the two giant engines are cooled also sprang a leak.

American automobile Association rules require speed drivers to make runs in two directions within one hour.

13-YEAR RECORD FALLS

New York, Sept. 15 — (AP) — A 13-year-old record fell yesterday as Joe Van Blerch, Jr., of Freeport, N. Y., drove his powerboat Aljo V to victory in the Harwood Trophy race around Manhattan Island in 39 minutes, seven seconds.

Van Blerch averaged 44.5 miles an hour in the 30-mile jaunt over the Hudson, Harlem and East Rivers to wipe out the record set by movie actor Keenan Wynn when he averaged 43.25 in winning the 1934 "driftwood derby."

Only 18 of the 27 starters crossed the finish line and one of them was disqualified for drifting across without power.

Girl Loved By Two Men

In the centre of beautiful Derbyshire is a large farm, typical of the smaller estates to be found in this part of rural England. Here it is that R. Cameron Ward has fixed the setting for his latest novel — Green Fields Beyond. Into this tender love story the author's passion for the land can be readily sensed. All who share it will thrill to the lure of the countryside — will appreciate the strength and sincerity of both description and characterisations. Two men are deeply in love with the heroine, a girl any man would give much to meet. The minor characters are real, living people. The author's wit, charm and originality will hold you to the end. The Nickel refinery at Port Colborne is the second largest consumer of electric power in all Canada. Large blocks of power for Nickel mining and smelting in the Sudbury area are obtained from six different generating plants in Northern Ontario. Electrical supplies to the value of more than half a million dollars yearly are purchased by the Canadian Nickel industry.

And all through the electrical industry, Nickel and its alloys bring greater efficiency. In huge valves in hydro-electrical plants Nickel increases resistance to wear; in pole line hardware it gives strength; in heating elements Nickel is strong at high temperatures; in precision instruments Nickel provides special magnetic or non-magnetic properties.

So the Canadian Nickel worker produces the nickel needed by the electrical industry; the electrical worker generates the power and builds the electrical equipment required by the Nickel industry. Each and every industry in this country creates employment in other industries. No matter how we earn a living, we are all one family, depending on each other.

"The Romance of Nickel" a 60-page book fully illustrated, will be sent free on request to anyone interested.

About 3 million pounds of Canadian Nickel are used each year in the manufacture of heating elements for electric ranges.

The Death of a Doll

By Hilda Lawrence

CHAPTER 13

"Certainly. As far as we're concerned, the situation is clear, unfortunate, and finished." She stood up and walked to the door. He followed. "Good night," she said. She added, "My compliments to Mrs. Sutton."

For a long time the elderly maid, Agnes, knelt on the bare floor of the second floor packroom, looking at what she held in her hand. The black-fringed, empty eyes looked back, the rosebud mouth curled in a crooked smile, the bright wool hair was covered with dust and cobwebs. Now what in the world, she asked herself. Now what in the living world—

She reached again into the corner where she had found the mask and drew forth the dress. It was wadded in a ball, and she shook it out, muttering. "Supposed to be turned in with the others to be stored away proper in case of future need, although I doubt if anybody'd want to put one on again." She upbraided the late wearer. "Not even folded, not even wrapped up, pushing back in the corner like it wasn't meant to be found. She smoothed the mask and folded it, and began on the dress. Sleeves turned in, doubled over at the waist, hem—

She carried the dress over to the light. There was a spot on the hem—at least, there had been a spot once. Now there was a blistered, brownish stain that somebody had tried to wash out. Like coffee. Agnes was enraged "Rank carelessness," she fumed. "Prancing around with a cup of coffee, acting up, no respect to the Board that's kind enough to give parties at no additional cost." She paused. "But they didn't have coffee, they had punch; and sure's you're born that's coffee. Must have been one of those that keeps food in her room, attracting mice."

She took the mask and dress to her own room and hid them in the bottom of a drawer. "I'll fix her," she told her reflection in the mirror. "I'll find out and fix her. Not half washed out, either, as if there wasn't any soap to be had or in too big a hurry to get somewhere else. Somebody from another floor, trying to place the blame—"

She paused and studied her reflection in the mirror. It looked back with strange intensity and told her, without words, that she had paused because her thoughts were uneasy. "Humph!" she said defiantly, tossing her head. "I say that's coffee and it is coffee." But she locked the drawer before she left and put the key in her pocket.

Miss Small had reached for a cigaret, but her hand had stopped in mid-air "Somebody coming down the hall, and I'm afraid it's for me. Oh dear, I simply can't bear another tale of woe."

"Might be for me, for a change" Miss Brady boasted. "Whoever it is, I'll get rid of her."

Together they listened to the slow, unhurried steps and waited for the knock. When it came, it had an almost human personality. It was light and measured, tempered with caution and certain of result.

"Come in," Miss Brady called.

Lillian Harris, wearing a crimson bathrobe and looking sleepy, edged into the room. "I'm terribly sorry, Miss Brady," she apologized, "but I didn't like to disturb Mrs. Fisher. She's usually asleep by now. And I hate to interrupt you and Miss Small—"

"You're not interrupting," Miss Brady said. "What's wrong? April sick again?"

"No, not April." Lillian kept her place by the open door.

"Well, come on in and close that door. There's a draft. What's your trouble? You girls haven't been frightening each other, have you?"

"Oh, no, Miss Brady. April and I never did that. It's just that I've got a headache and nobody on our floor has any aspirin. I thought you might be awake and—"

"Certainly. There's headache stuff in the bathroom, all sorts. Go in and help yourself."

"I'll get it," Miss Small said. "Sit down, Lillian. We're very glad we can help." She left the room quietly.

"Coffee?" Miss Brady asked. "Although you probably shouldn't have it."

"I guess not," Lillian agreed. She drooped over the back of a chair. "We had some up in our room. Just Dot and the two of us."

Something in her voice sharpened Miss Brady's scrutiny. "You look as if you had things on your mind, Lillian."

Lillian raised sleepy, candid eyes. "Oh, no, Miss Brady. I don't feel well, that's all. And April—you know it's queer rooming with a girl like April. I know I wanted to do it, and I still do, but it makes me, well, nervous."

Miss Small returned with aspirin. "I understand," she said. "I've been wondering if it wasn't a bad idea in the first place. I've even been wondering if we ought to close that room up, temporarily. Although I don't know what we'd do for additional space. But no matter what we do, Lillian, you must try not to think of what happened. It was a dreadful thing, but you must try to think of it impersonally."

"That's it," Miss Brady agreed. "It isn't as if we'd really known the poor wretch. I suppose that sounds heartless, doesn't it?"

"No, Miss Brady"

"Well, take your aspirin and get along. Good night."

After she had gone, Miss Small absently heated the coffee. "I don't think Lillian had a headache. She's disappointing me again. She's gone back to that queer, secret manner. I'm ashamed of myself, I really am, but I keep thinking that Lillian may have known Ruth before; you know, known her somewhere else. Lillian was in the lobby when Ruth came, and Ruth was frightened, I told you that—"

Miss Libby's call came a few minutes after nine on a cold, dark morning. Roberta turned to Nick who was only half awake.

"Listen while I call Mark," she said as she dialed the bedroom phone. "I can't tell this twice."

Her mouth was trembling, and Nick sat up hastily. But Mark was calm. "Take it easy," he said.

She babbled. It was Miss Libby, Miss Libby at Blackman's. She was raving mad because the Smith kids had come to work in hysterics and had to be sent home. Moke and Poke. The Smith kids. There'd been an accident at Hope House and they were hysterical and Miss Libby didn't like it and thought somebody ought to look into it.

"And you've got to, Mark," Roberta said. "It sounds awful. Last night somewhere around one o'clock a girl went into the bathroom to get a drink. The blind girl, the one who roomed with Ruth Miller. Of course she didn't turn on the light because she never did that. She didn't need it. She went straight to a basin beside the window and got a drink and that was when her foot touched something soft. She thought it was laundry, a bag of laundry that somebody had left, but when she tried to pick it up her hand got wet and sticky. She knew it wasn't water She was blind, but she knew that. So she screamed. And because it was dark in there nobody knew where she was. They heard her screaming, but they couldn't see her. Not at all. It must have been awful. And when they did find her, she was sitting on the floor with the girl's head in her lap She was saying the girl's name and running her hand over the girl's face, because that's how she could tell who it was. I hate it!"

"Where's Nick?" Mark asked.

"Right here, the lug," Roberta said. "Well, so they got the doctor, and he fixed up the girl's face and head, or whatever it was, and she's alive but only just"

"What's the girl's name?"

"Lillian Harris."

Five Are Burned To Death When Car Takes Fire

(By The Canadian Press)

A Canadian Press survey today listed 29 violent deaths in Eastern Canada during the weekend, five of them the result of a tragic highway accident at Ste. Barbe, Que., which took the lives of a Montreal grocer and four of his children.

Four men were drowned when an automobile plunged through a detour sign and into the Oposatika River, 20 miles west of Kapuskasing, Ont.

Traffic accidents claimed 17 lives, a total of nine persons were drowned, one was asphyxiated and two workmen were electrocuted when a steel beam they were lifting came in contact with a 2,200-volt wire.

Ontario suffered the heaviest toll with 20 deaths, followed by Quebec with eight and Nova Scotia with one.

Dead in the worst highway tragedy of the summer in Quebec Province were: Romeo Brunet, 41, and four of his children: Jeannine, 14; Huguette, 12; Andree, eight, and Micheline, nine months. Injured were: Mrs. Romeo Brunet, 36, and her two other children, Jean Guy, 10, and Nicole, four. The condition of Mrs. Brunet and Jean Guy was reported by hospital authorities late last night as "serious."

The crash occurred Saturday night and both cars turned into flaming torches after the gasoline tank of one exploded. Police said Brunet managed to extricate himself from his car and, with his clothes burning, sought to get his wife and children out of the machine. Owner of a farm in Ste. Barbe, the Brunets were en route to Montreal.

The other traffic accidents were in Ontario. Two bicyclists were victims of hit-and-run drivers Sunday. Erwin Murawski, 27-year-old Polish war veteran and farm worker, died after being run down at Stratford, and at Bartonville, near Hamilton, Edward James Ripley, 61, was found dying beside the curb by a passing motorist.

Other traffic victims were: Mrs. Sarah McGivney, 90, of Arthur, Ont., killed in an auto collision Sunday near Guelph; J. H. Blaney, 78, after being struck by a street car in Toronto Saturday; Mrs. E. Bernstein, of Chicago, in an auto crash at Delhi Saturday; Robert Tripp, 35, of Bobcaygeon, Ont., as doctors examined him in Lindsay after he was struck by a car; Kenneth McIvor, 75, who succumbed in hospital Saturday to injuries suffered in a Toronto street accident and Francis Duguano, 76, of Welland, when struck by a car near Fonthill.

At Cobalt, Sylvio Last and Sam Abraham were drowned as they set off on a fishing expedition Sunday when their boat capsized in nearby Trout Lake, and at Little Narrows, N.S., Murdock MacDonald, a 24-year-old fisherman, drowned when the wash of a passing ship threw him from his motor launch.

Electrocuted on a construction job at Amherstburg, Ont., Saturday were Kenneth Baker, 57, and Robert Duncan, 25, both of Windsor. An inquest has been ordered.

DEMANDS VAST SUMS FOR AIR SUPREMACY

Columbus, O., Sept. 15 (AP)—The Resolutions Committee of the Air Force Association, which boasts being the largest veterans' organization to develop out of the Second World War, last night demanded "expenditure of vast sums" to give the United States air supremacy. The statement expressed "grave concern" over the country's "critically weak military policy in relation to the strong foreign policy it is obligated to supoprt."

Crop Improvement Meeting Held At Ketcheson's Farm

At the farm of Mr. Lawrence Ketcheson, Foxboro, on Thursday, September 11th, a well-attended Crop Improvement meeting got under way sharp at seven o'clock. Mr. Elmer Post, West Huntingdon, was the fortunate winner of the two pounds of Ladino clover which was presented by the Crop Improvement Association.

Mr. Ken Fallis, Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, was introduced by A. O. Dalrymple, Agricultural Representative, who stated that the idea of holding the meeting was to acquaint the farmers with the latest information regarding pastures and hybrid corn. Mr. Fallis dealt at some length on the comparative value of the various clovers and grasses in pasture mixtures. He mentioned the fact that he felt quite justified in recommending that some alfalfa be added to the mixture in the districts of Hastings where the soil was of a limestone nature and where as a result alfalfa grew quite readily.

The group then visited the corn field, after which Mr. Ketcheson gave a demonstration of his new pick-up baler as well as the self-propelled combine and other machinery.

Mr. Wilfred Forestell, President of the Hastings County Crop Improvement Association, in speaking to the group, expressed the thanks of everyone present in being able to visit the Ketcheson farm and see the excellent display of labor-saving machinery.

U.S. TROOPS AT OUTPOST FIRE WARNING BURST

Knock on Door Foils Large Scale Jewel Robbery

Two Bandits Tie Up Owners Of Toronto Jewelry Firm

Toronto, Sept. 16. (CP)—Two masked bandits tied up two persons in the third-floor office of Gardner and Green, wholesale jewellers, on downtown Richmond Street today and escaped with $20 in cash and a small amount of jewellery.

Inspector John Nimmo said one safe was open when the gunmen broke into the office. They forced Ernest Gardner, co-owner of the business, to open a second vault. But, after tying up Gardner and 86-year-old John Headley, they fled out a rear door at the sound of a knock at the front of the office.

Their only loot was a few pieces of jewellery and the cash which had been taken from the pockets of the two men.

Police said the knock on the door probably averted a large-scale robbery. The value of the jewellery taken by the bandits was not immediately learned.

The gunmen, both about six feet tall, entered the office shortly after it opened. They ordered Mr. Gardner and Mr. Headley to line up against a wall. Then they locked the front door and demanded that Mr. Gardner open the second safe.

He told them he couldn't open the vault and, with a gun jammed against his back, stalled for time.

"He did a wonderful job of stalling," said a detective. "He knew that a customer would be in the shop (soon) and he thought he might be able to keep the safe locked until help arrived."

After forcing Mr. Gardner to open the safe, the bandits ordered him and Mr. Headley to lie on the floor. They tied their hands and feet with pieces of cord.

Hold Up Finance Company

Toronto, (CP)—A search continued for two young bandits who held up the Alliance Finance Company late Monday afternoon, grabbed $500 in cash and cheques and escaped into a rush-hour crowd at midtown Bay and Bloor Streets.

Both men were about 25. One who wore sun-glasses, carried a nickel-plated revolver. The other, whose face was partially covered with a handkerchief, was not armed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Colquette and Mrs. Gladys Woolley, in a back office preparing to lock up, were taken by surprise.

"It took them just about three minutes," said Mr. Colquette, part-owner of the company. "They moved so quickly I can't even recall exactly what they said."

Cook Kidnapped, Robbed

Toronto, (CP)—James Tosaka, a restaurant cook, told police that as he walked home early today he was kidnapped by four men, driven to the Humber River in West Toronto and robbed of a wallet containing $300.

Tosaka said a stranger stopped him on downtown Dundas Street and asked for a match. As he gave the man a match, an automobile drove up. He was forced into the car, in which there were three other men, and was warned he would be beaten if he made an outcry.

Weather Synopsis

Toronto, Sept. 16—(CP)—Synopsis: The weather is generally clear and cool over Ontario this morning, although an occasional shower was reported during the night. A disturbance over the northwestern states is expected to develop and move over the Lake Superior area, bringing intermittent rain to the White River district Wednesday afternoon.

MARRIED AFTER THREE ENGAGEMENTS

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 16—(AP)—After three engagements and 45 years, Morris Bales, 77, finally married his girl.

The bride, now 61, twice broke off engagements when the romance had its beginning in Oak Grove community.

"I was only 15," she explained. "I just wasn't ready."

Test Helicopter In Pest Control In B. Columbia

Ottawa, Sept. 16 (CP)—Orchard in British Columbia is taking to the air.

Agriculture department officials reported today that an Okanagan Valley organization is experimenting with a helicopter to assess it as a means of applying insecticides to fruit trees

The tests are being made under the supervision of the Dominion Entomological and Chemical laboratory at Summerland, B.C., and the Canadian Army Experimental Station at Suffield Alta.

The helicopter has several advantages over fixed-wing aircraft. It is less dangerous to work, can travel at much lower speeds and yet still treat a 10-acre orchard in a few minutes and can land in a small clearing. The down draft from the motors produces a "rebound" which improves under-leaf coverage.

Both dusts and sprays are being applied by the helicopter but it appears probable that prays will prove more satisfactory.

The Summerland laboratory also has been experimenting with new types of high-speed, ground borne equipment, including a turbine blower machine, a steam aerosol generator and three types of mist duster-sprayers. With suitable modifications, all have given satisfactory pest control and the Okanagan Valley investigators plan to build a new machine incorporating the best features of the five types.

CHARGE OF CONSPIRACY

Ottawa, Sept. 16—(CP)—A charge of conspiracy against Harold Samuel Gerson, former Department of Munitions and Supply official was one of three indictments handed to the Grand Jury of Carleton county when the fall assizes opened here yesterday.

Gerson was convicted by a jury last September of conspiring to communicate confidential information to Russia. He was sentenced to five years in penitentiary. Recently the Ontario appeal court quashed the conviction on a technicality. Hearing of the case has been set for Oct. 6.

90 PER CENT HIKE IN FLOUR PRICE IS ANNOUNCED

General Increase Of Five Cents a Loaf For Bread Predicted Within a Week

(By The Canadian Press)

The Canadian consumer winced today as the surgeon's knife of high prices sliced larger chunks of his bankroll without anesthetic following Sunday's removal of wartime controls on a long list of goods and commodities.

Straws in the wind were price increases announced yesterday:

Flour—up 90 per cent from $4.05 to $8.55 a barrel at Edmonton and to more than $8 at Toronto.

Bread—up three cents a loaf at Quebec, with a general increase of five cents predicted within a week.

Lumber—up $5 to $8 per 1,000 feet at Vancouver.

A wide increase in all bakery products was foreseen when bakers' current stocks of flour are used up and they have to buy at the higher prices in about a week.

One cheering note sounded from Hamilton when International Harvester Company of Canada, Limited announced there would be no increase in farm implement prices despite the removal of controls.

Mother's Tip Important In Polio Diagnosis

Warm Springs, Ga., Sept. 16—(AP)—Doctors were advised yesterday to take a tip from mothers in diagnosing possible cases of poliomyelitis where the child has only "a little limp."

Saying that when a toddler has such a limp it is often exceedingly difficult to tell if the child has a true paralysis, Dr. James Wilson, University of Michigan pediatrician, told leading experts in the field of infantile paralysis:

"It is always wise to believe the mother that a gait is abnormal. Her observation is often far more accurate than that of the physician."

He said the diagnosis of paralysis is particularly difficult in "small children and infants where lack of co-operation must be expected."

ASKS CONTROL RESTORED BREAD, MILK, COAL PRICES

Toronto, Sept. 16—(CP)—City council early today passed a motion calling on the federal government and the Prices Board to restore control of prices and subsidies affecting the consumer price of bread, milk and coal.

Russia's Suspicion of Foreigners Only Iron Curtain in East Europe

By DANIEL DeLUCE

Warsaw, Sept. 16—(AP)—Russia's suspicion of all foreigners is described by pro-Soviet Poles here as "the only iron curtain in Eastern Europe."

Warsaw is barely 100 miles from the Soviet Union. It could hardly have less contact with the Russian people if it were 10,000 miles away.

Poles encounter the cold shoulder as often as Americans when they seek Russian visas. Soviet officials in the capital of Communist-dominated Poland are even more difficult to meet than those stationed in Washington or London.

Moscow newspapers are on sale at several Warsaw bookshops. Yet a Polish left-wing journalist told me:

"Ive been trying to make excerpts of political writings in the Soviet press, but it's hopeless. I don't think one per cent of our readers would understand what they are driving at. Their expressions are sadly alien to our way of thinking."

Another left-winger summed up his perplexity:

"Naturally the Soviets must want to win friends and influence the masses in the smaller, neighboring countries which they overshadow because of their military power.

"But why don't they tear down the wall they erected around themselves when they believe they were encircled by predatory capitalistic enemies?"

"In both Poland and Czechoslovakia, for instance, there is a system of modified state socialism and both regard Russia as their most important ally.

"We Poles can flock to Prague whenever we want to, and many Czechs come here at will. But none of us is allowed across the Soviet frontier unless it's official business on a high level. "And, of course, we see very few Russians. I'm sure that 10 times as many citizens of Little Denmark visit Warsaw as those of our mighty neighbor in the east."

Foreign observers here advance at least two possible reasons for continued Russian isolationism:

1. Although millions of Russian soldiers had a glimpse of foreign lands in wartime, the Soviet government is afraid to let its citizens gain further knowledge of living conditions outside the U.S.S.R. That knowledge might create serious political discontent.

2. Lacking confidence in neighboring coalition governments, although Communist influence within them is paramount, the Kremlin districts any tourists they might send to Moscow as potential spies and trouble-makers.

163 Million Bus. Wheat, 363 Million Pounds Of Ham, Bacon for Britain

—GARDINER

Prestwick, Scotland, Sept. 16—(CP)—Agricultural Minister Gardiner of Canada, before returning to the Dominion today by plane, told reporters the Dominion would send Britain between August and December, 1947:

163,000,000 bushels of wheat;
90,000,000 shell eggs, and
363,000,000 pounds of ham and bacon.

He said: "With a population of 12,000,000 we'd rather feed Britons in Canada than here and we are making an all-out effort this year to get as many British immigrants as possible."

The minister, who attended meetings of the United Nations' Food and Agricultural Organization at Geneva, last weekend was the guest of the King at Balmoral Castle after ceremonies at which he was installed as a member of the Imperial Privy Council.

TURKEY REJECTED ALL OVERTURES FROM GERMANY

Inonu Says Turkey Spurned Every German Effort to Win Nation Over

Istanbul, Sept. 16—(AP)—President Ismet Inonu says Turkey rejected all German overtures—which he said grew violent at times—to bring her into the Second World War against Russia.

In a lengthy article written for the encyclopedia Britannica at Chicago and distributed by the official Anatolio agency today, Inonu defended Turkey's war role which had often been criticized because Turkey swung over to the side of the Allies only a few week before Germany surrendered.

Germany Inonu said, spared no effort to bring Turkey into the conflict.

"One of the most important events for Turkey came when Germany started her most threatening political aggression. During France's occupation, documents had fallen into German hands and in virtue of these it was proclaimed that the Turks had been partisans of certain Anglo-French projects against the Russians.

"In publishing the French documents the Germans worked with all their heart to provoke in this troubled tense atmosphere an armed conflict between the Russians and Turks. Also they presumed the Turks—left alone—would approach them as did the Romanians in order to guarantee themselves against Russian aggression."

Inonu said Turkey rejected flatly all German demands for passage toward the Middle East while the Reich armies were assaulting Egypt. Turkey had a treaty of alliance with Britain which was defending Africa.

Warm Weather Favors Harvest Operations

Toronto, Sept. 16—(CP)—Warm weather has favored completion of harvest operations except in some sectors where rain has delayed threshing, the weekly crop report of the Provincial Agricultural Department said today.

Most fall grain is already in the ground and recent rains are reported to be assisting in its germination. Rain has caused most damage in Wentworth in Southern Ontario where grain is in "poor condition, wet and discolored." However, rain has improved pasture land in most sections.

In most districts corn has made remarkable growth in the last two weeks and promises to bring a "good average crop."

Central Ontario potato and tomato crops have suffered from a late blight which, in spit of heavy dusting, continues to do damage.

KILLED IN ROAD CRASH

Richards Landing, Ont., Sept. 16—(CP)—Godfrey Harten and Bruce McGregor were killed early today near this St. Joseph Island village 20 miles southeast of Sault Ste. Marie when the automobile in which they were driving swerved off the road, careened up a steep bank, struck a tree and overturned.

Bodies of the men, who had been driving home from a wedding reception, were found about an hour later, pinned under the car.

150 MOSQUITO AIRCRAFT SOLD TO CHINESE GOVT.

Stored at Plant in Toronto and Will be Disposed of at $10,000 a Plane

Toronto, Sept. 16. (CP)—The Globe and Mail said in a newspage Ottawa-dated story today that sale of 150 Mosquito aircraft now stored at the Dehavilland plant at Toronto to the Chinese government at a price of around $10,000 per plane "is understood to have been completed" yesterday.

"The machines will be taken out of storage at a cost of around $4,000 to $5,000 each and will probably be flown to Montreal over a period of some months for ferrying to China," said the Globe and Mail. "Their original cost was about $123,000 each."

"Officials of several governments, it is believed, have been inspecting the machines, regarded as obsolete by the Royal Canadian Air Force, since the war ended, but the Chinese blanket price, plus other considerations, led the department of External Affairs to suspend its regulations with respect to export of arms."

Deal Not Completed

Ottawa, Sept. 16. (CP)—China is interested in the possibility of purchasing the approximately 150 surplus serviceable Mosquito planes Canada has left from her wartime air fleet but no deal has been completed, it was learned on good authority here last night.

A government spokesman said that there had been some preliminary discussions on the possibility of selling the planes to China, which already has purchased some small Canadian warcraft for use as river boats.

Eight Explosions Shatter Peace Of Jewish New Year

Jerusalem, Sept. 16—(AP)—Eight mysterious explosions, shattering the peace of the Jewish New Year festival of Rosh Hashonah in Jerusalem, were reported during the night, and police today still were trying to find out where they occurred.

The blasts, heard in widely scattered areas in new sections of the Holy City, set off two general alarms, one lasting 35 minutes and the second about an hour.

John R. Keegan, manager of Trans World Airline, reported that about 10 minutes after one all-clear sounded, a T.W.A. automobile was riddled by six machine-gun bullets, one of which narrowly missed the driver.

"An armored car stopped one of our automobiles and a policeman opened fire," Keegan said. "Our driver jumped out yelling, 'Quit shooting, we are friends. The all-clear sounded 10 minutes ago.'

"The policeman jumped in the armored car and sped away after refusing to give his name or the number of the armored car."

An official announcement meanwhile said that 30 small tins of gunpowder and 28 land mines had been found in two Arab vehicles. Two Arabs were arrested in each case.

LESS MEAT FOR PRISONERS

Philadelphia, Sept. 16—(AP)—Prisoners at two Philadelphia prisons are going to have to do without meat three days a week because officials say funds on hand won't meet current food prices.

Officials of Holmesburg and Moyamensing prisons said yesterday they are seeking $110,000 in emergency funds to take care of 1947 food bills.

WORSENING MEAT SITUATION FACES CANADIAN PEOPLE

12,000 Workers Still On Strike and Labor Minister Says Walkout Illegal in Manitoba

A worsening meat situation confronted Canadians today with 75 per cent of their normal supply cut off by a strike that one provincial government last night called "illegal."

Effects of the strike of approximately 12,000 United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.), which has halted operations at 21 packing plants in 16 cities, are not expected to be apparent in most centres before Wednesday. By the weekend, it is predicted, the real pinch will come.

Last night Labor Minister C. Rhodes Smith of Manitoba told the 2,600 of these workers in his province that their strike was contrary to the Manitoba Wartime Labor Regulations Act and elapsed after both parties to a labor dispute have tried to settle their differences in conciliation hearings.

On strike are the employees of the "big three" of Canada's meat packers—Swift Canadian Company, Canada Packers Limited and Burns and Company. About 2,000 workers at small independent companies remained at work.

Another provincial angle crept into the workers' demands for wage increases when it was learned that a letter urging Ontario Labor Minister Charles Daley not to intervene in negotiations being carried on in Toronto has been sent out to employees at the Swift Canadian plant there.

British Reds Attack Plan

Britain's new "one-third move for export" plan to beat the dollar famine crisis was attacked by British Communists today in a statement by the party's executive committee.

Declaring the export speech of the president of the Board of Trade Sir Stafford Cripps last Friday "a complete surrender" to demands of the Federation of British Industries and the National Union of Manufacturers, the statement said no concrete proposals were put forward for cutting overseas expenditure or the farmed forces.

The program meant the abandonment of the aims for which the Labor government was elected.

Yugoslavs Make Attempt to Rush New Frontier Line

Italians, Slavs Herald Birth Of Free Trieste by Rioting

Trieste, Sept. 16—(AP)—Allied military government headquarters said today that American troops manning an outpost on the provisional frontier between Yugoslavia and the new free state of Trieste brought up a tank and fired a warning burst of machine-gun fire to discourage a Yugoslav attempt to cross the line this morning.

"It was touch and go at that outpost for a while," commented a high A. M. G. officer. He credited the "highly disciplined" American troops with having conducted themselves in such a manner as to permit the incident to end without serious consequences.

The A.M.G. announcement said the machine-gun incident occurred on the road between Borliano and Prosecco.

A Yugoslav unit of 34 soldiers commanded by two officers presented itself at the provisional—and disputed—boundary and demanded permission to cross. The Americans refused. The Yugoslavs argued that they interpreted the peace treaty as authorizing Yugoslav troops to enter the Free State up to a maximum of 5,000 men.

The American officer in charge of the post, replied that he would consult his superiors. When the Yugoslavs insisted on crossing he summoned the tank and also called for local reserves.

Both the American and Yugoslav officers at the post said they would consult with higher authorities. The Yugoslovs dropped back a few feet from the line.

Yugoslavs had 'jumped the gun' soon after midnight on the British-American-Yugoslav timetable for her to occupy treaty-gained lands.

Rioting between Italians and Slavs heralded the birth of the free territory of Trieste, embracing this Adriatic port and its environs.

The Yugoslav troops who demanded entry into the free state were a detachment of the force of 2,000 men which, under an Allied agreement with Premier Marshall Tito, were designated to be attached to the AMG as liaison units.

Maj.-Gen. T. S. Airey, British commander in Trieste, said he received a letter last night from a Yugoslav staff officer declaring the Yugoslav troops would enter on the main road into Trieste at midnight and station themselves in the city.

The British general added that he had talked with the detachment commander previously and the Yugoslav officer had agreed that the Yugoslav troops should go around and enter by way of the southern section of the territory, where Yugoslav troops are to join in the British-American occupation.

The surprise declaration from the Yugoslav detachment resulted in an order by Airey that the troops were not to enter the city. He said there was no accommodation in crowded Trieste for them and the population of the city had indicated in the last three days that the entry of the Yugoslav troops would result in bloodshed.

General Accepts Proposal.

"The affair was settled amicably and I received a letter from the Yugoslav general accepting my proposal to go around (Trieste) and take up the matter on a higher level," Gen. Airey added.

A proclamation by Airey formally constituting the Trieste free state threatened the death penalty for "any person who incites any inhabitant of the occupied territory to insurrection against any authority or organizes or leads any public demonstration or assembly for such purpose."

Italy thus lost some 3,000 square miles of territory, which she had held since a few years after the First World War, by terms of a treaty with the victors of the Second World War ratified formally in Paris yesterday. Some 470 square miles went to the free territory under the United Nations, the rest to Yugoslavia.

(The peace treaties for four other Axis satellites—Romania, Bulgaria, Finland and Hungary—were activated yesterday by deposit of ratification instruments in the Kremlin, in Moscow.)

The Italian treaty went into effect at midnight, Greenwich mean time (2 a.m. Trieste time), and the free territory simultaneously came into being.

350 Attack Dutch Camp Near Batavia

Batavia, Sept. 16—(AP)—The Netherlands army communique today said a force of 350 Indonesians attacked a Dutch camp at Kawali, west of Batavia, and that Dutch camps south of Cheribon were fired upon. Other Republican attacks were beaten off in Central Java, the communique said, and 72 Indonesians were made prisoner on the northeast coast of Java.

The Hague—A message to parliament from Queen Wilhemina today said "Difficulties in relations with the Indonesian republic have sharpened," but gave slight indication of future Dutch policy in Indonesia.

The message, prepared for delivery by Prime Minister J. M. Beel in place of the Queen, who is slightly ill, said Dutch armed forces in Indonesia would transfer their tasks to civil authorities as soon as conditions permitted.

This, would allow considerable reduction in manpower, which is imperative in view of the Dutch economic situation.

The message, outlining Dutch policy for the next parliamentary year, said round-table conferences with representatives of Surinam and the Dutch West Indies would be held soon in order to prepare a new political structure for the Dutch kingdom.

She regretted that action of the United Nations security council regarding Indonesia had, generally speaking, made only a small contribution so far towards lessening the uncertainty of the situation.

New Metal Curium is Man-Made, Bubbles is Violently Radioactive

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

New York, Sept. 16 (AP)—A strange new metal that seethes and bubbles and emits a soft glow was described for the first time today to the American Chemical Society.

This metal is curium, element 96, the heaviest known element. It is man-made, it no longer exists in nature, and is the most violently radioactive solid ever isolated.

Prof. Isadore Perlman of the University of California announced that a tiny amount of curium, smaller than a grain of sand, had been produced for the first time in pure form. There is just enough to see it with the naked eye. And this sand-grain amount now represents the total world supply.

Curium is one of four man-made metals discovered during the atom bomb project. The others are plutonium, the super-explosive for atom bombs; americium and neptunium.

All four probably existed naturally on earth millions of years ago when the planet was younger, and much hotter. But because of their radioactivity they broke down or decayed into other elements.

This tiny bit of pure curium has a slight yellowish cast, Dr. Perlman said. It is kept in a solution, and it tears apart the hydrogen and oxygen in the water, Making these gases bubble off.

If enough of the curium were concentrated, it would probably melt by itself. It would be warm to touch. But touching it might be fatal. Even if an extremely tiny amount entered the body, it would cause eventual death due to its extreme radioactivity.

No uses are yet foreseen for curium, partly because of the terrific difficulty of making it in any quantity.

The sand-grain piece of curium is dying rapidly. In 57 days half of it disappears, then in another 57 days half that remainder is gone. In one minute's time one-millionth of a gram of curium emits 70,000,000,000 alpha particles, or electrically charged helium ions.

The curium breaks down or decays into plutonium. All these radio-active materials decay to elements of lower atomic weight and eventually into lead.

City Clerk Will be Assisted In Returning Correct Voters' List for Municipal Election

With more than 300 transfers of property being affected in the city since the beginning of the year, the job of the city clerk in getting out a correct voters' list is an exceedingly difficult one, members of city council were told Monday evening by the City Comptroller, Harold D. Bateman.

This was so, the city comptroller stated, because the voters' list was taken from the assessor's roll and the work of assessing commenced with the new year, while the elections were not held until December. In the meantime there were many transfers of property, while in addition many families either moved away or came into the city. "Despite the best efforts of the city clerk there would be several hundreds left off the voters' list", he said.

As a solution to the problem of making the voters' list as complete and as correct as possible, Mr. Bateman suggested that they be placed in each factory during the month of September. With this and other means of advertising every person would be given an opportunity to see that his or her name is on the list. He suggested that a committee be appointed from council to assist the clerk with suggestions in getting out the list.

During their rounds of the city, assessors had found a total of 79 houses which were vacant, the city comptroller added by way of information. This fact was referred to later in council by one member who stated that if these homes were opened to tenants it would go a great way in solving the current housing problem.

Acting Mayor Clarke appointed a committee of Aldermen Lattimer, Vanner, Clarke, and the comptroller to assist the city clerk in the voters' list.

1,600 Crowd into Armouries For Joint Shrine and K. of C. Bingo Held for Social Work

The biggest Bingo ever held in the city was staged last evening in the Belleville Armouries under the joint auspices of the Belleville Shrine Club and the Knights of Columbus. It was the first joint undertaking of these two organizations which plan to work together in the future on many more projects.

Upwards of 1,600 people crowded into the Armouries undeterred by the rain earlier in the evening, to play bingo and take away the largest number of prizes offered for this intriguing game in the local history of the sport. In addition to the $500 cash given away there were fifteen special gift prizes. There were 22 door prizes to swell the grand total to staggering proportions. Radios, furs, cooking utensils, glassware, clothing, automobile accessories and supplies, and furniture were given away in large quantities with reckless abandon.

Those who were the lucky winners of the door prizes are as follows: Mrs. E. Phillips, Marmora; Mrs. Walsh, Shannonville; Miss Florence Walden, Belleville; Walter Waite, Belleville; Bernard Yardley, Picton; Mrs. Mae Spafford, Belleville; Miss M. Walsh, Belleville; Donald Wright; Grace Stephenson; Margaret Oway; Mrs. Ashman; Tom Flurey; all of Belleville; Mrs. Keith Ferguson, Bloomfield; Ted Hurst, Belleville; Miss Helen Kirby, Ivanhoe; Miss F. Feeney; Mrs. James McCluskie; Mrs. Ronald Bonson; Mrs. Hallam; Miss Elsie Trotter; Bruce Minns, all of Belleville; and Frank Boyer of Havelock.

Council Closes Two Restaurants In City for Insanitary Conditions

Result of insanitary conditions found in the Snack Bar and London Lunch restaurants on Front Street, city council at their regular meeting Monday evening heard recommendation from the sanitary inspector that the licences of these two establishments be cancelled until conditions were bettered.

After considerable discussion as to whether it was the responsibility of council or the board of health to act on the recommendations, council members concurred in the recommendation for closing of the two eating establishments and will ask the city solicitor to determine from the by-law whether council has power to revoke restaurant licences

"This is the first time anything so definite in the way of a report has come from a health inspector in this city," stated Alderman Butler following reading of the report by Acting Mayor Clarke. "I suggest that the recommendation for revoking the licences be referred to the solicitor for immediate attention.

"There is too much pussy footing by this council," stated Alderman Follwell as he moved for passing of the recommendation and for asking the solicitor to look into the matter.

The report read by Alderman Clarke enumerated insanitary conditions found in both restaurants and stated that foods left exposed to vermin and flies was a menace to public health.

Although not present at the time of the reading of the health inspector's report, George De Vuyst, representative of the restaurant association, declared that council had shown discrimination in the granting of eating establishment licences in the city. He stated that the majority of restaurants complied with sanitary requirements under the by-law, but that pool rooms and mobile kitchens did not have the sanitary facilities demanded of restaurants. He stated that the board of health approval should be obtained by council before granting licences to such businesses.

100 PRISONERS REPORTED CONFINED WITHOUT TRIAL

Summerville, Ga., Sept. 16 — (AP) — Wholesale violation of the Georgia constitution's ban against imprisonment without trial was disclosed yesterday by Judge Claude Porter, who called the situation an "unprecedented outrage." Porter said more than 100 prisoners have been confined in a county jail without trial, some of them for many months and "with little or no hope of trial" as the aftermath of a dispute over the payment of a court reporter's fee.

Midget and Strong Man Withdraw Charges

Pittsburgh, Sept. 16 — (AP)— Pussy De Carmo, four-foot-one-inch midget, and Sam Marlo, 183-pound circus and night club 'strong man," have withdrawn their reciprocal charges of assault and battery.

De Carmo, 88-pound night club entertainer, said yesterday that Sam beat him during an argument. Then Pussy withdrew his charges and Sam was ordered to pay the costs.

"He jumped on a table, poked his cigar in my face and pulled off my suspenders," said Sam.

"He threw water on me," answered Pussy, pulling up his trouser leg to display some leg bruises. "He did that when he pushed me into the phone booth."

Salvation Army Drive for $5,000 For Local Work is Launched

The Salvation Army campaign which opened on Monday of this week has an objective of $5,000, to further the work of the Army in this city and district.

Mr. Mark Vanner, chairman of the campaign committee stated today that he and his executive felt fully confident that the residents of this city would once more rally to the appeal and give generously as they have done in previous campaigns. Any amount whether large or small will be gratefully received by the Army.

"All of this work started under a hat—and I wore that hat!"

William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, made this statement many times during his life, in referring to the world wide movement that he had started. Few people today, knowing that The Salvation Army operates in 97 countries of the globe, realize that this organization was the creation of one man.

Eighty years ago, young William Booth was a Methodist minister preaching near London. His church disapproved of the evangelical methods that young Booth wished to use, to take the Gospel to the "man in the street." In protest against his church's restraint and criticism, William Booth gave up his pulpit and went out into London's East End to take the benefits of religion to those without a church.

William preached on street corners, and—when he could find one—in a tent. Rocks and mud were thrown at him, and his tents were cut down. Still he persisted, wishing to be able to rehabilitate and reclaim the thousands of destitute around him in whom no man but himself seemed concerned.

William Booth's high spiritual resolve and courage quickly won him friends and followers; and financial support came from quarters where it was least expected; from royalty and from the nobility. Greatest support of The Salvation Army came from the start, however, from those whose plight Booth determined to relieve; the people.

With Booth an interest in men's spiritual welfare was coupled with an interest in their physical well-being, and William Booth was the first to establish food kitchens for the hungry, and to provide shelter for those who were then sleeping on the bridges and streets of London.

William Booth's wife, Catherine, was perhaps the first social worker as modern society understands the term, for she pioneered in visiting the poor, and in administering to them.

After only fourteen years of existence, The Salvation Army began to spread to other countries. In 1882, Salvationists associated with the movement in England and who had emigrated to Canada, led the first Salvation Army meetings in this country at London, Ontario, and Toronto.

Once committed to a policy of expansion beyond Great Britain, General Booth lost no time in sending pioneer parties to other lands. The work was established in 1881 in Australia and France; in 1882 in Switzerland, Sweden, India and Canada; and in 1883 in South Africa, Ceylon and New Zealand. In every succeeding year, The Salvation Army entered other countries.

Today, 108 languages and dialects are needed by the almost 18,000 Salvation Army corps and outposts around the world for their work of evangelism, relief and education. There is no corner of the globe in civilized or primitive society, where The Salvation Army does not operate, catering to peace-time needs as well as to those resulting from wars, disasters and emergencies.

IN MEMORIAM

BLACKBURN — In memory of my mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Blackburn, who passed away September 16th., 1942.

Five years have passed and gone
Since one we loved so well
Was taken from our home on earth
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we placed upon her grave
May wither and decay
But the love for her who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away.
—Missed by David.

BLACKBURN — In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Blackburn, who passed away September 16th., 1942.

Quickly and suddenly came the call,
Her sudden death surprised us all,
Dearer to memory than words can tell
The loss of a mother we loved so well.
—Sadly missed by Sandy and Annie.

LEWIS — In fond memory of our son, F/O. Duncan Hamilton Lewis, who lost his life on Active Service, September 15th., 1943 in Belgium.

"They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old; age shall not weary them nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun and in the morning we shall remember thee."
— Laurie and Edith Lewis.

BELNAP — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Maretta Belnap, who passed away a year ago today.

Our mother is sleeping, so free from all pain,
Oh, wake her not, sweet spirit, to suffer again.
She slumbers so soundly, oh, let her sleep on.
Her sickness is ended, her troubles are gone.
Just think how she suffered and moaned with pain,
In the long night hours we soothed her in vain,
Till God in His mercy sent down from above
An angel that whispered a message of love.
—Sadly missed by Husband, Daughter and Family.

Council Argues Over Shortage Of Housing Accommodation, Other Matters in Long Session

Members Oppose Motion to Buy Piece of Property Claiming Precedent Would be Set

Matters ranging all the way from the shortage of housing accommodation to the purchase by the city of property for the establishment of a children's playground in Coleman Ward were discussed by city council Monday evening in one of the longest sessions of the year. The city clock was just tolling midnight when council broke up after the lengthy session which saw little action but much discussion.

One of the items which created some of the hottest discussion was a recommendation brought in by Alderman Follwell asking for the purchase by the city of a building lot in the St. Charles-Ridley Street area as a playground for children in Coleman Ward. The lot is owned by Earl Buker, the recommendation calling for its purchase for the sum of $1 plus Mr. Buker's out of pocket expenses since he purchased the lot from the city.

"I am strictly opposed to buying back this lot," stated Alderman Clarke. "There is a covenant against this lot which calls for a completed house to be built on it by October 15th. The lot then will automatically come back to the city as the covenant will not be fulfilled."

Reverse Usual Order

Reversing the usual order of procedure council voted on the recommendation to buy the lot and after it was lost proceeded to argue the matter out. Alderman Chamberlain was afraid of a precedent being set if the lot were bought back by the city, while Alderman Allin held the whole discussion was out of order as the recommendation already had been lost.

The yeas and nays had been asked with Alderman Allin, Butler, Follwell, Lattimer and Wilbur favoring the recommendation and Alderman Armstrong, Chamberlain, Clarke, Duffy, Harvey, Hyde, Lazenby and Tice voting against it.

"The city never has done anything toward putting a park in the College Hill district for the children in that area," declared Alderman Follwell as the motion to purchase the lot was lost. "There is no other property in that area for a park. I hope this council is proud of depriving the children there a park to play in."

Denies Statement Issue

"This issue is not one of depriving the children of a park," returned Alderman Duffy, "but whether it is legal for the city to buy the property. There is also the danger of establishing a precedent." Alderman Allin declared there was a great need for a playground in the area, while this thought was supported by Alderman Lazenby who took exception to statement made earlier by Alderman Follwell that the city now would never get the property for a playground.

Alderman Butler stated he supported the recommendation to purchase the property because he had understood that Mr. Buker had refused several offers from individuals to purchase the lot. "He turned down these offers because he knew the city was looking for a park in the area," he said.

Contention Attacked

On Alderman Clarke's contention that the lot would in any event be forfeited to the city through reason of the covenant not being filled, was attacked by Alderman Follwell who stated that council regularly extended covenants. "We have extended covenants time after time and here the council is trying to get this one back by default," he said.

By way of closing discussion on the matter Alderman Duffy declared that a covenant was an agreement and the city would be assisting in breaking its own law if it sought to re-purchase the lot before the expiry date of the covenant.

Following up a recommendation made in committee last Thursday and ratified in open council, calling for a financial report from the Old Home Week committee, Alderman Clarke submitted a motion calling for no further payments being made with respect to the Old Home Week account until the report was received.

Alderman Duffy read the financial report of the Veterans' Day Committee showing that a total of $7,041.53 of a budget of $9,000 had been expended as result of the two-day celebration which started off Old Home Week. Total amount charged against his committee had been $10,873.05, but the committee had not admitted an amount of some $3,800. This, according to Alderman Clarke, had been charged against the Veterans' Day committee on authorization by Mayor Follwell, when there had been "no other place to charge it."

"As chairman of the committee I did not like the idea of the additional charges being tacked on," explained Alderman Duffy.

"I say lay the whole matter over until the Mayor is present and give him the opportunity of explaining the additional amount," interjected Alderman Follwell. The matter was here dropped.

Wants Expense Accounts

Alderman Lazenby submitted a recommendation calling for a report from the chairman of finance regarding expense accounts entailed by members of council during 1947 and also what estimates had been made for these expenditures. The motion carried.

A committee of Aldermen Allin, Armstrong and the city engineer was named to re-write the city building by-law, while the city clerk was authorized to advise the Board of Transport Commission that the corporation was prepared to meet their portion of the cost regarding the additional railway crossing protection at St. Charles Street as recommended by the signal engineer.

Council voted to sell a parcel of land at the intersection of Highland Ave. and Dundas Street West to Stan Scott, he to erect thereon within one year a bottling plant at a cost of at least $10,000. A request of the Belleville Shrine Club for $1,000 to assist in their chest clinic work was turned over to a committee of Mayor Frank Follwell, Alderman Clarke and the city comptroller, the committee to have power to act.

Claim Verbal Agreement

The amount had not been considered in the estimates, but Shrine Club representatives were of the opinion that council members had given verbal agreement to the grant.

"I think the money should be found somewhere," stated Alderman Harvey. "The Shrine Club is doing important work and they should be supported." Alderman Armstrong felt the city was under verbal obligation for the amount while Alderman Chamberlain stated the grant should be given "if at all possible."

"The amount is not in the estimates," returned Alderman Clarke. "There will be a deficit this year which will shock the citizens."

Approval was given for the rebuilding of the river wall at the northeast end of the Upper Bridge, while a committee was formed to go into a request from the Public Utilities commission asking that permission be given for them to instal water mains in the trench intended for sewer mains on Benjamin St. The Army and Navy Veterans Association will be thanked by letter for the splendid condition in which they kept Memorial Park during the past summer.

Delegations Appear

Thomas Rees, representative of the local Trades and Labor Council asked what action had been taken by the city council since voting last June to have Wartime Housing build houses at Belleville.

"As one of the housing committee I must admit that we have accomplished just nothing," returned Alderman Duffy. There is no land available and we must go through with annexation proceeding before we can get the necessary sites."

"At least Alderman Duffy is honest," returned Mr. Rees. "As result of your answer our delegation questions whether this council is sincere in wanting houses for Belleville."

"If you can get Thurlow township to co-operate then we can have Wartime Housing, of Integrated Housing," pointed out Alderman Lazenby. "Annexation proceeding have been talked of but Thurlow wants to dictate."

Continuing the alderman questioned the right of any delegation coming to council to damn it, but stated that council was open any time to constructive criticism. He asked an apology from Mr. Rees for his attack in questioning the council's sincerity in wanting houses.

Explanation Given

Here Alderman Armstrong explained how Thurlow now wanted the city to extend services to a far larger area than was agreed upon in connection with the Reynolds property in the College Hill district. He stated the city was bearing the cost of bringing industry to the suburban area for which the township would reap the benefit. "Until land was annexed to the city there was no hope for Wartime Housing," he said.

Alderman Tice charged that Thurlow Township in asking for extended services in areas adjacent to the city was "holding a sledge hammer over our heads". "If the city agreed to extension of services there would be no incentive on the part of persons living in the township to come into the city," he said. "We have no quarrel with the township, but we must have more land and annexation is the only solution" he said. "If we can annex the needed property I will vote for subsidization for Wartime Housing to provide homes for veterans although I don't approve of it in principle."

"Has the housing committee approached the Board with the view of annexation?" asked Mr. Rees. "Yes", was the reply.

"Then I am amazed that one of your council has reported that nothing has been done,' Mr. Rees returned.

Our Best Neighbor

"I still maintain we have done virtually nothing because we do not know what land we want to annex," explained Alderman Duffy. "Despite the fact we have known for three years we needed houses and have paid our consulting engineers $11,000, we do not yet know what lands should be annexed to the city."

"Thurlow township is our best neighbor," stated Alderman Hyde by way of supporting the township's request for city services. "The public utility is ready to sign the agreement with Thurlow and supply the water—it is the proper thing to do."

Alderman Lazenby here stated that Thurlow now was in discord with previous arrangements for servicing the Reynolds property unless services were also supplied to other areas. Alderman Allin said the public utility had a map in which areas intended to the annexed were outlined and asked why the city did not have a like map. Alderman Armstrong stated the planning board had considered a radius of six miles out from the city as a planning area, but to date annexation proceeding had been commenced only for 130 acres in Sidney township, the hearing for which was set for September 22nd. The council has received no report from the planning engineers in which the suggested area for annexation has been outlined, he said.

Aldermen in Agreement

"The council turned over its authority to deal with the planning engineers when they vested this authority with the planning board. It is they who will deal with Meadows and Critoph now," stated Alderman Lazenby. Alderman Follwell agreed with this statement.

Arthur Keegan spoke briefly to council in connection with matters of industrial expansion and the need for housing in the city. He closed with a request of Public Works chairman to have an open ditch in Foster Ward filled in as soon as possible.

Under inquiries Alderman Allin asked regarding the date when the new lights were to be installed on the Bay Bridge Road. In reply Alderman Lattimer stated the work was being held up for lack of cable. All other equipment was at hand, he said.

Here Alderman Clarke replied to a request of Alderman Allin made at the last council meeting when it was asked that accounts paid during the summer recess of council be tabled. The accounts were read for the benefit of council members.

By-Laws Passed

Alderman Follwell wanted to know if there had been any definite report on the transfer of the Reynolds property to the city and asked if the agreement had been completed.

A number of by-laws, including the third reading of the by-law for authorization for the issuing of debentures to the amount of $45,000 for the purchase of new fire equipment, and one prohibiting the riding of bicycles on sidewalks in the city were passed.

Alderman Harvey, Public Works chairman, asked for a vote of thanks extended to Art Keegan for the banner to be placed across the street at Queen Alexandra School. The banner will be placed in position soon. Ald. Tice also introduced a motion that the City Clerk thank the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans Branch No. 201 for the splendid condition Memorial Park has been kept in this Summer.

Question Referred to Committee On Parking And in the Meantime Police Force to Take No Action

Strong objection by dairies, bakers and owners of other delivery services to the recently-passed parking meter by-law under the provisions of which delivery trucks and wagons are charged a $5 parking fee, instituted action at council Monday evening to have the matter rectified.

Bakeries and dairies as well as other delivery services claimed they were already being charged a business tax and now they were being charged an additional $5 per vehicle for the right of parking on Front Street, while making deliveries.

After considerable discussion on the matter council passed a recommendation submitted by Alderman Chamberlain which called for the matter of parking for delivery purposes being referred to the committee on parking for further consideration and in the meantime no action to be taken by police until an amendment to the parking meter by-law had been brought in and all angles respecting free parking investigated.

The above recommendation was an amendment to one placed by Alderman Tice which called for the $5 parking fee already paid by many delivery services being refunded and delivery trucks to be permitted one-half hour free parking to load and unload their vehicles. Double parking would be strictly prohibited. "This was the system," he said, "which was in force at Kingston."

The yeas and nays were asked on the vote with Alderman Tice being the only Alderman to support that original motion while favoring the amendment were Aldermen Chamberlain, Allin, Wilbur, Armstrong, Clarke, Duffy, Harvey, Lazenby, Vanner, Lattimer and Butler. Mayor Follwell was absent.

According to Alderman Duffy the entire matter had been thoroughly discussed prior to the passing of the parking meter bylaw. It had been found difficult to differentiate among the various types of business and services and the parking fee had been decided upon. Alderman Butler stated he thought the amount of the fee had been decided upon as result of determining what other centres charged.

A cleaning and pressing firm representative wanted to know why their licence fee had been set at $25 when the licence of other delivery businesses was less. "And now you are charging us an additional $5 per truck for coming down Front Street," he said.

Felt There Was Difference.

Alderman Armstrong felt there was a difference between the delivery service which was paying a business tax in the city, and that of the trucker from outside the city.

"There is a whole lot more to this than meets the eye," interposed Alderman Duffy. "Everybody should be taken into consideration. Speaking to Alderman Tice's recommendation he declared that if this was passed the council would be appeasing certain people and not others. Alderman Allin held the matter should be referred to the parking committee with result that Alderman Chamberlain brought in the amendment which was ultimately passed.

Council Requests P.U.C. to Lay Main On Russell Street

Result of a delegation of Russell Street residents demanding that something be done about the matter, city council will advise that the public utilities commission be advised of the seriousness of the lack of water facilities in that area and will urge that water be supplied as soon as possible.

Several residents of the above area, one of them a returned war veteran placed their cases before council at their regular meeting Monday night, stating that families had to carry water for their every need. They had gone to the public utility commission asking that water services be supplied but had been told pipe supplies could not be procured.

However, following this they had seen water services laid in other parts of the city and they demanded to know the reason why Russell Street was being passed up.

Councillors pointed out to the delegation that the council body had no jurisdiction over the installation of water services and that the best they could do was to place a recommendation before the commission asking that action be taken.

One of the delegation asked why the city sold lots in areas where there was no water and was told by the city comptroller that according to board of health regulations no city lots could be sold unless they were first consulted regarding sewage arrangements.

"We realize that you should have water on Russell Street," stated Alderman Armstrong, "but this council has no control over the public utilities. We can only make recommendations to them."

Claims of no pipe being available were not believed by members of the delegations who asked how it was that water services had been laid past the Kiwanis built houses on Dufferin Ave., and were being installed in the Wellington Street areas before and still no sign of mains being laid on Russell St.

"Their Greatest Hour"

Seven years ago Monday there took place the greatest day of the Battle of Britain, a day when the Royal Air Force knocked out of the skies German planes and put an end to the pre-invasion daylight attacks by the Luftwaffe. On Monday in honor of that event 130 of the United Kingdom's fastest and most modern of the planes of the R.A.F. hurtled through the blue skies over London in the days of peace.

The Battle of Britain took place when Britain stood alone in arms. In the immortal words of Prime Minister Churchill that was Britain's "greatest hour." As early as July 1940 Mr. Churchill announced in the British Commons that "we have become the sole champions now in arms to defend the world cause. We shall do our best to be worthy of that high honor."

On that memorable day of September 15, 1940, the Germans tried to smother the British in the air and failed with terrific slaughter to the Hun airmen. From that day forth the Royal Air Force struck out with its might against the Germans on the Continent from Cherburg to Hamburg, Berlin and even to Milan. September 15th alone took a toll of no less than 185 German planes. That damage was too much for the enemy who were led to abandon the daylight raids though the night attacks increased in intensity. By the end of October the Germans had lost a known total of 2,375 aircraft.

It was during this period that the enemy were planning a seaborne invasion scheme with assemblage of large numbers of barges and other vessels in the Channel ports.

This Battle of Britain struck a blow at Hitler which he could not withstand and in the face of which he never recovered.

Whatever chance of an all-out victory he had he lost. In this respect the Battle of Britain was decisive.

The air attack upon Britain did not cease with the failure of the enemy in the Battle of Britain. Through the winter of 1940-41 the enemy assault was still characterized by the brutal but inefficient technique of indiscriminate bombing of concentrated urban areas. The attacks were essentially attacks against morale and they failed. Stout Britons were too much for the enemy's blows.

The great victory in the air on Sept. 15, 1940, proved again the ability of Albion to defend herself and asserted the prowess of the Royal Air Force. It was the time when glory crowned the achievements of the intrepid fighters of Britain in the air.

Their fame will not fade with the passing years. Rather will it grow as the world comes to the full realization of what was there done to save mankind.

Nobody forgets the days before September 15th., 1940. That day dispelled any sense of gloom and proved through the R.A.F. that the tight little island would be able to guard her shores inviolate against the enemy. That day wrote the name of the R.A.F. forever in letters of gold for the world and history to read.

Britain is Now an Atomic Power

In August of this year Britain became an "atomic power" when continuous atomic energy was released for the first time in that country. This exciting news was given by Professor Cockroft, the director of the Hartwell Atom Station at the meeting of the British Association in Dundee. He said that a chain reaction of splitting uranium atoms had been established in his laboratories and already the Hartwell engine is producing enough energy to supply a large block of flats with light and power. In a month's time they will use power released by atomic fission to heat gases up to 350 degrees centigrade. He said: "With 100 tons of uranium an atomic pile of this kind could generate energy equal to 100,000 kilowatts for 20 years without fuel replacement. If we could utilize the whole energy then one ton of uranium would be the equivalent of 3,000,000 tons of coal." It was probable that an experimental power plant would be built during the next five years to obtain the first operating experience with nuclear power generators. Advance already has been made in the application of radioactive materials to scientific research, medical diagnosis and treatment, engineering and industry. The new factories starting in Dundee under the government schemes and working on those lines will eventually employ 8,000 people.

Genius is infinite painstaking. — Longfellow.

Battle of Trouser Lengths

The great battle now raging in the United States over the length of women's skirts has drowned out the noise of another struggle going on among American men. It concerns the length of their trousers.

According to the Chicago Daily News, the positions in this battle the exactly the reverse of those taken by the ladies. Female advocates of fashion at any cost want to lower their skirts, while the conservative elements are trying to peg them at their present level. But, in Chicago at least, male fashionables favor styles in which the trouser cuff barely touches the top of the shoes, while the stand-patters insist that it should come down to the heel.

Conservatives argue that the new style is improper; what could be more immodest than the exposure of a man's sock as he walks the streets? And, after viewing the color patterns on some socks, most people will agree that they have a point there. The radicals, however, declare that this is a new age, and that such objections are purely reactionary. They also point out that a low-hanging cuff is apt to collect mud and germs, or perhaps even trip its narrow-minded possessor.

The old believers then come back with the powerful argument that there's nothing like a low trouser-leg to hide a hole in your sock.

So far, the matter hasn't come to parades in the streets, or picketlines outside tailor shops. But we still think that Bond Sereet will prevail in the end. Men are just a flock of sheep in such matters, aren't they? —Stratford Beacon-Herald.

Fort Knox Vault

The Treasury Department completed the immense gold cache at Fort Knox, Ky., in 1936, says The Kansas City Star. It is near the regular army camp under a gray and white mausoleum. The metal bars, some containing gold that might be traced back to the Pharaohs of Egypt and the caliphs of Bagdad, are stored in thick steel and concrete vaults between the two-storey bombproof building.

The site of Fort Knox was obtained by the War Department in January, 1918, for a World War I training camp. It was named Camp Henry Knox for the Revolutionary War general who was chief of artillery for the American forces from 1776 to 1782, commander in chief of the United States Army from 1783 to 1784 and secretary of war under President Washington.

Dropped as a permanent army post following World War I, the camp was picked in 1931 as a suitable location for the organization and training of a mechanized cavalry brigade. The name of the camp was changed to Fort Knox and it again became a permanent army post at that time. It spreads over 87,000 acres.

GRANDMA ON CHILD CARE

It's easier for a grandpa than a grandma, I suppose!
Of the art of raising babies it is little grandpa knows.
So a grandpa isn't bothered by the feeding methods new,
Since he has no recollection of what grandma used to do.
But one grandma raised a daughter, and the other raised a son,
And both of them are troubled by what now is being done.

They sit and tell each other they can see no reason why
A helpless little baby should be left in bed to cry.
They always rocked their children, and they often walked the floor,
And they didn't feed by schedule, but ten times a day or more.
And when it came to kissing, babes were kissed by all who came.
They'd no scientific system, but they grew up just the same.

A grandpa isn't bothered by the modern mother's way.
When the grandma gets excited he has not a word to say.
If an argument is started, he puts on his coat and hat,
With the very simple statement: "You two women settle that!
I don't know the baby business or the methods old and new,
But we didn't raise our children on what grandma used to do."

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

How did "ostracize" originate? "Ostracize," which now generally means to exclude from social privileges by common consent, is derived from Greek "ostrakon," the term applied by the ancient Greeks to the potsherd, fragments of pottery, tiles of earthenware or tablets of burnt clay used in voting to banish citizens regarded as dangerous to the state or otherwise politically objectionable.

It is believed that in primitive times pieces of bone or the shells of oysters, snails and mussels were used as ballots and that "ostrakon" originated as a corruption of "osteon," shell or bone. The oyster was called "ostreon" from its shell.

Ostracism as an institution peculiar to Athens and several other Greek city-states was introduced about the sixth century B.C., soon after the fall of the Pisistratus family of tyrants. It was a political device whereby those in authority might induce the populace to remove temporarily from the city persons whose influence was dreaded.

Some of the greatest men of Athens, including Aristides the Just, Themistocles, Alcibiades, Miltiades and Cimon, were formally ostracized. A citizen could not be banished or ostracized for more than ten (later reduced to five) years, and at the end of that period he was permitted to return and enjoy his estates and civil privileges. During his exile his property was held in trust by the city-state.

Often men were ostracized for what they might do rather than for what they had done. In Athens no citizen could be ostracized unless at least 6,000 duly qualified citizens took part in the proceedings, and an ostracized person could be recalled in the same manner.

If the Assembly decided that a person was dangerous to the public welfare a general meeting of the citizens was held and the ballots (ostrakons) were deposited in a place appointed for the purpose. There was no trial as such, no formal charges, no prosecution of defence and no presentation of evidence. Those favoring ostracism wrote the objectionable person's name on the potsherd ballot before casting it; those opposed cast the ballot without any inscription. If the vote was in the affirmative the ostracized citizen was given ten days to settle his private affairs.

90 PER CENT HIKE

Organized labor stirred as A. R. Mosher, President of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said in an Ottawa statement that "in effect, workers are being invited in order to meet higher living costs."

Keep Sharp Watch

And the people's representatives responded to the sharp pain the average citizen was feeling in his pocketbook.

Federal authorities, who announced the removal of the controls, kept a sharp watch on retail prices of goods affected, with F. A. McGregor, combined Investigation Commissioner, warning the baking industry against any "collusion" to fix prices.

The decontrol order was called by M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, "a fatal step toward economic chaos and inevitable depression." Toronto City Council called on the federal government to restore control of prices and subsidies affecting the consumer price of bread, milk and coal.

One of the signs that industry was alive to the situation was the statement at Toronto by Albert Deschamps, president of the Canadian Construction Association, that self-control was needed to prevent further increases in construction costs.

But many a Canadian housewife didn't hear much of the hubbub. She was too busy stocking up on flour, canned goods, clothing and other household items.

No Hope to Check Prices

Washington, Sept. 16 (AP) — Senator Claude Pepper (Dem.-Fla.) said today there is no hope for any effort to check rising living costs and "the American people might just as well get ready for another recession."

He told reporters the Republican-controlled Congress is to blame.

But Senator Owen Brewster (Rep Me) said that so far as food prices are concerned, they are high because the Truman administration is shipping too much food to Europe and other areas.

Pepper scoffed at this, saying: "We've got to help those people more, not less. If we want to stop Communism, we've got to make the capitalism of Europe work."

Senator Homer Capehart (Rep.-Ind.) said he thinks high prices are linked to the American foreign aid program but the basic answer to rising living costs is increased production and "we ought to be working 48 hours a week instead of 40."

Pepper contended that the Republicans led the fight which brought about removal of price controls last year. It is "too much to hope" that they would "reverse themselves" and do anything to haul down prices.

The Republican reply to this argument is that Congress only relaxed price controls and that the administration, which claimed the new set-up was unworkable, removed them.

"Save food to save America—that would be my slogan," Brewster declared.

He preferred putting it that way rather than saying "eat less and eat less extravagantly," as suggested by Senator Robert Taft (Rep.-Ohio). Taft said that was President Truman's idea at first.

But while the argument over prices raged on, the "eat less" idea won additional support yesterday within the administration. Commerce Secretary Harriman told a Cleveland audience that voluntary rationing would help the United States meet food needs abroad.

Both Harriman and Agriculture Under-Secretary Dodd said more food shipped overseas would help bolster Europe against Communism.

SLAVS 'JUMP GUN'

Prior to that hour, a day of Slav-Italian fioting in Trieste had resulted in the death of one man — second fatality in three days— and the wounding of 64 other persons, 11 of them Venezia Giulia policemen. Twenty-four Italian partisans were arrested.

The rioting included an attack on a British couple by a mob which stripped Mrs. Dorothy Gale-Sane, 24-year-old Cambridge University student, to the waist and inflicted cuts and eye injuries on a former lieutenant, Edward Thompson.

The attackers were described as Italians who did not desist when the two shouted they were British.

Last night, before the troops movements, Yugoslav army officers returned a United States officer and enlisted man they had held since Aug. 9. They were seized near the Morgan line and had been reported in a guardhouse at Tolmino.

The ground that went to Yugoslavia had been occupied by United States and British troops west of the Morgan line and by Yugolsav forces east of the line.

On the Yugoslav side, Slovene citizens with the troops cried, "Long live Tito! Long live Stalin!" and sang. They started dancing to accordion music, and American soldiers joined in.

The free territory, which is divided by the Morgan line, will remain split into United States-British and Yugoslav occupation zones until the U.N. Security Council picks a governor.

The territory has a population of upwards of 365,000, of which 255,000 is in Trieste.

The peopile of Trieste are predominantly Italian. Those of the hinterland completing the territory are largely Slavic.

THE TRICK PEDIATRICIAN

Brass specialists—in my language—are doctors who do not relish the prospects of serving time in general practice and, thanks to the guillible portion of the population, know they can evade the grind and the hard work that is the lot of the ordinary or family doctor by launching directly into special practice—and in this they are within the law, notwithstanding the Wiseacre belief that a "specialist" must be a better doctor than a family practitioner.

The specialism craze has passed beyond all reasonable bounds. According to statistics compiled by a federal bureau in 1932 there were 156,440 physicians in the United States, one physician for every 800 inhabitants but more than 39,000 of the physicians—one in every four—professed to be specialists.

In the fifteen years since that tally was made the proportion of "specialists" in the profession has increased so steadily that it is ridiculous—unless perchance you come down with something and need a doctor.

I say it is absurd and scandalous that every fourth doctor in the country holds himself out to the public as a specialist. But who is to blame for this shameful situation? Who is to blame for the high cost of medical service that this fad has brought about?

The blame rests principally on the organized medical profession for the pusillanimous attitude of the rank and file under the dictatorship of one Morris Fishbein. Fishbein, the public will be astonished to learn, has never been elected to any office in the American Medical Association. He just moves in and none of the yes-men who are elected officers has the courage to get in the dictator's way.

But the cowardly spirit of the organized medical profession is not entirely to blame for the brass specialist evil. The gullibility of the great American sucker in everything pertaining to health or illness is a large factor in the quick returns of the specialist business.

When you make the momentous decision, say twice in a lifetime, that maybe you should have a complete "check-up," do you consider for one moment having one of these ordinary doctors around here make the examination and assay or interpret the laboratory reports on the results of the various tests? Not you—you're too smart for that—why, shucks, with all your experience you probably understand your case as well as or a little better that an ordinary doctor can, anyway. No, indeed, you go over the heads of the pikers and straight to the great specialists in the war away clinic.

Here we are at closing time and not a word as yet about the trick pediatrician and his pet nostrum. But don't think I've forgotten—keep your subscription paid up and watch this column.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

A Break for His Majesty

First of all I want to know why I should boil my baby's milk when it is homogenized.

(Mrs. L. E. M.)

Answer—Homogenized means merely that the milk has been pressed through exceedingly fine holes so the fat globules in it are broken into such minute particles that the cream does not rise when the milk stands. Don't boil the baby's milk. Use Grade A Raw milk from tuberculin tested herd, or if that is not available, use whatever milk is available but scald it—bring it to a boil for one minute only. Send 25 cents and stamped self addressed envelope, for The Brady Baby Book.

Watch Out, Girls

I am a student nurse, and I am to give a talk on "Colds". Would appreciate any pamphlets of information. (Miss Hospital)

Answer—Send a regular size six-cent-stamped envelope bearing your address and I'll mail you the booklet "Call it C-R-I"—it will come sealed as first class mail that way. Laymen who want the book may send twenty-five cents and a stamped self addressed envelope for it.

Iodine Is Food

I don't understand what you mean by "nutritional" iodine.

(F. E. H.)

Answer—Every individual requires not less than one-tenth of a milligram of iodine every day, to keep him or her in fine fettle, well nourished. It is food, not medicine. Send stamped self addessed envelope and ask for pamphlet The Iodin Ration.

WORSENING MEAT

Requested Not to Waive Rights

Dated Sept. 10, it was sent from Manager A. E. Miller's office and also requested Mr. Daley not to waive any provincial jurisdiction in the dispute.

"Swift Canadian Co. Ltd, has continued its negotiations with the Union for collective bargaining agreement covering the six meat packing plants ever since the strike commenced two weeks ago," the letter said.

"Each day negotiations continue some progress is made toward consummation of a new contract and the company feels strongly that good labor relations may only be accomplished by collective bargaining between an employee and his employers. If each depends on a third party such as a conciliator or arbitration board, the principles of collective bargaining will inevitably break down."

Union officials had no comment. Their basic demand, sought on a country-wide basis, is a basic wage of 92 cents an hour, which would entail an average increase of 17 cents. Swift has offered three cents, Canada Packers and Burns five cents.

Secret Ballot

At Vancouver, a union spokesman said a secret ballot would be conducted among more than 600 union strikers there to decide whether they would accept a federal government proposal to resume work while conciliation was taking place.

British Columbia is one of the three provinces who have agreed to waive jurisdiction and permit intervention and conciliation by the federal government. The others are Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

A note of alarm over "the serious position of the livestock producers and the consumers of livestock products" was sounded yesterday at Calgary as urgent messages asking for settlement of the strike went out to Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta and the Canadian Congress of Labor from the Alberta Federation of Agriculture.

The messages said "tremendous losses" would be suffered by producers because of their inability to market their livestock.

Red Cross Decides To Dispose of Hut At C.N.R. Station

A meeting of the executive committee of the Belleville Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held last Thursday with Mr. M. P. Duff presiding.

The disposal of the R. C. hut at the C.N.R. station was discussed. The C.N.R. have requested its removal. No site has been found where it can be used as a Red Cross Work room. Consequently it was decided to advertise the hut for sale/by tender. A committee consisting of Messrs Harry Rollins, Alan Sprague and M. P. Duff was appointed to carry out the sale by Oct. 15.

The question of inaugurating a Red Cross Visiting Homemaker's Service was again discussed. A committee of Mrs. Watt, School Nurse and Junior Red Cross Supervisor, Miss Dorothy Connor, V.O.N. and Miss J. Tickell, Red Cross Secretary, with power to add to their numbers, was appointed to investigate the possibilities of securing a suitable supervisor, if such project is undertaken.

The treasurer, Mr. Lancaster, presented bills amounting to $269.69.

It was pointed out that these bills do not include amounts for the Coe Hill tornado victims. Men's clothing (emergency only) was purchased on short notice and a considerable quantity of good used articles was collected and sent to Coe Hill on Sept. 3. Previously the Belleville branch had advised the reeve of the district to purchase shoes in Bancroft or Madoc at Belleville Branch expense.

The secretary was requested to write a letter of thanks to CJBQ for the timely aid given in publicizing this project.

The members present were next somewhat stunned as the secretary read a letter from Mrs. W. C. Mikel resigning as chairman of the Women's Work Committee, because of the physical need to curtail activities. It was finally moved that Mrs. Mikel's resignation be accepted with regret and that her assistant, Mrs. Bulger, be requested to act as convener of that committee for the present.

The president read communications from headquarters concerning a Co-Ordinating Committee for Hastings County and other matters.

Jury Returns True Bills On Two Counts

True bills on charges of attempted murder and arson were returned against Fred E. Martin, 54, Rawdon township, here Monday afternoon by the Assize Court Grand Jury at the opening of the Supreme Court before Mr. Justice Wilson.

The true bills were returned by the Grand Jury after hearing all of the Crown's six witnesses, their report not being given until five-thirty. The two cases will go before the petit jury Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. R. D. Arnott, local solicitor is acting for the accused, while the Crown is represented by Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan.

The charges against Fred Martin were laid as the result of the burning of his farm home in the 5th concession of Rawdon township last May 6th when neighbors rescued three sleeping inmates from the burning home. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin presumably were in Stirling at the time of the fire.

Rescued Two From Home

Three young men, close neighbors of the Martins, were first to see the burning house as they returned home at 11:30 at night. They are Stan Royle, and Ray and Allan Sine. They saw flames at the Martin home and rushed in to rescue Clifford Leury, age 50; Mrs. Elizabeth Cassidy, 75, Mrs. Martin's mother, and Miss Jennie Martin, 25, invalid daughter of the Martins.

Origin of the blaze was a mystery until about one week following the fire Martin walked into the police station at Kingston and gave himself up stating he had set the blaze. He has been in custody since and for 60 days was under surveillance at the mental hospital at Kingston.

As this is Mr. Justice Wilson's first visit to the city in a judicial capacity, the welcome of the Hastings District Bar Association was extended at the opening of the session by its president, Mr. Alan Sprague.

Appreciates Welcome

"I appreciate your welcome very much," returned Mr. Justice Wilson. "Belleville is favorably known and I consider it a pleasure to sit here and I am looking forward very much to my visit here. It is always a pleasure to sit in a city which is well known."

In addressing the Grand Jury, Mr. Justice Wilson pointed out that serving in the capacity as a juryman was fulfilling one of the duties of citizenship. "I appreciate," he said, "that jury fees are not commensurate with earning of the members, but if our way of life is worthwhile maintaining they are worth this slight sacrifice, and you should not begrudge the time given as jurymen."

Violence Marks Committal Service Of Miss I. Scott

Toronto, Sept. 16 — (CP) — Police today sought two stranglers in the "lovers' lane" killings of George Vigus and pretty Iris Scott as one chapter of the bizarre murder case ended in violence at a graveside.

Relatives and friends of Vigus at his burial yesterday beat up two newspapermen and smashed three cameras as they objected to pictures being taken. The disturbance occurred even as the committal service for Miss Scott went on at another grave less than 100 yards away.

And as the sombre proceedings took place in a drizzle of rain, police who had found a second piece of sash-cord in west-end High Park, located the keys to the car in which the bodies of the 21-year-old part-time artist and her 39-year-old friend were discovered stuffed early Friday.

Still missing were two watches worn by the victims and Virgus' wallet. Finding of the second piece of cord led police to believe two persons were involved in the throttling of the couple and the fiendish cramming of their bodies in the luggage compartment of the car.

Just as the last quiet words of committal were spoken yesterday, eight mourners at Virgus' graveside turned on reporters and camera men. They mumbled curses and shouted threats as they made for the newspapermen.

One threatened to throw a reporter in the grave — "a good place for rats" — another shouted: "You've caused all this trouble." The latter then ran at a photographer, tore the camera from his hands and dashed it to the ground. Then he picked it up and bounced it over neighboring graves.

Police moved in to herd the mourners back to their cars. One man flicked with a handkerchief at mud on his coat. He had tackled his man as if in a rugby game.

They had disregarded pleading of a woman relative earlier at the funeral in a Yonge Street funeral home.

Half an hour before the service began, one of the men dashed through groups of bystanders threatening to "bust any damn camera that clicks, remember that."

The women begged: "Please don't cause a disgraceful scene here."

WEDDINGS

DUCETTE—McCRAE

Consecon. — Batterses United Church was beautifully decorated with ferns, potted plants and cut flowers, and a Gothic arch of pink and white, for the early Autumn wedding at high noon, Saturday, Sept. 6th., of Joyce Helen, only daughter of Rev. and Mrs. R. A. McRae and Norman Harold, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ducette, of Kingston, with the bride's father officiating, assisted by Rev. Thomas McNaught, of Russell, Ont., an uncle of the bride.

To the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. C. T. Clark, the bride entered the church with her father. She was becomingly gowned in white brocaded satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice buttoned down the back, featuring a yoke of net with high neckline and long sleeves ending in points at the wrists. Her floor length veil fell from a heart shaped coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses, baby breath and fern. Her only ornaments were a gem-studded sterling silver necklace and matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

A childhood friend of the bride, Miss Muriel Carley, of Consecon, was the bridesmaid, wearing a gown of Queen's blue nylon sheer with inserts of Brussels lace, the bodice fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves, and a matching fingertip veil. She carried a nosegay of white asters and pink roses.

Miss Darlere Ducette, a niece of the groom, made a dainty flower girl in a gown of pink taffeta, carrying a nosegay of Shasta daisies.

Mr. Ernest Leadbeater, Owen Sound, Ont., was the groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Herbert McNaught, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Vernon Ducette, brother of the groom.

The soloist was Miss Betty Pipe, of Kingston, who sang "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony, and "Because" during the signing of the register.

During the reception for approximately 50 guests at Erwell Manor, Batterses, the bride's mother received in a black and white ensemble of silk jersey, with a corsage of Joanna Hill roses, and was assisted by Mrs. Herbert Ducette, attired in a gown of black silk crepe with a corsage of American Beauty roses.

For travelling to New York City the bride chose a tailored suit of brown gabardine, with rose accessories, and wore a corsage of American Beauty roses. After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Ducette will take up residence in Kingston.

Out-of-town guests were from Russell, Vankleek Hill, Brockville, Toronto, Oshawa, Brighton and Consecon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Haight "At Home" For Golden Wedding

On the afternoon and evening of Sunday, Sept. 14, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Haight of Lonsdale, Ont., were at home to their friends and neighbors in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. All the arrangements for this event were made by the family, as a surprise to their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Haight are both natives of Tyendinaga Township, having resided in Lonsdale all of their married life, where they are still active following the occupation of farming.

Mr. Haight is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Haight, while his bride, of fifty years is the former Penelope McCrae, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dan McCrae, of Lonsdale. Mr. and Mrs. Haight have four children, Joseph of Lonsdale; Mary of Ottawa; Kenneth, living with his parents, and Mervin, of Picton, all of whom were present. There is also one grandson, Angus Haight, of Lonsdale.

Fifty years ago, Sept. 15, 1897, William Haight hitched the family "Dobbin" to the democrat and drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McCrae to claim his bride. The officiating clergyman was the late Rev. D. McArthur of the Presbyterian Church in Lonsdale. Mrs. Wm. Sparrow of Belleville, a sister of the bride, and Mr. Wm. McCrae, of Lonsdale, were the attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Haight are faithful members of the United Church at Lonsdale, Mrs. Haight being very active in the women's organizations of the church.

During the afternoon and evening of Sunday, guests were received by Miss Mary Haight and Mrs. Jos. Haight. Their corsages were of pink Brair Hill roses. The spacious living and dining rooms were appropriately decorated in the traditional color scheme of gold and white and adding considerably to their festive appearance were fifty large bronze 'mums attractively arranged in crystal vases. The flowers were a gift from Mrs. Houle of Ottawa.

The tea table was covered with an Irish linen cloth and centred with a handsomely decorated three-tier "wedding" cake, and bouquets of "mums".

Presiding over the silver tea services were Mrs. D. J. McHenry, of Lonsdale, and Mrs. John Cross, of Roslin, Ont. Replenishing plates and tea pots were Miss Doreen Cross, Roslin, Ont., and Mrs. John McLean of Cannifton. Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Cromwell, of Ottawa, Mrs. Clifford Galway, of Picton, and Mrs. Houle of Ottawa.

In keeping with the golden anniversary some gifts tendered the honored couple were gold in color. The family of Mr. and Mrs. Haight presented their parents with a silver tea service in grape design, the presentation being made by their only grandson, Angus Haight. In addition Mrs. Haight was the recipient of a corsage of Talisman roses, and several cards and telegrams were received.

Approximately one hundred friends called to pay their respects and to express congratulations to the "bride and groom".

Guests were present from Ottawa, Brockville, Belleville and Toronto.

Your Healthy Children

By KATE AITKEN

Down the street they come — on bicycles, on foot, on scooters, on roller skates. It's motion, action — everywhere, children are playing. Wise mothers know that these highly tuned motors need fuel, and plenty of it, if they are to stay in top form. The problem is deciding what foods give the best returns in health for children. For instance — milk is a must. A quart a day for every growing child, say the experts. Drink it straight, use it on cereals, or absorb it in delectable desserts. Youngsters also need butter, and eggs, too. Fruits will add sparkle to young eyes, and lots of vegetables build a barrier against disease. See Kate Aitken's column in this week's Standard. There are timely hints on what to do about children's menus. The Standard is on sale now — 10 cents at all newsdealers.

FLOUR AND BREAD PRICES TO BE INCREASED
Government Withdraws Subsidy to Consumer

CANADIAN housewives will soon be asked to pay higher prices for flour. The Milling Industry of Canada would like to tell why.

Nearly six years ago the price of flour was fixed at the low prices then ruling, based on wheat costing 77⅜c per bushel when milled for use in Canada.

Since then, the price of wheat has advanced step by step, but the Government has paid the difference in the form of a consumer subsidy in order that you might buy flour and bread at no increase.

Wheat has actually risen to $1.58½ a bushel so that for some time past the Government has been paying more than half the full cost.

Now the Government has dropped the subsidy and the price Millers will pay for wheat through the Government Wheat Board will be more than double what it was originally. That is why the cost of flour will be increased.

Furthermore, the cost of bags, other supplies, labour and transportation has increased substantially during the control period.

Canadian Millers, however, knowing the importance of flour in the family diet pledge themselves to keep the price as low as they possibly can.

The prices of practically all ingredients in bread have also risen sharply and your Baker must take this into consideration when calculating his new prices.

Little Benny's Note Book

Ma was reeding her Home and Table Magazine, saying to pop, I dont believe a werd of it, William. I meen this article about handwriting, and how you can unearth the finest shades of a person's caracter just by the way they form the most insignificant letter of the slightest werd, she said.

There's a lot of it, pop said, and ma said, Now William, everybody learns the same alfabet, and some may be better naturel spellers than others, or even neeter about blots, but that's as far as it goes.

Not at all my dear, pop said, Orthogriffy is a real science. I delved into it myself at one time, and I assure you I can tell more from a person's handwriting than meets the blotter, he said, and ma said, In that case, prove it. Here's a half finished letter I started to my sister Fanny. Just look at it and tell me all about myself as if you'd never seen me before, she said.

Nothing could be easier, pop said.

And he looked at the letter, saying, Any judge of handwriting could see with half a glants that you're not easy to fool. You look beneath the surface of people and events with an X-ray eye, and you can spot the true from the falts like nobody's bizzness, he said, and ma said, Why William, that's quite remarkable. Really, I mean really, even strangers exclaim at the penetration of my casual judgments. The idea of my hand-writing showing that, she said.

It shows more than that, pop said. It shows you have the courage of your convictions and when you have learned from long experience to trust a superior judgment, you are willing to abide by it, he said, and ma said, Now William I tell you that's a good picture and you're going to injoy it thoroughly, so put down that paper and get reddy to go, and dont think you can rub the wool over my eyes with a lot of rubbish that I saw through life a transparent book before you even started, so go ahead and laugh and show your ignorance.

Which pop kept on doing all the time he was changing his slippers to his shoes to take ma to the movies.

Liberal Leader Criticizes Drew

Chesterville, Ont., Sept. 16 — (CP) — Farquhar Oliver, Ontario Liberal leader, charged last night that Ontario already had lost millions of dollars through failure of the government of Premier Drew to sign an agreement with the Federal government and said this failure also was denying social security measures to all Canada.

Addressing a public meeting on his current tour of the Ottawa Valley, Mr. Oliver said unless Ontario eventually reached an agreement with the Dominion Premier Drew will be forced to impose double income tax.

It was his opinion however, that the Ontario Government would not sign such an agreement until after an election had been called and "then only in the event of their success."

"There could not, in my opinion, be any justification for the granting of a second (Dominion-Provincial) Conference for seven provinces have already signed and if a second conference were called and it failed, it would damn Dominion-Provincial relations in Canada for a century to come."

250,000 Canadians Petition For Bigger Old Age Pension

A new Act governing old-age pensions was passed at the recent session of Parliament. Like most legislation, the new pensions Act had its origin in public need. The pensions paid to the aged and the blind had been badly whittled down by the rising cost of living. Concern over this situation — both in Parliament and outside — led to action. Soon Parliament was considering Bill 399, "A Bill to Amend the Old Age Pensions Act". The procedure followed with this measure gives an indication of how Parliament works. A well-informed public that makes itself heard is the best guarantee of good government. See Law in the Making — a ten page Photo Story in this week's Standard. Marshall Plan Being Made Ready For Presentation

London, Sept. 16 (Reuters) — The Marshall "Aid-to-Europe" program, drawn up in Paris by representatives of 16 countries, will be ready for presentation to participating governments this week, the United States economic under-secretary William Clayton, disclosed today.

Clayton, who arrived last Thursday from Paris after criticizing the original program as being "too much like a shopping list," this morning attended a 90-minute meeting of the Board of Governors of the International Bank behind closed doors at which the second annual report was adopted.

In a jovial mood, he said afterwards: "The meetings, which naturally have as one of their purposes the question of aiding Europe in its present difficult and economic situation, are proceeding satisfactorily."

It was reliably learned that the only sign of dissension at this morning's session was an open complaint by Latin-American delegates that the bank appeared to be placing more emphasis on the grant of loans for reconstruction in Europe than for development work in other countries.

John J. McCloy, bank president, replied that any applications for development loans would certainly be considered.

BUTLER'S BARRACKS
1780-1944
During the summer of 1780 when the ... of the American Revolution were ... raging the world over, Fort Niagara had become a haven of refuge for ... Loyalists who had been mercilessly evicted from their former homes ... and Pennsylvania. Sir Frederick Haldimand who was then Governor General of Canada determined to construct a ... Barracks on the west bank of the Niagara River for the accommodation of the Corps of Riflemen enlisted among these refugees by Lieut. Col. John Butler of the Indian Department. During the Autumn of that year this building was completed. It is still used for military purposes and is commonly known as Butlers Barracks.

One of the oldest military buildings in Canada, Butler's Barracks (left) at Niagara Camp is to be preserved for historical reasons, while all around it other buildings are being torn down or moved away after the wartime-busy encampment was declared surplus this year. EVEN FOR MY BEST FRIEND
I wouldn't do it again!

Jim owned his house; he had a car, some insurance, a few stocks and bonds, a modest bank account and a small business. About the same possessions as my own. We wouldn't have called it an "estate".

I said "Sure!" when he asked me to be his executor. Nothing to it, I thought.

And then, bang from the start, succession duties had me baffled. Before I finished, I had to employ experts to untangle things.

Not for friend or family will I ever do it again! But from this experience I know, now, why it pays to obtain the services of a competently organized, fully experienced company.

For the security of my family I've appointed National Trust as my Executor.

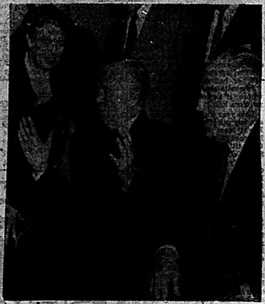
U. N. GENERAL ASSEMBLY OPENS TUESDAY



U. S. Secretary of State George Marshall holds his hands in the typical attitude of the angler who's telling a tall one as he chats with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, left, widow of the former U. S. President, and Warren Austin, U. S. representative to the United Nations and ambassador to the U. N. Security Council. Secretary Marshall met with the other members of the U. S. delegation at U. N. Park Ave. headquarters in New York to prepare for the opening of the U. N. General Assembly at Lake Success, N.Y. Secretary Marshall plans to direct the play-by-play work of U. S. delegates in the assembly and will appear as a member of the political and security committee when vital questions arise.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE . . . . . .

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

To master a cumbersome bridge system, you must read between the lines. Not so with Horse Sense, buddy. Each sentence in my book speaks volumes. But briefly, direct, and without weasel words.

Look at this one: Any one-jump is forcing to game. That's all. No pages and pages of whereases and wherefores. No under these and those conditions. Just plain: Any one-jump is forcing to game.

Can there be any doubt as to what the jumper means? If a jump is a signal that the bidding must go to a game, what could it mean? It means that the jumper sees enough for game.

What does a jumper see enough of? He simply sees tricks enough in their pair to make a game. It needs no brilliant deductions. Plain as the nose on your puss.

A trick is any high card (ace or king or queen) or short card. An opener always shows five. Responder is always assumed to have two before he speaks. Each raise by either shows another trick.

Unless he sees tricks enough for a game, responder shows them gradually. If he sees enough for a game, he shows all of them with a jump as soon as possible.

Game in a major needs ten tricks. Game in a minor needs 11. If the trump suit has not been decided, 11 should be considered the need for a game. When either partner sees that many, he jumps.

South opens with a heart with this hand:

♠ 9
♥ A Q 10 7 3
♦ A K J 6 2
♣ K 4

North makes a response of two clubs. He shows more than two; at least three tricks. South now one-jumps to three diamonds. Is there any doubt as to what he shows?

Trump has not been decided. A jump admits seeing 11 tricks in that case. North has shown only three. South must have eight.

You reach a better end with ways you comprehend.

The Movie Column

By RALPH DIGHTON

Hollywood, Sept. 16 (AP) — You may not think Jack Carson is funny — and even Jack will admit you could be right —but around town he's known as one of the greatest "dressing room comics" in the business.

That's a left-handed compliment. That's like saying your collie would be a great racehorse if only he were a horse. In the dressing room or during rehearsals, Carson is irrepressible. But on the screen his gags have all the spontaneity of a bankers' board meeting.

Jack has fallen back on the old reliable dodge of being the butt of his own jokes. Let a blind man step on a banana peel and somebody is bound to laugh. The guy who laughs can also be found laughing at Carson's screen gags.

I stopped by the "April Showers" set to see Carson in a vaudeville routine with 12-year-old Bobby Ellis. They had been dancing all morning, but when Carson stepped down off the stage it was as if he had been wrestling hogs.

When he got his breath back, he pointed to little Bobby, still dancing away on the stage, and said, "would you believe it, that kid didn't know how to dance six weeks ago. I helped him all I could, and he still learned to dance. He'll probably steal my show."

Which would be an understatement of the first magnitude. People are always stealing shows from Carson. In "Romance in High C" the theft, committed by newcomer Doris Day, assumed the proportions of grand larceny.

"And she," said Jack, "isn't even supposed to be an actress. She sings."

Mimico Mountaineers Defeat St. Catharines

Toronto, Sept. 16. (CP)—Mimico Mountaineers broke loose with a smashing 10-goal drive in the last two periods at Mimico Bowl last night to whip St. Catharines Athletics 15-7 and eliminate last year's Mann Cup Champs from the Dominion Boxla race. Some 3,300 fans cheered the Mounties as they chalked up their fourth straight victory in the best-of-seven Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior finals.

Mimico advanced against Cornwall in a best-of-three-series for the Eastern Canada title to be played in Cornwall. The first two games are scheduled for Sept. 23 and 25 and a third if necessary will be played Sept. 26.

Eddie Sanford, towering Mimico forward, spearheaded his team to victory with three goals, while Fitzgerald and Scott, with two goals apiece, starred for the losers. Favell, in the losers' net, played the best defensive role of the night, repeatedly thwarting Mimico thrusts.

THE MILKMAN IN YOUR LIFE

There are approximately 6,000 milk salesmen in Canada, employed by 120 dairies. Canadians from coast to coast would be surprised, and perhaps disconcerted, to learn how much the milkman knows of their personal habits and integrity. Each salesman makes a report to his supervisor concerning every house served. If the bottles are returned dirty, that residence is recorded as a "bad call". "I can give you a pretty good idea of how five or six hundred families in this city live," declared one supervisor. "Some are sloppy, some are neat, and a lot are spending every cent their husbands earn, if their slowness in paying accounts is any indication." For many more interesting details about your milkman's life, read The Standard this week. You can buy The Standard at any newsdealer's for 10 cents.

AT THE BELLE —Joan Crawford, "Mildred Pierce" Academy-Award winner, and John Garfield, co-starred in Warner Bros.' exciting new drama, "Humoresque," portray powerful cinematic lovers in the Belle Theatre's current attraction. Oscar Levant and J. Carrol Naish head a large supporting cast.

AT THE CAPITOL — Inspector Koch (Lee J. Cobb) hopes for a "break" in a sensational murder as he awaits gambler Marchettis' (S. Thomas Gomez) reactions to this jewelled watch, an important clue in Columbia's "Johnny O'Clock", at the Capitol Theatre. Dick Powell, in the title role, is waiting too. On the same program the musical comedy in Technicolor, "Bring On the Girls," stars Eddie Bracken, Veronica Lake, Sonny Tufts and Marjorie Reynolds.

John Bull Staggering Back Into World Ring as Fighter

By STUART UNDERHILL
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

A gaunt, desperate John Bull is staggering back into the world ring as a fighter. The next few months will prove whether the tired old battler still packs a wallop.

Many observers, including friends of Britain, wrote the country off as a world power when the enemy snarled at the door in the early years of the war. Then, British men and women snapped out of their languor and fought back in a way that won the world's respect and led to victory. Much the same situation has arisen at the present stage of the post-war struggle.

"It is a matter of life and death," Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, told the country in a broadcast address Friday night in which he outlined the details of his intensified export plan and warned of added shortages that must be borne.

Sir Stafford, who spoke with the simple sincerity of a "Christian Socialist," was the latest in a series of government speakers to go to the microphone to try to instill in the people a sense of urgency. The lackadaisical attitude of workers is something that has shocked visitors and has constantly worried the government.

However, even before Sir Stafford spoke there were signs that the working classes were waking up. A notable indication was the stand taken by the Trades Union Congress at its recent convention where the theme of greater production at any cost even if it involved temporary loss of hard-won privileges — was constantly stressed.

Portrayed by Cartoonist

The T. U. C. customarily is portrayed by cartoonist David Low of the London Standard as a rather stupid white cart horse and very often the rank and file seem more alive to the situation than their leaders. That makes the call for action by the leaders more significant.

Arthur Horner, secretary of National Union of Mine workers, who in the last 18 months has won startling improvements for the coal miners, has indicated readiness to surrender some of those concessions for the good of the country. Even the treasured five-day week seems likely to be given up.

But how about the workers themselves? How do they feel?

First, you have to go back to the months immediately after the war. Almost all of them had worked hard under hellish conditions. When the war was over, victory was theirs. What's more, their government — Labor—was in power and the promised land was in view.

Naturally, they wanted rewards for their war work and righting of injuries, real or imagined, which they had suffered before that. Politicians preached the gospel they wanted to hear and everything seemed rosy.

Why bust your back trying to lay more bricks? Why not knock off an extra day when the weather was fine? If toffs can have a day at the races, why can't we?

That's the way many reasoned.

The rest of the world was probably quicker than the British working man to see that his dreams were not working out. But now he knows — none better.

There are still plenty of workers light-hearted enough to say a "lower standard of living means harder lines for the toffs but not for me," But their leaders are in violent disagreement with this outlook and are trying hard to change it.

How successful they are will be told in export figures.

Lighter Wheat Yield in U.K.

London Sept. 16 (CP) —British farmers, having completed what is called "the easiest cereals harvest in memory," now find it to have been the lightest in yield at a time when the United Kingdom needs every grain.

The agriculture ministry estimated the wheat yield at 15.9 hundredweight an acre compared with a 10-year average of 18.8 and 19 hundredweight in 1946.

The wheat acreage target in 1947 was 2,500,000 against 2,000,000 actual acreage in 1946. Even if the 1946 target were met, the reduced yield means that British home wheat production was only about 40,000,000 hundredweight against 38,000,000 from last years lower acreage.

Chief interest now is on the potato crop, being gathered as a standby for British households in what probably will be a hard winter for food. Reports vary, but in many districts dry weather again has reduced yields. More than 10,000,000 tons were gathered last year, but is is doubted if this figure will be reached in 1947.

Yanks, With American League Pennant Clinched, Soon to Have Nat. League Partner in Dodgers

Bucky Harris' Club Backs Into Seat Without Playing Game on Monday

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York Yankees took a bow today for winning their 15th flag in the last 27 years, a feat accomplished by no other team. Indications are that the new American League champions shortly will have a National League partner to help share the pennant celebrations, Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Yankees clinched their championship yesterday without lifting a bat when Chicago White Sox defeated Boston Red Sox 6-3 in the first game of a doubleheader.

The Dodgers' clinching date should come before the end of the week. Leading the fast-fading St Louis Cardinals by 7½ games the Brooks need only any combination of six victories or Redbird defeats to earn the right to face the Yankees in the "subway" World Series. The Dodgers have 11 games left to play and the Cards 14. If everything goes their way, the Dodgers can wrap up the flag Thursday.

The Yankees were sitting in the club house when they heard the news that they had backed in through the Red Sox' loss. They wanted to win it on the field, but rain postponed their game against St. Louis Browns.

Manager Bucky Harris gave most of the credit to his players. "I told you . . . he reminded baseball writers, "that I would not have taken the job unless I believed we had a chance to win.

Most Thrilling

"After 22 years of waiting, I'd say this pennant is the most thrilling of the three I've had."

After losing the opener, the Red Sox came back to trop the White Sox 7-5 in the second game of the doubleheader. Dom DiMaggio's two-run homer in the seventh proved the deciding blow.

The Tigers increased their second-place lead over the Red Sox to a full game when they whipped the Senators 7-2 in a night game in Washington. It was the sixth straight loss for the Senators.

The Cards lost another half game to the Dodgers when they were beaten for the second straight time by New York Giants in St. Louis 10-5. Billy Rigney, with two doubles, two singles and a triple in five times at bat, led the Giants' 12-hit attack on five St. Louis pitchers. Walker Cooper chipped in with his 32nd homer for the Giants.

Bested in Hurling Duel

Lefty Bob Chipman bested Johnny Sain in a hurling duel as Chicago Cubs nipped the Boston Braves 3-2 in the last game of the season between the two teams. Sain was bidding for his 20th victory of the year. The Braves took the series 13-9.

With Hank Greenberg hitting his 25th home run, Pittsburgh Pirates rapped Philadelphia Phils 12-2 to move out of the National League cellar. The Phils moved in.

George Metkovich's triple and Lou Boudreau's single gave Bob Leman and Cleveland Indians an 11-inning 2-1 victory over the Athletics in a night game in Philadelphia.

The Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds were idle.

OSHAWA JUNIORS ARE REINSTATED

Peterborough, Sept. 16 (CP)—Indignation is expressed in local baseball circles today over the right about face of the Ontario Baseball Association regarding the Oshawa B'Nai B'Brith junior team which was refused O.B.A. permission to continue in the provincial playdowns. The O.B.A. upheld a Peterborough protest, based on the fact that Oshawa had not submitted proper players forms to the association before going into the playdowns.

This complaint of the Peterborough club was confirmed by the O.B.A. and later admitted to by Oshawa officials. Secretary W. J. Snyder of the Ontario body then advised Oshawa that it had not lived up to association rules and could not continue in play this season.

Since then, it was learned that other clubs in the province were at fault, too, and the O.B.A. yesterdoy advised Peterborough that Oshawa would be allowed to continue in the playoffs. It is not known whether Peterborough will continue in the league or drop out in protest.

Romeo the Canary "Lost" in Sugar Bowl

Antioch, Ill., Sept. 15 (AP) — A worried woman placed an advertisement in the Antioch News last week seeking news of her lost love bird.

"Romeo has left Juliet (his mate) and I can't find him anywhere," Mrs. R. Johannneson explained. "I called for him from sundown until two o'clock this morning."

A half hour later she called back and cancelled the ad.

"I was getting breakfast and when I lifted the lid of the sugar bowl out he flew," she explained.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

New York, Sept. 16 (AP) — Now that the Yankees are "in" as far as the American League is concerned and the Dodgers are close to clinching the National League pennant baseball experts are beginning to note that the "old" Cardinal machine which won four pennants in the last five years is beginning to come apart at the seams... perhaps a few stitches are popping, but if the Cards are old, how do you account for the Yankees' easy triumph?... leaving out Joe Garagiola and the late-arriving Nippy Jones, the Cards' regular line-up averages something under 30 years in age. The Yankee regulars average around 31 ... to get an average age on the Brooklyn team would require the services of Branch Rickey's private statisticians. They have some old guys like Dixie Walker, Hugh Cacey and Eddie Stanky and an apparently inexhausible supply of good young players to put in when they're needed.

It is, Joe, unless you hold a wining ticket on a commissioner.

LOUIS DECIDES FIGHT WILL BE FOR THE TITLE

Date Has Been Set for December 15th and Joe Walcott the Opponent

New York, Sept. 16 (AP) — A prolonged search having failed to turn up anything akin to a logical heavyweight title contender, Joe Louis has decided to make his next scrap worth while.

Joe went after golf seriously this summer, figuring it was up to the boxing moguls to find a ring opponent that would be least make it interesting. He agreed to an appearance against Jersey Joe Walcott but stipulated that the championship crown would have to be on the shelf.

Then yesterday the Bomber changed his mind and agreed to make the Walcott party an honest-to-goodness, 15-round affair with the championship at stake. They had originally been scheduled for a so-called non-title contest of 10 rounds in Madison Square Garden Nov. 14.

Louis, never too warm about the non-title angle, readily accepted the suggestion of Eddie Eagan chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, to lengthen the bout to the 15-round championship route. The date was set back three weeks to Dec. 5.

Eagan, in suggesting the change from a non-title bout, pointed out that a defeat for the champion in such a bout would cause some controversy and that Walcott certainly would be recognized as champion if he should win by a knockout.

Walcott incidentally, never has fought 15 rounds, but he apparently doesn't see where it is much tougher than a 10-round fight, if he runs true to form of the champ's last few victims, he'll never get a chance to find out.

Tommy Anderson Appointed Coach Oshawa Generals

(By The Canadian Press)

Tommy Anderson, veteran of the Toronto Maple Leafs Hockey organization, has been appointed coach of Oshawa Generals in the Ontario Hockey Association's Junior circuit. Anderson, 37-year-old native of Drumheller, Alta., succeeds Charlie Conacher, former Leaf forward and one of major hockey's all-time greats, but no reason for the change has yet been made public. The new Generals' coach, who played last season with Hollywood Wolves, of the Pacific Coast League, reported to the Leafs' annual pre-training camp at St. Catharines yesterday.

Alex Jany of France captured another world swimming mark at Menton, France, Monday, when he covered the 100-meter free-style course in 55.8 seconds. He already holds the 200 and 400 meter titles. Previous holder was Alan Ford of Yale University, whose time was 55.9 seconds.

Toronto Peoples, playing a second-round game, bowed 4-0 last night to the Hanford, Calif., team in the 13th annual men's softball championships at Cleveland. The defeat dropped the Toronto nine into the lower bracket of the tournament. Peoples now play the loser of the tussle between Cleveland and St. Joseph, Mo. If Toronto loses tonight, the team will be eliminated.

Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League have opened training at Regina's Queen City Gardens, and it is expected that more than 100 players will pass through the camp before the line-ups are fixed for the Hawks and their affiliated teams, Kansas City Pla-Mors of the United States League and the Winnipeg Black Hawks.

Winnipeg Scottish evened their best-of-three series in the semifinals of the Canadian Soccer championship at one game each last night by defeating Montreal Carsteel 2-0 at Winnipeg.

Bobby Bauer, right-winger of Boston Bruins famous Kraut line, retired from hockey at the end of last season—he said. Bobby watched two workouts of the Kitchener-Waterloo Senior Ontario Hockey Association team, but that was all. Before the third practice started, he was there with skates on. Now the Seniors are hoping he will play with them in between coaching duties with the Guelph Junior A team.

Montreal, Sept. 16. (CP)—The sudden eclipse of Montreal's 1947 Baseball Royals came as something of a shock to the baseball-conscious metropolis but there was general agreement Manager Clay Hopper had done a good job.

Immediately the question arose, where, if anywhere does Hopper go from here?

Last year the quiet-spoken Missippian piloted a swash-buckling Royal team to the International League pennant, the Governors' Cup title and the Little World Series championship.

This year, with practically an entirely new squad that sadly lacked the power of last year's team, Hopper kept his team in first place through most of the season until the very last day.

Then they split a doubleheader and ended up in second place. The stretch drive still took in the first round of the Governor's Cup playoff and the Royals were eliminated, four straight, by Syracuse Chiefs.

There were times in the last month of the campaign that Hopper's canny baseball knowledge and clever handling of pitchers kept his weak-hitting team in front.

Baz (Montreal Star) O'Meara says last year Hopper was known as a "push-button manager" by other pilots in the league because he had such a wealth of talent at his command.

"This year they gained respect for his strategy. In fact he is talked about as a possible successor to Burt Shotton at Brooklyn. . . .Everybody seems to take it for granted that Shotton will bow out whether Dodgers win or lose. . . If he does, Hopper has as good a chance as anyone to succeed him—even Durocher."

There may even be other major league opportunities for Hopper besides the parent Brooklyn Club. In Syracuse he told Lloyd (Star) McGowan: "If I don't manage a major league team next season I want to return to Montreal. It is the best place I know of next to Greenwood, Mississippi."

Hopper said if he left Montreal his likely successor would be Al Todd, a winner at Mobile, Ala., this season.

375.2 Miles Per Hour Attained By Cobb on Bonneville Flats

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, Sept. 16 (AP) —Britain's John Cobb will make another attempt to better his own automobile speed record on this saline course late today if mechanics can complete repairs on his 7,700-pound racing car.

Cobb turned the car into repair pits last night after speeding over the salt flats at 375.2 miles an hour. He said he hoped to make his new attempt at 4 a.m. PST. Officials pointed out that if Cobb rolls over the Bonneville course late today it will be the first time a record attempt has been made in the afternoon. Drivers since Sir Malcolm Campbell first used the Salt Flats for speed runs in 1935, have preferred a post-dawn time, officials said daytime heat brings moisture to the surface of the track. The sticky track puts additional drag on the wheels and reduces speed.

Cobb has been dogged by ill luck for more than a month and yesterday was no exception when the under part of the car's tail section and the 75-gallon ice tank used to cool the two 12-cylinder motors were damaged.

The 375.2 clip for the kilometre (about five-eighths of a mile) excelled Cobb's world land speed record of 369.7 for that distance. He was timed at 370.5 for the mile which topped the record of 368,7 which Cobb set in 1939.

$83,580 Contributed Toward Olympic Games

Toronto, Sept. 16 — (CP) — A total of $83,580 has been collected to date as Canada's contribution towards expenses of her athletes in the 1948 Olympics, the Canadian Olympic Association announced today. Grand objective in a drive for funds to insure that no Canadian athlete will have to pay his own way to the Olympics, is $129,000.

Important contributions to date have been $35,000 from the Dominion government, $22,690 from business firms, $3,290 from individuals and $2,500 from municipalities.

Provincial government grants have been made as follows: Saskatchewan, New Brunswick and Alberta $2,000 apiece; Prince Edward Island, $100; British Columbia $2,500; Quebec $4,000 and Ontario $7,500.

PUMPING OUT STOMACH SOBERS WOMAN UP

Windsor, Sept. 15 — (CP)—Police wasted no time in rushing to an East Windsor home early yesterday after receiving a report that a woman had drunk a bottle of iodine. They found the woman lying on the floor with an iodine bottle beside her. Rushed to hospital, her stomach was pumped but revealed no trace of iodine. Police explained that the woman had been "very drunk" and the hospital treatment had sobered her up. She denied drinking the fluid.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor.

Memorial Arena officials here are sparing no effort to produce ice for the hit-champing Philadelphia Rockets hockey squad who are cooling their heels in more or less inactivity awaiting the opening practice whistle. Latest reports as of last night from the Arena intimated that ice would be in the process of making today and that practice might start on Wednesday.

• • •

Meanwhile, time's awastin' and the Rockets perforce will have to do some strenuous training in the abbreviated time left them. The remainder of the regulars are expected at the end of this week, and under ordinary circumstances the rookies would have gone through their tryouts and weeding-out process well under way. As matters are, Coach Wally Kilrea will have his hands full at the weekend, if the ice is in playing condition.

• • •

Regulars of the Rockets who will be showing their wares here in practice and a couple of exhibition tilts include Nick Damore, goal; defenceman, Eddie Bush, Billy Walsh, Jim Drummond; Jack Portland and Alex Motter, Centres; Walter Stefaniw; Johnny Mahaffey, and Kenny Kilrea; rightwingers, Phil Hergesheimer; Bob Walton; Wendell Jamieson; Steve Wochy and Ralph Buchanan; leftwingers, Mike Narduzzi; and Chuck Kraiger. Lou Trudel, former National Hockey League star who was acquired by the Rockets will be a dubious starter, due to business activities.

• • •

Jack Portland, the 210 pound defenceman who formerly starred with Montreal Canadiens and played last year with the Buffalo entry in the American League, was born in Picton thirty-three years ago. His father was the chief of police in that town in those days when boys were boys and Cowboys and Indians was the favorite sport of the town's flaming youth. Jack Yanover, of the Queen's Hotel recalls the day when he was the leader of the "Jesse James" gang who fought the "Sitting Bull" squad, to a finish and in the course of battle several windows in public buildings were the target for the "guns" of the warring factions. Portland, Sr., promptly took the young culprits in hand, paraded them before the local cadi, Levi Williams, by whom they were severely admonished.

• • •

However, Jack left the Prince Edward County town when he were rompers and has not been back for any length of time since. He is tall and rangy, with plenty of beef and reports state that when he hits an opposing player, he "stays hit" or at least his bones jangle quite audibly.

• • •

Rookies from all parts are still coming to the city and it is expected some forty budding pucksters will be tearing around the ice surface within a day or so. Meanwhile they are getting acclimatized, and getting in some conditioning work by various ways and means.

• • •

This Batawa aggregation appears to be bound for punishment tonight at the Fair Grounds, they meet the Trenton Flyers in the first game of the Belleville Baseball Association League finals. Tomorrow night they take on the Peterborough squad in the first game of their second round OBA Intermediate "A" playdowns. The game tonight starts at eight o'clock. Mark the time please eight bells instead of 8.30. Lights will flash on about 7.30.

• • •

Personally we think the Batawa squad is taking unnecessary chances. This city league stuff could wait for at least a week and is of secondary importance as compared to the OBA playdowns. The Batawans have a strong team and should go a long way down that playdown trail. They are definitely jeopardising their chances of a championship by playing league games prior to a playdown tilt. However that's their baby and if anything happens to one of the squad they have themselves to blame.

• • •

Meantime all arrangements have been made for the game tonight and in passing we might add that the Flyers and Batawa suggested that the tilt should be played, and not the League Executive. It should be a good tilt, a regular Flyers-Bata diamond brawl and no doubt a large crowd of the faithful will be out. But we still think the majority of the crowd will hold back for tomorrow night's affair with Peterborough.

• • •

Point Anne Leafs bowed out of the picture last night in Cobourg taking another 4-3 defeat from the Oshawa Legion. They can pack up their gear and wait for another year, if and when senior softball gets under way here in 1948.

REVENUERS WANT CHUNK OF COIN IF GAME PRO.

Football Men Predict an Unfavorable Decision Would Topple House of Cards

Toronto, Sept. 16. (CP)—The revenuers huddled over Canadian gridirons today, intent on uncovering for taxation purposes just how professional the amateur game is, and football men predicted an unfavorable decision would topple their house of high-priced Cards.

Football officialdom lined up solid in its initial reaction to an Ottawa announcement last night that a 20-per-cent tax on gate receipts may be imposed if the Senior game is found to be professional.

It would "kill Senior Amateur Football" in Ottawa, said H. A. Plant, president of Ottawa Trojans of the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

"We'll close right up," said Dr. Malcolm Kinsella, executive member of the Dominion Championship Toronto Argonauts, adding: "And not just the Argonauts—the whole Big Four will fold up."

Ottawa Rough Riders is "just a non-profit-sharing organization and we're in it for fun," said E. K. Emmerson, Rough Riders president. In 50 years of playing, Rough Riders hadn't accumulated a nickel, he added.

The Revenue Department spokesman in Ottawa said the Canadian Rugby Union was being asked about the status of the East's two Senior circuits—the Ontario Union and the Big Four—with a view to determining their taxability. It seemed to revolve about the definition of professional.

In a parallel case, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association is designated as "amateur". It's official definition since throwing the game open to professional players early in the war after the publicized case of Bobby Porter, the Toronto boy whom they tried to keep out because he was playing professional baseball. The influx of United States imports that started last year under relaxed residence restrictions left no doubt the players were being paid.

But, as Dr. Kinsella said, "Nobody on the Argos executive makes a cent." In addition, the club subsidized the Argonaut Rowing Club, "a purely amateur endeavor".

"We don't always make money. We've been on notes dozens of times—and not small amounts either," he added.

He pointed out that the threatened 20-per-cent tax couldn't be added to tickets because the "public are bearing the limit now." With prices for Argo home games ranging from $1 to $2, the team drew only 13,000 fans for last Saturday's home game at Varsity Stadium, which holds 19,000.

The Ottawa announcement said the Revenue Department decided to investigate the two leagues following reports they might operate on a professional basis, apparently the reason why the three-team Western Canada conference wasn't included. It seemed to leave it up to the department to write the definition of amateur—something that sportsmen have been pondering for years.

The department spokesman said it was expected a decision would be reached this week.

CHAPTER 14.

"Room alone or with someone?"

"I don't know. What difference does that make?"

"Probably none. Now hang up. I'll be in touch with you."

Too many Hope House girls stayed home that day. They drifted up and downstairs and in and out of each other's rooms, collected in lounge and lobby, and looked over their shoulders when they were alone. Miss Plummer, pressed into day service, stood guard at the desk. Miss Brady issued orders.

"I'm counting on you, Ethel," Miss Brady said. "People have been falling in bathrooms for years. I've said that until I'm hoarse, and now I'm handing it on to you. We've got to keep out of the papers. Mrs. Marshall-Gill says she is ravaged. Of all the—well, never mind. Just break up any group that starts whispering and be firm. No callers allowed, I don't care who they say they are or what they look like."

"Is Lillian—"

"She's all right. Unconscious, but nothing to worry about. Now carry on like a good girl Miss Small and I are lunching with Mrs. Marshall-Gill. Go to. And for heaven's sake, smile!"

Miss Brady ran the elevator up to the eighth floor herself. Jewel was sleeping off a double dose of sedative. In the middle of the night's upheaval, Dr. Kloppel had gone from room to room looking for rolling eyes and closing them with capsules Miss Plummer had kept out of his way. She was afraid of pills that put people to sleep. Sometimes they slept too well, and couldn't hear. Now, groggy with weariness and her own thoughts, she struggled with desk and switchboard and tried not to weep.

From that day on, she told herself, I've felt wrong. From the day that girl came here. There was something about her, something in the way she looked . . .

The long-distance telephone call to Chicago She'd lost the slip. It had been thrown out, she had decided after a vain search. Kitty hadn't kept it because it wasn't a completed call. Kitty couldn't be expected to know it meant anything. If she could only remember one word, it might help.... Ruth Miller had made the call around midnight, and hung up. Without a word, she hung up....

Then there was the party. She was the one I asked to get the iodine for the chef. I know she was the one. Even though she looked like everybody else, all those flat faces staring at me, I know it was her. She didn't know where Miss Brady's room was, everybody else would know, so it was her all right. And she never did get the iodine.

She stopped rocking. What am I thinking? she asked herself. As sure as I'm sitting here somebody [illegible] the iodine and bandages. What's got into me all of [illegible] I never thought anything like this before ..But she knew there was nothing sudden about it. It had been there all along and she had covered it over with her little jobs of work because it had frightened her. She went back to the night minute by minute, because she knew she must. .... I saw her go up the stairs myself, and I waited. But I was busy, and everybody was running around, and I didn't see her come back. But she must have. She had to. Didn't I find the things right on the desk, and don't that prove it? I must be crazy thinking she didn't come back, just because I didn't see her.

I must be real crazy.

Agnes was mending a sweater with care; there was additional mending on the table beside her chair, stockings, underwear, and something made of unbleached muslin, crumpled and not very clean. Miss Plummer thought vaguely that it had a familiar look.

"Kitty just took over the board and I'm at loose ends for a little while," she told Agnes. "Can't seem to settle down to anything, so I told myself I couldn't do better than have a little talk with you, Agnes."

Agnes darned steadily. "Glad to have you," she said. She didn't look up. Her needle wove in and out and she frowned with concentration. "Take the chair by the radiator, Miss Plummer, it's warmer there."

Miss Plummer ignored this. She sat beside Agnes. "What are you doing with the muslin, Agnes?"

Agnes raised her head. "The muslin?" She looked as if she were biting —something back. "I don't know what I'm doing with it," she said slowly. "I don't know. I didn't want you to see that, Miss Plummer, I'm still thinking about it myself, but now that you have, I—"

"Agnes—"

"That's one of the doll dresses, Miss Plummer.

"Why so it is! For a minute you frightened me, you looked odd." Miss Plummer fingered the material. "There's a lot of wear in this stuff. What do you want it for?"

"Want it! I don't want it! I wish it was at the bottom of the sea!...I found it, Miss Plummer."

"Found? I don't see how you can say that. Every last one of those dresses was locked away, out of sight. My sister did that herself, she was very particular about it."

"I know she was. That's it, that's the trouble. I know she locked them away."

"Maybe." Miss Plummer said, "maybe you'd better tell me what's on your mind."

Agnes put the sweater aside. "I meant to keep this to myself until I could figure it out, but I'm not making any headway. Not in the right direction At first I thought it was pure accident that the dress got overlooked, accident or carelessness. I thought some girl had spilled something on it and got worried and hid it." Agnes took the dress into her lap and smothed out the hem. "You see this? Miss Plummer, what would you say this stain was? Look close Reddish brown, not properly washed out, done in a hurry, like."

"Coffee?"

"Did we have coffee that night?"

"No . . . Is it fruit punch?"

"That was orange and pineapple. ...In a corner of the packroom on this floor." Agnes said tonelessly. "Hidden. You could tell it was meant to be hidden on purpose..."

Mrs. Fister was checking accounts in her room, frowning as she worked. Miss Plummer knew it was the wrong time to talk but she couldn't wait. She said, "Ella, can you spare me a minute?"

"Not now Ethel, if you please. I've got the butcher here."

Miss Plummer studied the massive figure. Ella was strong and sure of herself, she was never even sick. She always made the family decisions, and she was always right.

"I've got to talk," she said. "I can't wait. Something's bothering me."

Mrs. Fister put down her pencil. "Now what?"

"I think Ruth Miller was killed."

"Do you know what you're saying?"

"Yes, I do. I think she was killed. I think I felt it from the first. Others did, too Kitty, Jewel, some of the boarders. I could feel it in the way they looked and acted. I want you to think about it. You've got to tell me if I'm right or wrong."

"You're wrong," Mrs. Fister said quietly.

"What about Lillian Harris, Ella?"

"Well, what about her? Likely drunk."

"Did anybody say she was? Did Dr. Kloppel say so? If he did, I'd have heard, and I didn't. I'm asking you to think about Lillian Harris too....Ella?"

"What?"

"Ella, you packed the costumes away, didn't you? The next day?"

"You know I did."

"Are they under lock and key?"

"They are. Linen press. Ethel, I'm losing patience."

"What happened to the one Ruth Miller wore?"

"That? What do you think? It was examined by the police and given back. It was burned up."

"Who said to burn it up? Who gave that order?"

"I don't remember. Very likely I decided myself. It was in no condition for anything. You saw her, so you know what I mean. The mask—"

Miss Plummer tried to look into her sister's eyes, but they were resolutely turned away. "I saw the mask when they cut it off," she said slowly. "It was bagged out, like it was filled with—" She swallowed and went on. "You couldn't tell it had ever been white. You couldn't tell the color of the mouth or hair or anything."

Mrs. Fister got up and walked heavily across the room to Miss Plummer's chair.

"Ethel, this foolishness has got to stop. Now go to your room and lie down, and don't speak of it again."

Britain's Vast Network of Canals

Canals of One Kind or Another Have Existed in Britain Since Roman Times Says R. D. Chatsworth in London Calling. At Beginning of Last Century They Helped in the Development of Industries but the Coming of Railways Dealt Them a Severe Blow. They Have Since Regained Much of Their Lost Importance

Right across the face of Britain extends a vast network of canals, with a total length of nearly 5,000 miles. Although these artificial waterways were constructed in a more leisurely age than our own, many of them still form a useful part of the nation's transport system. Indeed, the main commercial routes today provide a direct and convenient link between the factories of the Midlands and the chief coast ports.

For the most part, the canals traverse lonely countryside, remote from the high roads; but you catch interesting glimpses of them in and around the towns they serve en route. There is a soothing rhythm in the chugging sound of the motor-driven barges, moving low in the water, which carry all kinds of heavy merchandise from coal and steel to potatoes and manufactured fertilizers.

The men and women who work the barges on their long journeys are almost a race apart. There are about 50,000 of them, most of whom were born and bred on the canals. Today, as for generations past, these 'water-gypsies' continue to cope with the many problems involved in rearing their families in the cramped living quarters of their floating homes.

Britain's canal folk are hard-working, good-humored, and stoutly independent in character. Few of them would exchange their wandering life for greater comfort and higher-paid jobs on dry land. While they have a natural shyness with strangers, I know of few communities more friendly, once they find you are interested in their job.

• • •

Round about the beginning of last century, the canals played an important part in the development of industrial Britain. They enjoyed an era of such amazing prosperity that their future seemed well assured.

But the coming of railways dealt them a severe blow, for horse-drawn barges could not hope to compete with this faster means of transport. Moreover, there were over sixty separate canal undertakings at that time, and, lacking unity of any kind, they were in no position to meet the new threat to their monopoly.

So many owners, foreseeing the loss of their capital, tried to persuade the railway companies to purchase their waterways. Although some 1,200 miles of canals were subsequently taken over by the railways, a century of steady decline followed, and almost half the existing system fell into disuse and became derelict and forgotten.

Today, however, the chief canals have regained much of their lost importance, though it took a national emergency for their value to be properly recognized. During the war, every available barge was pressed into service; new crews were specially trained; and every month well over 1,000,000 tons of vital cargoes were carried on the inland waterways to relieve the congested railways, and, in addition, to save coastal shipping.

Just as they served the nation so well in wartime, so the canals are now helping in the great task of Britain's industrial recovery and export program.

• • •

There have been canals of one kind or another in Britain ever since Roman times. Part of 2,000-year-old Fosse Dyke, which was cut to link the rivers Trent and Humber, may still be traced for a distance of several miles in Lincolnshire. But the founder of the modern commercial system was the third Duke of Bridgewater, who, in the middle of the eighteenth century, owned important colleries at Worsley in Lancashire.

In those days, road conditions were so bad in winter that the mines had to close down because the coal could not be moved away. So, in about 1750, the Duke decided to build his own canal, and engaged the services of a self-taught engineer named James Brindley.

Brindley proved to be an engineer of genius, and his work on the now famous Bridgewater Canal was considered a very remarkable achievement for the time. The canal ran for thirty miles or so across bridges and viaducts, the outstanding engineering feature being the Barton Aqueduct, which took the waterway above the navigable part of the Mersey, now the Manchester Ship Canal.

During the next half-century, more than 100 canals were cut all over the country, some of them carrying passengers as well as goods. So today it is still possible to travel by small craft from one end of England to the other, linking the artificial waterways with all the chief rivers, such as the Thames, Severn, Mersey and Trent.

• • •

A voyage of this kind, incidentally, would take you through some of Britain's loveliest scenery and along forgotten canals where the disused tow-paths have become overgrown with wild flowers and luxuriant foliage. Some of them are so remote from civilization that they are the favorite breeding places of rare birds and water fowl.

Even on the busy and highly-industrialized canals round Birmingham and Wolverhampton, the hub of the whole system, it is surprising how quickly you get away from towns and factories into delightful countryside, where the tow-paths are fringed with banks of wild flowers and green hedgerows.

The canal folk certainly spend much of their lives cruising amid some of the best and least-spoiled English scenery. Perhaps this accounts for their happy and contented natures.

The most important commercial waterway in Britain, however, is the Grand Union Canal. This came into being nearly twenty years ago through the amalgamation of several companies, and it now gives a continuous water-transport route of some 250 miles all the way from the City of Birmingham to the Port of London.

More than £,1000,000 was spent on widening and deepening the eleven canals now incorporated in the Grand Union system, to make them suitable for the faster and more powerful oil-driven barges, while power plant was installed at all the larger locks. Nowadays, the journey by water between Birmingham and London takes less than forty hours, as against fourteen or fifteen days in bygone years when horses plodded slowly along the tow-paths.

Do not imagine, however, that the horse has entirely disappeared. These patient animals are still used on some of the lesser waterways in the West Midlands and elsewhere, especially where the barges travel only short distances.

• • •

The modern canal barges are long, narrow craft, which usually work in pairs, the 'butty' towing the 'monkey boat.' Living quarters for the boatman and his family are confined in the rear of the 'monkey boat,' and, although still small, they are better equipped and more comfortable than in olden times. Many cabins have electric light and up-to-date cooking arrangements.

But on thousands of boats, a man and his wife and several children live within a few square feet of space, with perhaps a dog as well.

A common feature of every canal in Britain are the locks that carry the water to different levels in hilly country. Between Birmingham and London, for instance, there are no fewer than 155 locks. Some thirty miles north-west of London, they follow one another in rapid succession, where the waterway climbs over the Chiltern Hills at Tring Summit, near Aylesbury.

It is at the locks that you get a close-up view of the life and industry of the canal folk, and a peep into their unusual homes. And perhaps the most striking thing about a barge — especially the old horse-drawn type — is its wealth of ornamentation.

These people love color. They decorate the woodwork round the cabins with the traditional designs of hearts, roses, and castles which have been in use for generations. Water-cans and buckets are brightly painted in the same way. And, inside these cabins, every shelf and corner is enlivened with colored chinaware, highly polished cans, and, among other things, horse-brasses.

You will rarely come across a barge without its horse brasses. These are the most treasured possessions, and are handed down from father to son, a relic of the days when horses were used for towing everywhere.

• • •

The women work just as hard as the menfolk, helping at the locks and taking their turn with the steering, besides looking after the families and keeping their tiny homes spotlessly clean and bright.

Children, too, learn to take a hand in running the barge and as soon as they are old and strong enough.

The education of these children is still something of a problem. In years gone by, of course, there was none at all, and it is quite rare to find any boatman past middle-age who can read or write.

But today primary education is compulsory, and children must attend school wherever the barges tie up while re-fueling and taking on new cargoes. At some of the busy coal depots in the Midlands and round London, special barge schools have been established for this purpose in recent times. Nevertheless, a child is lucky if he gets more than a few weeks' schooling in a year, for the boats rarely stay more than a day or two in each depot before moving on again.

The peculiar charm about these inland waterways of Britain is that, although they are closely linked with the nation's industrial life, they remain, for the most part, entirely rural in character.

As apart from their utilitarian purpose, the canals today offer almost unlimited scope for unusual holidays and sight-seeing. There are few pleasanter ways of exploring this inland countryside than by canal-barge, and a passage can usually be arranged at one of the depots near London or in the Midlands. With two or three weeks at your disposal you could hitch-hike in a leisurely way across England, seeing far more of its natural and unspoilt beauty by water than from the highroads or railroads.

Study Possible Increases In Allowances

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Sept. 16 — (CP)—Canada's servicemen, too, are feeling the pinch of higher living costs and the defence department, which will launch a recruiting drive this month, has under review the possibility of increasing subsistence allowances, it was learned today. However, it is not known when a decision will be reached.

The allowances — food and lodging — have been under review for some time because of the effect of rising living costs on members of the permanent armed forces, most of whom still are stationed outside permanent department quarters.

They were boosted over the pre-war and wartime scales, but since the last increase in April 1946 the cost-of-living has gone up 15.8 points to 136.6 as at July, 1947.

The allowances vary according to rank, ranging from $45 a month for a private to $80 a month for a lieutenant-general. As in the case of basic pay, the allowances were placed on a parity last year for all comparable ranks and trades in the navy, army and air force. In pre-war and war years each service had its own rate of pay and allowances.

Defence Minister Claxton said recently that there was no thought of granting a general pay increase to members of the forces. He said the rates of pay were fixed last year to compare favorably with those paid in what might be considered corresponding civilian industries.

However, he said, the matter of allowances was constantly under review. His statement set off speculation that an increase would be made soon, particularly for those in the lower pay brackets.

No children's allowances are paid to married personnel by the defence department. In wartime the allowances amounted to $13 for the first child, $12 for the second, $10 for the third, and $8 each for the fourth, fifth and sixth.

Department officials state that there has been no "wholesale" exodus of men from the forces because of dissatisfaction with pay or allowance rates.

Marshall Throws Explosive Issues Into U.N. Lap

Wants Decision on Greek, Korean, Veto Controversies

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, Sept. 17 — (CP)— State Secretary Marshall today moved to throw into the lap of the United Nations General Assembly three of the most explosive of current international issues, consideration of which has been blocked in the Security Council by the unyielding opposition of Russia.

In a blunt, realistic address Marshall announced that he would move to:

1. Have the Assembly adopt a resolution calling upon Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia to cease aiding or supporting guerrillas in Greece and otherwise recommend on the Balkan crisis.
2. Take up in the Assembly the issue of Korean independence which has been blocked for two years by Russian refusal to work with the United States toward carrying out the Moscow agreement on that issue.
3. Have the Assembly refer to a special committee for report at the next Assembly on ways to "liebralize" and otherwise improve the circumstances under which the veto power enjoyed by the major powers on the security council may be applied.

Marshall also announced he would move to have a General Assembly standing committee of one representative of all U. N. members sit permanently at headquarters here so that Assembly matters might be a matter of continuous study.

Censures Russia.

In a speech bristling with censure of Russia, he challenged the United Nations to make a "supreme effort" to break the world's "deepening political and economic crisis" and save Greece from the "attacks" of its Balkan Communist neighbors.

With undiplomatic bluntness, Marshall accused Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria of "hostile and aggressive" acts against Greece, told how three Russian vetoes had blocked Security Council action to protect the country, then flung this sharp warning to the Assembly:

"This Assembly cannot stand by as a mere spectator while a member of the United Nations is endangered by attacks from abroad. If the United Nations should fail to protect the integrity of one small state, the security of all small states would be placed in jeopardy.".

The United States now favors drastic "liberalization" of the veto by eliminating it entirely from all security decisions on pacific settlements of international disputes, he added.

Highlights From Marshall's Address to General Assembly

New York, Sept. 17—(AP) — Punch points from State Secretary Marshall's speech today to the United Nations General Assembly:

The situation we face today may be summarized by the statement that more than two years after the end of the war, the fruits of peace and victory are still beyond our grasp.

Men look anxiously toward the future, wondering whether a new and more terrible conflict will engulf them.

A supreme effort is required from us all if we are to succeed in breaking through the vicious circles of deepening political and economic crisis.

If the United Nations should fail to protect the integrity of one small state (Greece), the security of all small states would be placed in jeopardy.

I say frankly to the General Assembly that it is the conviction of my government that a workable system for the regulation of armaments cannot be put into operation until conditions of international confidence prevail.

The effective operation of the United Nations Security Council is one of the crucial conditions for the maintenance of international security.

The abuse of the right of unanimity (big power veto) has prevented the security council from fulfilling its true functions.

The government of the United States has come to the conclusion that the only practicable method for improving this situation is a liberalization of the voting procedure in the council.

The General Assembly has a definite and continuing responsibility in the broad field of political security and the preservation of friendly relations among nations.

In our fast-moving world an annual review of developments in this field is not sufficient.

The United Nations will never endure if there is insistence on privilege to the point of frustration of the collective will.

COBB EXCEEDS 400 MPH., BREAKS 2 WORLD RECORDS

On Measured Mile He Sets Record 394.196, For One Kilometre A Mark of 393.825

By OTIS J. PUSEY

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, Sept. 17 (AP) —John Cobb, a determined Briton, yesterday gave the world proof that man can travel more than 400 miles an hour in an automobile.

The pleasant London fur broker, bedevilled for a month by bad weather or mechanical bugs streaked through a measured mile at 403.135 miles an hour in setting world records for that distance and the kilometre.

On what he called "the roughest ride I have yet had on the Salt Flats," he erased the marks he set here in 1939 and posted these as dusk gathered.

Measured mile — 394.196 (old record 368.9).

Kilometre — 393.825 (previous mark 369.7).

To claim records, Cobb was required to drive both South and North on the 14-mile straightaway on this old lake bed. It was on the return northward trip that he exceeded 400, fastest man ever travelled on land.

Happy as he was over his feats the Briton decided against making any attempts to shatter the records he holds for the five kilometres, five miles, 10 kilometres and 10 miles, during the tests and record runs begun in mid-August the Railton Mobil special speedster underwent "terrific punishment" and "it has been decided not to risk possible serious damage to the automobile."

Awaiting Cobb as he coasted to a stand where a cheering crowd collected was his wife, whom he recently married. "Thrilled beyond imagination," she kissed and hugged him.

NINTH DAY OF STRIKE

Milan, Sept. 16 — (Reuters)— The strike of 1,000,000 farm laborers in North Italy today entered its ninth day as negotiations in Rome between representatives of the government and of the Laborers Association were stated to be still at a deadlock.

Milk was getting scarce in most towns of Northern Italy and the general position was said to be growing worse.

Rules of Warfare Should Be Revised By Nations Says Justice Jackson

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 17 (AP)— Justice Robert H. Jackson of the United States Supreme Court last night countered a Russian demand for a ban on use of the atomic bomb with a demand of complete revision of the rules of war.

Especially needed, he said, are rules on the use of air power and treatment of prisoners.

At the same time Jackson said the United States had a great opportunity to contribute to a century of peace by building an air force so strong that no one would doubt its ability to defeat any attacker.

Chief United States prosecutor at the German war crimes trial at Nurnberg, he expressed belief that 'despite outward appearances, circumstantial evidence seems convincing that the Soviet leaders want, at all hazards, to avoid actual war with the United States, at least in the near future."

Jackson was speaking to the first convention of the United States Air Force Association.

"Russia apparently is fearful that war may come in spite of all legal obstacles," he said. "She has within the last few days demanded revision of the rules as to the manner in which war may be conducted. Andrei Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, demands a pact that will prohibit, or control, use of the atomic bomb.

"This Soviet demand for new rules of warfare, significantly limited to one particular weapon, naturally raises the question as to whether the laws of war do not need revision or amplification in other respects. My experience indicates that they do . . . War crimes trials have demonstrated that some of our laws of war are as antiquated as muskets."

Present laws were most deficient in failing to define the permissible and impermissible uses of modern air power. As another example, he cited rules for treatment of prisoners and charged:

"The whole mechanism by which the modern world has sought to give vitality to the principle of humane treatment of prisoners is at a standstill with Russia." The Soviet Government, he said, never became a party to the Geneva Convention which dealt with handling of prisoners.

He learned at Nurnberg that Germany had two new gases which produce 'most frightful results" despite gas masks. He asked Albert Speer, Minister of Production, why they were not used. He quoted Speer as replying:

"All of the reasonable militarists turned the gas warfare down as being utterly insane because, considering your superiority in the air, it would merely mean that the unprotected German cities would suffer the most tremendous catastrophe in no time at all."

"This frank testimony," Jackson commented, "that it was air superiority that spared all the Allied troops, including the Soviet, the horrors of gas and chemical warfare, was the most unanswerable argument I ever heard for an American air force second to none. If decisive air superiority can prevent gas warfare, I do not see why an unquestioned air superiority, in view of its modern possibilites, may not be equally effective to prevent any war."

$1,000,000 FIRE AT THREE RIVERS, WAREHOUSEBURNS

5,000 Bales of Raw Cotton Destroyed and Blaze Still Out of Control

Three Rivers, Que., Sept. 17— (CP)— Loss estimated at more than $1,000,000 was caused by an all-night fire that destroyed the J. C. Malone Company warehouse here and approximately 5,000 bales of raw cotton belonging to the Wabasso Cotton Company, Ltd.

Firemen still were fighting the flames this morning, trying to save a 100-foot section of the 840-foot long warehouse. The fire began about 4 p.m. yesterday and all available firefighting equipment in the city was placed in service.

W. J. Whitehead, managing director of the Wabasso firm estimated the value of the cotton lost at $1,000,000 and the warehouse itself was valued at $25,000.

It also was learned that 60 tons of paper, valued at about $5,000 and owned by the St. Lawrence Paper Mills Company, were destroyed, while three freight cars were heavily damaged.

Flames spread rapidly through the sprawling, flimsy wood warehouse, built by the Dominion Government during the war and situated in a field on the outskirts of the city.

Cause of the fire was not determined but the 30-foot high building already was in flames when firemen arrived in answer to a double alarm. Part of the building collapsed two hours after the fire began.

Expect 4-Cent Rise in Bread Price in Toronto

Toronto, Sept. 17 (CP) —Higher bread prices will go into effect here tomorrow and Friday, it was learned today. Bakers said the price increase would "almost certainly" be four cents on a 24-ounce wheat loaf.

The unaccountably high prices of rye flour still prevailed today and bakers of rye bread reported they were using up old stocks and making no new purchases at the current "ridiculous" prices. Rye flour prices shot up to five times their previous level yesterday.

PREDICTS SHOE PRICES TO RISE 25 PER CENT

Toronto, Sept. 17 — (CP) — Prices of all men's, women's and children's shoes will increase 25 per cent "almost immediately," as a result of the lifting of controls on skins and hides, a wholesale shoe dealer predicted today.

"All quality shoes will go up and only the cheap, what we call distressed, merchandise will stay the same price."

CANADIAN PILOT CRASHES IN SEA AT BOURNEMOUTH

Flt.-Lt. B. E. Green of R.A.F. Taking Part in "Battle of Britain" Display

Bournemouth, England, Sept. 17 — (CP) — An R.A.F. Spitfire piloted by Flt. Lt. B. E. Green of Vancouver crashed into the sea off this south coast holiday resort today and only a small portion of the plane and an oxygen cylinder had been recovered more than an hour later.

Green, due for discharge from the R.A.F. shortly, was stunting during a "Battle of Britain Week" exhibition and thousands saw the crash about 200 yards offshore.

Green was in radio communication with an R.A.F. truck on the seafront and during various stunts his remarks were relayed to the crowds by loudspeaker.

A request from a boy watcher for a "victory roll" was relayed to him. He tried one roll and then said: "Sorry, sonny, it wasn't very good."

Watchers said he then turned over in another roll but dived straight into the sea.

Lifeboats and launches put out from shore but all they found were the two bits of wreckage.

Friends said Green planned to return to Vancouver shortly to assist in the management of his father's business.

Snow Falls Over Most of Alberta During the Night

Edmonton, Sept. 17 (CP) — Snow fell throughout most of Alberta last night from the southern Peace River district to the United States border and as far east as Vermilion and Coronation with frost striking many parts in the province.

Lethbridge with a low of 30 above last night awoke to find a half to one inch of snow covering the city.

TWO TRAINS HIT CAR

Prescott, Ont., Sept. 17 — (CP) — Ralph Haines, who lives near this eastern Ontario town, walked away from the wreckage of his auto without a scratch last night after it was wrecked by two freight trains at a level crossing. Haines drove into the locomotive of an eastbound freight at a crossing in Prescott. The impact threw his car to the westbound tracks where another freight train struck it. The car bounced to the side of the right-of-way.

NO SIGNS SHOWING OF ANY BREAK IN MEAT STRIKE

Union Orders Quebec Sympathy Strikers Back to Work; Vote Results Announced

(By The Canadian Press)

With sympathy strikers in two Quebec livestock slaughter houses ordered back to their jobs, the nation-wide strike for higher wages by the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) continues with no sign of settlement.

Amid predictions that most cities will feel the pinch of a meat shortage today, the union's strike headquarters ordered 229 sympathy strikers in plants of La Co-Operative Federee de Quebec and Quebec Packers Limited back to work "pending further orders." The action came after Provincial Labor Minister Antonio Barrette said in a statement he was convinced the "strike will be settled amicably."

Union headquarters in Toronto announced that results from four strikebound plants show a count of 1,804 to eight against an Ontario Labor Department proposal for settlement. It calls for strikers to return to work while the wage dispute with the companies are submitted to conciliation or arbitration.

Vote Against Proposal

The U. P. W. A. said these were the results so far: At Canada Packers in Toronto — 1,136 against acceptance of the proposal, two in favor; Swift in Toronto — 436 against, four in favor;. Canada Packers in Peterborough, Ont. — 80 against, one in favor; Burns and Company in Prince Albert, Sask. — 152 against, one in favor. The announcement added that in Charlottetown, where some 70 Canada Packers workers are on strike the vote was unanimously against the bid. No figure was given.

Premier Manning of Alberta has announced that his government is prepared to accept nomination of a conciliator "jointly with other provinces." Three other provinces — British Columbia, and Manitoba—previously had said they accepted in principle the idea of conciliation on a national scale.

Chain stores and large butchers with ample cold-storage space still have meat in Toronto but several small butchers have been forced to close. Restaurants are starting to substitute chicken and fish for meat dishes on their menus and there is talk that, as the shortage develops, the price of meat courses will edge upwards as supplies dwindle.

Two Warships Sent To Scene of Unrest

Auckland, N. Z., Sept. 17—(CP) — Rumors of native unrest in the Solomon Islands were pointed up today by announcement that two warships of the Royal Navy will leave here tomorrow to visit the Pacific group.

The aircraft carrier Theseus and the destroyer Cockade, which had been visiting Auckland, are being sent to the Solomons at the request of the Colonial Office, it is understood here.

Russian Doctors Working on Plan To Prolong Span of Life to 120 Years

By DON DALLAS

Moscow, Sept. 17 — Reuters)— Russian doctors hope that experiments now being carried out will enable them to prolong the span of human life to upwards of 120 years and, under perfect conditions, even up to 175.

One of the biggest steps forward in the fight against old age has been made by Dr. M. Surikov, who, working at the Laboratory of General Biology of the First Moscow Medical Institute, last year succeeded in isolating the "pigment of old age."

This pigment, a substance completely absent in the organisms of young children, he says, reduces the efficiency of nerve cells and often destroys them completely.

Prof. N. A. Ilyin, chief of this laboratory — one of three Russian laboratories engaged in extensive research in this field — declared in a magazine article:— "We now have a powder-like substance extracted from the brain matter of old people which we call the 'substance of old age.'

"We must study this substance, establish the ways in which it differs from the pigment found in living cells and then consider methods of destroying or perhaps entirely eliminating this substance from the organism.

"This would make it possible to delay old age."

Analyzing the causes of early decease, Professor Ilyin says that smoking is definitely injurious and all excesses are harmful.

"Of great importance," he adds, "are proper amounts of work and rest, physical exercise and timely visits to the doctor when illness threatens. Women should remember that women's diseases seriously impair the general state of their health."

People by Hundreds Of Thousands Flee to Shelters

Wind Gusts Up to 108 MPH Slam Winter Resort Miami

Miami, Fla., Sept. 17 —(AP)— The most terrible hurricane in 19 years roared out of the churning Atlantic Ocean today, lashing the lower Florida east coast with monstrous fury and driving hundreds of thousands to public shelters.

Cyclonic winds bore down on the coast from just off Delray Beach, and were expected to rip between Miami and West Palm Beach shortly after noon.

Trees, light poles, communications lines and temporary structures buckled under the massive onslaught, and gusts up to 108 miles an hour slammed Miami.

All communications between Miami and outside areas went out abruptly shortly after 10 a.m., and the New Orleans weather bureau said the great storm apparently was centred "very near the coast a short distance south of Palm Beach" at 11 a.m.

The coast guard sent word that wind gusts up to 120 m.p.h. were mauling West Palm Beach.

10,000 Flee Grazing Area.

An estimated 10,000 refugees from the rich Okeechobee farming and grazing area streamed through Sebring, Fla., in flight from the huge, dike-bound, hurricane-lashed lake. In 1928, approximately 1,500 persons drowned in the same lowlands.

Before the mighty winds wheel around their centre to strike Miami they will pass over land. Their force drops off sharply under these circumstances but they still contain a mighty wallop, Miami is in for no picnic.

Gusty gales swept the city this morning, becoming stronger and stronger.

The tap-tap-tap of hammers, nailing up storm protection over glass windows, echoed through the night. At times the howling of the wind drowned out the hammers' sound.

A few trees already had toppled by this morning and the green glare of short-circuited wires flashed up occasionally.

120 Miles in Diameter

The hurricane, estimated to be 120 miles in diameter with winds over 100 miles and perhaps up to 160 miles an hour, was centred at 5.45 a.m. EDT about 100 miles east of Delray Beach, still moving bodily westward at about eight miles an hour.

Winds continued to increase along the east coast and barometers went down. At Miami the wind had reached 60 miles an hour in gusts.

The storm itself was expected to strike the mainland between Fort Lauderdale and Pompano around noon.

The populous east coast resort area, rich Everglades farmlands and a multi-million dollar citrus crop lay in the hurricane's path.

Thousands had been evacuated from the area around Lake Okeechobee and residents along the coast had battened down or sought safety in shelters.

Storm refugees piled into Palm Beach. Many families crowded into the rambling stone courthouse. The Norton Art Gallery on Oliva Street was converted into a hospital for expectant mothers.

Many Questions Asked

"Will the Okeechobee dikes hold?" was the question among thousands who filled Palm Beach's courthouse, most schools and every hotel and rooming house in the city.

Sheriff John F. Kirk said he believed the dikes would stand firm in their first real test since they were built after the 1928 storm.

Hurricane warnings flew over a wide belt of Southern Florida from Titusville on the east coast to Tampa on the west. Storm warnings covered another belt of the peninsula from Jacksonville to Cedar Keys.

Two evacuation trains of the Florida east coast and seaboard air line railroads—83 coaches, baggage and box cars—last night pulled out of Pahokee on the eastern rim of Lake Okeechobee as authorities tried desperately to evacuate the entire population of that area.

Schools Closed

The first train carried nearly 750 persons who had heeded the urgent warning to leave the area before the fury of the storm. The second picked up evacuees in Belle Glade, Lake Harbor, South Bay and other communities. It was to return to Fort Pierce, to the north of the threatened area.

Schools were closed, homes and stores shuttered, windows boarded up and beaches deserted as the storm approached.

Governor Millard F. Caldwell gave blanket authority to Brig.-Gen. Mark W. Lance, State Adjutant-General, to utilize any of the state's 1,500 National Guardsmen he deems necessary. Troops were placed on the alert at Miami, West Palm Beach and Jacksonville.

The Florida highway patrol prepared auxiliary power unity and mobile communication units. Prisoners at the state farm at Belle Glade were evacuated to Fort Myers, on the west coast.

Radio 'hams" were on the alert, in Florida and as far north as Maine, to handle emergency traffic.

Red Cross disaster relief units swung into action, opening shelters and providing necessities for the thousands who sought shelter from the approaching storm.

Aboard U. S. S. Missouri, Sept. 17 — (AP) — Officers of this battleship bringing President Truman home from Brazil said today they are prepared to take "evasive action" if necessary to avoid the hurricane off the Florida coast.

The Missouri was around 900 miles east of St. Augustine, Fla., and appeared unlikely to approach within several hundred miles of the slow-moving storm centre, however.

West Hartford, Conn., — (AP) — With a hurricane menacing the Florida east coast, radio amateurs stood by their sets today, ready to handle emergency traffic in the event of a disaster crippling normal communications.

Hundreds of "hams" all along the seaboard from Maine to Florida and across the United States are standing by, the American Radio Relay League here reported. Many had small battery-powered portable sets to carry into "disaster areas.

In a message broadcast at 15-minute intervals over the League's 5,000-watt transmitter here, amateurs were notified that two stations in and near Washington had been designated to assist the national headquarters of the American Red Cross.

Mr. Thomas Cox, London, England, and his son-in-law and his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Pennell of Tientsin, China, are on a visit to Deputy Chief and Mrs. Arthur Harman and Mr Richard King for a few days. Mr. Cox is an old boyhood friend of Mr. Harman's whom he has not seen for 45 years. Mr. Cox is amazed at the abundance of everything in Canada and the absence of queues and rationing. He has been in this country since July 1st and has put on weight, which is due, he says, to the three "banquets" a day he has been getting.

He came over on the S. S. Aquitania and is returning on September 27th by the Empress of Canada.

Admissibility of Evidence Questioned and Trial Halted For Judge to Hear Argument

Hearing of charges of attempted murder and of arson against Fred E. Martin, Rawdon township farmer, came to an abrupt temporary halt here yesterday afternoon when Mr. Justice Wilson advised counsel to prepare further argument as to the admissibility as evidence of the accused's statement to police.

Martin is being tried by a Supreme Court petit jury on the above charges, the charges having been laid as result of the burning of his farm home last May 6th. Three persons sleeping in the home at the time of the fire were rescued by neighbors.

Seven witnesses were called by Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan during Tuesday's proceedings which were abruptly adjourned when Defence Counsel R. D. Arnott raised the question of the admissibility of Martin's statement to police following his arrest.

Provincial Constable J. Ernest Keays had just been sworn when Mr. Arnott asked that the jury be retired in order that the admissibility of his evidence may be decided. At the conclusion of the constable's evidence Mr. Justice Wilson declined to rule immediately on the matter and advised counsel to prepare further argument as to admissibility of the statement. Proceedings were accordingly adjourned until Wednesday morning.

First witness called by the Crown was Fred Yealland, insurance adjuster, who stated that nothing of a suspicious nature had been revealed at the time he had been called to adjust the insurance loss. He described the Martin home as "modern", setting a minimum value of $3,000, and $2,500 for the contents. The Martin home had actually been insured for $1,500 and the contents for $1,000.

Hastings county registrar R. J. S. Dewar, stated the Martin property was jointly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin.

Stanley Royle, neighbor of the Martins who had assisted in rescuing Clifford Leury, age 50; Mrs. Elizabeth Cassidy, 77, and Jennie Martin, 25, crippled daughter of the Martins, from the Martin home was the next witness.

He stated that with Ray and Allen Sine he had been returning home from Stirling at 11:30 on the night of May 6th, when nearing the Martin home sparks were seen rolling from the roof of the back kitchen. The trio had raced into the home through the kitchen door and had bumped into a step ladder directly beneath a manhole leading to the attic. The entire attic above the kitchen was then aflame.

The sleeping inmates of the home had then been roused and were assisted to safety. Mr. and Mrs. Martin were presumably in Stirling at the time attending a meeting.

Ray Sine, age 30, stated he had known the Martins all his life and more or less corroborated the evidence told by the previous witness. Under cross examination he stated that Clifford Leury had made his home at the Martins as long as he could remember and said he knew there had been trouble between Martin and Leury.

"What kind of trouble?" questioned Mr. Arnott.

"Second man trouble," was the answer. "There was a second man in the picture." This, he stated further, was common knowledge in the neighborhood. The trouble between the two men bothered Mr. Martin, according to Mr. Sine who stated that it was a "disagreeable way of living."

Sam Eggleton, county constable at Stirling, told the court that on May 13th he had been approached by Mr. Martin at a gasoline station in Stirling. Mr. Martin had asked "what would be the penalty to burn up a home and also burn up the people in it."

"I told him it would be a very serious matter," stated the constable. Martin had then further questioned as to the penalty if a person knew all about a fire and went into court and said he knew nothing about it. The constable had told Martin that this also would be a serious matter.

Under cross examination Mr. Eggleton admitted that Martin had a good reputation in the community and that even with the questions asked he had not entertained any suspicion.

The question of Mr. Eggleton's evidence being admitted was raised by the defence counsel, but after hearing the evidence with the jury retired the presiding judge ruled it admissible.

Vincent McQuaid, police officer at Kingston, stated that on May 13th Martin had walked into the police station at Kingston and gave himself up stating that he had burned his home in Rawdon township.

"The man appeared very upset about something and I did not want to hear his story as it was out of our jurisdiction," he said. Continuing, Constable McQuaid stated Martin had told him that on the night of May 6th he had taken his wife to Stirling to attend a meeting. At ten o'clock he had returned to his farm home and had started the fire in the attic and then went back to Stirling for Mrs. Martin.

The Constable reported Martin as saying by way of explanation that his home life had not been good. In the eyes of his wife everything the hired man (Clifford Leury) did was right, while everything he did was wrong. He had not slept in the same room with his wife for 15 years, he had told the constable.

Constable McQuaid reported Martin as telling him that he had tried to collect the insurance on his farm home but that it had bothered him so he did not then, want it.

Under cross examination the constable admitted that one of the reasons why he had not wanted to hear Martin's story at Kingston was that he had considered Martin a mental case.

Despite objection by the defence, Constable McQuaid's evidence was ruled admissible by Mr. Justice Wilson. Martin's story had been told voluntarily with no prompting, it was ruled.

Local Barbers Join Ontario Association

Meeting in the local Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening barbers in the city of Belleville voted unanimously to affiliate with the Ontario Barbers' Association and elected officers to head the local branch.

President of the local branch of the Ontario Barbers' Association will be Chas. E. Patrick with Tim Sullivan and Armour Bennett as vice presidents. Secretary is H. M. Green and treasurer, Hazen Stairs.

Guest speaker for the meeting was L. H. Drane, Toronto provincial organizer for the O. B. A. and following his address plans were made for a regular monthly meeting of the local association. A brief will be drawn in the near future for presentation to Industry and Labor of the Ontario Department of Labor, this to contain a completely revised schedule of prices, wages and hours for the Belleville zone.

The Ontario Barbers' Association is dedicated toward creating better harmony among members of the trade, their program to include social functions which will be attempted at a later date.

Full Attendance Requested For Pro. Ball Meeting

An open meeting for those interested in the formation and operation of a professional baseball team in the Border League here next year, will be held in the Chamber of Commerce offices tomorrow (Thursday) night at 8 o'clock.

Much will hinge on the outcome of the meeting, and important questions will be discussed. It is requested that all interested in such a sports move here attend the meeting.

Kingston, Peterborough and Ottawa will have teams in the Border League next year, and a Belleville entry would round out a Canadian section of the loop. Last year, local interests were unable to exercise a franchise because of a seven-team set-up in the league. With the advent of Peterborough, this difficulty has been eliminated. However, this will with other important matters be one of the themes of discussion, and all who like baseball of the professional variety should make it a point to attend the conclave.

ON BOTH SIDES OF LAW

Vancouver, Sept. 17 — (CP)— Joe Philliponi found himself on both sides of the law in police court here yesterday. On trial on a charge of bootlegging, Philliponi was asked to act as court interpreter in a robbery case when court officials could not understand the testimony of an Italian woman witness. A few minutes later he was back on the defendant's side of the court as his own case was resumed.

City's Business, Industrial Life Will be on Display During the Fair Week

One of the most glittering displays of Belleville's business and industry will greet the fair-going public when the Belleville Exhibition opens here for its annual three-day show on Monday next.

The spacious Manufacturers Building and the modern Club Commodore will house the last word in manufactured and other goods symbolic of the progress made by enterprising merchants and industrialists of this city.

Practically all space in these buildings has been disposed of by the Fair Board, and a preview of the display indicates that it is one of the most colorful and interesting shows of its nature ever seen here.

It will be practically the last word in modern manufacture; household appliances, furniture, clothing, automobiles etc., and can readily and well be named the "Show Window of Business and Industry."

Plans near Completion

Plans for what the directors predict will easily be the best exhibition ever held here are rapidly nearing completion. Entries are coming in at a rapid rate and should climax the list of any previous years. Merchants of the city have generously donated $1,100 in prizes, while the Board has augmented the list so that it rates with any in the province.

One of the features of the fair, especially where proud parents are concerned will be the Baby Show which will take place on Tuesday afternoon. Special prizes have been offered for "singles" and twins and the entry list to date presages a near record number of baby boys and girls.

Indicative of the interest taken in the Exhibition by those in the outlying district as well as in urban circles, is the handsome trophy donated by the Fleming family of Hastings County, which will be awarded annually to the owner of the best matched team.

To Perpetuate Memory

The trophy is given to perpetuate the memory of one of Hastings oldest families, and it is expected that members of other families will follow this innovation.

Another special prize is that given by Dr. J. Russell Scott, city physician, which will be awarded to the owner of the best mare or gelding at the fair. Interest of these residents of city and county, made tangible through the donation of the beautiful trophies, is greatly appreciated by the Board of Directors.

Topflight entertainment; the "greatest midway" in the world, the roar of hoofs thudding over the track in the trials of speed outstanding exhibits of horseflesh and dairy and beef cattle not to mention poultry, sheep and swine, as well as the arts; outstanding displays of machinery, and modern agricultural implements, as well as the thousand and one other attractions will make the 1948 edition of the Belleville Exhibition the best in its long and colorful century of exposition.

President Elmer Sandercock, Secretary Erle Denyes, Treasurer Ben Bleecker have gone far afield to bring back modern ideas for the residents of this city and county, and these incorporated with their own plans of progress have resulted in the fine exhibition which awaits the approval of the public on Monday.

For the first time in the history of the Fair, a preview of its attractions and what it has meant to the county and district will go out over an Ontario network, when Andy Clarke, Neighborly News program announcer airs his broadcast from the McCarthy Theatre on Sunday morning.

Col. Roscoe Vanderwater Heads Moira Watershed Conservation Authority of 20 Municipalities

Attended by representatives of the seventeen municipalities of Hastings County and three from Lennox and Addington County, affected by the Moira River Watershed, the first meeting of the recently appointed Conservation Authority held yesterday in the City Hall, saw the first slate of officers appointed.

Chairman of the new Authority is Col. Roscoe Vanderwater, Foxboro; 1st Vice President is Reeve Charles Buskard, Deloro Village, and the secretary treasurer is County Clerk Erle Denyes. Appointed as members of the executive were Reeve H. A. Harrison, Thurlow; Reeve Art McCarey, Tweed; Alderman H. J. Clarke, B.A., City of Belleville; Arthur Jones, Reeve of Huntingdon and Reeve Herbert Yorke, of Sheffield Township, Lennox and Addington.

The officers and executive were appointed under the Conservation and Reforestation Act passed by the provincial legislature in 1946.

Mr. J. H. Richardson, conservation engineer of the Department of Planning and Development, Toronto, took charge of the meeting until the permanent officers were elected. Mr. Richardson addressed the meeting briefly explaining outlining the many phases of the Act and leading a question and answer period.

It was pointed out that every municipality in the watershed will be a local authority in itself and will work with the main executive in their various problems.

Liberal Leader Urges Ontario "Walk in Step"

Cornwall, Ont., Sept. 17 (CP) —Farquahar Oliver, Ontario Liberal leader, urged in an address last night that Ontario "walk in step" with the other provinces and make an agreement with the Federal Government.

In an address sponsored by the Stormont County Liberal Association, he claimed the province already had lost "millions of dollars because the Dominion-Provincial agreement hasn't been signed."

"The tories now are crying for another Dominion - Provincial Conference," he said, in midst of a tour of eastern Ontario. "But what earthly use would there be in another conference. It would not be to the advantage of the seven provinces who have already signed the agreement to attend another conference. The Tory idea is one approaching foolishness."

Eventually Ontario would have to sign an agreement or double income taxes in Ontario to keep the province solvent.

Mr. Oliver charged the Drew government with failing to live up to its election promises and with having "gone out of their way" to place obstacles in the path of the Federal administration.

'OLD ENOUGH TO KNOW OUR OWN MINDS'

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 17— (AP) — Frank W. Williams, 75, and Mrs. Bertie A. Hite, 80, appeared at county court house yesterday to apply for a marriage licence.

"We think we are old enough to know our own minds," they explained.

Bill Hancock, Coach of Junior Hockey, Dies

Penetanguishene, Sept. 17 — (CP)— One of Ontario's great hockey coaches, particularly of junior teams, Bill Hancock, died here last night after a lengthy illness.

He first won national attention as a coach in the 1926-27 season when he handled the powerful Owen Sound Greys, who won the Memorial Cup. Later he coached other outstanding junior teams— the Newmarket Redmen, West Torontos, Oshawa. He also handled senior teams at Toronto and at one time coached at Walkerton, Ont.

He coached many well-known hockey players in their junior days — Butch Keeling, Herb Cain and Bill Thoms being among them.

Before becoming a coach he was active as a referee in Ontario Hockey Association games.

He had the reputation of being a shrewd judge of hockey talent and quick to spot weaknesses in opposing players. Friends sometimes tell a story of how his Greys overcame Iroquois Falls in the 1927 all-Ontario junior final. The Northern Ontario team won the first game handily but Hancock noticed that their centre, who appeared to be the outstanding star, could check on only one side. In the second contest of the two-game series, he sent his plays around the other side and the Greys took game and series in a surprising reversal of form.

Rain-Making Law In Prospect for US

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP) — The United States government is worried about people who fly around with dry ice making like rainmakers.

You know the stories.

Fellow flies into a cloud. Drops dry ice. Rain gushes. Drought's over. Hurray, hurray. Frolicking in the rain-swept streets.

So far, no one has complained about the various rain-making experiments. Or, anyway, not loud enough to be heard in Washington.

But it's not difficult to imagine a town where some people want rain vociferously, and some people don't rain vociferously.

Are the don't waters to be at the mercy of any high flying dry iceman?

Commander Russell Maynard, navy aerologist, told a reporter today that the joint research board for the armed services has done considerable debating about it.

"I suppose they'll get a law ready for Congress to study next session," he said. "The trouble is, no one knows exactly how it should be written. But obviously this is something that will have to be controlled."

In the meantime, if you want to make rain go ahead.

Dr. Harvey Wexler of the weather bureau even will supply the recipe.

Have you your airplane and dry ice ready?

Okay. Pick out a nice, high cloud that looks as if its about ready to rain anyhow. This cloud must be unusual. It must be colder than freezing, but the small rain particles haven't yet turned to ice.

Now, toss out the dry ice.

Don't ask why, but this causes the moisture to freeze in fairly large pieces. Down goes the ice, melting as it falls.

Result:: Rain, not man-made, but man inspired.

There is a problem, though.

T'other day Chickasha, Okla., residents sent up a dry icer, the wind came up, and it rained gloriously in near-by Andarko.

So there you are.

Even when you do something about the weather, you still can't depend on it.

NO INCREASE YET IN BREAD PRICES

To date there has been no increase in the price of bread in the city. Definite information regarding the expected increase is lacking other than the statement that there will be a rise in the price. No indication of when the increase will take place or how much it will be has been given by local dealers.

Free Territory Of Trieste Calms Down After Riots

Trieste, Sept. 17 —(AP)— The free territory of Trieste calmed down today.

The city itself, where three persons were killed and nearly 100 injured in four days of rioting between Slavs and Italians, was quiet.

Yugoslav troops denied entry yesterday to the United States-British northern zone of the territory by an American outpost, appeared to be skirting that zone for a routine crossing of Yugoslav-Trieste frontier to their own occupation zone in the south.

Tactical headquarters at Dueno Castle in Trieste denied today an announcement at Allied military government headquarters yesterday that the Americans fired a warning burst from a machine-gun in their show of force. Tactical headquarters said an armored car crew sighted a machine-gun over the heads of the Yugoslavs' advance detachment, but did not shoot.

(A Foreign Office spokesman in London announced Britain had protested to Yugoslav against her attempt to move troops into unauthorized positions in Trieste. The Yugoslav action was "high-handed and provocative.")

Trieste and its hinterland became a free territory under the Italian peace treaty.

MORE POLIO CASES IN BERLIN

Frankfurt, Sept. 17—(Reuters) — Sixty-nine new cases of infantile paralysis were reported in Berlin yesterday, the German news agency in the United States zone said.

This brings the total of cases in the city to 850, of which 73 have proved fatal. Medical authorities expect the epidemic to spread.

MORE TURTLE STEAKS BOUGHT

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 17 —(AP)— Barton H. Smith, an importer, said yesterday the sale of turtle steaks is booming as more and more housewives buy them as a substitute for higher-priced beef. Normally all turtle imports here go to canned soup manufacturers, but about three weeks ago butchers and fish dealers in many Southern United States cities began calling for fresh turtle meat, Smith said. The turtle sells for about 80 cents a pound.

Italy Rejoins Nations

Italy which for a quarter of a century has been separated from the world of freemen through the selfish ambition of Mussolini has at last rejoined the body of free nations with the depositing of the formal ratification of the peace treaty with the United Nations. The nation which was the centre of the vast Roman Empire of many centuries ago and which reached a pinnacle of glory in the Middle Ages and which in the last century was reborn and became a united nation is back again in the association of other peoples.

The democratic world hopes for Italy a development along the lines of true freedom.

Mussolini's mad effort for self-aggrandizement and self-glory cost Italy much. She has lost territory in Europe, in Africa and in the islands of the Mediterranean. She has to pay reparations and she finds herself in the situation which might be expected to come as the result of a war which destroyed so much wealth and has left so much unrest.

Revival of Italy through her own effort towards democratic institutions is the hope of such a land, rich in history and in influence in ages past. Italy has produced some of the greatest men of history and in that lies hope that she will progress towards the ideal of democracy and overthrow those forces that are subversive.

Weeks of Fairs

With agricultural exhibitions taking place in the next few weeks in many parts of the country, people in this section are ready to spend days at the annual shows which give so close an insight into the result of the year's agricultural operations on the farms and in the villages and provide an interesting study of the progress built on thrift and work as well as on a thorough knowledge of the business of farming.

There is no more picturesque and colorful festival anywhere than that which shows nature's production and man's cooperation with the forces of nature in adding to the food wealth of the Dominion and also of the world, for products of the farm in these arts find their way in large quantities abroad. Especially is this true in the great dairy industry.

There is color and there is glamor to be seen at all these assemblies of the people at the showing of nature's bounty during the season now coming to an end.

In a very real sense the agriculturist can feel himself a creative figure in the life of the community for what he does to maintain the high standards of living to which Canadians are born. He can take pride in what he has achieved for agriculture, for himself and family, and for the good and welfare of all. The genial if keen competition for awards is an inspiration for the agricultural industry and for fairs year after year.

Fairs are an institution with beginnings deep in the past, but they are modern. For centuries they have been held in Europe and even in Canada many a fair dates back for generations. They are marks of the growth of the agricultural industry.

Fairs succeed because they are directed by men with a thorough knowledge of the science of farming and its various branches. These are men of vision and men of a practical turn at the same time.

The exhibitors have their part like the directors and other officials of an agricultural society. They are evidence of faithful and tireless labor and devotion to their calling. They keep step with the march of progress as experts.

The fair crowds are a part of the exhibition. They throw enthusiasm into the programs, their presence encourages officials and exhibitors in making fairs grow and expand their influence. These crowds are happy crowds, willing to be pleased and admiring the exhibits, and every other phase of these annual institutions.

Mr. Stalin on Housing

Premier Stalin is not known to the Russian people primarily as a humorist, but his assertion that Moscow has "entirely eliminated" slums must have produced bitter smiles among the braver of the city's inhabitants. Millions of Muscovites live and will die in exactly the sort of slums that Mr. Stalin attributes to the rest of the world. Slums there are, and too many of them, in Europe and America. The difference lies in the ability of Americans and Europeans, [illegible] of the Russian sentries, to do something about it.

It is now nearly thirty years since the Bolsheviks moved the seat of the Russian state from Leningrad to Moscow. In that time the population has risen to a figure which foreigners in Moscow estimate as close to seven millions, but, despite a handful of grandiose plans for city improvement, the capital has remained, in the words of its people, "the biggest village in Russia."

Mr. Stalin's statement that Moscow's workers have moved from cellars and huts into the flats and houses of the bourgeoise and "new, comfortable" houses is a fair example of Soviet distortion. The truth is that all but the richest and most influential live dismally in small, dirty rooms. Most of the apartment houses built since the revolution are ramshackle affairs with iron stairways, unworkable elevators and dark smelly hallways. Families live in one room of an apartment, and a five-room apartment including kitchen will house five families, all of which use the same toilet and cook in their own rooms. Under such conditions it is not surprising that tuberculosis is rife among the poor of Moscow.

On the outskirts of the city stand new (that is, post-revolutionary) apartment houses in the midst of open fields far from trolley lines or main streets. The majority of all apartment houses built since the revolution would be scorned by any American city, and nowhere is there a workers' development to match in size, grace or comfort those of Stockholm or pre-war Vienna.

The dull existence and painful death which Stalin sees for those unfortunates who do not share the joys of a Communist regime are common also to the Muscovites. One feels that the dictator does not get out among he people enough and that he might know better if he would walk through the twisted, broken streets, visit the stifling one-room apartments and rickety houses of the people.

It is little wonder that the people of the city turned out to celebrate its foundation with vodka, dancing and singing, for before them stretches the Moscow winter, when homes will be ill-heated and workers ill-fed. —New York Times.

Stratosphere Chamber

One of the most unusual all-welded vessels ever built by a ship-building firm will be launched shortly — on land — by a United Kingdom firm at their works in Surrey, England. It is a stratosphere chamber in which it will be possible to reproduce conditions of temperature and pressure likely to be encountered by aircraft in flight at altitudes of 70,000 feet. This chamber weighs 215 tons and encloses a volume of 40,000 cubic feet. It measures 83 feet x 44 feet x 32 feet and the main cylinder has a working-length of 50 feet, a diameter of 25 feet and a plate thickness of half an inch. In the chamber it will be possible to mount the pressure cabin of an aircraft, test its pressurizing and heating equipment and study under a variety of conditions the behaviour of aircraft structures, controls and engines.

600-Acre Lake for Sussex

Houses, fields, and woods in the quiet and pleasant valley of Darwell Hole, between the East Sussex villages of Mountfield and Netherfield, three miles from the main London-Hastings road, will have disappeared by the winter of 1948 beneath the waters of a new artificial lake, one of the largest in southeast England, says London Times.

The Darwell reservoir, constructed by the Hastings Corporation at a cost of more than £500,000, will cover some 600 acres and hold about 900,000,000 gallons.

Ultrasonic Washday

Pennsylvania scientists have found that if a soiled cloth is placed in a bucket of soapy water, and exposed to ultrasonic waves of 18,000 frequency, it will come out clean. The next step, no doubt, is ultrasonic soap, complete with operatic trimmings.—Windsor Star.

HUMAN TRAIT

'Tis a very human trait
Truthful counseling to hate.
Tell another more to earn,
More he ought to try to learn,
Has promotion passed him by?
There must be a reason why.
It may be he lacks ambition,
Doesn't merit high position.
Counsel true, but he'll receive it
Angrily and won't believe it.

But, to tell the truth, afraid;
Say that he is underpaid,
Doing more than seems his share,
Everyone to him unfair,
All against him, none to see
Just how good a man is he,
Pity him, his eyes will glisten.
Happily to you he'll listen.
Counsel bad, but he'll receive it
Gratefully and he'll believe it.

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

Who administers the oath to the Speaker of the House?

The Federal Constitution (Article VI) provides, "The Senators and Representatives . . ., and the Members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers of the United States and the several States, shall be bound by Oath or Affirmation, to support this Constitution." But the form of the oath or affirmation is not prescribed in the Constitution as in the case of the President.

The first act of Congress to become a law under the Constitution was approved by President Washington June 1 1789, and dealt with the "time and manner of administering certain oaths." It provided that on the organization of the House of Representatives and before entering on any other business the oath of office should be administered by any member to the Speaker and by the Speaker to the other members and to the Clerk.

As the years passed by and the parliamentary practice of the House crystallized it became customary for the member of that body having the longest continuous service — "the dean of the House" — to administer the oath to the Speaker. That is still the usage, but the Speaker may, and sometimes does, designate some other member to perform that function. Occasionally it happens that a number of members are equal in point of length of service and the Speaker then designates one of them or some other member to administer the oath to him.

The form of the oath for the Speaker is the same as that for other members of the House. It is: "I, A.B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God."

When a new House of Representatives meets in January in the odd-numbered years the first order of business is the choice of a Speaker. During this procedure the Clerk presides. Originally the Speaker was chosen by ballot, but since 1839 he has been chosen by a viva voce vote. In 1879 the House ruled that a Speaker can be chosen by a number smaller than the total membership provided the number is a quorum.

The Clerk, after announcing the vote, declares the Speaker duly elected, whereupon the Speaker is conducted to the chair by the member whom he has defeated, an old custom that probably originated in a desire to show that a member was not presumptuous in taking the chair.

EARLY SETTING OF NETS

St. Thomas, Sept. 17 — (CP) — Reports of lifts of cisco herring and whitefish by gill net fishermen out of nearby Port Burwell, caused commercial fishermen at Port Stanley to make preparations today for an early start of the fall season. Two tugs went out today to set nets.

BINDER AGAINST SEPTEMBER SUNSET

Still to be seen in the park land areas of Saskatchewan is the horse-drawn binder, although more modern methods of harvesting are fast displacing them. PERSONAL HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received only a few can be answered here. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady, care of this newspaper.)

BACK ON THE WAGON

We are happy to announce (I'm using the editorial "we" this once), especially to our former W. C. T. U. friends and any pastors, parents, teachers, or even family physicians who may care one way or the other, that Ol' Doc Brady is back on the wagon after two years of research and clinical or field work upon the question of the effect of a glass of beer, ale or wine twice daily for the elderly person who finds life hard to live or with whom it is hard for others to live.

The experiment proved a complete failure. I received plenty of pats on the back from people, some of them not old enough to know better, who twisted the suggestion into a half-hearted approval of drinking cocktails, highballs and the like. But not one bona fide report from an elderly person or an elderly couple who, without previous use of beer, ale or wine, adopted the suggestion and benefited from it in the way I had expected.

Moreover, remonstrances from some old friends in the W. C. T. U. and out of it (I never had greater respect for the W. C. T. U. than I have now, if anybody wonders about that) have given me insomnia.

I have kept a file of all comments readers have sent me in regard to the use of ale, beer or wine by elderly, infirm persons.

In this file I find not a single report from an elderly infirm person or concerning such person who has found life easier to live or who has become easier to live with since he or she began to take beer, ale or wine as suggested. Most of the reports, notes or expressions of opinion (interesting but irrelevant) seem to have come from the people on the callow side, and too often from people who are clearly trying to justify their own temperance.

Although I have never specified the age beyond which a person might begin taking his or her two glasses of ale, beer or wine daily, many correspondents arbitrarily assume that I suggested the age of fifty years. Why, it is humiliating even to associate the idea of being elderly, infirm, decrepit or crabbed in the August of life — but I understand why people in the habit of using alcoholic beverages or liquors feel that way.

In this one respect these two years since I recommend these beverages for elderly infirm persons have been too long, for I have had nothing else to worry about, and my worry lest this suggestion had been wrong has increased with the passing of the months and not one word of approval from an elderly infirm person of the temperate associate, relative or friend of such a person.

In the course of my research, prying into the private lives of elderly people, I have found no satisfactory evidence that ale, beer or wine is a beneficient beverage for elderly folk — on the contrary I have found that superior people, superior physically, mentally and sociably, are generally people who have never taken alcoholic beverage or liquor and feel no need of it now, for the greatest enjoyment of their old age.

So I'm back on the water wagon, and glad to be back.

Whether I shall ever get back in the good graces of my old friends in the W. C. T. U. and other temperance organizations (if any still in existence) is for these good people to decide.

I now believe I was wrong, grievously wrong, and with this public confession of my crime the defence rests.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Old Andrew J., Eh?

For seven days I did those crazy exercises (says a Milwaukee man) and then I could hardly believe my ears when I found they were picking up every sound again, even whispers. I wrote Dr. Brady a letter of gratitude . . . I don't know whether the exercises did the trick or not. Maybe it was coincidence.

(Newspaper clipping).

Answer — All right, all right. On written request if you inclose stamped envelope bearing your address I'll send you the pamphlet on Deafness and Tinnitus (head noises) which contains directions for the exercises the Milwaukee man mentions. The exercises have seemed to bring considerable relief not only to deafness but, in some instances, to head noises and to snoring.

Iron and Ammonium Citrates

Druggists here refuse to sell me iron and ammonium citrates without prescription — they say it is a new regulation of the authorities.

(A. L. E.)

Answer — Uh-huh. Those same authorities will get around to prohibiting the indiscriminate sale of such deadly drugs as acetanilide without prescription with a few more centuries. Such authorities have to do something to show the boob public they earn their salaries.

Popcorn

Since reading that corn contains an anti-vitamin I have wondered about my popcorn eating—have eaten it daily as an aid against constipation?

(C. C. A.)

Answer — It is harmless. If I recollect it was Mellanby who thought phytin in corn and other grains might counteract vitamin D, but to the best of my knowledge this theory has not been borne out in practice.

NEGRO CHARGED

Somerset, Ky., Sept. 17— (AP) — Police announced that Luther Williams, 27-year-old Somerset Negro, is being held in jail at Lexington on charges of murder, rape, armed robbery and wounding with intent to kill, following the death of Mrs. Ada Hughes, 51, in a hospital here.

Mrs. Hughes was found Sunday night in the backyard of her home, brutally beaten and unconscious, police said. They added that Williams, arrested later, had signed a statement admitting that he beat and raped Mrs. Hughes, a white woman employed as a housekeeper, and taken $8 from her pocketbook.

OPPOSE LONGER SKIRTS

Pullman, Wash., Sept. 17—(AP) — The Board of Control of the Associated Students of Washington State College adopted a resolution opposing lengthening of women's skirts but apparently the composition of the board had something to do with it.

The Board is made up of eight men and six co-eds.

Products of Woodenware Company Outlined to Rotary Club Members

An outline of his company's operations and the manner of its business formed the theme of a classification address given to the Rotary Club on Monday by Rotarian "Stu" Riley, manager of the McFarland Woodenware Company of this city, housed in the former Bristol Aircraft Co., buildings.

"His company," Rotarian Riley said, "was not a new one and had been in production for the past half century."

"We are an old company with plenty of manufacturing experience behind us," he said, "and if our present increase in business continues it won't be long before we will be able to employ some 300 people."

"His company," Riley said, "manufactured Summer furniture, juvenile furniture and as recently as a few days ago had installed equipment for the manufacture of extension ladders, step ladders and other "climbing facilities".

The company utilizes one and one million feet of hardwood annually for the manufacture of its products. This wood comes from North Hastings and the Ottawa Valley. One hundred thousand yards of cloth are imported from the United States while another 50,000 yards is purchased from the Canadian market.

A Wide Market

The company's products are marketed from Halifax to Vancouver and as far south as the West Indies.

Wood for the manufacture of extension and other ladders is British Columbia fir while the "rungs" are made from hickory from the United States.

"His company," Riley said, was a distinct asset to the city of Belleville inasmuch as no other firm manufactured similar articles. The operations did not encroach on city lumber companies and are in an exclusive field of their own."

Typical of the varied products turned out by the company are 5,000 washboards yearly. Every product is made, assembled, painted and shipped at the company's plant here. It recently installed a huge drying kiln which dries lumber to a point of 8 per cent moisture.

The speaker was introduced by Rotarian Perc McGuire with club appreciation expressed by Rotarian Enos David.

Rotarian Harry Ackerman passed cigars and cigarettes around after the announcement that he had recently become a grandfather. Past President Bert Howard was in the chair due to the unavoidable absence of President Alex. Nathan.

Whale Meat Proves Popular In Britain

London, Sept. 17 — (CP) — Whale meat is proving so popular in Britain that two refrigerator ships will accompany the whaling fleet to the Antarctic next month to save some of the 600,000 tons of meat tossed back into the sea annually, Food Minister Strachey told a press conference.

"We can sell every ton of it that goes into the shops," he said. "This is entirely contrary to what I had expected.

"If we could bring back the whole of the 600,000 tons, what a difference it would make to our meat supply."

Historians said whale meat was popular on Royal tables 500 years ago, with the tail and the tongue considered the choicer parts.

CLAIMS THEY WERE ACTUALLY 'FASCIST BANDITS'

Berlin, Sept. 17 — (AP)—Taegliche Rundschau, German newspaper published by the Russian army, said that Ukrainians who recently entered the United States occupation zone reporting themselves fugitives from Communism "actually were Fascist bandits."

The paper said they were Ukrainian Fascists "who fought for the Nazis during the war and since have plundered the peaceful countryside of Eastern European countries."

Five Are Killed In Two-Hour Clash in Havana

Havana, Sept. 17 — (AP) — Fourteen persons were held in custody today after a two-hour gun battle Monday between police and a group of suspected "revolutionaries" at the home of Police Inspector Antonio Morin Dopico Monday, during which five persons were killed and 12 wounded.

The dead included a woman and three police officers, report said. Police added that among those arrested was Jesus Dieguez, secretary of the "Accion Insurreccional Revolucionaria," a secret organization.

The shooting was said to have started after police went to the Dopico home to arrest a police instructor reported to have been involved in a recent slaying. Police were reinforced by army troops during a siege of the house and used grenades to drive out survivors.

APPOINTED TO BOARD

Ottawa, Sept. 17 — (CP) — Group Capt. W. R. MacBrien, O. B. E., 34, of Ottawa, former fighter pilot squadron commander overseas, has been appointed R. C. A. He previously had been assistant air attache with the Canadian joint staff at Washington.

London Makes Generous Provision With Countless Parks for City Folk

By STUART UNDERHILL
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Sept. 17. (CP)—For lonely city dwellers to whom home is a furnished room and for lovers at the hand-holding stage, London makes generous provision with its countless parks.

There are hundreds of them, ranging from tiny patches with room only for a tree, a shrub and a bench to the tree-clad areas of Hampstead Heath and Kensington Gardens.

Mothers and young children have a daytime priority, of course, but once the offices and stores let out, the tired folk of the city take over the benches. The aging widows and widowers, the spinsters and the bachelors enjoy an hour or two of grass and fresh air and flowers.

Later on the young folk come, to sit whispering in the shadows. In smaller parks, where gates are not banged shut at darkness, their place is taken later— provided the night is fine—by down-and-outs who stretch out comfortably on the benches.

Park habitues have their favorite haunts. Few spots, however, have a more loyal following than the embankment gardens, a peaceful haven within sight of the Thames and within earshot of the traffic streams that roar along the Strand and out of Charing Cross Station.

"I have been coming here for every evening for more years than I care to remember," said one of the older frequenters. "Whenever I meet a stranger to London, I always direct him here."

The gardens occupy little space with their neat lawns, bright flower beds and central stand where bands play twice daily during the Summer. But they offer a cool and pleasant surprise to the pedestrian hurrying through London's jungle of brick and concrete.

Resting-Place for Tourists

They also can serve as a headquarters or resting-place for the busy tourist who is seeing London. A half mile or so along the Thames embankment to the right are the Houses of Parliament and Westminster Abbey. A venture to the left leads to St. Paul's.

Not far behind the gardens is Trafalgar Square and the National Gallery. And the sense of restfulness is heightened by the bustle all around: the hum of traffic in the Strand, the trains clanking over Charing Cross Bridge, the tugs hooting and puffing up the river.

The gardens themselves boast historic associations. There's a huge statue of Robert Burns, and another of Robert Raikes, who founded Sunday Schools. Elsewhere the figure of a weeping woman commemorates the death of W. S. Gilbert, General Gordon sits severely on a carved camel, and the statue of Robert Raikes, temperance reformer, surveys heedlessly passersby.

A stroll along the embankment is always rewarding in its glimpses of forgotten phases of London's past, while the Thames churns by in full flood, or subsides into a muddy trickle on the ebb.

The first touch of Autumn is beginning to whittle down attendance at the parks. But even when Winter fogs drip from the trees, there are die-hards who will pace unconcernedly up and down the gleaming paths, or settle themselves with resolve on a chill bench.

FIND BODY OF INSTRUCTOR

Detroit, Sept. 17 — (AP) — The body of Rev. Joseph Dell, S. J., 44-year-old English instructor at the University of Detroit, was found Monday night in his room in the university faculty building.

Police said Father Dell had a bullet wound in his right temple and was holding a .32 calibre pistol in his outstretched hand.

Very Rev. W. J. Millar, S. J., University president, found the body when he went to Father Dell's room after failing to see the priest for 24 hours.

Police said Father Millar told them the faculty member had been moody and depressed for some time.

Japan's Premier Denies Report As Quoted

Tokyo, Sept. 17 — (Reuters) — Prime Minister Teish Katayama, Tuesday denied a report in Monday's United States army newspaper Stars and Stripes, quoting him as saying Japan in defeat had a better chance than victorious Britain of surviving their economic crisis "because the Japanese learned long ago how to tighten their belts."

The article caused considerable indignation in British circles. The prime minister said he told the writer:

"I have recently heard of the austerity campaign in Britain. A similar campaign in Japan was started by the present government when it came to power. I believe it is through this austerity campaign that Japanese reconstruction will be realized."

He added, "I did not make any comparison between Britain and Japan on this compaign."

The transaction involved 150 objects, ranging in date from 3,000 B. C. to 1400. A. D.

British Crisis Grows Serious

The British people, like the British Government, are in a jam. It is the worst jam of its kind in British history. It is the economic aftermath of the war. In brief, they cannot at present pay their way. Some 46,000,000 human beings may soon be very seriously short of food and raw materials. The rapid eating up of the American dollar loan compelled Prime Minister Attlee to announce a new Battle of Britain. This means even more stringent rationing and various additional restrictions. The resulting attitude of the British public is both astonishing and revealing. They feel that the Government has not gone far enough, which indicates again the basic soundness of the British character. WEDDINGS

LOUGH—SHERWOOD

A profusion of chrysanthemums were used in decorating St. John's Norway Anglican Church, Toronto, Sept. 13, for the marriage at eight o'clock p.m., of Margaret Jean Sherwood, daughter of Mrs. Charlotte Sherwood, Toronto and the late Mr. Ernest Sherwood, with Howard George Lough, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lough of Mountain View, Ont. Rev. O. Coleman of Carrying Place officiated, assisted by Rev. Mr. Nicolls of Toronto. Music was supplied by Mr. Mould, with Mrs. J. Burns as the soloist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. J. Sherwood, of Orillia, Ont., wore a becoming gown of white slipper satin, with fitted bodice, featuring a crew neckline and long sleeves coming to points over the wrists. A peplum cascaded down the back of the skirt to form a train, and her long veil fell from a crown of seed pearls. American Beauty roses formed the bridal bouquet.

Miss Kathleen Sherwood was her sister's maid-of-honor in a floor length model of American Beauty velvet; while bridesmaids, Miss Mary Lough, sister of the groom, Miss Eileen Brunell and Miss Irene Carter wore identical floor length gowns of turquoise blue velvet, all with matching velvet headdresses and cascade bouquets of cerise gladioli.

Junior Miss Jacqueline Armstrong, a niece of the bride, was an attractive flower girl in a long gown of blue taffeta with matching headdress.

Mr. Roy Hymers performed the duties of groomsman and the ushers were Messrs. Leslie Lough, brother of the groom, Jack Sherwood, brother of the bride, and Elgin Oram brother-in-law of the groom.

At the reception held at Ulster Temple Mrs. Sherwood received the guests in a gown of pearl grey with burgundy accessories, and wore a corsage of blue and white flowers. The groom's mother wore a suit of light grey gabardine, with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

For a wedding trip to Lake Placid, N.Y., the bride chose a midnight blue taffeta suit, with pink accessories. Following their return Mr. and Mrs. Lough will reside at 96 Browning Ave., Toronto.

WOOD—COLEMAN

The altar and chancel of St. Thomas' Church, was beautifully decorated with a profusion of pastel shaded gladioli in tall standards on Saturday, Sept. 13, for the evening wedding at seven o'clock of Mildred Josephine Coleman, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coleman, with Raymond Stratton Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McGregor Wood. Rev. F. Arthur Smith was the officiating clergyman and Professor E. Wheatley presided at the organ console. Miss Joan Morgan was the soloist, singing "I'll Walk Beside You" before the ceremony and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Mr. Coleman gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a portrait gown of blush satin with a fitted bodice, the neckline of embroidered net edged in braided satin, and the long tight sleeves ending in lily points over the wrists. The three-tiered full skirt ended in a train which was edged with tiny French knots, while the embroidered French veil was held in place by a coronet of braided satin and pearls. The bride's only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of ivory colored roses, centred with red roses and bouvardia.

Senior attendants included Mrs. Ray Putman, as matron of honor; Miss Irma Perry, of Toronto, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Helen Jeffrey, as bridesmaids. They wore similarly styled gowns, having dropped shoulder lines, fitted bodices and full skirts in three blending shades of rose crepe, namely, coral, dusty rose and light rose, with matching bonnets and long white gloves. They carried bouquets of asters in pastel tones.

Miss Helen Wood, sister of the groom, was the junior bridesmaid, and wore a floor length gown of ice blue net over taffeta, showing a fitted bodice, full skirt with peplum ending in a point at the back and her halo headdress was of the same material. She wore matching mittens and carried a bouquet of pastel colored asters.

Mr. Jack Joblin was groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Stuart Wood, brother of the groom, and Mr. Douglas Coleman, brother of the bride.

The beautifully appointed dining-room of "Chez Henri" was the setting for a reception following the ceremony, when the bride's mother received the sixty guests in a floor length model of orchid crepe, with grey accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. J. Wood assisted, wearing a floor length gown of black crepe, with mauve accessories and a corsage of mauve asters.

The bridal table was centred with a four-tiered wedding cake, flanked by tall white tapers in silver candelabra. A profusion of flowers added to the attractive arrangement of the other tables.

For a motor trip to Detroit, Mich., Chicago, Ill., and Winnipeg, Man., the bride chose a suit of heavenly blue gabardine, a grey squirrel neckpiece, black taffeta crownless hat and black accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses.

The bride's gifts to the bridesmaids were bracelets and to the junior bridesmaid a pendant. The groom's gift to the groomsman was a silver cigarette case and to the ushers, wallets.

Out-of-town guests were from Montreal, Toronto, Hawkesbury and Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood will take up residence at 140 Queen Street, in Belleville.

TYENDINAGA EAST W.I.

Mrs. E. Hewitt was hostess for the September meeting of the Tyendinaga East W.I., with the President, Mrs. G. Provins in charge.

Fourteen members and five visitors responded to the roll call answering with the name of an industry in our land. The members were reminded of the auction sale to be held at the October meeting for the purpose of raising money for the "Flower Fund," each member of Mrs. H. A. Winter's group to donate an article for the sale.

Mrs. C. J. Akey gave a short talk on the motto, "What we give we keep; What we plant we reap."

The program was in charge of Mrs. Roy Stafford, with readings given by Mrs. B. Kimmerly, Mrs. H. A. Winter, Mrs. Grant Kimmerly and Mrs. R. Stafford, who also conducted some contests, for which Miss Irene Mowers, Mrs. Whiteman and Mrs. Provins were the winners.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Wedding Gifts Being Made Ready For Princess

London, Sept. 17—(AP)—Wedding gifts for Princess Elizabeth for her marriage Nov. 20 to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, were being made ready today over Britain and the Commonwealth she some day will rule as queen.

Millions were clanking "thrupenny bits" (nickels) and half crowns (half dollars) into collection boxes to buy them. Silver and gold and fine feathers were in store for her.

The King and Queen announced meanwhile that they would give a wedding party Nov. 17, three days before the Westminster Abbey ceremony, so that guests could see Elizabeth's presents.

One gift, at least, was coming from the United States. Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck of Richmond, Va., new president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, sent word she would sail from New York tomorrow with the federation's present — a Madeira organdie applique table cloth and napkins.

The women of Victoria State in Australia decided today to give a jewel case wrought of Victorian fine gold and engraved with the state coat-of-arms.

Islanders of Guernsey, off the French coast, chipped in up to the limits of five shillings ($1) for adults and three pence for children to buy the Princess silver shaped by Guernsey craftsmen.

The mayor of Capetown called for contributions to buy an unspecified present. Earlier, farmers of Oudtshoorn, South Africa, paid a record price of £9 ($36) a pound for white ostrich plumes.

The Daily Telegraph here said the diplomatic corps intended to present the bride-to-be with a travelling case with silver fittings engraved with a flowing "E."

1. That the Presbyterial memorials and resolutions committee be appointed at the executive meeting immediately preceding the annual Presbyterial meeting.

2. That the committee be advised to give careful thought to the subject and form of these resolutions, basing them upon general needs of the day.

3. That these be passed on to the Presbyterial President for revision and approval before being presented at Presbyterial.

4. That they be sent to the convener of the Conference Branch Memorial and Resolutions' Committee after they have been passed by the Presbyterial.

Mrs. Carman Atton's resignation as Baby Band leader was accepted with regret and Mrs. Arthur McCreary was appointed to fill her duties for the remainder of her term.

Miss Ethel Morden, supply secretary, said that 16 auxiliaries had sent cash amounting to $88.62. Also 240 yards of flannelette had been made into pajamas and infant gowns and sent to China. Supplies sent to Indian Missions in Manitoba were 37 sets of sweaters and mittens also scarfs, socks, etc.—9 cartons were sent valued at $240.00—all new goods.

Mrs. McKenzie, literature secretary recommended highly the following books, "Gateway to Knowledge of the Bible" and "Birch Bark Talking" and "Out of the Tepee."

Mrs. Richard Maddocks Guest Speaker At Tabernacle Church

At three o'clock on the afternoon of Sept. 12th a large number of ladies gathered in the church School Hall of Tabernacle United Church where members of the different organizations and a number of visitors listened to an inspiring address by Mrs. Richard Maddocks, past-president of the Women's Council of the United Church.

Mrs. F. R. Harback presided for the meeting, and cordially welcomed all who were present.

The devotional exercises were capably conducted by Mrs. Geo. Stratton and Miss Ethel Horton, members of the W.M.S. Evening Auxiliary of the Tabernacle. The soloist, Mrs. Clifford Temple, contributed the solos "How Lovely is the Hand of God" and "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," both of which were greatly appreciated by her listeners.

Speaking on the activities of the Women's Association, Mrs. Maddocks emphasized the fact that the W.A. which was originally organized to take care of church parsonages and the beautifying of church surroundings, has broadened its field of activities. She stressed the importance of sending parcels of food overseas, and the "Save The Children Fund," saying "We should be very interested in our young people, and church women must accept the challenge that comes to us from our church. Now is the time for more service, so let us not stand idly by."

Continuing the speaker said,—"The golden rule is the key to social Christianity, and we must have a desire to meet all human needs, for a new world is in the making. God is calling us all! First and always we must be a member of His household, for "Fellowship" expresses Christianity. If we serve God in our church, let us cultivate a right way of living. As we read our Bibles, we derive comfort and strength. In a time like this we are prone to overlook the hours of meditation, but these are needed in the Crusade for Christ. Let us give particular interest to the young people and children, and in this respect visitation is an important part of our work. Women should be friendly and sincere when making calls.

The speaker asked,—"Are we church women doing all we can to combat the liquor traffic, to safeguard the young people of our homes, which is of great concern to all Christians, for young people depend upon adults and religious groups for example and guidance."

"Let us go forward to meet the beckoning horizon. We do not know what the future holds for any of us, but we do know that whatever it may be God will be with us."

Appreciation for this fine address was expressed to Mrs. Maddocks, and the ladies of the Tabernacle served refreshments, with Mrs. J. Grant Sparling of Christ Church, and Mrs. D. C. Amos of Bridge Street Church pouring the beverage.

Radio Skits Used By Kiwanis Club As Basis for Fun

Something new and different in the way of programs was presented at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club held in their centre yesterday when those two program producers of CJBQ, manager Bill Stovin, and announcer Doug Whelan, cut loose with their funniest tricks.

Mr. Stovin explained to the gathering that the show would be a combination of those two well known radio skits, "Truth or Consequences," and "People are Funny." Any person wishing to participate in the fun could do so simply by raising his hand or otherwise signifying his willingness. He then called for volunteers.

Owing to the tremendous response it was necessary to commandeer contestants. Two gentlemen marched reluctantly to the fore and were told that they had five seconds to answer the question. If they failed to do so it would be necessary to atone for their ignorance. Then Mr. Stovin asked, "What would be the date 6,936 days from now?"

Position of Debtors

Quickly the contestants, Ray Roblin and Dr. Harold Craig assumed the position of the debtors and proceeded to pay. Protected by towels, and securely blindfolded they began to feed each other marshmallows thoughtfully covered with a black coloring that put the "consumer" in dark circumstances and rendered the spectators speechless with laughter. Two "Rolls," direct from the Eddy Transportation Company of Ottawa, were presented as prizes.

After this exhibition of goodwill it was practically impossible to sort out the contestants eager to play "Truth or Consequences." At last after careful consideration, two other victims were securely bound and about to be gagged. "What is the difference between the southern exposure of an elephant and a mail box?" stumped our two experts, Wally Warner and Albert Jones, and the fun was on again for the spectators.

With hands behind, and schnozzles to the fore, the two pioneers plunged into a plate of pie. They forfeited the use of knife, fork or spoon, let alone hands.

Mr. Jones ate his way to an easy victory, and was presented with a lemon pie as a souvenir of his prowess.

In five seconds, Tom Carruthers, failed to answer the query, "Who is the president of Russia?" and was promptly made the hero in a little drama formerly reserved for those who wished to enlist in the airforce as pilots. With knees stiff, he was asked to lift a match from the floor using two other matches for support, the three to form a T. As if this was not enough he then had to stand on one foot and shake the other one back and forth, without dislodging the suspended match.

Flunked Miserably

Flunking miserably in this test the hero was notified that he had been accepted for the ground crew and was presented with a collapsible chair — in sixteen different pieces.

Mr. L. A. Kells, when asked to give the age of Mr. Stovin said either 34 or 134, (it was hard to hear at the rear of the hall), and was immediately sentenced to the consequences. Three ladies who had assisted serving the delightful meal were brought in, and Mr. Kells was asked to guess which one of them performed osculatory exercises on either cheek and up top. Then blindfolded he was subjected to this guessing game.

When the blindfold was removed he pointed straight into the gathering and accused one of the guests, stating that the second "lover" had a mustache. Mr. Stovin introduced Mr. Taylor Franklin as the originator of the kisses. A slightly used lipstick was awarded Mr. Kells for his noble try.

Morris Burke and Dr. Brearly were then summoned and dressed in the height of fashion —for six month old "drinkers." Nourishment was then brought forward and the contest was on. Mr. Burke came through handsomely with a win in record time despite the larger bottle. The winner was presented with a used jeep with a wheelbase 4 in. by 2 in. The loser was awarded a "slightly used" teething ring.

The final stunt was a "swallowing contest" involving the contents of two coke bottle. The winner downed the coke in record time, 11 seconds. Both winners and losers were given a bottle of spirits of dubious strength.

The program was conducted by Bill Stovin, assisted by Doug. Whelan.

Mr. Stovin was introduced by Len Fozard and thanked by George Forhan. The thanks were passed on by club president Jack White.

THOUSANDS FLEE IN SHIPS AS REFUGEES POUR OUT OF PAKISTAN

Thousands of Hindoos and Sikh refugees are pouring out of the new Moslem Dominion of Pakistan to make new homes in their own Dominion of India. At the same time, thousands of Moslems are leaving the Dominion of India to make fresh homes in Pakistan. Meeting on the wayside the two groups, whose religious differences are so great, often fight each other, and some ugly riots are taking place. Photo shows some of the more fortunate — Hindoo and Sikhs — who were among 700, mostly women and children, who fled Pakistan in the British-India liner Dwarka. In this picture can be seen some of the women and children leaving the dock area after the liner had docked in Bombay.

International Bank Loan May Be Sought by U.K.

London, Sept. 17 (CP)—A government source today said that Britain, which yesterday sold $80,000,000 worth of her gold reserves to the United States, soon might ask the International Bank for a $320,000,000 loan to ease her economic crisis.

The bank said last week that "stop-gap" loans for crisis relief would not be permitted.

Today's source suggested, however, that Britain presumably could meet the banks requirements by earmarking a loan for reconstruction and development. Certain reconstruction and development projects would have the effect of relieving her economic position.

Meanwhile, John W. Snyder, United States Treasury Secretary, called at the Foreign Office for his first face-to-face talk with Foreign Secretary Bevin.

As far as Britain's own gold reserves are concerned, yesterday's $80,000,000 sale was conceded today to be possibly the first of a series, which would be kept on as limited a scale as possible.

Beanwhile coal authorities said that by 1951 Britain should be able to export the 40,000,000 tons of coal called for yesterday by Averell Harriman, United States Commerce Secretary.

Produce For Export

Manchester (CP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, President of the Board of Trade, said today that a "general fear" of unemployment through overproduction is obstructing Britain's path to economic recovery.

Urging labor not to fight improved manufacturing methods designed to save manpower and increase production, Sir Stafford told management and labor leaders in the cotton textile industry:

"It is a complete fallacy to imagine that by spinning out our present jobs we shall gain time for unemployment, it is exactly the contrary that is true. If we now . . . fail in our export task (producing for export) then we shall precipitate the coming of unemployment."

The keystone of Sir Stafford's plan for increased export production is to increase manufacturing efficiency.

Sift Tribal Sites For Ancient Secrets

Lockport, Man., (CP)—An Archeological party delving into the early history of Manitoba by excavating old Indian camp sites accumulated in successive layers near here, 20 miles northeast of Winnipeg, has discovered an unexpected number of occupation periods.

The two-week project, which will occupy seven archeologists, is headed by Walter Hlady of Middlechurch, Man., whose interest in the subject was aroused eight years ago— when he was only 14—by discovery of an old Indian bone scraper on his father's property.

He said the party expected to discover three 'occupation strata", the deposits remaining from different periods of Indian settlement. Preliminary work has revealed that there may be nine layers of debris remains, indicating nine separate occupations by Indians.

Initial test have been vary favorable," said Hlady. The archeologists noted the nine possible occupation layers in a "profile' test made on the bank of the Red River, where the earth was removed to a depth of seven feet.

350 Years Old

The layers are visible, some of them being marked by covers of silt deposited by the river when the banks are unoccupied. Pottery remnants have been found which may be more than 350 years old.

Already a bone fishing tool made from moose or elk and a bone tanning tool believed to have been fashioned from buffalo have been discovered. Only about 10 of these bone tools have been found along the Red River within the last 25 years, Hlady said.

Other finds include arrow heads, scrapers and animal and fish bones. Deposits of fish scales, left by Indians more than 200 years ago and resembling bits of bread crust now, have been found embedded in the camp site debris.

Small black specks of earth turn out to be charcoal remains of Indian fireplaces.

After the "profile" test the archeologists will dig a trench 20 feet long and five feet wide, and expect to dig to a depth of seven feet. Excavated earth will be sifted carefully remains. The findings will be carefully noted and correlated as to time.

Police Speculate Fiend Lurking In Toronto Park

Toronto, Sept. 17 — (CP) — Amid public anxiety over unsolved crimes, police speculated today that a fiend lurked in the neighborhood of huge, west-end High Park, ready to strike again in another "lovers' lane" murder.

As police admitted there were no developments in the twin strangling of George Vigus and his attractive girl friend, Iris Scott, Mayor Robert Saunders took cognizance of public apprehension over the strange murder and recent holdups.

He announced last night he will lay the whole law enforcement problem before the police commission today or Friday." But Magistrate Robert Browne, also a member of the commission, said: "I have the utmost confidence in our police department. These crime waves run in cycles. The police are working 24 hours a day and they are leaving no clue untouched."

But many High Park district residents, accustomed to stroll through the park's winding paths and shady ravines, were giving its byways a wide berth in their concern over the fate of the married man and girl whose strangled bodies were found jammed in the luggage compartment of his car last Friday.

Raise Few Clues

Since the discovery, in a "lovers' lane" parking area, police have raised few clues despite the questioning of dozens of men. Vigus' car keys were found in a street in Parkdale district, a few blocks from High Park and Miss Scott's purse was discovered by children not far from where the bodies were found.

But despite the posting of a $1,000 reward for information leading to the identity of the killer or killers, police had little new to go on. They announced last night they were trying to reach a man and a girl who had been sitting in the park early Thursday a short distance from the spot where the bodies were discovered.

Neil Bergstrom, a night park attendant, said he had seen the couple and a motorcycle at that time and police felt they might throw some light on the mystery. Both victims were killed late Wednesday night and one theory is that Miss Scott was killed after she screamed for help. One side of her neck had been crushed, showing the strangler possessed unusual strength.

Bus Hurtles Into Gulley, 2 Persons Die

Dunkirk, N.Y., Sept. 17 —(AP) Wrecking crews today began hauling a Greyhound bus up a 40-foot embankment from a gully where it had crashed, killing two and injuring 20.

The bus, proceeding from Buffalo to Erie., Pa., went out of control yesterday a mile east of here and hurtled 40 feet to the bottom of the gully. Its plunge was halted by a tree.

Dead were Mary Nobel, 18, of Fredonia, N.Y., and Mrs. Della Carey, 72, of Erie. Still in hospital were 12 other passengers who were being treated for varying degrees of shock and injuries to the back. None of the 12 was in critical condition.

Artist Transforms Junk Into Fine Furniture

It was more than 25 years ago that a struggling young artist with a strong practical strain settled in Provincetown, Mass., on the tip of Cape Cod. His name was Peter Hunt. He had a feeling for line and colour, and excellent taste. When he wasn't painting, he was fooling around with discarded furniture. People who didn't want to buy his paintings often wanted to buy the furniture that the Hunt magic had transformed. Today, Peter Hunt's Work Book is a cherished possession among people who like to make new furniture out of old. His first shop has grown into a series of shops and Peter Hunt is rather bewildered by it all. The Roto Section of this week's Standard carries five pages of photographs on this interesting work. The Standard is on sale now at all newsdealers for 10 cents.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON

The Kibitzer

A dillar, a dollar, a contract bridge scholar. What makes you act so dumb? You learn a lot of complex rot that makes your brain go numb.

When either partner makes a jump bid, it is a signal to keep going to at least a game. This is the acknowledged meaning of a jump. So, a player need only know the right time to use it.

If you have the slightest doubt as to why, something is wrong with your bridge. If you have the slightest doubt as to when, there is something wrong with your system.

Look at it this way. When would a player insist on going to a game? Only when he sees tricks enough to make a game; the total of what he has discovered in his own hand and that of his partner.

So, if no suit has been determined for trump, 11 tricks must be seen by a jumper. If the decided trump is a minor, also 11 tricks. If the decided jump is a major, seeing 10 tricks is the answer.

One heart was the opening bid by south with this hand:

♠9 6
♥A K Q 7 4 2
♦Q 7
♣K 6 3

North responded with two clubs. South then made a jump rebid of three hearts. If you were asked to decide whether this jump was a correct one, what would you say? It certainly is not.

The trump suit has not yet been determined. To jump, south should first see 11 tricks. North showed no more than three. South has seven. Three and seven are only ten. Not enough. One short of enough.

The south player may say he has decided that the final trump suit will be hearts. Is that so? How dare he? How does he know the pair have enough trumps if it is hearts?

It may be that north has some hearts. But he has not yet said so. Furthermore, north may have four tricks. If so, what happens? North will count on south for eight tricks and may go to slam.

You wanna take a chance? Okay. But don't say it's right.

The Movie Column

By ARMAND ARCHERD

Hollywood, Sept. 17—(AP)—No one will deny that one of the things this continent can use today is a few more laughs. Comedians are striving valiantly. But what are the gals trying to do about the situation? Very little.

The weaker sex pounded for equal opportunities for a long time. Being soft-hearted, we said O.K. and before we knew it they became doctors, lawyers, writers, etc. But the number of aspiring comediennes today equals that of male mahjong players. It seemed like a good idea to call up Fanny Brice.

"Why do all the gals today want to be glamor-pusses and not Fanny Brices?" I asked.

She countered with: "Would you want them to give up everything?"

She quickly added: "If a girl becomes a comedienne, she can kiss romance good-bye. I had to laugh myself into my marriages.

"You can just picture a fella about to propose to a comedienne. He'd be scared silly that she'd make a joke out of the whole business."

Any girl with ambition to be funny, she continued, realizes her chances of happy married life fade as she becomes funnier. So, she puts her joke book in the attic and concentrates on a hope chest. The unsuspecting male thinks he'd married a sweet and simple girl, but discovers she can make a joke out of that bill for a new fur coat. Some joke.

Net result: We've got to wait until the budding comediennes get themselves married.

Any volunteers?

Not So Bad.

Mark Hellinger returned from New York convinced Hollywood is not as bad a place as our Eastern brothers would have us believe. His answer to those in the "they-tuh" who berate Hollywood is "sour grapes."

He was filming "The Naked City" in Gotham, and planned to use a cast composed mainly of New Yorkers. And Hellinger found them more than willing to appear in a movie.

But in case Hollywood stars think they are superior, Mark reminds there are many in the Eastern league who also make $2,000 a week.

SYRACUSE CHIEFS DEFEAT BISONS BY 14-1 COUNT

Take One-Game Lead in International League Governors' Cup Final Playoffs

Syracuse, Sept. 17 — (CP) — Syracuse Chiefs, scoring all their runs in the last four innings, overwhelmed Buffalo Bisons 14-1 last night to take a one - game lead in the International League Governor's Cup final playoffs. The winner of the best-of-seven series will meet the American Association finalists in the "Little World Series."

The Chiefs pounded three Buffalo pitchers for 13 hits. They drove starter Ted Gray to the showers in the sixth inning, after Frankie Drews' bases-loaded triple broke a fifth inning tie. They walloped Don Kerr and Tex Shirley for six more runs in the sixth.

Herm Wehmeier pitched seven-hit ball for the Chiefs, and was aided by three double plays. Dutch Mele hit a home run as every member of the Syracuse team hit safely at least once, Eddie Shokes getting three-for-four. Wehmeier got two safeties. It was the Chiefs' fifth straight playoff victory, and their 12th in a row. Syracuse eliminated Montreal four straight in the semi-final playoffs.

1,000-POUND TURTLE

Clarke's Harbor, N. S., Sept. 17 — (CP) — A 1,000-pound turtle was harpooned, hog-tied after a one-hour battle, and towed into port by three fishermen in a small boat here Monday.

When harpooned the monster at first took the boat in tow, and only when it surfaced were the men, Claremont and Delma Jones and Wilfred Rennahan, able to throw a rope around and later shoot it.

Since they were unable to haul it into the craft they towed it to port.

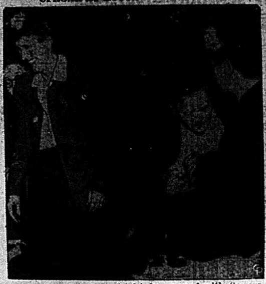
UPROAR AT HOUSEWIVES' MEETING



Miss Dorothy Crisp (right foreground with flowers in hat) and Mrs. Gill (centre) have quite a tussle as they try to grab the microphone away from each other during a hectic, boisterous six hour meeting of the British Housewives' League, at London's Central Hall, Westminster. Miss Crisp is the chairman of the league and Mrs. Gill was one of those members who disagreed with the league's policy and just insisted on being heard. For six hours there were yells, cheers, boos, accusations and fights. The meeting ended when Mrs. Lovelock, the league's founder, fainted and was carried out of the hall, whereupon Miss Crisp closed the meeting, and the women rushed to queue for tea.

BATA SHOEMEN DEFEAT FLYERS IN FIRST GAME

Score is 7-5 With Flyers Contributing Glaring Errors in the Clutches

Booting the ball around when errors meant runs, the Trenton Flyers dropped the first game of the three-of-five series for the Belleville Baseball Association championship to their Intermediate "A" conquerors the Batawa Shoemen at the Exhibition Grounds last night. The score was 7-5.

Batawa had three unearned runs, the more or less direct result of Flyer errors. The lads in blue miscued six times as against the Shoemen's once with the latter coming through with some clutch-hitting that ultimately meant victory.

Saving their ace righthander Gordy Muffitt, for the important Intermediate "A" tilt with Peterboro tonight, Shoemen sent tall righthanded Ken Peacock to the mound. The angular one held the fort for six innings and turned in a good effort. He blanked the Flyers for three innings gave up two runs in the fourth and was nicked for three of the four hits garnered off him, in the sixth when Flyers pushed over two more counters. He struck out eight and walked two. Lefthanded Vic Burtt relieved him in the seventh and he allowed but three hits for a single run for the remainder of the game.

Titus Touched for 12

Titus essayed the mound chore for Flyers and was touched for twelve safe clouts, three of them coming in the ninth when the winners pushed over the clinching brace of runs. Titus whiffed four, walked none and helped himself to a hit.

The Shoemen scored a single run in the first innings on Cook's long triple and three errors by the Flyers. They scored singles in the third and fourth and a pair in the fifth. Came the ninth and with the Flyers threatening to tie up the pastime they pounced on Titus for a double and a pair of singles to sew up the game with their last two runs.

Flyers struck in the fourth innings when they trailed by three runs and came within striking distance when Dunning poled out a double, stole third and came home on a wild heave by Peacock. Fitzpatrick had drawn a walk, stole second and galloped home on the same wild toss.

They scored another two in the sixth when Peacock allowed three clouts by Bridgeman, Dunning and Holdershaw, to bring the score to 5-4. The Shoemen staged a last inning splurge that netted them two runs and Flyers too, threatened in this heat. Marietta poled out a mighty triple that sailed over Muffitt's head to the fence in left field and the Flyer catcher romped home when Titus shot a sharp single to left centre field. Wade hitting for Reinhardt likewise poked out a single, but was forced at second. Haffey popped out to the pitcher and Dunning was given an intentional walk. Fitzpatrick shot a ground ball to second to force Dunning and the game was over.

Dunning paced the Flyer pack with a double and single, while Solmes, Muffitt, Peacock and Burtt donated two hits each to the Batawa cause.

ITALIAN WORKERS TO DEMONSTRATE AGAINST C. OF L.

Communist, Socialist Heads Deny There Will be Revolution

Rome, Sept. 17 (AP) —Italian workers, some 2,000,000 of them already on strike prepared today for a country-wide demonstration next Saturday against the high cost of living.

Leaders said hundred of thousands of union members would move into city public squares throughout Italy. Rome newspapers variously dubbed the demonstration a "march of hunger" and a "prelude to revolution."

Giuseppe di Vittorio, Communist head of the 5,755,000-member Italian Confederation of Labor, and Pietro Nenni, pro-Communist leader of the Socialist party publicly denied that there would be a revolution.

In a statement, Di Vittorio said "present strikes and those that will follow" were "brought about by .... misery and economic want" among the people and were backed "only by Italian laborers, of all parties."

But he added that Saturday's demonstration had been organized by political parties "supporting the campaign against high living costs and speculation." Prices of some foods have more than doubled in the last six months.

The cabinet of Christian Democrat Premier, Alcide de Gasperi which shut out Communists and Socialists last May, kept in touch with the situation. De Gasperi confirred at length yesterday with Interior Minister Mario Scelba.

On strike today were about 1,000,000 farm laborers in northern Italy, about 850,000 steel workers in Milan, Turin and other cities and bus and railroad office workers in some southern central and northern localities.

The farm strike threatening loss of a rice crop badly needed in a country short of food, was in its 10th day. The strikers' chief demands were higher pay and an eight-hour day.

The other strikes started yesterday, doubling the number of workers idle. They also were for pay increases. The steel walkout was scheduled to last 48 hours.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor

One of the most disgraceful pieces of "sportsmanship" occurred at the Alemite Field last evening, one that from a sports angle gave the lie to the slogan that Belleville is the "Friendliest City" in Ontario. The incident gave Belleville's reputation of being a fair-minded athletic centre a decided "shiner" and it will likely take some time to live it down.

* * *

According to authoritative reports from the field, juvenile softball squads from Oshawa and Brockville arrived in the city to play a third and deciding game in their O.A.S.A. playdowns. When they went to the diamond they found it occupied by two teams of the City Commercial League. Told of the situation, and knowing the fact that these two outside teams had travelled nearly 100 miles to play their game, the Commercial squads refused to give up the diamond.

* * *

O.A.S.A. Convener Ernie Simpson, Kingston, arrived on the scene and pleaded, argued and talked with the Commercial squads for a considerable length of time. The team managements, however, were adamant in their stand, with the result that the Brockville - Oshawa squads were forced to return home without putting on a glove. Simpson appealed to their better nature, stating that the squads had travelled a long distance. But it was useless. The Commercial players refused to give up the field — and that was that.

* * *

Officials of the Commercial League here should take some admonitary action on the matter. Softball did not gain much popularity here this summer, and it is extremely doubtful if teams of a senior calibre will operate here next year. Incidents of this nature do not do the game any good, and last night's affair has given the sports prestige of this city a decided setback especially as far as Oshawa and Brockville are concerned.

* * *

Six Stratford hockey stalwarts, shooting for a berth on the Philadelphia Rockets ship, arrived in town the other day and joined other rookies at Rocket headquarters in the Queen's Hotel here. Included were Keith Tolton, who played with the Falkirk squad in the Scottish Ice Hockey Association last year; Don Dale and "Whitey" Malcho, two members of the Stratford Junior "B2" squad last year, and who patrol the right and left boards respectively; Billy Walsh, who played with the Rockets last year on the defence; Fred Sparks and Wally Zuke, members of the Stratford Indians senior team last year.

* * *

Sparks is said to be one of the outstanding goalkeepers of Western Ontario, and according to Rocket officials here, will give the veteran Nick Damore a run for the netminding shekels. The youngster comes here with quite a reputation and no doubt will be used extensively in practice sessions.

* * *

Meanwhile the boys are chafing under wraps waiting for the ice. They appear to be in the pink of condition and are getting plenty of exercise roaming the golf courses hereabouts and making long foot safaris around the city and district. Some of them are probing the bass haunts, whenever they can get tackle, and otherwise enjoying delightful summer weather.

* * *

The Rockets' management announced today that any junior hockey players of the city will be welcome to take part in the team's training activities when practice gets under way. Any lad of junior age wishing to take advantage of the offer should report to Manager Max Kaminski at the Queen's Hotel.

* * *

It won't be long before the frost is glazing the pumpkins and the thud of leather on pigskin echoes on the gridirons of the district. And the football picture hereabouts looks like one of the most enticing since Eddie Schrieder's R.A.E.'s were gamboling up around Lindsay and Peterborough.

* * *

The C.O.S.S.A. set-up in this man's village has a decided district flavor this year. Albert College and the Collegiate squads have been grouped in a senior twelve-man loop with Lindsay and Peterborough, and that should be good enough for any football minded knowledge-knibbler.

* * *

The powers-that-be appointed the popular Jack Doran of St. Mikes rugby convener again this year and they couldn't have made a better choice. Jack is a hard worker, loves the game, and sees that the various schedules are played without a hitch.

* * *

The junior set-up is also a good one with squads from Trenton, Albert College and B.C.I. entered in a twelve-man loop. Picton, O.S.D., Trenton and St. Michael's will play an exhibition series under six-man rules.

* * *

Meanwhile the northern section of the Bay of Quinte C.O.S.S.A. division will play games as in other years. The winners of the northern loop, of Peterborough or Lindsay wins the senior section will play off with the winning team.

* * *

Batawa Shoemen will seek their second playdown series in the O.B.A. Intermediate "A" group here tonight at the Exhibition Park when they meet the strong Peterborough nine in the first game of the two-of-three game series. The Petes come highly recommended as a squad who know plenty of the baseball answers and the outcome should be a rousing tussle. Manager Easton will likely start his ace righthander Gordy Muffitt who has had plenty of rest since his last appearance on the mound. The game will be played under the lights and will start at 8.30.

* * *

The Shoemen will be at full strength with Black Mike Aquino doing the receiving. Aquino has been doing a sterling job with the hickory in the playdown series, and his powerful war club has been responsible for several Shoemen runs.

* * *

Trenton Flyers booted away the first game of the three-of-five series for the Senior City Baseball Championship last night at the Fair Grounds and bowed to their Intermediate "A" conquerors, the Batawa Shoemen, 7-5. The Flyers committed some costly bobbles and thereby hangs the tale of defeat. The Shoemen used Ken (Shoestring,Catch) Peacock on the mound and the rangy righthander did a good job for six innings when he was relieved by "Lefty" Vic Burit. Titus went the route for the losers giving up an even dozen clouts, but his mates' lapses in the field when errors meant runs was his downfall.

His Orchard Slips Takes Trip in Lake

West Summerland, B.C., (CP) —T. Croils, fruit rancher on the lake shore near here lost a 400-foot-square section of his pear orchard which recently slid on saturated ground 200 feet into a gulch stream.

Three hundred yards downstream the mass was cast ashore, buried fruit trees owned by Mrs. F. Fudge and her son, George, who were awakened when the perambulating orchard slammed against the wall of their house.

HEAD FOUND MAY BE LABORATORY SPECIMEN

New York, Sept. 16 — (AP)— A man's head, believed to be a laboratory specimen, was found in a refuse basket last night near a wall at Central Park South and Avenue of the Americas, police reported. The head, partially decomposed, appeared to be that of an elderly man and was wrapped in a towel.

Mrs. Eddie Bush Plays Fine Golf To Win Match

Toronto, Sept. 17 — (CP) — A magnificent burst of golf that carried youthful Mrs. Eddie Bush of Detroit's Western Club to an extra hole victory over Rose Kampman of Kitchener was the talk of the links today as 16 championship flight candidates teed off in the Canadian Ladies' Open golf championships.

Trailing Miss Kampman by four holes with only that many to play yesterday, Mrs. Bush took every one of the remaining holes and exploded a "dynamite" shot on the final hole that settled the issue. She said she only won because of the shot her golf pro husband had been teaching her for a year.

The sensational extra-hole triumph sent the sturdy Detroiter into the second round of the titular flight today, along with two other United Stataes stars and a long-driving visitor from England.

Included in that list are the defending champion Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen of the Host Toronto Club and such other favorites as young Marjorie Row of Detroit, playing out of Windsor, Ont., who shot a par 78 to take medal honors in the qualifying round Monday, and hard-hitting Grace Lenczyk of Newington, Conn.

But the outstanding match of the day was Mrs. Bush's remarkable last-ditch rally. She was accompanied on her round by her husky hubby, an associate pro at the Detroit club, who let out a bellow of joy when she sank a six-foot putt to snatch victory.

But it was her preceding "dynamite" shot that won the match play event. She made it from a sand trap to the side of the hole, blasting beautifully to put her shot just six feet from the pin. As they teed off at that extra hole it looked like a certain win for Miss Kampman, who covered half the 363-yard distance with a booming tee shot, while Mrs. Bush drove into the long grass along the fairway.

Miss Kampman's second shot was 30 yards off the green while Mrs. Bush took one to get out and her third shot plumped into the sand. With victory in her grasp, Miss Kampman dubbed a chip shot and then missed a 10-foot putt to seal the Detroiter's victory.

Dodgers World-Series Bound Because of Ability to Hold Cards in 22 Season Games

Team Holds Edge Over Every Team in League Except St. Louis

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Now that everybody except managers Eddie Dyer of St. Louis and Burt Shotton of Brooklyn has conceded the National League flag to the Dodgers, it is easy to understand why the Brooks will meet New York Yankees in the World Series.

Everything else considered, the Dodgers are World Series Bound because they have been able to hold the defending champion Cardinals to a standstill in their 22-game season's series.

The Brooks have been able to achieve that feat only once in the last 14 years and they won a pennant when they did achieve it.

Back in 1941, the Dodgers divided 22 games with St. Louis and were rewarded with the championship, their first in 21 years.

Brooklyn holds the edge on every club in the league this season with the exception of St. Louis. They wound up their season's work with Cincinnati yesterday by taking the third of the series 7-3 to sweep the three-game set. The victory, coupled with the Giants 7-2 triumph over St. Louis, increased Brooklyn's first place margin over the Cards to 8 1-2.

The Dodgers can clinch the pennant with four victories in their remaining ten games. Four St. Louis defeats also would do the trick.

Ralph Branca, ace of the Dodgers' pitching staff, registered his 21st victory of the year. He now is tied with Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell for the most victories in the majors. The Brooks made only six hits off Bucky Walters and Kent Peterson, but made them count. Bruce Edwards' first-inning double scored three runs, Gene Hermanski's seventh-inning homer added another and Pete Reiser's circuit blow with one on added two more.

The Giants clipped the Redbirds' wings for the third straight time. Sid Gordon, with three singles and his 12th home run, paced the Giants' 12-hit attack.

In the only other National League game, Blix Donnelly outpitched Mel Queen to give Philadelphia Phils a 2-1 victory over the Pirates in Pittsburgh.

The Yanks whipped the Browns in the first game of a doubleheader 8-3 as rookie Dick Starr gained his first major league victory with an eight-hitter. In the second tilt the Yanks bowed 8-2.

Chicago White Sox, split a doubleheader with Boston Red Sox. After Denny Galehouse shut out the White Sox 5-0 with a six-hitter in the opener, Chicago came back to win the second game 8-3. Jack Wallaesa, filling in at shortstop for Luke Appling, hit a grand slam homer.

Although the Senators defeated Detroit 4-1 in a night game, the Tigers clung to second place a half game ahead of the Red Sox.

A seven-run rally in the seventh inning enabled the Athletics to defeat Cleveland Indians 7-3 in the second game of a doubeheader in Philadelphia and gain a split.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—Sol Strauss, whose one-way hearing aid (it admits only what Sol wants to hear) and self-reversing contracts are becoming almost as famous as Mike Jacobs' China choppers, was almost gleeful when he was able to announce a title fight between Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott...Sol, known generally either as Mike's stand-in or Mike's brother-in-law and formally as acting director of the 20th Century Sporting Club, evidently had been feeling the criticism levelled at the fights that have emptied the Garden this summer....A heavyweight title fight certainly will fill the arena—and at least Louis-Walcott is better than that affair they're planning in Los Angeles between Arturo Godoy and Turkey Thompson..."I'm very proud of this," Strauss chuckled. "It took a lot of work...and what's more, in another week or so I'll announce a lightweight title bout for January and after that another championship ... That's three title fights Mike might not get three at a clip, but at least he would have staged the Louis signing like a Hollywood super-colossal.

Paul Krichell Yankee scout, and Charlie McManus, stadium superintendent, must have some sort of a record. They've been with every Yankee pennant-winner since 1921—And Coach Chuck Dressen has been with pennant-winners on all three New York Clubs—the 1933 Giants as a player the 1941 Dodgers and the 1947 Yankees as a coach...The baseball Giants again will pitch spring training camp at a Phoenix, Ariz., auto court...Still hoping they'll get the brakes.

Gordy Muffitt, pictrued above is the ace hurler of the Shoemen who will be seen in action with battery-mate Johnny Aquino when the Bata squad tangles with the Petes tonight. Gordy is rated one of the best righthanders in this neck of the woods, and he should be in rare form tonight.

19 Candidates Arrive at Queen's To Play Football

(By The Canadian Press)

Kingston—Queen's University's growing football squad was given impetus today when 19 more candidates arrived to bring numbers up to 58 potential seniors and intermediates in the intercollegiate union which opens next month.

Arrivals included Pete Salari and Roy Kemp, linemen from Hamilton and Dick Wilton, Bob Hamilton and Bob White of St. Thomas, Ont. Head coach Bob Elliott was delighted by the appearance of Dave Rozumniak of Hamilton, late of Wildcats in the Ontario Rugby Football Union, and Roy Fidell of Kingston, who returned after a year's absence because of a neck injury in a game against McGill in 1945.

Canadian boxers, including two Dominion champions in their class, took four of six bouts with U.S. fighters at Winnipeg, Tuesday night. Adam Faul of Regina, Canadian light-heavyweight champ, defeated Bob Rench, Chicago, 173; Eddie Zaster, 170, Winnipeg decisioned Eddie Newman, 168, also of Chicago, Frankie White of Winnipeg, Canadian featherweight titlist, defeated Tom Honan, Chicago, and Steve Legg, Winnipeg, decisioned Rudy Besrrett of Chicago in a welterweight contest.

Eight harness racing drivers including Paul Larente, Quebec, and Raoul Bisson, Montreal were fined a total of $1,650 by track officials at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., failure to compete in the feature race at the track last Friday. The two Canadians were suspended until they pay fines of $100 each. The drivers all claimed that the track surface was too muddy.

The Board of Directors of Thoroughbred Racing Associations of the United States has announced it will solicit funds to assist in defraying costs of destroying all horses now afflicted with infectious anaemia at Rockingham Park, Salem, N.H. The track has been quarantined for several weeks by the disease, also known as swamp fever.

New York Giants have purchased Maria Picone, right-handed pitcher, and Sal Yvars, catcher, from their farm team, Jersey City Giants of the International League. Both players join their new club today.

Gordon Richarde 19 times England's champion jockey, has done it again. He assured himself of the 1947 crown by riding his 200th winner of the season yesterday. Richards, who has seven times ridden more than 200 winners in one year, has 56 days of the season left this year to beat his own English record of 25-9 winners in a season, set in 1933.

The South African Olympic team, 30 in all, will be completely clad in the Merino wool of their native country when they appear in London in 1948. The South African Wool Board is supplying each member with a complete wardrobe.

Toronto Peoples, competing in 13th Annual Men's Softball championships of the United States, at Cleveland, have eliminated St. Joseph, Mo., and will move to third round.

Don't Try This on Highway

Rolling an automobile side over side and end over end might prove disastrous to the average motorist, but such is not the case with the "Lucky" Lott Hell Drivers who will take over the Belleville fair for one day only. "Lucky" Lott Hell Drivers day will bring to the people of Hastings County, thrills they have never dreamed of having outside the motion pictures in which this troupe of daredevils have performed more than a score of times. There are, in the "Lucky" Lott Hell Drivers, 17 ex-service men from World War II, performing these stunts which to them are child play in comparison to the activity they have seen in the past three years. The feature of the "Lucky" Lott Hell Drivers day of thrills, spills and action is the Transcontinental Bus Jump, wherein "Lucky" Lott leaps an automobile over the top of a huge bus.

Mimico Mountaineers Ready For Series With Cornwall Team

Toronto, Sept. 17. (CP)—The rampaging Mountaineers from suburban Mimico who swept to the Ontario Lacrosse Association Championship without a defeat, looked with confidence today to the best-of-three Eastern Canadian championship series with either Quebec or Cornwall, Sept. 23, 25 and 26.

Dr. J. W. Ingram, Mounties president, said the Club will be in top shape for the Eastern series although it will be without Ed Sandford, promising hockey rookie who helped dethrone St. Catharines Athletics, last year's Dominion Champions. Sandford hockey property of Boston Bruins, took part in the St. Catharines series with permission of Art Ross.

The Mounties finished the O.L.A. schedule in a third place tie with Owen Sound. They hung up their record of straight playoff victories by defeating Owen Sound twice and the Athletics, Eastern Canadian champions for the last three years, four times.

Mann Cup Champions in 1932 and again in 1942, the Mountaineers are confident they can bring Mimico its third Canadian championship. Fred Sandford, father of Eddie and president of the O.L.A. says Mimico should have little trouble with the Quebec champions. Last year Mimico was eliminated by St. Catharines in the seventh game of the O.L.A. finals.

Ike Hildebrand, the New Westminster, B.C., boy who is trying for a berth with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the N.H.L., does not know yet whether he will be able to play in the Eastern finals. Hildebrand practised hockey in St. Catharines in the afternoon before coming to Mimico for the final tilt Monday night.

Sandford, 19-year-old star with St. Michael's Memorial Cup team for two seasons, leaves for the Boston Bruin camp at Hershey, Sept. 29.

In the nets, Coach Chuck Davidson, has Ray Mortimore, member of Mimico's 1938 Canadian Junior Championship team. Holding down the starting defence positions are Sandy Milne and Arch Dixon, both members of the 1942 Mimico-Brampton Mann Cup squad. Dixon was also on the '38 junior team. At centre is Don McPhail, '42 Mann Cup centre and at his sides are Ken Dixon and Hildebrand.

In reserve, Davidson has Alex McLean, George Hayes, Bernard Pritchard, John Hewitt, Lloyd McDonald, Don Wilson, J. Mackay, Elmer Lee and Chuck Simpson. If Goalie Mortimer is hurt, Coach Davidson can use either Alf Woolfe or Bert Large. Wilson, spare forward, was a member of the 1934 St. Mike's Memorial Cup team and later played pro hockey with Montreal Canadiens.

American Hockey League to Open Tues. Oct. 14

The opening shot of the 1947-48 American Hockey League season will be fired on Tuesday, Oct. 14 when eight of the eleven teams which make up the loop will swing into action. The 68 game schedule—longest in the history of the league—will wind up on Sunday, March 21.

The Washington Lions will return to action after a four year absence from the circuit. The Lions, badly hit by the manpower shortage during the war, dropped out at the end of the 1942-43 campaign. They have signed Jack Riley as their coach and expect to ice a strong team.

The Hershey Bears, Eastern Division leaders last season and winners of the league championship will swing into action against Eddie Shore's Springfield Indians in Springfield on opening night. Other curtain-raisers will be: Pittsburgh Hornets at St. Louis Flyers; Buffalo Bisons at Cleveland Barons and Philadelphia Rockets at Washington Lions.

There have been several changes in pilots since the end of the last campaign. Don Penniston is again at the helm of the Hershey Bears. Big Earl Seibert, one of the greatest defencemen of all time, will be back at the reins for Springfield and Lynn Patrick will again coach the New Haven Ramblers. At Providence Terry Reardon, tough forward of the Boston Bruins last season, has been named to succeed Art Lesieur as coach of the Reds and in Philadelphia, Wallie Kilrea was secured from Fort Worth Rangers of the United States Hockey League, to coach the Rockets. Kilrea succeeds Phil Hergesheimer, who in addition to leading the scoring parade in the AHL last season also coached the club. Phil feels that he has a couple of seasons of top flight hockey left and can do a better job if he doesn't have to worry about the coaching duties. Philadelphia will also have a new business manager, Max Kaminsky, who coached the Pittsburgh Hornets last season having been signed for this position.

In the Western Division of the league Bun Cook, coach of the Cleveland Barons is the only holdover. Roy Goldsworthy, who has perhaps played for more professional hockey clubs than any other man in the history of the game, was appointed to succeed Frank Beisler as coach of the Buffalo Bisons. The veteran defence ace and captain of the Detroit Red Wings for many years Ebbie Goodfellow, will pilot the St. Louis Flyers. Goodfellow joined the club near the end of the last campaign but did not take over from Bob Davidson until the end of the season. Bob had gone to St. Louis with the understanding that he would not be back for the 1947-48 season.

Goaltender Johnny Mowers, who was one of the top performers in the NHL until he went into the service, has been named to succeed Tommy Ivan as coach of the Indianapolis Caps. Tommy will assist Jack Adams with the Detroit Red Wings this season. The Pittsburgh Hornets, at the time this was written, had not yet named their pilot. Johnny Mitchell, who has had wide experience as manager, coach and scout is business manager of the Hornets.

Here is Johnny Aquino, hard-hitting catcher of the Batawa Shoemen, who meet the Peterborough team in the second round of the Intermediate "A" playdowns at Exhibition Park tonight.

CANADIAN SPORT SNAPSHOTS

By JOHN W. SIFTON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Winnipeg, Sept. 17 (CP)—The pre-season publicity from Saskatchewan Roughriders and Calgary Stampeders looks as though it may have been more than publicity. With the Western Conference rugby schedule just three games old we find Winnipeg Blue Bombers on top of the heap with two wins in as many tries. Calgary second with one out of two and Saskatchewan bringing up the rear with tho beatings. This was what the Bomber brain-trust said would happen.

Harvey (Winnipeg Free Press) Dryden points out, however, that the Conference is not going to be any walkover for Bombers. He points to the stiff battle Bombers had subduing Roughriders 6-5 and Calgary 13-11. Of course, he says, "Bombers are not going their best lick yet, but Regina and Calgary aren't either."

Stars, Goats and Excuses

Dryden says Friz Hanson, erstwhile Bomber great, will not be making trips to Regina and Winnipeg with the Stamps this year. The galloping ghost —gives business reasons. Dryden believes Calgary won't miss him too much—"to tell the truth Stamps don't give him the ball much. They'd be crazy to with a snake-hipper import like Darrel Wardien to lug it for them." It seems Fritz's comeback hasn't been any ball of fire yet.

About Turn

Maurice (Winnipeg Free Press) Smith says the guys and dolls who pay the shot at the turnstiles and the athletes they go to see probably think sports writers the most inconsistent creatures alive.

He goes on to add that if anyone mentions Jimmy (Toronto Globe and Mail) Coleman "as a glaring example of a sports writer who can do an about-face faster than Houdini can get out of a strait jacket...I will have to agree."

Smith points out that prior to Blue Bombers' two-game exhibition series with Toronto Argos, Dominion champs, Coleman went away out on a limb for Argos. The Toronto scribe could not find enough superlatives to describe Argo coach Ted Morris and his team.

Smith relates that just 24 days later — the Monday following Argos 23-6 shellacking from Ottawa Roughriders in the Big Four curtain raiser—Coleman takes a different pen in hand.

Coleman said: "Well you can't offer any alibis there! Toronto Argos are listed as Canadian football champs but after watching them...it's had to understand how they summoned enough guts to play a pre-season series with Winnipeg—let alone play their season opener in Ottawa."

Jimmy goes on to refer to his friend Morris (remember he was the best coach in the country) thusly: "Teddy Morris is alleged to be coach of the Argonauts..." The "high-priced stars," presumably Joe Krol and Royal Copeland, "played as though they didn't like their contracts. If they continue to display that sort of form for the remainder of the season the Argonauts are a cinch to finish in last place in the Big Four pennant race."

Smith credits "friend Coleman, with a new world's record for inconsistency for his quick change. From first to last was quite a big drop for the Argos, James."

MELL DECISIONS PETE ZADUK

Toronto, Sept. 17 — (CP) — Hard-hitting Gus (Pell) Mell of Montreal won an eight-round decision over Pete Zaduk of Guelph in the featured bout at the Coliseum here last night. Mell weighed 147¾ to Zaduk's 148.

The veteran Mell proved he had too much experience for Zaduk who was fighting his 10th fight. He carried the fight to Zaduk through the first six rounds and toward the end of the sixth inflicted a cut over Zaduk's eye. Zaduk's fighting showed improvement in the last two rounds but Mell still held the margin. Neither man hit the canvas at any time during the fight.

The crowd, estimated unofficially at 2,000, cheered Torontonian Zaduk throughout the bout but appeared satisfied when referee Bob Lawrence raised the right glove of the visiting Montrealer.

Results of other bouts were:

Don Mogard, 183 pounds, Toronto, decisioned Wilf Sauve, 193 pounds, Sudbury.

Jimmy Rizzo, 143¾ pounds, Hamilton, decisioned Luke Jordan, 142 pounds, Buffalo.

Jimmy Marson, 148½ pounds, Toronto, decisioned Joey Ferrier, 146¼ pounds, Toronto.

The Death of a Doll

By Hilda Lawrence

CHAPTER 15.

Miss Plummer went to her room and closed the door. Her whole body felt numb. I'm getting the influenza, she told herself. That's the root of my trouble. They say the influenza is weakening all over.

The afternoon dragged to its close, and Miss Small turned on the lights in the lounge. She returned to the desk and sat there in deep contentment. She was happy for the first time in weeks.

Dear Monny, she thought. Dear, good Monny. She saw Monny raking Mrs. Marshall-Gill with cold eyes, standing with her hands in her pockets, carefully insolent and mistress of the situation. "Miss Small and I are resigning," Monny had said. "The Board will have a formal notice in a day or so."

Mrs. Marshall-Gill had bleated. Like a sheep. She hadn't meant to criticize, she hadn't meant to say what she did, she'd only thought that Miss Brady and Miss Small might have been a wee bit more careful.

Monny had been wonderful. How were they to know Ruth Miller was suicidal? she'd demanded. How were they to know Lillian Harris had vertigo or was cockeyed? Did the Board expect them to read the girl's minds and lock them in with a few moral words?

Miss Small had chuckled. It had been too marvelous; she'd sent Monny home by herself and gone shopping alone, among strangers, free to plan and think about the happy time ahead. And by great good luck she'd found a perfect present for Monny....

"Good evening, Miss Small," a man's voice said. "May I see Miss Brady?"

She jumped. A tall man with warm brown eyes stood before her. She thought, Why that's—

"Don't you remember me, Miss Small? My name is East."

So, Miss Small said to herself. She left the enclosure with a firm step. "Come this way, please." In the empty lounge she indicated a chair. "If you'll wait, Mr. East, I'll try to find Miss Brady."

Ten minutes later she followed Miss Brady back into the room.

"I thought we'd seen the last of you," Miss Brady said gaily.

"Not yet." His voice matched hers. "I hear you nearly lost another girl."

"I suppose you mean Lillian Harris. I'd like to know where you picked that up."

"From a new client. I've been retained by Mrs. Marshall-Gill."

Miss Brady was astonished. "Well I'll be! Mind telling me how you got to her?"

"Not at all. She got to me, this afternoon, via Mrs. Sutton."

Miss Brady looked as if she were counting up to 10 the long way. "All right," she said. "What do you want?"

"I want to interview some of your people. Not about Harris, about Ruth Miller. The Miller ghost is walking again, but I suppose you know that."

"Because of Lillian Harris?"

"Probably. It's got to stop, you know. Mrs. Marshall-Gill says so and I agree. It's a bad business. Now listen for a minute while I tell my side.

"There's been a strong difference of opinion about Ruth Miller ever since the beginning. That's how I got into this. And getting into it meant talking to people, to Miss Libby, who knew Ruth at Blackman's, to Dr. Kloppel, to a couple of kids who'd better be nameless. They all contradicted each other. It was a nice challenge and I got interest in spite of myself."

He told them briefly, watching their faces. "So you see it all boils down to one thing, which can mean everything or nothing. Your team insists that Ruth Miller wasn't much of a person—to put it mildly, a misfit. If you're right, her suicide is tenable. The other team, that's Mrs. Sutton and one or two others, says she was sound and straight. If they're right, her suicide needs looking into."

Miss Brady nodded seriously. "The girl had something on her mind, Mr. East. Miss Small saw it at once."

"Tell me," Mark said.

Miss Small described Ruth's arrival. "She was all right at first, I can swear to that. I'm used to sizing girls up. But then, suddenly, she changed, right under my eyes. She was terrified, all at once. I thought...."

"What?" he asked.

"It was so sudden," she repeated. "I thought she must have seen someone. That was the only explanation, someone who knew something about her, perhaps... Mr. East, are you convinced that this is not what it seems?"

"You're not too sure yourself, are you?"

Miss Brady intervened crisply. "I'll take that one. The miserable girl killed herself. She was caught in a net of her own devising. And when you find out what it was, if you ever do find out, it will be the usual thing, and you know what I mean. I blame myself in some ways. I could kick myself for taking her in."

"Were you responsible for that?"

"Yes. She came to see me. She looked hangdog and the Smiths begged and I had an extra bed."

"Very neat," Mark said.

"What is?"

"The way you've proved it wasn't you Ruth Miller feared. Because she talked to you and came back for more."

Miss Brady colored.

"Now what about those interviews?" he went on.

Miss Small rose quickly. "I'll see to that. Miss Brady, will you—"

Miss Brady also rose. "Come with me, Mr. East. I'll get you settled. We'll use Miss Small's room."

They crossed the lobby to the elevator through a silent crowd that parted before them.

"I'm only co-operating because I want to leave a clean slate behind me," Miss Brady said. "But before I leave I'm going to write something nasty on it."

"Leave?"

"Resigning. Both of us. Fed up." When they reached the fifth floor, she preceded him down the hall, shouting, "Man coming, man coming!"

On the other side of a fire door, Miss Brady stopped. "This is Miss Small's," she said. "Go in and wait. Would you like coffee?"

"No thanks." Trying to be nice, he thought. Knows she's in a bad spot. When she left, he made a shameless tour of the two rooms, telling himself that a woman's bric-a-brac said more than words, and chairs and tables could be garrulous. No natural taste, he decided, but a good eye for copying. Given enough time, more money, and the right example, the arty desk with the bed veneer and the fake pearl inlay would fall into the lap of the Salvation Army. Bought it in the first place because she thought it looked opulent.

One lamp shade in the bedroom was covered with blue birds, meticulously feathered, and the bedspread was machine-made lace over bright blue silk. He remembered that another flock of bluebirds, in colored glass, had nested on the lapel of Miss Small's well-cut suit. Shoddy background, he told himself, but fairly quick to catch on. When she realizes that her friend is expensively unadorned, she'll chuck the fancywork, too. In another two years she'll have a foolproof accent and say damn like a lady.

Montreal Police Force Due For Early Shakeup

By M. N. NEGRU
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Montreal, Sept. 17 —(CP) — Montreal's police department, sharply transformed in its higher command recently, is due for further extensive reorganization of its detective bureau. It's all part of "an all-out effort in law enforcement."

This intensification of preserving the law embraces plans, now being shaped, to sound once-and-for-all the doom of large-scale gambling in this city of 1,250,000 persons.

Aside from the shake-up in the high command, promotion of 701 uniformed members of the 1,600-man force— involving the ranks from sergeant to assistant inspector — were announced last week.

"Appointment of new officers will operate towards that end and will give better higher supervision over the various squads."

He also has the authority to increase the strength of the force by 300 men within the next year.

Director Albert Langlois was made a member of the Order of the British Empire for his administrative work in the R.C.A.F., during the last war assumed leadership of the police department when its enforcement work was not without criticism.

Particularly was that criticism directed against a reported resurgence of organized gambling and bookmaking which, with much fanfare, spectacular raids by members of the morality squad and sensational court trials had been claimed suppressed.

"Where there's smoke there likely is some fire," admitted the new police head. He explained that professional gamblers and bookmakers now were operating under the guise of legitimate, incorporated or licenced clubs and that it is difficult for the police to obtain the necessary proof of illegal activity.

Assistant director Plante, named to that post at end of July after somewhat more than a year as special crown prosecutor in charge of morality, said "I re-fy anyone to show me a gambling or bookmaking establishment or a house of prostitution operating in Montreal in the old wide-open way."

"THE MINER COMES TO TOWN"

A huge relief map showing the mining areas of Great Britain is a feature of an exhibition opened at the Marble Arch, London, by Prime Minister Clement Attlee. Named "The Miner Comes to Town" and organized by the National Coal Board and the Ministry of Fuel and Power, the exhibition includes a replica of a coal-face, complete with miners' ponies at work. Britain's future, dependent on the output of coal, has brightened in prospect with the return of 60,000 men to the mines after a 39-day strike. Here a workman is shown putting finishing touches to the exhibit.

Typhoon Leaves 2,280 Dead Or Missing in Japan

Tokyo, Sept. 17—(AP)—Thousands of Japanese worked tonight erecting temporary dikes in an effort to stem floodwaters 20 miles north of Tokyo as unofficial estimates placed the number of dead and missing at 2,280.

Earlier incomplete United States military government reports said the floodwaters, rising on the broad plain north of Tokyo in the wake of a typhoon, left nearly 1,700 Japanese dead or missing and damaged some 100,000 houses.

Newspapers said residents of Kasukabe were working feverishly on temporary dikes against advancing waters of two rivers which had ripped through their banks. Failure to halt the flood at Kasukabe would expose the eastern section of Tokyo on the onrush of water, described as three feet high in some places.

No Allied casualties were reported, but some dependants were evacuated from their homes, and groups of soldiers and civilians were stranded at half a dozen points.

The typhoon struck last night, its centre passing 30 miles southeast of Tokyo. It was dissipating its force out to sea today.

Hon. J. Hepburn, House Speaker, To Open Fair

Picton—Hon. James deC. Hepburn, M.P.P., Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, will officially open Picton Fair, Friday afternoon, President S. G. Lockyer announced at a meeting of directors last night. The Board favored giving this honor to the local member instead of having some other dignitary, to give an opportunity to the public to honor the new Speaker.

Ten Prince Edward County men own young race horses and it was decided to let them settle their arguments as to the merits of their steeds, by a special race on Saturday afternoon. This is in addition to the two races each afternoon for $1,000 in purses.

Details of the Texas rodeo to be presented both nights, were announced by Philip Dodds, there being 28 cowboys and cowgirls taking part.

With a larger midway and special displays on the grounds, directors have a problem to find space for them all.

Poultry director Joe Cook announced a special exhibit of pheasants and bantams by W. P. Marvin of Wellington.

President Lockyer gave details of the opening parade on Friday and of securing bands.

Inspector A. F. Brown reported arrangements complete for the exhibit by schools. Willis Sills told of plans for the sheep show, Geo. Atkinson of the horse show, Sam Dodds for the Black and White day, and Don Taylor for the Calf Club.

A number of innovations are being introduced this year. One of these is having all small exhibits in place 24 hours ahead of Fair day, so that they can be judged and properly displayed.

Fair officers are S. G. Lockyer, president; D. O. Reynolds, George Atkinson, vice president; Philip Dodds, Joe Cook, Herb Kerr, H. Herrington, H. Pyne, A. Davis, C. R. Widdifield, Willis Sills, C. Hicks, Clifford Wilson, Mrs. B. J. Collier, Miss M. Carson.

ARTIST SUES FOR $11,500 DAMAGES

Los Angeles, Sept. 17—(AP)— Artist Edward Withers sued Tuesday for $11,500 damages for destruction of a semi-nude painting of Model Carol Janis which she contended portrayed her own face on the torso of another woman. Withers demanded $10,000 punitive damages from Miss Janis and her friend, John Calvert, actor and magician, alleging that Calvert slashed and burned the painting last Sept. 4 at Miss Janis' "direction," after he had entrusted it to her for sale. He asked $1,500 more for loss of the picture.

JITTERBUG ACCIDENT

Windsor, N. S., Sept. 17—(CP) — Velma Deozzi, 18, of Burlington, Ont., was in hospital today with strained ligaments after a too strenuous jitterbugging session at a nearby naval station dance Monday night.

Miss Deozzi was injured when a youthful sailor tossed her over his shoulder during a jitterbugging routine.

Kids Go For New Dental Technique

Several years ago, at a conference of the American Dental Association, a speaker remarked that there are more dentists afraid of child patients than there are child patients who are afraid of dentists. After the meeting, some of the dental school delegates put their heads together. The result is that many dental schools are now giving courses in pedodontics — a fancy name for child dentistry. These courses teach dentists to exercise patience and apply psychology to put youngsters at ease, train them to put themselves at ease, and instruct them in child management. Graduates of these schools are now serving as ambassadors of dental goodwill to youth. Featured in The Standard this week, this article on the practice of child psychology in dentistry will be especially interesting to all parents. TAXIMAN SAYS MINILLE ONE OF HOLD-UP MEN

17 STRANDED OR MISSING IN FLORIDA HURRICANE

Storm Scatters Havoc, Hardship Over Peninsula

5,000 Clustered at Sebring Urgently in Need of Food

Atlanta, Ga.—(AP) — The great Atlantic hurricane, which ripped across South Florida yesterday, has curved northward and is expected to hit West Florida between Apalachicola and Pensacola with 100-mile winds late tonight, the Weather Bureau reported.

In a 10:15 a.m. EDT advisory, the Weather Bureau said the storm was centred about 100 miles southwest of Tampa and apparently was moving west-northwest or northwest at 15 miles an hour. It is attended by winds of 80 to 100 mph.

The Atlanta Weather Bureau said hurricane warnings were hoisted from St. Marks, Fla., to Pensacola, and storm warnings west of Pensacola to Mobile and down the Florida coast from Titusville to Key Largo.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 18—(AP)—A terrifying tropical storm screamed across the Gulf of Mexico today leaving behind it in Florida at least two dead, thousands of distressed and hungry refugees and great, yet unmeasured property damage.

No less than 17 persons were stranded or missing. 11 in two boats off the Gulf coast and six on an east coast cape jutting into the ocean.

Five thousand were clustered in improvised shelters at the inland city of Sebring, appealing urgently for food. They were driven there yesterday by the storm menace that hung heavily over their homes around Lake Okechobee.

The mightiest hurricane to strike the South Florida peninsula in a decade, the storm scattered havoc and hardship from shore to shore. It apparently spared the rich and populous lower peninsula the wholesale devastation that had been feared.

Millionaire resort cities, rich citrus groves and vegetable farms alike were raked by tremendous winds in their 150-mile course from east to west coast. Trees, plants, less-secure buildings and other property were battered by blasts up to 120 miles an hour.

The week-old, Caribbean-bred winds bore down from the Atlantic on the Florida "gold coast" between Palm Beach and Miami at noon yesterday. With a final slap of fury at the west coast city of Fort Myers where winds up to 100 miles an hour raged for hours the hurricane screeched into the gulf just before midnight.

The weather bureau at New Orleans saw little likelihood that it would curve inland. Observers reported it was going westward bodily at 10 miles an hour attended by 100-mile an hour winds which might gain velocity over the open water.

The damage seemingly bore heaviest upon the citrus growers with their $100,000,000 crop and upon the vegetable farmers in the productive Lake Okeechobee region. Groves were reported levelled in sickening destruction.

Scantily-worded reports from Okeechobee described conditions there as "deplorable," although no casualties were reported. At least 10,000 persons had fled by train and automobile to escape the possibility of another tragedy such as in 1928 when 1,500 were drowned by storm-driven waters from the lake.

A message from Pompano, just north of Miami, said two luxurious estates and a large Casino "disappeared into the ocean" at the storm's peak. All that was left of these unidentified properties were "the bath tubs."

The earliest report of wide-spread damage came from nearby Fort Lauderdale where Karl Reiser of the Red Cross reported 27 buildings, some of them small, were destroyed and 188 damaged. Reiser said only one person was injured. He added that the Red Cross had sheltered nearly 5,000 from the storm but that these were returning to their homes.

Earlier word from Fort Lauderdale said a 119-mile wind smashed a storage shed and buried 20 yachts beneath the ruins.

First deaths reported were a man electrocuted at Palm Beach and another shot at Miami by police to end vandalism of storm bared store stocks. Six others were arrested.

Eleven persons were stranded in two disabled vessels in Gulf coast watrs. Six persons including three children and an 88-year-old invalid man were reporting missing from sea-swept cape Florida just south of Miami.

Federal agencies moved speedily to relieve storm "damage, suffering and hardship."

ISSUES IN STRIKE DISCUSSED BY McLEAN, DOWLING

Gardiner Returning To Canada States He Will Take Hand -In Strike Situation

(By The Canadian Press)

The meat shortage brought about by the nation-wide strike for higher wages by upwards of 12,000 members of the United Packinghouse Workers (C.I.O.) continues to grow worse despite raising of a possibility of federal intervention.

Agricultural Minister Gardiner interviewed in Montreal last night on his return from a three-week visit to Great Britain, said he would "take a hand" in the strike situation on his return to Ottawa today.

He also said continuation of the strike "may seriously affect Canada's commitments for meat shipments to Britain." Canada has contracted to ship 263,000,000 pounds of ham and bacon overseas this year.

Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan said yesterday that his government is approaching the other provinces with a view to deciding on some common action to end the strike.

Both Sides Heard.

Issues in the strike were discussed on a CBC national network Wednesday night by J. S. McLean of Toronto, president of Canada Packers, who spoke on behalf of his firm and Swift Canadian and Burns and Company, and by Fred Dowling, Canadian director for the union on strike against the three major packing companies.

Mr. Dowling blamed the companies for the strike, charging that the firms broke off negotiations while the union was willing to continue. He said the wage increase demanded by the union —it averages about 17 cents an hour—would amount to about one-tenth of a cent a pound of meat and could come out of company profits.

"'I have no doubt that any impartial agency will recognize the justice of the employees' claim for increased take-home pay," said Mr. Dowling. "The problem is to find such an impartial agency."

Mr. McLean pictured Canadian farmers as the chief losers if the meat-packing companies grant the increases demanded by the union.

"If the packinghouse workmen are paid an extra $38 a year, (the average increase sought by the union) all or most of it will come out of the farmers' pocket in the form of reduced prices for livestock."

Rate of Increase

He said the suggested increase would raise the average yearly take-home pay from $1,947 to $2,334 for men and from $1,403 to $1,790 for women. These wages compared with the $1,810 average annual net income for a farm, representing the return for the efforts of the farmer and his entire family, all of whom worked more than the 42¼ hours a week put in by the average packing worker.

The farmer who cannot sell his livestock this week or next "will certainly take a second look" at the union demand for an extra $10,000,000 or $12,000,000, Mr. McLean said.

Striking workers in two of three Vancouver packing plants yesterday rejected a proposal that they return to work pending conciliation of the dispute. Workers in a third plant were scheduled to vote on the proposal today.

Employees of the Empire Meat Company's abattoir struck in protest against orders to continue killing animals for fresh meat for the three packinghouses closed by the strike. About 12 men are affected directly.

Meantime Jackques Casgrain, Quebec organizer for the U. P. W. A., said last night that 262 packinghouse workers in two Quebec city plants "have never gone on strike" so could not have been ordered to return to work as reported earlier. He said the abattoir in Saskatoon struck to postpone proposed sympathy strike action.

Peace-Loving Nations May Organize for Security St. Laurent Warns Assembly

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
(Canadian Press Staf Writer)

New York, Sept. 18. (CP)—Canada's delegation leader, Louis St. Laurent, today warned the United Nations General Assembly that peace-loving member countries might form separate organizations for collective security rather than accept indefinitely a Security Council "frozen in futility and divided by dissension."

Continuous exercise of the veto in the Security Council threatened to destroy the organization, and he "warmly" supported on Canada's behalf yesterday's United States proposal to limit application of the big power veto.

"There is no point in deceiving ourselves," he said. "Voting rules had blocked action in the Security Council and proven the fears of those who felt from the start that it would be used.

St. Laurent also supported the United States plan to create a permanent committee of the General Assembly representative of all members to supplement the peace enforcement efforts of the 11-members Security Council.

Never mentioning Russia, he bitterly declared that use of the veto (which has been used almost exclusively by Russia) had deepened "The fears of those who felt that, with the veto it (the Security Council) could not operate effectively in an international atmosphere of fear and suspicion where pride is allowed to take precedence over peace and power over reason."

Exercise of the veto, "may well destroy the United Nations because it will destroy all confidence in the Security Council to act effectively and act in time."

He admitted that while the General Assembly and its proposed permanent interim committee might interest itself to a far greater degree than at present in major world problems, the most important of these problems were now the responsibility of the security council.

"The fact remains, however, that these problems must be solved and that procedures and practices which obstruct such solutions must be changed."

This could be done by voluntary agreement among the members or by amendments to the U. N. Charter.

"We must hope that no member of the security council will flout clearly expressed world opinion by obstinately preventing change and thus become responsible for prejudicing and possibly destroying the organization which is now man's greatest hope for the future."

Countries searching for peace could not indefinitely accept a security council "frozen in futility and divided by dissension."

They might form associations of peace-loving countries willing to accept specific international obligations in return for greater national security, and such organizations could be formed within the United Nations.

"If it is unnecessary it will be undesirable. If, however, it is made necessary it will take place . . .

"This, you may say, is defeatism of the worst kind. It is not. It is merely sober realism.

"It is folly to deny that certain events of the last 12 months have weakened the position of our organization.

"It would equally be folly to deny that a continuation of this trend may cause it ultimately to collapse."

YUGOSLAVPROTEST WILL BE LODGED WITH WASHINGTON

Will Ask Compensation for Alleged Destruction Offences by U. S. Units

London, Sept. 18 — (Reuters) — The Yugoslav Foreign Office has ordered its representative in Washington to lodge "the strongest protest" against, and to demand compensation for, all "destruction, and offences perpetrated by United States units in Istria and Gorizia," Belgrade radio said last night.

A Yugoslav foreign office representative alleged that American occupation troops in Istria looted everything from places which, according to the peace treaty, should have been handed over intact to Yugoslav forces.

He claimed United States troops committed "numerous brutal acts" against the population during the night of Sept. 15-16, and looted and demolished the hospital at Sezana.

Between the localities of Tolminp and Kobaride, United States troops were said to have assaulted and injured Yugoslav workmen who were repairing telephone lines.

The sopkesman said United States military authorities allowed Italian military units to enter the town of Gorica during the night of Sept. 13-14, before the treaties came into force, compelling Yugoslav units to abandon positions there. In many places United States soldiers had demolished barracks which they had occuppied.

Near Kobaride, on Yugoslav territory, United States troops had tried to provoke a serious incident by firing at the Yugoslavs. "Gangs of Fascists from Italy" committed numerous crimes under the protection of Americans, looting houses during the night of Sept. 13-14 and mining public buildings in Gorizia

In Gorizia, a group of Fascists protected by United States troops broke into the premises of a Communist Club, struck down 30 persons including Italians with the butts of their rifles, and then carried them off to prison.

3,370 CASUALTIES ESTIMATED IN TOKYO TYPHOON

American Troops in Assault Boats Rescue Thousands of Refugees

Tokyo, Sept. 18—(AP)—Floods drove Japanese from five densely-populated districts of Tokyo today and even higher crests were feared in the wake of a typhoon disaster which has caused an estimated 3,370 casualties.

American troops in assault boats rescued thousands of refugees from roof tops and dikes on the flooded plain east of Tokyo. Air force planes dropped food to some of those beyond reach of boats.

As the muddy water swirled through the northern and eastern districts of Tokyo, the army reported new floods of serious proportions were expected to hit the city shortly.

Upstream, landslides added to the horrors of four days of lashing rains and floods. Observers at Kumagaya, 50 miles northwest of Tokyo, reported light but threatening rainfall was beginning in that heart of the disaster zone.

Kyodo news agency said that farther north, Mount Akagi in Gumma prefecture let go with slides of tons of rock, mud and sand that buried most of Tako and two nearby villages, killing 182 Japanese. Huge boulders slid down in an avalanche on the villages.

Farther north around the city of Sendai, belated dispatches said seven towns and villages had been flooded by the Kitakami River.

Travellers from these areas reaching Tokyo said, however, the main part of the flood had passed the towns and villages were now digging out.

Kyodo's death list stood at 1,162 with 158 injured and 2,050 missing. The home ministry estimated 576 dead, 392 injured and 1,921 missing, a total of 2,889.

The ministry estimated 3,340 homes were washed away, 249,000 flooded, 414,000 acres of rice paddies and farmlands destroyed or inundated and 1,100 bridges destroyed.

POLICE HUNT TWO MEN SEEN LEAVING DEATH CAR

Paint Smears on Victims' Shoes Suggest Pair Slain Many Miles From Where Vehicle Found

Toronto, Sept. 18 (CP)—Paint smears on the victims' shoes suggest that George Vigus, 39, and his 21-year-old girl friend, Iris Scott, were slain miles from the lovers' lane in west-end High Park where their strangled bodies were found crammed in the luggage compartment of Vigus' parked car, police say.

The new clues came to light yesterday during an examination of the clothes of the married man and the attractive stenographer by Prof. Joslyn Rogers, provincial medico-legal expert.

The color and type of the paint remained secret but investigators say they hoped the clue might help determine the scene of the crime, still a mystery after nearly a week of intensive investigation.

The inquiry took on fresh impetus yesterday when a young married couple told police they had seen two men drive up in the death car early Thursday morning, get out of the car and disappear into the bushes. Police said this information led investigators to establish that Vigus and Miss Scott were slain between 6:45 p.m. Wednesday and 2:30 a.m. Thursday.

Kept Other Trysts

Miss Scott's personal diaries, described by police as "extremely frank and intimate," revealed that the girl had kept trysts with men in Sherwood Park, Bayview Avenue Park and in Rosedale, all in north and northeast Toronto, but Vigus was not mentioned in connection with these meetings.

Police said they had been unable to find a diary covering the period the night when the killer strangled Miss Scott with bare hands after garroting Vigus. Such a diary might have revealed information about sections of the city she and Vigus frequented on their outings together.

Special Meeting

As a result of the latest crime wave the police commission yesterday held a special "crime study" session in camera.

"Members of the board are satisfied that the police are doing everything within their power to detect the perpetrators of any crime in the city," Mayor R. H. Saunders said after the meeting.

Police Chief John Chisholm gave the meeting a crime summary which showed that three persons have been murdered in Toronto so far this year, with one case listed as solved. A peak year was 1921 with 10 murders of which six were unsolved.

Toronto Bakers Say 3-Cent Rise 'Experimental'

Toronto, Sept. 18. (CP)—The price of bread went up three cents today in most Ontario centres but Toronto bakers said the Standard 24-ounce loaf would sell for 13 cents "on an experimental basis" and it might be necessary to jump the price another cent within the next few weeks.

A similar rise of three cents a loaf went into effect at St. Catharines, Kitchener and Galt while at Owen Sound rises of three and four cents were reported.

The rise covers increased costs of wages and equipment in the baking industry and the end of government subsidies on flour.

The three-cent rise prevailed in Peterborough and Guelph with three and four-cent rises reported from Stratford. In most centres the 24-ounce loaf now sells for 13 cents.

Friend Calls Him "Nick" And Gets 'A Dirty Look'

Oshawa Man Kidnapped, Robbed And Left Deserted

Oshawa, Sept. 18. (CP)—Austin Bennett, taxi driver who was kidnapped, tied, robbed and left deserted on a lonely road near Bowmanville early today, said one of his three assailants was Nicholas Minille, who escaped from Portsmouth Penitentiry at Kingston, along with Donald (Mickey) McDonald and Ulysses Lauzon, long-term criminals, several weeks ago.

"He (Minille) drove the car and after I had been tied up, one of his friends called him 'Nick'," said Bennett. "The driver gave his friend a dirty look but later he asked me if I had ever heard of Minille. When I said no, he said: 'You will be hearing a lot from him from now on.' He fitted Minille's description and he spoke with an Italian accent."

Bennett said three men were waiting at the Mid-Town Taxi Company stand when he returned and when he asked them how far they were going, one of them told him "keep on going, we'll tell you when to stop."

Revolver Pulled

When the vehicle reached an unlit street corner the men ordered the driver to stop and the man riding in the front seat pulled a revolver and ordered Bennett out of the car. All three men were armed and one of them carried two pistols.

After robbing Bennett of $65 a "dark fellow" jumped back in the car saying "I haven't driven one of these for a long time." One of the other men started to say "Nick" but was silenced with a dirty look from the driver, whom Bennett described as "obviously the leader of the three".

"I was getting very nervous all trussed up like a chicken," said Bennett. "My hands were tied so tightly the right one had swoolen up like a balloon."

Bennett said that the man referred to as "Nick" asked him if all the windows in the car rolled up and when he replied "yes" the driver told one of the men in the back as the vehicle neared Bowmanville: "If he makes one squeak, give it to him."

There was a policeman on the corner as the car went through the town but "I was too frightened to shout to him."

"Then the man called Nick asked me: 'Did you ever fire a Sten gun?' I said 'Yes'. He said: "Well, we've got one of them here. If we read in the paper that you said we kidnapped you, then we're going to come back and use it on you.'"

Many Suggestions

When the car was brought to a stop one bandit suggested tying Bennett to a fence and the other to hit him over the head but instead he was ordered to walk straight down a dirt path and not turn around.

"They kept the lights on me for about a minute. I sure kept walking down that road. Then they backed up and started travelling in an easterly direction. I ran to the highway and tried to flag a transport, turning my back so the driver could see I was tied."

Bennett reached a farmer's house where his hands were untied and he phoned Oshawa police. Before they arrived, Ontario Provincial Police at Bowmanville arrived and drove him to Bowmanville. He later learned that a transport driver had advised Oshawa police who alerted all-eastern towns to watch for the get-away car, a Chevrolet 1946 sedan bearing licence number 23-S-82.

PARADE OF RATS IN CAGE IN WAR ON RODENTS

Swift Current, Sask., Sept. 18—(CP)— Rats will parade here Saturday — in cages, and the youngster who has caught the largest one will receive $5.

It's all part of a campaign by the Lions Club to rid the city of the rodents. Their rising population has alarmed citizens for the last two years. On man reported shooting 36 with a rifle in a one-hour vigil at the city dump, their breeding and feeding ground.

Rising Food Prices Bedevil French Wives, Have Doubled Since Aug. 1

By LOUIS NEVIN

Paris Sept. 18 (AP) — Mme. Yvonne Dupont does not understand cost-of-living index figures nor how the Marshall Plan is supposed work, but she does know that food prices, in many cases, have doubled since Aug. 1.

She doesn't understand why her government makes so much fuss about having too few dollars, but she does know that last fall she could do her marketing with a 500-franc note (about $4), that last spring and summer it took 1,000 francs, and that now it costs her 2,000 francs (over $16).

Mme. Dupont hasn't the time or energy to figure out why this should be; she blames high prices on the unprecedented drought, the black market and the government.

When a few thousand Mme. Duponts started blaming the government, social disorder and unrest strikes and mass demonstrations followed.

Ramadier tacitly admitted partial inflation in France when he said that food and farm prices had gotten out of control. Government statistics showed the cost-of-living index, based on such items as rents, food, clothing and the like, had risen in August from 965 to 1,068, with 1938 prices equalling 100.

But that meant little or nothing to Mme. Dupont. The big news she had to tell her husband was that eggs had risen from 120 francs a dozen Aug. 1 to 240 at month's end; that bread was up from five francs a pound to 12 and that potatoes, when they could be found, cost 10 francs a pound instead of seven.

Besides worrying herself gray over rising prices, M. Dupont was not getting enough to eat.

The government two weeks ago slashed the bread ration lower than it had ever been, even during the German occupation, because the winter freeze left France's wheat situation with a deficit of 2,000,000 long tons despite all possible imports from abroad.

The butter ration is still two ounces a month — when there is enough to ration. Meat is not rationed, but few Duponts could afford more than pound or so a week.

Now are salaries keeping pace with prices. The only wage increase authorized this year was an 11 per cent boost in August.

Jean Dupont was angry about it, too, and ready to listen to almost anyone who would promise to satisfy his needs.

Meanwhile, many observers here freely predicted that American aid would not arrive in time to prevent economic collapse in some parts of Europe and much more serious social strife than now exists.

Mixed And Cautious Reaction Seen to Proposals by Marshall

London, Sept. 18 — (AP).—State Secretary Marshall's proposals for revising United Nations machinery brought mixed — and cautious — reaction in European capitals today.

The United States official called upon the U. N. Assembly yesterday to create a Greek border commission and a year-around security committee and to move for liberalization of the big-power veto in the security council.

Extreme left-wing groups saw his revision plan as a weapon against Russia. Extreme right-wing sections hailed it as possibly the U.N.'s "best chance."

Official comment was sparse. The foreign office here declined to express itself on the proposals. One government informant said Britain might leave it to her U.N. representatives to put forth the British view.

In Moscow itself, the Soviet press withheld comment but informed observers said the Russians would be certain to object strongly.

Athens official circles expressed approval.

The Rome Socialist newspaper Avanti headlined its account of the Marshall speech, "Marshall seeks an alibi for intervention in the Balkans." The Rome Communist paper Unit used the headline, "Marshall has spoken to liquidate the U. N."

In Berlin, headlines in Russian-controlled newspapers said the secretary was "trying to dilute" the U. N. Most of them published a story from Tass, Russian news agency, alleging that the U. S. was "trying to make the U. N. its tool."

In Britain, newspapers representing many shades of opinion expressed the view that, as the independent Times of London expressed it:

"While changes in the machinery for the settlement of disputes can improve and quickan the means of conciliation, only the will to settle can make the instruments of conciliation effective."

The Liberal Manchester Guardian commented:

"Hateful though it is to accept the present situation by which Russia can flout the will of the majority to fit her own unscrupulous policies, it is more hateful to contemplate the alternative, which would rapidly turn the United Nations into an American League against the Soviet Union."

In Stockholm, the Liberal Stockholm's Tidningen said that "for the U. N. . . . the plan might be a means of strength, though mostly of a moral character."

In Oslo, the Conservative Aftenpost said the scheme was "one of the few possible solutions."

GIFTS FOR BELLEVILLE VETERANS IN HOSPITAL MUCH APPRECIATED

The regent and members of the St. Julien Chapter, I.O.D.E., are in receipt of a communication from the medical superintendent of the D.V.A. Hospital, Kingston, expressing appreciation for gifts sent to Belleville and other returned veteran patients now in the institution.

The chapter recently forwarded among other gifts, four cartons of books, magazines, puzzles and games, as well as chocolate bars. The letter stated that the gifts had been distributed to the 'boys' who wished also to send their thanks.

"Please accept our most sincere thanks for the continued interest you are taking in these patients," the letter concluded.

APPETITE, FIGHT SHOWN BY BASS

Reports from Shannonville and from city anglers state that the bass are showing plenty of appetite and fight in the bay off the property of Norway Maracle. Upwards of twenty-seven boats sought the finny ones yesterday and some good hauls were reported. Jack Lee of this city and his party hauled one in that weighed over four pounds. Others ranged between 1½ and 3 pounds each.

DRUMHEAD SERVICE AT R.C.A.F. STATION WILL BE HELD SUNDAY

An impressive drumhead service in commemoration of the now famous Battle of Britain of which as Churchill said "Never in the history of human conflict was so much done for so many by so few," will be held on the parade square at the Trenton R.C.A.F. Station on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 21, at 3 p.m. Personnel of the station and No. 6 Repair Depot will take part.

The Belleville Municipal Band will furnish the musical part of the service and at 4 p.m. will give a concert on the parade grounds. Officials of the air station extend a cordial welcome to the general public to attend both these functions.

BREAD INCREASE THREE CENTS IN CITY

A three-cent general increase in the price of bread in Belleville has been announced. This is due to the fact that controls have been lifted from flour.

ICE SHORTAGE NOT TOO SERIOUS

The ice shortage in the city may not be as serious as was reported a few days ago. One ice dealer stated this morning that he had between three and four hundred tons on hand and had "sufficient to see me through." Other dealers however, report their stocks are low and may have to curtail supplies.

CAR NEVER FAILS

Kingston, Sept. 18 — (CP)—It goes only 25 miles an hour but W. Y. Colquhoun says his 1915 model T Ford touring car never fails him. The apiarist from nearby Brewers Mills estimates the car, which he drives regularly, has gone at least 100,000 miles but it's still easy on gasoline and oil.

Grand Jury Recommends Considerable Repair Work, Renovation at County Bldgs.

A long list of recommendations for renovations or alterations to county buildings, particularly to the county court house building, was made Wednesday morning by members of the Grand Jury to Mr. Justice Wilson at the opening of the morning session of the assize court.

On Tuesday the Grand Jury inspected the county buildings and other public buildings in the city, before making their report.

Following is the report of the Grand Jury:—

To His Lordship Mr. Justice Wilson:

We the Grand Jury of the Court of Assize for the County of Hastings, beg leave to report as follows:

We desire to thank Your Lordship for your very able, clear and explicit instructions in the law in reference to the consideration of the Criminal case coming before us and also in reference to our other duties.

We desire to thank Sheriff O'Flynn for his kindness, also the Crown Counsel, Mr. Donnan for their efficient and valuable assistance.

We desire to thank the Governor Mr. James McCaw for his kindness and courtesy in conducting us through the Public Buildings. Our findings are as follows:

Court House

1. The entire upstairs of the Court House is in need of extensive repairs and redecorating. The Grand Jury room is in a very deplorable condition, floors bad, long table required and proper seating accommodation. This report was made by the last Grand Jury but little attention has been paid to their recommendation.

2. We recommend complete rewiring of the Court House and installation of modern lighting equipment throughout, Preference of new lighting equipment should be given the Court Room, Law Library and Judges' room.

3. The floors in the witness rooms are bad and should be replaced.

4. The Masters Chambers are very badly in need of repair and redecorating.

5. The roof leaks in several places causing damage to plaster. (Has been fixed.)

6. The heating equipment is old and consumption of coal is very high. Consideration of replacing equipment is hereby recommended for more efficient operation.

7. The condition of lavatories in Court House could be improved upon and maintained in a more sanitary condition.

8. Pillars at the front of the Court House require immediate repair. The north pillar has rotted away at the base and we urge proper repairs without delay to avoid more serious damage.

9. The woodwork on the outside of the Court House above the main floor requires painting.

10. We strongly recommend proper fire fighting equipment and all main doors open out. The water pressure within the building is very low and a larger main from the street should be installed.

11. We recommend a drinking fountain be installed in the main lobby.

12. The platform and steps leading to the rear entrance to the Court House should be repaired.

13. It is recommended that consideration be given to moving the Judges' Chambers to a location nearer the Law Library. The present location is noisy and cramped considering the importance of the office.

County Gaol: We visited the Gaol and found seventeen inmates. Seven were interviewed regarding living conditions. There were no exceptions noted. It appeared from our investigation that not sufficient work is available for the inmates, thus permitting many idle hours for the men.

The Governor's House: The plaster in the kitchen has many cracks and several breaks. This should be replaced.

Shire Hall: The floor in the County Clerk's office is very uneven and should be repaired or replaced.

Registry Office: This office is cramped for space and consideration should be given to provide additional room for them.

The House of Refuge: On our visit we found everything in excellent condition under the very capable supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Sandercock. We found forty-seven male inmates and thirty-seven female inmates. The buildings are in first class condition. The front chimney should be repaired and pointed. Buildings are kept in a state of extreme cleanliness and the grounds are also well kept.

B. G. H.: We visited the Belleville General Hospital and were conducted by the Administrator on a tour of the building and equipment. Everything was found to be in very good order.

O. S. D.: We visited the Ontario School for the Deaf and Mr. Morrison the Superintendent, conducted us through the various buildings. Buildings are in good repair, ample fire fighting equipment on hand and cleanliness is particularly evident all through the kitchens and diningrooms. The over-all health of the children appeared excellent.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Belleville,
September 16th, 1947.
R. A. Lennox,
Foreman.

Complimenting the Grand Jury on their report, Mr. Justice Wilson stated that from the report it was quite evident that their work of inspecting public buildings had been well done. "I congratulate you on the thoroughness of your work and I think the public should be informed of the report which is presented from unbiased persons", state Mr. Justice Wilson.

"The cost of carrying out your suggestions undoubtedly would be quite considerable, but the administration of justice should be conducted with proper decorum and such administration is greatly enhanced with proper furnishings.

"You have done well to commend county and other officials for their work. Too often the services of such officials is overlooked and the public should also know this.

"I trust that your report will receive the attention and also the action which it merits," concluded Mr. Justice Wilson as he dismissed the Grand Jury.

Andy Clarke, noted commentator in the weekly radio feature "Neighborly News," who will officially open the Belleville Fair on Monday evening. He will broadcast his weekly feature from the McCarthy Theatre for which tickets may be procured by all wishing to attend.

Andy Clarke of 'Neighborly News' Will Broadcast Here Sunday; Officially Opens Fair on Monday

Well known, especially in the rural district as the broadcaster of The CBL radio show "Neighborly News" aired every Sunday morning, Andy Clarke, "The Mayor of the Little Places", as he has been dubbed, will do his regular Sunday radio broadcast from the McCarthy Theatre here.

Tickets which are free for the asking, may be secured at the theatre or from the Follwell Supply Company, Front Street. Mr. Clarke is being brought here as a public service by the CBC in co-operation with the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association. The radio star has also been brought here to officially open the Belleville Exhibition on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. On Monday noon he will address the Belleville Rotary Club.

Over Seven Years in Radio

Early in 1947 Andy Clarke, completed his seventh year before CBC microphones as "Mayor of the Little Places". Actually, Andy was not on hand for his anniversary date at the microphone, (January 7). He was taken ill a few days before Christmas, but returned to the air after an absence of two months, on Sunday, February 23, 1947.

During Andy's absence, Don Fairbairn subbed for him. But now Andy is doing his own show each Sunday morning, in the same fine friendly, competent style which he has always maintained, and in addition has become a main tourist attraction in several important Ontario communities this year.

Popular Visitor

Already this Summer, his itinerary has included a visit to Dundas Centennial on June 29, 1947, an appearance with the Mount Forest Old Boys' and Girls' Reunion on July 6th., a visit to Gravenhurst on July 20th., and participation in the Hanover Reunion on August 3rd.

Andy made his first "Neighborly News" broadcast on January 7, 1940. Tangible evidence of his following today, Andy's fan mail is great and varied. It is likely to include such items as live caterpillars of unusual markings, oddly-colored butterflies, violets grown in December, peaches weighing a pound or more, and fossilized remains dug up in someone's garden. If he mentions a prize pumpkin, he's almost sure to get a letter telling him of one even bigger and better.

Andy's full name is Andrew David Clarke, and he was born July 13, 1882, at Grimsby, Ont. After a few months of high school he set out to earn his way in the world, becoming a grocery salesman, shipping clerk, and an employee in a power plant. Then he took up journalism, starting with the old Toronto World, and moving on to the Toronto Mail and Empire, the London Advertiser, and the Toronto Globe.

First Broadcast in 1926

In 1926, while he was with the Globe, Andy became one of the first newsmen to broadcast direct from a newspaper's newsroom. He became a regular broadcaster in 1935, and with one exception has out-distanced everyone else on the CBC.

For his weekly "Neighborly News" broadcast, produced by the CBC in co-operation with the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association, Andy carefully reads nearly 250 papers each week. With scissors, pastepot, and his own brand of philosophy, he makes up his program around the interesting events that occur, in his own words, "in those important centres that lie outside the cities."

When Andy Clarke visits Belleville this weekend he will be accompanied by Reid Forsee and R. K. (Roly) Anderson, CBC Supervisor of Remote Operations (Toronto area).

Products of Farm And Home, Entertainment And Splendid Racing, Tweed Fair Successful

More Than 5,000 Crowd Into Grounds Under Ideal Weather Conditions

Contests, that ranged from an impromptu beauty contest to a horse drawing competition, all contributed to make Tweed Fair held Wednesday afternoon one of the best given by that society in many years. The fair grounds have been given a new face by the acquisition of a new grandstand, donated by Sawyer-Stoll Lumber Company and fences were erected to hold back the crowds so that everyone had a perfect view of the events as they were unfolded by an energetic committee. There were more than 5,000 residents of central and southern Hastings County in attendance and the programs offered kept them all on the in the evening.

The Stirling Band contributed a fine program of music during the day.

grounds to well past seven o'clock

Tommy Mason was master of ceremonies for the show that was given by the fair board in front of the grandstand with Sam Curry assisting. Al Harvey and his troupe from Toronto were most entertaining and created a number of laughs for the audience. Before the grandstand the racing events were held interspersed with fine driving by both gentlemen and ladies in one of the best horse shows given this section in many years. In the centrefield a wonderful exhibit of farm implements, motor cars were on display and all the frills of a midway were supplied by the Casey Shows, that received a good play all the afternoon.

Exhibits Not Heavy

The cattle exhibit was not as heavy as usual due to the farmers being busy with harvesting but the horse show was excellent and incidentally most of these matched teams and heavy draughts will be seen at the Belleville Fair in the coming week. The swine and poultry were weak compared to other years while the display of women's work was exceptionally good and keen rivalry exhibited among the entrants, most of whom were from the surrounding district. The cheese exhibit consisted of 14 cheese made by the prominent makers in the Quinte district and keen rivalry was seen.

Fine Baby Show

Of considerable interest to the large gathering was the Baby Show in which 36 children of varying ages vied for the prizes offered.

Mrs. Harold Varty and Mrs. W. J. Griffin, both registered nurses undertook to sort out the winners in the three classes that were up for competition with the result they had to give a special prize themselves for a beautiful pair of twins, Bobby and Betty Keller, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Keller of Crookston, they being the only pair in the class. In the class one to six months Barbara Jean Genereau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Genereau of Tweed was first, Linda Dievault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Dievault, Kitchener, second and John Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Craig, Tweed, third.

Children from six months to twelve took a lot of judging and the judges came up with Jean Meraw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Meraw, Tweed in first place, Joan Palmateer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Palmateer, Tweed, second Noreen Trudeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Trudeau, Tweed, third and Bonnie Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Long, Tweed, fourth. The boys came into their own in the 12 to 18 months class with John Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woods, Tweed, being judged the perfect child according to weight in the show. Donald Colton son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Colton, Jimmy Long son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Long both of Tweed tied for second and Sharon Woodcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Woodcox was third.

Drawing Contest Featured

The drawing contest was the chief feature of the show and in this class five teams competed with Leo Fry from Campbellford winning the pull. His team lugged 8,300 pounds of sand on a stoneboat on dry earth, which is some haul. A team owned by John Doyle of Marmora won second prize, the Sawyer-Stoll Lumber Company team was third and a team owned by the T. A. Wilson Company of Cannington fourth. Each team was allowed three pulls and the distance measured that they hauled it.

As the lumbering industry is quite close to the hearts of residents of that district the sawing contest was another feature of the grand fair. Albert and Arnold Keller of Denbigh, who before yesterday had handled a crosscut saw sawed a 12-inch maple log in the time of 100 seconds. There were eight competitors but all excepting — the winners were pretty tired when their chore was completed. Again in front of the grandstand was the competition for the best looking girl on the grounds and Sheila Trudeau of Tweed had the distinction of winning the honor. There were many contestants who volunteered for the competition and Tommy Mason interviewed each one separately. Before the contest was concluded and the winner declared by public applause it was apparent there are many beautiful girls both rural and urban in that district. Reta Irvine of Actinolite was a close second in popularity while Mrs. Kenneth Champagne of Tweed was third and Vivian Donovan of Tamworth fourth.

Accident Mars Proceedings

An accident marred what would have been a perfect day and two people suffered serious injury and a third collapsed from a heart attack during the running of the running race. Nobby Jones of Belleville riding a horse owned by Mr. Urch of this city, lost control of the animal entering the stretch and the horse plowed into a new car parked near, extensively damaging the hood. Bernard Hunt, an aged man was cut when he was struck by the horse and knocked into semi-consciousness, while another suffered a heart attack through the excitement. Dr. M. B. Dales, who was on the grounds, attended the injured and Mr. Hunt was taken to his surgery for examination. It was feared Jones suffered several broken ribs and a bad shaking up in the accident.

Ring Surrounded

As usual the horse show attracts the greatest number of fair visitors and this was no exception at Tweed Fair. The show ring was completely surrounded all the afternoon as owners paraded their heavy draught, agriculture and general purpose teams and haltered colts, while in front of the grandstand crowd carriage, roadster and other classes showed off their paces. There was some excellent stock see with P. E. Bonisteel of Frankford having the best general purpose team with R. W. Heath second. Mr. Bonisteel also won the special in this event.

The best mare or gelding went to William Woods of Tweed with R. W. Heath second and Mr. Woods also showed the best Agriculture team with the special going to the same owner. Francis Bush exhibited the best stallion for any weight with Alvin Heath of Marmora second. The best mare or gelding of any weight was shown by W. F. Scott of Campbellford with the T. A. Wilson Lumber Company and W. F. Scott third. The best span of heavy draught was also shown by Mr. Scott with the Wilson Lumber Company second while Mr. Scott also won the special for the best matched team.

Campbellcroft Horse Wins

In the single roadster class L. Lindsay of Campbellcroft exhibited a beautiful trotter with Owen Hendy second. The single carriage class was won by A. G. Douglas of Peterborough with R. Raycraft of Warkworth second and third. For the special carriage horse on halter Mr. Douglas won again second and third going to Lindsay. The single roadster special was captured by Mr. Lindsay with his beautiful pair of trotters but the best carriage class was won by Douglas with Raycraft second. In the special team Raycraft won again with V. Shangue was second the special for the best span of roadsters was won by Lindsay.

Mr. Edward Graham of Kingston exhibited a number of ponies, ridden by children at the fair and these captured all the prizes in the pony class. A great deal of excitement was caused in the race from the head of the stretch as many of the boys were unable to control the little fellows and they took their riders where they pleased because ponies always did have a mind of their own.

Other prize-winners at the fair were:

It's a Nice Feeling When You Help Others in Distress--Try it--But Now

Supposing it had happened to you? Supposing that death and disaster suddenly struck from the blue, injuring or killing members of your family and reducing your home and buildings to piles of rubble?

Supposing you suddenly realized that everything you had, had "gone with the wind", been scattered to the four points of the compass; and that you had nothing with which to construct a home for your children. Pretty dismal outlook, wouldn't it be?

And then, from unknown friends from far and near, came much-needed succor. Gifts of money with which you could rebuild your home, and buildings for your stock. You'd feel that this was a pretty good old world after all, despite the brutal treatment Nature had handed to you. You'd feel pretty proud, as well as appreciative of the good people, most of whom you do not know, who came to your help in your hour of need.

That is the way the storm victims of the Coe Hill district feel regarding the generous residents of this city who already have contributed to the Belleville Merchants-Ontario Intelligencer Tornado Relief Fund. And it's a pretty nice feeling that sweeps over you when you realize that you have done something, no matter how small, to help an unfortunate fellow man in his dire extremity.

Try it — you won't be sorry. You'll feel the glow of a job well done. And deeper still, you will feel that you are one of the fortunate ones who escaped the terror, and destruction of the storm. After all, it might have been you.

Junior Farmers' Day Will Be One of Outstanding Features On Belleville Fair Program

One of the outstanding features of the Belleville Exhibition for the past number of years has been the exhibits of the various junior farmer organizations of the county. The Board of Directors always aware of the importance of the work being done by these future agriculturists, has gone a long way in furthering their activities and their "spot" on the Fair program has always been one of more than passing interest not only to rural residents but to urbanites as well.

This year, the Junior Department of the Exhibition bids fair to outclass any of its predecessors. Important judging competitions where the boys and girls of the various agricultural clubs will vie for honors and prizes form one of the features of this phase of the fair.

Junior Farmers' Day

An elaborate program has been arranged by the Board and Tuesday has been set aside as Junior Farmers' Day. Registration will take place at 9.30 a.m. and at 10 a.m. the Girls' Project judging competition and the Boys' Livestock Judging competition will get under way. At 1.30 under the supervision of agricultural experts a discussion will be held for the boys when they will explain and outline their reasons for judging the livestock.

At 2 p.m. there will be a Girls' Inter-Clubs' competition and at six o'clock there will be a complimentary banquet for members of the clubs at Holloway Street United Church. This banquet is being sponsored by the Belleville Creameries, Trenton Dairies, Swift Canadian Company and the Trent Valley Creameries. Important speakers will address the gathering on special subjects which will be of interest to all.

Beginners' Class

A special section of the judging competition will be one for a beginners' class. This is open to contestants under 21 years of age who have never judged at Belleville Exhibition. They will judge and give reasons in classes of dairy cattle, draft horses, beef cattle and swine. Attractive prizes will be given the winners.

Attractive prizes have also been set aside for Homemaking Clubs, judging and demonstrations. Nutrition, Clothing, housefurnishing and hospitality will be among the subjects that Hastings County young ladies will be judged on.

There will be special interclub demonstrations on various subjects as well as exhibits. Special exhibit will be of the various Girls Home Garden Clubs.

Getting Stage Ready

Activities centred around the area in front of the grandstand today as workmen rushed preparations for the erection of the stage on which will appear the celebrated Billy Garden Show brought here for the three days of the Fair and which will give performances both afternoon and evening. The variety show is a typical Garden production and the popularity of this entertainment has increased yearly. The fact that the production is brought here annually speaks for itself.

There needs be little said regarding the Conklin Midway. With its reputation of being one of the outstanding attractions of its kind on the North American continent, these famous shows with their glitter, brilliant illumination, whirling rides, sideshows and many other attractions have catered to the wants of Belleville Fair goers for years. This year, the Midway is said to be bigger and better than ever and will form part of the many attractive phases that go to make up the Exhibition.

'Sunken Log' On Line Proves Big Channel Cat

A West Moira Street resident had the thrill of his life the other day when he hooked an animated sunken log that tipped the scales at 15½ pounds. He was fishing with two friends when the "log" struck. At least that is what he thought it was. It dragged heavily on the line then in a sudden spurt took off for parts unknown.

It was the first time the fisherman had hooked anything larger than a minnow from a pail or a sardine from a can and naturally he became excited. For fifteen minutes he pulled and yanked, sweated and swore. His companions kidded him, but with sweat streaming down his face he stuck manfully to the task.

Finally he brought the piscatorial monster to the side of the boat. It had a head as large as a small pumpkin, and the man behind the rod gasped in surprise at what he saw. It was a large channel cat.

Speed

Planes and automobiles keep on setting records. For this is an age that breaks conventions and records.

John Cobb, Briton, has travelled a measured mile at the rate of 403.135 miles an hour in a racing motorcar.

Such a figure a few years ago would have been unbelievable but today it is an achievement and man's gaze is forward towards an even greater speed. One goal achieved, there is a new one sought.

No man on this earth has ever travelled so fast as Cobb the champion whose records are an imposing array of victories and triumphs over goals which he set before himself. That he undergoes grave risks in such record-making is realized but the goal always finds someone ready to attempt it. Cobb is one of the greatest men of speed in a fast-moving world.

The speed of travel within the memories of living men has increased vastly. Can the future keep on planning construction that will permit this ever increasing rapidity of transportation and can the human nervous system and mind continue at shattering speeds to climb to limits which today seem inaccessible? Tempest and hurricane, the mighty works of nature, destroy with their terrific force but they do not attain the speed of the modern champion in a speed car on a speedway. His speed is explosive and is built on the modern fuel, oil. Man is the swiftest inhabitant of earth and his ambition knows no limit.

Air Power

Justice Jackson of the United States Supreme Court and chief of the United States prosecutors of the Nazi leaders at Nurnberg has stated his belief in the importance of unquestioned air superiority to save nations and the world from the horrors of war. He quoted Speer the Nazi as saying that the reason the Germans did not use two new gases which produce 'most frightful results' was the greatness of American air power. If decisive air superiority can prevent gas warfare, I do not see any reason why an unquestioned air superiority, in view of its modern possibilities, may not be equally effective to prevent any war.

The admission of Speer is to Justice Jackson the most unanswerable argument he ever heard for a powerful air force.

The Supreme Court Justice spoke at length regarding air power and the permissible uses of this great modern source of strength and destruction.

U.K. Orders Coal-Face Machinery

Britain is buying $36 million of coal-face machinery as part of an intensive mechanization program for her coal mines.

This is one of the main points in the National Coal Board's plan for a largescale reorganization of the mining industry which has just been announced. It has special interest at this particular moment in view of the assurance given to industry by the President of the Board of Trade, that it will be guaranteed 24½ million tons of coal during the winter months.

The Coal Board is starting almost immediately 20 major schemes for sinking new pits or re-constructing existing mines. Each of these projects will cost $12 million. In addition there is a long-term program comprising 80 further schemes of a similar nature. 70 projects for drift mines in shallow seams are estimated to provide an additional annual output by the end of the year of between three and four million tons.

What is in fact a big plan for the development of Britain's coal mines covers the next 9 years. The Board anticipates that at least one major piece of re-construction in each of the country's 49 mining areas will be undertaken. Following the 20 propects being started during the first year of the Board's program, 10 more will be initiated annually in each of the following eight years making a total of 100 for the entire program.

National, divisional and area planning staffs will ensure direction and co-ordination of the scheme in the different areas. In addition a chief scientist has been appointed in each division with the necessary staff and laboratories required to provide a comprehensive scientific service down to pit level. There will also be general, chemical, medical and physical directorates of research. Machinery has thus been set up for scientific study of all the industry's problems.

Crowded Highways

Driving to Toronto to keep a business appointment not long ago we were held up for some time by transports on Highway No. 2. Three of these large freight-car-like vehicles travelling together made it impossible to pass between Pickering and Dunbarton, due to the curves in the road and the volume of traffic coming from the other direction.

We have heard from other drivers that the big carriers are becoming increasingly troublesome and dangerous. They crawl along at a very slow pace on upgrades and so fast going downhill that it is difficult to pass them.

The protests being voiced by those who use the highways are not directed at the size of the transports, but at their tendency to bunch up, thereby presenting an almost unbroken line. It is difficult to pass them without inviting a collision with oncoming traffic. And their rate of speed — about thirty miles an hour — causes traffic to pile up behind them.

The suggested remedy is that the transports should be spaced to facilitate passing. Traffic police undoubtedly have authority to prevent them from assuming the form and dimensions of a freight train, but the police cannot be everywhere. Their power should be supplemented by official directives to the carriers to keep their vehicles from getting too close together.

The safe distance should not be difficult to determine. It would be, at least, a matter of several hundred yards. — Oshawa Times.

Good Citizenship

"Good citizenship is a lot of little things," say the signs in the buses, and one of these "little things" came to the notice of a Now Column reader a few nights ago. On their way to the store for milk, three small boys dropped the bottle they were carrying in the middle of the street, where it smashed to bits. Instead of scampering on, as small boys might be expected to do, they turned around, went back home, and got a broom, dustpan and flashlight (it was just turning dark.)

The youngsters set about sweeping up the glass, at the same time flashing their light on the pavement so that oncoming traffic could be warned of the danger to tires. With the last fragment gathered up, the smallest of the trio trotted home and deposited the broken bottle in the trash can. So much is being said about "juvenile delinquency," nowadays, a pat on the back, at the very least, is due these kids. (Incidentally, the two smaller ones belong to the family of Police Constable Alvin Broderick; the other is a playmate of theirs.)— R. M. Harrison in Windsor Star.

Would Please the Princess

We are sure that free postal handling of Canadian food parcels to Britain would be welcomed as a wedding gift by November's featured bridal couple — Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Mountbatten.

The suggestion is only one of many received at Ottawa as the time for deciding on the Dominion's wedding gift draws short, however. Something more tangible may be favored.

But if this way of stimulating individual food donations to hungry Britons is rejected, some other should be found. High postal costs deter many would be Canadian donors today.—Montreal Herald.

Owes Belgium for Lend-Lease

Belgium is the only nation which gave the United States more in lend-lease than it received. The war ended with this country owing $90,000,000 to Belgium—despite the fact that Belgium itself was wrecked and starving, says Milwaukee Journal.

The reason for this, according to John W. Champbell in his new book "The Atomic Story," is that the largest known uranium deposits are in the Belgian Congo.

DIET DISOBEDIENCE

When the doctor looks at me,
Asking: "Now what wrong can be?"
Feels my pulse and shakes his head,
Well I know what will be said.
He will tell me there and then:
"You've had cherry pie again!"

Swift his diagnosis made—
Not so swift he'll be paid—
As he thumps my stomach round
Comes this statement most profound
From the friendliest of men:
"You've had cherry pie again!"

"Just about this time of year
I'm obliged to hurry here
To relieve your keen distress,
But not hard the cause to guess.
'Gainst your dollar I'll bet ten,
You've had cherry pie again!"

Wise is he; and foolish I.
As he turns to say good-bye
With a grin he says to me:
"Back next year I'll surely be.
Don't forget to call me when You've had cherry pie again!"

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

How did "hoodlum" originate?

The colloquial term "hoodlum," signifying a bully, ruffian or street rowdy, originated on the Pacific Coast, presumably in San Francisco, in the decade following the Civil War.

It was already current in 1872, for on February 24 of that year the Sacramento "Weekly Union" referred to "pettifoggers, polite loafers, street-hounds, hoodlums, and bummers."

A dispatch to the Boston "Journal" in 1877 said "You at the East have but little idea of the hoodlums of this city (San Francisco). They compose a class of criminals of both sexes, far more dangerous than are to be found in Eastern cities. They travel in gangs, and are ready at any moment for the perpetuation of any crime."

By that time the origin of the word had been lost, but it began to excite the attention of the press and all sorts of fantastic theories were advanced in the late '70's and early 80's to account for it.

The most widely accepted of these stories regards the term as a perverted back-spelling of "Muldoon." As early as September 26, 1877, the "Congressionalist" printed a story to the affect that a San Fransisco newspaperman desired to coin a word to designate a gang of young street rowdies led by one Muldoon and that he hit upon the idea of reversing the leader's name and called them "Noodlums." The typesetter, mistaking the "N" for an "H," set up the word 'Hoodlums," and thus it was printed and thus it passed into general use.

This is supposed to have happened about 1868.

The story may or may not be true, for there is no contemporary evidence to prove or disprove it.

According to another story, the term was suggested by a gang of San Francisco toughs who disguised themselves by wearing "hoods."

The word may have originated among the rough and lawless element and its origin may be forever lost.

Hurricane Develops 'Double-Eye' Centre

By Lieut. Commander A. R. Fields, U.S.N.
As told to the Associated Press

Lieut. Commander A. R. Fields, Aerological Officer of Meteorological Squadron Three, based at the Naval Air Station in Miami, twice flew into the heart of the tropical hurricane in the South Atlantic aboard a Navy Hurricane-Hunter Privateer. He describes the trips aboard the four-motored aircraft as follows:

Miami, Sept. 18 — We were about 10 miles from the core of the hurricane when our radar operator reported on the intercom system that he had picked up "something screwy" on the radar's scope.

"It looks like the storm had a double eye," he reported.

I studied the scope and it very definitely showed the two distinct concentric cores in the storm. I believe that this is the first time such a condition has been found in such a perfectly developed state in any tropical hurricane.

It appeared as though one eye was forming around the other.

The best way to describe it would be a spool sitting inside an empty bowl. The outer rim of the bowl would represent the outer fringe of the storm—or the terrifically turbulent air with winds above 100 miles an hour. The space between the spool and the rim of the bowl would represent the new developing eye where there is calm air and only a few, scattered, low clouds. The spool would represent the core of the storm where the winds are the strongest and the hollow centre of the spool would represent the old eye.

Calm Centre.

The centre of the storm — the space between the bowl and the spool — is perfectly calm. It was like a pleasure cruise flying inside. The fish bowl of calm air was a 30-mile doughnut surrounding the core. The core of the storm, which I estimated to be about seven miles in diameter, resembles the pictures of the atomic bomb explosion at Bikini. It is a fringed column of gray clouds that extend from the ocean's surface up to 15,000 or 20,000 feet. Inside that column is a core of hazy, calm air, the true "eye" of the storm.

On the first day we penetrated only a mile or so into the "eye." After flying on instruments in extremely rough weather, we came out into this bowl of peaceful air. The sun was shining and we could see the sea below.

On the second day, when we found the double-eye, we entered from the south, flying with the wind on the port beam. We tried to circle inside the calm area but the turn was not tight enough and we got caught in the gray wall of violent air surrounding the "eye." We were about 1,200 feet altitude and we plunged down to about 400 or 500 feet almost before we knew what happened.

Salt Spray.

When the radar altimeter indicated 800 feet altitude, an observer in the after station reported getting salt spray in his face. This, was confirmed by the co-pilot who was sitting on the same side.

The pilots tried for over a minute to raise the right wing. They put all their weight on the controls, but the plane failed to respond. We were being kicked around badly and the pilots reported their instruments useless.

We all felt as though we'd received an 11th hour reprieve when the plane staggered back into the calm outer eye.

It is difficult to explain the double-eye formation. It may be that as the storm grows in size and intensity, it can't accommodate the great volume of subsiding air and simply creates a new core around the original core.

DISINFECTION OF DRINKING WATER

Tap water in any city or village is as safe for visitors, tourists, campers, fishermen, hunters and travellers as it is for the residents who drink it.

Wayside well, springs, streams, lakes, rivers and ponds may or may not be paluted and you drink water from such sources at your peril.

Typhoid fever is the disease most likely to be carried in polluted drinking water. Occasionally in the United States or Canada, too frequently in countries to the south, ordinary dysentery and amebic dysentry are carried in drinking water or in the water used for washing dishes, vegetables etc.

Boiling water is the best way to disinfect it, if there is any question of the purity of the water. Boiling for one minute will destroy any disease germ likely to be present in water.

For the chemical disinfection of questionable water for drinking purposes chlorinated lime, commonly called chloride of lime, if it is fresh—the can, on opening, should not give off a very intense chloride odor, is the most reliable agent. Add to each gallon of water five grains of fresh chlorinated lime. As soon as it dissolves the water is safe to drink. This imparts only a slight taste of chloride to the water, little more than is sometimes noticeable in the municipal drinking water supply for a day or two—most municipal water supplies are chlorinated as a safety precaution.

For the emergency disinfection of a small amount of water for drinking there are two methods. First is the use of tablets of a chlorine compound called halazone tablets of which may be carried in the pocket emergency kit —one tablet will sterilize a quart of water. Second is Mild Tincture of Iodine or whatever new name the standard first aid disinfectant has been given in the latest (thirteenth) revision of the U.S. Pharmocopoeia—it is approximately 2 percent iodine (never mind the alcoholic content) and is intended for popular use as first aid disinfectant for minor wounds, for painting over minor sprains, swelling and the like as a mild counter-irritant. Put three to five drops of it in a quart of water, shake up, let stand fifteen minutes, and the water will be safe to drink.

For systematic disinfection of water for drinking purposes when the water is to be used over a period of days or weeks, fresh chlorinated lime, calx chlorinata, bleaching powder, calcium chloride, chloride of lime, hypochlorite of lime, calcium hypochlorite (having a confusing variety of names for a chemical or medicine is one of the tricks of the trade —keeps you poor geeks in that submissive, deferential spirit the druggist likes in his customers) should be used. Open a fresh can or tin of chlorinated lime—the chlorine odor should be present but not too pungent—and put a level teaspoonful of the white or grayish granular powder in a quart of water in a tightly stoppered bottle and let stand over night—this is the mother solution and is not for drinking. Next day pour a teaspoonful of the solution into two gallons of water and let stand fifteen minutes—this will make the water safe to drink. Of course there will be some chlorine taste in the water—I'm sorry about that, old timer, but you didn't ask my advice about camping there, did you? If you just can't tolerate the taste, thell with it — you may choose the alternative method already mentioned and be as safe as houses—boil the water, one minute.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Fear of Dental Treatment

Read in your column about some preparation a doctor may furnish to allay the fear of having a tooth extracted...the name of it has slipped my memory and I need. (F.L.)

Answer—I never named it. Only your physician or dentist can prescribe or furnish the preparation. Every patient who fears dental treatment should have the help such preliminary anoci-association or calming of dread or fear affords. Any physician or dentist can prescribe or administer the medicine.

Chicken Pox

Should a person with chicken pox be confined to bed? If so, for how long? When is chicken pox catching? Do the pocks leave ainy marks or scars? Is there any danger of heart trouble or such complications as in scarlet fever? (Mrs. M. A.)

Answer—The patient should remain in bed while there is any feverishness or chilliness or general aches or pains, or at least remain at rest. That is usually a period of three or four days. It is communicable from 24 hours before the rash appears until about a week after the rash appears. The vesicles of chickenpox rarely leave a scar. Danger of complications is slight.

Better Metabolism

I have become a new woman since I began taking your iodin Ration about two years ago. For years I had slept poorly nights and felt sleepy and sort of dumpy and cheerless by day. Well, I needed your advice, kept faithfully at it. Today I am feeling, and according to my husband and daughters looking, twenty years younger.

(Mrs. F. A.)

Answer—In most parts of the country every man, woman and school child needs an increased iodine intake. Send stamped envelope bearing your address for pamphlet The Iodin Ration.

Martin several times had ordered Luery off the place but he had stated he would not go as long as the "little girl" remained. "Little girl" was the term used for the Martin's crippled 25-year-old daughter. In addition to doing chores about the Martin home, and other odd jobs, Luery looked after the Martin girl.

In his statement to police Martin said that finally he had decided that burning the house was the only way of getting rid of Luery and told police how on the night of May 6th, after taking his wife to Stirling, he had re-

WEDDINGS

JACKSON—DAVISON

St. John's Anglican Church, Sarnia, decorated with palms and tall standards of gladioli, was the setting for a wedding at two-thirty o'clock p.m., on Monday, Sept. 15, when Mildred Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davison, Sarnia, was united in marriage to Elton Fletcher (Bob) Jackson son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis Jackson. Rev. J. A. E. Blackwell officiated; Mrs. G. Durban was at the organ and Mr. David Gray sang "O Promise Me" and "I'll Walk Beside You."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white silk velvet, fashioned on princess lines with a long train, and a full length veil which fell from a coronet of velvet. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom, and carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman roses and bouvardia.

Mrs. Gordon Lawrence, of Sarnia, was her sister's matron-of-honor, wearing a floor length gown of shell pink nylon sheer. The bridesmaids, Miss Jean McCutcheon of Sarnia, and Miss Doris Smith, of Belleville, wore identical floor length gowns of poudre blue nylon sheer over taffeta, and carried arm bouquets of Fall flowers to complete their costumes.

Junior Miss Mary Anne Lasenby, of Sarnia, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl, gowned as a miniature bride, with dress and bouquet fashioned identically to that of the bride.

Mr. Allan Miller, of Trenton, was the groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. James Bach, of Toronto, and Mr. Thomas Davison, of Sarnia.

A reception at the Lakeshore Inn followed the ceremony, the bride's mother receiving in an afternoon frock of grey triple sheer, with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. She was assisted by Mrs. Wm. Bain, of Trenton, an aunt of the groom. Mrs. Bain wore black moire taffeta with a corsage of white gladioli blossoms.

For a wedding trip to Muskoka, the bride donned a suit of brown gabardine, with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

After their return Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will reside at 124 Shuter Street, Trenton. The bride was formerly on the staff of the Belleville General Hospital, and the groom is a nephew of the late Chief Constable Bain and is a member of the Trenton police force.

Mr. J. Fenn, Belleville, contributed two cornet solos which were well received.

Mr. Francis Decarrol, Campbellford, rendered three vocal selections classic, popular and sacred his closing number being "The Lord's Prayer."

The second part of the program was a recital by Edna Jacques noted poetess, and reader. She said in part: "Poetry has meant much in the lives of folks and many people appreciate good poems."

She opened her recital with "My Kitchen Window," telling of the view which prompted the poem. The reader took her audience by way of her poems to the pioneers of other days; thro' hiking days at Banff to the little prairie homes in Saskatchewan, then to the Alaskan Highway. Her closing number was "This Canada of Ours."

The chairman extended thanks to all artists for their very fine program, and also thanked all friends who attended the recital.

Several autographed books of poetry by the author were sold at the close of the concert.

Don't be in a Jam Next Winter

Make plenty of jam now. A supply of jams and jellies on the cellar shelf certainly is a satisfaction to any home-maker.

Hot biscuits and jam or crackers with jelly and cheese make an easy dessert most acceptable to family or guests. Jam with toast for breakfast starts the day right.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture have suggestion to offer on making good jam.

Firm ripe fruit makes best jam.

Fruit and sugar must be measured accurately.

All fruits except peaches, pears, and apricots are best if pre-cooked before adding the sugar. This prevents toughening of skins of plums and grapes.

With peaches and pears the sugar may be mixed with the prepared fruit and allowed to stand at least an hour before boiling to the jam stage.

Damson Jam thickens considerably on cooling completely therefore care must be taken not to cook the jam to too thick a consistency.

If using commercial pectin to make jams or jellies, the manufacturer's directions should be followed exactly.

The following recipes are taken from the bulletin "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables", which may be obtained free of charge from the Dominion Department of Agriculture. It contains other excellent recipes for jams, jellies and pickles as well as full directions for canning.

Canteloupe and Peach Jam

5 cups peeled, diced cantaloupe
5 cups peeled, diced peaches
3 medium oranges, grated rind and juice
5 cups sugar

Mix all ingredients and let stand until sugar is dissolved—about one hour. Bring to boil and, boil uncovered, to jam stage; about 30 minutes. Pour into hot, sterilized jars. Cool and seal. Yield: about 6 1-2 cups.

Grape Jam

Wash and stem grapes. Press pulp from skins. Cook pulp 10 minutes and put through a sieve to remove seeds. Add skins to pulp and measure the mixture. Measure the sugar to be added later, allowing 2-3 cup to each cup of fruit. Bring skins and pulp to boil and boil, uncovered, about ten minutes or until skins are tender. Add sugar, bring to boil and boil to jam stage—about 20 minutes, stirring frequently. Pour into hot, sterilized jars. Cool and seal.

Grape and Pear Jam

8 cups blue grapes
3 cups water
10 cups chopped pears
4 1-2 cups sugar

Wash grapes, separate skins from pulp. Add 1 1-2 cups water to skins and 1 1-2 cups to pulp. Simmer skins and pulp separately until tender—about 15 minutes. Press pulp through a sieve to remove seeds. Add cooked grape skins, chopped pears and sugar to the pulp. Bring to boil and boil, uncovered, to jam stage—about 45 minutes, stirring frequently. Pour into hot, sterilized jars. Cool and seal. Yield: about 8 1-2 cups.

Supply Minister's Secretary Judges Work With Craftsman's Eye

By JAMES McCOOK
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Sept. 18 — (CP) — When Bill Leonard walks through government factories among visiting notables he judges the work with a craftsman's eye trained in Winnipeg cabinet-making shops and in building the Canadian Pacific Railways station in Vancouver.

"There won't be many who remember me now in Canada, but I always think with pride that I was one of the first sergeants of the Cameron Highlanders of Winnipeg and secretary of the first Canadian unit of cabinet makers," said Leonard.

Now he is supply ministry parliamentary secretary and Labor Member for Parliament for St. Rollox division, Glasgow. As one of Supply Minister Wilmot's right-hand men he watches over the development and conversion of factory and arsenal establishments under the government's wing.

He is chairman of a committee of Scottish representatives with ideas for greater Scottish control over government affairs. In 1925 and in 1931 and 1932 he was president of the Scottish Trade Union Congress.

This sturdy, quick-thinking Scot, now silver-haired, went to Canada when he was 20 as a journeyman craftsman trained in the exacting Scottish school. He was an enthusiastic soldier and left spare-time duty with the Winnipeg Camerons only when he returned to the United Kingdom in 1913, after experience in farming at Miami, Man., and as a carpenter at Vancouver.

"I was keen on the army and I would have liked to go to the First World War but the authorities said I would be more useful in war plants as a skilled woodworker," said Leonard in an interview.

Immediately after the war he concentrated on labor organization, serving as National Secretary of the Scottish Labor College, 1918-20; Scottish organizer of the National Amalgamated Furnishing Trades Association, 1921; member of the Scottish Advisory Council of the Labor party and member of the Independent Labor party for 15 years.

When Sir Andrew Duncan, a Conservative who sits opposite Leonard in the present Commons, became president of the Board of Trade, he had the Scottish member as his parliamentary private secretary and the Association was so happy that when Duncan was transferred to the supply ministry Leonard went with him. When labor took power in 1945, Leonard remained to work with Wilmot.

Martin Admitted to Police Setting Fire to Home In Statement Given After Arrest

"Yes, I set a match to it and I am ready to do my five years. It's too bad that Royle got him out of the house. He did not even get a good scorching."

This, according to Provincial Constable J. Ernest Keays of Belleville was part of the statement which Fred Martin, Rawdon township farmer gave to police following giving himself up at Kingston last May 14th.

Martin is being tried by an assize court jury before Mr. Justice Wilson on charge of arson and attempted murder as result of the burning of his farm home last May when three persons were rescued from the blazing building. Proceedings commenced Monday but were abruptly halted Tuesday afternoon when the question of admissibility of Martin's statement to police was raised by Defence Counsel R. D. Arnott.

After hearing argument from Defence Counsel R. D. Arnott and from Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan as to admissibility of the statement Mr. Justice Wilson Wednesday morning admitted the statement and the trial continued.

Picked up May 14th

Recalled to the stand Constable Keays told the court that he with Constable Sam Ervine had gone to Kingston early on the morning of May 14th to pick up Mr. Martin who earlier in the night had given himself up to Kingston police with the statement that he had burned his Rawdon township farm home. Clifford Luery, 55, Mrs. Elizabeth Cassidy, 77, and the Martin's invalid daughter Jennie had been rescued from the fire.

On the way back to Belleville in the police car Martin told his story to police and later at the local detachment office of the O.P.P. had been interviewed with the purpose of obtaining a written statement. It was the admissibility of this statement which was questioned by defence counsel.

After hearing Constable Keays evidence with the jury excluded, Mr. Justice Wilson ruled that Keays had been extremely fair to the accused in the manner in which the statement had been taken. There had been no rushing, nor undue prompting, the statement being therefore ruled admissible.

An Unwelcome Member

According to the statement given to police Martin said Luery was an unwelcome member of the Martin household. Mr. Luery, together with Mrs. Cassidy, who is Mrs. Martin's mother, had been the cause of much friction in the home and in any discussion always sided with Mrs. Martin, he had said. The trouble had been going on for 15 years, he said.

Martin several times had ordered Luery off the place but he had stated he would not go as long as the "little girl" remained. "Little girl" was the term used for the Martin's crippled 25-year-old daughter. In addition to doing chores about the Martin home, and other odd jobs, Luery looked after the Martin girl.

In his statement to police Martin said that finally he had decided that burning the house was the only way of getting rid of Luery and told police how on the night of May 6th, after taking his wife to Stirling, he had returned home and set fire in the attic.

He had had no intention of doing the "little girl" any harm but when he set the fire he had not thought about her. Neither had he wished any harm to Mrs. Cassidy, although he "had no use for her."

Here, Constable Keays stated, he had asked Martin if he had intended to burn Luery when he set fire to the house.

"Yes," had been the reply. "Either burn him or give him a good scorching."

When talking to police about the trouble between himself and Luery, Mr. Martin had said that there is only a certain amount which any man can stand. "They forced me to do it," Martin said in his statement.

Under cross examination Constable Keays again referred to Martin's statement that Luery and Mrs. Cassidy sided with Mrs. Martin in any discussion in which he took part. Martin had said that Luery and Mrs. Cassidy were the cause of domestic troubles in the family.

"Last winter," the constable reported the accused as saying, "Martin decided the only way was to wait until Luery was alone in the house and burn him up. This opportunity, however, had not presented itself.".

Martin was formally charged with arson when he was picked up by local police at Kingston, but the charge of attempted murder was not laid until August second.

Constable Ervine corroborated Keays' evidence as to the manner of taking the statement from Martin and told the court what he had himself recalled Martin as saying.

Worked For Martin

With the Crown calling Clifford Luery to the stand, an added interest was shown by the people in the crowded court room. Luery stated he had been with the Martin family off and on for about ten years, sometimes working for his board and at other times being paid.

Recounting events of the night of May 6th., when the Martin home was burned, Mr. Luery stated that he, Mrs. Cassidy and Jennie Martin had retired to bed about nine o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Martin had gone to Stirling.

Sometime later he had been roused by Ray Sine, who told him the house was afire. He had got into his clothes and had gone downstairs where he had wakened Jennie and assisted in taking her out. He could see that the manhole leading to the kitchen attic was open with the fire blazing above. A stepladder was seen directly below the manhole. Reg. Sine, with Stanley Rcyle and Allan Sine were the neighbors who saw the fire.

Admonished by Judge

Continuing at the direction of the Crown, Luery stated that several days later he had told Martin what he thought of him. "I gave him a piece of my mind and accused him of burning the house," he said.

Pressed for the exact words which had passed between him and Mr. Martin, the witness stated he could not recall.

Luery was admonished sharply here by Mr. Justice Wilson who stated that a moment previous the witness appeared willing to state what had been said and then suddenly took refuge behind the claim of not being able to remember.

"I don't care to say," stated Mr. Luery.

"You are not to be the sole judge of that," returned His Lordship. "This is a court and you must state what you remember. I direct you to answer."

"I Accused Martin"

"As I remember it there was no conversation the first day after the fire," the witness recalled. "But the next afternoon I accused Martin of trying to burn me up. He denied it and a few pet names were called and that ended it."

Later witness stated that Mrs. Martin had hinted in Martin's presence that he (Martin) had set fire to the house and she had said something about having him arrested.

"What did he say to that"? asked the Crown.

"He just opened the door and said he had a notion to beat it," returned the witness.

Proceedings for the day were here adjourned until Thursday; as there was deemed insufficient time for cross examination by Defence Counsel Arnott.

Campus Life Earns Girls' Fashion Credits

The Married Co-Ed to Influence The choice of College Apparel

College campus fashions set the pace for all girls down to pre-school sister Sue who's a sweater-and-skirt girl wears saddle oxfords reversible coats and lots of corduroy.

But this Fall finds a new aspect to college clothes which tho still following tradition and still well adapted to the routine of campus life play their role —with variations.

No doubt the increased neatness the more adult look to campus wardrobes may largely be attributed to the fact that more undergraduates wear wedding rings than ever in the history of college life; many who aren't married are engaged and frequently visit the men's schools and spend more weekends in the cities. Which calls for more suits, more date dresses, and a more "grownup attitude in the selection of all clothing.

So we find that although the camel hair coat is still classic, in trench or boy styling, there is more flare to their backs this year, this silhouette news applies to raincoats and date coats in tweed fleece, gabardine, corduroy and plaid wool as well.

For date and weekend wear, simple dresses continue to be best loved, but more black will be chosen by these campus "matrons" who'll venture into an irregular hemline, spattering of sequins, or inset of lace. Sheer wools and crepes will alternate with black in bright and neutral shades.

Full Skirts.

In general the silhouette will be more amply skirted with swish and added inches of length carefully determined by whether the particular style is to be worn with flat or high heeled shoes! Hips are rounder but still slim, while there's a trend to narrower more natural shoulders, with small, narrowly belted waistlines the standard. Also well liked is the middy silhouette, molded through the waistline.

Put-together fashions continue practical and pretty in their variability. Jackets are still long and smooth with gabardine and worsteds very popular. Except for the fact that skirts are longer they still make the most of pleats whether soft and unpressed, all-around accordion or box pleated. In addition to their length being governed by heel heights—they must also be proportioned by the length of the wearer.

The campus queen of '47 continues be-trousered on occasion, and she's faithful to dungarees worn with sweater or shirt neatly tucked in. The trim fit of frontier pants is bringing their number of appearances up more and more, while shorts, pedal pushers and slacks carry on, preference for one or the other varying somewhat at different campuses.

The sweater is still the paramount school garment, with less bulk giving a slimmer effect restrained by a belt or skirt waistband. A monotone effect for sweater-and-skirt, or the sweater picking up one color in multicolor skirt, are the rule. At some universities the blouse is increasingly seen, the jewel neckline or shirt collar best liked.

Hood-winking!

Another campus pet is the hood which may be attached to jacket, coat or dress; or may be improvised from a long wool muffler.

There are three outstanding important campus fabrics — and corduroy's their leader, appearing in everything from coats to robes; from casual shoes to hooded jackets. Next is velveteen, so lovely for date and formal fashions; and lastly are dark-ground tartan plaids appearing in full-blown skirts, dresses, coats and suits.

Makes Dozen Quilts From Prize Ribbons

Toronto, Sept. 18 — (CP)— A dozen or more quilts have been made out of the multi-colored ribbons collected by Alfred Bagg of Vaughan Township during the 35 years he has been showing his well-known Edgeley Jersey herd.

On his trim 225-acre farm 15 miles north of Toronto are stalled the 200 cows and calves and six full-grown bulls which have consistently brought fame to Bagg.

The prize-winning herd has won so many ribbons since 1912 that Mrs. Bagg had trouble storing them until she fell upon the idea of making them into quilts.

Further contributions to the quilt-craze were won at the Canadian National Exhibition here when with 28 entries, 29 ribbons were awarded including the senior and grand champion award taken by the two-year-old bull, Jester Royal.

WINDOW SHADE HINTS

All window shades should be dusted regularly with soft, dry cloth and once a week. This is done most easily by pulling the shade full length to the sill and wiping from the roller down. If you have unfilled shades with paint or pyroxilin finish they can be washed with soap and water. Lightly filled shades with linseed oil finish may be brushed clean with a damp cloth, sponge or wall paper cleaner.

Millinery Gains In Interest

Crowns Rounder In Keeping With Silhouette

In harmony with the revolutionary new costume silhouettes, hats for fall 1947 have a new feeling of full-blown softness, feminine drapery and generally larger size. The magnificence of the era of 1911-1912 is recalled both in silhouettes and in the materials from which these handsome new hats are fashioned. Soft beaver felts, velvets, satins and laces are artfully draped in distinctive "milliner" hats from the high-fashion houses and even the popular-priced young hats are enriched with soft detail.

The larger crown is important for its soft look, which is often achieved by graceful turban-like draping or puffy, beret fullness. Although still fitting comfortably down to the nape of the neck, the new crowns have none of the starkly head-hugging severity so popular in the last few seasons. Even the casual tailored hats have softly rounded sides or slightly higher crowns that suggest "air space" between the hat and head, which looks distinctly new.

Brims, too, have fluid softness and follow the curved line of beauty. The enlargement of the silhouette frequently shows itself in side-to-side width and there are many broad, oval brims on both day and dinner hats. Curve-on-curve is the rule, rather than sharp angles, even in profile brims and the recently revived swagger hats. Narrow brims balance the more elaborately draped crowns and there are many brimless turbans and toques as well.

Walls Wear Clan Plaids

Plaids are news. You will find them everywhere. In smart new dresses and suits, in tricky hats and other accessories, and even on the walls!

It matters not whether your home is modern or traditional. There is a plaid wall paper to fit every taste — and every color scheme — from bold primitive colorings to more subdude and subtle pastels.

Manufacturers of wall paper have given unanimous recognition to this trend, and to add impetus have turned out every effective pattern possible.

For example, there are wall papers of huge, open-space, shadow-box plaids which give a three dimensional effect. Other papers are the more conservative checkerboard type while still others are authentic replicas of the Scottish tartans.

No matter what one's taste or budget, there is a plaid wall paper to meet all needs. There is nothing like it to bring the charm of the land of heather into your home.

Every Detail's New In New Fashions

Hems Extend, Shoulders Round Out for More Elegant Effect

The trends which manifested themselves a few months ago—have at last taken form. They now appear as the fall fashions which attractively dressed women will be wearing from coast to coast and from border to border, until the silhouette goes through its next stage of evolution.

Outstanding in the new clothes is the lowered hemline, so definitely accepted by now, that anything more than fifteen inches from the floor looks absurd, and in proportion to one's height fourteen and even thirteen inches from the floor looks quite right. It is only in sportswear, when skirt fulness is achieved through pleating or other means — and the fashions is most likely to be worn with a low heel shoe, that skirts may be a little shorter.

As if wearied by several years of severity in fashion, the American woman is looking for a great deal of finely sewn, generous seams; neat buttonholes and beautiful buttons; exquisite needlework to achieve faultless fit; rich, supple, soft fabrics — be they silk, wool, rayon or cotton, used without stint.

And wherever the occasion calls for it, our fashion-plate flaunts beading and embroidery, applique and contrasts of texture or color, with admirable refinement!

Even the simplest of casual clothes have more sleeve interest, more intricate fitting detail, and more attractive trimming effects than have been permitted for many a year.

Look Natural.

Shoulders are definitely narrowing to a more normal line—which combined with the gently curved hip succeeds in a more natural figure effect which rules out straight and angular silhouetting.

For as revolutionary as the silhouette changes may be, there is a large vista to the fashion scene. And for every dress that is molded to a slim figure, there is a fashion which is full and curvaceous. For every longer daytime skirt, there's a leg-exposing style in active sportswear; for every minuscule waistline there is a round hipline.

There is much variety too in necklines, most particularly in suits and coats which are wearing all the drape effects, rever variations and cowls to be desired. And in the coat silhouette particularly there is the extreme of the figure-hugging, wrapped silhouette and the other extreme of the free and easy swinging back.

Elegance is a word which may be used most accurately in describing many of the season's clothes; for fabrics have become richer, colors are more deeply hued and more interestingly contrasted; and all the versatility of couturiers around the wide world have been combined and culled from to fulfill this American fashion season.

As the richer fabrics are used more generously and more deftly, wonderful clothes appear, so intricate in detail and so dramatic in effectiveness, that every woman's wardrobe will have that made-to-order look. Thanks to American production methods it is a look which can be retained in our ready made clothes.

Rich Detail.

So look for a cavalcade of everything feminine from bustle bows and side drapes to beau brummel revers tunics and tiers. There will be lots of sashes and buttons and long tight sleeves in dresses.

There will be sweeping fullness and monotone-with-pattern combinations, hoods and ruffled hemlines; fur used with a dressmaker's hand and the return of the wrap in coats.

There will be velvet bindings and tiny covered buttons and longer jackets over long slim skirts in suits.

Everything conspires toward a wonderful Fall of stimulating fashions and there isn't a woman who won't want to get out and buy everything new for this year having old clothes is truly having "not a thing to wear!"

Being Nursemaid To Gobblers Fun But All-Day Job

Victoria, Sept. 18—(CP)—Miss Phyllis Lee-Wright of Deep Cove, B.C., and Miss Hazel Heather of Toronto, former members of the C.W.A.C., are in the turkey business and play nursemaids to 1,500 squabbling birds.

Miss Lee-Wright, first C.W.A.C. recruit in Canada and Miss Heather are realizing their ambitions to do something different "and something out-of-doors."

Miss Lee-Wright rose to the rank of major and received an M.B.E. for outstanding work in organization, administration and training.

Capt. Hazel Heather specialized in personnel work and prior to demobilization was an army councillor.

"At the time, thoughts of being a turkey farmer were farthest from my mind," she said.

Among the last to be demobilized, the girls tried office work. "But the call of the out-of-doors was too strong for us."

"Turkey Sitter."

"Then Phyllis suggested I come to Victoria for a holiday," grinned Miss Heather. "When I arrived I found she had arranged an out-of-door job for me as turkey sitter.

"I began work the day I landed here, and it didn't take long for me to find out that the one thing a turkey sitter does not do is sit."

Phyllis joined her companion on the turkey farm and their enthusiasm for raising Christmas dinners on the hoof grew.

"Turkey-raising is like the army in one respect," said Phyllis. "You are on call 24 hours a day."

"It is not unusual that we have to rise in the wee sma' hours and run — pyjama-clad — out to the turkey barns to soothe our easily-excited charges. Turkeys are highly nervous and it needs only a sudden noise to get them panicky, especially if there's a full moon.

"Regardless of what the majority of people think, turkeys have a certain amount of character and personality. and there are certain outstanding birds in each pen that will come forward to greet us when we enter. Why, we even have names for some of them."

What Is Your Housing Problem?
By B. A. HUMPHRYS, B.Arch., M.R.A.I.C.

Rising costs, inefficient labour, scarcity of materials and outmoded house plans are but a few of the many hurdles confronting home-builders today. Modern living puts different demands on houses, as compared to those built in your grandfather's time, and costs limit size. Today's homes make up in convenience what they have lost in space. The cost of your house should not exceed three times your annual income. To estimate the approximate cost, determine the cubic content. Then check construction cost per cubic foot in your area. This enables you to choose a plan in your price range. Further information appears this week in The Standard under the above heading — the first of a series on housing problems, including questions and answers. The Standard is on sale now — 10 cents at all newsdealers.

MEDICAL EXPERTS FLY TO BERLIN TO FIGHT POLIO OUTBREAKS

Furs Seen All Lengths

Voluminous Coats Use Many Pelts

Fur designers, fashion authorities, and women who know how to dress attractively, seem to have reached a point of agreement on fur coat lengths: and that point is: between the knee and the longer skirt length.

It is true that some full length garments will be seen; as will abbreviated jackets: but the smartest of the newly made furs will be shorter than current hemlines, will flare-away gracefully from the shoulder blades downward and outward; will be flat and waistline-defined in the front; will have much collar, shoulder and sleeve detail — and will often be fitted with detachable hoods.

More and more is to be seen of flat and short haired furs. In fact, virtually all of the long haired furs have finally been shown; dyed and blended, so that they may rub elbows with mink and sable most acceptably, even if their forebears were wolves, fox and racoon!

Increasing numbers of coats are combining two furs, for collar and cuff treatments; for neckline and waistline draped bows in the more formal garments; or sometimes the second fur is introduced in buttons — or in an accompanying muff or hat. Most elegant is the coat of caracul or Persian, with a detachable stole of stone martin or mink. The stole serves as a second garment for year-round beauty.

Furriers feel it is important that whatever fur coat a woman has, be brought up to date in silhouette; and repairs done before worn spot or rip is too far gone. A fur coat is a major investment, and as such should be well maintained to give maximum value, service and enjoyment.

There're Fashion Riches In Handbags for Fall

Perhaps the handbag is a woman's outstanding complement to her dress, suit and coat — and what magnificent handbags there are for Fall! Ornate frames of metal, plastic, wood or shell; smooth surfaced calf, suede, broadcloth or satin; shining alligator, lizard or snake; and for evening, little gems beaded, embroidered and bejewelled.

There are capacious bags in shoulder and handle models for spectator, business and generally casual fashions. And sizes grow smaller as the styles with which they're to be worn grow more formal.

The box—whether it be rectangular or round, deep or shallow, to be slung over a shoulder or tucked under an arm — leads all other handbag silhouettes. But there is an ample variety of pouches, envelopes, drawstring and novelty shapes from which to choose.

"Decorating" Made Easy

Professional decorators furnish rooms entirely with individual pieces of furniture, and do not consider matched suites truly smart in decorative effect. The furniture shopper can well take a tip accordingly, keeping in mind that a few period designs can blend beautifully in one room; that many colors can be worked into one room's upholstery, wall surfaces, window and floor treatments and accessories; and that any melange will create a pleasing effect if each item in the room has been chosen for its own beauty, integrity of design, and suitability to the basic plan of the room in which it will "live."

The inexperienced home furnisher need not feel too much at sea and be afraid of a finished product which fails to be eye-appealing and in really good taste —if she lets herself be guided by the decorating counsel so many furniture stores offer their customers.

Duds to Fit Need of "Teener"

By FREDERICA FROHM
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, Sept. 18 —(CP)— Teen-aged girls, once the forgotten group in the fashion field, now have come into their own with clothes to fit their needs and suit their tastes.

Whereas Miss Teen-age formerly emulated her mother, style experts this year have warned the high school group to, "Find the skirt length that suits you best and stick to it."

Distinctively styled clothes for the "high" group includes new middy dresses with all-round pleated skirts and matching or contrasting long-torso blouses. Several are in plaid with white pique collars, while one features brown and yellow checked wool with a fly-front skirt.

Date dresses are demure, in fresh young colors. One Hollywood red basic dress comes with a jacket outlined in metallic thread. Another in brown crepe, features a moire apron and little girl apron.

A narrow black skirt with a pink and black satin top trimmed with a double row of buttons and black belt provides a sophisticated touch for "extra special" occasions.

Smart and Trim.

A grey suit with winged revers, silver buttons, straight skirt with centre pleat front and back, is smart and trim for the well-dressed young woman. Houndstooth check, a favorite in double-breasted suits with straight skirts is in classic cardigan style that comes with matching slacks. A few bolero suits are shown, usually with contrasting skirts.

Junior miss coats have wide swinging backs, narrow shoulders and hoods. This is adapted to the reversible type — one side plain, the other of plaid material.

For the college miss to wear in residence on cosy evenings there are glamorous housecoats of tailored variety and with dirndl waistlines. Emphasis is on hipline embroidery, white braid and sailor collar effects.

Raincoats no longer mean dirty trenchcoats. The new ones are neatly styled nylon, poplin or satin. One red and white checked nylon coat comes with detachable hood and matching shoulder-strap bag. A Dutch hood and self tabs at the waistline are features of a smart aqua poplin, while another is fitted, black with a plaid-lined hood and silver buttons.

Proms and high school dance will be graced with versions of a demure dress in aqua moire with a square neckline, short sleeves and sweeping skirt. A Kelly green taffeta dinner dress with long tight sleeves gives the illusion of a low batteau neckline, but actually has a sheer flesh yoke.

For the miss with more dramatic tastes, there is a black, Kelly and American Beauty taffeta dress with narrow straps that can also be worn strapless. The back has a cascading Lillian Russell bustle.

Mitts Take To Fabrics

"Fashion tips for warmer mitts" might be the theme song for Kayser's Fall fabric and wool gloves. For fashion has really entered this interesting accessory field.

Daytime mitts in 100% wool have deep cuffs to give extra warmth around the wrists, and are so designed that the effective ribbed patterns can be stretched to go over coat sleeves, leaving no chinks for wintry winds.

Other woolen styles in both mitts and gloves lend an alpine air to intricate knitted patterns in a gay medley of colors.

The perfect alliance of leather and fabric give unusual interest to several numbers. Gauntlets are shaped with inserts of soft leather . . . cuffs of leather give a neat finish to both single and double-woven coton fabric gloves.

Women Competent As Taxi Drivers

Vancouver, Sept. 18 —(CP)— Women are driving a dozen or so taxi-cabs in Vancouver and contend they have had fewer accidents than men drivers.

"We do not feel in the least out of place in this traditional male stronghold," said Alice Strandell, who has driven many thousands of miles. "Taxi-driving is really a woman's job."

"Sitting behind the wheel all day is an easy task, I think it is darn petty for a man to do it. . . ."

Robert Lucas, taxi manager, said he is sure that girl drivers are better than men. "Your cars don't get smashed around so much with women at the wheel. They don't take the chances that men do; they're more conscientious."

"Cab driving gets in your blood," said Carole Arnett, veteran of five years in the business. "Once I tried to leave the racket, but every time I saw a taxi going down the street I wished I was back — so I went back . . . We don't take drunks. There are too many nice people waiting for cabs to waste time on drunks."

COLLEGE JOE likes plaid jacket, wool bow tie and dark-toned flannel slacks with self-welt edged hat.

Opposes Trend To Long Skirts

By DENISE DALTROFF
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Sept. 18 —(CP)— Clive Duncan, a young dress designer who has made a name for himself since the war by his originality, defies the trend toward ankle-length skirts in his fall fashion collection.

His dresses are 14 inches from the ground and semi-evening dresses eight inches from the ground. He urged designers to steer clear of longer models.

Duncan makes the front of his dress bodices straight and they have no belts at the back but curved darts make the frocks fit tightly in the waist and round the hips.

One of his models has sleeves hooped over the shoulder after the Elizabethan style — a trend he predicts for the future.

Most of his suit jackets are without collars and revers and the skirts are slim fitting in front with inverted pleats at the back to give plenty of room for movement.

One costume he calls Grecian Eling. It is designed with a polished leather belt slung round the hips in the Grecian manner. The jacket edge is pleated below this sloping belt.

For evening wear his lines are very feminine with rounded hip pads and Victorian influence for the young.

One he showed is of black velvet with a straight, close fitting sleeky line all the way down until the skirt ends in a fishtail of tulle. The neckline is rounded with a slight cowl effect.

His topcoats feature side rather than centre buttoning and again bany are collarless with high buttoning.

IMMENSE FOREST

The Taiga of Siberia, one of the world's greatest forests, is 4,000 miles long and 1,000 to 2,000 miles wide.

Fine worsted fabrics are in great demand and color and design show little change over pre-war offerings, because men have swung back to a feeling of restrained good taste in their clothing wants. Men want color in their clothes but they want rigid lines drawn relating color to function. Color has almost no limit in the field of sports or leisure wear, yet color innovations in business or formal clothes must be unobtrusive and gradual.

Basic shades in men's clothing continue to be marine blues, blue-grays and soft browns. New colors are found in suits, coats and hats, however, and fashion authorities believe they will win immediate acceptance since they are subtly blended into favorite designs.

Additional comfort features are evident in almost every item a man may choose to wear. Soft-construction tailoring and improved "room-for-action" improvements show up in every clothing category.

Fabric Items.

To achieve a "new look," chalk, pin and shadow stripes, tiny checks and "quiet" plaids are handsomely blended in multi-color effects to change the face of the usual suitings and coatings.

In suits, smooth-surfaced, long-wearing worsteds are in widest demand and nailhead sharkskins or clear-finish wool clothes are the leaders. Other fabric preferences include gray flannel, unfinished worsteds in glen plaids and soft-toned shetlands. College men continue to prefer soft fabrics over the more "dressy," hard-finished materials. Single and double-breasted suits have equal emphasis; shoulders have a more natural look; extreme drape designs are rare.

Rich wool gabardines, coverts and tweeds lead the topcoat field. Style innovation in these is added fullness in the skirt to give a free-hanging, swagger effect. No. 1 style is single-breasted, with notched lapels and fly or button-through front. Leading colors are neutral tans, grays, browns and blues. Tones such as Dry Grass are important to young men, and they are still showing a strong preference for the natural tan polo coat.

Quiet Coats.

Coats of tweed or cotton gabardine with alpaca or plaid wool lining and a mouton collar are making new gains for football and winter sports spectators use.

Prominent fashion scouts predict that best-dressed men will show a preference for solid-toned or restrained-pattern overcoats— in hardy meltons, luxurious fleeces or camel's hair. Both single and double-breasted models will be popular.

Sam! Long, Short? That's Pant Point

Halifax, Sept. 18 —(CP)— Halifax women shuddered when informed of the new fashion note decreeing shorter trousers for men.

"My husband won't wear them that way," said a wife with conviction — and authority.

The men, too, didn't like the idea.

"Long pants for me," said an accountant.

But it took an army officer to sum the whole thing up in practical terms:

"Short or long, the basic purpose for which pants are worn remains the same."

And that's the long and short of it.

Adding a handful of gold dust to evening wear for the new season is this very handsome soft doeskin glove in deep black decorated in gold kid. SAY WOMAN PATIENT GOUGED OUT OTHER'S EYES

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 18— (AP) — District Attorney Vincent Grady of Dutchess county said a 20-year-old woman patient at the Hudson River State Hospital for the Insane here attacked anotaher1 another woman patient in a ward yesterday and gouged out her eyes.

Grady identified the woman who made the attack as Miss Frances Ellis, 20, of White Plains, N.Y.

The victim, Anna Benton, 56, of Hudson Falls, N. Y., was taken to the hospital infirmary in a serious condition.

Miss Ellis apparently attacked the woman with her hands, Grady added.

Baron and Beauty Renew Diplomatic Love, Remarry

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

London, Sept. 18 —(AP)—The recent remarriage of the Inverchapels—the sexagenarian Scottish baron who is Britain's ambassador to Washington and Chilean beauty 29 years his junior—renewed a brilliant international marriage after 30 months of divorce.

Only two persons — the required witnesses — were present at the simple ceremony in a registrar's office in Edinburgh, facilitated by the granting of a special licence given only in cases of emergency. There was need of haste. Because of Britain's economic crisis the ambassador had to shorten his vacation and return to Washington.

Senorita Maria Teresa Diaz Salas, daughter of a rich Chilean, was only 18 when the then untitled Archibald Clark Kerr, British minister to Chile, married her in 1929 at Santiago. It was a lavish, brilliant wedding, with General Ibanez, president of the republic, serving as best man, and 1,000 guests attending.

It was exhilarating and colorful, but when the excitement died down the unsentimental inevitably asked how long a couple so far apart in age could remain compatible.

Others, however, emphasized that Clark Kerr (pronounced Carr and free from the hyphen he dislikes as pretentious) was a youthful 47, with an extraordinarily broad range of interests, plenty of interests, plenty of adaptability and charming ways. The bride, although still in her teens, was, in popular esteem, sensible but adventurous, as suited the wife of a trouble-shooting diplomat, poised and practical, and capable of making adjustments, too.

When Clark Kerr moved on to other posts, advancing a reputation for handling important diplomatic missions, she became equally a favorite in such disparate countries as Sweden and China.

It was in this period that Clark Kerr confided: "I have only one hobby—my wife."

When Sir Archibald's career took him to warring China, she shared the hardships and hazards of life there, setting an example of high-spirited morale. She accompanied her husband on a perilous trip of considerably more than 4,000 miles from the coast to Chungking and back. The Chinese, who called her the "Pocket Venus," applauded this display of spunk and devotion.

Eventually, however, what many accepted as an exemplary relationship deteriorated and in February, 1945, broke up in the Edinburgh divorce court, Sir Archibald winning an uncontested decree on the grounds of desertion. A lone witness, friend of the plaintiff, testified that Sir Archibald, who had become ambassador to Moscow, had "made every endeavor to get his wife to live with him" since their separation early in 1941. Lady Clark Kerr meanwhile had established a home in New York City.

With the barriers of war and vast distances removed, and a host of memories inviting a second chance, it probably was altogether natural that the two should seek each other out again, the charm and culture and wit of the Scot reasserting themselves, and the Latin responding graciously, dissolving the years of estrangement.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMESON

Face The Summer Good-Looks Situation

It is a long, long road for the beauty quester. She has to keep right on marching. No season brings release from the job of hanging onto what pulchritude blessings one has. One must keep skipping ahead of the old guy with the scythe and the long, white whiskers.

Apply cream lavishly every night of your life. If you can sneak time off for a facial now and then, it will prove a grand help, not only for complexion preservation, but also for release from nervous tension. For one sweet hour you can relax your mind and your muscles, not care a whoop whether school keeps or not. The beauty shop is a wonderful haven for work-buffeted souls, be they bosses of the domestic works or girls who fare forth to jobs and lug home the weekly pay check.

If you have gone in for gardening in a big messy way let us hope you have purchased garden gloves, so that your poor hands won't look as if you have been heaving coal. If you let them get grimy day after day and let your fingernails come in contact with dirt, you won't get them back in form before the snow flies. Protection is the thing.

What about your hair? Perhaps you have already had your locks cropped and permanently waved. And don't scoff about that word permanent, either. If you didn't have to have the curly ends trimmed away, the undulation would stay with you until your hair grew out to pigtail lengths.

The short cut is swung slightly forward this season. Bangs, if you like, or just a flopped down tabloid pomp. This mode re-

DON'T BE HALF-SAFE!

Are you only half-safe? Does YOUR deodorant really kill odor instantly, safely, surely—stop perspiration? Or are you gambling with your popularity?

Are your clothes only half-safe? Some deodorants rot fabrics, others do not stop the perspiration which stains clothes. Do you risk spoiling a favorite dress?

ALMOST A UNIFORM — but no one will mind because it is so pretty—is what store buyers say about a popular number ready for Fall. It is an ankle-length dance dress of black rayon velvet, with deep, strapless bodice. Skirt, has softly rounded hiplines. Nice for the young and slim!

The classics take on new interest in furs, after a dose of novelties. Argentine nutria is used for a handsome travel coat, cut so that it fits over any suit. It has a long tie belt of the fur, deep armholes and wide revers—an ideal coat for general wear.

Later on it will be the comfy, warm housecoat once more. Ready for the cozy season is a coachman's coat robe of navy flannel with high, double-breasted closing. Coat features quilted chartreuse satin cuffs and rounded collar that sweeps almost to the shoulder line. Skirt is very full.

Plenty of learning for the mouton coat, for buyers say that it is the campus pet. Safari-brown mouton lamb is nicely handled in a 38-inch-long, double-breasted reefer with full, loose back. Notched collar is of leppard that is rimmed and backed with the mouton. Tailored sleeves have big turn-back cuffs. Big pouch pockets.

Between season hats are important this year, what with silk suits and satin frocks seen on cooler late Summer days and nights. Black satin makes a back-tilted little sailor with softly rounded crown coiled in black velvet, the coiling extending to the brim where it finishes the edge. Soft lacy mesh veiling and upstanding centre feather fancy of burnt peacock make it an occasion hat.

Very new is costume jewelry that combines semi-precious stones and rhinestones. A charming pin has a pearl shaped

Fine worsted fabrics are in great demand and color and design show little change over pre-war. offerings, because men have swung back to a feeling of restrained good taste in their clothing wants. Men want color in their clothes but they want rigid lines drawn relating color to function. Color has almost no limit in the field of sports or leisure wear, yet color innovations in business or formal clothes must be unobtrusive and gradual.

Basic shades in men's clothing continue to be marine blues, blue-grays and soft browns. New colors are found in suits, coats and hats, however, and fashion authorities believe they will win immediate acceptance since they are subtly blended into favorite designs.

Additional comfort features are evident in almost every item a man may choose to wear. Soft-construction tailoring and improved "room-for-action" improvements show up in every clothing category.

Fabric Items.

To achieve a "new look," chalk, pin and shadow stripes, tiny checks and "quiet" plaids are handsomely blended in multi-color effects to change the face of the usual suitings and coatings.

In suits, smooth-surfaced, long-wearing worsteds are in widest demand and nailhead sharkskins or clear-finish wool clothes are the leaders. Other fabric preferences include gray flannel, unfinished worsteds in glen plaids and soft-toned shetlands. College men continue to prefer soft fabrics over the more "dressy," hard-finished materials. Single and double-breasted suits have equal emphasis; shoulders have a more natural look; extreme drape designs are rare.

Rich wool gabardines, coverts and tweeds lead the topcoat field. Style innovation in these is added fullness in the skirt to give a free-hanging, swagger effect. No. 1 style is single-breasted, with notched lapels and fly or button-through front. Leading colors are neutral tans, grays, browns and blues. Tones such as Dry Grass are important to young men, and they are still showing a strong preference for the natural tan polo coat.

Quiet Coats.

Coats of tweed or cotton gabardine with alpaca or plaid wool lining and a mouton collar are making new gains for football and winter sports spectators use.

Prominent fashion scouts predict that best-dressed men will show a preference for solid-toned or restrained-pattern overcoats—in hardy meltons, luxurious fleeces or camel's hair. Both single and double-breasted models will be popular.

Sam! Long, Short? That's Pant Point

Halifax, Sept. 18 —(CP)—Halifax women shuddered when informed of the new fashion note decreeing shorter trousers for men.

"My husband won't wear them that way," said a wife with conviction — and authority.

The men, too, didn't like the idea.

"Long pants for me," said an accountant.

But it took an army officer to sum the whole thing up in practical terms:

"Short or long, the basic purpose for which pants are worn remains the same."

And that's the long and short of it.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

It is rude, inconsiderate, to ignore a proffered hand

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Last evening my sister and I went to a party at the home of a mutual friends of ours. Shortly after we arrived I was intoduced to a very good-looking and attractive boy, and as he was acknowledging the introduction he held out his hand to shake hands with me. I never shake hands when I am introduced to a boy or man, and so I didn't extend my hand. He immediately put down his hand, and in a moment or two he joined another group. I didn't have a chance to talk with him again; he didn't even come to say "good-night" to me. My sister saw what had happened, and she said he gave me the brush-off because of my rudeness to him about not shaking hands. Is she right? I had always thought that it is the girl's privilege to choose whether or not she wished to shake hands when she is introduced to a man.

Iris

Yes, your sister is completely right about your rudeness . . . and right too, I imagine, about why you got the brush-off from this attractive boy. You encountered the one fundamental exception to the offering-to-shake-hands rule, and didn't use your head in meeting it with naturalness and grace. It is true (1) as you said, that it is the woman's privilege to decide whether she wishes to shake hands with a man who is being introduced to her, and (2) that the man is not supposed to extend his hand until she offers to shake hands. However, if a man who is instinctively cordial spontaneously puts out his hand, a lady of course must accept it. Think a little about this natural response and you will understand, I am sure, that you were rude and inconsiderate to ignore this young man's proffered hand. . . and obviously you hurt and embarrassed him so deeply that he gave you the brush-off so that you wouldn't have another chance to humiliate him. Profit by this lesson, my dear girl. . . and don't ever let a general rule take precedence over kindliness and consideration for the other person.

(By the way, here's another lesson. . . .a man is introduced to a woman. So your "I was introduced to a boy" is incorrect.)

Suggestions for the Bride's Going-Away Corsage

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When my fiance and I talked with my florist about the corsage my fiance is to send me to wear with my going-away costume, he (the florist) suggested a corsage made of white flowers, perhaps gardenias, tied with bright silver or gold ribbon. I knew exactly what I wanted for my bridal bouquet, but I've never really thought about what I would like for my going-away corsage. What do you think of his suggestion? (I am going to wear a dark green traveling suit.)

Dorothy R.

I'm not at all enthusiastic about your florist's suggestion. To begin with, white flowers may not complement your green suit, probably won't offer an interesting or distinguished contrast. A spray of brown and green orchids would be charming with your dark green suit, or, inexpensively, for an Autumn wedding, a corsage of small brown chrysanthemums tied with a narrow green ribbon of the same shade as your suit, or a corsage of yellow rosebuds, perhaps Talisman roses. Tying the corsage with shiny silver or gold ribbon lacks distinction. . . have your florist tie your corsage with narrow ribbon that matches either the flowers or the foliage or the suit you are to wear. The idea is to have the flowers, not the ribbons, "possess" the corsage.

Ottawa Woman Amazed at Spirit Shown in War-Ravaged Countries

Ottawa, Sept. 18 — (CP)—Two months of travelling through the war-torn areas of Poland and Czechoslovakia have left Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova, Ottawa social worker, amazed at the great spirit with which the Poles and Czechs are rebuilding their cities—despite wretched conditions under which they still are living.

In letters to the headquarters of the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada, Dr. Hitschmanova, the committee's executive director, gives detailed accounts of her trip.

On her arrival at Prague, her birthplace, relatives were waiting to greet her with flowers and Czech cookies — but this didn't mean Czechoslovakia's food situation had improved. " . . . there is no flour at all and you see queues everywhere."

No "iron curtain" existed for Dr. Hitschmanova in her trips throughout Poland.

"We travel as freely here in Poland as in Canada," she wrote. ". . . nor have I ever been asked for my identification papers."

Widespread Destruction.

"What strikes me so much and so deeply in Poland is the wonderful spirit of the people," she continued. "It is more astounding than in Czechoslovakia, because Poles have to cope with much greater material difficulties. There is not one family in this country which hasn't lost at least one member through German brutality."

Warsaw she found 90 per cent destroyed and with many of its residents living in the only room of the house left standing.

"Young, enthusiastic, devoted people are at the head of many responsible offices and they work very hard," she said.

In Piekary, Silesia, Dr. Hitschmanova visited the 350-bed Unitarian Service Committee hospital.

"Since it is situated in the coal mining district of Poland, and coal is the most decisive item for export to procure foreign currency, we are really caring for a vital part of the Polish population," she said. The hospital, which has not yet been opened, will be the first hospital in Poland, where American and Canadian doctors, as well as nurses, will teach and work.

Creations of Famous Parisian Stylists on Display in N.Y.

(New York Times)

Forty French originals now at Henri Bendel feature such highlights as shoulders fashioned without padding, gracefully full skirts or slim versions with peg-like fullness at the hips. A new silhouette from Balenciaga shethes the figure to below the hips and then flares out in a flounce. Other models are from Dior, Molyneux, Balenciaga, Lelong, Costet and Lanvin.

The Balenciaga silhouette was introduced in two models, one all of black crepe, the other of black crepe with a deep taffeta flounce.

From Dior came a two-piece Navy satin dinner suit whose high-waisted skirt tied in two bows at the back — one at the waist, the other below the hips. Its hemline descended from ballerina-length to floor-touching handkerchief points on either side. Also from this designer was a street dress of black wool which buttoned from a prim small collar to the waist and had folds of peg-like fullness at its padded hips.

Slim and with fullness at the hips, too, was a black crepe dress from Lanvin whose high Empire waist draped into a bustle at the back, again affording a peg-like look to the skirt.

The suits offered interesting contrast. One, in oatmeal tweed from Balenciaga, had the longer jacket with the very softly rounded natural shoulder. A herringbone tweed from Dior had the narrow shoulder and a brief jacket whose skirt flared stiffly.

Coats with small waistlines and skirts that were not padded but worked in folds to give that effect were noted in several instances. A black wool from Balenciaga had a scalloped closing to the waist. Its three buttons were fashioned in a triangle pattern.

Particularly handsome were the evening fashions. A Lanvin model of mauve satin had a halter neck, a small shaped waist and a slim skirt that flared into a tremendous pouff at the back.

Striking in color was a handsome gown from Dior that was completely pleated and composed of a layer of black chiffon over a layer of cocoa chiffon. Beneath this was worn a slip of bronze moire.

French originals by Molyneux, Dior, Balenciaga, Lelong, Albouy and others, imported for reproduction here, were presented at Bergdorf Goodman.

A Dior creation was a black suit with a wide gray squirrel stole that emerged from the closing of the jacket, wrapped about model's shoulders, looped over her arm and terminated in a large flat muff. Decollete was a sheer black wool with deep folds, which were molded about the shoulders and draped over the bust in a pointed neckline.

A dinner gown from Gres had a black velvet bodice with deeply scooped neckline and a flowing skirt of pleated chiffon, artfully caught in a low drape across the back. From Gres, too, came a black moire cocktail dress with an interesting flange treatment that was worked from the shoulders into the waist, effecting a portrait-like frame.

Sweeping back-movement distinguished black taffeta by Lelong, the skirt worked into back fullness. The bodice was banded with black velvet in a weskit effect.

Heavy satin was used in a Balenciaga model, its skirt of pale pink bordered at the hem with black velvet. Topping the midriff of black velvet and strapless decolletage of black lace was a brief ruffled cape of black lace. This was varied with a small bolero of black velvet with wide flanges worked into flaring cap sleeves.

The trend in millinery was toward the small hat, with emphasis on those that were shaped to one side of the head. A red velvet beret from Albouy hugged one side of the head and had a veiling of coarse black mesh covering the forehead. Another from this designer was a small biretta of black plush with a tall feather that shot up the front.

Worn with one of his dinner gowns was a small black velvet pillbox from Dior that clung to one side of the head and was feather trimmed. Also worn to one side was his shaped taupe felt with a draped crown.

Men Seek Comfort, Quality

There's A Trend To Conservatism In Fine Clothes

American men have become increasingly insistent this year on quality and conservatism in their clothing. And this tendency has had the strongest influence on Fall and Winter fashions.

Fine worsted fabrics are in great demand and color and design show little change over pre-war offerings, because men have swung back to a feeling of restrained good taste in their clothing wants. Men want color in their clothes but they want rigid lines drawn relating color to function. Color has almost no limit in the field of sports or leisure wear, yet color innovations in business or formal clothes must be unobtrusive and gradual.

Basic shades in men's clothing continue to be marine blues, blue-grays and soft browns. New colors are found in suits, coats and hats, however, and fashion authorities believe they will win immediate acceptance since they are subtly blended into favorite designs.

Additional comfort features are evident in almost every item a man may choose to wear. Soft-construction tailoring and improved "room-for-action" improvements show up in every clothing category.

Fabric Items.

To achieve a "new look," chalk, pin and shadow stripes, tiny checks and "quiet" plaids are handsomely blended in multi-color effects to change the face of the usual suitings and coatings.

In suits, smooth-surfaced, long-wearing worsteds are in widest demand and nailhead sharkskins or clear-finish wool clothes are the leaders. Other fabric preferences include gray flannel, unfinished worsteds in glen plaids and soft-toned shetlands. College men continue to prefer soft fabrics over the more "dressy," hard-finished materials. Single and double-breasted suits have equal emphasis; shoulders have a more natural look; extreme drape designs are rare.

Tones such as Dry Grass are important to young men, and they are still showing a strong preference for the natural tan polo coat.

Coats of tweed or cotton gabardine with alpaca or plaid wool lining and a mouton collar are making new gains for football and winter sports spectators use.

Prominent fashion scouts predict that best-dressed men will show a preference for solid-toned or restrained-pattern overcoats—in hardy meltons, luxurious fleeces or camel's hair. Both single and double-breasted models will be popular.

Shoes Get A Lift

Women whose feet march in Fashion's vanguard are showing a preference for traditional soles and heels this fall. But they are also showing a growing inclination to cover the instep and in some case even the ankle! It's the boot influence back again — and provocative it is, with the longer skirts.

With the boot's revival will return the combining of calf or patent leather with suede or fabric.

Girdles Go Dainty

A patented detachable crotch piece to be worn inside the girdle-panty is featured by Guild Foundations. This feature, known as the "phantom crotch," consists of a diamond shaped piece of fabric with a small snap at each corner. Because it is worn inside the elastic panty, it does not cause ridges or bulges.

Guild's newest figure streamliner featuring the "phantom crotch" is an all nylon panty weighing just 5 ounces.

THE classic draperies of Greece have been borrowed and fastened into modern fashion for this medium light gray crepe frock, intended for the less formal evenings where a long dress is still preferred. Your beau could wear his dark sack suit when you wear this frock, and probably thank you for the sartorial break.

Easy to wear a bra with this model, and you'll find the high, draped waistband a measurement minimizer. There is a centre slit at the front hem of the narrow skirt, an ease for dancing.

CHAPEL RECALLS UPPER CANADA'S EARLY PIONEERS

Little Methodist Church Near Picton, Ont., Was Built in 1792 by United Empire Loyalists

Picton, Ont., Sept. 18 —(CP)— Weatherbeaten and sheltered by haw trees, a small 18th century Methodist chapel overlooking the waters of nearby Hay Bay, is being cherished as a shrine to the founding of Methodism in Ontario.

It was built by United Empire Loyalists in 1792 after they sought refuge in Upper Canada from the American Revolution, and it served the growing community until 1860. At that time it was abandoned to use as a horse barn and storage place for barley en route to Oswego breweries and was reconsecrated as a church only in 1911.

Last month the little building, which seats about 250, was the centre of an Eastern Ontario pilgrimage which the board of trustees plans as an annual event.

Rev. Whattam of Toronto, secretary-treasurer of the board of trustees and grandson of one of the church's builders described the church as "just the same as when it was built.

"It's never been painted but some years ago the old clapboards were removed, new ones put on and the old ones replaced on top to preserve the original appearance while strengthening the fabric."

Rev. Dr. Jesse H. Arnup, former moderator of the United Church of Canada and principal speaker at the pilgrimage service, said that the shrine fund stood at more than $2,000.

"The proposal is to build a cottage on the large church grounds and have a superannuated minister live there to show people around," he said.

Near MacDonald Home.

Over the fence on the west side of the churchyard is a grass-covered hole in the ground which was once the cellar of Sir John A. Macdonald's boyhood home. The Hay Bay pilgrims visited the cairn of cemented fieldstone which commemorates the connection with Canada's first prime minister.

It is unlikely little John A. ever attended the famous church beside his home. He was only 10 when his family moved five miles southwest to the Stone Mills of Glenora and besides he was a Presbyterian.

Others moved away from the community and the noisy shipyard from which schooners went to South America was closed down. The shrine fund has received contributions from descendants of these original settlers from many parts of the continent.

The latest contribution came from "Another Sinner," Dr. Arnup said, and read part of the accompanying letter:

"In the hope that their appreciation, in one way or another, may lead to the permanent preservation of Hay Bay chapel as the great national memorial that it is, I am sending you a small cheque between two pieces of a panel of the church door which a boy kicked in when he was smashing 54 panes of the glass and doing other damage.

"The proper application of these items may be (a) to the door; (b) to the place nature provided in the boy for such a purpose; (c) to making a man of him.

"I leave to you to find the more excellent way."

SOCIAL SECURITY COSTLY FOR N.Z.

Pay Out $128,000,000 This Year to 1,750,000 Citizens

By J. C. GRAHAM
(Canadian Press Correspondent)

Wellington, N.Z., Sept. 18 — (CP)— New Zealand's social security structure, which the government claims to be the most complete in the world, will pay out about $128,000,000 to the Dominion's 1,750,000 people in the coming year, according to estimates made in the budget by Finance Minister Walter Nash.

Nearly half this amount will be paid in old age, invalidity, widows, unemployment and other benefits which have been raised by 80 cents a week in most cases this year to meet the increased cost of living. These payments are termed "benefits" and not "pensions" because, as the sceme is contributory, they are regarded as rights and not charities.

Chief of the benefits is the age benefit of $7.20 a week to all over 60 possessed of limited means. Eventually this sum will be paid to everyone at 65 irrespective of means but while the fund is building up the rate of this universal benefit at 65, is lower with a gradual annual increase. As there is practically no unemployment at present, unemployment benefit payments are negligible.

One of the largest payments from the social security fund in the coming year will be the family benefit of $1.60 for every child under 16 paid to all parents irrespective of means. This benefit will absorb about $41,000,000 in the coming year. Another large item will be the medical benefits which pay a substantial proportion of doctors', maternity, hospital and druggists' costs.

Finance for the social security program is raised by a tax of 7½ per cent on all incomes which is levied in addition to income tax. In the case of salaries the tax is deducted by employers before payment to wage-earners. Companies, persons owning their own businesses, professional men and people with private incomes pay the tax in a lump sum on their total income.

This tax is not sufficient, however, to pay the whole cost of the scheme, and in the coming year a supplementary amount of $51,200,000 will be required from general taxation to meet the full costs.

Pre-Natal Wound No Bar to Health

Sydney, Australia, Sept. 18 — (Reuters)—A baby, born two months prematurely with a bullet wound in her thigh has developed into a healthy youngster of nine months. The wound was inflicted five days before birth when the mother was accidentally shot while rabbit hunting.

The case was reported in the Medical Journal of Australia. A doctor, who drove 20 miles to operate on the mother after the accident, stayed to attend the birth which was "uneventful."

No ill effects have been felt either by mother or the child, whose names were not revealed.

Jamaica Encourages Pineapple Industry

Kingston, Jamaica, Sept. 18 — (CP)— The Jamaica Agricultural Society, on the recommendation of Hon. Donald Sturdy, director of agriculture, has decided to encourage pineapple growing in certain areas of Jamaica.

Mr. Sturdy told the society, however, that he did not suggest the large-scale development of pineapples by small growers. Returns would not be enough for them, he said. But he thought there was a good opportunity for small growers who wished to cultivate small plots for sale to local markets.

Two Seriously Burned in Blast In Garage

London, Ont., Sept. 18 — (CP) — Two men were burned seriously in an explosion and fire in the Middlesex County garage at the rear of the county buildings in midtown London early Wednesday. An investigation is under way to determine the exact cause of the blast.

Most seriously injured is Gordon Tuffin, 45-year-old county employee with second degree burns on his face and arms. Scott Robinson, 31-year-old employee has less serious burns on his face, right arm and right leg. Both men were admitted to hospital where their condition is described as "satisfactory."

The men were burned when they were sprayed by flaming liquid thrown through the air when a can of inflammable liquid blew up when heated by an acetylene torch with which the men were working. Officials said they did not know immediately what was in the can.

Prompt action by two other county employees, George Redman, road foreman, and Gordon Ireland, saved the men from more serious burns when they ripped the clothing off Tuffin and Robinson and rolled them in the dirt to douse the flames.

The two employees were alone in the garage at the time of the blast.

TANKS NOT SATISFACTORY

Toronto, Sept. 18 — (CP) — Construction of 1,500 houses in the Bathurst-St. Lawrence Avenue area of North Toronto will be abandoned unless a link with Toronto's sewage system can be arranged, a representative of the Builders' Syndicate (Investors Syndicate of Canada) putting up the houses said last night. Septic tanks are not satisfactory in the area's clay soil, he said.

LaGuardia's Condition Reported Critical

Fiorella LaGuardia, former mayor of New York, whose condition is reported to be critical by his physician. Mr. LaGuardia underwent an operation for chronic pancreatic last June 18, but his convalescence at home in New York has been slow.

Known to most New Yorkers as "the Little Flower" or "The Hat"—because of the distinctive headgear he affected — Fiorello LaGuardia is shown above in one of his typical poses.

REMAINS UNCONSCIOUS

New York, Sept. 18 (AP) — Fiorello H. La Guardia remained unconscious and gravely ill at his home today and Mayor William O'Dwyer has asked New York City to pray for the little man who was its Mayor for 12 years.

The 64-year-old La Guardia, still weak from an operation performed June 18, collapsed Tuesday night. Last night his physician, Dr. George Baeher, reported his condition "slightly worse."

Mayor O'Dwyer, during a Constitution Day address yesterday said his predecessor "needs your prayers. For all the sacrifices he made in his life I could ask no more, I could ask no less. Do pray."

Howe's Statement Pounced on By Three Leaders

Ottawa, Sept. 18 — (CP)—Reports that Reconstruction Minister Howe had criticized the British government for putting socialism ahead of the problems at hand were pounced on yesterday by three persons — John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, M. J. Coldwell, C. C. F. leader, and Mr. Howe himself.

The reports were of a speech the minister made in Toronto to the Liberal Business Men's Club there Tuesday.

Mr. Howe, in his statement yesterday, took exception to reports of his remarks and said "a different meaning has been attached to my remarks than was warranted by what I actually said.

"I had no intention," he added, "of criticizing the British government. But I did intend to say that there were dangers in regard to nationalization as a solution of existing problems."

The reports of the Toronto speech, concerning which Mr. Bracken said the "first business of Canada's public men is to look after the affairs of Canada," and Mr. Coldwell described as a "perversion of the facts," contained this paragraph:—

"It's not so much the British government's moves toward socialism that shock us but the fact that the government of the day, facing serious internal problems and with dollar bankruptcy staring it in the face — that despite all these things, the Labor government has thought it necessary to carry out their ideology instead of meeting the problems at hand."

Mr. Bracken, who said he had "no intention of either criticizing or praising the British government in its present emergency," charged the government with being more concerned with the affairs of other countries than those of Canada.

Mr. Coldwell, referring to the reported statement on the dollar crisis said the statement was "neither constructive nor responsible," and added:—

"He ignores the fact that we in Canada are faced with a dollar bankruptcy. The government of which he is a member has no policy to meet the impending crisis."

FISHING STILL GOOD

Chatham, Sept. 18 — (CP) — Fishing is still good in this area. Game Warden Arthur Roberts reports an exceptionally heavy run of pickerel near the mouth of the Thames River.

PICKED UP DUD

Toronto, Sept. 18 — (CP) — Lorne Little, 14, carelessly juggled a large piece of metal when he walked into a roadside refreshment stand at suburban Long Branch and asked one of the patrons to identify it. The man recognized it at once as a mortar shell, later found to be a dud, which the boy had picked up near a former army camp.

FOURTEEN-YEAR-OLD IN KIDNAP-MURDER

It was a desire to prove that he wasn't "sissy" that inspired Fred Walter Smigelski, above, to kidnap and slay 11-year-old John Preston, Jr., according to police, who said they had Smigelski's confession. Copy of a ransom note, demanding $1,000 from young Preston's parents, was found by Smigeiski's parents in the pocket of an unused suit. They confronted boy with it and then took him to the Federal Bureau of Investigation offices in Newark, N.J., where the boy broke down and led the officers to where he had hidden the body of the Preston boy.

Kidnapped while he was on his way to a Kearny, N.J., playground, Jackie Preston, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Preston, who was kidnapped and slain. Police are holding Fred Walter Smigelski, 14.

Five Policemen In Havana Charged With Homicide

Havana, Cuba, Sept. 18—(AP) — The Army Press Bureau announced Wednesday that five policemen have been charged with homicide as the result of a two-hour gun battle Monday in which five persons were killed and 14 wounded.

Those charged, the Bureau said, included Police Maj. Mario Salabarria, chief of the Cuban Enemy Activities Bureau, and four other policemen under his command.

The shooting broke out when Salabarria tried to arrest police Maj. Emilio Tro at the home of Maj. Antonio Marin Dopico on suspicion of having been involved in the recent slaying of a captain.

Woman Enjoys Many Privileges In The Palace

Vatican City, Sept. 18 (Reuters) —One woman enjoys the privilege of living in the Apostolic Palace, the home of the Pope in Vatican City.

She is 60-year-old Sister Pasqualina, a nun of German origin belonging to the Franciscan Order, who has been a servant to the Pope for many years.

The Pope, then Msgr. Eugenio Pacelli, first came under her care when he used to spend his brief summer holidays at the Abbey of Rinsielden in Switzerland. There sister Pasqualina became his wardrobe keeper and also prepared his meals.

No one was surprised when Msgr. Pacelli asked that Sister Pasqualina be allowed to accompany him to Germany when he was appointed Papal Nuncio in Berlin. Neither did anyone marvel when he was elected Pope, the devoted Sister was installed in the Vatican as a member of the Pope's staff of personal servants.

Sister Pasqualina personally chooses the food for the Pope's table. Many times she has had to remind the Holy Father that the hour set for lunch is already well passed or that it is the hour at which he takes his daily walk in Vatican Gardens.

PIGEONS CAUSE ALARM

Kingston, Sept. 18 — (CP) — Every piece of fire department equipment raced to Grant Hall at Queen's University where staff members had seen what they thought were periodic puffs of smoke emerging from the tower. Firemen found the "smoke" was merely dust stirred up by the Hall's large flock of wild pigeons.

HAS "LIFE" SERUM

Dr. Harry Goldblatt, above is reported to be giving "longevity" serum injections regularly to 5,000 Californians, in Los Angeles. The drug, discovered by the late Dr. Alexander Bogolometz, of Russia, who has claimed it may prolong life and make centenarians common, is known as ACS or Anti Reticular Cytotoxi.

1,700 Flee Fire In Basement Near Oil Tanks

Ottawa, Sept. 18 — (CP) — More than 1,700 civil servants were forced to flee from the Daly Building and annex Wednesday when fire broke out in the basement near two tanks containing 6,000 gallons of fuel oil and medical stores, including alcohol and ether.

The building is located in central Ottawa, across the street from the Chauteau Laurier Hotel.

Firemen had difficulty trying to find the heart of the blaze in the medical supply storeroom of the Veterans Affairs Department. Their search was hampered by many boxes of medical materials and by dense smoke.

No estimate was available of the damage.

Grants Allocated According To School Enrolment

Ottawa, Sept. 18 (CP) — A total of $50,000 voted by parliament at the last session to assist seven schools of social work in Canada has been allocated on a basis of enrolment, Health Minister Martin announced today.

Each of the seven schools will receive $1,100, with the remainder being divided on the basis of each school's 1946-47 enrolment.

On this basis, the Maritime School of Social Work at Halifax will receive $3,250 and the schools of social work at Laval University, Quebec, $6,560; University of Montreal, $6,670; McGill University, $7,300; University of Toronto, $13,230; University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, $4,430, and the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, $9,560.

Part of the money will be used for scholarships and the remainder for hiring additional professors, special lecturers, teaching assistants, field supervisors, librarians and other necessary personnel and the purchase of books and teaching materials.

The $50,000 grant, Mr. Martin said, is to assist in meeting the shortage of qualified social workers needed to carry out the obligations of private agencies and governments in administering modern welfare services, including family allowances.

"Adequately trained social workers are one of the best means of protecting our investment of social welfare funds," he said.

QUITS TAILORING GAME

Niagara Falls, Sept. 18—(CP) — Henry Krahling, 78, who says he probably has cut more suits on his work tables than any other merchant tailor in Canada, has quit the game after 62 years. He handed over the keys of his business yesterday to William Morosi, a former employee just back from Czechoslovakia.

Slaughter Permits Will be Issued Farmers, Retailers

Ottawa, Sept. 18 (CP)— A new prices board order will permit regional offices of the board to issue meat slaughter permits to farmers or retailers, it was learned last night.

Board officials explained that the move is not expected greatly to help the meat shortage building up through the packing plant strikes, but it is designed mainly to take care of cases where cattle or hogs would deteriorate in value if unslaughtered.

Under present board regulations, no one is permitted to slaughter without a permit, and previously only a few farmers and butchers held permits.

The move, while not expected to help the general mat shortage, may make things easier in small villages and rural areas.

SUITED FOR AUTUMN

By ALICE ALDEN

THE NEW LOOK, so much discussed and so long arriving, is here. Like every other major change in fashion it is highly acceptable when it is well handled, but not over-emphasized. Very much of the new mode and very wearable is this new Molly suit fashioned of fine gabardine in emerald green. Rounded, deeper lapels, a waistline moulded by multiple gores, a graceful skirt that is subtly longer, tell the new fashion story. Pottery buttons fasten the deep pockets. This is a wonderful choice for general wear.

Praise Virtues Of Lowly Snail

Newbury, Berkshire, England, Sept. 18 —(CP)— The British Snail-Watching Society, whose objects were "To bring to the notice of the whole world the virtues of the snail: unhurried persistence and sturdy independence," has been disbanded.

Peter Henniker Heaton, founder and secretary of the society handed back the "chain of office" —snail shells — at the last meeting held by the society. He said the organization had achieved all its objectives.

Stung by Nettles? Here's Reason Why

Oxford, England, Sept. 18 —(CP)— A combination of active substances in the hairs of nettles calses the burning sting, delegates to the International Congress of Physiologists were told.

A paper read to the Congress said the hairs contained at least three active substances, including histamine and acetylcholine. The former produces an itching sensation and the latter, while causing no sensation by itself, produces a burning pain when combined with histamine.

Prairie Gopher's A "Gaufre" But Still Nuisance

Moosejaw, Sask., Sept. 18 —(CP)— Many an observer in these parts claims that the gopher cheerful, chirping little rodent which inhabits most of the Prairie region, is fading from the scene.

But others, long suffering under the annual inroads made on crops and gardens by the whistling beastie, hold that the gopher population is subject to cycles much as rabbits are.

However, while the little chap may come and go spasmodically, an interesting point is that he is not really a gopher. He's a gaufre. Seems the French termed him a gaufre after a few of their horses had their feet pop into gophers' burrows. Gaufre means honeycomb which is a pretty good description of what a piece of ground looks like after a gaufre has finished with it.

Gaufres run to various species —one being a puzzling creature down by the Mississippi which resembles a frustrated land tortoise and lives in a burrow.

The Prairies have three kinds of gaufres: the striped, the grey and the Richardson's. Most gaufres, however, like digging, eating seeds and annoying Prairie farmers.

For further identification of gaufres, it is interesting to note that the word also means a kind of cake or waffle — in French, that is.

Irishman's Grandson Is Priest of Islam

Port Elizabeth, South Africa, Sept. 18 —(CP)— The muezzin who calls the faithful to prayer from the tower of a mosque in Port Elizabeth is the rgandson of an Irishman. He is Imam Armien Nordien Connolly, the only man in the Union who knows the Arabic Koran by heart.

While building a mosque, Imam Connolly's grandfather fell in love with a Moslem girl and married her. Many of their descendants have been priests of Islam.

Imam Connolly believes that the modern Moslem woman and the high cost of living make monogamy an essential for Moslems, although the Koran allows them four wives.

"It is the typing of one man to one woman that makes the divorce rate so high," he said in an interview.

WILL SEEK ADVICE

Boston, Sept. 18 — (AP)—Advice of other directors of the Thoroughbred Racing Association will be sought by President James E. Dooley before any action is taken on plans to destroy 34 swamp fever-afflicted race horses at Rockingham Park.

Neither will any action be taken immediately by the Association on the plea of Lou Smith, executive director of the Salem, N. H., track for a plan to reimburse owners of horses already destroyed, animals now stricken with the disease and owners whose horses have been guaranteed. Twenty thoroughbreds have died.

Some 900 animals have been quarantined at Rockingham Park in Salem, N. H., where the 34 stricken horses are segregated in tents.

DON'T SHUN SOAP

There is no reason to shun the soap in a ppublic washroom for soap is effective against most disease germs. However, common towels should not be used since they can transmit disease, say health authorities.

DEBUTANTE EVENING

By PRUNELLA WOOD

THE season for 1948 debutantes is just ahead, and many of the girls are having pre-debut dates which lead up to the big event. For their great date we suggest a frock as pretty as this traditional white model, made of filmy net, yard after yard, and with its popular strapless bodice garlanded prettily with old-fashioned moss rosebuds. The gown is modelled by Miss Mary Muffet of St. Louis, herself a sub-deb. (Poor girl, the awful jokes she'll have to stand for, about sitting on a tuffet and along coming a spider!)

Completes Survey Of Arctic Plants

Montreal, Sept. 18 —(CP)— Vegetation flourishes and supports a considerable wealth of animal life far north of the Arctic Circle Dr. Nicholas Polunin, professor of botany at McGill University, said on his return from a summer expedition in the Arctic.

Operating from a base camp north of Great Bear Lake, Prof. Polunin made two trips to the Arctic coast, the first largely on foot and the second largely by air.

Besides making large collections of plants for the herbaries of the National Museum of Canada, the British Museum and Oxford, Harvard and McGill University museums, he carried out detailed surveys of the vegetation at points within and beyond the forest line.

New Yorkers May See Old-Time Music Hall

London, Sept. 18 —(CP)—New Yorkers may soon be watching on Broadway a real old-time English music hall, complete with chairman, urging them to join in the popular choruses of years ago.

An American syndicate has urged Lew Lake of Collins "Old Time" Music Hall, London, to take a team of veteran variety stars to New York. He has asked a number of veterans if they will make the trip.

"The average age would be 70," Lake said, "and the party could include George Robey, Alice Lloyd and Talbot O'Farrell."

Lake said he would accompany the party as music hall chairman and would direct the concerts from the velvet and gilt chair used by his grandfather, himself an old music hall chairman.

Alaska Highway Travel Growing

Dawson Creek, B.C., Sept. 18—(CP)— Despite restrictions on Alaska Highway travel the movement over the road is on the increase.

In four months 1,817 cars carrying 4,896 persons made the trip over the highway from Edmonton, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police announced.

It is estimated that 5,000 vehicles and 19,000 persons will travel northward during 1947, almost double the number which made the trip last year, which, in turn, was 30 per cent over 1945.

In August, 25 cars of United States tourists were turned back because they could not obtain travel permits. In July, 60 tourist cars were turned back.

Numerous big game hunters who have arranged for services of guides living along the road have been granted permits.

SATIN IS a shining success for afternoon and informal evening costumes as well as for evening dresses. The best designers handle this shimmering fabric with restraint, as can be seen from a glance at this black satin cocktail costume designed by Vera Jacobs. American, Beer Undersea Treasure

By LESLIE BRODIE
(CP Correspondent)

Darwin, Australia, (CP)—Native members of the crew of a pearling lugger have just solved a mystery that has both intrigued and angered Darwin residents for months.

While this dry outpost of Australian civilization has been virtually without beer supplies for a long time, it was known that the natives of nearby Bathurst Island had sufficient beer to throw a number of "open-house" beer parties.

Cajoling or threats failed to make the natives reveal the source of their supplies.

Then the pearling lugger "Torbul" made a routine call at the island, and the native members of the crew mingled with the locals. They learned that the beer came from a supply ship that had been wrecked in shallow water near the island by Japanese action during the war.

The islanders visited the wreck in their boats, and one, an excellent diver, went down to look over the cargo. He located a big stock of beer that was intended for United States forces in the islands further north.

The diver shared his find with the other natives, and from then on they organized parties of divers from their own ranks to go down into the wreck to retrieve the "liquid gold".

But Darwin beer, when available, is 65 cents a bottle and the natives expect serious competition from divers from Darwin for the remainder of the cargo, now that their secret is out.

Canada Holds Five Millions Italian Assets

By ROSS MUNRO
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Sept. 18 —(CP)—While Canada is officially at peace with Italy, this country still holds about $5,000,000 worth of Italian external assets and it may take a royal commission to allocate these assets among Canadians who make claims against them for loss or damage during the Italian campaign to property they had in Italy.

There is some reason to expect that the Canadian government will establish a royal commission, or a claims commission, to sort out this difficult problem and settle the claims. This was the policy followed after the First Great War in connection with claims against German external assets and those of other former-enemy states.

In any event, it is certain to be some years before all the claims are settled one way or the other and the assets distributed, if the experience from the First World War is a guide.

Formal peace between Italy and the Allies, including Canada, began Monday after the instruments of ratification of the Italian peace treaty were deposited with the French government in Paris.

Within six months, all claims of Canadians against Italy for loss or damage to their property in that country must be filed here and then whatever body is established to deal with the question will start serious work.

Some claims have been filed already, but the government is not making them public yet. Neither has the government advertised for claims, but this may come later before the six months is up.

Canada also holds external assets of Hungary and Roumania, but these are substantially smaller than the Italian external assets, although the figures are still secret.

Under the peace treaties with the three countries, each country is obliged to pay compensation for property damage or loss up to two-thirds of the loss or damage suffered. It is paid in the currency of the country making the compensation.

In the case of Finland, the fourth country with which Canada has signed a peace treaty, all Finnish external assets in Canadian hands will go back to that country under the terms of the treaty.

In view of the tremendous Russian reparations claims against Finland, Canada felt she should waive her claim in this regard believing it is in Canadian interest to make even this small gesture towards Finland's economic recovery.

Mr. Macdonald, who is widely known as an interpreter of Old Ontario, said he had done several scenes in this district of the Oak Hills and Allan's Mill locale. He plans to visit the Oak Hills late this Fall when Autumn colors are at their best Mr. Macdonald who spends his Summers at Point Anne, is on the staff of the Ontario College of Art. Many of his paintings are of his native Bay of Quinte district. In 1918 he was commissioned by the government to do a series of canvases for the Canadian War Memorial and several of his paintings are now in the National Gallery at Ottawa.

Odds 375,000-1 Won't be Killed By Thunderbolt

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

Washington, Sept. 18 —(AP)— It's about a 375,000 to one shot you won't be killed by lightning. But don't count on those long odds to protect you in all circumstances.

Electrical engineers who make a special study of protection against lightning, say many people over-estimate the margin of safety. They take unnecessary risks because of previous immunity in many thunderstorms and a realization that the death toll is relatively small.

Reports to the Office of Vital Statistics indicate that in recent years an average of 370 people have been killed annually by lightning. That's about one fatality to every 375,000 people in the average population for those years.

Here are some safety tips from experts:

Keep away from lone trees, wire fences, long wire clotheslines and other prominent objects likely to be hit by lightning and to carry the current a long distance.

Isolated trees are particularly dangerous. An insurance company made a study of death claim records of insured persons killed by lightning in the 1941-45 period. It shows one-third of them lost their lives when they sought shelter under trees.

Open sheds or small outbuildings away from large buildings are almost as dangerous as lone trees.

If outdoors in an electric storm look for a depression in the ground, a deep valley, the foot of a steep cliff or a dense woods.

If you are on a golf course and see thunderheads approaching, get under cover. If you can't make the clubhouse before the storm hits, lie flat in a low place or take shelter in heavy timber. Don't stand under an isolated tree or hold a steel club in your hand.

Get Out of Water.

Don't stand on the beach or in the water if there is a threat of a thunderstorm — a wet body is likely to be a lightning "magnet." If a larger shelter is not available, lie flat in a depression in the ground some distance from the water.

Places described as "perfectly safe" are rooms entirely surrounded by metal, underground rooms or rooms in a steel-framed building. The next safest place is a well-rodded house, but even there some precautions are advised.

Keep away from those parts of outside walls near places where lightning conductors pass into the earth. Also stay away from electrical wiring, telephones and large metal objects.

If you are in the house during a thunderstorm take a position as near the middle of the room as practicable but don't get under an electric lighting fixture. Keep well away from stoves, radiators, safes and other metallic masses—at least until the lightning discharges become much "weaker."

Some people mistakenly believe that occupying an iron or brass bed is particularly hazardous. Engineers say these beds are safer than other kinds. They form a metallic screen on one side of the occupant. The effect is to divert lightning if it enters the room.

Automobiles and trains are rated good shelters from lightning, their steel bodies apparently serving as metallic shields. Airplanes are generally quite safe for the same reason.

Don't take literally the old adage "lightning never strikes twice in the same place. It hits natural targets like tall buildings, trees and church steeples with great frequency.

Britain Buys More Canadian Produce

London, (CP)—Slight relaxation in import regulations on fruit and fresh vegetables during the first six months of 1947 benefited Canada and the United States more than any other supplying country, Board of Trade figures show.

Whether Britain will purchase these foods in equal quantity in the next six months is doubtful as dollar imports are being reduced.

In the six months ended June 30 Britain bought 2,144,759 hundredweight of fresh fruit and vegetables from Canada for £2,850,000 ($11,400,000) compared with 162,731 hundredweight for £415,235 in the same period of 1946.

United States shipments jumped from 68 hundredweight worth £227 in 1946 to 1,417,437 hundredweight worth £3,889,540 in 1947.

The Canadian shipments were mainly apples, 663,746 hundredweight worth £1,609,526 being exported in six months this year compared with 162,725 hundredweight worth £415,217 in six months in 1946.

Purchases of Canadian tobacco more than doubled in the first six months of 1947 although total imports dropped to 149,566,752 pounds from 216,952,454 in the same period of 1946.

Canadian tobacco exports to the United Kingdom to June 30 were 18,934,000 pounds against 7,914,000 in the same period last year and 8,046,806 in 1938. United States sales dropped from 191,698,838 pounds in six months of 1946 to 106,975,157 in 1947.

No Dearth of Jobs For U.K. Settlers

Toronto, Sept. 18 —(CP)— Newcomers to a new country, English immigrants arriving here daily by plane are taking to Canada like ducks to water.

There is no wasting time by these future Canadians. Ronald Mathews, 22-year-old caterer from Dublin, Eire, found a room the first evening he arrived.

One young man who trained in Canada during the war under the Commonwealth Air Training Plan was so quickly placed in employment he jokingly complained to the interviewer that he barely had time for lunch. By mid-afternoon of his first day he was ready to leave for a farm in Northern Ontario.

Employers continually request National Employment Service officers to send newcomers to their plants. The difficulty is in placing the immigrants in work which is suitable and pays a satisfactory salary.

Those men and women who wish to farm or enter the lumbering industry are placed quickly. Many men among the first flights are working with a large pulp and paper company near Ottawa.

Others are placed in positions throughout Ontario ranging from mechanics to teachers.

The Newman family, three sisters and a brother, now are living in Port Hope, Ont. Newman, a carpenter by trade, is a woodworking instructor at Trinity College school. His sisters were directed to the employment office in Port Hope and were found positions. James Lally of Essex, a plasterer is doing the same work in the new Sunnybrook Military Hospital near here.

Conscientious Workmen.

Helping to build outlying districts, Hubert Hall of Newcastle-on-Tyne is a surveyor with the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

A planning engineer with an English airplane manufacturer, Joseph Round of Wolverhampton now is helping Canada develop newer and better airplane engines. His employer is asking for more immigrants who are as well trained and as conscientious.

"We can place any of the newcomers who are willing to work, and we find them all anxious to find jobs," emphasizes J. W. H. Bromley, in charge of the National Employment Service reception centre.

"Most immigrants are skilled or semi-skilled with the odd professional man in each group," said Bromley.

One of the professional men with degrees in radio and production engineering said on arrival:

"Your people have been so generous and helpful that I cannot really express my gratitude. Naturally we cannot expect everything and we should certainly be able to fend for ourselves but I would like to suggest that the government, or city council find accommodation for the men and women, especially the married couples whereby they can settle down for a period of about three months and work out difficulties."

Cascara Wood To be Tested

Vancouver, Sept. 18 —(CP)— Extensive studies to increase sources of the laxative, cascara sagrada, an important British Columbia forest product are being made by the B. C. Research Council.

This province is one of the major producers of cascara bark, and because of the serious depletion of the cascara tree, experiments are being made to find whether the wood will produce the popular laxative extract.

Medicinal value varies between trees and wide sampling is necessary, Dr. R. H. Wright, head of the council's chemistry division said.

Wide consumption of cascara now requires destruction of an estimated 300,000 cascara trees annually.

Death Rode The Cariboo Road

There was a lump in the throats of the gnarled old men as they watched a fleet of steam shovels and bulldozers transform a dusty old, almost primitive road into a modern highway. To the young men on the roaring machines, it was just another job. But to the grizzled old-timers watching them, it was the passing into history of a glowing era in the building of British Columbia — an exciting era written in blood, sweat, and often death, by a motley horde of adventurers three-quarters of a century ago. The famous old Cariboo Road was entering a new age — the age of fast automobile and motor coach travel. This week The Standard carries a fascinating account of the turbulent history of this world-famous pioneer highway. The Standard is on sale now — 10 cents at all newsdealers.

Airborne Fish Aid Mink Farms

Edmonton, Sept. 18 —(CP)— Alberta mink ranchers in their fight to prevent decimination of their animals because of an acute feed shortage have enlisted the airplane.

The latest addition to ranchers' armament is being used at Pinehurst Lake in the Lac La Biche area, 110 miles northeast of Edmonton, for the freighting of feed fish. The lake was recently opened by the provincial government for fishing and to and the ranchers solve the situation.

Ranchers have been faced with a steadily deteriorating feed situation since last spring. Reasons for the shortage is said due to a combination of adverse factors —including diversion of horse meat to canning for Europe, diversion of fish and meat packing scrap to chemical manufacturer because of higher prices than the ranchers can pay, and fish losses in some Alberta lakes.

The feed shortage has been serious for more than a year. Even supplementary sources in British Columbia and Saskatchewan have dried up, due to competing markets offering better prices for fish and meat scrap.

Draw on Tullibee.

As a result of loss of other feed sources, ranchers have been drawing heavily upon an Alberta lake fish source. The fish is the small Tullibee, for which there is little or no commercial demand.

Last year more than 6,000,000 pounds of Tullibee were taken from lakes for mink feed alone.

Demand is further illustrated by the fact that ranchers in the Lesser Slave Lake area use about 21,408 pounds a day for their ranches.

Because the road between the lake and the town of Lac La Biche is unsuitable for all-weather trucking, an airlines company was called in to freight the fish by air to the town, about 30 miles away, where the catch is distributed.

The airlines move about 6,000 to 7,000 pounds daily using two or three aircraft and making five or six trips daily with each craft. The planes so far have been operating on floats, but a landing strip has been constructed at the lake and another is under construction so a fourth plane can be added to the service.

The Pinehurst catch has been satisfactory and so far the situation is reasonably well in hand. But fur ranchers must build up a reserve of 150,000 to 200,000 pounds for the Lac La Biche group, to tide them over in the in-between season when the lake is freezing and can't be fished.

Thrice-Decorated War Dog Takes His Third Bite

New York, Sept. 17 (AP) — Scout, thrice-decorated war dog who was saved from the lethal gas chamber five months ago on a technicality that made him only a "second offender" and legally entitled to one more bite took that last bite yesterday.

Scout sent a Bronx neighbor, Mrs. Harry Fay to hospital where six stitches were taken in a leg wound.

The spring spaniel now must undergo a rabies test — and his future after that looks dark, his owners, Mr. and Mrs. August Marrone, conceded.

They were as disconsolate as they had been last February when they smuggled Scout out of a death cell in the shelter of the American Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Mrs. Fay, a friend of the Marrones, was bitten as she offered the dog the leavings of a turkey. Mrs. Fay said she did not intend to file a complaint or sue the Marrones.

Scout was brought out of hiding by the Marrones last April when the health department ruled he would not have to die under the "third bite" clause of the house pet code.

The department based its ruling on a statement by the dog's first victim, 14-year-old Patricia Campagnari, that she was not bitten but merely scratched.

For taking the dog from the shelter, the Marrones were given suspended sentences on disorderly conduct charges. They attributed his conduct to war nerves, developed while serving with the United States Coast Guard.

Predicts 15,000 'Douks' Back To Russia Soon

Vancouver, Sept. 17 (CP) — An outspoken Vancouver Doukhobor predicted today that "maybe inside of a year" 15,000 of Canada's Doukhobors would return to Russia.

Nick Hudiakoff, 39-year-old Canadian born carpenter and veteran of 14 months army service, said that he had "a strong feeling that destiny is calling us back to Russia. I can feel it personally, and my wife feels just the same way."

Hudiakoff, who joined the army in defiance of the traditional Doukhobor ban on all forms of militarism, came here from Nelson in 1940. "I was in the army, I smoke, and now and then I take a drink, just like anyone else."

(Both smoking and drinking are forbidden under the Doukhobor way of life).

"In other words, I am following the Canadian way of life. But I was born a Doukhobor and I'll die a Doukhobor and I would gladly give up all these things and move to Russia with my family if the other Doukhobors will have us when they go."

He said that he had no fears of tyranny or suppression in Soviet Russia. He was not afraid that the government would make him join the army.

"I don't even think we'll stay long in Russia anyway. According to ancient prophicies, when the thousands of Doukhobors return to Russia from North America they will remain there only a short time before moving, probably to a district in Turkey which has never known bloodshed in all its history. There, we will stay forever."

Hudiakoff had a word to say on the Doukhobor trouble that has kept the Kootenay Valley in an uproar recently. He prophesied that the disturbances were "not nearly over" and that they might lead to "bloodshed" before quieting down.

Says U.S. Stands In Peril of New Deadly Weapons

Columbus, O., Sept. 17—(AP)—Gen. George C. Kenney said "potential enemies" of the United States have aircraft which can carry to this continent "known weapons of mass destruction more deadly and far cheaper than the atomic bomb."

If there is another war, the head of the United States strategic air command declared, "we will be lucky to have eight hours warning of a blitzkreig blow designed to knock us out in a few days."

In a speech prepared for the First National Convention of the Air Force Association, Kenney, a native of Yarmouth, N. S., said:

"The rate of technical development of weapons of warfare is now so rapid and the effect of changes in technique so far reaching that it has become fatal to the national security to lag behind in development or in thought."

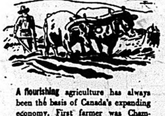
Today we Live in a Greater Canada

Reaping Richer HARVESTS!

Last year the value of Canada's field crops was double that of 1939.

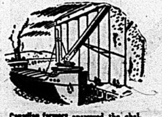
TODAY'S ACHIEVEMENTS in agriculture production are matched by those in manufacturing and the development of natural resources—creating new opportunities for Canadians in every sphere of activity surpassing those of any previous peacetime period.

While our world importance as a food producer continues to grow, we have become also one of the greatest of industrial and commercial countries, with peacetime accomplishments maintaining our new war-won position.



A flourishing agriculture has always been the basis of Canada's expending economy. First farmer was Champlain's Louis Hebert. Ontario's great agricultural development began with the arrival of the U.E. Loyalists.

With the railway opening the West in the 80's, the development of the famous wheats, Red Fife and Marquis, and the extension of the grain-growing area steadily north, Canada became the world's great wheat exporter.



Canadian farmers answered the challenge of World War II by producing more food than ever for our allies. While maintaining the vital wheat yield, they supplied a great new output of coarse grains, fodder crops and oil-bearing seeds—and achieved spectacular increases in meats, dairy products and eggs.

"WOULD NOT CHANGE JOBS..."

GARNET RICKARD, Bowmanville, Durham County, farmer, 30, winner Reserve Grand Championship for oats, Chicago 1947, operates one of best seed cleaning plants in Ontario, has been president of many agricultural societies, active in county affairs, is on Advisory Board Dominion Seeds Act.

MR. RICKARD says: "I would not change jobs with anyone. National prosperity still rests with Canadian farmers. The primary need is farm research, soil improvement, war on weeds and better seed grain. Thus with better profits, farm living standards can be raised and young people attracted to rural Canada rather than lost as emigrants. Organized farmers are making the farm future much more secure."

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

The Kibitzer

Akoolap Oxpert is hard to get along with. When we ask him what his bids mean, his answer does not help. He replies: "How should I know? I never even listen to them."

Our biggest problem is trying to interpret his immediate one-jump response. There is no telling whether it means a long suit or a lot of tricks or a flock of new ideas.

In some cases, he jumps to invite a slam. In some cases, all he shows with a jump is good help for partner's suit. In some cases, he jumps only to shut out the opponents. No telling which he means.

The real meaning of a one-jump response is to show tricks enough to help make a game. When the jump is immediate, it also guarantees two sure tricks somewhere in the hand.

An opening bid of one shows at least five tricks. Therefore, a responding jump shows six tricks if trumps will be a minor. Because it takes 11 tricks to make a game in a minor suit.

South opened with a diamond when north held this hand:

♠A
♥J 7 6 2
♦K Q 9 6
♣K 8 4 3

North has no biddable suit for a takeout. With adequate support in diamonds, he will assist that suit. With two sure tricks among six tricks, north makes a one-jump assist to three diamonds.

Suppose south opened with a club when north held the hand shown. The first response is two diamonds; a one-jump takeout. Since trump is not decided, the jump promises enough for game in anything.

Suppose the opening by south was one spade or one heart. The response would be a one-jump takeout to three diamonds. With trump not yet decided, a total of 11 tricks must be promised.

How does north know he has six tricks? He simply counts one for each high card (ace or king or queen) and one for each short card (two in spades). Make it easy on yourself.

The Movie Column

By ARMAND ARCHERD

Hollywood, Sept. 18. (AP)—Hollywood has finally been stumped. The wonder town has always been able to get trained animals of all descriptions for film work. But when the call went out for trained butterfly no one could deliver the goods.

A studio craftsman finally was called to build a mechanical butterfly contraption, to be used in "Mortal Coils". It is an intricate affair, requiring tons of equipment. But believe me, you won't be able to tell it from the real butterfly.

Tired Voice

Frank Sinatra will ask his bosses at M.G.M. to arrange his 1948 schedule so that two films are completed by June.

"I want to take a complete rest from films and radio next Summer," Frank said, "so I can spend the time with my family." He will then also be able to enjoy a swimming pool, his first, now under construction.

Dog's Life

Lassie will live in true star-style when he goes on location for "The Hills of Home". He moves into the swanky cabin occupied previously by Van Johnson, Gary Cooper, and Sinatra on their location trips to the same vicinity.

Here and There

Katharine Hepburn goes into "The Saintly Miss Petters" by her own request. Katie wants to do a comedy after the run of dramas. . . . Fred MacMurray completes his role in "The Miracle of the Belle" tomorrow and will immediately head north with rod and reel. . .David O. Selznick will re-release "Intermezzo" next month. These return engagements will help compensate for the lost British market. . . Bing Crosby will laugh when he hears that Hope is on a diet. Bob's dinner is limited to ice cream or a salad.

Tom Sheehan Ready to Quit At Minneapolis

(By The Canadian Press)

Kirkland Lake Legion fastball team will meet North Bay Generals next Friday at North Bay in the finals of the Northern Fastball Association playoffs. Legion defeated Cobalt by taking both ends of a doubleheader at Kirkland Lake last night in the semi-finals.

Tom Sheehan, manager of the Minneapolis American Association Club said yesterday he was going to resign because "a change is in order". Minneapolis was eliminated Tuesday night from the Association playoffs by Louisville.

Larry McPhail, president of the New York Yankees, says there is no trouble between himself and Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler. McPhail said the Commissioner has never fined him or told him to be quiet, and Larry considers Happy a personal friend. "That does not mean that I have always agreed with him," McPhail added.

British golf enthusiasts are pleased with what they consider the "draw of the year"—the opportunity to see Henry Cotton, captain of the British Ryder Cup team, matched Sept. 4 with Norman Von Nida, the hotshot from Australia, who has been cleaning up all the money in British golf this year . Cotton's British matchplay title will be at stake in the meet.

The Canadian Ladies' Open Golf championships, now playing at Toronto, next year will be played at the Riverside Golf and Country Club, Rothesay, near Saint John, N.B., the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union has decided. At the meeting to set next year's championship date, the Union also elected Mrs. George Buntain, Charlottetown, P.E.I. as president, Mrs. Fred Fisher, of London, vice-chairman of the Administrative Committee.

BUFFALO BISONS TAKE CHIEFS 3-1 IN SECOND GAME

Series for Governors' Cup in International League All Tied Up

(By The Associated Press)

With their final series for the International League Governors' Cup squared 1-1, Buffalo Bisons and Syracuse Chiefs meet tonight at Buffalo for the third game of the set.

The Bisons, who tied the series by winning last night's tilt 3-1 with the aid of a late rally, will depend on Hank Perry to give them an edge in this best-of-seven series.

Perry, who had a season record of 13 victories and 10 defeats will be opposed by either Jim Prendergast or Dixie Howell for the Chiefs. Prendergast, with a 20-15 season mark, blanked Montreal Royals last week in the semi-final series. He is the first 20-game winner in the International League since 1945. Howell, with a 13-15 won-lost record, has not been used thus far in the playoffs.

Body of Man Missing Eight Years Found When Boiler is Moved

Edmonton, Sept. 18 — (CP) — The partly mummified remains of a 70-year-old man were found Tuesday on top of a steam boiler in the old St. Josephs Hospital here. Police said the body has been identified as that of William Edward Breen, one time patient in the hospital who had been missing since Feb. 17, 1939.

Detective Inspector Bert Petherham said there was no sign of foul play and death was due to misadventure.

Two workmen were employed in moving the boiler from the old building in the new hospital when they discovered the body wedged between the boiler and the wall about nine feet from the ground.

Hospital authorities said the boiler has not been in use since 1937 although another boiler has been in use in the same basement continually.

Little Benny's Note Book

Pop and ma were reeding their mail at breakfist, pop saying, It's a woman's werld, I've always said so. You've got 4 letters and I've only got one, he said.

It's probably one more than you deserve, you're sutch a proverbially bad correspondent, ma said. In this life you only receeve according to what you give, including letters ferst and foremost, she said, and pop said, by gollies I bet that's true, and yet on the other hand the only reason I got even one letter this morning is because I'm sutch a poor correspondent. It seems I've hurt poor Harry's feelings by my neglect, so he's writing to scold me because he's only heard from me once in the last 6 munths and he claims he wrote me 5 times, so at least I got a letter out of him, pop said.

Now William, really, I mean really, that's no kind of letter to gloat over, ma said. The next thing you know he wont write to you at all, she said, and pop said, That's just what I'm courting on.

Why William, what a thing to say about Harry Crocker, ma said, and pop said, I never mentioned Harry Crocker. This letter is from Harry Smaltzer the owner of Harry's Service Station. I wrote and told him 6 munths ago that it cost me $40 to repair the damage his mechanic did to my car when he tried to fix the carburater, so let him keep on writing. He can send a tearful statement every day of the week without getting a werd out of me, pop said.

Oh, stop making mountains into mole hills and drink your coffee, ma said.

Which pop did in back of his newspaper.

AT THE BELLE

"The Yearling" opens soon in Belleville. M-G-M's triumphant filmization of Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings' Pulitzer Prize Novel, "The Yearling," comes to the Belle screen in Belleville on Saturday to take its place with the greatest motion pictures ever made.

Not since "The Birth of a Nation," "Gone With the Wind" and "How Green Was My Valley" has there been brought to the screen a story so beautifully enacted or so fraught with emotion as this stirring tale of a frontier family who fought for survival against the powerful forces of nature and the elements.

All the wizardy of Hollywood at its greatest has beeen employed to bring to life in living technicolor the deeply stirring and emotionally penetrating narrative of the Baxter family —Penny, Ma and little Jody—of the unremitting hardships they undergo to squeeze the bare necessities of life out of the reluctant soil, of the crisis that follow in the wake of the slaughter of their livestock by a marauding bear, of the theft of Ma's hogs by the ne'er-do-well Forrester neighbors, of Penny's dramatic encounter with a deadly rattlesnake, and finally of the tragic havoc of direly needed crops unwittingly destroyed by the irrepressible "Flag" the beautiful little fawn adopted by Jody as his pal.

The part of little Jody, who learns the hard lessons of life at an early age when he is forced to part with the yearling deer which he loves more than anything else, is enacted by an astounding new juvenile performer Claude Jarman, Jr., who was selected for the important role from among hundreds of applicants. He gives the part a tenderness and sympathetic appeal that makes it stand out with clarity and emotional impact against the adult work of such fine performers as Gregory Peck and Jane Wyman. For his wonderful performance in this picture young Jarman won a special Academy Award.

"The Yearling," is indeed a picture to rank with the greatest of all time, and its Belleville engagement at the Belle Theatre is certain to bring keen enjoyment to miviegoers and their familes in this city and vicinity. The management requests that patrons attend the matinees if possible.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor.

A meeting which should be of paramount interest to all those interested in baseball is scheduled for the Chamber of Commerce offices at 8 o'clock tonight. Baseball-minded business men who have been in close touch with other prospective entries in the Border Professional League are calling the conclave in an effort to get the pulse of popular feeling regarding the operation of a Belleville entry in the loop next year.

• • •

Last winter, it will be recalled, a similar meeting was held and the consensus was that this city secure the franchise and operate the squad. Which was all well and good until the Border Loop executive tossed cold water on the plan with a decision not to operate a seven-team league. They politely asked the Belleville interests to hold their franchise, or their offer, until 1947 when perhaps things might shape up differently.

• • •

Much has happened since that edict was handed down. Peterborough backed by a generous financial gift of Pete Campbell of the Toronto Maple Leafs suddenly became inoculated with the pro ball idea. Kingston has been in the loop for the past two years. Ottawa secured its first franchise and things were pointed to a Canadian section of the league. That, of course, depends entirely now on Belleville's attitude.

But that does not mean that the fate of the proposed Canadian section hangs on what action this city takes. An authoritative source reveals that another American centre is willing to enter a squad, and if such is the case, Peterborough could go ahead and exercise its franchise. The Liftlock master-minds are keen on the project, and already the groundwork of their entry has been laid.

• • •

So if this city is to have a professional baseball squad next season, much hinges on the attendance, and what transpires at the meeting tonight. It is felt in various quarters, that professional baseball would go well here. The city has a good baseball park; one of the best floodlight systems east of Toronto, and a generous territory to draw from. Increase in industries here will naturally increase fandom. The marked resurgence in baseball interest during the past two years augurs well for the success of the proposed pro set-up. In any event everybody interested in the idea should make it a point to attend tonight's important conclave.

• • •

With unforeseen developments cropping up concerning the Memorial Arena artificial ice plant and due to the fact that unseasonable weather has delayed the making of ice, the wrestling exhibition originally scheduled for tomorrow night has been postponed, Arena Manager Walter Gerow announced yesterday.

• • •

A movement is afoot to resurrect the ancient and honorable game of badminton from the more or less lethargic state it has enjoyed for the past number of years. Tonight in the main lecture room of the Bridge Street Armory, a special meeting has been called by enthusiasts of the game to lay some organization groundwork for the coming winter. A special invitation has been issued to members of the former Belleville Badminton Club to be present, and meanwhile all lovers of the popular indoor sport will be welcomed. Badminton enjoyed great popularity here some years ago, and it should have no difficulty in regaining the former high status it held in sports circles of the city. Meeting gets under way at 8 o'clock.

• • •

Loose fielding in the clutches cost the Peterborough Intermediates at least one run, while the Batawa pasture patrol backed up their two hurlers at times in sensational manner to help the squad nudge the Petes 2-1 in their first Intermediate "A" tilt of the second round playdowns here last night. In fact the Petes' infield became atomized in the fifth when in a beautiful Alphonse-Gaston gesture they presented the Shoemen with their second tally with some shoddy work afield.

• • •

The game was featured by some fine hurling. Bowman starting pitcher for Batawa worked six innings and allowed all the Petes' five hits for one run. The master-minds rushed one Gordy Moffitt into the breach to hold the slim lead and the righthander came through with a no-run, no-hit effort for the rest of the game. Only ten Petes faced him in the three chukkers and four went down by the whiff.

• • •

Veteran Scottie [illegible], Petes' hurler who went the route is a veteran of the C.O.B.L. The greying southpaw was nicked for ten clouts the Shoemen clustering three each in the second and eighth. He deserved a better fate perhaps, but his mates failed to come through with some needed hits (all they got was five), and bobbled badly behind him at times.

• • •
